SMITH MAKES OWN DEFENSE.

Gives Reasons Citing Law For Effecting Robertson Compromise.

To the thinking people of Calloway county:

Since the L. Robertson cases have attracted some attention, I desire to state the facts relative thereto. There were three or four cases on the docket at last term of the Calloway Circuit Court against L. Robertson on appeal from the Police Court for violating the Local Option Law, and one indictment against him for offering a witness ten dollars not to appear in the Police Court and testify against him in a whisky case. Judgment for $50 and ten days in jail was rendered against him in one of the appeal cases. Upon my motion after that conviction, the court required Robertson to execute a $1,000.00 bond not to violate the Local Option Law within the next twelve months, which he executed. Next came the indictment for tampering with a Police Court witness on trial—the name of the charge in the indictment being "Contempt of Court." After the jury had been sworn and the proof heard, counsel for Robertson convinced the court that the charge in the indictment was improperly named; the court holding that the name should be "Attempting to Obstruct Public Justice." Thereupon the indictment was dismissed, resubmitted to, and returned by the grand jury with the name changed in a few minutes. The first jury was then dismissed of course, as it had to be, and a new jury called, to try the case, and that jury returned a verdict against Robertson of $500.00 fine and 5 months jail sentence. Counsel for Robertson decided to appeal both cases and were making preparations to do so. The records of the office of the Circuit Court clerk show these facts.

Had there been no doubt about these judgments standing the test in the Court of Appeals no proposition of any kind to compromise would have been entertained by me. But there was doubt in my mind as to the small judgment and I believed the large one was void. In the small case Robertson was convicted for having whisky in his possession for sale. The whisky never was in his actual possession. He never did see it until after it was captured. But it was in the possession of his agent, Mr. Murrell. Robertson's counsel contended that Robertson could not be lawfully convicted upon proof that his agent had the whisky in possession, that he must come into personal possession of it before he could be convicted, and were going to appeal the case upon that idea. I believe that judgment good, but the question raised, at least, created some doubt as to its validity.

The large judgment faced more serious questions. There is much authority to the effect that the Police Court alone can punish for tampering with its witnesses, and if that is the law the Circuit Court had no right to try the case and the judgment was void for that reason. But I believe the Circuit Court does have the right to punish for tampering with Police Court witnesses, and upon that point I believe the judgment good. But it had another trouble. Before the first indictment was dismissed the jury was sworn and the proof heard. Then the defendant had been put in jeopardy and could never again be legally tried for that offense. PROVIDED the first indictment was a good one, and provided further that jeopardy applies at all in that character of case, I believe the first indictment was good at the time it was dismissed, and subsequent investigation of the case absolutely confirmed that belief. The Court thought it was not good and, of course, dismissed it to be resubmitted to the grand jury. Then if the indictment was good, did jeopardy attach in the case upon the swearing of the first jury?

The exact scope of jeopardy does not seem to be clearly defined in Kentucky. There is an erroneous belief that it applies to all cases, but it is sufficient here to say, after a careful examination of the question, I concluded that it applied in this case for the reason that the taking of the defendant's liberty for an unlimited length of time was involved. The first jury had the power under the law to confine the defendant in jail during his life if the case had proceeded to the end. Then if the indictment was good and jeopardy applied to the case, when the first jury was sworn, the judgment rendered by the second jury was absolutely void. After a careful examination of the authorities I was reluctantly driven to the conclusion that the large judgment, although a most just and righteous one, was void. I talked to one good lawyer who believed like I did, that the first indictment was good, and also that jeopardy applies to the case, yet he thought Robertson lost his right to plead former jeopardy upon the second trial, because he did not object to the dismissing of the first indictment and resubmitting it to the grand jury. But jeopardy is a constitutional right and he was not required to object. The case of Robertson vs. Commonwealth, 88 Ky., page 880 settles that question. The Court in that speaking of the defendant case saying: "He was merely silent. The rule should not be extended so far as to require him, for the protection of this organic right, (meaning jeopardy) to object to the action of the Court." Believing as I did, that the large judgment was void and that there might be danger as to the small one upon appeal, I decided to make the best settlement possible and out of the cases as a whole, secured for the people the following, viz:

1.—Both judgments made permanent and good by no appeals being taken.

2.—The agreement of Robertson, signed and spread upon the record, not to violate the Local Option Law any more. That does not mean for one year, but means for fifteen years—the natural life of the judgments.

3.—Judgment for $400.00 and for 5 months and 10 days in jail hanging over his head to compel him to keep his promise.

4.—Fine of $400.00 paid and soon to be paid.

5.—Bond for $1,000.00 not to violate the Local Option Law within one year.

Is this not a good deal accomplished in the way of breaking up a bootlegger?

The Commonwealth has surrendered nothing and conceded

BUFE BROWN ROBBED OF $285

Buford Brown, of the Linn Grove section of the county, was robbed Tuesday night of this week of $285 in money. Mr. Brown had just retired about 9 o'clock and was not asleep at the time of the robbery. He had undressed and placed his trousers with the money in the pockets on a chair in the room in which he was sleeping. He heard the thump in the house but supposed it to be a cat and was not aroused to the fact that he had been robbed until his trousers were let fall upon the floor and a knife in his pocket struck the floor. He jumped from the bed and gave chase. Dowdy was telephoned for and with his hounds was on the trail in about one hour and forty minutes after the crime was committed. He trailed the parties to near Jones Mill in Henry county. It is reliably stated that Mr. Brown has recovered his money and that the guilty parties also paid the cost of having the hounds to make the run. It is also stated that one of the guilty parties was formerly a neighbor of Brown's. Two boys are accused.

Wade Crawford was in Cincinnati the past week to make arrangements for the installation of the water works plant.

The bidding was spirited and the sale quite satisfactory to the creditors of the concern. The purchasers will conduct cut price sales and dispose of the goods as rapidly as possible.

BIG REVIVAL NEXT SUNDAY.

The tent for the big revival has already been placed in position in the court house yard and the seats will be arranged and the tent wired by Saturday night.

Everything points to a most auspicious beginning and at the first service next Sunday morning is expected that a large congregation will be present.

Rev. Holcomb will arrive Saturday accompanied by his wife and Mr. Walter Flora, who will lead the singing. They want all who can participate in the service to meet with them Saturday night to organize the choir and get everything in shape. It is expected to have 100 voices in the choir and singers from every congregation in the county are expected to occupy seats on the platform.

Rev. Holcomb speaks for the salvation of souls, not for the advancement of any special creed or doctrine and people of all denominations can take part in these meetings as it is proposed to make them purely union.

Remember, the first service begins Sunday morning. Come, and if you can sing come in Saturday night and join the choir.

HAIL STORM IN MARSHALL.

Items of News From Our Neighbor—Clint Walker is Dead.

(Benton Tribune)

Last Sunday night about eight o'clock there occurred a very destructive hail storm just east of town. Fortunately it was only about one mile wide, and two miles long, and covered about 100 acres of tobacco. It literally destroyed the tobacco in its course breaking the leaves off, after perforating the web with hundreds of holes to the leaf. It was fortunate for the county that the storm was confined to such narrow bounds, as it would have ruined the business of the county had it been wide spread.

Boone Reed, who has been in St. Louis for the past two or three weeks under treatment for some ailment of the head, returned Sunday. He seems to be improved which his many friends will be glad to learn.

Clint Walker, of Hamlet, died very suddenly last Saturday morning, August 20, of typhoid fever. He deceased was 26 years of age, at the time of his death, and leaves a wife and two children, besides a host of friends and relatives to mourn his untimely taking away.

Noah Coffee, who was in jail on a charge of house-breaking, made his escape some time last Saturday in the afternoon, and has not been found yet. Jailor McDaniel had him chained, but the wily Coffee cut a link in the chain that fettered him and made good his escape this time.

Aunt Margaret Ross, of Route 3 died Friday, August 19, aged 79 years and one month. She was a faithful member of the Primitive Baptist church at Soldier Creek.

What could furnish stronger evidence of the efficiency of any remedy than the test of time. Thousands of people testify that Doan's Kidney Pills cure permanently.

A kidney weakness also existed; the kidney secretions being irregular and painful in passage and otherwise unnatural. WANTED—Cosmopolitan Magazine requires the services of a representative in Murray, to look after subscription renewals and to extend circulation by special methods which have proved unusually successful. Salary and commission. Previous experience desirable but not essential. Whole time or spare time. Address with references, H. C. Campbell, Cosmopolitan Magazine, 1789 Broadway, New York City.

Couldn't Pool That Boy. An uptown minister, interested in social work, is still laughing over a recent experience with one of the small boys whose reclaiming into the paths of virtue he makes his special province. It was a freckle-faced little urchin whom he had in hand, the leader of a gang of tiny terrors. With a saucy leer, the youngster asked him what he "did for a livin'?"

Disapproves Noise in Charity. Clara Barton says that in her work she never solicited a penny, and she is inclined to criticize that kind of charity which adopts the brass-band style of procedure. She does not think it is the proper way in which to arouse the sympathy and interest of the people.

BUILD UP

in spring and summer, it's the natural time to store up health and vitality for the year.

Scott's Emulsion

is Nature's best and quickest help.

The eight months old child of John Brandon and wife was quite seriously burned about the face and breast the first of the week with carbolic acid. The little fellow got hold of the bottle and pulled the stopper and in attempting to drink the contents poured it out upon its face and breast. Fortunately the child did not swallow any of the poison. The bottle had been removed from a dresser by older children and left upon the floor.

When the baby is suffering the double affliction of hot weather and bowel disorders, the remedy needed is McGee's Baby Elixir. It reduces the feverish condition, corrects the stomach and checks looseness of the bowels. Price 25c and 50c per bottle. Sold by Dale & Stubblefield.

Not a Drop of Alcohol

What is a "tonic"? A medicine that increases the strength or tone of the whole system. What is an "alterative"? A medicine that alters or changes unhealthy action to healthy action. Name the best "tonic and alterative"? Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only Sarsaparilla entirely free from alcohol. Ask your own doctor all about it. Never take a medicine doctors cannot endorse. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Without daily action of the bowels poisonous products must be absorbed. Then you have impure blood, dizziness, headache. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills for constipation.

BLACK PATCH AGAIN CONTROLS.

Sixty Per Cent of Entire Crop is Pledged to The Association.

Clarksville, Tenn., Aug. 29.— Remnants of the last year's tobacco crop is thought to be about all in the warehouse and will amount to probably forty or fifty hogsheads, which will be sold as the buyers may want it, as there will not be another regular sale.
This is done every year with remnants, and is sold as it is gathered in to those buyers who have an order to fill. It is now evident that a large portion of the crop will be housed earlier than usual and therefore may be ready for the market earlier, and it may be probable that those who sell loose may have the opportunity early in the season.

The farmers in many sections of the county are busy this week housing their tobacco crop.
Most of the crop that is ready for the knife is ripe from age and in the green state has good weight, and as it has not been rained on for two weeks or more is not in a snappy condition.
There is a remarkable scarcity of worms although there are more now than at any time during the season. If one may judge from present indications the crop will be far superior to that of last year in the best tobacco sections of the county.

From the reports obtained from various counties, of the Black Patch, the association has pledged to this season fully 35 per cent more tobacco than last year, which will give close to 55,000 hogsheads to the organization, or about 60 per cent of the crop of twenty counties.

This will give the controlling influence to the association, or rather a sufficient amount to hold the price up to that of last season with the independent crop at such prices as the buyers may deem best to pay. Under such conditions the disposition of the crop of 1910 will be made as quickly and orderly as that of 1909.

Receipts in the open market
this week were 24 hogsheads; sales 19 hogsheads. Judge G. B.
Bingham auditor, reports association sales of 20 hogsheads, a total of 39 hogsheads. Market quiet.

There has been some cutting of the ripe tobacco all over the district, and next week harvesting of the crop will be general.
Buyers will have a good rest before the new crop comes in and will be keen to buy at full prices.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity.
Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease. And giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors powers that they offer One Hundred

Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens vitality, heavy,
vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear
when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not unusual for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child is not cured, it will be a life-long chastisement to the child, if the urine soaks the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet difficult to do so, the child is a constant source of trouble to the parent, depending upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy.
The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root.

predicted that Mr. Linn will be a candidate for governor four years hence.

Hints For Hostess

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS
for Those Planning Seasonable Entertainments

A September Luncheon.
This is such a glorious month! One feels that it is just good to be alive, and to be permitted to help others plan for happy times is certainly a delight and privilege much appreciated by the editor of this department. I am asked to give again this lovely luncheon and put it in early so that all those who may entertain soon may have it. I quote entire.

"A hostess who returned from a summer abroad gave this pretty affair, the place cards bearing this appropriate verse:

Oh, sweet September, thy first breeze brings
The dry leaf's rustle and the squirrel's laughter.
The cool fresh air whence health and vigor spring
And promise of exceeding joy hereafter.

"The cards were decorated with a tracery in gold, studded with blue dots, supposed to be sapphires, the birth stone for this month. The table was bare, with a wonderful set of blue dillies and centerpiece done by the Russian peasant women. Black-eyed Susans, now in their prime, were the only flowers in evidence and they fairly made the rooms blaze with gorgeous colorings—concentrated sunshine, some one has aptly called them.

"The piece de resistance was what the hostess called scrapple and was so delicious she had to give the recipe, which follows: One pound of round steak, one pound of fresh pork, put through the chopper, boiled until done, and enough water left to take up cornmeal to the mush consistency. Mold in a pan over night. Slice thin, dip in cornmeal and fry in hot lard or bacon grease. The shacter was garnished with parsley and deviled eggs.

"Then there were escalloped tomatoes and green peppers in marinade, and individual peach shortcake was the dessert.

A novel feature was that four guests out of the eight were born in September.

Shakespeare Party.
A club devoted to Shakespeare as well as cards issued the following invitation which was treated to with alacrity by all the members:

To Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith—
Greeting
Remind you of the pastime—passing excellent—
"Hamlet"—
"Sir (and lady), you are very welcome to our house
It must appear in other ways than words
Therefore, I want this breathing courtesy—
—Merchant of Venice.

"Say, what abridgement
Have you for this evening?
—Midsummer Night's Dream.
"What will be the pastime—passing excellent—
"Twelfth Night of the Shrove"
"If your love do not persuade you to come Let not my letter."
—Merchant of Venice.

April twenty-first, of next school.
The prizes were all suggestive of the immortal bard consisting of a framed sepia print of Shakespeare, a stein with a picture of Falstaff and cup of sack, framed photographs of Stratford-on-Avon scenes and a charming print of Romeo and Juliet. The hostess called the roll and each member responded by giving a Shakespeare quotation.

A Novel Bazaar.
A church member who was just completing a large new home turned it over to the Ladies' Aid society for a bazaar, which was a great success. Each room was devoted to some special attraction; for instance, one for the supper, one for the entertainment, one for fortune telling, one for children especially, and the attic floor was given up to dancing. The decorations were flags, lanterns, and the carpenters kindly put up benches for seats and turned their saw horses and clean boards into tables. The lights and water were in and the gas ran.

A Motley Musical Party.
A young hostess gave this very original party, which was such a success that it has been the talk of the town ever since. She invited her guests to come, each bringing a musical instrument and dressed in a costume to match. She wore a Grecian costume of pure white, with her hair in Psyche knot with gold bands and she carried a zither. The other young girl in the family dressed as a darkey with the gayest kind of a costume; she was accompanied by her best boy, who was a giddy young colored swain, and they carried a banjo and guitar. Then there was an Italian beggar girl with accordion, a Spanish kisser with her tambourine, a Scotch lad and lassie with bagpipes, a dear little Dutch couple in real wooden shoes with flutes, and three chums went as Italian street players with harp, violins, etc. The best of all was when a man with a hand organ and monkey appeared. One of the men had hired him for the occasion. Of course he only stayed a few moments, but, went away with the monkey's pockets filled with coppers and a good lunch in a basket. The lads were served in favors of musical instruments and the favors were all candy boxes in the same shape, filled with delicious small bonbons.

The hostess awarded prizes for the different costumes, which were judged by older members of the family who surveyed the guests as they passed in a line before them. The father of the house remarked that he had never enjoyed a musical melody more.

LANCHES OF FASHION.
Black satin jackets are finding favor.
Beaded belts and bags are to be worn.
Satin is predicted as the favorite fall fabric.
Chains are superseding leather straps for handbag handles.
Young girls are wearing great numbers of frills and jabots.
Many furled and ponceo suits are made in Russian blouse style.
Paris declares that transparent sleeves are to be a ruling feature.
Lingerie and tailored waists of white seem about equally in favor.
Tailor made suits of silk and satin are the fad of the hour in Paris.
Cottons now come printed in all sorts of Persian and old world designs.
New kumpees are of the simplest order, sheer, untrimmed, unobtrusive and shallow.
Embroidered nets are fashionable, and colored net waists have been seen for some time.

Sleeves.
Eccelesiastical sleeves are being shown by Paquin. They are straight and loose, which look well on certain dresses and are otherwise known as Japanese or peasant sleeves.

Two Simple Blouses

The first is a sailor blouse, cut in the Magyar style. It is in navy blue de laine, with white spots and has cuffs and collar of striped silk. The singlet is of plain white silk, boned with blue, and a device embroidered in silk. A blue sailor's knot is tied below collar in front. Materials required: 1 yard 44 inches wide, 1/2 yard striped silk. The second would look well in all

AS IT APPEARED TO HER

Mrs. Oelrichs Evidently Didn't Think Much of Mr. Blank's Earning Capacity.

Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, the best-dressed woman in Newport, criticized very pertinently, at a recent dinner, the new dinner gowns of Paquin and Callot.

These glistening and filmy gowns are chiefly remarkable for the V-shaped back that they possess. The V—it is incredible, but it is true—opens all the way down to the waist line. At a gala performance in Paris, given by the Metropolitan Opera company of New York—the most successful performance Paris ever saw, and one whereat $40,000 was gained for the Pluviose victims—many of the beautiful Americans in the 40 orchestra seats wore these daring gowns, and now at Newport they are often to be seen.

Mrs. Oelrichs stared at one with asounded eyes at a dinner, and her neighbor said: "Isn't that new gown of Mrs. Blank's a dream? Old Mr. Blank is so delivered by the sight of it. He is a blind man, in whose hands the rod is said to have done marvels.

A Strong Preacher.
The minister's eight-year-old daughter was returning with her parents from church, where the district superintendent had that morning occupied the pulpit.

"Oh, father," asked the little girl, her face alive with enthusiasm, "don't you think Brother C is a very strong preacher?"

Gratified by this evidence of unusual intelligence on the part of his offspring, the minister eagerly inquired into her reasons for her statement.

"Oh," replied the little miss, artlessly, "didn't you see how the dust rose when he stamped his feet?"—Judge.

Hoodwinking Clergymen

When a small coterie of men put up a scheme to harness the clergy of America and induce the ministers to do "bitching" for the members of the churches, we should all take notice.

They couldn't harness the preachers in a bad cause except by deceiving them.

Ministers of the gospel are essentially and fundamentally honest but, like all men who work for the public good, they are at times misled by false statements.

Trust them when they have exact truth to speak from.

Now for the story which should interest every one of us who are all either receivers of wages or we pay to wage earners and the freedom of each individual is at issue.

In various papers the following statement has been printed. Read it carefully at least twice.

"Interest in Labor Sunday.
"Labor Sunday—the Sunday preceding Labor day—has been observed generally this year and in future years throughout the United States. This because of the American Federation of Labor declares that for the clergy to observe that day. The numerous letters recently received at American Federation of Labor headquarters from ministers throughout the country interest in the idea of giving special attention to the cause of labor on the pulpit on that day.

Various representatives of the church, who are ministers, are urged to try to bring about an understanding in their respective districts with the churches as to where the church should stand on the subject of labor. Ministers should say what they think on the occasion in order that their trade union hearers may put their right estimate as to where the subject is discussed the better will it be for labor. (The ministers are sound.)

Observe that "Labor Union" men "are urged" to induce ministers to make addresses that will attract trade unionists to the churches "for the day." "Ministers should say," etc., and "winds up with" "Union ethics are sound."

This is clipped from the American Federationist the organ of Sam Gompers, et al.

This clipping has been sent to papers throughout the country and the Typographical Union men in the news paper offices instructed to "urge" that it be printed.

That is one of the ways of the "machine." It looks harmless so the papers print it.

But! Let's lift the cover and look under. The hidden motive is as dangerous to the peace and liberty of the citizens as a coiled rattlesnake in the grass.

Organization by workmen to peacefully and successfully present their side is necessary and most commendable.

There are such organizations now rapidly winning their way to public confidence without strikes, dynamite or killing fellow workmen.

(Some facts on this matter a little further along in this article.)

We see here a demand on the ministers of God, that they endorse and help build up the strike-producing, boycotting and violent American Federation of Labor.

Think of the man of God who teaches brotherly love being covertly ordered to praise and help get new members for an organization with a record for violence, crime and murder done by its members the like of which the world has never seen.

Think of the thousands of women made widows and the increasing thousands of children left fatherless by the pistol, club, dynamite and boot heel of the members of this Labor Trust. Any one who recalls the countless murders done in the multitude of strikes in the past few years will realize this is no exaggeration.

Take just one as an illustration: There were some thirty men murdered and 6000 injured and maimed in the Chicago teamsters' strike.

way down to the waist line. At a gala performance in Paris, given by the Metropolitan Opera company of New York—the most successful performance Paris ever saw, and one whereat $40,000 was gained for the Pluviose victims—many of the beautiful Americans in the 40 orchestra seats wore these daring gowns, and now at Newport they are often to be seen.

Mrs. Oelrichs stared at one with asounded eyes at a dinner, and her neighbor said: "Isn't that new gown of Mrs. Blank's a dream? Old Mr. Blank is so delivered by the sight of it. He is a blind man, in whose hands the rod is said to have done marvels.

A Strong Preacher.
The minister's eight-year-old daughter was returning with her parents from church, where the district superintendent had that morning occupied the pulpit.

"Oh, father," asked the little girl, her face alive with enthusiasm, "don't you think Brother C is a very strong preacher?"

Gratified by this evidence of unusual intelligence on the part of his offspring, the minister eagerly inquired into her reasons for her statement.

"Oh," replied the little miss, artlessly, "didn't you see how the dust rose when he stamped his feet?"—Judge.

There is seldom a day passes but somewhere in our country from one to a score of our fellow men are assaulted or murdered by members of this band.

Then remember the homes blown up or burned. The families hounded, the rioting, burning of street cars, wrecking of trains and attempted or successful killing of passengers.

The general disturbance of industry and the thousands of dollars forfeited from tax payers to pay extra police, sheriffs and militia to protect, even in a feeble way, the citizens from the mob of members of the American Federation of Labor.

Then you will realize why the great peace-loving majority of over 80 million Americans protest against the growth of this crime-infested organization comprising perhaps one and one-half million men, of which it is estimated that seven-tenths are peace-loving citizens and are members by coercion and are not in sympathy with the three-tenths who have gained control of the organization.

We find that a few designing men have seized control of the American Federation of Labor, just as some shrewd capitalists have secured control of some railroads and other interests and are now twisting and turning the members of the Federation for their own profit and fame.

These men cunningly plan to force workmen to join and pay 25 to 75 cents a month in fees.

Various methods are used to "induce" workmen to join.

First, they talk of the "tyranny of capital" making slaves of workmen.

Then they work up enthusiasm about the "brotherhood of man" and other talk which experience has shown excites the emotions of workmen and induces them to join and pay fees to the leaders.

The 5000 workmen in Battle Creek are, as a rule, free from the dictates of the great Labor Trust and still get the highest wages in Michigan. If they had yielded to the smooth talk of the leaders of the trust, they would pay in fees from $125.00 to $2000.00 a month to the big trust and be subject to strike orders any time.

Now they save that and put the money into homes and family comforts.

But the managers of the American Federation of Labor have worked hard and long to harness them.

The trust has sent small babies of money and whiskey to the leaders to tie up Battle Creek. They hired bulls, gave picture shows, smokers, etc., as an investment, looking to rich returns when they succeeded in having them tied hand and foot.

But they failed and the last of the "organizers" left Battle Creek on May 1st saying "it's no use."

The workmen knew the record of this great trust and formed their own association to protect their rights and also to protect them from the big Labor Trust.

In Philadelphia some 4000 independent street car men, who mainly had families, had their own union and refused to join the big trust, preferring to be free to work or not as they pleased.

But the trust planned to force them into the fee-paying ranks, so a strike was ordered to compel the traction company to hire out these men and hire only Labor Trust members.

It was not a question of wages or hours but to push the free men out of their positions where they were earning good money to support their families. The strike was ordered, not to raise wages or reduce hours, remember, but solely to throw out members of an independent union and make places only for Labor Trust members.

They were to show the independent men that they could not earn a living unless they first paid fees to the trust managers.

Incidentally the people of Philadelphia must submit to no car service, rioting and bloodshed with millions in losses while these fee-hungry, nobody seeking trust leaders were teaching the world that industry cannot be carried on except by workmen who first bend the knee, bow the head and pay fees.

How these men as strike leaders love to see their names in the papers voted. They say that everything he makes goes on his wife's back." Mrs. Oelrichs, her eye fixed on the gown's terrible V, said with a smile: "Well, he must be making very little, then."

Practical Matching.
What the little girl with the 15 cents in pennies wanted was some red ribbon of a particular shade for her mother. She knew the shade, but she couldn't explain it and all she could say was, it wasn't that, no, not that; it was deeper than that, and not so

The Counterfeit Southerner.
Of course, there are many counterfeits. A most amusing imitation is one that often passes for the typical southerner in New York. This satchel-mouthed braggart infests the cafes and demands attention by his absurd water for offending his delicate sense of honor. "I have a nigger, sah," he loudly proclaims, which is a sentiment that one never hears from those to the manner born. He haunts the theaters and parades the streets since it is poor fun to practise his gentility in private.

He wears a wide black hat, mounts the table and yells whenever the band plays a southern melody. Such a pretentious caricature would be harmless enough, but for the ridicule he brings upon the south. Unfortunately, popular authors seem to accept him at face value and exploit him in novels or plays where a "southerner" is a necessary part of the stage machinery.—Everybody's Magazine.

Wasted Sarcasm.
The "philadelphian" milk dealers who recently raised the price of their product to nine cents a quart and then lowered it again to eight appear to have been the subjects of a great deal of unjust censure. They announced at the time of the raise that milk could not be sold at eight cents without loss. Finding that the consumers would not pay the new price, however, they are continuing to sell at the old, thereby qualifying as genuine philanthropists. Every purchaser of milk at eight cents a quart will doubtless hereafter feel that he is an object of charity.

destroyed, men murdered and the long, long list of atrocities practiced by Labor Trust members on other human beings, who cannot agree with the trust methods.

Now for the better way. Workmen are now organizing in the old-fashioned trades union or "guild" way, affiliated with the National Trades and Workers Association whose constitution provides arbitration of differences, with agreement for no strikes, boycott, picketing or hateful coercion of any kind.

The Trade Association has evolved from the experience of the past and is the highest order of Trades Unionism at the present day.

Under its laws it is not possible for the Hod Carriers Union or the Street Sweepers Union to order the school teachers or locomotive engineers to quit work in a "sympathetic strike."

If any craft finds injustice, the case is presented to properly selected arbitrators, testimony taken and the case presented to the public through the press. Thereupon public opinion, that greatest of all powers, makes itself felt and curiously enough a fair settlement is generally the result.

There is no strike, no loss of wages, no loss to the community and yet the faithful workers get their just treatment.

There are many details which have been worked out by men skilled in labor matters.

It will recompense any interested man to know these details which can be secured by a postal request for constitution and by-laws written to the National Trades and Workers Association, Kingman Block, Battle Creek, Mich.

Reader, look carefully into this great question of the relation of Capital and Labor and its successful solution. The new plan works and brings results for the members.

It became so favorably impressed with the trustworthiness and practicability of the leaders of this new labor movement that I gave the Association a sanction at Battle Creek worth about $400.00 and with about 300 rooms, to be used as a home for their old members and the helpless babies, sometimes made fatherless by the pistol, club or boot heel of some member of the violent "Labor Trust."

Suppose you attend church Labor Sunday and hear what your minister has to say in defense of the safety and rights of the common, everyday man.

Let me ask you to read again a portion of one of my public articles printed a few years ago.

"The people of the world have given me money enough to spend in these talks through the papers in trying to make better and safer conditions for the common people, whether the Postum business runs or not."

Scores of letters have come to me from work people and others, some from union men recounting their sufferings from union domination and urging that their cases be laid before the public.

It will not answer for us to only sympathize with the poor, the oppressed, those who haven't power enough to drive off tyrants and resist oppression. We must help them free the hands of the oppressors. Americans must act.

Some of my forebears in New England left comfortable homes, took with them the old that looks, slept on the ground in rain and frost, hungry, footsore, and half clothed they grimly pushed up where the Eternal God of Human Liberty barged them. They gave for me and for you a mantle of freedom, woven in a loom where the shuttles were canvas bails and bullets and where swords were used to pick out the tangles in the yarn.

These old, sturdy granddads of ours stood by that loom and their hands were finished, then, stained with our life blood it was handed down to us. Shall I refuse to bear it on my shoulders because the wearing costs me a few dollars, and are you towards enough to hide yours because some foreigner labor union anarchist orders you to strip it off?

I have faith that the blood of 1776 still courses in your veins will thicken and call unto you when there are Americans will act. There's a good one."

A Unique Celebration.

B. A. and J. W. Hopper celebrated their second anniversary of coming to Oklahoma, last Sunday. They, together with Miss Martha Cook of this place and Camilla Morgan, of Foster, wended their way to the "falls" on last Sunday afternoon, and after spending some time rowing, proceeded to spread lunch. They ate, made merry and spent an enjoyable while, then resumed rowing. As old Sol was sinking in the distant west, causing all weary mortals to seek rest and sleep these weary ones sought to heed the kindly warning; and tying their canoes at the warf (an old willow tree) made the ascent of a steep hill in safety, and homeward bound they made their way. Mr. R. A. acted as guide during this expedition, he having had more practical experience in that capacity. -Maysville, Okla., News.

SMITH MAKES OWN DEFENSE.

nothing, if he violates the law against illicit sale of liquors any more. But on the contrary the entire judgments remain within the power of the Commonwealth to enforce at any time Robertson shall go back to his illicit business within the next fifteen years. If he quits, that which the commonwealth most desired will have been accomplished. If he does not quit, all the worse for him. The full penalty of the two judgments will be enforced against him and the other two cases will be tried. The public welfare requires patience. The law has ever been hampered by the delays and obstacles the lawless defendant could throw in its way. Shakespeare makes Hamlet tell us how great were the law's delays in his day. I make this statement that the facts may be known, but not with either hope or desire to placate or satisfy unreasonable men. Nor is it my purpose to curry anybody's good will or favor. To me personally it matters little what people think, but it is of vital concern to the people that there must be confidence in the Courts. Confidence in the Courts must come from a knowledge of the facts and from cool judgment upon the facts. Hence I depart, in this instance, from my usual course of saying nothing, and state the facts of these cases. If there has been a mistake made in this matter, I made it. I acted upon my own best judgment after careful thought and investigation, and I alone am responsible. Time will tell whether I have acted wisely or not. With the facts before me in any case I would do exactly the same thing again. My duty as I see it, is based by an honest conscience, is my only guide and master.

If the jurors who so nobly did their full duty in these cases should be discouraged on account of the legal technicalities involved in the cases, I shall very much regret it. They are not responsible for these legal difficulties, nor am I; nor is any one else. With the same help from the people, officers and jurors that the Court had in the Robertson cases life will be hard for bootleggers in Calloway county in the future. It is only now and then that technicalities of vital weight get in the way.

Respectfully submitted,
DENNY P. SMITH,
Commonwealth's Attorney.
