State Personnel Board to discuss agriculture dept. audit findings

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Personnel Board is expected to consider a scathing audit of the Agriculture Department under former Commissioner Richie Farmer.

The State-Journal reports the panel on Monday will take its first action on the audit, which found evidence that candidates for merit positions were pre-selected, that monetary awards were issued without input from supervisors and that a merit employee's responsibilities were removed without documenting the action in a personnel file.

Personnel Board Executive Director Mark Sipek reserved comment until the board acts on state Auditor Adam Edelen's referral of the report.

Edelen also referred results of the audit to the Internal Revenue Service, Attorney General Jack Conway and the Executive Branch Ethics Commission.

Farmer's attorney, Guthrie True, said he thought an investigation focused on his client would be unlikely.

"I would think most of their investigation would be focused in conjunction with the current administration in the

Nunn's attorney withdraws, Nunn 'unable to pay'

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The lawyer who has represented former state lawmaker Steve Nunn since 2009 has withdrawn as his counsel.

The Lexington Herald-Leader reports that Warren Scoyville wrote in his motion to withdraw that Nunn is "currently incarcerated and unable to pay his attorney fees."

Fayette Circuit Judge James Ishmael approved the motion on Friday.

Nunn is serving a sentence of life without parole in the Sept. 11, 2009, shooting death of his former fiancée, 29-year-old Amanda Ross, outside her Lexington home.

2012 college grads enter improving job market

By SCOTT MAYEROWITZ AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The class of 2012 is leaving college with something that many graduates since the start of the Great Recession have lacked: jobs.

To the relief of graduating seniors — and their anxious parents — the outlook is brighter than it has been in four years. Campus job fairs were packed this spring and more companies are hiring. Students aren't just finding good opportunities, some are weighing multiple offers.

In some ways, members of the class of 2012 got lucky. They arrived on campus in September 2008, the same month that Wall Street investment bank Lehman Brothers collapsed, touching off a financial crisis that exacerbated the recession.

On campus, they were largely insulated from the collapsing U.S. economy. While older brothers and sisters graduated into a dismal job market, they took shelter in chemistry, philosophy and literature classes.

They used their college years to prepare for the brutal realities of the job market that would await them. They began networking for jobs much earlier, as freshmen in some cases. They pursued summer internships not simply as resume boosters, but as gateways to permanent jobs. And they developed more realistic expectations about landing a job in the ideal place and at the ideal salary.

On campuses across the country, spirits are more upbeat this spring, and the employment outlook is especially promising, according to interviews with three dozen seniors and career center directors.

"It's just been such a dramatic change from what we saw in 2008," says Mercy Eyadiel, who oversees career development at Wake Forest University in

Bridge span move pushed to Monday

By KEITH TODD KYTC District 1

Kentucky Transportation Officials said Sunday night that it will likely be sometime Monday before the new span for the Eggners Ferry Bridge and two cranes required to lift it into place can be transported from the Eddyville Riverport to the bridge site at Aurora.

Workers hoped to finish loading the second crane for transport before dark Sunday.

On Saturday, workers used excavators to construct a ramp required to move the cranes from shore to a barge were slowed by a layer of sub-surface mud. Several hundred tons of rock were hauled in to reinforce the ramp. The ramp construction crew also placed steel plating and heavy wooden supports along the ramp to spread out the weight of the cranes.

The replacement span and the equipment are scheduled for the 30-mile trip by water to the bridge site.

Once the steel truss arrives at the bridge, weather conditions will dictate how quickly it can be lifted into place onto the awaiting piers, said Keith Todd, KYTC District 1 spokesperson. Current weather forecasts are favorable for a productive week for bridge workers, he added.

Workers were not wasting time while the cranes were being loaded, said Todd. They have already started placing wooden form supports on the steel structure to help speed efforts to pour a new concrete deck on the span once it is in place on the awaiting piers.

The deck construction process could take 10 days to two weeks to complete. Concrete on the new deck will then need several days to cure before traffic can be fully restored at the crossing.

The US 68/KY 80 Eggners Ferry Bridge has been closed since Jan. 26, when the 8,200-ton cargo ship Delta Mariner slammed into the bridge and knocked a single 322-ft. span into Kentucky Lake.

Hall Contracting of Kentucky has a $7 million contract to replace the missing span with a requirement that the bridge be reopened to traffic by Memorial Day weekend. The bridge serves as the western entrance to the Land Between The Lakes National Recreation Area, providing a key transportation link for summer tourism travel in the Kentucky's Western Lakes Region.

The Eggners Ferry Bridge normally carries about 2,600 vehicles across Kentucky Lake each day at the Marshall-Trigg County Line between Aurora and Cadiz.

College grads...

From Front

Winston-Salem, N.C. Back then, openings disappeared overnight and companies were calling recent graduates to rescind offers. "It was a very bad, ugly situation."

The job market remains tough, even for those graduating from the best universities. Hiring is not back to its pre-recession level and plenty of seniors are leaving campuses without jobs. Yet this year's graduates are less likely to face the disappointment of moving back in with mom and dad, or being forced to work at a coffee shop to pay off loans.

"I was nervous that my college degree would go to waste," says Laura Mascari, who arrived on the University of Delaware's Newark campus in the fall of 2008. Mascari, who received two job offers, will work in marketing — her major — for chemicals giant DuPont.

Between September 2008 and August 2010, 6.9 million American jobs were eliminated. In the last year and a half, 3.1 million jobs have been created. The strengthening job market has made a big difference to seniors who are job-hunting in their final semester.

The unemployment rate for college graduates 24 and under averaged 7.2 percent from January through April. That rate, which is not adjusted for seasonal factors, is down from the first four months of 2011 (9.1 percent), 2010 (8.1 percent) and 2009 (7.8 percent.) For all Americans, the unemployment rate is 8.1 percent.

Wake Forest senior Lesley Gustafson started her job search during her freshman year.

She met with a career counselor to discuss her goals. Gustafson picked a double-major — computer science and political science — that made her more marketable. And she found internships every summer that helped her build skills and a network of professionals to offer advice. Gustafson was aggressive in other ways, too: she took part in mock interviews offered by the campus career center so that she'd be better prepared for real employer interviews.

Gustafson's work paid off. In March, she was offered a job with consulting firm Accenture.

"I knew I would find something," Gustafson says. "I was more nervous finding something that I would be interested in rather than having to take a job just to take one."

College career centers across the country are reporting seeing more students and seeing them earlier.

At the University of Chicago, just 46 percent of freshman sought advice in the 2008-2009 school year. This year, it is expected to be more than 80 percent.

Students' expectations have also changed. That dream job might just be a dream. Seniors are instead focusing on stepping-stone positions that will hopefully lead to better opportunities.

Department of Agriculture," True said.

The report by Edelen's office says the Agriculture Department under Farmer would sometimes a candidate who was the second or third recommended by the panel and one time hired someone who wasn't recommended.

Former personnel director Danita Fentress-Laird told auditors that sometimes the interview panel knew which candidate Farmer wanted hired and so would recommend that person first.

Laird also said Farmer would pick employees to receive monetary rewards for work excellence and then told her to create a reason for them.

Current Agriculture Commissioner James Comer said in a written response to the audit that he has fired about 20 employees.

motion for partial summary judgment in a wrongful-death lawsuit against Nunn by Ross' mother, Diana Ross.

Ishmael cited a rule that requires the court to appoint an attorney as guardian ad litem if a prisoner is unable to defend an action. The judge did not say when he would make the appointment.

Also on Friday, Fayette Circuit Judge Thomas Clark granted a motion to consolidate the wrongful-death suit with a second civil lawsuit filed by Diana Ross. This one faults the gated community of Opera House Square for allowing Nunn to gain access to Amanda Ross after she told them she had an emergency protective order against him.

Nunn, who spent about 15 years in the state legislature, is the son of the late Kentucky Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Legendary bass player 'Duck' Dunn dies in Tokyo

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald "Duck" Dunn, the bassist who helped create the gritty Memphis soul sound at Stax Records in the 1960s as part of the legendary group Booker T. and the MGs and contributed to such classics as "In the Midnight Hour," "Hold On, I'm Coming" and "Sitting on the Dock of the Bay," died Sunday at 70.

Dunn, whose legacy as one of the most respected session musicians in the business also included work with John Belushi and Dan Aykroyd's Blues Brothers as well as with Levon Helm, Eric Clapton, Neil Young and Bob Dylan, died while on tour in Tokyo. News of his death was posted on the Facebook site of his friend and fellow musician Steve Cropper, who was on the same tour. Cropper said Dunn died in his sleep.

Dunn was born in Memphis, Tenn., in 1941, and according to the biography on his official website, was nicknamed for the cartoon character by his father. His father, a candy maker, did not want him to be a musician.

"He thought I would become a drug addict and die. Most parents in those days thought music was a pastime, something you did as a hobby, not a profession," Dunn said.

Hickory Woods HAPPENINGS

by Annita Peeler

The winners of our Kentucky Derby event was Carl Saninato for the Kentucky Oaks Race and Lorraine Maggard for the Kentucky Derby Race. Congratulations winners!

Our birthday guy this week is Ruble Taylor. He had several guests and received all kinds of birthday presents. He'll probably have to rest up next week after all of his birthday events!

To celebrate Mother's Day, we "pampered" our women this week. The Hickory Woods "spa" was opened and Jenise and Mitzi pampered our ladies with pedicures on Wednesday and manicures on Thursday. We were looking might fine by Mother's Day.

On Friday we honored our mothers with a Mother's Day luncheon. The dining room was decorated with fresh flowers and our new pink tablecloths. We served salads, little sandwiches and cheese-cake (women food) at their luncheon. Even our employees got to sit and enjoy the luncheon with the residents. Jenise and Mitzi entertained us with a skit about mothers. Our men very graciously let the women have the complete dining room and they ate their McDonald's burgers and fries in the activity room in front of the big screen tv. Their special day will be coming in June when we will honor them on Father's Day.

Breakfast this week. Sooyeon Kim, a student from Seoul, South Korea, was chosen for the honor. She is the daughter of Tae-Jo Kim and Jounge-Ae Ea.

Kim will receive a bachelor's degree in pre-medicine/biology in May. She minored in German and chemistry. A Dean's list student, Kim has a 4.0 grade point average. She plans to attend medical school after graduation.

An honors program student at Murray State, Kim is a member of several honors organizations including Alpha Lambda Delta, of which she was president, Alpha Mu Gamma national foreign language honor society, White College Honor Society

LAKERS CAN'T OVERCOME THREE COSTLY ERRORS IN RARE LOSS

By JACK KEES
Sports Writer

The Calloway County baseball team took a tough loss to Apollo, the state's ninth-ranked team, Saturday afternoon, 6-2.

The Lakers notched two errors in the opening frame, one of which allowed Apollo to score on a bad throw, and the other scored a run on a wild pitch by Garrett Cowen and gave the Eagles a 4-0 lead.

"I think we came out a little timid today," head coach Zach Hobbs said. "Apollo is a very good baseball team, we were a little bit caught up in how good they actually are, I think we were a little nervous in the beginning, we made a couple errors, and they had a couple hits scattered in.

"Probably should have been two earned runs, and we ended up giving them four, so we just have to come out ready to play."

The Lakers scored one run in the second inning when Dain Satterwhite crossed on an RBI single by Clint Craig and cut the lead to 4-1.

Hobbs had a solid team approach to the rest of the game, as Calloway needed to fight back from the deficit inch by inch.

"We finally settled in, and we knew we weren't trying to make up all the runs in one inning, we tried to get one here and there and hold it in check," Hobbs said.

The Laker defense stepped up after the rough first inning, and held the Eagles to only two hits from the second through fifth innings.

"I thought Garrett settled in and threw really well for us," Hobbs said. "Defensively we started playing better, we had a better plan at the plate after that first inning, and we settled in and made some adjustments."

In the bottom of the fifth, Dylan Dwyer, Hugh Paschall, Cowen, and Andrew Fraher all singled, but Paschall was the only one to cross the plate as the Lakers cut the deficit in half with two to go.

In the top of the sixth, Cowen gave up a solo homerun to Apollo's Wesley Purcell, and the Lakers couldn't respond in the bottom of the inning, as they hit into two groundouts while Paschall was struck out.

The top of the seventh brought in Ryan Butler to close out the game for the Lakers, as Cowen had thrown 91 pitches, struck out nine batters, with six hits and a walk.

Hobbs said the switch was necessary for the team, as Cowen was closing in on his pitch count, and needed to stay as fresh as possible, especially with the year coming to a close.

"Our goal is the post-season, not winning a game on May 12, but making a run in the post season. So we had to keep ourselves in line for that," Hobbs

FOURTH DISTRICT BASEBALL Seeds set for next week's 4th District Tournament

MURRAY HIGH WILL FACE CCA BEFORE CALLOWAY COUNTY TAKES ON HOST MARSHALL

By JACK KEES
Sports Writer

The Fourth District baseball tournament will begin on May 22 at Marshall County, and the result of the blind draw set up the potential for another crosstown classic in the district championship, as Murray High will take on Community Christian, and Calloway County will take on the host, Marshall County.

The Lakers hold the best record in the district at 25-6-1, ahead of with Murray an 18-11 record. Community Christian follows closely at 17-6, while the Marshalls have 14 wins to go with 19 losses.

Calloway County head coach Zach Hobbs said his team isn't concerned with who they play, as all the teams will be at their best on the 22nd.

"Our approach to the game wasn't going to change no matter who we drew," Hobbs said. "All four teams in the district have a good arm, and they are all good teams, so we really didn't care who we drew, whether it was CCA, Murray or Marshall, we've got to take care of what we control, and that's how we play the game, and if we do that there is nothing we can worry about the other team."

Murray head coach Mike Johnson echoed those comments, but added his Tigers have already faced Community Christian in an elimination game this season.

"Our district is a solid district, and you don't get an easy draw," Johnson said. "Every body's got one really good pitcher, and a couple teams have two or three."

"We're going to take whoever we get, CCA beat us in the All-A in nine innings and we

Tigers claw back, can't finish off Union County

LOLLAR'S 2-FOR-3 DAY NOT ENOUGH AS MURRAY HIGH FALLS TO BRAVES

By JACK KEES
Sports Writer

The Murray High baseball team took a swing at the Second Region's top team and defending champion Union County Saturday evening in a dreary game that took eight innings and gave the Tigers another loss, 7-4, heading into the last week of the regular season.

Murray's Austin Adams took the mound against the Braves, and turned in a solid performance despite a shaky start which gave Union a 2-0 lead in the first. Adams looked to pitch five innings going into the game, but was able to go seven, giving up four runs, while striking out 12 and only walking two.

"Austin did a good job on the mound," head coach Mike Johnson said. "He has been kind of battling injuries all year and that's the first game he's been able to go five or six innings, and he ended up going seven, and once he got everything going, he did a good job."

The Murray offense took a couple innings to get going, after all three batters were struck out in the bottom of the first. Senior Aaron Wilson drove a single to center field in the second, but received no support as the Union pitcher was on early, and collected outs by Dustin Bevil and Grant McDonald to end the third.

Adams returned the favor for the Tigers in the third, as he struck out all three Braves batters, and gave up a single. The home half of the third began as the previous two had, however after two more strikeouts, lead-off man and senior Sawyer

Lawson sent a shot to center field and thanks to a bobble by the outfielder, was able to turn it into a triple, which coach Johnson said sparked the offense.

"(Lawson) hit a ball in the gap and the guy mis-played it a little bit after it bounced. Sawyer was playing wide open and I look up and he's already around second," Johnson said.

Zack Grogan followed Lawson in more than just the batting order, as he sent an RBI double to right field, then reached third on a balk by the Braves' pitcher. John Lollar, who was coming in off a nearly perfect game on the mound Friday night, singled to second to bring Grogan home and tie up the score, but was stranded on second when Adams was thrown out at first on a passed ball.

"That (inning) kind of got us going offensively, and we ended up getting two to tie it up," Johnson said.

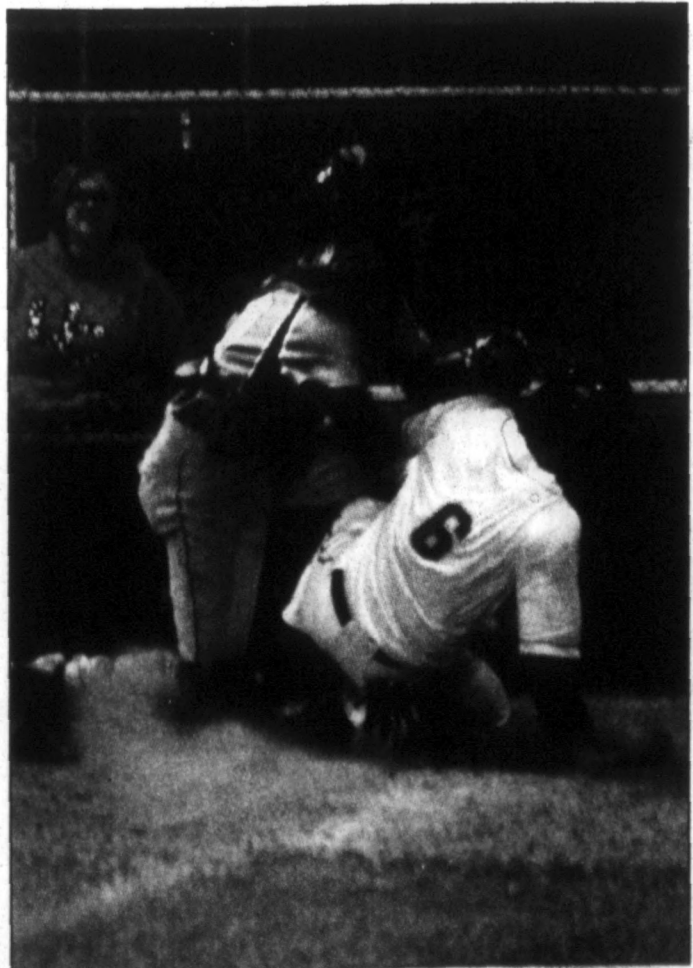

Adams got through the fourth and fifth innings without a blemish against the Union offense, but in the sixth gave away the lead on a single and a double which led to a run, and a 3-2 score.

Lollar was walked to lead off the bottom of the sixth, and Adams singled to left field and sent Lollar to second, he then advanced to third on a wild pitch and was brought home to tie the game when Wilson singled. Wilson was thrown out at second to end the inning.

In the top of the seventh, Adams was still going strong, as he collected another strikeout to start the inning, but gave up a full count single, which yielded an error for the Tigers and a go ahead run for the Braves, but the pitcher managed another strikeout to end the inning, and give the home team a chance to walk it off.

OVC SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT: TENNESSEE TECH 5, MURRAY STATE 3

Murray State's season ends with two-run loss to Tech

RACERS FALL AFTER EARNING WAY INTO CHAMPIONSHIP SATURDAY FOR FIRST TIME IN PROGRAM'S HISTORY

From MSU Athletics
Murray State had its 2012 season come to a close Saturday morning, dropping its second game at the OVC Softball Championships in a 5-3 defeat against Tennessee Tech in the final game of the elimination bracket.

Tennessee Tech (26-31), the visiting team on the scoreboard, took advantage of a fielding error in its first at-bat as Brittney Spalding singled to the inning as the first three batters reached base and a Chanelle Spalding double scored a pair as TTU jumped ahead 5-1.

The Racers were able to bring the tying run to the plate in the bottom of the sixth as Alexa Becker and Mandi Kellerman reached on singles, and Elynn Troup drew a full-count walk with one out to load the bases. Tennessee Tech traded an out for a run in getting the inning's second out, choosing to tag Leslie Bridges on a slow ground ball down the first base line while letting Becker score from third without a play at the plate.

some noise again in the bottom of the seventh as Christian Cox drew a lead-off walk and Megan Glosser poked an infield single past the TTU third baseman on her third hit of the game. Mo Ramsey reached on a fielder's choice on a ground ball to the second baseman as TTU got the force out at second. A ground out to short by Becker for the second out of the inning scored Cox from third, but that would be all the Racers could score as the game ended in a 5-3 MSU loss.

The Racers wrap up the 2012 season with the best record in school's history.

Lady Lakers split two in weekend tournament

Staff Report

The Calloway County softball team split a doubleheader in the Raincatcher Invitational Saturday, losing 9-2 to Gibson Southern out of Indiana, and winning 4-2 against Hopkins County Central.

The Lakers were led by pitcher Brittany Reynolds, who threw a complete game, with a strikeout and a walk, and gave up two runs, but got even with her adversary at the plate, as she went 3-for-3 with two singles and a double.

Calloway got going early, as Karlee Wilson nailed a triple on the second pitch of the game, and was brought around by a Lauren Benson single to break open scoring for the game.

Reynolds held strong from the circle, as she retired the first nine Storm batters, and got her first hit in the third inning when the Lakers scored three runs en route to a 4-0 lead through three innings.

The Lady Storm broke up the perfect game in the fourth inning, when they scored a pair of runs to cut the lead in half, but both teams held strong throughout the last three innings, as Calloway held on for the win.

The Lakers weren't as lucky in the later game, as Laken-Kelso took the mound and gave up 10 hits and three walks, with one strikeout.

The Calloway defense gave up nine runs, with three errors to help Gibson Southern, who scored two in the first and third, one in the fifth, and added four more insurance runs in the top of the seventh inning, while the Lakers scored in the third on an RBI bunt by Wilson to bring around Erin Burton, and in the fifth on a double by Benson to score Wilson.

Calloway couldn't make anything else happen at the plate as they dropped their 11th game of the season.

rally caps in what could have been the final frame, as Carver Lawson reached first on an error, but was followed by a strikeout by his older brother. Grogan singled on the first pitch of the at-bat, and sent the younger Lawson to third, who was brought around to tie the game on a single by Lollar.

Grogan came within feet of scoring the walk-off run, but was thrown out at home, which brought up the Tigers' second extra-inning game in as many days.

Alex Miller took the mound in relief of Adams, and quickly gave up five hits and three runs, which turned out to be a deficit the team couldn't dig themselves out of, as the final frame went three up, three down for the Tigers' offense.

"They did a good job, we battled, and we're talking about the top team in the second region, and we played with them for seven innings," Johnson said.

"We gave them a couple of runs, and if you give good teams runs, they're going to beat you and we had a play at the bottom of the seventh where they threw our guy out at the plate, and in the eighth inning, they had a couple balls fall and scored two or three runs, and we just couldn't match it."

The Tigers will try to avenge last Thursday's 5-2 loss to Graves County tonight at 7:30 in Mayfield as they begin the last week of the regular season.

Butler gave up three hits, a walk and one run in the final inning, as the Lakers are now worried about games occurring next week, not this week.

The Lakers dropped their second straight game after winning seven in a row, but as coach Hobbs said, May 22 will be the next really important game the team will play when they open the district tournament against Marshall County.

Hobbs said he will use this week to prepare for the tournament, as Laker ace Dylan Dwyer will start one more game, and will rest until the opening-round game against the Marshals.

"Dwyer gets the ball May 22,

I'm going to hand him the ball when the game starts, and he's not giving it back until the game is over," Hobbs said. "That's how that's going to go, there's no mystery to it. He'll throw Tuesday against Hopkinsville, and that will be his last regular season start, and he'll have a full week to get ready to go against Marshall. Dylan will get the ball and we'll go from there."

"He'll play outfield or designated hitter for the (other games) until we get to the post season," Hobbs said.

Hobbs had one last issue to resolve regarding Apollo and the first region before the post season begins: "Hopefully we will see these guys in Lexington in a few weeks."

feel like whoever we drew we were going to be able to compete with them, we are trying to play our best ball."

The teams still have one more week of the regular season to play, which both coaches have said is strictly a tune-up week where wins and losses aren't as important as solid play.

"We've just got to get more consistent," Johnson said. "We played better today (Saturday), we need to build on that, and play the best ball we can heading into the district."

Looking Back

Ten years ago Pictured are Jim Glison, John Carpenter and Floyd Carpenter working on their Sigma Chi entry for the annual Murray Rotary Club Soapbox Derby, to be held June 1.

National Hospital Week will be honored May 12-18 and a proclamation was signed noting the week by Calloway County Judge-Executive Larry Wilkins and Murray mayor Freed Curd.

Four former Murray High baseball players, Tommy Rushing (Class of 1956), Thomas Kendall, (1979) Tony Herndon (1981) and Ethan Crum (1996) were inducted into the program's Hall of Fame during a pre-game ceremony.

The Murray Mud Dogs played long ball, slugging 13 home runs, including 10 in one game, to finish third among 10 teams in the rain-shortened Mums Love Baseball USSSA tournament.

Thirty years ago Tracy Beyer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Louise Beyer, and Erin O'Brien, daughter of Col. and Mrs. John E. O'Brien, will serve as valedictorian and salutatorian during Murray High School's commencement exercises May 20.

Groundbreaking for expansion and renovation projects at Westview Nursing Home will be May 17, according to Harold Beaman, administrator.

A recent birth reported at Murray-Calloway County Hospital for April 26 includes a boy to Mr. and Mrs. Mark Vincent, Benton.

Installed as vice president was Ann Brooks, as second vice president, Ginny Cribfield, as recording secretary, Evelyn Wallis, as corresponding secretary, Dorothy McKenzie and as treasurer, Billie Hall.

In high school baseball, the Murray High Tigers beat Ft. Campbell High School 5-3. Pitcher Darren Hooper had his best performance of the season.

Teen with traffic violations may get ticket only to ride

DEAR ABBY: My niece, "Amy," got her driver's license last November. Since then she has been stopped six times for violations. Unfortunately, she wasn't ticketed for any of them -- just given warnings. Who knows how many other times she should have been ticketed?

Dear Abby By Abigail Van Buren

When Amy told me about it, she acted like it was a joke and something she was proud of. Her parents are divorced and her father spoils her beyond reason. He gives her whatever she wants, including buying her a new car. Her mother has little control over her.

My niece doesn't seem to understand the possible consequences or what serious damage a car can do to her or to someone else. How should I handle this? I have no contact with her father. Any ideas? -- CONCERNED AUNT

DEAR CONCERNED AUNT: Although Amy was old enough to get her license, she is not yet mature enough to handle the responsibility that goes along with driving. For her sake I hope you will impress upon her mother that LIVES could depend upon her exerting control over her daughter.

Many states restrict conditions under which a teen may drive a car. In addition, many parents draft a driving contract that stipulates things like what kind of grade-point average their teenager must maintain to keep his or her driving privileges, limiting the number of passengers he or she can transport and certain distance limits.

Other restrictions can be added at the parents' option. A version of the following contract has appeared in my column before:

I (), agree to the stipulations stated below granting me the privilege of driving. If, at any time, I violate this agreement, my driving privileges will be forfeited.

(1) Should I get a traffic ticket, I agree to pay for the ticket, as well as the difference in the insurance premium for as long as the premium is in effect.

(2) I agree to pay for damages that I incur that are not covered by insurance.

(3) At no time will I ever text or use a cellphone while driving.

(4) At no time will I ever drink alcoholic beverages and drive, nor will there ever be any in my car.

(5) I will not drive the car until I and all passengers have buckled up.

(6) I will keep the car I drive clean, inside and out, be aware of its need for gas, oil, etc., and wax it as needed.

I have read the above agreement and will sign it in accordance with the rules.

SIGNED: (CHILD)

I hope you will share this information with Amy's mother, because in careless hands a car can be as dangerous as a loaded gun.

DEAR ABBY: My 60-year-old sister is being married for the third time. She's planning to wear a long, white wedding gown and will be having a maid of honor, bridesmaids, a rehearsal dinner and reception. We are encouraging her to have a small, quiet ceremony with only family and close friends. Who is correct? -- REALISTIC SISTER

DEAR SISTER: According to the etiquette books, you are. However, the rules regarding brides and weddings have become so pliable that couples pretty much do as they please these days.

Creatine is not the answer for buildings muscle in boys

DEAR DOCTOR K: My son wants to play football, but he's smaller than the other boys. Is it safe for him to take a nutritional supplement such as creatine to increase his muscle?

DEAR READER: Many teens, especially athletes, want to be bigger and stronger, and a fair number use creatine to do so.

One study found that nearly 10 percent of high school boys have used it. Another study found that nearly half of college men have used it.

Creatine is sold as a supplement, but it is found naturally in the body, mostly in muscle. It increases the production of an "energy molecule" called adenosine triphosphate (ATP).

Creatine does not increase strength, but it may increase how well some athletes are able to train. There's some evidence that it can help young athletes build muscle mass. And it may improve athletic performance that requires short bursts of muscle activity, such as sprinting or weightlifting. These benefits are established mainly in younger men, and not in women or in older men. Also, there is no evidence that it helps athletes in endurance sports.

One problem with nutritional supplements such as creatine is that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA), which normally checks the safety of foods and medicines, does not check the safety of nutritional supplements. The FDA does not investigate to be sure the manufacturing process has prevented impu-rities from entering the supplement. There is little information on the short-term side effects -- particularly in children or teens.

Also, the immediate and long-term safety of creatine is not known. For that reason, creatine is banned by some sports organizations. Some reported side effects include muscle cramping, stomach pain, diarrhea, vomiting, rash, seizure, heart-rhythm problems and kidney problems.

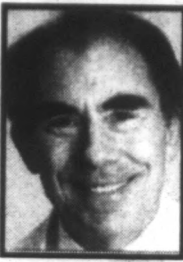

Because of these side effects, and the fact that it is not a regulated substance, it is probably best that your son not use supplements. I'd say the best way for him to be athletic and at the top of his game is to stay healthy. Remind him to eat a well-balanced diet and exercise regularly. Make sure he is getting the amount of sleep he needs for his body to rest and grow.

He must also realize that he has not completed puberty yet and still has room to grow -- taller and wider. His muscles will bulk up naturally when he exercises, when the time is right for him.

Check in with his coach. Ask about suggestions for a weight-training program that might help him to get ready for football.

Even though you asked about your son, your question prompts me to mention one last thing. Some of my older patients have asked me about using creatine, along with exercise, to help fight the loss of muscle mass that comes with age. I tell them that I don't think there is good evidence that creatine has benefits for older people.

Today In History

By the Associated Press Today is Monday, May 14, the 135th day of 2012. There are 231 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On May 14, 1912, the first movie inspired by the Titanic disaster was released just a month after the British liner sank. "Saved From the Titanic," a one-reel drama produced by the Eclair Film Co. of Fort Lee, N.J., starred Dorothy Gibson, an actress who had been an actual passenger on the doomed ship; she wore for the movie the same outfit she was wearing when rescued. ("Saved From the Titanic" is considered lost, the only known copies having been destroyed in a fire in 1914.)

On this date: In 1643, Louis XIV became King of France at age four upon the death of his father, Louis XIII.

In 1796, English physician Edward Jenner inoculated 8-year-old James Phipps against smallpox by using cowpox matter.

In 1804, the Lewis and Clark expedition to explore the Louisiana Territory as well as the Pacific Northwest left camp near present-day Hartford, Ill. In 1961, Freedom Riders were attacked by violent mobs in Anniston and Birmingham, Ala.

In 1973, the United States launched Skylab 1, its first manned space station.

In 1987, actress Rita Hayworth died in New York at age 68.

In 1998, singer-actor Frank Sinatra died at a Los Angeles hospital at age 82.

Ten years ago: Former President Jimmy Carter addressed Cuba in an unprecedented hour of live, uncensored television.

Horoscope

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Tuesday, May 15, 2012:

This year you have two different themes running through your life. The first few months, you focus on expanding your horizons and realizing an important goal. The second period you will tend to go within more to process your thoughts. If you are single, you meet people whom you carefully want to check out. If you are attached, the two of you will want more time alone as a couple. ARIES knows how to trigger a reaction from you.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)  Much more can be accomplished when you are upbeat. Others tend to work with you, with the exception of a key person who cares a lot about you and vice versa. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) * You have an enormous wealth of information and a well of creativity. Mix these traits together, and you'll seem unstoppable. You could feel let down in some odd way.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) * Handle a personal or domestic matter first. Make sure you do not overspend, especially in an effort to appease someone or appeal to others. Take a few hours to slow down. CANCER (June 21-July 22) * You are likely to speak your mind, and you'll be heard, up to a point. Someone makes an implicit demand that you play his or her game, or else he or she might not "get" your method of communication. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) * You recently have been skimming through your life when dealing with various people. Somehow you manage to get your message across and receive their responses, but at what cost? VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) * Others recently have played a dominant role in your life. You wonder when you need to say "enough." Perhaps you have been too receptive. A partner needs and wants more of your time. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) * Plunge into each task at hand. You might note that someone or something could be pulling you back. Honor that restriction now and for the next few weeks.

by Jacqueline Bigar

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) * Enjoy the people you encounter. Though you might not want to start a new relationship, a proclivity to revamp a current one or to work through a problem emerges. Go with this inclination. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)  You move from a place of concern or feeling a bit off to a great sense of self and a source of 'creativity. A meeting might appear to be going in one direction, but it actually could flip and point to a new path. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) * Sometimes you feel as if you must make the first move, but how many times must you? Clearly this activity brings you some happiness, or the result makes it worthwhile. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)  You might want to indulge someone but feel like you can't because you will want to go overboard. Know that you can stay within your budget -- you just have to be creative. PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) * Your magnetism attracts many people and results in odd reactions. Do not be surprised if you suddenly have difficulty relating to a loved one. Let this person know how much you care.
