Beshear declares bridge collapse regional state of emergency

By ANGIE HATTON
Staff Writer

Gov. Steve Beshear has signed an executive order formally declaring the destruction of a span of the Eggners Ferry Bridge on Jan. 26 a regional state of emergency.

The order is a formal step to allow the Kentucky Transportation Cabinet to seek emergency funds from the Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) to help with potential repairs to the bridge.

"We continue to explore every possible avenue in our efforts to restore traffic to this vital highway in western Kentucky," said Gov. Beshear. "My executive order is one more step toward that objective. By working with our partners at FHWA, we hope to speed the process as much as possible."

KYTC spokesman Chuck Wolfe said the cabinet first contacted FHWA the day after the cargo ship Delta Mariner crashed into the bridge. At that time, the state declared intent to request emergency funding to help offset costs of repairs, transportation alternatives and debris removal, said Wolfe.

Henley: House moves against sex crimes

By TOM BERRY
Staff Writer

Fifth District Rep. Melvin Henley (D-Murray) says legislation passed in the House Judiciary Committee would create new laws aimed at fighting sex crime in Kentucky.

The committee voted 13-0 Wednesday to approve House Bill 350, which would create new felony categories for human trafficking and increase funding to both prosecute traffickers and advocate against the modern-day form of sexual slavery.

"Many of the more than 130 known human trafficking victims in Kentucky, around 43 percent, were initially trafficked for sex or forced labor, or both, as children," Henley said. "Some were adults when they were finally identified and rescued. HB 350 would protect both child and adult victims by, among other things, allowing the financial assets of anyone convicted under the law to be seized and forfeited. All assets would go to help victims and advance police and prosecutorial work on trafficking cases."

New felonies created by the bill including patronizing prostitution and patronizing a minor which would increase prosecution based on specific sex - forced-labor components in trafficking cases.

"Some lawmakers and others, particularly in the legal community, have questioned the need for specifying the new crimes, which mirror the crime of unlawful transaction with a minor currently on Kentucky's law books," Henley said. "But HB 350's supporters say that the specific nature of the facts in human trafficking cases makes the creation of the new criminal provisions both necessary and non-duplicitous."

If it becomes law, the measure would also create a new Kentucky State Police unit to investigate human trafficking and promote training in patterns of trafficking for law enforcement, prosecutors, victims and victims' advocates.

Also, House legislators voted 97-0 Wednesday to pass House Bill 126 making intentional viewing a child pornography a crime.

"The scourge of child pornography is a problem worldwide and one that has not left Kentucky unscathed," Henley added.

Overbey film gets notice at Sundance

By HAWKINS TEAGUE
Staff Writer

A movie comedy written by and starring Murray native Kellie Overbey received a lot of positive attention when it premiered at the Sundance Film Festival last month, and could be seen by a much bigger audience soon.

Overbey wrote the screenplay for "That's What She Said," which stars Anne Heche ("Donnie Brasco," "Cedar Rapids") Marcia DeBonis ("Letters to Juliet," "The Truman Show") and Alia Shawkat ("Arrested Development," "Whip It") as the main trio of characters. Overbey also plays a small role in the film.

"That's What She Said" is the first feature film directed by the actress Carrie Preston, who currently plays the waitress Arlene Fowler on the popular HBO series "True Blood" and the ditzzy-but-brilliant attorney Elsbeth Tascioni on the CBS drama "The Good Wife." Preston and Overbey became friends when they both played Mia Farrow's daughters in a play in 2003, and the two have been close ever since.

The movie starts out with a woman named Dee Dee (Heche) helping her best friend Bebe (DeBonis) get ready for a big date. A younger woman named Clementine (Shawkat) sort of crashes their party and after the night doesn't go as planned, the three of them get to into some strange situations in New York City.

The movie has been compared to "Bridesmaids" and "Sex in the City" because of its female cast and bawdy humor, but Overbey noted that woman-centric humor goes back much further than many people realize. Overbey has written several plays in the past, and she actually adapted "That's What She Said" from her play "Girl Talk," which was performed Off-Off-Broadway in 2004. Preston also directed that show and expressed interest in turning it into a movie. In the years since then, Preston and Overbey juggled other projects, but they finally made the movie together in 2010.

"It was something that I believed in and knew we could do," Preston said in a telephone interview with the Ledger &

MURRAY, Ky. - Murray High School (MHS) hosted the school division of the English-Speaking Union (ESU) National Shakespeare Competition on Feb. 17. Murray High School students competed for advancement to the state level competition at Bellarmine University on March 4.

To prepare for the competition, Adrienne Custer, English and journalism teacher at Murray High School, and Dr. Barbara Cobb, an associate professor of English at Murray State University and the associate chair and education coordinator for the Murray Shakespeare Festival, worked with other teachers at Murray High School to advise students on monologue performance, establishing character and developing memorization techniques.

McManomy case slated for review in circuit court

By TOM BERRY
Staff Writer

A hearing concerning whether or not an Indiana man charged with abusing a female Murray State University student will get a new trial or sentenced to 15 years in prison is scheduled Monday morning in Calloway Circuit Court.

Brandon McManomy, 25, who has entered an Alford plea to first-degree criminal abuse, first-degree unlawful imprisonment and violation of an out-of-state EPO/DVO in the case, has asked Circuit Judge Dennis Foust to set aside his plea agreement with Commonwealth's Attorney Mark Blankenship and schedule a trial.

During a special evidentiary hearing earlier this month,

"Yet law enforcement officials say they need more specific tools to pursue cases against those who view 'kiddie porn' in the Commonwealth."

Possession of child pornography is a Class D felony which can carry one to five years in prison. But intentionally viewing images, such as on the Internet, is not yet a crime.

Meanwhile, lawmakers have also moved to deal with cervical cancer. Kentucky ranks among 11 states, mostly in the South and Southeast, with the highest rates of cervical cancer in the nation over the past five years.

"Since cervical cancer is commonly caused by a strain of the sexually transmitted human papillomavirus (HPV), the House took action this week urging young people to be vaccinated against HPV," Henley said. "House Resolution 80, which cleared the House 87-4, will send a message from the Kentucky House to citizens throughout the state that girls age nine through 26 and boys age 11 through 26 should receive the HPV vaccine. It also would encourage Kentuckians to become more knowledgeable about the vaccine. Since HR 80 is a simple resolution, it does not carry the force of law. But it does allow House members a 'bully pulpit' to collectively draw attention to the vaccine's benefits."

MPD responds to two Friday accidents

Staff Report

The Murray Police Department responded to two separate 12th Street collisions at roughly the same time Friday morning.

According to MPD spokesman Sgt. Scott Svebakken, Officer Chris Greenfield investigated an injury accident on 12th Street in front of Cracker Barrel at approximately 7:50 a.m. Friday. Both vehicles involved were traveling south on 12th Street. A vehicle being driven by Michael Siebold, 25, of Murray, had stopped at the red light when his vehicle was struck from behind by a vehicle driven by Herbert Foster, 52, of Bowling Green. Siebold was transported to the MCCH emergency room by ambulance and was treated and released, according to MCCH spokesman Kyser Lough.

Also at about 7:50 a.m., Officer Ricky Starks investigated an injury accident at 12th and Main streets. Svebakken said Douglas Walker, 44, of Murray, was crossing 12th street on foot at the intersection while Tara Bradford, 29, of Paducah, was driving in a vehicle. Svebakken said Bradford had a green light and was making a right turn off of Main Street to go north on 12th street.

Bradford did not see Walker as he crossed the street, and her vehicle struck Walker, Svebakken said. Walker was transported to the hospital by ambulance and was treated and released, Lough said.

Foust said he would announce Monday whether he will lay aside the agreement or proceed with sentencing.

McManomy was initially charged with first-degree rape, first-degree sodomy, kidnapping, first-degree assault and violation of an out-of-state EPO/DVO to which he pleaded not guilty. He was charged following an alleged attack on the woman Aug. 31, 2010. He had previously pleaded not guilty of all charges.

As part of the plea agreement, McManomy was scheduled to be sentenced to 15 years. However, during court action in October, McManomy hired new counsel and petitioned the court for a trial on the charges; a move Blankenship opposes.

In an Alford plea, an individual does not admit guilt, but does acknowledge the Commonwealth has evidence that could lead to a conviction on stated charges.

Individuals facing charges are considered innocent until proven guilty.

■ Shakespeare...

From Front

Shakespeare Competition began in New York City in the 1980s and it allows high school students to showcase their knowledge and understanding of Shakespeare's language and themes.

The competition at Murray consisted of four high school students presenting a monologue of their choice from one of Shakespeare's plays and a sonnet from Shakespeare's collection. The students had to memorize and recite the selections and were judged on understanding, clarity and expression.

"I feel that the competition is very important for students because they have the opportunity to experience Shakespeare in a way that is not always possible in the classroom," said Custer.

"Interpreting Shakespeare's language is not easy and doing it on a personal level provides the students with important critical thinking skills. The students' self-confidence and public speaking benefit greatly, as well."

The competition was an open event. Students performed in front of three judges - Cobb, Daryl Phillipy, assistant professor of theatre and member of Murray Shakespeare Festival Committee, and Dr. Ted Brown, dean of humanities and fine arts at MSU.

Kayla Little, Murray High School freshman, won the division and will compete at the Kentucky Branch state competition. The Branch winner will advance to the national competition in New York City in hopes of winning an all-expenses-paid trip to study for two weeks at the University of Oxford in England.

Times. "I have a production company, and we had already done two feature films and a short, so it was a territory that I was familiar with, and it was just a matter of figuring out the logistics."

For anyone who has made or starred in an independent film, getting into Sundance - the Park City, Utah, festival popularized by Robert Redford - is a huge deal and can serve as a launching pad for bringing the movie to a national audience. Overbey said the movie had gotten a great response from the audiences who saw it at the festival.

"I've always thought and seen that this movie plays really well with a lot of different audiences, but I saw three different screenings with 250 to 500 people, and they all were great," Overbey said. "Just being in a house that big and having all those people laughing and enjoying the film was just so thrilling and satisfying."

Preston agreed.

"The audience loved it," she said. "We had full houses every time it played. The Q & A's afterward were always really lively and everybody was engaged and wanted to hear from us, and that's always a really good sign when people want to stick around and meet the filmmakers and talk to us."

Preston said the film had received several offers for distribution and that she was weighing them carefully before making a decision. Whether most audiences will see it in a theater or on an Internet streaming service remains to be seen.

"When the audience hears about a film, they want to see it, so you want to figure out what the most efficient way is to get them to see it," she said.

Although Murray residents might not get to see the film for a while, their first chance will be to drive to Nashville, Tenn. in late April. Overbey said the movie will play at the Nashville Film Festival on April 21.

Pansy Rebecca Ford

Pansy Rebecca Ford, 79, of Murray, Ky., died Wednesday, Feb. 22, 2012, at Western Baptist Hospital in Paducah. By her side was her beloved husband of 49 years, Jimmy Harris Ford.

Born on May 12, 1932, she was the daughter of the late Sallie Elizabeth and Lubie Dick of Mayfield. As a young girl, she grew up in Lynnville and attended Sedalia High School. She then moved to Mayfield where she worked at Merit Clothing Company.

She and Jimmy were married in 1963 and lived in Murray, where they raised their two daughters. The dynamic duo worked tirelessly side-by-side for 29 years servicing the community as owners of Wallis Drug Store, providing medications, advice and support for their patrons, who they also considered good friends. On any given day, one could find her behind the cosmetic case, dispensing prescriptions and serving orange-aids from their soda fountain, which was known throughout Western Kentucky. They loved being an active part of the business community on the court square of Murray. She also loved serving alongside friends at the Murray Woman's Club and was a devoted member of the University Church of Christ and Glendale Road Church of Christ.

She was a devoted mother to Teresa Ford Chope and husband, Douglas, of Brookline, Mass., and Marla Ford Morosak and husband, Richard, of Bethesda, Md.; and adoring grandmother to four grandchildren, Katherine Clasy Chope, Douglas Ford Chope, Sallie Lawrence Chope and Evelyn Ford Morosak.

Funeral services will be held Sunday, Feb. 26, 2012, at 1 p.m. at the J.H. Churchill Funeral Home where John Dale and William Looney will officiate. Burial will follow at Murray Memorial Gardens. Visitation will be held Saturday, Feb. 25, 2012, from 5-7 p.m. at the funeral home.

Expressions of sympathy may be made to the Glendale Church of Christ, Youth Building Fund, 1101 Glendale Road, Murray, KY 42071. Online condolences may be made at www.thejhchurchillfuneralhome.com. Arrangements are being handled by J.H. Churchill Funeral Home.

would have to do with the unforeseen costs of dealing with this emergency down there, whether that is the temporary repair of the old bridge, or the cost of a ferry service or the cost of debris removal from the lake," said Wolfe.

Wolfe said any emergency funding would not affect the construction funding to replace the 80-year-old bridge. The governor's highway plan before the General Assembly has recommended $330 million construction funding for that project. Substantial preconstruction work has been carried out for two new bridges that will replace the Eggners Ferry Bridge and a similarly aged and obsolete bridge over Lake Barkley, Wolfe said.

KYTC crews continue to conduct safety monitoring of the Eggners Ferry Bridge. A timeline for a potential replacement span and a ferry service across Kentucky Lake has not been set.

Days Inn changes to America's Best Value Inn

Special to the Ledger

On Jan. 1, 2012, Days Inn, located at 517 S. 12th St., rebranded to America's Best Value Inn.

Despite the name change, ownership remained the same. Priyesh Nathu, owner of the motel, believes the change will have a positive impact on the motel's future.

"With Days Inn we were limited as to what improvements could be made. The America's Best Value Inn franchise gives me, as an owner, more flexibility to make needed improvements and create a nice atmosphere in the rooms," he said.

In 2011, the lobby and rooms of the facility were renovated and upgraded. These upgrades included new: carpet, lighting, artwork, bedding package and 42 inch flat panel televisions. The renovations are an addition to the already existing amenities, which include: free high-speed Internet, continental breakfast, access to off-site fitness center, outdoor pool and a refrigerator, microwave, iron, ironing board and coffee maker in each room.

According to its website, America's Best Value Inn is the fastest-growing hotel chain in the country, increasing from two properties to 1,000 locations and 50,000 guestrooms throughout North America in just 12 years.

Schools, MSU to have MUVs on call

By ANGIE HATTON
Staff Writer

Local school districts and Murray State University are better prepared for game injuries as outdoor sports season begins with the addition of Medical Utility Vehicles (MUV).

The Murray-Calloway County Endowment for Healthcare recently donated an MUV to each of the athletic programs at Murray Independent School District, Calloway County School District and Murray State University.

The MUVs may be used to transport an injured player from the field during a game, or for medical transport during other emergency scenarios. The vehicles are similar to a kind used in the military to transport wounded soldiers, said Keith Travis, Murray-Calloway County Hospital vice president for institutional advancement.

The MUVs come equipped with a "MedBed" that is designed to reduce jostling and movement that could cause further injury.

"It's a platform that fits in the bed of the vehicle and is securely anchored. Then there is a stretcher attached to that platform that is easily detached ... so that the injured player can be moved onto the stretcher on the ground," said Travis.

Each vehicle is also equipped with an attendant's seat next to the MedBed, and a first aid kit under the seat, which allows an athletic trainer to take care of the injured player during transport, noted Travis.

Calloway County High School Athletic Director Josh McKeel said the donation of the MUV is the latest in a series of benefits Murray-Calloway County Hospital has provided to the local school districts.

"Calloway County Athletics is so fortunate to have a relationship with the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. Their support and services for our student-athletes is unprecedented with the free sport physicals and membership to the (Center for Health and Wellness). When you add the fact that they provide a full-time athletic trainer, the contributions made by the MCC Hospital are unmatched," said McKeel. "The most recent donation of the Medical Utility Vehicle is another example of their incredible commitment to our school. This vehicle will allow our trainer to provide even better care for our athletes."

Murray High School's athletic trainer, Lance Harper, said the MUV will make his job more efficient.

"I would like to thank the endowment fund for providing us the vehicle for the students' needs. As a result, we will be able to provide athletic training services more efficiently. We are very grateful for their contribution," Harper remarked.

MHS Athletic Director David Fields said the MUV will be useful across all sports not only for injury, but also for transporting water and other supplies during practices.

"The trainers are responsible for hydration, and you can imagine with 60 football players it takes more than just one cooler sitting out there on the side. ... Just for transport, he used to use his own vehicle, but with this (MUV) he can get into a lot tighter spaces," said Fields. "And whereas it might have taken him four or five minutes to go to an injury from one field to another, now he can be there in 30 seconds."

Allen Ward, MSU athletic director, said he is thankful for the additional tool the endowment has given the university sports programs.

"(It will help) to make sure that we're taking care of our student athletes in the best possible way that we can. To have a vehicle like this where we can transport athletes that might be injured ... it's a great resource to have," said Ward.

Trainers are getting used to the vehicles now, Ward said, and the MUV might get its first use as early as this spring as baseball and softball season kicks off.

New fish attractors

We are so glad to have the warm weather and beautiful skies to perk us up. Sometimes we even come up with new ideas as to where we could build and sink some new fish attractors. Everyone who fishes knows where tons of fallen trees and brush are still waiting for anglers to come and cut them into smaller sections in order to become fish attractors. These attractors can be any size you want if you place them properly so they will not be a hazard to boating traffic anywhere.

The water elevation is still winter pool stage and will probably remain there for weeks to come. So, when choosing an area to sink your attractors sink the deep ones now and then sink all others as the springtime rains come. You will be prepared for depth and the shallow areas where most fish choose to spawn.

Egg laying isn't easy just anywhere, there must be some cover to protect the eggs even after they hatch. We found out over the years that there are many sections of land which have the perfect species of weeds and you can really clean up on the crappie, bass, bluegill and even catfish providing you enter these areas much quieter and don't disturb the nesting species.

Our lakes will never be the way they were years ago unless we start repairing some of the damage that happened years ago. The gravel banks, many of which fell twenty-three feet, will not provide much cover very quickly. I suggest that each of you anglers build attractors and sink them deep enough to be out of sight when the lake returns to its normal spring stage.

I looked at these torn banks real good last fall and decided they needed to be repaired. I am going to do my part so how about the rest of you anglers joining together on the same idea and fix-up some really worthy sections of creek beds, stump beds, you get the idea. This is your lake isn't it?

Don't wait too long to get started. There are hundreds of coves, bays, ledges, creeks and stump beds which need these repairs before the lake elevation begins its spring rise. Thanks to all of you anglers who love the area and enjoy fishing as much as we do. It is a challenge for every local angler to consider, then make up your mind and get busy with your plans to rebuild as much of Kentucky as possible.

Sure it will be hard work at times but the rewards will put a smile on your face that you can be proud of. We haven't even approached the idea with this attitude before but I believe that you good Calloway County anglers can make a huge difference this year.

If you need help on something give us a call. Happy Fishing!

BOYS' FOURTH DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

MARSHALL COUNTY 57, CALLOWAY COUNTY 52

Fighting on

LAKERS PUT UP GUTSY PERFORMANCE BUT FALL TO MARSHALS

By GREG WADDELL
Assistant Sports Editor

The Calloway County Lakers have come a long way since January 13. Taking the floor last night against Marshall County in the final of the Fourth District tournament, that much was obvious. That said, though their upset bid fell just short with a 57-52 loss, the Lakers showed they're here to stay. The Marshals can testify to that.

Widely regarded as one of, if not, the best teams in the First Region, Marshall County got all it could handle at Tiger Gym Friday, as Calloway just refused to go away, mounting an impressive 7-0 surge out of the gates to steal momentum early.

Still, though the Marshals would eventually recover and pull ahead by a pair heading into the first break, Calloway head coach Bruce Lane noted that his team was exactly where it wanted to be.

"They're a fast starting team and got off to a slow start (last night)," Lane said. "That was good for us because it kind of got us settled. We made two or three shots and they missed three or four or five in a row which was a good set up for us for the first quarter. That's key against them to get off to a good start because they'll knock you out (early). They've done that to us the last two or three years a couple of times so I'm really proud of the guys and their effort."

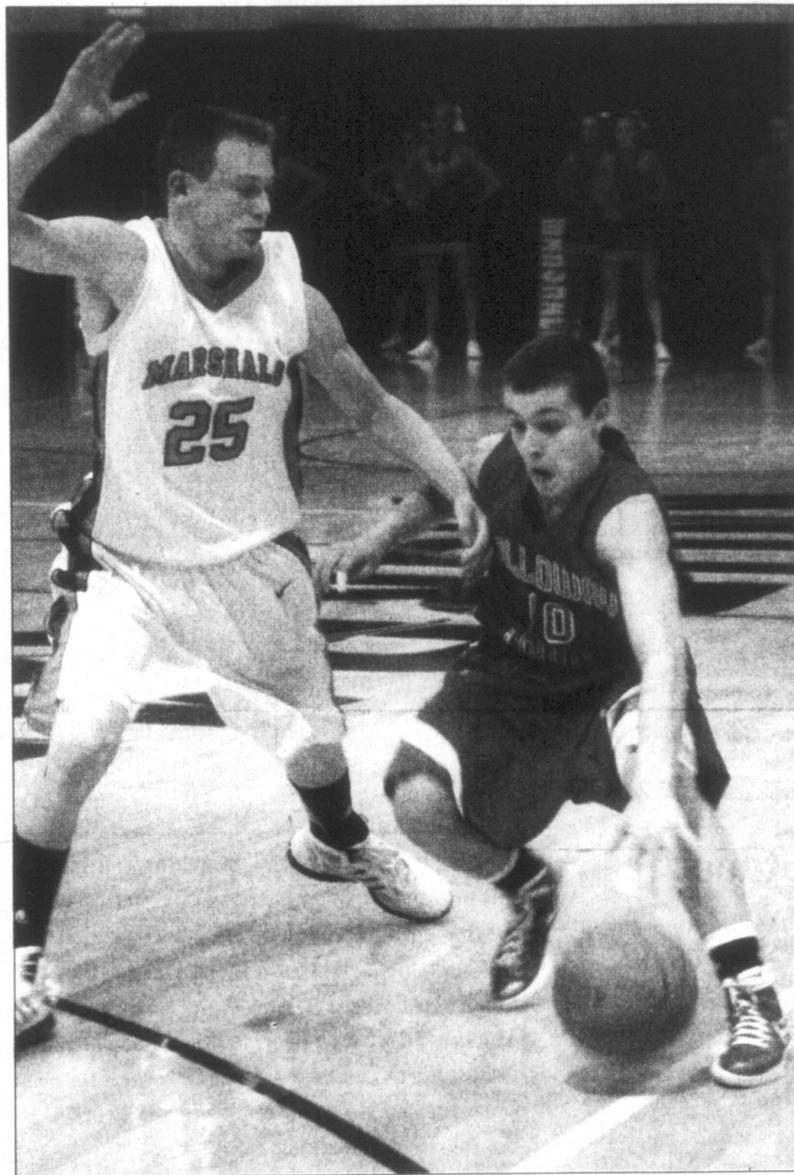

That said, Calloway would make some moves of their own in the second, cashing in three triples and withstanding a late Marshall run to pull even at 24 heading into the intermission. Still, the most telling stat would come on the defensive end as the Lakers would utilize stifling pressure in the first half to hold the Marshals to an ice cold 35 percent from the field.

After the break though, the Lakers would regress slightly, allowing Marshall County plenty of chances to drive the lane and draw contact in the third. That would prove to be key as the Marshals would go up four heading into the final frame.

"Our guys did a good job of getting in front of them sometimes but they kind of overpowered us," Lane said. "I think that was their plan in the third quarter to get to the basket (because) Chase Clark did several times, Nelson did some and their kids are strong, probably the strongest kids in the region. If they get in that lane, it's usually a bucket or a foul."

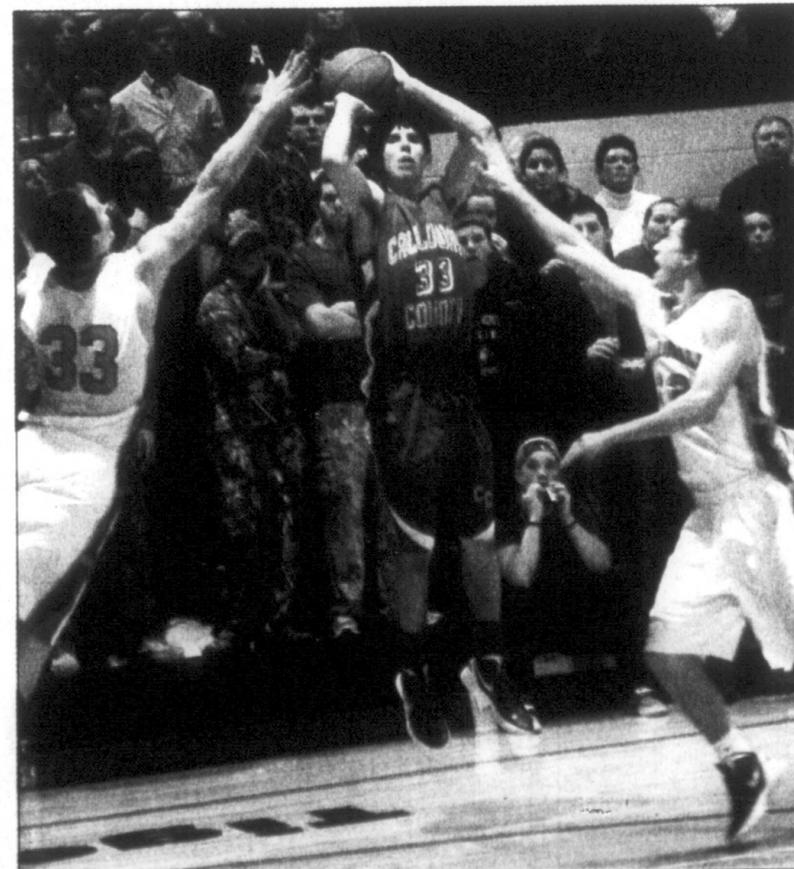

The fourth quarter wouldn't get much better for Calloway, as the Lakers just couldn't find an answer for the Marshall threat, watching every run get snuffed out, as they fell 57-52. Still, though the loss stings, Lane said that overall his team played very well as the most important thing for them to do was compete the entire game.

"Our first key to the game

Wade Carter would provide a huge boost to Calloway County off the bench, chipping in 13 points in a nearly flawless performance from the field. Carter would only miss one shot on the night, but the Lakers would narrowly fall to Marshall County.

Racers ready for what Tech has to offer

WILL LOOK TO CLOSE REGULAR SEASON WITH A VICTORY

By RICKY MARTIN
Sports Editor

The hype surrounding Murray State's season finale against Tennessee Tech slowed a bit after the Racers suffered their first loss on Feb. 9.

That doesn't mean tonight's tilt between the Racers and the Golden Eagles isn't as big as any Murray State has been in this season.

With an opportunity to clinch the first undefeated road record in school history tonight, first-year head coach Steve Prohm and his Murray State squad are as focused for Tennessee Tech as they have been for any of their opponents.

"We are looking to add another level to our wall," Prohm said. "We want to finish out the road portion of our schedule undefeated, and we have the opportunity to do that against them."

Prohm knows it's only an opportunity, however, and that defeating Tennessee Tech on its home floor is a tall task, even for his No. 12 ranked Racers.

The Golden Eagles are led by senior Kevin Murphy, who will play his final game inside the Eblen Center tonight.

Murphy leads the Ohio Valley Conference in scoring, averaging 20.4 points per game, and is No. 13 in the nation in that category.

His point guard, fellow senior Zac Swansley, leads the OVC in assists and steals, and his front-court mate Jud Dillard leads the league in rebounds per game. Overall, the Golden Eagles are as talented as any team the Racers have played inside the conference, and tonight, Prohm said his team has to be locked in defensively.

"That's where it all starts for us," Prohm said. "We have to be ready defensively to stop Murphy and Dillard and Swansley and all of their talented players. They have a very good basketball team, I have a lot of respect for coach (Steve) Payne, and we have to be ready."

The Racers defeated the Golden Eagles 82-74 on Jan. 14, but watched a 15-point lead evaporate down the stretch to hold on for the victory. The game was tied at 58-58 as late as the 9:34 mark of the second half, but a big Murray State run recaptured the lead and eventually the win.

Senior guard Donte Poole had a career-high 28 points the last time the Racers and Golden Eagles hooked up, and junior guard Isaiah Canaan had 24 in the win.

Poole has been on fire in his last three games, while Canaan has also finished above his average in Murray State previous two contests.

Murphy and Dillard each scored 19 in the two team's last meeting, but neither were extremely efficient offensively.

Murphy finished the night 7-for-20 from the field, while Dillard was a little better and added 12 rebounds.

If the Racers can limit the Golden Eagles' opportunities again tonight, Prohm said he feels confident his Murray State club can finish the season on a high note.

"We have to make sure they was to compete for 32 minutes," he said, "(and) I thought the first time that we played them in the first of January that we didn't do that. The second time I thought we did for 23 or 24 minutes; about three quarters of the game we competed but (last night) I thought we competed for 32 minutes. We had a lull or two where we didn't get much going offensively but they did a great job defensively with their third quarter defense. It was like it usually is in the first quarter - really, really good. It kind of took us out of some things (but) I was proud of our competitiveness for 32 minutes (last night)."

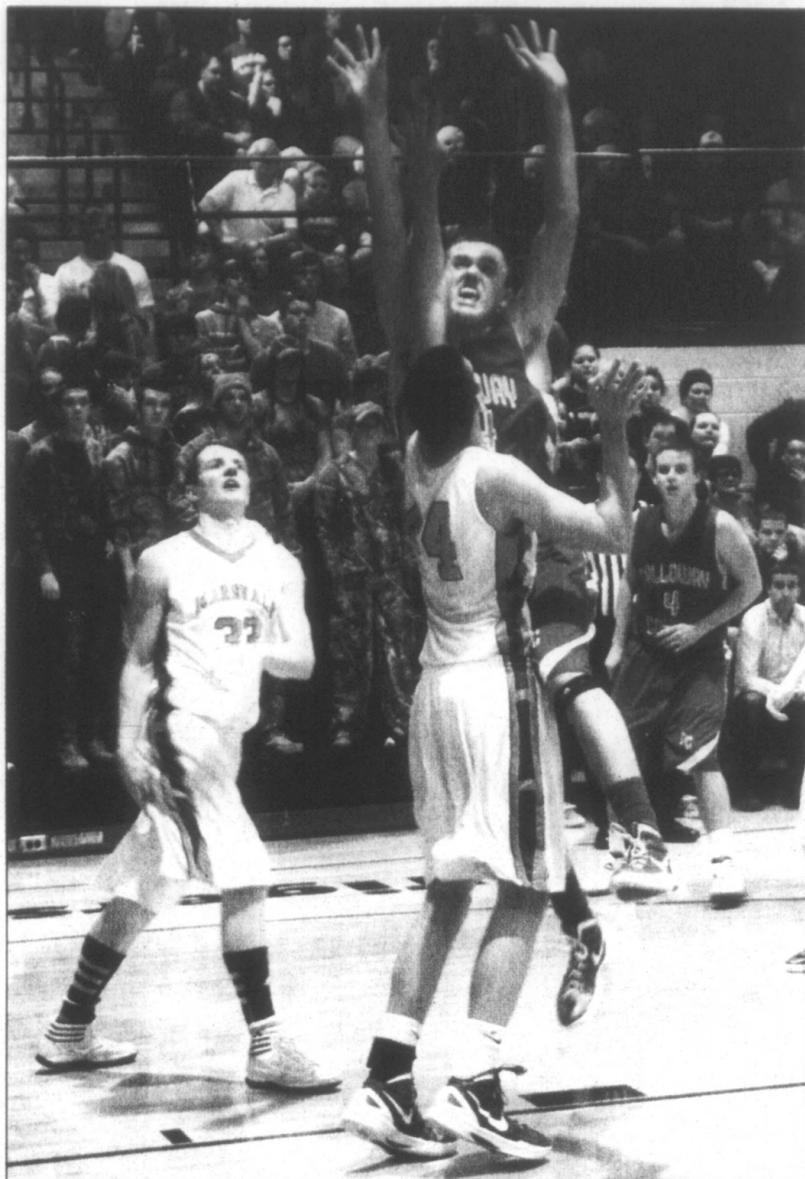

One player in particular had a night to remember as Wade Carter played big in relief of Jay Green, chipping in 13 points on 4 of 5 shooting off the bench. That, in addition to Parker Adams' 17 points, would pace the Lakers.

"(Wade) was really big," Lane said. "He came in for Jay and has been good against them a few times because of the pressure they put on him. We just tell him to try and drive by them and set people up and if not he's got a little floater he can shoot. He (also) shot the ball really well from the 3 point line; they were leaving him some to deal with other people and I thought that knocking down those threes was very big."

don't get any easy looks," he said. "Murphy is good enough that we can't give him open looks."

Senior guard Jewuan Long will get the tall task of holding Murphy at bay, making it the third-straight game that Long has had the honor of covering an all-league caliber players.

Long was pressed with guarding St. Mary's point guard and Bob Cousy Award finalist Matthew Dellavedova a week ago, and was on Tennessee State's Robert Covington for most of the night on Thursday.

After wrapping up the regular season tonight, Prohm and the Racers will get a few days off before heading back to Tennessee for the Ohio Valley Conference Tournament, which is slated to begin on Wednesday night in Nashville.

The Racers won't play until Friday night's semifinals, where they will meet the lowest seeded team to advance from the quarterfinal round.

News and notes from the outdoor front

In The Field
By Kenny Darnell
Outdoors Columnist

Anyone who plans to hunt or fish in the Commonwealth of Kentucky should be aware that all hunting licenses expire on the last day of February. While hunting opportunities may not be around right now, many outdoorsmen have taken to fishing in the unseasonably warm weather. Be sure that your license is current as of March 1.

Speaking of fishing, Dr. Young and I traileered the duck boat to the lake last weekend for a little early fishing. We pounded a shoreline with a steep drop where I had always found crappie before. But that was a long time ago and the brushpiles and treetops along the shoreline were long gone. Although we found no crappie, we did have fun with the chain pickerel that feed near the shore this time of year.

We are still holding out for a trip to Arkansas to chase the vast flocks of snow geese that begin their journey back to the tundra this time of year. We would have been down there already if not for the need to follow the Racers here at home. Since the special season for snow geese runs through March, we are hopeful for an Arkansas adventure sometime in the next two or three weeks.

A moratorium on feeding wildlife goes into effect March 1. This is to prevent the use of deer feeders to attract and hold wild turkeys for the upcoming turkey season. It is still legal to feed song birds and wildlife in the area immediately surrounding your home, but your deer feeders must be empty on March 1.

The spring turkey season opens on April 14 this year with the youth season on April 7 - 8. The season will run through May 6. As in previous years, hunters are allowed two birds during the season but only one bird may be taken per day. Any turkey with a visible beard is legal game. Turkeys taken during the youth season will count against the statewide limit.

For early-bird hunters, season opens in Alabama on March 15th. That is an awfully early opening date and I have hunted the big birds down there during a March snowstorm. The early opener gives hunters a chance to stalk the big birds during the initial phase of the breeding season - something that is not possible with Kentucky's season.

Reports are that turkeys are already beginning to gobble in these parts. There should be plenty of birds around as the mild winter has not taken much of a toll on them. If you live near a wooded area, stand outside just after daylight some morning and listen for the big tom's booming gobble from the treetops.

The National Farm Machinery Show was awesome. Farming sure has changed since I turned dirt in the 70s and 80s. Nowadays the size of the machinery is mindboggling. I saw implements at the show that were wider than some of the fields I used to plant. It took about six hours of walking but Dr. Young and I covered the entire show and picked up a few tidbits of information along the way that will be useful when we plant food plots.

The Murray State Collegiate Chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold their annual fundraising dinner tonight beginning at 6:00 PM. They will have a fish fry followed by a live auction of 75th Anniversary Ducks Unlimited collectables. Tickets will be available at the door. The event will be held at the Murray/Calloway County Fairgrounds. The goal of this year's banquet is to beat the Western Kentucky University chapter that has held the top spot among collegiate chapters in the State for way too many years. Come out and help us in this endeavor.

This is a petition for a straight wet/dry vote (an expansion of alcohol sales) and if it were to not pass, would not affect our current "moist" status. A "Dry" group is circulating a counter petition to repeal our Limited Restaurant or "Moist" status. By doing so they are willing to risk the jobs of hundreds of Murray residents and take away needed revenue for the City of Murray. Theirs is an effort to keep Murray from progress, by trying to move us backwards and by not giving the people the chance to decide for themselves. We are asking for a chance for Murray to decide the issue with a vote and for the vote we must petition.

PETITION FOR LOCAL OPTION ELECTION FOR THE CITY OF MURRAY

This Petition for Local Option Election, or Wet/Dry vote, is made in order to demand that an election be held to determine whether alcoholic beverages may be sold in the City of Murray. Only those individuals registered to vote in the City of Murray may sign this petition. By signing and filling out this petition you are acknowledging your desire that a local option election, or wet/dry vote, should be held to determine if alcoholic beverages may be sold in the City of Murray.

Take simple steps to avoid delays at doctor's office

DEAR ABBY: I have worked in a medical clinic for 35 years and hear a lot of complaints about the wait for doctor appointments. May I explain some of the reasons for it? Sometimes the doctor arrives late, but other factors can cause delays:

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

1. If you need to be seen, call first to get an appointment time. Most offices leave open spots to accommodate urgent-care matters. If you just walk in, we must work you in with patients who already have appointments, which pushes the doctor behind.

2. Do NOT come an hour early and announce in front of the entire waiting room that you must be somewhere and expect to get worked in before your scheduled time. Reschedule instead.

3. Always bring your insurance cards with you. Do not tell us to call another doctor's office to get the information.

4. Don't walk in with forms you need filled out and signed by the doctor and expect someone to take care of it immediately. It requires your chart to be pulled, a nurse to fill out the information and the doctor to look over the form and sign. Instead, leave the form. We'll mail it or call you to pick it up.

5. Don't expect to call the office and speak with the doctor in the middle of a clinic day. A nurse can usually handle the question. If not, she'll have the doctor call you back after seeing the scheduled patients. -- GENTLE REMINDER

DEAR GENTLE: Thank you for the reminders, which may help readers avoid some of the frustrations they encounter when going for a medical appointment. They are well worth the space in my column.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have become fond of a delightful elderly couple, "Frank" and "Annie." We bought the home across the street from them 10 years ago. They have four children, two of whom live nearby.

Two years ago, Frank was diagnosed with dementia. They are adamant about staying in the house they've owned since they were newlyweds. This means more of the burden of caring for the house and finances now falls to Annie, who has health problems of her own.

We help out whenever we can, because I know money is tight for them. When their lawnmower broke, we bought them a new one, and with the help of another neighbor, we take care of general yardwork and house issues.

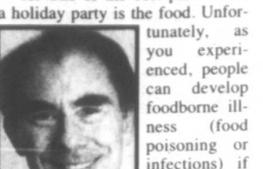

I am growing increasingly concerned about the state of their finances, and bewildered that their children never seem to help. They interact with their parents at birthdays and on holidays. I don't know the children well, but is there a way to help them understand that their parents may not be volunteering all their troubles?

Frank and Annie are proud of what they've accomplished, but now they need a little extra support. They never ask for help. Would I be out of line to communicate with our neighbors' family? -- LOVE THY NEIGHBOR

DEAR LOVE THY NEIGHBOR: Out of line? Not at all. The "children" should be told about your concerns, and also the various things you and the other neighbors have been doing to help their parents. Sometimes the children of aging parents don't recognize the subtle changes that take place when a loved one has dementia. Bring it out in the open.

Simple precautions prevent food poisoning

Q: I attended a holiday dinner party at Christmas and ended up with food poisoning. It was very unpleasant and, although I'd hoped to host next year myself, I don't want to make anyone sick. How can I prepare a good meal that is also safe for my guests?

Dr. Komaroff

By Dr. Anthony Komaroff

A: One of the best parts about a holiday party is the food. Unfortunately, as you experienced, people can develop foodborne illness (food poisoning or infections) if the food is not prepared carefully. The good news is you can greatly reduce the chance that your guests will become ill by taking a few precautions.

There are three basic rules you can follow to ensure your food is safe to eat:

-- First, avoid cross-contamination, which is the transfer of bacteria from one food item to another. All fresh food contains some bacteria. Most of the bacteria on fruit and vegetables can be washed off, but you can destroy the bacteria on meat, fish and poultry only by cooking it.

To avoid cross-contamination, keep meat, fish and poultry apart from salad greens, fruits and other foods that you plan to eat raw. Fully separate them from each other in the grocery cart and in the refrigerator. Wash your hands, utensils and cutting surfaces whenever you switch from working with uncooked meat, fish or poultry to anything that will be eaten raw.

-- Second, check the temperature of the foods you store and cook. Bacteria grow fast at temperatures between 40 degrees F and 140 degrees F. Use a food thermometer to make sure you're keeping your raw dishes cold enough and that hot dishes have been cooked enough.

-- Third, make sure you follow the two-hour rule. That is, do not leave raw meat or poultry in the temperature danger zone for more than two hours. If you do, they may produce illness-causing toxins that can't be destroyed by cooking.

You should also be aware that some traditional holiday dishes and drinks provide perfect opportunities for bacterial contamination and growth.

If you plan to serve a turkey, use special care. Raw poultry is one of the most common causes of bacterial diarrhea, so proper cooking and storage are critical. A frozen turkey should be thawed in the refrigerator to prevent the surface from reaching temperatures above 40 degrees F. For a faster thawing time, the turkey can be submerged in cold water, as long as you change the water every 30 minutes.

A fresh turkey must reach your refrigerator within two hours of leaving the merchant's cooler. Cook it until the temperature is 165 degrees F in the innermost breast, thighs and wings, and serve it within two hours. For storage, all the meat should be removed from the bone, divided into smaller pieces, placed in shallow containers and refrigerated or frozen. Leftover meat should be reheated to 165 degrees F before serving.

The way you prepare stuffing is also important. Stuffing the turkey before you roast it raises the risk of contamination. The stuffing can absorb bacteria from internal drippings as the bird cooks, and the stuffing may not get hot enough to eliminate the bacteria before the turkey is done. The best thing to do is to cook the stuffing separately and refrigerate leftover stuffing in a separate container.

Today In History

By the Associated Press
Today is Saturday, Feb. 25, the 56th day of 2012. There are 310 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:
On Feb. 25, 1862, Nashville, Tennessee was occupied by federal forces during the Civil War; it was the first Confederate capital to fall to the Union.

On this date:
In 1836, inventor Samuel Colt patented his revolver.

In 1901, United States Steel Corp. was incorporated by J.P. Morgan.

In 1913, the 16th Amendment to the Constitution, giving Congress the power to levy and collect income taxes, was declared in effect by Secretary of State Philander Chase Knox.

In 1919, Oregon became the first state to tax gasoline, at one cent per gallon.

In 1922, French serial killer Henri Landru, convicted of murdering 10 women and the son of one of them, was executed in Versailles (vehr-SY').

In 1964, Cassius Clay (later Muhammad Ali) became world heavyweight boxing champion by defeating Sonny Liston in Miami Beach.

In 1986, President Ferdinand Marcos fled the Philippines after 20 years of rule in the wake of a tainted election. Corazon Aquino assumed the presidency.

Five years ago: A female suicide bomber triggered a ball bearing-packed charge, killing at least 41 people at a mostly Shiite college in Baghdad. In Detroit, Nation of Islam leader Louis Farrakhan stressed religious unity during his final major speech.

SOUP UP YOUR CANNED SOUP!

Dear Readers: It's winter, and what better way to warm up on a cold day than to have a HOT BOWL OF SOUP? If you're too busy to make a big pot of homemade soup, I have a few hints for making canned soup more appetizing. Try these:

* Try adding grated cheese, chopped hard-boiled eggs or a few croutons to thick soups for extra flavor.

* To jazz up cream soups, add a dollop of sour cream, yogurt or chopped herbs.

* For clear soups, add dumplings, won tons, rice or noodles to give the soup a little more substance.

* For chili or bean soups, add slices of avocado or some grated cheese, and top with a little sour cream. If you'd like to try new soup recipes, I have several in my Heloise's Spectacular Soups pamphlet. To receive one, send $5 and a long, self-addressed, stamped (65 cents) envelope to: Heloise/Soup, P.O. Box 795001, San Antonio, TX 78279-5001. FYI: If your soup is too hot, toss in an ice cube, or better yet, some frozen veggies!

— Heloise

PILLOW HELPER

Dear Heloise: I look forward to reading your column each morning in the San Angelo Standard-Times here in the great state of Texas.

Clean used pillows, towels and blankets are welcomed at your local animal shelter. There are so many animals that would welcome a soft pillow to rest on. This is a great way to help an animal and recycle at the same time. Check with your local shelters to find out if they would like your used pillows, etc. — Nancy in San Angelo, Texas

PET PAL

Dear Readers: Bill Steele of Manchester, N.H., sent a picture of his long-haired, tricolored cat, Muffy, sitting on a couch specially made for her by Bill's son. Bill says Muffy is his best friend! To see Muffy and our other Pet Pals, visit www.Heloise.com and click on "Pets." — Heloise

A WORN-OUT KEY

Dear Heloise: My car ignition seemed to be "jammed" and unable to be turned on. A neighbor suggested that it might be due to the ignition, and it would cost several hundred dollars to have it replaced.

Fortunately, my honest mechanic suggested that it might simply be because my key was worn out. Sure enough! When I tried the second key (that came with the car), it worked perfectly. It had never dawned on me that car keys could wear out! Stupid me! — Elaine W., via email

GROCERY GAL

Dear Heloise: My hint is for grocery shoppers. I use an old shower-curtain ring and hook it on the side of the grocery cart. I hang my handbag on it. No more squished bread, crushed chips or bruised fruit, and no broken eggs!

Also, I used to be called the bag lady before they sold those fancy recycled or reusable bags. I had about 15 canvas bags that I made myself! — Marie from Harrisburg, Pa.

Nonprofit expert to speak at Philanthropy 360o

Special to the Ledger
PADUCAH, Ky. — The Community Foundation of West Kentucky is hosting a nonprofit educational event called Philanthropy 360o at Market House Theatre at 5 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 28. The featured speaker will be Dr. Robert F. Long, visiting distinguished professor of nonprofit leadership at Murray State University, who will discuss the latest trends in philanthropy and provide ideas for how to enhance non-profit giving programs.
Long has experience in philanthropy, nonprofit leadership and civic engagement. Before coming to MSU, he retired as vice president for programs from the W.K. Kellogg Foundation after a 16-year career with the organization. Long holds academic appointments with the Johnson Center for Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership at Grand Valley State University, the Lodestar Center for Philanthropy and Nonprofit Innovation at Arizona State University and the Center on Philanthropy at Indiana University. Most recently, Long has accepted a position on the board of directors of the Foundation for a Healthy Kentucky as a representative of West Kentucky.

Tony Watkins, executive director of the Community Foundation of West Kentucky and a commissioner on the Endow Kentucky Commission, will explain the Endow Kentucky Tax Credit and how nonprofits can benefit from it.
During the event, the Community Foundation of West Kentucky will award its first annual Community Fund grant to a local nonprofit.

The mission of the Community Foundation of West Kentucky is to enrich the quality of life for all citizens in the West Kentucky region by being a leader in attracting, mobilizing and focusing philanthropy resources to meet the area's needs for generations to come. To further this mission, the Community Foundation will continue to offer educational events for nonprofits and the community.

Horoscope

by Jacqueline Bigar

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Monday, Feb. 27, 2012:
Energy combines with drive this year. You will be close to unstoppable when you are focused. You also will express yourself with precision in building more support for projects, your lifestyle and anything else of importance. If you are single, your strength and awareness make you desirable on yet another level, causing others to feel intimidated. The person you hook up with this year might not be right for your life. You will enjoy the bond nevertheless. If you are attached, include your significant other more often in your plans. You do not want him or her to feel isolated. You could work together to make a goal a reality. TAURUS understands you.

too much money leave your checking account. Tonight: Working late.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
★★★★ Clearly you can be feisty. See what is happening behind the scenes to gain understanding. Detach and look at the big picture rather than react. Be more sensitive to an in-law or someone at a distance. Tonight: Brainstorm with a buddy. Note the self-imposed restrictions on your thinking.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
★★★★ Resist having an immediate, knee-jerk reaction. A close partner makes demands, and you respond. Discussions put the two of you on different footing. Look within to see where all the frustration and anger is coming from. Tonight: Chat over dinner.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)
★★★★ You might want to see someone take more responsibility. Whenever he or she decides to be more dominant, even if the timing is not suitable for you, let it happen. In a meeting, someone expresses his or her anger or frustration. Help this person work through it. Tonight: Say "yes" to an invitation.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)
★★★★ Pace yourself, and know when to stop. You act like your own drill master. You have reasons for this, but at the same time, allow your humanness to come out. You can and will accomplish a lot. Worry less and act more. Tonight: Easy works.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
★★★★ Your creativity flows, which allows a more fun exchange to take place in conversations. You discover how much your attitude can impact others. Be assertive when seeking new information, and you will discover another perspective. Tonight: So what if it is Monday?
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)
★★★ Fundamental issues become very important matters. Though work might be important, basic issues in your home and personal life need to become a high priority. Why do you work? Probably to support your personal lifestyle. Work on balancing all elements of your life. Tonight: Happy at home.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)
★★★★ Recognize what is doable, then proceed. Trying to catch the pot of gold at the end of a rainbow is a lovely thought, but it will not happen. You will be happier if you stay realistic in your emotional demands. A partner or friend helps you remove your rose-colored shades. Tonight: Hang out with a trusted friend.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
★★★★ You have the right words to convince another person of how skilled you are. You could be uncomfortable with a boss, no matter how nice he or she is. Stay on top of your work and accept the situation. Tonight: Pick up several items you need.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
★★★★ You are all smiles, as others let you know that they are there for you. You gain insight as you connect with them. A new interest, be it a person or hobby, seizes your time and attention. There is little you can do but explore and learn more. Tonight: Whatever makes you smile.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
★★★★ Listen with a touch of cynicism to news that comes forward. You could be surprised by what is happening. Use a free moment to catch up on another's news. You might like what you hear. Tonight: Know what you want.
CANCER (June 21-July 22)
★★★★ Keep the grand plan in your mind's eye. You could be overwhelmed by everything that is happening, but if you make your goal a high priority, you will be on cruise control. Listen and share more with an instrumental friend. Tonight: Confirm where you are meeting.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
★★★ You are running the show, whether you like it or not. An associate proves to be unusually responsive. You like what you hear. Use caution with your finances. You easily could see

The Deep Freeze

Tulip Talk
Martha Finney Andrus, Guest Writer

Most of Europe has been consumed by freezing temperatures that have lasted for several weeks. For some, this is not a desirable climate but for the Dutch, they are ecstatic with these frigid temperatures. They are hoping to have the first "Eleven Cities" speed skating race in 15 years. In The Netherlands, this event is known as the "Elfstedentocht".
This race is held along a 125 mile network of canals connecting 11 cities in the northern part of Holland. There are thousands of participants and more than a million spectators will turn out for this exciting event. The Dutch government has said they would close all government offices and will encourage employers to give everyone a day off from work and also encourage schools to close.
This is how cherished an event it is to the Dutch. They have been testing the skating route but as of now, there are several spots in the southern part of the route that are not ready. Therefore, they are hoping for more frigid temperatures for a few more days/nights.
But in the meantime, millions of the Dutch have taken to the canals and rivers on their skates. It has been 14 below zero or more for several weeks with small amounts of snow. As I drive along the river by our house, I can see people on the river making skating paths on the ice by pushing the snow away. All day and even into the night, skaters are on the river taking advantage of the chance to ice skate. It is definitely a Dutch passion and everyone learns how to ice skate at an early age.
Whether the "Elfstedentocht" will happen remains to be seen but in every canal and river in the Netherlands, the Dutch are taking full advantage of the chance to ice skate as can be seen in these photographs.
