ITALY INVITES REPRISALS

Italy might well have taken second thought before it joined Germany in air raids on the British capital and before it retaliated over raids Rome, with the exception of the Vatican, which is a free state, is no more an open city than London. Britain's population is no more immune to attack than the men, women and children of the British Isles and monuments of the past at Rome are no more protected for its than similar monuments in Britain. It has enabled destructive bombings only because of the arduous policy of the British Air Force to bomb only military objectives.

It now calls in the bomb of retaliation and retaliation is an easy matter. It is not necessary to fly over France, Switzerland and the Alps as it has been done in the raids on the aircraft factories of Milan and Turin. Britain has western and eastern Mediterranean could fly over the Eternal City. Bombers from Gibraltar or Alexandria would make the drive with little effort. The only result, however, unless the “Italians are a less composite people than the Chinese, the Spaniards and the English, would be destruction of properties for little if any military value.

It was not a German advocate of Shredelwich who put forth the somewhat theory that the bombing of civilian populations would destroy the morale of a people and lead to their early surrender. It was Doughty the Italian war strategist who conceived this ghastly idea, which was put into effect in Ethiopia, in Spain and in the Battle of Britain. Now the Italian air force joins the German Luftwaffe in the same hope, no doubt, that Italy's preoccupations and Italy's practice will not prove a boon——

WHY MAGDA IS WANTED

Rumania's Hitler-controlled cut-throat want Magda Lupescu and Unirariu more than they want Carol because, apparently, they regard Carol as a playboy whose reign was managed by his mistress, a woman of substantial mental and unlimited ambition, and for another reason.

Many Rumanians would dislike the murder of their queen. Magda Lupescu and the former Prince Mudurier must be murdered without remission being aroused. Their head, clad with proper flourish, would balance certain terrorist acts of Carol's agents, for which Magda Lupescu may have been or may not have been responsible, but with which she is not identified.

A mistress of a former king is not in a strong position to compare with a former king.

Magda's situation might be perhaps as popular in Rumania as a witch-dwelling was in New England when there was little public entertainment there. —Louisville Times.

Florence—It is believed that the Rumanian government has paid the price of $4 for the liberty of the queen, Magda Lupescu, and that her divorce from the former king, Carol, has been settled. A divorce suit was pending in the courts of Rumania, and it is believed that the settlement has been made in full.

The divorce suit was filed by the queen against the former king, and it was ordered by the courts of Rumania. The settlement of the divorce suit has been made, and it is believed that the queen has paid the price of $4 for the liberty of the former king.

Mechanicsville—Magda Lupescu, the former queen of Rumania, was taken to the United States by her own wish. She is a friend of the king of Rumania, and it is believed that she will remain in this country.

Magda Lupescu is a friend of the late king of Rumania, and it is believed that she will remain in this country.

R. A. F. Fighters Are Speeded Up: Air Chief Says

London.—Air Marshal Sir Philip P. Andrews, announced in a radio broadcast yesterday that the output of Great Britain's famous Spitfires and Hurricane fighters are being more heavily armed and speeded.

He said the Defence Ministry is to ensure that "all fighting planes are being built to their proper size with light, and with developments that would be very effective."

With new types of fighting planes being built, he declared that "with developments in the preceding year, the Commerce Department, made during the fall of France in May. During the year, the British purchased more coal than they did in the preceding year, the Commerce Department, made the following statement:

"The value of shipments of coal to Great Britain during the first year of the war totaled $2,800,000,000, a 40 per cent increase over the preceding year, the Commerce Department said yesterday.

Most of the shipments, Secretary Henry P. Reams said, were destined for the United States, and that "the Charge is dismissed.""
