THE LISTENING POST

One can always sense the fact that election time is drawing near by the difference in tone when two men fall to arguing over political matters. Back a few months ago, just after the conventions were over and the candidates named, arguments were more or less good natured and carried on in ordinary conversational manner. But for the past few weeks the Listening Post has noticed a difference. Now when I hear two men arguing I can see what a difference has come about. The ordinary arguments now are vastly more heated, and seem to require a great deal more volume in the voice.

Going about the streets I see this going on day after day, and even in passing business houses I hear the sound of argument from inside. I passed a certain place only the other day and heard loud talking from far back on the inside of the place. I could not see the talkers, but small town life being what it is, I recognized the voices, and boy, how both of these men were bearing down! I heard one man start off on a glowing tribute to the President and telling how badly he was going to defeat Mr. Willkie. I paused slightly to hear the inevitable interruption and it was not slow in coming. The speaker was interrupted by an even louder voice, and the new speaker began telling of the evils that would come to the nation unless Mr. Willkie should perform the miracle of beating the President in November. Before that speaker got through with his speech the other voice came roaring back to dispute and set at naught all that had been said, and when I strolled on both men were talking at the same time.

On the street now another certain sign has also faded. Back in the days before the election issues became so heated I might see a couple of men talking with extreme animation on the street. If they waved their arms, and particularly if they appeared to be measuring something in pantomime, I knew they were talking about fishing and of fish they had caught. But not any more. People may still talk about fishing and of fish that have been caught, but whenever I see men talking in that manner now, and particularly if I can hear their voices a block away, I know that the Presidential campaign is the subject under discussion.

Well, it is a healthy thing that such discussions are being conducted and are possible in this land of ours. Over in the warring countries, with the possible exception of England, things of this nature are not possible. Nobody would dare to express any opinions at variance with the established government in Germany or in Italy. If such opinions should be publicly expressed in those nations the persons who did the talking would find themselves under death sentence before the

Denies He Means To Get U. S. Into War

Accuses Opposition Of Striking Terror Into People's Hearts

Philadelphia, —President Roosevelt, accusing his opposition of importing propaganda methods of the "dictator countries" to convince the public that he wished to lead the country into war, said tonight that "it is for peace I shall labor all the days of my life."

In a political speech broadcast from Philadelphia's Convention Hall, where he was renominated in 1936 and where Wendell L. Willkie was named the Republican standard bearer this summer, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I consider it a public duty to answer falsification with facts. I will not pretend that I find this an unpleasant duty. I am an old campaigner, and I love a good fight."

The first of five political addresses with which the President is winding up his second re-election campaign, the speech came at the end of a day in which tens of thousands of people in Philadelphia and neighboring Camden, N. J., had turned out to see the chief executive on his way to defense manufacturing plants.

Charges Falsifications
Mr. Roosevelt accused the opposition of making numerous "deliberate falsifications" against him in the campaign and said that one "outrageously false charge" had been made "to strike terror into the hearts of our citizens."

"It is a charge that offends every political and religious conviction that I hold dear," he continued. "It is the charge that this administration wishes to lead this country into war."

"This charge is contrary to every fact, every purpose of the past eight years. Throughout these years my every act and every thought has been directed to the end of preserving the peace of the world, and more particularly, the peace of the United States—the peace of the Western Hemisphere."

"As I saw the war coming, I used every ounce of the prestige of the office of President of the United States to prevent its onset. "When war came, I used every ounce of the prestige of the office to prevent its spread to other nations. When that effort failed, I called upon the Congress, and I called upon the nation, to build the strong defense that would be our best guarantee of peace and security in this hemisphere."

Following Road To Peace
"To Republicans and Democrats, to every man, woman and child in the nation I say—your President and your great secretary of state are following the road to peace."

Traveler Finds Place He Seeks Right Next Door

Frankfort, Ky. — The State Health Department is one of the few State agencies which maintains headquarters away from Frankfort — and there hangs a tale.
Harry C. Showers of Trenton, N. J., representing a chemical company, came here from Louisville today seeking Health Department approval of a milk-bottle sterilizer his firm produces.
"The Health Department is in Louisville," an information clerk told him, "next door to the Henry Clay Hotel."

"The Henry Clay," Showers said ruefully, "is where I'm staying."

Johnson Urges State Workers To Seek Full Strength Vote

Frankfort, Ky. — State employees were urged by Gov. Keen Johnson tonight to "see that the full strength of the Democratic party is polled November 5."

"I don't think there is the remotest danger of Kentucky going Republican," the chief executive told an overflow crowd in the large House of Representatives chamber, but he asked that every effort be made to get friends and relatives to vote.

Praises Roosevelt
Predicting victories for President Roosevelt, United States Senator A. B. Chandler and Kentucky's Democratic Congressman, Johnson praised Roosevelt for his handling of national and international affairs. Republican Wendell Willkie, Johnson asserted, "is expounding the doctrine that you remember brought us to the verge of bankruptcy" under President Hoover.

Praising Senator Chandler who was kept from the meeting by his recent appendectomy, Johnson contrasted his experience with that of what he termed, "this counterfeit statement from Bell county—this Walter Smith."

Johnson thanked all employees "from the lowest janitor to high officials who are cooperating in giving the state the kind of good government we so earnestly desire."

Judge Ardrey Speaks
Circuit Judge W. B. Ardrey, Democratic campaign chairman, asked state employees to urge their "friends, neighbors and kinsmen to vote under the rooster."

Unsung River Patrol Heroes Now Part Of British Navy

London, —A new branch of the British navy, the unsung heroes of the river emergency patrol, guards by day and night the Thames highway to London.

For most part civilians three months ago, the members of the river patrol today are part of His Majesty's spotting air-borne invaders.

Raiders Fly Above
Going on an all-night trip with one of the patrols, we were a little shaken when we reached the boat. Overhead droned the night's first wave of Nazi raiders. Behind us already fires glowed red against the sky.

On the patrol boat the atmosphere was not so tense, despite the steady bombing and the anti-aircraft barrage. A smiling young lieutenant commander produced hot coffee as we made ready to shove off and chatted easily above the work of his force.

"Any enemy attempting to come up the river would get a very warm reception," he said.

The boat was in motion when a German plane dropped four parachute flares over on our right. One, unopened, plummeted to earth, but the others floated lazily in the bright moonlight. Gunfire was directed on them immediately, tracer bullets strung across the sky like Roman candles.

The gunner on our boat brought down two of the flares and the third also collapsed before it could well light the target for the raiders above.

Just a Day's Work
"Heroism? No. Just part of the day's work," said the commander as I went back ashore at the end of the night. I'd rather be on the river than in London."

I quite agreed when I finally got home, through glass-littered streets, and found that a building across the street had been hollowed out by fire during the night.

South Fulton To Face Tough Team Here Tonight

The South Fulton six-man football team will face what is supposed to be its toughest game of the season at Southside Park here tonight. The strong Mound City, Ill., team will furnish the opposition and reports indicate that the Illinois aggregation is much stronger than any team faced by the Red Devils this season. The Mound City team has lost only one game of a hard schedule, this being to the strong Metropolis team. The Red Devils have not lost a game and Coach Haynes will endeavor to keep this record clean.

London Balloons Prove Worth As Menace To Nazi Bombers

London, —London's big balloons were a joke a year ago—"expensive toys, theatrical props of a nation playing war, bound to come down in the first shower of machine gun fire."

After weeks of day-and-night raiding and many showers of lead, the balloons are still there. Last year's jokers now respect them as sentinels in silver, a menace to bombers.

The Air Ministry gives them credit for doing their job. The job is to rule out dive-bombing and keep the enemy at a distance, high enough for anti-aircraft guns and fighter planes to get at them.

They're nothing but big bags of carefully sewed and gummed Egyptian cotton fabric filled with hydrogen, but Londoners are delighted to see on their animal ways.

They look like circus elephants, or well-fed guppies in a fish bowl. They are stubborn as Missouri mules, and in a wind they are as playful as kittens.

The Nazis might have called them silly-looking gas bags in the long months before the battle, but one of the earliest "all out" raids on this country was aimed at balloons alone.

They've had their bad moments. A few have been shot down. Some have snapped their cables and gone traipsing over power lines as far off as Finland. Others have snagged enemy planes.

They've had unexpected good moments, too. One balloon was a nice cushion for an airman descending by parachute near Hyde Park. He and the balloon were hauled down safely.

Six Sons Are In Draft—Two Are Outside

B. B. Stephenson, well-known Fulton business man, takes the local record, and perhaps the state as well, when it comes to furnishing boys for the selective draft. Mr. Stephenson has eight sons, and of them six are of the draft age, one is too young and one slightly over the legal age. By precincts Mr. Stephenson lists his sons as follows:
Ralph, Tiptonville, Tenn., 18 years.
Robert, St. Louis, 22.
Billie, Fulton, 24.
Jimmie D., Fulton, 27.
Clyde, New York City, 30.
Charlie, Fulton, 33.
Wiley, Fulton, 35.
Glenn, St. Louis, 39 years.

Parade To Be Held Prior To Game

Preceding the Fulton-Russellville tomorrow night at Fairfield, which is Fulton's last home game, there will be a parade in the downtown district.

Led by the fire engine and color guard, the parade will be made up of three bands, Fulton, South Fulton and Clinton, and for the first time this year, the pep club will be out in full uniform. All the ex-let-terms of Fulton High are asked to meet at the church at 7 o'clock and march in the parade. All members of the Young Men's Business club are also asked to participate.

The parade will form at the Methodist church at 7 o'clock and will go down Lake street, Fourth and to Fairfield.

Tonight a pep rally will be held at 7 o'clock at the intersection of Lake and Walnut.

Bulldogs Will Attempt To Win Conference Game

Tomorrow night at Fairfield the Fulton Bulldogs will be gunning for a second Conference victory. The Russellville Panthers, hoped to be about equal to the local team, or perhaps a shade weaker, will be the opposing team. Russellville last week tied the only team in the conference which Fulton has beaten. This was Marion, which lost to the Bulldogs several weeks ago by a single touchdown.

Coach Giles reports his team in good condition for the game, and local fans are hoping to see a victory on the home field. Only two games are scheduled after the Russellville game, and both are away from home.

R. R. Goldsby, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Goldsby, Carr street, has returned to his home in Memphis.

Donaldson Says Highway 62 Soon Will Be One Of State's Best

Beaver Dam, Ky. —Highway 62 District highway commissioner, Thomas S. Rhea and Eugene Stuart, secretary of the Louisville Automobile Club.

Donaldson said that during the last ten years more than $8,000,000 has been spent on U. S. 62 in Kentucky, and that much more would be spent in the near future because the road was one designated as of considerable military importance.

The banquet, presided over by Marshall Barnes, was held in the auditorium of Beaver Dam High School.

Other speakers on the program were J. Dan Talbot, Commissioner of Finance; Congressman Beverly M. Vincent; E. C. Dent, Second District highway commissioner; J. H. Bondurant, Fourth

British Aves Invasion Try Is Smashed

Bombs Fall Frequently On London As Raid Gets Under Way Early

London, —A great victory in a six-week-long aerial counter-offensive that smashed a full-dress German attempt at invasion was claimed officially by the British today and put down as one more historic defense of these islands.

Through its news service, the air ministry told the story—how British bombers had doggedly ridden the air over a 2,000-mile Nazi front, alternately attacking and observing, until the German invasion fleet had been dispersed at last and German invasion springboards had been wrecked from Narvik, Norway, to Bordeaux, far to the south in France.

It was the first such sweeping success yet claimed against the peril that long has lain across the Channel and it was accompanied by these other declarations intended to show that the Royal Air Force was developing quietly into an instrument of destiny for Britain:

1. A claim, also made by the air ministry, that a fifth of all the Nazis' productive capacity for war had been affected by British bombs which night upon night have fallen from the far interior of Germany to the German-held French coastline.

2. The statement of Captain Harold Balfour, the air undersecretary, that the position achieved by the air arm, however unspectacular it might seem, was "one of the great victories of the war."

next dawning of the day. It is a fine thing that we have this freedom in this nation. It is fine that we have difference of opinion. It is fine that we are ready to argue for our opinions and fine that our laws do not forbid such arguments. These things are what made this nation, the things which will cause it to endure.

• For ever since the birth of the Republic we have argued and debated over the merits of our respective candidates. There have been many times when many people sincerely felt that the election or the defeat of some certain man would bring on national disaster. Those disasters never came. Despite the result of all elections the nation went steadily on its appointed way, and those who were disappointed by the results forgot their resentment and their fears as this steady progress went on.

• I take it that the result of this coming election is so generally known that it will be no surprise. I also take it that all of us will be Americans after the election is over and that the nation will face its destiny for the next four years, no matter what trials may come, as a united and God-fearing country. In the meantime, let us have our fun in arguing and debating.

U. S. Locates Naval, Air Base In Newfoundland

Washington. —Secretary Knox said Wednesday agreement had been reached with Great Britain and Canada on the location of an Army-Navy naval and air base on the southern shore of Newfoundland.

Without giving the exact location, Knox told the press conference the chief base would be located at one point and a flying field some distance away.

A survey crew already is at St. John, Newfoundland, making preparations to start work on the first of the string of new bases in the Atlantic acquired from Britain.

Camp Hostesses Won't All Be Young

Washington. —Good news for worried wives and sweethearts: Those 100 hostesses who are to pre- side over service clubs for the draft- expanded Army won't all be spring chickens.

The War Department, announcing qualifications for the hostesses, disclosed they would comprise two groups: Senior hostesses whose ages may range from 30 to 50, and junior hostesses who may be from 25 to 45 years old. Members of both groups must have a high school education or its equivalent. Senior hostesses must have at least three years of experience as hostesses or in a similar occupation, and the juniors must have at least one year's such experience.

The seniors will be paid $2,100 a year, the Juniors $1,620.

New Deal Paper Sorry That Egg Spattered Willkie

Chicago. —Under the heading "It Shouldn't Happen Here," the Daily Times, which is supporting Mr. Roosevelt for re-election, ran on the front page of all its editions Wednesday a picture of Wendell Willkie, his face and shoulders spattered with egg. The caption added:

"To which all Chicagoans, outraged by such an act as the one pictured, will subscribe wholeheartedly, mindful of the fact there is no place for hoodliganism in the Democratic system."

"Unanimous public sentiment is: 'Deepest apologies to you, Mr. Willkie. The whole town is genuinely sorry and ashamed for the action of this single ONE of its three and a half million citizens.'—The Editor."

MRS. HAAK GIVES LESSONS ON MEALS

Mrs. Pearl J. Haak, Food and Nutrition Specialist from the Extension Department, University of Kentucky, will conduct the second lesson on the project "Meal Planning," for the leaders of the Fulton County Homemakers' Clubs on Wednesday, October 30, at Cayce school. The subject for the day's lesson will be "The Family Meal Hour."

At the October lesson on meal planning, Mrs. Haak urged that homemakers plan their meals for at least three or four days at a time and preferably a week at the time, so that they can be sure their families are served the necessary food elements to build and keep strong bodies that are resistant to diseases.

Homemakers are urged to check meals after they are planned to see that they serve protective food each day. These foods are 1 egg, 1 quart of milk for a child and 1 pint for an adult, 1 serving of meat or meat substitute with at least three servings of fresh meat a week, raw vegetables and a cooked vegetable besides potatoes, raw fruit and a cooked fruit and one of them citrus or tomatoes, whole cereal and butter.

Homemakers are also striving to serve every day one of the ten foods rich in iron which are liver, lima beans, navy beans, whole wheat bread or cereal, beef, spinach, greens, cane molasses, lean meats or oysters.

Miss Florence Imley, Specialist in Child Training from the Extension Department, will conduct the second lesson in a series of six on "Family Relations," on Thursday, October 31, at Cayce school, beginning at 10:00 o'clock. The subject for the day's discussion will be "Home Activities and Play."

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

We are not "in politics," neither can we discuss the merits of either candidate, nor impress the public with our convictions, but we can as a voter, leave an impression on that thing called our own consciences.

We have the right of suffrage. The government expects us to exercise it. When we fall, through negligence, to register our choice, we allow Mr. Friend voter, who may be no better informed than we, to "vote us," even though we do not approve of his choice. So it's either vote or be voted. Personally, I prefer to cast my own vote when the polls open Tuesday, November 5.

Bethel
The membership of Bethel called Rev. Wayne Gardner of Arlington as pastor Sunday at the regular preaching hour. Rev. Edd Nall of Beelerton, retiring pastor, resigned on account of ill health, preaching his last sermon Sunday night.

Death
Funeral services for John A. Moore, a victim of cancer, who passed away at his home east of Croley Thursday night, October 17, were held at Mt. Moriah Friday with Rev. H. C. Jones in charge. Mr. Moore, who was 89 years of age, had recently recovered from an attack of pneumonia and "strep" throat.

In February 1927 he was married to Mrs. Georgia Locke and is survived by her and four children by a former marriage; Mrs. Flay Flock of Benton, Mo., Tom Moore of Minneapolis, Minn., Floyd of Salem, Ill., and Ray Moore of Santa Anna, Calif. None of the children were here except Floyd who arrived Saturday after the funeral. The deceased was a native of Missouri.

Fulgham P. T. A.

Our P. T. A. met in regular session Thursday night with routine business being conducted. A special number enjoyed was our "Little Quartet," composed of Judith Ann Rose, Barbara Ann Watts, Shirley Scott and Joe Wayne Johns, from the 2nd and 3rd grades. Hope they learn the "singing habit" that will grow within them.

New Dwelling

Ross Jackson is building a new dwelling 1-4 mile west of where he now resides on his farm known as the Babb place. Will Weatherford is carpenter.

Attends Funeral

A great number of friends from here attended the funeral of Peggy Joyce, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mullins, at Obion, Graves County, Sunday afternoon. She was burned to death in her home at Mayfield Friday night and her mother and a two-year-old sister were badly burned when their home was destroyed by fire. Her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Mullins, reside near Lee's Store.

Message of Cheer

The 5th and 6th grade children in Mrs. Jack Vaden's room sent a "Shower of Cards" last week to Martha Lee Morgan who is at Louisville in the Hospital for the cripple, awaiting an operation. Such an act has a tendency to lower temperature and soothe pain and should be reported in similar ways.

Vaden Dinner

The Vaden family visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vaden Sunday and honored Jack on his 39th birthday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vaden and daughter, Ouida, and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Green and two children of Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Crate Vaden, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Vaden and son, Cage. Mr. and Mrs. George Beyers and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Green of Clinton.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gay and son, Hassell, of Searcy, Ark., visited here last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rosie Batts, R. M. Henderson, Earl Stairs and Mrs. Daisy Pillow at Beelerton.

Mrs. Nelson Martin has been attending the bedside of her father, Vodie Jackson, who is a patient in the Haws-Weaver Clinic at Fulton. He was seriously injured in a truck-wagon accident near Fulton Friday night.

W. M. Watts attended Grand Lodge of Louisville last week and visited his brother-in-law, Josiah Franklin, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forette and C. W. Harshbarger of Detroit were guests of their mother, Mrs. Y. E. Burkett and Mr. Burkett last week. They also visited in the homes of W. N. Clark and Otis Farmer and other relatives at Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillman Stewart are in Waverly, Tenn., attending the bedside of his father, Doss Stewart. Hillman, who has employment in Detroit, was called home Saturday. Mrs. Ray Pharis substituted for Mrs. Stewart as teacher at Bennett's school Monday.

Mrs. Edgar Grissom is ill of pneumonia at her home near Tardner Store.

This and That

A number of people from the churches of this section are attending the revival at Wingo which is conducted by Rev. H. M. Southard, pastor, and Rev. Dalton Leath, choir leader. At the Sunday morning and night services 36 other churches were represented. The children's division at Mt. Pleasant had charge of the Sunday School opening last Sunday. Each child had the privilege of asking his parents a Bible question. Total attendance was 88. Salem had 57, Jackson Chapel had 48 and Bethel 32.

Gane Nicholas, a recent graduate of F. H., has employment in Detroit. Hope he makes that independent Basketball Team and if sportsman's a deciding factor, Gene's qualified. J. C. Walker is continually busy with his Sweet Feed Grinder. He is now in Tennessee for a few days grinding. The Young People's class of Salem church is rehearsing a play, "Wild Ginger," to be given soon. Mr. and Mrs. "Duck" Watts of Water Valley were among the visitors at McClure's Chapel Sunday.

Five years ago this month, Mr. Pleasant put on a Style Review at Fulgham and cleared $53.50. Johnny Parrott, age 13, lost a $20.00 dollar bill in the vicinity of Wingo Saturday and when we saw him returning home, broken hearted after hunting hours in vain, we recalled a similar occasion when I too had lots of sympathy for "myself" after carelessly walking off and leaving my purse and contents in a Paducah building. Losing the money hurt, but having to tell it to the home folks hurt worse. So Johnny had his punishment before he got home and it's O. K. with mother and dad (Bill and Mary) for they know he couldn't help it. Fine weather we're having this October.

STATE SOLIDARITY IN DEFENSE GOAL

Frankfort, Ky. —State Industrial Relations Commissioner W. C. Burrow appealed to industry and labor today to aid national defense by giving his department an "opportunity to mediate or arbitrate any differences which may arise before the situation reaches a stage where production will be impaired."

Kentucky law authorizes the commissioner to try to settle a dispute whenever either side requests it and Burrow's statement said: "I feel it my duty at this time to call upon both employer and employee for the utmost co-operation in view of the fact that every establishment within the Commonwealth is either directly or indirectly concerned with the program of national defense."

REWARD PLAN ADVOCATED FOR PRISONERS

Cincinnati. —Told by one speaker that modern prisons should provide a system of earned rewards, the American Prison Congress Tuesday pondered the suggestion of another that "we have come to place too much emphasis on . . . life, liberty and pursuit of happiness and not enough on blood, sweat and tears."

John C. Burke, warden of Wisconsin State Prison at Wausau, declared that probation, prisons and parole programs should be unified if the State is to develop a "well-rounded" man during his stay behind bars.
