THE STATE

MOST IMPORTANT NEWS GATHERED FROM ALL PARTS OF KENTUCKY

RAILROAD COMMISSION ENJOINED

L. & N. Seek To Prevent Officials Reducing Rate on Grain.

Frankfort—Suit for an injunction to prevent the Kentucky Railroad commission from putting into effect a rate of 5 cents on grain out of Louisville on the Springfield and Lebanon branches of the L. & N. railroad was filed here. Later, at Mayville, a temporary restraining order was granted by Judge Cochran, and the next morning will be an effort to obtain a permanent injunction.

The L. & N. recently was indicted and fined in the Federal court in Louisville for charging 10 cents on grain shipped from points in other states, from Louisville to points on the L. & N. The rate at that time was 5 cents on local business and it was charged that there was no interstate tariff justifying the rate. The L. & N. confessed judgment and then sought the local rate out of Louisville to 10 cents to correspond with the through rate. The railroad commission ordered that the rate be put back to 5 cents on complaint of the Greenbrier Distilling company and 20 other distillers. The L. & N. then sued the railroad commission to test the right of the commission to enter the order to put into effect the old rate. The case will be heard forthwith.

At a meeting of the commission a reduction in the rate of steam coal from Beattyville to Versailles was ordered. The present rate, which was complained of as being excessive, was $1.50 a ton. The commission directed that the local rate be 50 cents a ton. The complaint on which the reduction was ordered was made by the Versailles Electric Light company. The case has been before the commission for several months and the complaint has been carefully considered.

TO ERECT SLAB IN MEMORY.

Place Where General Fell Seen Dedication October 10.

Somerset—On October 10 there will be erected a beautiful marble slab on the spot where Gen. Zollioffer, the noted Confederate general, fell in the battle of Mill Springs on January 19, 1862. The dedicatory services will be in charge of Col. Bennett H. Young, of Louisville, who is at the head of the work of having the spot where Gen. Zollioffer fell marked by a beautiful slab. There is a large tree standing on the spot, which is one mile west of the National cemetery and about nine miles west of Somerset, where Gen. Zollioffer is said to have fallen, and which is known as Zollioffer creek, and which is dedicated every year in honor of the dead hero.

The occasion of the dedication of the memorial slab will be one of great interest, and will be attended by not a few veterans from different parts of the country.

Col. Bennett H. Young took his matter up some years ago, and had W. G. Trimble, of this place, draw away a plot of ground for the purpose. Trimble having been the owner of the ground on which the battle was fought.

Several efforts have been made by congressmen from the Eleventh district to have concrete made appropriation for the building of a fine turnpike from Somerset to the nearest rail road point to the Mill Springs battle field and the National cemetery.

KILLED IN PITCHED BATTLE.

Three Men, Apparently Friendly, Get Into Fight With Fatal Result.

Haxley—In a pitched battle between Stephen Ledford, Carter Entbank and Thomas Now, Jr., at Walling Creek, eight miles west of here, Stephen Ledford was shot and instantly killed, receiving eight revolver wounds in his body. Carter Entbank was shot in the upper part of his left thigh and died three hours later.

These three persons had been together all day and seemed to be on excellent terms. Late in the evening they left Walling Creek postoffice and arrived at Terry's creek, when they started at a point in the road where the fray began. Thomas Now, Jr., was arrested by Sheriff J. S. Kelly, who left here for that place as soon as he received intelligence of the tragedy.

DRY DOCKS FOR PADUCAH.

Paducah—Lumber has been ordered from Washington State by the Aver & Lord Tire Co. for a set of dry docks, which will be built and operated here. There will be four sections, and they will cost about $12,000. About 20 ship carpenters and ship chandlers will be employed. The company will repair its own boats and barges.

Henry A. Perry, who was president of the old Dry Docks Co. is at the head of another company, which has been organized to operate a docks here.

MAY APPEAL CASE.

Jailers' Association Selected Committee to Confer With Attorneys.

London—The Kentucky Jailers' association held an interesting two days' session. This was the fourth annual convention and was the largest in attendance ever held in the state. The next meeting will be held at New Castle, Henry county, the first Tuesday in September, 1911. Jailers James E. Pigg, of this city, spared no pains in seeing that the visitors were entertained. At the opening of their meeting Circuit Judge William Lewis delivered an interesting and appropriate address of welcome.

W. S. Fitzgerald, of Danville, jailer of Boyle county, was re-elected president of the association for the third time; J. S. Mullins, of Winchester, was chosen secretary to succeed W. J. Ahern, of Lexington.

A per diem committee was selected to confer with attorneys with a view to taking to the court of appeals the decision of the attorney general to the effect that the present incumbents are not entitled to the increased per diem of 75 cents as provided in the bill passed by the last Kentucky legislature.

WILL SOON COMPLETE PIPE LINE.

Titles to Rights of Way Must First Be Proven.

Louisville—Judge Garrett S. Wall, of Mayville, a member of the state board of control of charitable institutions and in charge of the details in regard to the extension of the pipe line from the Louisville reservoir to the Lakeland asylum, was here for several days looking after the details of the extension. It was the purpose of the board to have the work completed by the first of October, but owing to a few delays in securing rights of way, it likely will be nearer the middle of October before the work is completed. Judge Wall said no objection had been raised by residents along the route, but that all the obstacles encountered had been in the proving of all of the titles, which necessarily must be done before the rights of way can be obtained.

As soon as all the titles have been proved and the rights of way secured the board will let a contract for the laying of the pipe line and the work likely will be completed within two weeks after the contract is awarded.

WILL HAVE MEETING SOON.

Redistricting Committee Must Have Figures Before Taking Action.

Louisville—James E. Stone, chief clerk of the house of representatives of the Kentucky general assembly, and secretary of the redistricting committee, appointed by the last legislature, said that while there had been no call issued for a meeting of the redistricting committee one likely will be issued within the next few days. He said that it would be impossible for the committee to take action in regard to the redistricting of the state until after all the census figures of the state have been obtained, but that it would be necessary for the committee to hold a meeting soon to establish headquarters.

The committee is empowered to redistrict the state in all of the congressional, judicial and district courts, and the redistricting must be done according to the official census of the various districts. It naturally will require much time and careful thought on the part of the members of the committee.

POSTMASTERS TO MEET.

Will Convene at Louisville September 13, 14 and 15.

It has been decided by the Postmasters' association, which includes presidential officers, and the State League of Postmasters of Third and Fourth classes, to hold a joint meeting this year in Louisville—September 14 and 15. The league will meet at 2 o'clock p. m. on September 13 for the purpose of transacting such business as pertains to league affairs only.

On September 14 and 15 the association and league will hold a joint session for the purpose of discussing postal affairs.

There will be several representatives of the postoffice department present to give instructions. The new money order and registry systems will be fully explained. Every postmaster should attend, as they will learn more than they would in years at home, and many things they never would learn otherwise.

Georgetown—The Cincinnati Pike is blocked for general travel, owing to an old accident, and a noted bridge will probably be swept away. The ponderous engine and rock roller, belonging to Moss & Lancaster, contractors, after trying for a month to get to their destination, fell through the Eagle bridge, and now, supported by a few heavy timbers, stands 20 feet above the creek.

Covington—The police received a long-distance telephone message from Lexington, Ky., saying that George Brisby, 18, a Covington boy, had escaped from the reform school at Greendale. Brisby comes from a good family, and efforts have been made to have him pardoned.

Louisville—A verdict of self-defense was returned by the coroner's jury in the inquest into the death of Joseph E. Lipps, who was shot and killed by his wife, Mrs. Francis Lipps, at the latter's home.

SAVER OF LIVES

CALLS AID FOR CREW OF BIG CAR FERRY FOUNDERING IN LAKE.

DESPATCHES TELL STORY

Sister Ship, Catching Appeals in Air, Arrived in Time to Rescue Swimmers—Wheelman's Narrow Escape From Death.

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 12.—The particulars of the sinking of car ferry No. 18 of the Pere Marquette line, 25 miles off Sheboygan, were brought to this port when ferry No. 11 came into port with 35 survivors. Thirty lives were lost, one woman being among the number. The ship had sprung a leak, and went down stern foremost. Car ferry No. 17, called by the wireless signal of distress, picked up the survivors and recovered eight bodies with her lifeboat.

The cause of the leak is still a mystery. The ship was inspected before she left here and was pronounced seaworthy. She was the newest of the fleet and was the flagship. Those who are believed to have been acquainted with the cause of the disaster are dead, and the survivors say that water entered through an open or broken dead light, after which the bulkheads burst.

The property loss is $50,000. The boat was valued at $100,000 and the 22 loaded freight cars, which formed the cargo to more than $100,000.

This is the story as told by the wireless messages:

9:25 a. m. from steamer No. 18: "S.O.S.—sinking. For God's sake, send help."

9:28 a. m. from steamer No. 18: "Send help for God's sake, 18 sinking."

9:30 a. m. from steamer No. 17: "44—sinking—help—"

9:35 a. m. from steamer No. 17: "18 gone."

8 a. m. from steamer No. 17: "17 starting by. Will stay till all are saved. This message was laborious. It spelled out by runner of No. 15, who never sent a message of that length before. The purser could not understand telegraph well enough to answer anxious inquiries as to fate of crew."

9:45 a. m. from steamer No. 17: "All officers of 18 lost. Not one saved." Then followed list of officers, seven in all, who perished.

11 a. m. from steamer 17: "Have picked up crew of 35 of crew. On way to Ludington."

Officers Remained at Post.

That the death list is not larger is due to the bravery of officers and the wireless telegraph operator of the wrecked vessel. All are reported to have stayed at their posts until death called them from their duty.

Repeated calls sent by the wireless operator, S. F. Szczepanski, who lived in Worcester, Mass., brought a half dozen vessels to the scene of disaster, but none of them arrived until after No. 18 had gone down. The persons were found by the rescuers swimming in the neighborhood of the spot where the boat sank. One man was found floating on a cabin door, to which he had been clinging for more than an hour.

Wheelman's Remarkable Escape.

Perhaps the most remarkable escape is that of Simon Barker, wheelman, who is said to have been the last man to leave the doomed ship. Barker said: "I was at the wheel during the whole trouble and really knew little of what occurred. Because of water at the bow, the vessel rolled, but I stuck to my post until the last minute, waiting for an order from the captain to leave. This order never came."

"When I realized that the boat at last was sinking, I ran out on the bridge with a life preserver. I plunged overboard just as the boat disappeared. I must have been in the center of a whirlpool. I recall being spun around like a top and drawn irresistibly downward. It seemed for 100 feet. Then I began to catch my breath when I went down again and was under for a long time."

J. M. GENTRY CONVICTED

Found Guilty of Assault in World's Fair Incubator Baby Case in Holton, Kas.

Holton, Kas., Sept. 12.—Joseph M. Gentry was convicted here of assaulting Clarence Holman, who was injured while trying to prevent the kidnapping of Marion Blackley, the World's Fair "incubator baby" in Topeka a year ago.

The verdict left out the words "with intent to kill" with which Gentry was charged in the original information, alleging assault.

The penalty is imprisonment for six months to two years. A motion for a new trial will be argued Saturday, September 17.

Wire Fence 1,000 Miles Long.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 12.—The government is planning to build the longest fence ever constructed in the world. It will extend from this city to the Pacific coast, more than 1,000 miles, and will divide the United States and Mexico. The fence will be of barbed wire.

THREE REPORTS ON BALLINGER

CONGRESS WILL HAVE TO UNRAVEL AT SESSION IN DECEMBER.

DEMOCRATS MAKE REPORT

Uphold Charges and Conduct of Pin-chet and Glavin in the Case—
No Quorum Present at Meeting.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 12.—Hopedlessly divided, the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee, which has been engaged in a merry little war here for the last three days, has adjourned. It will meet in Chicago Tuesday. The result will be that three reports will be turned into Congress when that body meets in December.

The findings of the Democratic members of the committee and a separate report by Representative Madison were made public after a sharp clash at a meeting of the committee, which was attended only by four Democrats: Mr. Madden, and the chairman, Senator Knute Nelson.

"That Richard A. Ballinger has not been true to the trust reposed in him as secretary of the interior, that he is not deserving of public confidence, and that he should be asked by the proper authorities to relinquish his office."

The foregoing sums up the findings of the four Democratic members of the Ballinger-Pinchot congressional investigating committee, which were made public. The Republican members issued no report.

An independent report was given out by Mr. Madison, the insurgent Republican from Kansas, which declares also that Mr. Ballinger "should not be retained, that he was an unfaithful trustee of the people's property, a enemy of conservation," and that the charges of Gifford Pinchot should be sustained. These findings will be printed and filed with Congress.

Republicans Remain Aways.
Three Republican members, Senator Sutherland of Utah and Representative McCall of Massachusetts and Denby of Michigan, refused to attend the meeting. Finally the chairman of the committee, Senator Nelson of Minnesota, left the committee room and went to return.

Senator Nelson gave notice that a meeting would be held in Chicago on next Tuesday. The Democratic members adjourned to meet again in Washington Dec. 3.

Representative Ollie M. James of Kentucky, one of the Democratic members, announced that all the Democrats would refuse to attend the meeting of which Senator Nelson has given notice. The Republicans will then be in the same position that the Democrats and Mr. Madison found themselves.

Summarized, the Democratic findings declare that the evidence shows:
"That there was no conspiracy against Mr. Ballinger.

"That Gifford Pinchot and L. R.
Glavin were faithful trustees of the people's interests.

"That Mr. Ballinger's conduct on certain occasions was intended to and did have the effect of deceiving the president.

"That Mr. Ballinger's action in harboring clear listed the so-called Cunningham Alaskan coal lands and ordering them patented, showed bad faith.

Forced Land Hearing.
"That he advocated a bill to validate Alaskan coal claims alleged to be fraudulent.

"That his action in acting as attorney in cases pending in the land office while he was commissioner, was repugnant.

"That he helped to force the Cuningham coal claims to a hearing before the government was ready to proceed.

"That he encouraged insubordination in the reclamation service, and condemned improper official conduct in that connection."

Mr. Madison's conclusions are:
"That the charges of Messrs. Glavin and Pinchot should be sustained.

"That in the matter of the Cunningham coal lands he was not a faithful trustee of the public's interests.

"That with regard to the reclamation service he has taken action tending toward its disintegration."

CLOSED BY HIGH RUBBER
Four Hundred Men Thrown Out of Work for an Indefinite Period in Massachusetts.

Northampton, Mass., Sept. 12.—The 400 employees of the Glendale Elastic Company of East Hampton have been notified that the plant would shut down for an indefinite period.

The high cost of rubber thread, in the face of the falling market on crude rubber, is given by the company as the reason for the shut down.

KIDNAPED LAD RECOVERED

BLACK HAND MEMBERS ESCAPE
DETECTION IN MATTER.

While Fifty Detectives Watched the Youngster Is Found by Grandfather.

New York, Sept. 12.—Although little Michael Scimeca, the three-year-old son of Dr. Michael Scimeca, a prominent Italian physician is today safely in the hands of his relatives after having been held for nearly three months a captive by Black Hand kidnapers, the abductors of the boy have so far escaped the police dragnet set for them when it was learned that the little fellow was about to be returned to his guardians.
Fifty detectives of the Italian squad had been for hours watching ferries and railroad stations and the vicinity of Dr. Scimeca's home in Manhattan, expecting to trap the kidnapers, when they had mysteriously appeared late at night at the home of Dr. Scimeca's father-in-law, Dr. Michael Petrella, in Brooklyn. The police heard that Dr.
Scimeca was trying to raise $7,000, which had been demanded as a ransom for the boy. Dr. Scimeca, however, denied that he had paid a cent for the return of the child. Much mystery surrounds the circumstances of the child's reappearance.

CHANLER RUINED BY WIFE

Hides From Friends after Cavalieri
Forced Him to Sign Away
Fortune.

New York, Sept. 12.—With his income of $30,000 a year transferred to the woman he married, who now offers him $240 a year to defray his personal expenses, Robert W. Chanler, a grandson of John Jacob Astor, politician, society man and artist, is hiding from his friends, a broken, dependent man, his dream of romance utterly shattered.

Over in Paris his bride of two months, the fascinating opera singer, Lina Cavalieri, from whom his friends say he is parted forever, is accepting the attentions of the set in which she formerly moved, while secure in her strong box are the papers she forced Chanler to sign before she would marry him, and which transferred to her the bulk of his fortune.

New York intimates of young Chanler are aghast over the stories from Paris telling of the manner in which he was hoodwinked by the opera singer, who has been characterized as the "most beautiful woman in the world."

HAGUE TRIBUNAL CLOSES

England and Uncle Sam Agree to Settlement of New Foundland Fisheries Dispute.

The Hague, Sept. 12.—The Hague tribunal came to an official close with the notification that the governments of the United States and Great Britain would accept the award in the New Foundland fisheries case without question.

Many of the international representatives had departed before the session ended.

The 1909 agreement between the United States and Great Britain, the last annual agreement up to the time of this year's convocation of the International Arbitral Tribunal, has been ordered revised within five days to conform with the award of the tribunal.

The 1909 agreement will thus stand with its amendments.

Ever since 1905 those agreements have been renewed annually.

Merchant Kills Himself

New York, Sept. 12.—C. A. Innes, a well-known shoe merchant of Charleston, S. C., shot and killed himself in his room at the Hoffman house. The merchant was discovered lying in bed with a bullet wound in the back of his head. A revolver lay near by.

National Menace

By JOS. T. TALBERT, Vice President of National City Bank, New York

Banker Criticizes Conduct of American People

EXTRAVAGANCE has become not only a national vice but is in fact becoming a national menace. There does not appear anywhere to exist in the conduct of national, municipal or individual affairs, that appreciation of the economical and prudent use of resources and that adjustment of expenditures to means and incomes which always has been found necessary to the support of prosperity and to the maintenance of a condition of solvency.

We are squandering on pleasure vehicles annually sums of money running into hundreds of millions of dollars. The initial cost of automobiles to American users amounts to not less than $250,000,000 a year. The upkeep and other necessary expenditures, as well as incidentals, which would not otherwise be incurred, amount to at least as much more. This vast sum is equivalent in actual economic waste each year to more than the value of property destroyed in the San Francisco fire—perhaps twice as much. This sum, as large as it is, does not include the whole economic loss growing out of this single item of indulgence. The thousands of young and able-bodied men employed in manufacturing machines and in running and caring for cars are all withdrawn from productive usefulness; they become consumers of our diminishing surplus products and constitute an added burden to the producers. The economic influence of this withdrawal from the producing and addition to the consuming class, is bound to be manifested in a tendency to higher prices. Its effect already must be considerable, and is comparable only to the maintenance of an enormous standing army.

Thousands upon thousands of our people, frenzied by desire for pleasure and crazed by passion to spend, have mortgaged their homes, pledged their life insurance policies, withdrawn their hard-earned savings from banks to buy automobiles; and have thereby converted their modest assets into expanding and devouring liabilities. The spectacle is astounding.

Protect Against Awful Forest Fires

By ALEX. TRUESDALE

Speaking of the conservation of our natural resources, what greater resource is at stake than the welfare of our hardy pioneers?

Up in the wilderness, away from the pathway of civilization, are men with brains and brawn. Their wives are with them and their children are growing up in the same surroundings that our forefathers had.

They are making sacrifices and enduring hardships and privations.

Usually they are men of very limited means, these hardy pioneers who hew out a home in the almost impenetrable wild and make fertile farms in the most unfavorable sections for agriculture.

Year after year the newspapers are filled with graphic accounts of disastrous forest fires in the northern and western states of the Union.

The flames, sweeping over vast areas, take their toll from the human race, and the millions of dollars' worth of timber that is destroyed robs this and future generations of a priceless gift. The power to save this lies in human hands.

We protect our city homes, factories and other buildings from fire and riots; why can't we protect our brother, the builder for civilization? Why can't the governor of an afflicted state issue a call to arms?

The effect would be magical, the cost slight. How thankful we would all feel, how grateful humanity would be for the work and the heroism of our boys in khaki if they were called to the front to fight an enemy of such magnitude!

Roosters and Dogs Nuisance in Cities

By WM. H. BIRD Cincinnati

A great many of the dog owners are not paying taxes either, if the truth were known.

Many dogs are running loose, and there is not a muzzle on one of them.

What are the police doing that they cannot see this evil and correct it? Nothing is done until some one is bitten.

If these chicken and dog owners wish to run farms, they should go where they belong—into the country.

Many Benefits Derived From Boxing

By MYER HALPER

I believe that boxing is in a large sense responsible for the fact that the young men of America and Great Britain are superior to the young men of Mexico or Spain. If two young Americans or Englishmen have a quarrel, it is quickly settled by a fair fist fight. But let two Mexicans (although not all are so) get into a quarrel and knives are likely to flash and inside of five or ten minutes one or probably both of them are hustled off to the hospital. In Mexico there are hardly ever any prize fights.

Many of our prominent citizens are firm advocates of all athletic games and exercises and boxing is certainly as beautiful a sport as football, cricket, basketball and many other of our most popular sports. And by contrasting the number of fatalities on both sides boxing is seen not to be a bit more dangerous.

To be a good boxer one must be clean physically and to be clean physically one cannot be unclean morally.

There is nothing like our old-fashioned fair fist fights to test a youth's mettle or prepare him for the greater tests to come later on in life.

TARIFF LAW TRICK

SAMPLE OF HOW CONSUMERS ARE ROBBED.

Women Especially Interested in This Case, Which Has So Vastly Affected the Cost of Their Dress Goods.

Not long after the present tariff law became effective a man ordered some new shirts. He had been paying $2.25 apiece, but the shirt maker told him he would have to pay $3, because the goods he wanted had a few stripes of mercerized cloth in it. All his shirting material he said, cost him 23.13 per cent. more than the previous year if it had any mercerized threads in it. Where there were any figures woven in the piece the advance in price was greater. When women buy dress goods which have been mercerized or have mercerized threads in them—threads which have been dipped in a solution of caustic soda—they have to pay more than they did a year ago.

Who did this, and why, and how was it brought about? These questions are fully answered in an article by Samuel M. Evans in the World's Work. Senator Aldrich was the master workman. But for his adroit management in the senate and in conference committee the changes in schedule L—the cotton schedule—which have so plagued consumers, would not have been made.

Senator Aldrich did not do all this of his own motion. He acted at the instigation of two of the leading Rhode Island cotton goods manufacturers. One of them was the author of the cotton schedule of the Dingley law, and "one on the whole satisfied with it. But there were some paragraphs which the Supreme court had interpreted more liberally than he had meant they should be. He viewed with alarm the slightly increased importation of some kinds of goods. So he and his associate wrote the amendments they wanted adopted—"slight additional changes simply designed to meet legal questions." If it had not been for the vigilance and tenacity of the senate insurgents all the "slight changes" suggested would have been smuggled or hulled through. Most of them were.

Aldrich's Untenable Position.

It is certainly true that the position occupied by Senator Aldrich during the work of tariff revision is repugnant to a nice sense of honor. The statesman who offers his name to tariff life cannot afford to give it at the same time for the use of a business that is to be helped by the tariff, even indirectly. He cannot afford to be known as an investor whose dividends may be swelled by tariff increases. He cannot afford to be known as the business agent of other men in congress.

To say this is to say that sacrifices are demanded of him, since the tariff reaches far, but to keep the character under suspicion our public men must be prepared to make sacrifices. And such abstinence from business affairs as is demanded is surely not too great a price to pay for leadership.

Senator Aldrich, however, has never been the leader of the people. As the leader of the senate he has been the servant or the ally of the interests. He has not scrupled to represent the interests when he should have represented the people. As dictator of tariff schedules he has presented a travesty of popular government and done what a man more sensitive to the calls of honor and duty would have shrunk from doing. It is for this reason that the insurgents will continue to make headway against him, though it may fail to make good of some particular indictment.

Aldrich Now in the Fire.

Clean Senator Aldrich did not make things more comfortable for himself when he jumped out of the frying pan. The first apology of his life has aggravated his plight.

Aldrich's elastic explanation about rubber has not satisfied the country, and he has made no answer at all concerning lead and cotton. When a man is assailed silence is better than unconvincing utterance.

The country knows that the rubber interests are closely allied. It believes that a movement was underway when the Briarwood sensation was sprung to form a gigantic trust for the encompassing of all the rubber business—production and manufacturing, on the wild foundation of the Aldrich tariff. It knows that this combination already had attained such magnitude that prices, fostered by a wholly superfluous tariff, which had been increased by Aldrich, had greatly advanced. It believes that Aldrich, his son and his financial associates profited by this general stimulation of the rubber business. The essential facts underlying this public knowledge and this public belief are admitted by the Rhode Islander.

The Rhode Islander has not ceased what Mr. Aldrich calls "prating about the moral aspects of the tariff."

Increasing Demand for Tungsten.

Tungsten mining and milling near Boulder, Colo., has received a great impetus lately owing to improved methods and better prices. The leading plant of the country, which is in that locality, is now electrically operated entirely and under the new order of things is producing more tungsten. The material is used in the manufacture of improved incandescent electric lamps and the demand for it is increasing daily.

WASTING THE PUBLIC MONEY

Figures Show Burdens Upon the Country by Republican Extravagance.

Since 1860 the population of the United States has increased 186 per cent., while the expenses of national government have increased 539 per cent.

During Democratic administration the appropriations for two years during the Fifty-third congress amounted to $917,013,523.24; a Republican administration during the Sixtieth congress appropriated $2,052,799,400.68 for 1909-1910.

Since 1896 the war department appropriation has grown 235 per cent. and the navy appropriation 355 per cent.

Large additions to the salaries of public officials, from the president down, expensive new bureaus, commissions, and courts, have enormously increased the general expenses of government. The whole history of Republican administration has been one of frightful extravagance.

The Sixtieth congress, and the Taft administration, pledged to economy, has already put 26,944 tax-eaters on the public pay roll at an annual total cost for salaries of $24,943,276.10. The White House expenses this year are $135,328 more than they were in 1894 under Cleveland, and three vessels are detailed from the navy to serve as yachts for the president, while eight government automobiles are at his disposal.

Republican extravagance is piling the burden of taxation higher and higher. The great part of this burden falls on the farmer, the workman, the small home owner. The only salvation is a return to Jeffersonian simplicity, and retrenchment of expenses by a Democratic congress, which alone can, and will, lighten the burden.

'INTERESTS' ARE WIDE AWAKE

Wall Street's Hand Seen in Proposed Merger of Guatemalan Railways.

The merger of Guatemalan railways into a consolidation controlled by the Guatemala Central is alluded to by financial organs in the east as "another step in the Pan-American system which is to bind South America more closely to the United States and open up to us the great Latin American market."

Thoughtful Americans, however, are apparently justified in regarding the new move not so much a precursor of greater trade with the Americas as a forerunner of the execution of plans of American railroad magnates to prevent any possible rate competition by the Panama canal.

Wall Street in control of South American railroads leading to the coast, steamship rates will not be a factor in through freights to or from the United States by way of the big ditch.

Even under federal government ownership of the Panama railway its rates have been fixed by the Pacific Mail Steamship company, which is owned by American railroad interests. Unless some means be found to prevent American rail king from controlling South American railroad and steamship lines, the Panama canal will hardly prove a strong impulse to trade development.

Wage Earners and the Tariff.

The Republican party gives three reasons for its support of the protective tariff tax—infant industries, higher wages and difference in the cost of production, as compared with other countries.

The first is a deception and a fraud. There are no industries in our land that need protection now, for those industries that cannot stand alone never will sit upright unaided and it is financial folly to subsidize them.

As to protection enabling us to give a higher wage than we could otherwise do, the men who purchase this protection tax do it for themselves alone and will keep every cent of it to spend on their passions or to add to the colossal money power.

There is no real difference in the cost of production. The proof is that our manufacturers now sell their products in foreign markets while competing with foreign cost of production and could sell even more cheaply if freed of the 50 per cent tariff tax so benevolently levied in their favor by our national lawmakers.

Labor is cheaper in Europe only seemingly. In dollars and cents it appears cheaper, but in substance, in the necessities of life, there is no difference. For labor in all lands must be fed and clothed or it cannot work. Labor in Europe is as well fed and clothed as it is here.

How long will "government of the people, for the people and by the people" be defrauded, deceived, humbugged?

Wall street may be a little nervous about possible tariff revisions, but it probably isn't any more nervous than the old guard, which fears a siege in the citadel of protection.

New York Has Bones of Whale.

The jaw bones of the largest whale ever caught by Japanese whalers have just arrived here, consigned to the Museum of Natural History, New York. The bones weigh fifty-five tons—110,000 pounds. They are forty feet long and were transported from the steamship pier on a large truck drawn by twelve horses. The whale was caught off Moji, Japan, and was more than two hundred feet long. The tail was thirty feet long.

For the Hostess

Chat on Interesting Topics of Many Kinds, by a Recognized Authority

Novel Cotton Wedding.

This affair was celebrated way down in old Kentucky, and was such a delightful affair that I am sure our readers in all parts of the country will be able to adapt ideas from it to suit their own needs and conditions. The invitations said "Please come in a cotton frock." This conveyed the idea that it was to be an informal affair.

The spacious porches and grounds were lighted with many lanterns, and dotted over the lawn were great white cotton umbrellas, such as are used for shade on wagons. They were on long stakes driven into the ground, and a Japanese lantern lighted and suspended from each rib; rugs and chairs were underneath.

These trying places were much sought in the intervals between dances. There was a large platform erected with negro players, just like the plantation dances before the war. Before the dancing the hostess produced bandana handkerchiefs, aprons, to which the men sewed the strings; then a wee colored china doll was given each girl, with bits of chamomile skin from which she was to make a pen wiper for her partner.

The refreshments were typically southern: Individual chicken pies, hot corn muffins, tiny stuffed peppers, leek tea and delicious watermelon.

A Neck-Wear Shower.

A fall bride says the prettiest shower she ever had was a "neckwear" shower. The lovely part was that each girl made with her own fair fingers the dainty creation for the bride who had grown up among them and was so soon to go far away across the sea. No one can have too many stocks and collars, and there was every variety imaginable, some being of Irish crochet. The table center piece was composed of the white gilly flower, often called "stocks," and the place cards were bogus certificates of "stock" drawn upon the Bank of Matrimony and signed by her majesty, the "American Woman," with "Cupid" named as treasurer. The gifts were all done up in dainty tissue paper tied with white satin ribbon and were brought in on a tray with bows of tulle on each handle. A wee maiden dressed as Cupid presented the tray to the bride.

An Unusual Party for Children.

A mother of a twelve-year-old daughter issued invitations for this very pretty party. Remembering how children loved to dress up, she said: "Please come in a costume representing a character from 'Alice in Wonderland.'" When all had arrived there was a pantomime showing the figures on a screen, the children guessing who was who as each little figure passed by. This made loads of fun, as it was done before they entered the big drawing room. I had better explain exactly how. As the guests arrived (and they were all very prompt) they were met by a maid who took them into a side room without removing their wraps. The screen was in plain view. Each guest was taken separately, the wrap removed and he or she was placed behind the screen. If the children recognized the character, that individual took a seat in the drawing room, the chairs being arranged in rows. When all were admitted there was a professional entertainer, who did wonderful tricks for 20 minutes, then there were games and dancing for a half hour. Refreshments were served in the upstairs ballroom, which had been transformed into a veritable "wonderland," with a bountiful use of gold and silver tinsel.

Many little surprises had been cleverly planned for the mystification of the young guests. For instance, there was an immense water lily made from paper and placed before a screen made from a clothes bar covered with crepe paper and ferns; there was a petal for each child, which, when pulled down revealed a plate containing an ice cream rabbit. From the mouth of a huge, fierce-looking cat there came cookies and from an enormous snow ball came wee boxes of bonbons. There was a witch who passed favors and a clown who distributed balloons. Wouldn't this a wonderful party? It sounds rather difficult to produce, but the hostess assured me that it had been a delight to get all ready, as she had the loving cooperation of a couple of young college men and two adoring aunts of the little hostess.

A Tennis Dinner.

This pretty dinner was given at the close of a season for a tennis club. I say the close of the season, for while it was in September and still real summer weather, the parting of the ways had come, as the members were to be widely separated for at least a year. The long dining room table was laid out like a "court," with a delicate green moss surrounded by a hedge of verbenas and delicate fern. The sections of the court were marked by narrow white satin ribbon, and across the court was net made from coarse dress material known as fish net. The ends were fastened into white stail stakes, which were wooden skewers fastened in blocks of wood which were concealed by flowers. The place cards were racquets and the favors were tiny wooden racquets, with delicious ball-shaped bonbons piled on them.

MADAME MERRILL

FANCIES OF FASHION

Hats are to be lower. Black satin tailor-mades are good. In materials, pied de poule is one of the newest.

The smartest new hats are low, broad affairs.

The plaited frill holds its vogue wonderfully well. Jet for buttons is not quite as popular as last year.

The colonel's plume is more, than ever worn on small hats.

Shaded automobile veils are among the novelties of the hour.

Yellow is one of the favorite colors as the summer advances.

Lace and plain linen turnovers will be worn on stocks of silk.

Patent leather belts with enameled or jeweled buckles are in the lead.

Eyebelt and open work designs are seen in embroidered, laundered, turnover collars.

Three Dainty Dresses

THE dainty dress at the left is of white batiste trimmed at the bottom and around the yoke and sleeves with embroidery. The yoke and the cuffs are of the batiste finely tucked. The sash is of ribbon finished in front with a sash end reaching to the bottom of the skirt and ornamented with little pink roses. The next dress is of old red voile. The front of the blouse and of the skirt are made with crosswise tucks and ornamented with bittons of the material. The blouse is trimmed at the top with a tucked band of the voile; the little sleeves and the bottom of the skirt are trimmed in the same way, and a similar band forms the girdle. The tucked guilpots and the puffed undersleeves are of white batiste. The dress at the right is pink silk voile. The blouse is shirred at the shoulders and crossed in front; the front is tucked and trimmed at the top with lace. The collarette is of full, as are also the puffed undersleeves, the latter trimmed with narrow bands of liberty. The sleeves themselves are wide and cut in one piece with the body of the waist. The skirt is trimmed at the bottom with two overlapping ruffles of the material. The girdle is of liberty, knotted at the left side.

Consultation and Examination Free, Office Hours All Day.

The eye is the most delicate mechanism of the human body, and is controlled by a system of nerves and muscles that perform with marvelous rapidity the most accurate and delicate work. If the eye is defective in any way, or has been strained so as to disassociate the action of the muscles, then two or three times as much nerve force is required to perform its work. Hence eye-strain with its attendant troubles—headache, inflamed eye lids, heavy feeling in forehead, blurring, print running together, and many nervous troubles, the worst of all these defects is astigmatism, and this is Dr. Kennedy's specialty.

A WORD TO PARENTS: We correct or strengthen Strabismus or cross eyes in children with glasses, the only known way by which to obtain a permanent correction. High grade prescription work our specialty.

WILL INGRAM LOGGED IN JAIL CHARGED WITH FELONY.

Will Ingram, a well known youth of the east side of the county, is again behind the jail walls charged with a felony. Ingram has been out of Calloway the past several months only returning here quite recently. Since returning however, he has not been letting the grass grow under his feet. He was arrested here in town Wednesday morning by Sheriff Jordan upon a warrant sworn out by J. A. Belcher, the association prizefighter of Almo. It seems that Ingram went to Mr. Belcher some few weeks ago and stated that he had five acres of growing tobacco and a mule and asked Belcher to advance him $50 on the property. Ingram executed a mortgage on both tobacco and mule and secured the money. A few days later he roped Eugene Tarry, of Dexter, out of $32 in a similar manner. He was in town Wednesday inquiring for C. E. Farmer, the association prizefighter of this place, when arrested. It developed that Ingram had neither tobacco or mule. Ingram was a star witness for the commonwealth in this county during the time men were being indicted upon a charge of night riding and upon his evidence decent, respectable citizens were hauled before the courts. He afterwards made an affidavit repudiating what he had sworn about a number of citizens and in his last affidavit stated that he was coerced into making the first statement. After making his last affidavit he was ordered to jail by Judge Wells and remained there for some time.

All parties indebted to Dr. Will Mason, Jr., for season of stock prior to 1910 are urged to request to settle at once. If no call and get your note, these matters must be settled. Yours truly,

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Cathartic Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surface of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists Everywhere. Take Hall's Family Pills for Constipation.
