KITTY LEAGUE WILL HOLD MEETING HERE

Plans are being made for a meeting of Kitty League officials at Fulton, Sunday, November 28, J. E. Hannephin, recently elected president of the league states. At that time matters of importance to the various league members will be discussed.

Mr. Hannephin who was chosen president of the Kitty League to succeed Dr. Frank Bassett, has been an ardent supporter of baseball, and has served as president of the Fulton club during the past season. His election came as a surprise. He states that he will endeavor to live up to the by-laws and constitution of the league and of National association rules, and hopes to promote successfully the affairs of the Kitty League.

Mr. Hannephin will attend the annual meeting of the minor leagues, when a convention will be held at Milwaukee, Wis., December 1, 2 and 3.

Daughter Supt. Lewis Is Elected Secretary

Jane Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Lewis, Fulton, was recently elected secretary of Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary fraternity for women, at the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Chi Delta Phi has as its purpose the discovery and encouragement of literary talent among women students. To become a member one must have a scholastic standing of 2.0 and submit an original manuscript of literary value.

Miss Lewis, a junior in the College of Arts and Science, is majoring in English. She is a pledge of Alpha Gamma Delta, social sorority, and also belongs to the University Y. W. C. A., the Woman's Athletic Association, and the Woman's Chorus.

Before entering the University, Miss Lewis attended Bethel Woman's College, Hopkinsville, from which she was graduated last year.

Dark Fired Tobacco Grower Returns

Mr. L. L. Veal, General Manager, of Western Dark Fired Tobacco Growers' Association has just returned from Washington, D. C. and was successful in obtaining "Schedules of Advances" for the 1937 crop. This advance is practically the same as on last year's crop of tobacco.

The Association will be ready to receive tobacco when the Tobacco Board of Trade opens the market. Considering the advances we have for the 1937 crop, we cannot see any reason why the market should be lower this year than it was last year.

SALE OF NEW CAR TAGS TO OPEN DEC. 1

The 1938 state passenger car and truck licenses will go on sale Wednesday, December 1, according to information received today by County Court Clerk C. N. Holland. Fulton county, which broke all its records for the sale of motor licenses this year, has received its annual shipment of tags and other supplies.

The new tags, similar in size and pattern to the 1937 licenses, can be purchased December 1, but it will be unlawful to display them before December 29. Special plates and certificates will be issued farm trucks this year.

The 1938 tags are green numerals on a white background. This year's plates are blue on a white background. There is so little difference between the dark green and the shade of blue used this year that officers are going to have to look twice early in the coming year to see whether a motorist is sporting 1937 or 1938 tags. The name of the county will again appear on each plate.

In accordance with a system installed in Kentucky this year, motorists are not forced to have their tags until March 1. The flat $5 price for all kinds of passenger cars will be retained.

MISS MOORE INITIATED

Martha Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore, Fulton, was initiated into Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity for women, Tuesday night, November 9, at the University of Kentucky, Lexington.

Theta Sigma Phi was founded at the University of Washington in 1909, and the chapter on the University of Kentucky campus was installed in 1920. The requirements for admission include an upperclass standing and an active interest in journalism.

Majoring in journalism, Miss Moore, a junior in the College of Arts and Science, is on the news staff of the Kernel, student publication. She is a pledge of Alpha Gamma Delta, social sorority and also belongs to the Y. W. C. A.

It always pays to be careful, and since the auto came the more careful you are the better it pays.

Interest In Debating At Fulton High School

Last week some fifteen members of the student body of Fulton High School met with the principal, Lawrence Holland for the purpose of organizing a debating club. Dane Lovelace was elected as president of the organization, Bobby Snow as vice-president and Myrtle Binkley as secretary-treasurer.

The plans of the club are to hold several chapel debates in the Fulton high auditorium; then teams will be selected to enter in contests with other schools of Fulton and Hickman counties; and finally, the club intends to have entrants in the state contests.

The first of the chapel debates will be held Tuesday morning, November 30, the question being: "Resolved, That the United States should cease to protect by armed force, except after a formal declaration of war, capital invested in foreign countries." The members of the club who are to participate in the debate will not be notified of their selection until the chapel period; thus, each member will need to be prepared to uphold the side of the question to which he may be appointed.

The annual question for debate is: "Resolved: That the several states should adopt a unicameral system of legislature." The team selected from the Fulton High Debating Club hopes to debate this question with the teams from various counties in the state, as well as those from the schools within our own county.

Since Fulton High has joined the State Interscholastic Debating League, the school library has received quite a bit of material on this national annual question, which will aid the team in the preparation of their arguments.

It is the opinion of the Fulton High School Debating Club that, if the membership increases and each member works as hard as he is able, the competition within the club for a position on the team will be so keen that the team finally selected to enter the various county debates and the State contest will have an excellent chance of winning.

It's a question which is the biggest nuisance in this country today—the wolf at the back door or the tax collector at the front door.

A Tip From Wall Street.

MRS. IDA DEMYER IS BURIED HERE MONDAY

Mrs. Ida Turbeville DeMyer, wife of U. G. DeMyer, Fulton business man, died at her home here on 4th Street, last Saturday at 4:30 p. m. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon from the Hornbeak Funeral Home by Rev. Woodrow Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment followed at Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. DeMyer has been in ill health for some time, suffering of diabetes. About a week ago she fell suffered injury which probably hastened her death. She was a member of the First Baptist church of this city and had a large circle of friends who regret to learn of her death.

She was born in Henry County, Tenn., near Paris and moved to this community some forty years ago. In 1893 she married U. G. DeMyer and to this union two children, Eugene and Gilbert, were born. These sons and her husband, survive. Also one sister, Mrs. Sofia Biggs; a brother, Neal Turbeville, both of Memphis; and one grandchild.

Picked-Up About Town

Paul DeMyer says whenever a fellow stops you on the street and says he is going to be perfectly frank with you, you'd better get ready to hear some bad news.

"It isn't what we have or lack that makes us happy or unhappy," declares Levi Chisolm "it's what we think about it."

A Detroit paper records that a man swapped his wife for a mule. He gave as his reason the fact that a mule is balky only 12 hours in the day.

"Middle-age gives you your choice," says B. J. Williams "You can be a jolly old fellow and liked by everybody, or you can be constantly mad because you're getting old."

Thirty million Americans observed daylight saving this year but none of them can explain what they did with the daylight they saved. "You've got to say this much for the corn doctor," declares Dave Holloway. "He knows enough to start at the foot."

Fred Carden points out that one good way for a girl to reduce is to make all of her boy friends mad.

Maybe when a radio announcer feels old age creeping on he gets his voice lifted.

"The trouble with drinking this day in time," asserts Lon Adams "is that the flesh is willing but the spirits are too strong."

J. O. Lewis says there's profit these days in making most everything but mistakes.

Some Fulton old-timers can remember when the only time a woman appeared on the streets with as little on as she wears now was when her house caught fire.

"No farmer whose cow has had the colic," declares Henry Collier, "can understand how a radio crooner can get $100 a week for making the same kind of noise."

Herschel Grogan thinks the biggest trouble with those people who know so much is that much of what they know isn't so.

"Lipstick and flypaper are a good deal alike," contends Buck Bushart. "They catch the careless creatures that pause to investigate."

WELCH NEWS

The Welch High School boys and girls will play their next game with Sidonia, December 3. The two Welch teams have made a splendid showing so far and are improving rapidly. The girls have won four games and lost three, two of which were to Stella Ruth girls. The Welch boys have lost only one game, that of October 15 at the Stella Ruth fair by a score of 24-19. This game has been avenged by defeating Stella Ruth boys by the decisive score of 26-11. The boys have defeated Chestnut Glade, Wesley Chapel, Palmersville Jr. High, Atwood and Central.

The home schedule is as follows: Dec. 3, Sidonia, here; Dec. 10, Chestnut Glade, here; Jan. 7, Stella Ruth, here.

A large crowd attended the Kiddie Minstrel give by the Welch grade pupils last week.

The old fiddlers contest drew a good crowd on November 13, and a number of prizes were awarded. Miss Geneva Cashion won the cake as the prettiest girl, with Miss Allie Hern Grissom second.

Atwood girls nad boys visited Welch last Tuesday night. Both the Atwood teams were defeated.

Welch boys defeated Palmersville 23 to 5 last Friday night.

Mrs. Edd Cashion, who recently was carried to the Fulton hospital suffering an appendicitis attack, is reporting not doing so well.

Olive Frank Laird of Dukedom left recently for Oklahoma to make his home.

LIONS CLUB

Abe Thompson, manager of the Kentucky Utilities Co. of this city, had charge of the Lions program last Friday and gave an interesting lecture on "The House of Vision." His talk explained the mechanism of the human eye, and how it should be cared for.

The club voted to send a telegram to Kentucky senators, expressing opposition to the anti-lynching bill.

MUCH FOREST LAND OWNED BY FARMERS

Farmers own more than one-third of the commercially productive forest lands in the United States, reports the Forest Service, United States Department of Agriculture. Total farm lands in forest exceed the acreage planted to any one crop, and more than 2,500,000 farmers collect annual supplemental income from the sale of lumber, fuel, and fence posts.

Cooperative forestry extension work is now conducted in 1,090 counties in which assistance is offered in meeting problems of forest timber production and windbreaks, and advice given in estimating and marketing timber and wood products. Aid is also offered in protecting forests from fires, insects, and tree diseases.

THANKSGIVING

Again the harvest season reaches a close, and again comes America's day of Thanksgiving.

Into some hearts rain may have fallen since last this national holiday was celebrated, but despite this there also must have come some sunshine since last this national holiday was celebrated but despite this nation in general now offers up a prayer of thanks and a plea for another year fraught with such blessings as a kindly Providence has seen fit to bestow in the year now nearing its close.

Blessed by crops more bountiful than in normal years; unhampered by shattered peace or warfare with any sister nation; heartened by steady steps toward normal industrial and financial conditions, America has much cause for thankfulness at this time. To those who enjoy the greatest of all blessings—good health—there is the greatest reason for returning thanks on this great national holiday. To those who have suffered, or across whose path the dark clouds of adversity have fallen during the year, there still is left the blessing of hope for brighter days ahead. In fact, in a country numbering its blessings as generously as this one, there should be no heart without cause for thankfulness.

With the past, and whatever regrets it holds, behind us; with the future steadily growing brighter and confidence and hope growing stronger, this community joins with the balance of the nation in offering up its prayers on this Thanksgiving Day. Each prayer will be in the same spirit of hopefulness which has made America great, and each prayer will be from a heart that is thankful for the privilege of being permitted to share in her greatness.

GOOD SERVICE

Reports from Washington indicate that more young men are now quitting the camps of the CCC to enter private employment than at any time in the last four years. And this is a good sign, for two reasons. First, it shows that private industry is still reaching out for additional help. Second, it shows that the young men trained in Uncle Sam's forest camps have made themselves one of the choicest reservoirs of labor in the country.

It should be of interest to all Fulton citizens who have kept in touch with this new institution to learn that during the first eight months of this year nearly 100,000 of the 316,000 young men enrolled in the CCC have been released before the end of their enlistment to take private jobs.

More than 2,000,000 young Americans have been in these camps since they were established, and not only did they and their families receive help at a time when it was sorely needed, but they have done constructive work for the nation that is now yielding results and that will be of untold value in the years to come. Forestry protection, the building of hundreds of miles of highway, the erection of thousands of miles of telephone wires into heretofore inaccessible places, the savings of forests and farm land from soil erosion, all have made the CCC a valuable institution and one that American citizens now appear willing to foot the bill for since it is possible to see results.

HUNTING DON'TS

Here are some timely and sensible don'ts for Fulton hunters who may be inclined to grow careless with firearms along about this time of year—learn them by heart or paste them in your hat:

Don't pull a gun carelessly through a fence of from an auto. Remove the shells before crawling through a fence. Don't use your gun to club game from the brush. Don't carry it cocked—it's always closer to you than it is to the game. Never point a weapon at anyone in fun. Don't walk ahead of an inexperienced hunter—let him go first. Don't leave a gun where children can reach it; all weapons are poppens to them. Don't leave a loaded gun in the house; bears are not coming into the living room this year. Never allow your gun muzzle to clog with mud or snow.

THE lawyer for the plaintiff in the damage suit apparently had reason to suspect that somebody connected with the defense had been monkeying with one of the witnesses opposing his side.

Hunting accidents caused 2,000 deaths in 1936. If everyone obeys the above rules closely there won't be any around here in 1937.

SPARKS of WISDOM

In the old days someone used the jawbone of an ass to end a war but nowadays it's the jawbone of an ass that usually starts one.

Wonder how many people around Fulton ever pause to consider that they belong to the generation that their parents worried about.

You don't have to go into the back yard and whisper over the fence if you have a message that's really worth delivering.

The newspaper is much more interesting if you know some of the wreck victims.

Another great aid to world peace is the discovery that modern planes can't bring a nation to its knees in one day after all.

The treasury department says it can't produce dimes and quarters fast enough to supply the demand. And it's the same way with a lot of fathers.

FARMERS COOPERATE IN ONE-VARIETY COTTON COMMUNITIES

The substantial difference in price in favor of better staple, and the increased production per acre being obtained from adapted cottons of full inch staple, is inviting the cooperation of the majority of Tennessee growers in one-variety cotton communities being organized throughout the state, according to H. E. Hendricks, U. T. Extension agronomist.

It has been definitely proven that Tennessee soils in the cotton growing sections are adapted to the production of full inch cotton under normal conditions where the better adapted varieties are used, he states. The one-variety plan proposes that the cotton grower in each gin community, whether one or several gins, shall come together and adopt a single variety. They agree also to maintain an approved method of increasing seed stocks within their community to prevent crossing in the field and mixing at the gin.

Today there are many local markets in Tennessee that are more-or-less blacklisted for certain buying orders on account of the kind of cotton being produced, he states. In some sections under the old custom, mixed lengths of staple are produced, and under a system of hog-round buying, growers frequently do not receive just prices for the good cotton, and often on this basis, too much is paid for inferior cotton. The one-variety community plan is designed so that growers who organize for the purpose of growing better cotton should, by producing the same length of staple, picking clean, dry cotton and securing proper preparation, change this situation in an entire cotton growing area.

Larger yields per acre, and better prices for more uniform staple length, mean lower production costs and more favorable returns to the grower, Mr. Hendricks points out.

CROP PRODUCTION IS NEAR ALL-TIME PEAK

This year's crop production, largest since 1928, is only 6 per cent less than the all-time peak reached in the year 1920, according to C. M. Purves of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Although crop production per capita of the population is much less than during the 1920's, it is 5 to 10 percent above the down-trend of production per capita since 1905.

Purves computes the index of production of principal crops this year at 110 per cent of the 1910-14 pre-war average, compared with 78.5 in 1936, and with 112.5 in 1923, which marked the high point for the last 17 years. The crops included are: corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, flaxseed, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cotton, tobacco, and hay.

Divided into the population, Purves puts the index of production per capita to the principal crops, at 81 per cent of the pre-war average, compared with 58 in 1936. He makes the point, however, that the trend of crop production per capita of the population had been declining for more than 30 years. This year, production is above this trend, by 5 to 10 per cent.

YOUNG TURKEYS DO VERY WELL IN BREEDING FLOCK

Turkey growers, who will make a business of producing turkey hatching eggs this winter, may wonder whether to use breeding stock selected from this fall's crop of turkeys or whether older turkeys will make the best breeders.

pert in the United States Department of Agriculture, says research indicates that well matured hens and toms are fully as satisfactory for breeders as are older turkeys.

In fact, the eggs from the younger turkeys are likely to be more fertile and are likely to hatch better. Furthermore, young hens will lay more eggs.

Of course, if a turkey grower has kept records of the number of eggs each of his older turkeys laid during their first year, those egg records may show that many of the older turkeys are likely to make better breeders than are the untried young turkeys. But the mere fact that one turkey is older than another in no guarantee that it will make a better breeder.

Cover and bake 25 minutes.

Baste several times during baking.

A Style Suggestion:

It will be a black winter, according to New York fashion experts. Designers are hard at work on those simple little black dresses it's always so hard to find. Many of them have soft girdled effects in front. A number are high-lighted with touches of bright color.

The Family Doctor:

Fresh vegetables of all kinds are valuable to the growing child because of their rich mineral-salt content. Of these spinach, chard, carrots, beets, boiled onions or lima beans are best. Starchy vegetables, too, such as potatoes may be given, boiled, baked or mashed, but never fried. Hot, highly-season-

Kitchen Kinks:

To measure molasses, grease the cup or spoon into which molasses is poured and it will not adhere. A few spoonfuls of water boiled in the pan before adding milk to be boiled will help keep the milk from scorching. Leave the stem on onions and use it as a handle when grating them and the fingers will not be injured.

HOW TO KEEP SPARE AND PORK LOINS

Following the killing of hogs on the farm there is always the problem of how best to dispose of the fresh meat that cannot be put in dry cure, states J. C. Snow, U-T Extension specialist.

The following is recommended as a cure for holding perishable meats a short time if same cannot be eaten or disposed of at a profit.

For each 100 pounds of spare ribs, backbones or pork loin, mix 71-2 2 ounces salt, 21-2 pounds sugar, and in 51-2 gallons of water; stir until all ingredients are dissolved. Place the loins or backbones and spare ribs in the container. If the weather has been warm and the meats have not had the opportunity of cooling out well, the water should be made ice cold.

The spare ribs and backbone should be eaten within two weeks after they have been placed in the brine cure. The pork loin, on account of being thicker, can stay in cure for three weeks or can be eaten any time before the end of the period. The loins can be removed and given a light smoke if desired, but the quicker the are consumed after being taken out of cure the better as they soon become hard and dry.

For further information on curing Extension Service, Knoxville, for meat on the farm ask your county agent or write the U-T Agricultural a copy of Publication 173, "Curing Pork On The Farm."

Capitol Comments

Unless there is some uncharted trouble lurking in the offing, legislature will convene January 4 without the customary wild day and night of caucusing and organizing which usually precedes the launching of a session of the Kentucky General Assembly. . . . In past years Senators and Representatives milled and milled from dawn the day preceding the opening until dawn of the opening day, laying plans selecting leaders, asking and bestowing favors. . . . The present administration's plans are so well laid that there will be little left for the Senators and Representatives to do, other than ride over to Frankfort, get their name in the pot and stick strictly to business. . . . With the exception of selecting a representative to be flood leader in the house, virtually all posts are filled or rather the man has been selected to fill the post and all that is now necessary is to go through the routine of electing him by vote. . . . The Senate will be much the same as in last session, with the exception of President Pro Tem. . . . by virtue of his office as Lieutenant Governor, Keen Johnson will be President of the Senate. . . . Senator Edwin C. Dawson of New Haven is listed for the President pro tem job. . . . Ralph Gilbert is billed to succeed himself as majority floor leader. . . . In the House John Kirtley will again occupy the Speaker's seat. . . . The majority floor leader there has not been mentioned. . . . John Honnigcutt, Ludlow is seeking the post.

The state income tax yield for the first year of its existence exceeded expectations by more than two million dollars and it was well that it did. . . . With the bulk of the last installment of the tax already in the cash register there were $4,639,227.55 accounted for. . . . All taken in within the compass of a year. . . . That amount represents $2,439,337.55 more than was anticipated. . . . This offset the shortage from receipts from whiskey tax. . . . When anticipating the whiskey tax for the year the anticipators apparently failed to take several things into consideration, any one of which might cut into the production of liquor. . . . One was the filling of warehouses. . . . another was the making of more liquor than was demanded on the market and another was the high price of grain which caused several plants to either halt activities or curtail production.

Governor Chandler, who launched the largest building program ever attempted by any chief executive of the state, added another project to his list this week. . . . A new prison for women. . . . This new institution will be located in Shelby County some fifteen miles from the new penal farm in Oldham County. . . . This plant is located in the Pine Bluff Community on a 280 acre farm donated to the state by the Federation of Women's Clubs of Kentucky. . . . This farm was obtained by this organization during the World War for the purpose of making a home for unmarried mothers. . . . This plan was never carried out. . . . Plans for the new women's prison have been completed. . . . They call for $130,000 cottage type prison. . . . At present there are about 100 women prisoners in the state. . . . They are confined in an old school building in Frankfort.

Last week this corner made a few passing remarks about the State's Tobacco situation. . . . Since that time and as the time for the market to open grows closer, the assurance that this will be a banner year on the breaks so far as pounds are concerned, is verified by reports from all sections. . . . The latest figures obtainable show that there will be no less than 343 million pounds of Kentucky grown tobacco to go to the market between December 6 and the end of the sales season. . . . That this will be a top year is shown by the houses preparation. . . . Most of the leaf plants are planning on having extra personnel. . . . Governmental unemployment agencies are furnishing a lot of the labor that will be used. . . .

RANDOM SHOTS — Governor Chandler has appointed a three man board to study the unemployment situation of the state. It is composed of Dr. E. Z. Palmer, Chairman, who is with the University of Kentucky Bureau of Business Research; Ben Spicer, President of the Transylvania Printing Company, who will act as employer representative, and B. S. Heffied, Secretary of the Louisville Typographical Union, who will be the employee representative. . . . The deadline for filing expense accounts accumulated by Senatorial and Representative candidates in the last election is nearing. Up to date there are a few missing. . . . Perhaps the biggest jolt the Secretary of State ever received was Thursday when Attorney General Hubert Meredith filed his account for the last election. . . . The Attorney General did not spend a single cent to be elected. . . . Tom Hawkins, his opponent, spent only forty-five cents. . . . That was by far the cheapest race ever run. . . . The winner, General Meredith, accumulated a majority of more than 100,000 which is a record. . . . Now will someone say that a lot of money is necessary to win an election. . . . Officially there are twenty-five counties in the state that it is not known whether they held a November election. . . . The State Board of Election Commissioners, which takes official cognizance of such things know off the record, that elections have been held in these counties and know who was elected, but they have not been officially notified by the county commissions. . . . The gold leaf ceiling in the chambers of the Court of Appeals is being cleaned. . . . That room has been occupied now for 27 years and until now the gold leaf has never been cleaned. . . . When Bed Bugs were recently found to be occupying a major portion of the Court of Appeals available space was ordered cleaned from stem to stern. . . . WANTED — A County Attorney! Owsley county is without a county attorney, and is looking for one. . . . The present county attorney was elected circuit judge and the only other lawyer in the county states that he will not accept the appointment. This has happened perhaps only once before in the history of the Commonwealth. . . . Carl Schneider, recently elected Representative from Louisville's 45th district, a district which has long been a Republican stronghold, resigned to look after an increased chemical business. . . . This means a special election immediately.

BIG HOLIDAY BUSINESS PREDICTED FOR THE "KENTUCKIANA" TERRITORY

Retail trade throughout the country showed little change from last week although a slight pickup was noted in many sections, according to reports to the Department of Commerce from 37 key cities, just received by its Louisville District Office. In most cities retailers did better than hold their own compared with last year, with a few reporting substantial increases. On the other hand ten important cities reported declines. Wholesale markets continued, for the most part, to reflect a shrinkage in orders. The inclination seems to be to go slow on new buying of materials until retailers have reduced inventories and have begun sending in new orders in greater volume. The New York report revealed that the sentiment there, while not overflowing with optimism, was hopeful. Merchants generally expect a November-December retail volume that will slightly overtop that of 1936.

Louisville reported that indications continued to point to exceptionally satisfactory holiday business throughout the Louisville trading area. Last week's sales averaged 5 to 8 per cent above previous week and 10 to 30 per cent above same week year ago. Wholesale orders, while slower, were still 8 to 15 per cent above the same week last year, with country district demand strong.

Extensive preparations being made by tobacco growers and dealers for opening the auction sales in December. Burley sales will probably start first week in December and Dark sales in Western Kentucky in second week. Over in Western Kentucky, Owensboro is expecting 10,000,000 pounds of Burley to be sold with 8,000,000 pounds of the Dark type. First time Burley has exceeded Dark production in that area. Satisfactory prices are predicted.

Approximately 25,000 laborers favorably affected by settlement of 30 major labor disputes in Kentucky during past 16 months by Kentucky Department of Industrial Relations.

Reemployment Services report 3,939 placements in jobs during October, 14.6 per cent decrease as compared with September. For past week placements were 620, 31.1 per cent decrease under preceding week.

CONTROL OF EROSION PAY EXTRA DIVIDEND

Replanting his farm for control of soil erosion returned an extra $200 to Leland Dawalt of Grant county, Kentucky, he reports to a Soil Conservation Service project at Falmouth. The extra profit resulted because he had alfalfa pasture for lambs.

"Bluegrass makes poor feed for lambs after it toughens up around the middle of May," Dawalt explained, "but they surely did well on alfalfa." During the summer he also had Korean Lespedeza for pasture while his alfalfa regained some of its growth. The advantages of alfalfa over bluegrass pasture, the Falmouth project officials explain, is that alfalfa makes fairly uniform growth and remains palatable throughout the summer. Alfalfa also produces from two to three times the forage per acre and it also is the best known nurse crop for bluegrass. The heaviest bluegrass sods in the Grassy Creek area are those which follow good stands of alfalfa.

The Soil Conservation Service officials point to the fact that considerable erosion has occurred when alfalfa was grown in a pure stand. They are overcoming this disadvantage by using a mixed seeding of grass and alfalfa, the grass producing a thick turf close to the ground, thus slowing the runoff of water.

Brief Thoughts

Fifty ears ago Fulton citizens didn't have the "advantages" we have today, but they had a lot more time to enjoy those they did have. Every cloud still has its silvery lining—unless it happens to be war cloud.

Another problem that probably never will be solved is what ants do in winter when there are no picnics.

They say the less a man has of anything the prouder he is of it. This seems especially true in the matter of brains.

Freedom is your right, provided you are old enough to restrain yourself and respect the rights of others.

Another thing well worth remembering is that real Christians do not carry their religion. Their religion carries them.

For Chest Colds

Distressing cold in chest or throat, never safe to neglect, generally eases up when soothing, warming Musterole is applied. Better than a mustard plaster, Musterole gets action because it's NOT just a salve. It's a "counter-irritant"—stimulating, penetrating, and helpful in drawing out local congestion and pain. Used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong. Approved by Good Housekeeping.
