Weather Guess --

KENTUCKY AND TENNESSEE: --

ESTABLISHED 1898.

THE LISTENING POST

● I cannot tell, certainly, whether the state officials know what they are talking about, but if they have the proof, their announcement means a windfall in the way of taxes for many counties and school districts in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. A few days ago Commissioner Reeves stated that plans had been worked out under which it would really be possible to sell property for delinquent taxes and give a good title. He estimated that there was a total of four million dollars now due in the state on back taxes, and of this total about three and a half million is due the counties and school districts of the state, the balance being due the state.

● As is quite well known, the laws governing the sale of property for taxes has been quite vague in Kentucky. It is quite true that the sheriffs of the various counties sell a lot of property every year for delinquent taxes, but this property is always bid in by the sheriff for the state or the county. Test suits regarding title have invariably failed in court, because of rulings that sales were invalid, and as a natural consequence the annual sale of property has been largely a formality and about the only result of these was that the tax against this property was perpetuated and could be collected in case of a final settlement by death of the owner or its transfer to other persons.

● This condition existed even more forcibly in the school districts. In this case no sales were attempted here in Fulton. Delinquencies, while not extremely high, were always estimated in the annual budgets, and I presume it is still true that several thousand dollars can be found which is due and which has never been paid. When it was delinquent it was the usual custom to employ an attorney to collect, and the attorney could usually collect a portion of the delinquency. But all of it was never collected, and in past years several thousand dollars has gone into the outlawed class and will never be collected.

● This condition brought quite a problem to the local board of education a few years ago, when tax collections, due to the financial collapse, fell off alarmingly. Delinquency was already a problem, and it was difficult to base a budget on a tax income which seemed certain to shrink to new lows before the end of the school year. Fortunately, this condition cleared up as business conditions became better, but it also brought on a fresh crop of tax evaders who found that little could be done if taxes were not paid. In fact, it was openly said that the board of education could not legally collect back taxes and the belief was fairly general.

● As a matter of fact, a vast majority of Fulton people are proud of their school system and are willing to pay the necessary tax to see that the system is not handicapped. A certain number, however, not sharing in this feeling of pride and not being willing to pay the tax, took refuge in the belief that the board could not legally collect the back taxes because it had no authority to sell property and give a clear title. I have no idea how much money from these back taxes might be available, but surmise that it might be quite a large sum.

● The city also has a large amount which is unpaid, and while I do not know whether the state opinion applies to city taxes, I can see that if the opinion holds up it will certainly be the means of collecting several thousand dollars in Fulton county and in the various school districts of the county. Whether it will really stand up remains to be seen, but if officials can really sell property and convey a clear title it will bring an end to willful tax evasion.

Leaf Taxes May Pass 100 Million

21 States Report Collections Of $79,464,900.

Chicago, — State tobacco tax collections "may pass the $100,000,000 mark for the 1939 fiscal year," the Federation of State Tax Administrators reported Sunday.

It based this estimate on figures from twenty-one of the twenty-six states taxing tobacco and announced that collections of the twenty-one states were $79,464,900. In seventeen states which collected tobacco taxes in both 1938 or a gain of 13 per cent. Four other states which collected the tax for the first time this year obtained revenue of $35,991,000.

Five states had not yet reported their 1939 revenues, but if their tax income shows "comparable gains," the total tax yield will be "well over $90,000,000," compared with collections of $80,000,000 in 1938.

The Federation reported that "Federal tobacco taxes increased 5 per cent rate in state yields, well above the increase in consumption indicated by the Federal figure, would seem to indicate that the efforts of tax administrators to eradicate evasion are bearing fruit."

New York State received the largest amount of tobacco tax revenue in 1940 with $31,939,000 and Pennsylvania was second with $12,000,000.

Thirteen of the twenty-six states tax only cigarettes, four tax cigarettes, papers and tubes, and nine tax cigarettes, cigars and other tobacco products.

Mrs. Spence Dies Today In Dresden

Mrs. Sara E. Morgan Spence, wife of the late Thornton J. Spence, died early this morning at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Thomas Reagin, at Dresden, Tenn., following a stroke of paralysis. Mrs. Spence, who was 84 years of age, was born in Mississippi, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Morgan, and moved to Wesley County, Tenn., near Nashville, when a girl. There she was married to Thornton J. Spence.

Surviving her are to son, Burton Spence of Fulton, Jim Spence of Heber Springs, Ark.; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Grubbs of Martin; ten grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from New Hope church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Kelly, assisted by Rev. H. W. Davis of Dresden. Burial will be in a near-by cemetery, in charge of W. W. Jones & Sons.

The body will lie-in-state at the home of her son, Burton Spence, 413 East State Line, until the hour of funeral.

Dies Probers Prepare To Issue "Red Paper" Discussing Com.

Washington, — The Dies committee, at odds with the Justice Department as to the best methods of combating subversive activity, was reported today almost ready to issue a "red paper" dealing with alleged Communist operations in the United States.

Using the description "red paper" to describe the forthcoming report, an authoritative source said it was heavily documented and almost twice as bulky as the 200-page "white paper" which the committee released last week, setting forth evidence on alleged German efforts at espionage, sabotage and economic penetration here.

The committee's differences with the Justice Department meanwhile were headed for a White House discussion.

The chairman of the committee, Representative Dies (D., Texas), together with State and Justice Department officials, has been in-

Record Crowd Attend Baptist Church Yesterday

A record crowd attended the dedicatory services at the First Baptist Church yesterday morning, at which time the last note in payment of the church indebtedness was burned by G. H. Duley. Rev. G. H. Warren, of Lebanon, Tenn., who was pastor of the church when it was erected, was the guest pastor for the dedicatory sermon, with Rev. Woodrow Fuller of Corbin, Ky., preaching at the evening services. The pastor, Rev. E. A. Aubrey, presided over the dedicatory services at the morning hour.

The music by the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Gregory, with Miss Mignon Wright at the organ, was at its best. C. H. Warren, Jr., rendered a tenor solo, "The Holy City," at the morning hour. In the evening Mrs. Walter Voelkel sang "O Lord, Most Holy," a contralto solo, accompanied by Mrs. Norman Frey, violinist, and Miss Wright, organist.

In attendance was Mr. Matt Norman, who helped lay the brick for the first Baptist church ever built in Fulton. Mr. Norman, who possesses undaunted courage and spirit for the church, has been active in the building of all three buildings the church has had.

There were four additions to the church.

Out-of-town visitors included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wingham, Mr. Charles Thompson of Memphis, H. L. Hardy, Jr., of Murray, Mrs. Alwell Hendrix, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pierce, Miss Annie Lee Cochran, of Union City, Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Warren, C. H. Warren, Jr., and Miss Nell Warren of Lebanon, Tenn., Rev. and Mrs. Woodrow Fuller and daughter, Ann, of Corbin, Henry Bennett of Jackson, Rev. Warren Clapp of Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richardson of Martin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Stockdale, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Melton, Miss Martha Melton, Tommie Melton, Mrs. Glenn Robertson and son, Dick, all of Paducah, Ralph Cantrell of Norfolk, Va., Mrs. Flora Williams of Clinton, and Mrs. Harry Jonakin of Dyersburg.

Spain Makes Civil War Orphans Wards Of Nation

Madrid, — Spain's civil war orphans without close relatives to care for them have been "adopted" by the state and provisions have been made for their care and education.

Measures announced Sunday affect thousands of children who, until now, have been dependent on public charity or have had to shift for themselves.

They will be entrusted in some cases to families and in others to institutions, but in all cases a special board of the national social and organization will keep watch over them.

Industry Whirls At Best Pace In Ten Years As Business Increases

New York, — American industry whirled along at the swiftest pace in a decade last week, but business men expressed increasing preoccupation with the Pandora's box of problems presented by a war-gear-ed economy.

Taxes, inventories, prices, wages, all came in for discussion as business moved steadily toward a new year which appeared certain to set historic production records.

When Senator Frank Harrison revealed that the administration at Washington had decided no further tax increases retroactive to 1940 would be sought from Congress, the news seemed only to have emphasized the fact that 1941 levies would surpass even present high rates. Some Washington quarter predicted an effort to raise $10,000,000,000 a peace-time high, by taxation next year.

To rising taxes was being added the even more pressing problem of pouring into the law of the hungry industrial machine the fodder of raw and semi-finished materials necessary to keep up and increase its present rapid tempo.

What this means to the thousands of factories throughout the country, and to the markets for many kinds of industrial raw products, was indicated by the monthly survey of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, whose members are responsible for the buying policies of a good part of the country's leading concerns.

"Opinion persists," the association said, "that xxx the haste to furnish supplies, ammunition and equipment for defense and armament purposes has many months yet to run in this country."

"Consequently, in most lines of industry, buyers cannot afford to do otherwise than have essential production materials covered well through the first half of next year, and in certain items the steeper these purchases are made the better, even though rapidly changing price structures are not anticipated in the immediate future."

Boy, 2, Locks Self In Bathroom And Just Laughs

Chicago, — Police Officer John Weston and George Sepulveda rescued 2-year-old Sheldon Dunn from the bathroom of his home without laying a hand on the lad or gaining entrance to the locked room.

Unable to crawl through the small window, the officers whittled a notch in the end of a pole, pointed it through the window, fitted the notch against the inside of the door and unlocked it. Little Sheldon thoroughly enjoyed the feat. For more than an hour his mother had pleaded with him to unlock the door. He only laughed and said: "I don't wanna."

2 High School Boys Roasted To Death In Car Crash

Fairfax, Va., — Two high school students were roasted to death in the luggage compartment of a coupe early Sunday when the lid slammed down and trapped them after a collision which caused the car to catch fire.

The driver, Dennis Burdick, 15, also was trapped and burned to death while two companions in the front seat, William Remington, 14, and Robert Carlton, 15, were severely injured. Doris Finlayson, 18, perished in the luggage compartment, where they all were riding. The fire, all of Washington, were on their way home from a barn dance.

Paper Speculates Odd Light Beam In Secret Weapon

London, — The Daily Mail reported today the possibility that a new "mystery weapon" is being tried out against German night bombers. It said London observers had noted a peculiar horizontal beam of light in the sky during barrage operations.

Sometimes the beam was seen at 10,000 feet and again at 30,000 feet, cutting across the rays of searchlights, on the ground, it seemed narrower than searchlight rays and was a sort of bluish-white ribbon which disappeared for periods and then flashed a half a dozen times in one minute.

Lone Oak Hears It Must Be A City To Get Water Plant

Paducah, Ky., — The only hope of the McCracken County community of Lone Oak, two miles south of here, to erect its own water plant is to incorporate as a sixth class city, William Crutcher, Louisville attorney, told a gathering of Lone Oak citizens.

The community had planned to issue revenue bonds for the water plant construction, but leaders in the plan were advised that only municipalities legally could float such bonds.

Opposition to Lone Oak becoming a town was voiced by a group of residents, but they agreed to appointment of a committee to ascertain feeling of the entire population.

Welles Expecting Better Relations With Russia

Washington, — Sumner Welles, Undersecretary of State, today said he hoped diplomatic talks with Russia would continue and added that he expected improvement in commercial relations between the countries to result.

Commenting on his talk Wednesday with Constantine Oumanovsky, Soviet Ambassador, Welles told a press conference it was friendly and constructive.

The objective, Welles said, was to remove questions causing friction in economic and commercial relations. One result, he said, was Russia's agreement to allow an American consulate at Vladivostok. Asked if this was being done in anticipation of increased trade with Russia, he answered in the affirmative.

Welles said that early in January commercial relations will be improved and that American goods will be able to move more freely into Russia.

Better Mousetrap Maker Awaiting World's Plaudits

Los Angeles — Frank Ford has done his part. Now he's waiting for the world to beat a path to his door.

He has built a better mouse trap—a sort of endless chain mouse trap—which he explains thus:

Not much sooner has a mouse, enticed within by the inevitable hum of cheese, been caught and electrocuted by an 8,000-volt current than his lifeless form drops through a trapdoor and the mechanism is ready for its next victim.

While waiting for the path to be beat, Ford will exhibit his contraption at the annual Inventor's Congress here next week.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Fred Hudson, who sustained gunshot wounds three weeks ago, is improving in the Fulton hospital.

Mrs. W. H. Cox was dismissed Sunday from the Fulton hospital.

Taxpayers Need Fear No More Tax Boosts For Next Year—Levies Stand

Washington, — The nation's millions of income taxpayers, both corporations and plain citizens, were assured by President Roosevelt and congressional finance experts today that they need expect no further increase in their tax bills for 1941.

While sharp increases, designed to help meet defense-related expenditures, appeared to be almost certain for the levies on 1941 incomes, Chairman Harrison (D., Minn.), of the Senate finance committee announced that further retroactive taxes on this year's income were out of the picture.

This was decided, Harrison said, at a supper conference which the President held last night with Treasury officials and leaders of interested congressional committees.

It means that the basic 24 percent corporate income tax rate and the graduated levy on individual incomes starting at 4.5 percent, will stand, 1941 taxpayers on 1940 income taxes will still pay the same rates.

Harrison said that early in January congressional committees will meet with Treasury officials to discuss the details of the 1941 tax bill.

Harlan Sect Prosecution Suspended

Witnesses Win Right To Circulate Pamphlets

London, Ky., — Harlan County and State officials agreed before a three-judge Federal Court here Saturday to suspend prosecution of six members of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect on indictments charging violation of Kentucky's Anti-Sedition Law.

The member of the sect, granted permission to return to Harlan County and continue distribution of their literature in public places, agreed to cease making house-to-house calls to distribute their tracts except on invitation from householders.

Three-Day Hearing Held
The agreement was reached at the conclusion of a three-day hearing on a petition by six members of the sect under indictment in Harlan Circuit Court attacking constitutionality of the Anti-Sedition Law.

Kentucky's Attorney General Hubert Meredith and the defendant Harlan city and county officials were granted time to study the sect introduced in evidence.

They also were ordered to point out the passage in the pamphlets they claim to be seditious if they wish to revive prosecution of the indicted sect members.

This order of District Judges H. Church Ford and Mac Swinford and Circuit Judge Elwood Hamilton came after Meredith had pleaded that he had not had sufficient time to become familiar with the facts.

POLICE COURT

MEXICO LOOKS TO PEACE INSTEAD OF REVOLUTION

Tomorrow Mexico will witness the peaceful inauguration of a new President instead of the expected revolution foreshadowed by the recent presidential election. The renunciation of all claims to the office by the defeated candidate, Juan Andreu Almazan, assures the orderly change of administration. The presence of Almazan in the capital, which he had threatened to take over, is a hopeful augury of political tolerance in that land of bloody factionalism. The question as to who was legally elected, however, remains, but it clouds international rather than domestic relations.

Because Almazan could not win the support of the United States in his campaign to seize the presidency, the followers of the defeated candidate are raising the old cry of Dollar Diplomacy and Yankee imperialism. Since when did the United States investigate the election returns of another country? Because the Washington Government recognized the candidate accorded the greatest number of votes—Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho—it is berated for giving its support to national stability rather than to revolution. The time has long since passed when the Washington Government gave aid and comfort to Latin American revolutionaries. But a few bricks in our direction are to be expected until the heat of the election and the inauguration is over.

What is important is that a new order of friendly relations between Mexico and the United States after years of friction and misunderstanding is in prospect as the result of the change in administration. The support given to national stability by our Government is one reason. The presence in Mexico of Vice President-elect Henry Wallace is another. Our second highest official-to-be is the Nation's good will envoy to the inauguration.

In such an atmosphere a new era of good feeling may be expected, particularly since world conditions demand it.—Courier-Journal.

A CONTRACT IS A TWO-WAY PROPOSITION

The Tennessee Valley Trades and Labor Council did not authorize this week's strike at Gilbertsville Dam, which closed down construction operations on the big project and left 2,000 men idle.

"The strike was entirely unauthorized," said President Sam Roper of the council which is the governing and policy-making head of all unions having members employed on projects of the TVA.

But the statement of their highest officer, the union members who called the walkout effected a breach of contract which, so far as is known, the TVA as the other party had respected.

Union officials at Knoxville acted quickly to remedy the situation. What over the cause of the trouble at Gilbertsville, the union members had contracted to mediate differences before calling any strike and this pledge was broken. Thus a prompt termination of the strike cannot, from the union's standpoint, be considered full remedy. Steps to guarantee respect of the contract in the future are called for.

Hot-headedness doubtless had much to do with the workers' action at the dam. But pleading a human failing is of sufficient justification for inter-

NOT NEWS FOR WOMEN

It isn't news, particularly, that young folks drive faster than their elders, or that the majority of older drivers use older cars, but the women might get a lot of satisfaction upon learning that men are the faster drivers.

This was shown in an analysis of a study by the Yale University Institute of Human Relations of the habits of automobile operators in Connecticut, as reported by the International Association of Chiefs of Police. Other results:

Drivers with passengers to whom they are not related drive faster than drivers with passengers related to them;

Non-owners, especially younger persons, drive slightly faster than owners;

Newer vehicles are driven more miles each year and are involved in more accidents than older cars;

Drivers traveling faster than 50 miles an hour are involved in more accidents and traffic violations than drivers traveling 35 to 45 miles an hour;

Drivers on long trips travel faster than drivers on short trips;

Men between 30 and 40 years of age travel more miles each year than older or younger drivers.—Mayfield Messenger.

KATHLEEN WINTER IS

ELECTED TO WHO'S WHO

Miss Kathleen Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Winter, who will receive her degree at Murray State College in June, 1942, is among those students who will be listed in the 1940-41 issue of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

This publication is published through the cooperation of over 300 American universities and colleges. It is the only means of national recognition for graduates which is devoid of politics, fees and dues. Several students from accredited colleges are selected each year, by an unprejudicial committee, for their biographies to appear in the issue. These books are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

The purpose of Who's Who is to serve as an incentive for students to get the most out of their college careers; as a means of compensation to students for what they have already done; as a recommendation to the business world; and as a standard of measurement for students comparable to such agencies as Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship Award.

Miss Winter is treasurer of Sigma Alpha Iota, National Professional Woman's Music fraternity, is a member of the Student Council of three years standing, is a member of the band, orchestra, glee club and Capella choir and has been an honor student for four semesters.

At Fulton High, where she was graduated in 1938, she was active in music and dramatics. She was a member of the staff of the school paper and was active in pep club activities.

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

SKILLED man power is needed to put national defense plans in operation. New jobs are being created faster than they can be filled. It takes time, much time, for a man to learn the work of a skilled mechanic or technician. You can't educate a man overnight, no matter how great the emergency.

These are facts of the greatest importance to industry. The War Department, under the National Defense Act of 1916, has surveyed 20,000 manufacturing plants to ascertain what equipment they can produce in case of war. More than 10,000 of these have been earmarked as being available for carrying out one or another phase of defense production when needed. The plants cannot be put to work making weapons and equipment overnight. Machine tools must be designed and made, the mechanism of production must, in many instances, be rearranged and adapted to different uses.

The problem of national defense, therefore, is one of men and machines. The men must be highly trained, and the machines must be fashioned for special jobs. The problem is so important and so complicated that we cannot afford to have any illusions about it. We cannot afford to overestimate or to underestimate our ability to do it. The job will be done, but it requires cool, earnest, realistic, and intelligent effort, with a full understanding of what is to be done and how to do it.

trapped by an explosion two days ago. One body was removed Saturday.

Rock falls and occasional gas pockets made progress slow in the workings 4,500 feet from the mine entrance.

All men found so far apparently died at their posts from the force of the blast.

Officials of the United Mine Workers Union blamed the explosion on gas and John Owens, Ohio district president, said the blast

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

At this moment, we in the United States have a 14 billion dollar job confronting us. It is the job created by the money which has been appropriated for a national defense program. It is a stupendous undertaking, one which may well decide the future of our civilization. Vast quantities of materials and supplies must be assembled to build ships, tanks, airplanes, guns; to maintain the fighting men who make up the first line of defense; to equip the one or two million men who make up a "protective mobilization force." There are new plants to be erected, machinery to be built and installed, and skilled men to be developed.

The United States has virtually all the essentials needed — the money, the natural resources, the man power, and the industrial leadership.

Only one thing is lacking—a sufficient number of trained men. This problem can and will be solved, but it is one that will make our defense program slow up in spots. Although much has been done by some industrial groups to provide for a sufficient force of skilled workmen, others have been slow in establishing an apprentice training plan.

The skilled mechanic never had a greater opportunity to serve his country and himself.
