Wallace To Appear At Fancy Farm

FANCY FARM, Ky. — Official spokesman for the George C. Wallace campaign headquarters in Montgomery, Ala., have confirmed that the Alabama governor will be here at 2 p. m. Aug. 2 to appear as the feature speaker at the 95th annual Fancy Farm picnic.

N. W. Burnette, Fulton, chairman for Fulton's 1976 Wallace campaign, received the confirmation from Alton Dauphin, an assistant to Charles Snyder.

Dauphin said Wallace's plane will land at the Mayfield airport on Aug. 2 if weather conditions permit or at Paducah's Barkley Field if weather conditions are poor, Burnette reported.

The Alabama governor stated in a letter recently received by several area residents, "I do intend to seek the Democratic presidential nomination next year," however he has not yet formally announced his candidacy.

Although there is no state headquarters in Kentucky for the Wallace campaign, the Alabama headquarters confirming his visit here has been in continuous operation since the 1972 Presidential campaign.

Detective Division Returned To Uniform Following Pay Dispute

By DAVID HILL

Murray Ledger & Times Staff Writer
The staff of the detective division of the Murray Police Department has been returned to uniform duty after an inter-departmental dispute concerning overtime hours.

Captain Paul Jerry Lee and Sgt. Dale Spann are in uniform today on regular shift work; the detective division is being manned for the time being by Sgt. Dan Kelley, after Mayor John Ed Scott refused to pay a total of 486 hours in overtime for the two men.

Lee and Spann turned in 272 and 214 hours respectively for overtime work they said was for a period of about 12 months. If paid, the work would amount to at least $3,000 or more, according to Police Chief Brent Manning.

Manning said today that further action has not been decided upon at this time, but said he does not expect further disciplinary action. Chief Manning said the men were told not to accumulate the overtime hours.

Mayor Scott reported that the two were given a direct order some time ago to work out their duties so that they didn't get any overtime hours. He said he refused to pay the overtime submitted by the men when he was advised of it by Chief Manning.

Captain Lee said that he received no such order, and that it would have been impossible to have kept from getting some of the overtime hours.

Lee continued that some of the overtime work has during the time that Chief Manning was away at police training school, and Lee was acting chief. "I had to do his work during the day, and my work, on drug raids and such, at night," he said. Several raids were conducted during the absence of Chief Manning.

At the present time, Lee is working as radio dispatcher at police headquarters, and Spann will be assigned to patrol duty. Lee said this morning that he doesn't know what course of action will be taken next.

Lee said that neither he nor Spann was asked to attend a meeting of the Murray City Council police committee, to defend their position on the overtime hours.

Asked why they waited for so long to turn in their overtime, Lee answered that he just didn't realize how much it was mounting up.

Mayor Scott said that if litigation is filed by the two then insubordination charges could be levied against the two for disobeying what Scott called a direct order not to accumulate overtime hours.

Dr. Curris Reiterates Regional Concept For MSU At RECC Meet

MAYFIELD, Ky.—Dr. Constantine Curris, president of Murray State University, Saturday reiterated his concept of MSU as a regional university and called for a spirit of cooperation among the residents of Jackson's Purchase to insure "that we get our fair share from the legislature."

Addressing the 37th annual members' meeting of the West Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative, Dr. Curris forecast the growth in Western Kentucky will be faster than in any other section of the state, adding that "we must preserve our quality of life."

Commenting briefly on the proposal that a school of veterinary medicine be established at Murray State, Dr. Curris said such a school would be an investment in young people, the area's economy and livestock.

He said surveys show the need of more veterinary service in the area, pointing out that Kentucky is 10th in the nation in the livestock industry, but ranks 35th in veterinary service.

Dr. Curris said that both the Western Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative and Murray State University stand for the same thing—cooperation.

"The day is gone," he said, "when Mayfield and Paducah and Murray can compete against each other. The record of the legislature has been rather dismal for Western Kentucky. We are one people, and it's time to band together and insist we get our fair share."

In his annual report to the membership, John Edd Walker, general manager of West Kentucky RECC said that of May 31 of this year, the cooperative's assets totaled $14,645,284.66, and that its net worth was $3,021,770.67.

Walker noted that membership in the cooperative reached 23,226, as of May 31, an increase of 653 over the previous year. West Kentucky RECC, he pointed out, has 2,334 miles of distribution lines with an average of 9.95 consumers per miles of lines.

Walker said that the Tennessee Valley Authority, which furnishes electric power to West Kentucky RECC, is the only utility in the nation far-sighted enough to start construction to take care of its needs in the future.

"TVA has done more for this section than anything in our lifetime," he said.

While pollution control regulations and higher prices for coal and construction materials have forced the price of electricity upward, "power rates in the Tennessee Valley are still only 60 per cent of the national average," Walker said.

Walker congratulated members of the Ford Announces Move To Lift Oil Ceilings

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford announced today a move to gradually lift price ceilings on domestic oil but minutes later decided to delay formally presenting it to Congress to allow time for "discussion and public dialogue."

In retracting a statement that Ford's blueprint for administrative action would go to Congress today, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Ford's decision to wait until later in the week grew out of an early morning meeting with Democratic and Republican congressional leaders.

However, Nessen said Ford has no plan to alter the key elements of his planned administrative action.

The presidential blueprint would lift present oil price ceilings over a two-and-one-half year period and fix an eventual ceiling of about $13.50 a barrel for all domestically-produced oil.

Ford estimated the decontrol price hike would result in a saving of 300,000 barrels of oil a day and, combined with his other programs, would help save up to 900,000 barrels a day.

Nessen said the delay in formal submission of the plan to Congress was to allow further discussion of a complex matter inasmuch as, once it is submitted, either house would have five days in which to block Ford's move if it was deemed unsatisfactory. The press secretary said by waiting, members of Congress will have more time in which to make up their minds.

Sen Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., responded quickly to Ford's plan. Jackson, who is seeking the Democratic nomination for president, said he will seek Senate approval of a resolution to disapprove Ford's action.

Exhibit Of New Library Books Opens At MSU

An exhibit of new library books, including for the first time a graded, school-related, comprehensive collection of quality paperbacks, will open a four-day run at Murray State University July 14.

The exhibit, to be located in Room 653 of the Education Building, will be open from 8:30 a. m. until 3:30 p. m. each day through July 18, and is sponsored by the Department of Instruction and Learning at the University.

The exhibit comes from Books on Exhibit, Mount Kisco, N. Y., a national exhibiting service now in its 24th year. Over the years, its annual collections of the new library books have been rated by schools nationwide as a leading electing and ordering resource.

Lynn Grove High School 1929 Class And Basketball Players Meet For Reunion At The Triangle Inn

"Down Memory Lane", was the well-chosen theme for the reunion of the 1929 graduation class of Lynn Grove High School, and some of the basketball players (Wildcats) of that era. The gathering took place at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, July 3, at the Triangle Inn.

The invocation was given by Carlos Jones. The tables were decorated in the class colors of old rose and silver, with arrangements of pink daisies, baby's breath and greenery.

The class officers were: Ray Pogue, president; Myers Sherman, vice-president; Opal Rogers, secretary; Preston Jones, reporter.

Mrs. Bradburn Hale invited the group on a journey down "Memory Lane", and this proved to be a joyous occasion as the attendants viewed pictures, invitations, love notes and personal letters from teachers and different members of the class of many years gone by.

Another high-light of the meeting was the comical relating of Buron "Boots" Jeffrey concerning events that took place with various groups of ball boys on trips, and concerning the student body in general.

Another interesting presentation was made by Earl Douglas in the form of a list of the members of the graduating classes from the year 1929 through 1933.

Class members and their spouses from Murray attending were: Preston Jones, (Roxie Williams) Mrs. Preston Jones, (Opal Rogers) Hale and husband, Bradburn, (Dulcie Mae Swann) Douglas and husband Earl, (Iva Cochrum) Lawrence, (Beauton Simpson) Windsor, (Lorene Kingins) Wilson and husband, Bulas.

Class members and their spouses from out of town attending were: Wims Adams and wife from Fulton; Ray Pogue and wife from Phoenix, Arizona.

Non-class members and their spouses or guests attending were: Tosco Clark of Houghton Lake, Mich., and guest, Mrs. Glenace Edmonds, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Matheral, and Leslie Murdock of Farmington Route One.

"Teaching Little Children" Is Subject Of Talk For Chapter M

Miss Bernice Lutes, Madisonville, was a member-speaker for Chapter M of P.E.O. Monday evening, July 7, at the home of Mrs. Morgan Sisk.

Expanding her subject, "Teaching Little Children," Miss Lutes stated: "To be a good teacher of little children you want to be good for, good to, and good with—" These qualities are necessary, she explained, because the great Creator of human beings left infants unfinished. The speaker discussed creative teaching and related various experiences in her chosen field.

Miss Lutes, a kindergarten teacher in the Madisonville school system, was initiated into Chapter CT, Flat River, Mo., in 1959. She transferred to Murray's Chapter M while earning her Master's degree at Murray State University. She holds memberships in Association for Childhood Education International, Kentucky Association for Children Under Six, Order of the Eastern Star, Rebekah Lodge and other organizations.

In the business meeting, Mrs. Maurice Christopher, president, presided. Mrs. Alfred Lindsey, Jr., served as guard; Mrs. Paul Sturm, chaplain, gave the devotion. Mrs. Olga Freeman, recording secretary, Mrs. H. L. Oakley, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John Quattermous, treasurer, presented their respective reports. Notes from the Cottey College news letter were read by Mrs. Lindsey.

Elizabeth Borrer, member of Chapter BA, Columbus, Ohio, was a visitor. Her husband is associated with Murray State Biological Laboratory this summer. Anne Sturm Kruger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sturm, non-resident member, Palos Verdes, Calif., was welcomed by the president and members. Mrs. Kruger and her family will move to New Mexico.

A frozen, cherry dessert was served by the hostess to Mesdames Elizabeth Borrer, Richard Kruger, Paul Sturm, Maurice Christopher, Olga Freeman, John Quattermous, H. L. Oakley, W. J. Pitman, Henry McKenzie, Alfred Lindsey, Jr., and Miss Lutes.

No further meetings are scheduled until October 6.

FATS NEEDED

To hear all the talk, you'd think that fats in our diet are bad. Well, too much of anything can be unwise, but we need fats in the diet every day. Fats supply energy and essential fatty acids. Butter and cream are fine-tasting. As are salad oils, dressings, cooking oils, and the fat in meat.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR TUESDAY, JULY 15, 1975

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Mars' position somewhat adverse. It may be necessary to go over certain pending business transactions more carefully—allowing for possible delays, changing circumstances.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

Indication of some disturbance in job quarters. Stubborn insistence on your own way could further complicate matters. Give a little!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

New and unusual ideas, thoughtfully presented, could bring substantial gains now. A good period, also, for making long-range plans.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Some puzzling situations indicated. If you can touch bases with certain people outside your immediate field, however, you can work things out today.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Solar influences beneficent. Take advantage by pressing on toward worthwhile objectives. Occupational matters especially favored.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

In spite of certain challenges and some opposition from those at the top, don't become pessimistic. You are on the right track—as others will see later.

You always enjoy a challenge, and you may meet some interesting ones now. Tackle with vigor, but don't undertake enterprises you would not usually consider.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Fine gains for like efforts. However, be on the lookout for "gimmicks" that could trip you, persons who would undermine your self-confidence by belittling your efforts.

Auspicious aspects favor partnerships, promise cooperation in putting over new deals and projects. Don't procrastinate.

How wide should a hem be? Hem depth varies according to type of garment and fabric. Generally, a hem in coats, dresses and skirts for adults is 2 to 3 inches deep. A full garment of gored or circular cut, short jackets, pants, some blouses, use 1 to 2 inch deep hems. Shirt-tail blouses and cuffed pants may only have 1/2 inch or less hem. —Mrs. Dean Roper, Courthouse, Mayfield.

Mildew develops in warm, damp weather, and homemakers may need to take extra precautions to prevent the damage that mildew can do to clothing and leather goods. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture suggests to prevent mildew: 1. Keep things clean. 2. Clean clothing, shoes, etc. before storing. 3. Use a mildew inhibitor in closets, etc. 4. Try to control dampness in house by use of good circulation of air. To remove mildew from clothing and household fabrics: Remove mildew spots when they are discovered. 2. Brush off any surface growth outdoors to prevent scattering the mildew spores in the house—sun and air thoroughly. 3. Wash mildew stained articles at once with soap or detergent and water. Rinse well and dry in the sun. If stain remains, bleach with lemon juice and salt or use a bleach. Test colored fabrics for colorfastness to the bleach. It is also possible to use lemon juice and salt, a peroxide bleach or chlorine bleach—but follow the directions on the bottle carefully. —Mrs. Catherine C. Thompson, Hickman.

WHAT IS THE SUCCESSFUL 1975 FOOD SHOPPER DOING?

• Making grocery lists at home and therefore spending less each week for the same amount of food than when shopping without a list. • Making fewer shopping trips per week (one or two). Three, four or more trips a week increases food expenditures—most shoppers can't resist buying "extras" whether they're really needed or not, and the more shopping trips, the more "extras" purchased. • Using unit pricing and comparison shopping saves more money for the shoppers who use it. Shopping during the "quiet hours" allows time to compare and choose items that give more value. • Studying newspaper ads saves money than if you never do your homework. —Mrs. Barletta Wrather, Murray.

Have you tried "glazing" carrots, parsnips, and sweet potatoes with a blend of orange juice concentrate of honey? Even maple syrup instead of brown sugar (omit the water) makes a good combo. —Mrs. Pat Cursinger, Benton.

HAMBURGERS FOR SUPPER TONIGHT? When frying hamburgers, cover the pan with a screen-type splatter shield. While the burgers are cooking, split hamburger buns and lay them cut side down on top of the shield. When meat is done, buns are warm and soft. —Mrs. Maxine Griffin, Clinton.

GOING CAMPING THIS WEEKEND? Try these hints: Before cooking over a camp fire, rub soap on the bottoms of pans and skillets. The soot will easily wipe off. When you pack silverware for camping, try putting in a cylindrical potato chip can. One can holds place settings for six. Put seasoning bottles, such as those for catsup, meat, sauces, etc. in a cardboard carbonated beverage carrier when you go camping...it's easy to carry around and will be easy to find. —Mrs. Sue Fraser, Bardwell.

NO SLIP SWINGS — Put rubber bathtub appliques on the seats of a metal swing set to keep little children from slipping off. —Mrs. Juanita Amonett, Paducah.

Pair Seeks Best Fishing Grounds for Rich Catch

DEAR ABBY: To make a long story short, another girl and I are interested in finding husbands, and we don't want to waste a lot of time and money looking. I am 30 and she is 31.

Can you tell us where to look for eligible men—preferably with money? Or do you believe in that old saying, "Everything comes to him who waits?"

LOOKING IN ST. PAUL

DEAR ABBY: Get out of Minnesota. There are only 81 eligible men to every 100 single women in your age bracket there.

Your best bet is Alaska. The unmarried men outnumber single women two to one.

The pickings are good in Hawaii, Nevada and Rhode Island. The ratio there is about six men to every five women.

Florida, California and Arizona are loaded with older eligibles who are loaded. But prepare to compete with rich widows.

The only thing that comes to those who wait is gray hair. Good luck and happy hunting, girls!

DEAR ABBY: We are a middle-age couple. We are neighbors to a young couple I'll call Tom and Ann who go out of town frequently. They gave my husband a key to their house so that he can feed their dog, water their plants and keep an eye on their house in their absence. I have never gone into their house while they are not home.

Recently we went away on a trip, and my husband gave Tom and Ann a key to our house so they could keep an eye on it.

We've been back three months, and they still have our house key. Yesterday when we returned from shopping, we found a note stuck on our door. It read: "We called, got no answer, so we came in and borrowed some chairs we needed. Signed, Tom and Ann."

Abby, I don't think that was presumptuous. I don't want anyone in my house when I'm not home. And I certainly don't want them borrowing anything without my permission. True, had I been home, I would have let them borrow the chairs, but I feel they had no business helping themselves.

I've asked my husband to ask them for our key. He says I'm being foolish. I will abide by your decision. If you say

OVER 50 AND ANGRY

DEAR OVER: No apologies necessary. I think you're right.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I attended a small dinner party at the home of a friend. For dessert she served a lemon custard cake topped with whipped cream and coconut icing. It was delicious! Everyone raved and no one left a crumb.

The next morning I telephoned my hostess to thank her again for the lovely dinner party. Then I asked her for the recipe for the dessert. I was shocked when she said, "It's my own creation and I don't give out the recipe, but if you ever want one, I'll be glad to make it for you—for $10, which will be donated to my church."

How do you feel about that, Abby?

DUMBFOUNDED

DEAR D: It's her recipe and her right to refuse to give it out. I think it's a good deal for everyone—including the members of her church.

EATING OUT

Eating out becomes more and more popular and in some instances, necessary. At least 34 per cent of Americans go out for breakfast once a month or more. About 63 per cent enjoy a restaurant lunch at least monthly. And some 59 per cent of us have dinner in a restaurant at least once a month.

Choose Your Babysitter With Care And Give Special Hints On Fires

You wouldn't choose "Lady Luck" to be your banker - so don't choose her to be your babysitter.

These guardians of your children and your home should meet certain criteria, and it is up to you to be sure they do.

Babysitters should be fire conscious. Your babysitter should be aware that children cause many fires and are the chief victims of fire in this nation (along with people over 68).

Your babysitter should know:

- That children enjoy playing with matches and cigarette lighters.
- The general layout of the house and two exits that can be used in case of a fire.
- The telephone number of the fire department.
- That if trapped on the second floor the door MUST be closed, blankets placed along the bottom of the door, and a window opened.
- That the babysitter is not a firefighter and that the best thing to do in case of a fire is to get the children out and make sure they don't go back into the burning house.
- That if a child's clothes should catch on fire, the quickest way to smother the flames is to cover the child with a blanket or rug and roll the victim on the floor.

Babysitters should not take the time to investigate if they smell smoke, or gas. Their number one responsibility is to get all the children out and then use the nearest fire alarm box or neighbor's telephone to call the fire department.

Probably the best way to find out if your babysitter is competent is to make a checklist and discover what this guardian knows and is capable of.

In short, help your children to be safe; teach your babysitter to "Learn Not To Burn."

Work Can Be Its Own Incentive

Critics of public welfare programs often contend that if the government gives people enough to live on, it robs them of the incentive to work. An article in the University of North Carolina quarterly "Social Forces" says that isn't so. The author, sociologist Sonia Wright, says her research indicates that poor people guaranteed enough money to live on are unlikely to stop working because work, she found, is more to them than a means of earning a living—it is a "source of identity and self-esteem."

She studied poor families in two states (New Jersey and Pennsylvania) that are experimenting with the negative income tax. The negative income tax is a form of guaranteed annual income; under it, people who earn too little to pay taxes receive enough money from the government to bring their income up to an established minimum. She found that such payments do not deter able-bodied people from working. Ms. Wright says most poor people are not different from anyone else when it comes to work. They share the "work ethic" with the rest of society. But poor people often don't work because of factors they cannot control: "occupational and racial discrimination, inadequate training (and) poor health."

The present welfare system, Ms. Wright contends, discourages poor people from working, for they often stand to lose more in welfare benefits than they could earn from low-paying jobs. Under a negative income tax, that would not be so. Her findings bolster the case for replacing the present welfare system with a form of guaranteed annual income.

TODAY'S TOPIC: A FORMULA FOR MISERY

Interruption of services by New York sanitation and demonstrations by policemen dropped from the city's payroll point to the danger of "civil servants" coercing a community.

New York City is in grave financial trouble today because unions representing sanitationmen, teachers, policemen, firemen and other city employees have insisted on wage increases and retirement and pension provisions which are beyond the city's means.

This is not to say one doesn't feel some sympathy for the policemen, firemen and sanitationmen. Mayor Beame, in making cuts in the city's budget, chose to cut muscle instead of fat. While the policemen and firemen were dropped, the huge mass of welfare recipients suffered no losses. The army of bureaucrats in the city's educational department escaped penalty.

Nevertheless, the plight of the city workers and of the entire city is caused by politicians and union leaders working in concert. The taxpayers are the victims. And now the politicians want to pass the burden of excessive metropolitan government costs to the state or federal government.

they should automatically be paid more because of this fact? No one actually says so, but such is the moral logic — if you can call it that — of unrestricted wage bargaining.

In other words, unrestricted wage bargaining by powerful unions produces a coercive situation. In practical terms, as seen in New York City, it is a formula for community misery. When collective bargaining is applied on a national scale, and when entire industries are subjected to unreasonable demands, it becomes a formula for national misery.

The only answer to the problems of New York City is to curb the power of the unions. The citizenry, whether in New York City or elsewhere, cannot permit unions to disrupt or shut down essential services. Unions cannot be allowed to set prices on essential community services — prices which are beyond the ability of the taxpayers to pay.

The tragedy is that the United States today doesn't have an antitrust law which covers labor unions and which would prevent exercise of monopoly power by unions. If such a law were on the books, New York City wouldn't be on the brink of bankruptcy.

TVA And Peabody Coal

By S. C. Van Curon

FRANKFORT—The coal industry in Kentucky is probably pleased that the Tennessee Valley Authority withdrew its offer to purchase Peabody Coal Co., the nation's largest producer. TVA's offer drew a lot of criticism from the coal industry and the investor-owned utilities in the nation. Kennecott Copper Co., parent firm of Peabody, is under a Federal Trade Commission order to divest itself of Peabody.

TVA gave as its reason for withdrawing the offer because of pending lawsuits against Peabody and that the coal reserves may be less desirable from TVA's standpoint than had been indicated originally.

TVA also has drawn criticism from some of its customers because the price of coal has driven electrical charges skyward, including the permissive charge for "fuel adjustment."

For years TVA and the Rural Electric Cooperatives made a big public relations issue of their ability to produce and distribute power at very low rates.

Now TVA and some of the cooperatives are harvesting the fruits of their own plantings for three decades. They are forced to pay competitive prices for coal for their electric generating plants.

For years, the government subsidized power plants were able to beat down coal prices to a ridiculous figure, thus driving the independent coal operators out of business. TVA whipsawed the independent coal operators to selling their products at or below the price of production.

During the bleak days of the early 1950s for the coal industry, TVA was successful in dealing with the major producers and thus driving the price for independents below the profit level. During this period TVA bought coal in Eastern Kentucky for less than $4.00 a ton. This quasi-government agency did more to encourage strip mining than any other industry in the nation. TVA is the biggest single purchaser of coal in the nation.

This drove the independent deep coal mines out of business and concentrated production in the hands of the large corporate firms. Last year when the fuel shortage hit, and prices of coal skyrocketed and TVA was forced to pay higher prices or not get any coal. Thus the TVA is now harvesting the fruits of its own plantings over the years.

Now, that TVA has been caught in the trap that it manufactured itself, it is asking a congressional committee to use its subpoena power to determine the relationship between the rising coal prices and the decline in independent producers, the very producers that TVA drove out of business by its purchasing policies.

In a byline story in the Bowling Green Daily News, Jim Highland said that TVA Chairman Aubrey Wagner made this request to the antitrust and monopoly committee of the U. S. Senate Judiciary Committee. Highland reported that "The subcommittee, before which the TVA chairman appeared, is holding hearings on Senate Bill 489 which would prohibit those engaged in the production of petroleum or natural gas from acquiring any interest in business involved in coal, oil shale, uranium, nuclear reactors or solar energy. "The bill also would require those engaged in the production and the refining of petroleum to divest, within three years after enactment of the bill, ownership or control of such business."

In recent years large corporate petroleum concerns have invested heavily in coal reserves and are among the largest coal producers in the nation.

TVA over the years was successful in driving the coal market below the profitable level and put independent producers out of business. The coal industry was so unprofitable that remaining firms had to seek expansion capital elsewhere and the logical place to go was to the petroleum industry or other giant industries as Peabody did to Kennecott Copper. The coal industry itself just wasn't producing the capital for expansion.

Now, Wagner wants the federal government to get TVA out of the trap it built for itself.

If TVA had bought Peabody, the state of Kentucky would have lost about $10 million in severance taxes that the state now collects from the investor-owned coal industries. TVA isn't satisfied with the present tax exemptions and other favorable perquisites it enjoys because it is a government owned industry. It's time for the American people to do a little reasonable thinking.

Let's Stay Well

Headdress And Health

By F. J. L. Blessingame, M.D.

BLESSINGAME

Styles of dress and social habits often lack appropriate consideration of the effects on health. Not wearing a hat nor covering on the head can have undesirable consequences.

Of course, the current practice of growing long hair and beards, for those who can grow them and choose to do so, gives covering and some protection. Perhaps the exhibitionism associated with them accounts in part for the discarding of head coverings.

The surfaces of the head and neck represent about 10 percent of the skin covering of the body. A hat or cap, along with a wrap around the neck, makes sense in severely cold weather. In fact, as in an Alaskan winter, such covering is a necessary insulation, especially to avoid frostbite to the ears. Protection against the low temperature adds to comfort. People who live in warmer climates derive even more benefit from head and neck coverings for they shield against excessive heat and direct exposure from the damaging amounts of ultraviolet rays in sunlight, which can cause atrophy of the skin and predispose to thickenings (keratoses) and skin cancers.

These are most prevalent in areas that are hit directly by the sunlight, such as the ears, forehead, cheeks and lower lip. Caucasians, especially blondes, are more susceptible to skin damage from ultraviolet rays. Nature has protected the black man by more skin pigment, which prevents the entrance of many of these rays.

The Mexican sombrero makes sense, and the cowboys know the value of a hat with a broad brim.

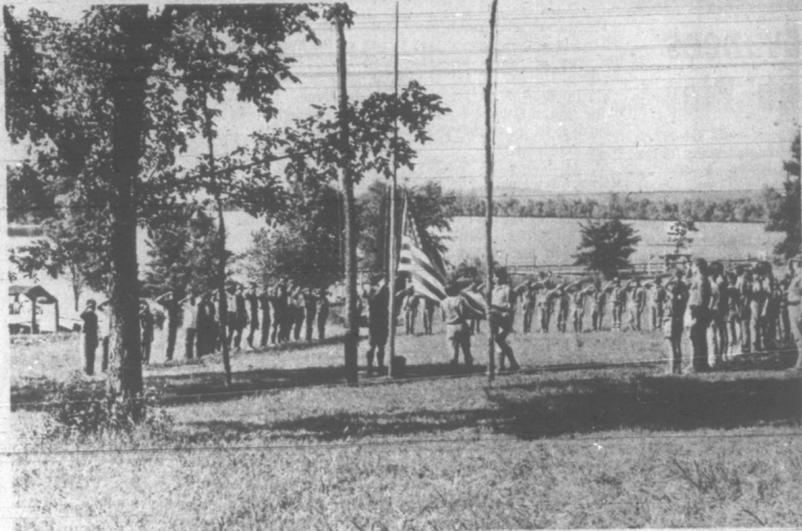

The "hard hat" has made it in industry, as has the helmet among motorcyclists and football players.

A headpiece not only can give added comfort and protection but also can be decorative and distinctive, giving the stylists something with which to play as they seek to influence the spending habits of purchasers.

Local Scouts Enjoy Camp Last Week

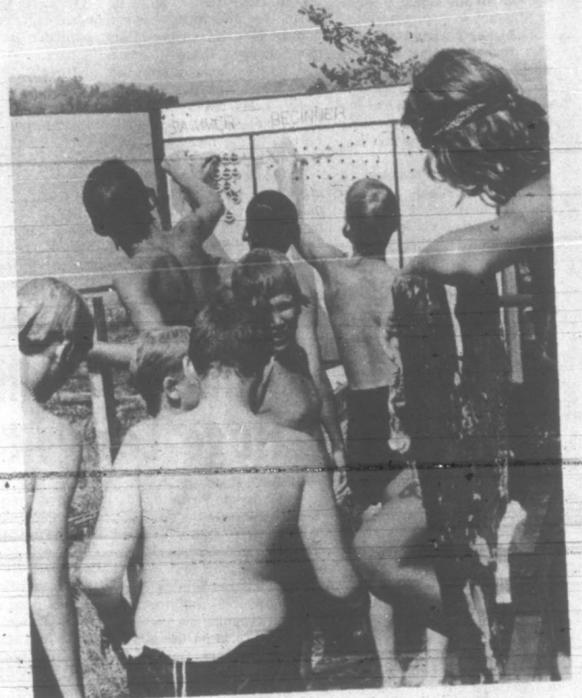

A flag ceremony was held each morning...

Members of Murray Boy Scout Troop 45 were among the approximately 150 Scouts who swarmed over the three-hundred acre Four Rivers Council Boy Scout Reservation on Jonathan Creek last week.

The 20 boys from the local troop enjoyed swimming lessons as well as free swim time, and worked on many projects toward merit badges while at the camp.

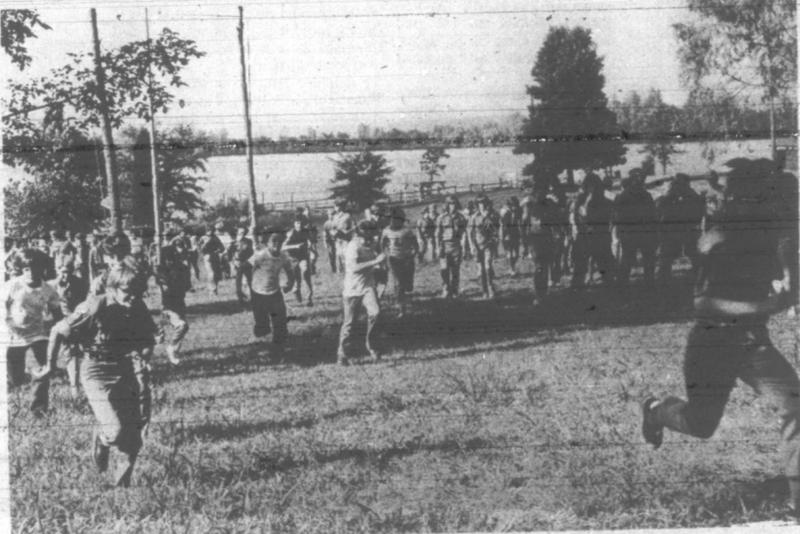

Situated on Kentucky Lake, the reservation is an ideal campsite. The rugged, wooded terrain is perfect for hiking and nature studies, and the lake provides an ideal setting for teaching safety in boating and swimming.

This year the scouts are putting to good use a newly installed dock and aquatic area. The dock represents the donated labor of the Associated General Contractors of Western Kentucky and the Paducah Tilghman Vocational School.

Dark Hoping Blue Can Break NL Win Streak

By DICK JOYCE
AP Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The last time the American League won an All-Star Game was in 1971 when rookie Vida Blue was the starting and winning pitcher.

Blue, who went on to win the Cy Young and most Valuable Player awards that year, is being counted on to help get the American League back on the winning track Tuesday night at the 46th All-Star Game at County Stadium.

AL Manager Alvin Dark, who also manages Blue with the world champion Oakland A's, last week named the 25-year-old left-hander to oppose the National League, winner of 11 of the last 12 of these mid-season classics.

Walter Alton, manager of the National League, also was expected to choose a southpaw starting pitcher — John Matlack of the New York Mets — at today's news conference to

Yanks, Reds Get Park League Wins

The Yanks and Reds grabbed wins over the weekend in Park League play.

In the first game played Friday, the Yanks took a 9-4 victory over the Twins.

Roger Dunn was the winning pitcher for the Yanks. Steve Vincent and Dunn each had three hits to pace the attack for the Yanks while Rodney Key had two. Also hitting safely were Mark Waldrop, Jeff Downey, Todd Lawson, Steve Lyles, Tracy Burken and Charles Cella.

For the Twins, Mark Boggess had two hits while Andy Parks, Cary Miller, Shay Guthrie and Alan McClard had a hit apiece. In the second contest, the Reds edged the Astros 13-12. Rick Grogan was the winning pitcher.

Jimmy Parrish had four hits to pace the Reds while Billy Wells and Grogan each had three. David McCuiston chipped in with two hits.

Collins and Richerson paced the attack for the Astros with two hits apiece while Thurmond, Daniel and Clark also hit safely.

give the starting line-ups. Matlack last pitched Friday and is known to be highly regarded by Alston, whose own Andy Messersmith — pitched Sunday — and Don Sutton — groin injury — aren't ready.

While Blue has a 12-7 record with a 3.10 earned run average this year, Matlack is 10-7 with a 3.54 ERA, highest of all All-Star pitchers.

When Blue gained the All-Star victory in 1971 despite giving up three runs in three innings, he got three two-run homers in a 6-4 victory. Harmon Killebrew, Frank Robinson and Reggie Jackson smashed those homers for the AL. Orly Jackson, who put his blast over the roof at Detroit, in a pinch-hit effort, is a member of this year's AL All-Stars.

He finished second in the voting for an outfield berth in a nationwide voting of fans. Bobby Bonds of the New York Yankees, an All-Star in 1971 and 1973 for the National League, and Joe Rudi of Oakland are the junior circuit's other outfield starters.

Two other Oakland players, first baseman Gene Tenace and shortstop Bert Campaneris, also will be in the starting lineup. The Yankees have two other starters in catcher Thurman Munson and third baseman Graig Nettles. Rod Carew of the Minnesota Twins, the AL's leading hitter and winner of three straight AL batting crowns, is the second baseman.

Alston will have three of his Dodgers in the starting lineup — first baseman Steve Garvey, MVP of the 1974 All-Star game, third baseman Ron Cey and outfielder Jimmy Wynn.

Three Cincinnati Reds are on the starting squad, catcher Johnny Bench, second baseman Joe Morgan, shortstop Dave Concepcion and outfielder Pete Rose. Lou Brock of the St. Louis Cardinals is the other outfielder.

Added to the AL reserve squad Sunday was infielder Toby Harrah of Texas, who replaces the injured Jorge Orta of the Chicago White Sox.

Lee Stewart Advances In Murray Match Play

Lee Stewart advanced to the second round of the men's match play tournament at the Murray Country Club Saturday with a 7 up and 6 win over James Parker in the championship flight.

He now awaits the winner of the match between his father, Chad Stewart, and Wally Young, the defending champion and former Murray State golf team member.

Mike Holton is the only other player in the championship flight to have advanced to the second round. Holton, a 2 up victor over Al Lindsey, will play the winner of the Norman Hood-Ralph McCuiston match in the first round.

No first round matches have been played in the flight in the lower brackets, the deadline for which is July 27.

Three matches have been played in the first flight, all in the lower brackets. Jere Striping won over Lawrence Philpot and now meets Judge James Lassiter, a one up winner over Dr. John Quertemus.

In the other first round match, Jack Shell won over Graves Morris and now plays the winner of the Jerry Jones-W. A. Franklin match.

The only match played to date in the second flight saw Don Grogan defeating one of his regular playing partners, Tommy Chrisp, 4 up and 3. Ted Billington must meet Matt Sparkman and the winner play Larry Robinson in order to determine Grogan's next opponent in the unusual and confusing bracketing in the flight.

Madisonville knotted the game at one a piece in the fourth as they scored an unearned run.

In the top of the fifth, Bo McDougal drew a one-out walk and then Bayless ripped a shot down the line in left. The left fielder bobbled the ball and McDougal came in to score. Bayless scored when Thurmond grounded out.

Bayless had two of the three Murray hits while Craig Dowdy had the other.

In the opening contest, Mark Miller was the tough luck loser as he gave up just four hits in going the distance. Miller struck out six and walked two, both base on balls proving to be very costly.

Madisonville put its leadoff man on base in the bottom of the sixth. With one out, Miller then walked the next two batters. The infield played back for the doubleplay and a slow roller was hit to short but the throw first wasn't in time for the twinkling and Madisonville had a 1-0 lead.

Bayless led off the Murray seventh with a single. Chavis drew a one out walk and with two outs, Larry McGregor walked to load the bases. Pinch hitter Lindy Suiter ripped a ball back at the mound where Bo McDougal pitcher made a fine play and threw to first to end the game.

Bayless again had two hits in the contest with Lindsey Hudspeth picking up the other safety.

In Saturday's game, the rain came too late.

Murray was leading Evansville 3-1 after five innings when the clouds came, the wind started whipping up and a few raindrops began to fall. But enough didn't fall.

By the time the rain came down hard, Evansville was far out in front.

Murray scored two in the bottom of the first as Craig Dowdy was hit by a pitch and scored when Bayless drilled a homer over the fence in left. It was the fifth homer of the season for Bayless.

Evansville scored single unearned runs in the second and third frames to tie the contest.

Murray snapped the tie with a run in the fifth to go ahead 3-2. McGregor had a one-out single, Steve Winchester had a pinch hit single and with two out, Dowdy laced a single to score Raymond Sims who was running for McGregor.

Evansville jumped on Tony Thurmond for four runs in the sixth and coasted on to the win.

Dowdy, Hudspeth, Bayless, Chavis and Winchester all hit safely in the contest for Murray.

The upcoming schedule has been changed around somewhat.

The contest set for tomorrow night with Union City has been changed to this coming Thursday. The game will begin at 7 p.m. in Holland Stadium.

Friday, Murray will play Greenville in a 7:30 p.m. single game in Holland Stadium.

Saturday, Murray will return the visit and go to Greenville.

The game which was to have been played Friday against Owensboro has been set for July 27. It will be a 1:30 p.m. doubleheader at Reagan Field.

Legion Loses Two Of Three Weekend Games

The Murray American Legion fell to 8-10 on the season as they lost two of three weekend contests.

Murray dropped an 11-3 game in the rain in Holland Stadium Saturday to powerful Evansville Funkhouser.

At Madisonville Sunday, Murray lost a tough 1-0 decision in the opener but bounced back to win the nightcap 3-1.

Lindy Suiter went the distance in the second game Sunday as Murray played one of its better games of the season.

It was the first start for Suiter who fanned seven batters and walked just one in the outing.

Murray scored a run in the top of the third when Tony Bayless reached first on a fielder's choice and took second when Tony Thurmond walked.

Both runners moved up on a wild pitch and Bayless scored on a passed ball.

Madisonville knotted the game at one a piece in the fourth as they scored an unearned run.

In the top of the fifth, Bo McDougal drew a one-out walk and then Bayless ripped a shot down the line in left. The left fielder bobbled the ball and McDougal came in to score. Bayless scored when Thurmond grounded out.

Athletics Rolling Along With Huge Lead At All-Star Break

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer
Wave bye-bye to the Oakland A's.

Those perennial world champions are not only first in the American League West at the All-Star break — but they're first by a whopping 8½ games.

"The pressure is on the other teams now," said Oakland's Bill North after the A's beat the Baltimore Orioles 4-3 Sunday and moved further ahead of the pack.

Traditionally, the team ahead by the All-Star game winds up winner of its division.

The second-place Kansas City Royals dropped another notch behind the A's by losing an 8-4 decision to the Detroit Tigers.

The Boston Red Sox, meanwhile, improved their lead in the American League East to 4½ games by whipping the Texas Rangers 7-5.

In Sunday's other American League games, the Cleveland

Indians nipped the California Angels 5-2 and the Chicago White Sox stopped the Milwaukee Brewers 5-0. Rain postponed action between Minnesota and New York.

Billy Williams' two-run double capped a three-run second inning and Ken Holtzman won his fifth straight game and 11th of the season as Oakland edged Baltimore. Holtzman needed relief help from Jim Todd and Rollie Fingers after Brooks Robinson hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning, cutting Oakland's lead to one run.

The A's scored all their runs off Ross Grimsley, 5-11, who lasted only 1 2-3 innings.

Tigers 8, Royals 4
Aurelio Rodriguez belted three hits and triggered two rallies as Detroit erased a three-run deficit in the first inning and went on to beat Kansas City. Rodriguez doubled off loser Dennis Leonard, 5-5, and scored the Tigers' first run on Gary Sutherland's sacrifice fly in the third. He added singles in the next two innings when the Tigers erupted for four and three-run rallies.

Red Sox 7, Rangers 5
Rookie sensation Fred Lynn drove in four runs and veteran Carl Yastrzemski had five straight hits, leading Boston over Texas for the Red Sox' seventh consecutive victory. Boston got a first-inning run on doubles by Yastrzemski and Lynn, then chased Steve Hargan, 6-5, with three more in the third. Bernie Carbo and Yastrzemski singled, Lynn doubled their home, then Jim Rice singled.

Indians 8, Angels 7
Duane Kuiper's tie-breaking single and Buddy Bell's two-run double highlighted a five-run seventh inning that helped Cleveland beat California. It was Cleveland's 13th straight victory over the Angels in Anaheim, equalling the American League mark for consecutive victories against one team on the road. The New York Yankees did it to the old St. Louis Browns 13 times during 1939-40.

White Sox 5, Brewers 0
Wilbur Wood pitched a three-hitter and Nyls Nyman drove in two runs, leading Chicago over Milwaukee. Chicago gave Wood, 7-13, all the offense he needed with four runs in the fourth inning. Three walks by Bill Travers, 4-3, filled the bases with two out, then Nyman lined a full-count pitch to right field for two runs. Bill Stein's run-scoring single chased Travers and Nyman scored from third on the front end of a double steal.

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — "One of things I've been concerned about is my consistency," said rookie golfer Roger Maltbie. "For the last few months I seemed to have lost it."

Wherever it had been, the first-year tour pro found it Sunday to come from seven strokes off the pace set by leader Dave Eichelberger to claim the $75,000 Quad Cities Open.

Maltbie, 24, who joined the Professional Golf Association last November, had a four-round total of 275, nine under par, to win $15,000. Eichelberger finished at 276.

Eichelberger, whose last tournament victory was the 1971 Milwaukee Open, moved to a five-stroke lead Friday and was ahead by three starting Sunday's round.

National League To Get Break From Sizzling Reds

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The National League deserves a break today. It's got one. The Cincinnati Reds aren't playing.

The Reds have been acting like starving men in a hamburger joint — eating up everything in sight. If a few days of enforced idleness can bring a halt to Cincinnati's momentum, then the All-Star break is the best thing that could've happened to the other 11 teams.

But Pete Rose thinks the three-day absence from the diamond will make the Reds' hearts grow even fonder of beating everyone else.

"We've always been a good second-half team," he said. "I don't think we'll do anything but get better."

Rose's bases-loaded two-run single capped a four-run seventh inning Sunday that propelled the Reds to their 10th consecutive victory, a 5-3 triumph over the New York Mets.

The victory, the Reds' 41st in their last 50 games, also widened their West Division lead to a mind-boggling 12½ games over Los Angeles, which was beaten 2-1 by St. Louis. In the rest of the league, Pittsburgh lost 7-5 to San Diego but retained its 6½-game East Division edge over Philadelphia, which fell 9-5 to Houston, Atlanta beat Montreal 5-4 in 14 innings and San Francisco defeated Chicago 4-1.

Tom Seaver was cruising along with a 3-0 lead and a two-hitter, a pair of Rose singles, before the Reds woke up. Joe Morgan walked, stole second and scored on Dan Driessen's double. Cesar Geronimo and Dave Concepcion then singled for another run and pinch-hitter Terry Crowley drew a walk, loading the bases.

That brought Rose to the plate and Rick Baldwin out of the bullpen. Rose greeted Baldwin with a clean line-drive single to center that put the Reds on top.

Cardinals 2, Dodgers 1

For the second straight time the Dodgers lost 2-1 to the Cards. And for the second straight time, Dave Lopes' homer produced the Dodgers' lone run. St. Louis' winner came on Bake McBride's triple and Reggie Smith's single off Mike Marshall in the bottom of the ninth.

Padres 7, Pirates 5

Hector Torres' two-run double in a three-run fifth helped the Padres down Pittsburgh. Pirates' third baseman Richie Hebner also helped with two errors in the inning.

Astros 9, Phillies 5

Cliff Johnson's two-run triple gave Houston a first-inning lead, the Phils scored four in the third, then Roger Metzger's single, Rob Andrews' double,

Wilbur Howard's triple and Greg Gross' single in the fourth put the Astros on top to stay.

Braves 5, Expos 4

Atlanta's Darrell Evans drew a one-out walk in the 14th inning against Montreal and took the throw home.

Giants 4, Cubs 1

right. Evans beat the throw to third and Lum went to second on the play.

And when Larry Parrish threw to Pete Mackanin at second, Evans jumped up and beat the throw home.

Giants 4, Cubs 1

Bruce Miller drilled three hits, drove in one run and scored one for the Giants while John Montefusco and Charlie Williams stopped the Cubs on six hits. Chris Speier also scored twice and drove in a run.

Watson's Eagle On 14 Was Key Hole In Winning British Open

By GEOFFREY MILLER
AP Sports Writer

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (AP) — Any golfer who birdies Carnoustie's feared par-five 14th can feel pleased with himself.

Jack Newton of Australia did it on Sunday's playoff for the British Open. But Tom Watson went him one better. He eagled it.

Watson, who was earning a history of choking in major tournaments, went on to win the crown and he said his eagle chip at the 14th was the stroke that counted the most toward the title.

"I hit a good wood for my second shot, and it landed in short grass just off the green, about 30 feet from the pin," Watson said. "I took a chipping wedge for my third shot and it ended in the hole."

Watson went on to a one-under-par 71 over the 7,065-yard, par-72 course and edged Newton by one stroke. It was the fourth time in five days that Watson had shattered par on the famous course, and it helped ease bitter memories of two consecutive U.S. Opens when he blew chances to win.

The 488-yard 14th, where the playoff turned in Watson's favor, is called "the spectacles" because two big round bunkers peer out in front of the green. Watson steered past the bunkers with his second shot but missed the green. The chip, however, was one of the outstanding shots of a memorable tournament.

Carnoustie is a dragon when the wind comes up, but for the first three days there was scarcely a breath of wind. Watson had scores of 71, 67 and 69 on the first three rounds; Newton shot 69, 71 and a course-record 65.

Then a westerly wind came up, and in the fourth round, the title was up for grabs as player after player bowed in the stiff breeze. Watson made 72 and Newton 74. The scores put the

Mets Rip Indians In Pony League

In a wild contest played in the Pony League Saturday night, the Mets ripped the Indians 20-13.

The winners pounded 16 hits in the game. David Brandon, who hurled the first five innings for the winners, got credit for the victory on the mound.

The Mets led 17-4 going into the bottom of the fifth when the Indians scored five times to keep the 10-run rule from stopping the game.

Randy Garlap had four hits for the Mets while Kenny Bogard had three and Mickey Spann and Bradley Wells had two apiece. Also hitting safely were Charlie Wells, Dwayne Dycus, Greg Garfield, Kevin Vaughn and Brandon.

For the Indians, Eric Story had three hits while Nicky Swift had two, one of which was a double off the top of the fence. Also hitting safely were Timmy Graham, Reed Hainsworth and Tommy Shown.

Deaths and Funerals

Lurton Jackson's Funeral Services Being Held Today

The funeral for Lurton Jackson of Paducah is being held today at one p.m. at the chapel of the Max Churchill Funeral Home with Rev. Terry Council and Rev. Joe Hebal of Paducah officiating and Mrs. Oneida White playing the organ. Serving as pallbearers are Joe Copeland, Karl McAllister, Buddy Hunter, Jerry Don Sullivan, Terry and Danny Allen. Burial will be in the Almo Cemetery.

Mr. Jackson, age 64, was pronounced dead at 3:15 p.m. Saturday at Lourdes Hospital, Paducah, by McCracken County Coroner John Barker, who said Jackson died as the result of a .38 caliber gunshot wound to the head. He had been found near his burning house by McCracken County Deputy Sheriffs Ted Beyer and Joe Feig.

The officers were called to the scene of the fire by members of the Reidland-Farley Fire Department when a dog apparently killed by a gunshot was discovered on the front porch of the house. The fire had been reported at 1:15 p.m.

Coroner Barker said following an autopsy and the discovery of a note in which Mr. Jackson indicated he would take his own life, he ruled the death a suicide.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Marie Hatcher Jackson, 1349 Friedman Lane, Paducah; two daughters, Mrs. Joe (Kathern) Dickinson and Mrs. Sammie (Jane) Grief, one brother, Glen Jackson, all of Paducah, three sisters, Mrs. Hazel Wyatt and Mrs. Juanita Allen, Paducah, and Mrs. Frank (Cozy) Kayich, Granite City, Ill.; five grandchildren; several nieces and nephews.

The deceased was born November 9, 1910, in Stewart County, Tenn., and was the son of the late Riley Jackson and Zula Allen Jackson.

Christa L. Calhoon Dies Sunday With Funeral Tuesday

Christa Lena Calhoon, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Michael Calhoon of Hazel Route Two, died Sunday at 6:20 p.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. Her death followed an extended illness.

The little girl was born December 14, 1970, in Murray. She was the great granddaughter of the late Chris Calhoon and Gardie Jones.

Joint Space Mission All Set To Go; Countdown Continues

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts, cosmonauts, spaceships and rockets are ready for the joint U.S.-Soviet space mission that gets underway Tuesday, ending the space race that began 18 years ago with the launching of Sputnik.

Countdowns ticked away smoothly on two continents today for twin launchings that will propel the American Apollo and Russian Soyuz spacecraft into orbit for a historic linkup Thursday.

The Soyuz, guided by cosmonauts Alexei A. Leonov and Valeri N. Kubasov, will blast off at 8:20 a.m. EDT from the Baikonur Cosmodrome on the edge of a central Russian desert 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow.

Apollo astronauts Thomas P. Stafford, Vance D. Brand and Donald K. Slayton will take off from Cape Canaveral 7 1/2 hours later at 3:50 p.m. to begin a celestial chase that will end with the two ships joined together 140 miles above West Germany at 12:15 p.m. Thursday.

Three hours later, a tunnel connecting the vehicles will open, and American commander Stafford and Soviet commander Leonov will shake hands.

It will be an emotionally charged moment, not only because of its symbolism but because the two men — both veterans of space — have become such close friends during two years of training for this mission. Both believe that moments like this, high in space, can speed detente between Soviets and Americans on earth.

The two commanders spoke by long distance telephone Sunday.

Stafford said Leonov and Kubasov told him "that everything was real fine at the Soviet cosmodrome" and he told the cosmonauts that things were good at the Cape, except for "sweating out" the weather.

Meteorologists say the afternoon thunderstorms that have swept the Cape daily are a matter for concern, but "the amount of thunderstorm activity is expected to decrease by Tuesday."

Chester M. Lee, NASA's program director, held a 2 1/2-hour readiness review Sunday and reported: "We are satisfied we are ready to carry out our part of the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project mission."

From Baikonur the report was the same: "All activities are being carried out according to the time line of the pre-launch flight plan."

President Ford, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin, other diplomats and James Fletcher, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, plan to watch televised coverage of the Soviet launching at the State Department auditorium. Dobrynin and Fletcher will then fly to Cape Canaveral to see the Apollo launch.

Today, all five spacemen planned to check flight plans and brush up on the language of the other country. The astronauts are scheduled to fly proficiency runs over central Florida in T38 jets.

During two days of linkup in space, the astronauts will speak Russian and the cosmonauts English. They will visit each other's spaceships, share meals, conduct joint experiments and exchange gifts. All five say that their orbital meeting won't just be a "handshake in the sky" but a mission leading to future cooperative flights in large space stations and perhaps to the planets.

All agree that Apollo-Soyuz is the symbolic end to the space race, which unofficially ran its course in 1972 when the agreement for the joint mission was signed at a summit by then-President Richard M. Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin.

The agreement called for development of a common docking mechanism that would enable the spaceship of one country to fly to the rescue of that of the other if it became necessary.

But both nations also saw the possibility of cutting back on vast sums spent on space exploration by sharing in future ventures if Apollo-Soyuz were successful.

Each country committed billions of dollars in the 1960's to beat the other to the moon.

Children's Author To Be At Library On Wednesday

Children's author Alvin Tresselt will be presented at the Calloway County Public Library Wednesday, July 16, at ten a.m. All children five years and older are invited to attend. This program will take the place of the regularly scheduled Wednesday story hours at ten a.m. and three p.m.

The well-known author has written 40 books for children and he is noted for his special way of using simple clear language in introducing children to basic facts and moods of the natural world.

With illustrator Roger Duvoisin, his White Snow, Bright Snow won the 1947 Caldecott medal and his books Rain Drop Splash and Hide and Seek Fog were first honor books for the coveted award. He won the Herald Tribune Spring Book Festival Award for The Dead Tree in 1973.

Tresselt was on the staff of Humpty Dumpty magazine and also editorial director of Parents Magazine Press.

He is now doing free-lance writing and editing and is an instructor in creative writing for the Institute of Children's Literature.

Tresselt will be accompanied by his wife, Blossom Budney, who is also the author of children's books. Their daughter, India, is also in Murray while Tresselt is an instructor in the Jesse Stuart Creative Writing Workshop currently being held at Murray State University. The author and his family make their home in Redding, Connecticut.

A limited number of Tresselt's books will be for sale and may be autographed after the hour-long program.

"Since many of the children who attend the weekly story hours are familiar with Mr. Tresselt's books, I'm sure they will enjoy hearing the author discuss his writings and perhaps hear stories read by him and his wife," said Margaret Trevathan, Librarian.

Children, five years and older, and their parents are invited to hear the author and his wife, Mrs. Trevathan said.

The theft of two reels, one rod, and one depth finder was reported by John L. Morgan, Route Six, and the theft of $12 cash, a number of vitamins, and six knives and a radio was reported by Dr. J. B. Dover, of Hazel.

Investigations are continuing into the burglaries, according to deputies.

Trial Of Black Woman Accused Of Murdering Jailer To Begin

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The trial of a black woman inmate accused of murdering a white jailer opens today in the wake of a judge's comment that the case should never go to a jury and a minister's challenge to a court order barring demonstrations at the courthouse.

Some 300 prospective jurors face questioning in Wake County Superior Court by attorneys for Joan Little, 21, and prosecutors aided by a lawyer hired by the family of slain jailer Clarence Alligood, 62.

Jury selection is expected to take about two weeks. Last week, Judge Carlos Murray Jr., who is not involved in the trial, said he believed the prosecution's case is weak. At a Raleigh rape crisis meeting, Murray said: "From what I've seen reported, I don't see how this case could go to a jury."

And on Sunday, the Rev. Leon White organized an all-night vigil at the courthouse. About 80 supporters of Miss Little applauded as the Rev. Mr. White said "justice is dead" for the poor in this state.

Rain interrupted the ceremony, but the Rev. Mr. White said the group would remain until later today. The civil rights activist has challenged Superior Court Judge James P. Bailey's injunction barring assemblies, demonstrations or distribution of literature at the courthouse while the trial is in progress. A federal court hearing on the challenge is scheduled for Thursday.

Miss Little maintains she killed Alligood in self defense when he tried to rape her in her cell at the Beaufort County Jail in Washington, N.C., on Aug. 27. Miss Little, the only female prisoner in the jail at the time, was confined while appealing a breaking and entering conviction.

She fled after the slaying, but voluntarily surrendered to authorities eight days later with assurances that she would not be returned to Beaufort County but would be held at the Correctional Center for Women in Raleigh.

She has recently been free on $15,000 bond posted by the Southern Poverty Law Center of Montgomery, Ala., and the Joan Little Defense Fund of Durham, N.C.

The prosecution is expected to argue that the slaying was part of an escape plot. Prosecutors have said Miss Little took the murder weapon — an icepick — from the jailer's desk when he let her out of her cell to use a telephone in his office earlier in the evening. They said she later lured Alligood to her cell and stabbed him 11 times.

A medical examiner's report said semen was encrusted on the thigh of the jailer's body, which was found naked from the waist down.

Light Plane Crashes Into Louisville Home

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William Marshall was next to the side of his house emptying garbage and not in an upstairs bedroom when a light airplane crashed into the house Sunday night. As a result, he's still alive.

"If I had been in that particular part of the house, I wouldn't be talking to you," Marshall said after the impact knocked out most of the right side of the house.

The plane's occupants were not seriously injured. The pilot, Dr. Donald A. Carrow, 41, and the passenger, William Wallace Hill, 26, were listed in satisfactory condition in Norton-Children's Hospitals with facial lacerations.

They were being held for observation of back injuries. Marshall said he remembered thinking the plane was too low. "I knew they couldn't pull out," he said, recalling that he hit the ground when the craft crashed.

Marshall said he shut off electricity and gas in the house. Although fuel spewed out of the wrecked airplane, there was no fire, Jefferson County police said.

Carrow said his engine developed trouble, preventing his planned landing at Bowman Field, a small airport primarily used by private planes. He had taken the airplane up for a few minutes to test a new radio, he said.

"When I saw I was going to crash, I cut everything off," Carrow said.

He said he tried to steer the plane into an open field, then into a driveway between two houses. Carrow said he couldn't control the plane.

Both wings of the airplane sheared off in opposite directions in the crash. The craft entered through the roof and emerged through the right side wall of the house, tearing up most of the wall.

Carrow didn't foresee an end to his aviation activities. Asked if he would fly again, he said: "Sure, I will."

Trend Of Hospital Rates Remains Uncertain For Now

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The future trend of hospital costs in Kentucky remains uncertain, despite a recent rash of rate increases, a Kentucky Blue Cross official says.

Ron Thornton, Blue Cross vice president for internal affairs, notes that the fiscal year for many hospitals ends June 30, so June and July increases may be related to the end of the year.

The rate hikes also could be the result of still escalating costs, however, Thornton said.

Last month, 14 rate increases were granted by the Blue Cross Reimbursement Committee, which must accept a rate-increase proposal from a hospital before Blue Cross agrees to reimburse its insured patients.

In addition, Thornton said, seven hospitals already have asked for higher rates this month.

The official acknowledged that costs are rising at an unexpectedly high rate. "We thought we'd see a leveling off by this time, but we haven't
