THE LISTENING POST

● To an observer who admits he is on the "ins" side, it appears that the South has at last put one over on the Far West when it comes to bowl football games. There can be no other view, in my opinion, for the Rose Bowl this year will not be occupied by two unbeaten and untied teams. Stanford, the West Coast team, has that distinction, and everything considered, it is a glorious distinction. Stanford started with a new coach, none other than the coach who had been largely discredited at the University of Chicago, and with the memory of a disastrous season last year. None gave them any chance of finishing in the money, but the Indians came through a tough schedule without a blemish. They represent the Far West well.

● But, due to many causes, the Rose Bowl folks could not secure an unbeaten and untied team to face Stanford. Things had happened too fast for them this year and the New Orleans Sugar Bowl will offer this unbeaten and untied attraction between two great teams. Just after the Tennessee-Vanderbilt game in Nashville last week Coach Neyland announced that the Volunteers would play Boston College in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day. That left the Rose Bowl out in the cold and they had to take on Nebraska. The Corn Huskers, with a really good team, have been beaten by Minnesota, which leaves a black mark against bowl competition. Minnesota, by conference rules, could not play in the bowl game, and so the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans will offer the star attraction for all bowl affairs. In my books Minnesota would rank as the first team of the Nation, with Tennessee not far behind.

● Coach Neyland may have been paying off an old debt to the Rose Bowl folks in accepting the Sugar Bowl invitation so quickly. In 1938 the Major had a better team than he had last year when he lost in the Rose Bowl, and better than the present year's team. He expected, with much justice, an invitation to the Rose Bowl, but the Far West folks could not see his team at all. Duke was picked, when all the experts in the country agreed that Neyland's team was far better. So the Major had to take a weaker team to the Coast last year and lost in convincing fashion. He might have had the invitation again this year, but evidently had no desire to dangle on the end of a string while Rose Bowl officials played around with all the teams in the country.

● As a matter of fact, the Rose Bowl might have made a better choice by selecting a team which is coached by a Fulton-born man. That team is Mississippi State, which for the first time in its history has played a full schedule without losing a game. A tie game with Auburn is the only mark against them, and it was one of those games where all the breaks went the wrong way. Allyn McKee, who was born in Fulton, who went to school here, and is the nephew of Mrs. Lynn Taylor, is the man who brought the Maroons to their national prominence. Chances are that he would have taken a more colorful team to the Rose Bowl than Nebraska will. He will go, instead, to the Orange Bowl in Florida.

● In the meantime, the South can sit back with utmost pride and await developments. For in New Orleans on New Year's Day the best team in the South will match power with the best team in the East. Boston College has beaten some strong teams and has all the qualities of a really great team. How the Eagles will come out with the Vols remains to be seen, but no matter what the result, the people of the South know that the Sugar Bowl is really offering the most glamorous football teams in all the bowls this year. It was a master stroke for the Sugar Bowl, and next year we may expect more direct action from the Rose Bowl. The day has passed when they are masters of the situation.

Joe Browder Is Reelected To Head B. & L.

Reports Show That Organization Is Making Steady Growth -- Prospects Bright

The Fulton Building and Loan Association held its annual meeting last night at the company of office for the purpose of electing directors and officers for the coming year. In the absence of the president, Joe Browder, who was out of the city, the meeting was presided over by Joe Davis, vice president.

The board of directors which served last year was reelected, with Leon E. Browder being named to fill the vacancy brought about by the death of W. P. Murrell. The board is as follows: Joe Browder, Bob White, Hoyt Moore, N. G. Cooke, J. E. Fall, Joe D. Davis, Leon Browder, Maxwell McDade and Abe Jolley. Following the annual meeting the board was sworn in and elected the following officers:

Joe Browder, president, J. D. Davis, vice president, J. E. Fall, secretary-treasurer, W. C. Reed, assistant secretary-treasurer, J. E. Fall, Jr., assistant secretary-treasurer. The latter was named without salary, to enable him to care for business which might need attention while the other two were out of the office. Frank Carr was reelected attorney for the association and Miss Caldwell was named bookkeeper. Appointment of various committees was deferred for action by the president, Mr. Browder.

Report Encouraging
The financial reports as submitted to the stockholders, were most encouraging, revealing a steady growth in the organization. The most striking feature is to be found in a comparison of the undivided profits and reserve for some of the earlier years and of the present year. In October, 1931, before the full weight of the depression had been felt, the association showed in this account a total of $22,449.03. That was the highest peak ever reached until that time. Two years later, when the depression had taken its toll, this total had dropped to $12,716.32, the lowest point ever reached by the association. From that low point the total today is much higher, and it is estimated that on December 31, this year, it will be $94,162.94. Final figures may change this slightly, but the difference will be quite small. This figure will be after dividends and expense are paid, and the estimate is arrived at by using a five month average.

Many Loans Made
During the past twelve months the association has made 56 real estate loans with a total value of $70,000. In addition stock maturities totalling $28,000.00 were paid off during the same length of time.

Air Lines In Agreement To Turn Engines Over To U. S. Army

Washington. -- Commercial air lines have agreed to turn over to the Army a quantity of new engines which recently were delivered to them, making possible the immediate completion of warplanes for which engines had been lacking.

The air lines and manufacturers also have agreed, the priorities board of the National Defense Commission announced Monday night, to permit release to the military services during 1941 of about $7,500,000 worth of equipment, part of which the air lines had planned to use in expanding their services.

This announcement followed a week Secretary of War Stimson's statement that the priorities board should prevent the air lines from expanding their services. He said this should be done to expedite warplane manufacture for the armed services.

Receiver For Davy Crockett To Be Named

Union City. --After hearing evidence on two bills filed before him with relation to management of the Davy Crockett hotel, which was erected and owned by the late Embrey K. Beck, Chancellor W. W. Herron, in Trenton yesterday, announced that next Monday he will appoint a receiver to take charge of the hotel.

Those involved in the litigation were asked by Chancellor Herron to agree on some person to serve as receiver prior to Monday.

The receivership, it was emphasized, is only for the purpose of preserving the assets of the E. K. Beck estate until a will contest filed in the Obion county circuit court has been tried. This case is scheduled to be heard during the January, 1941, term of court.

Good Condition
Mary Beck, widow of Embrey Beck, acting for herself and on behalf of her daughter, Bette Jean, filed the will contest.

Financial condition of the hotel is reported to be excellent.

Under terms of the E. K. Beck will, Miss Bess Beck, his sister, was named as executrix, and in this position was to serve as manager of the hotel.

Chancellor Herron yesterday sustained a bill of Mrs. Mary Beck enjoining Miss Bess Beck, as executrix, from operating the hotel, and he also sustained a petition filed by Miss Bess Beck enjoining Mrs. Mary Beck, and Ralph Morton, who had been assisting manager and chief clerk of the hotel, from operating the property. The petition of Miss Beck also was granted with regard to the appointment of a receiver.

$75,000,000 ALLOTTED TO START DEVELOPING NEW NAVAL BASES

Washington. --A total of $75,000,000 has been allotted, it was disclosed today, to start developing sites being acquired from Great Britain for naval and air bases guarding the Atlantic approaches to America.

Announcing that Army engineers had started preliminary work on defense installations in Newfoundland and Bermuda and that additional field parties would sail "at early dates" for the six other sites, the War Department disclosed that President Roosevelt had allotted $25,000,000 of emergency funds for initial Army expenditures.

This money will be spent on surveys and construction of facilities for Army garrisons which will be stationed at the bases to protect them from air raids and hostile landing parties.

Previously, Secretary Knox had disclosed that the President had made $50,000,000 of emergency funds available to the Navy for its share of the work dredging harbors, building wharves, naval store houses, repair shops and the like. Both sums came from funds placed at the chief executive's disposal by Congress.

Local Students Win Loving Cup

Miss Mary Norma Weatherpoon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Weatherpoon, and Kimbell Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Underwood, were awarded the loving cup for the clearest cupping at a dance held at the University of Kentucky Friday night.

The students were dressed in formal wear and the winners represented the song "Night and Day."

Report Says 9 Million Houses For $1500 Pay Class Are Needed

Washington. --Experts of the Temporary National Economic Committee said Monday that the American building industry was overlooking a market for 8,000,000 new houses needed by families earning less than $1,500 a year.

The committee made public a report by Peter A. Stone and R. Harold Densted saying that "the difficulty under the present setup is that the industry is geared to build houses primarily for income groups earning $3,000 or more per year."

"We build largely for this limited group," the report continued.

British Order 60 Freighters From America

London. --The British disclosed today that they have turned to United States shipyards with an order for 60 new freighters to meet their most immediate needs--Nazi raids from on, above and below the surface of the sea.

In addition, Ronald H. Cross, the youthful minister of shipping, told the House of Commons: "Old but serviceable United States vessels, including vessels belonging to the maritime commission, have been and will continue to be purchased for the British flag as opportunity offers."

Britain's own figures and accounts, entirely aside from those broadcast by the Germans, made it a fact Tuesday for Britain at sea. Another cabinet member, food minister Lord Woolton, declared in a speech: "We must have more ships, more ships and ships!"

The German high command announced two successful submarine assaults on British convoys Monday in which 17 merchantment of more than 131,000 tons and an auxiliary cruiser of 17,000 tons were reported sunk. Two other ships were listed as probably sunk, increasing the likely toll to more than 160,000 tons by U-boats alone that day.

Presumably these were the ships which sent distress signals from about 500 miles west of Ireland over a 20-hour period beginning late Sunday night. It recalled the attack Nov. 5 by a German surface raider on a 38-ship convoy. Only the flight of the British armed merchant cruiser Jervis Bay, which went down with her guns roaring, permitted the bulk of those ships to escape.

U. S. General Says British "Won't Lose"

New York. --Major Gen. J. E. Chaney, commander of the North-eastern District of the U. S. Army Air Corps, told newsmen Tuesday that after a forty-three-day survey in England he was "very optimistic on the outcome of the war from the British point of view."

Describing the British Isles as "a fortress," he said "at the rate they are going, the British won't lose the war."

Asked whether he meant that the British would win the war, he replied, "that is another question."

In the most extended interview permitting direct quotation given by an American Air Corps officer returning from England, General Chaney asserted the military information the United States is gaining from England and Germany is "in money worth hundreds of millions of dollars."

Split Session Of Assembly Is Proposed

Paducah, Ky. --Enactment of legislation splitting the Kentucky General Assembly meeting into two sessions was proposed here Tuesday by Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation leaders from the eight Jackson Purchase counties.

The interim between the opening session and the second half--thirty days--would afford both legislators and citizens and opportunity to study proposed bills thoroughly. At practically every session of the legislature, the farmers said, bills are dumped into the legislative hopper and passed without the assemblymen knowing their contents.

Under the proposed split session bills would be introduced during the first half and voted on during the second half.

Baptist Revival Creates Interest

The revival meeting now in progress at the First Baptist Church of this city is growing in interest and attendance with each night's service. Mr. Ira Prosser is leading the singing in a fine way. Are you attending? If not, this is a special invitation to you to do so.

Rev. Autrey emphasized the fact that every one should be proud of their family name. He said, "You are proud of the name of your country. The name of Jesus is the name God gave His son and through Christ is the only way to God. No one can find salvation only through the name of Jesus. No name is higher than the precious name of Jesus. The scriptures say that He can save to the uttermost all who call upon Him. By the name of Jesus and by the inspiration that is received by that name, the church of the living God moves on and up. The name of Jesus is the conquering name of the Church of God."

"This name will elevate any person, through it one can be healed, the humble fisherman can be lifted. This name has the power to do today what it did yesterday. It reaches down and takes hold of the criminal, the falsifier, and the man that gambles. The hopeless sinner, the man who has been doomed, can be rescued through this name. The power of God and the name of Jesus elevates."

"The name of Jesus will save from sin the lost. Luke 19-10. 'No man can save himself, he stands depraved and hopeless.' This name stands for the power of God who can save. Service will save nobody, church membership will not save, Jesus will heal and set man free, through the shedding of the blood Jesus spilled on Golgotha. What will make me whole again? Nothing but the blood of Jesus. There is no other name whereby man can be saved."

"When man comes to the dying hour there is but one door, one name that will push the door open. When man reaches the portal, he must go through Jesus. Without Him man cannot enter. Maybe you have never confessed Jesus. Do you now realize that through this name you must be saved?"

The services tonight will be especially directed to the young people, the subject being, "Way of Salvation."

N. Y. Teachers Are Accused Of Spreading Radical Propaganda

New York. --Charges that the city's vast public school system had been used deliberately to spread subversive doctrines and that professors in city colleges had attempted to obstruct exposure were made Monday by Paul Windels, counsel for a special State inquiry into municipal education.

Windels outlined his charges in a prepared statement issued as a joint subcommittee of the State Legislature opened public hearings on evidence it had been assembling for several weeks.

The committee had witnessed the "spectacle," Windels said, of city college professors who refused to answer when asked if they were members of the Communist Party "under aliases known to the committee's investigating staff."

"There is no denying that such efforts to delay our work have been partially successful," he continued, "but they have not entirely succeeded, and I venture to predict any early collapse of the scheme in its entirety."

The bulk of evidence already obtained, the investigator said, "relates to Communist activity in the schools," but he added that the committee also was trying to ferret out "the extent, if any, of Communist or radical activities among the city's 1,000,000 people."

Rotary Club Entertains Football Team

Coach Kubale Of Memphis Is Speaker At Annual Football Banquet

Ed Kubale, coach at Southwestern University, Memphis, was the speaker at the Rotary club's annual football banquet for the Fulton High Bulldogs, given last night at Science Hall. "Football--Old and New" was the subject of Coach Kubale's interesting talk.

"Football players of former years did not want to be substituted for, but wanted to play the entire game," said Kubale. "But players of today continually look toward the bench for substitutes. However, the present football player, as a general thing, are better coached." At the close of his talk, Coach Kubale showed moving pictures of part of the Clemson-Southwestern, Tennessee-Southwestern, and Mississippi State-Southwestern games.

Coach Kubale formerly coached at Centre college, Danville, and was a former star on the "Praying Colonels."

The banquet was opened with the singing of "America," after which Herbert Goulder, president of the Rotary club, presided over the short business meeting of the club. W. L. Holland, principal of Fulton High, acted as toastmaster.

Co-Captain Edward Williamson was presented and introduced the players of the 1940 football team. Milton Crawford, co-captain was introduced and made a speech of appreciation to the Rotarians, telling them how much the banquet meant to the football team.

The letter awards to the players, Bobby Merrymann, Layne Spence, Joe Treas, Earl Wiley and Shelby Davis each received a letter for the first time. Others receiving letters were Milton Crawford, Edward Williamson, Jack Tosh, Ralph Winstead, Loren Nelms, Carl Buckingham, Darter White, Hots McClellan, Corky Bethel and Dan McKenzie.

Joe Treas was presented the Bulldog award for having lettered in three sports, basketball, football and track.

The captains for next year were not elected at the banquet last night as is usually the custom since a new method of selecting captains will be used next year. The captains will not be chosen until the close of the football season, as is practiced by some of the major teams in the country.

Guests of the club included, Her-shel Giles, Val Killebrew, Dr. N. W. Hughes, W. L. Holland, Miss Jane

Editorial

A SANE SUGGESTION

Raymond Clapper, well known newspaper columnist, whose sincerity and patriotism are admitted even by his most vigorous opponents, recently made one of the sanest suggestions regarding the future of the United States that has yet been made. It is unlikely that anything will come of it, but it should be made known to every citizen of the nation. There is a great deal of common sense in his idea, and if it could be sincerely acted upon we would see better days ahead for the Republic in these days of bewildering changes.

Mr. Clapper really presents nothing new in his idea, but he does offer a sober and concrete plan for action. Briefly he is concerned with the known animosity which exists between business and government in the United States. He does not believe that any lasting progress can be made until this animosity is removed. He also believes that if this condition could be cured it would result in much better progress for the imperative defense program upon which we have embarked. His remedy for this breach is to enlist the services of Thomas W. Lamont, so called elder statesman of the House of Morgan, to act as peace-maker between the federal government and business as a whole.

Perhaps it is expecting too much for the federal government to adopt such a remedy, but there can be little doubt that such a man as Mr. Lamont could really accomplish something. He has the confidence of business, and it is to be presumed that he too much of an American to make any effort to aid business too much. It is to be presumed that he knows the problem thoroughly, and with his thorough knowledge of conditions and his knowability as a conciliator, it is quite likely that he could bring an end to the present armed peace conditions. True, he is of Wall Street, and for several years Wall Street has been portrayed as the arch enemy of all American institutions (except for organized wealth), but frankly, other Administrations have found in past years that Wall Street can and does produce real patriotic American citizens now and then.

The breach needs to be closed. There can be no doubt of this. As long as the conflict remains we can expect no solid and united effort in our defense program and in our help to England. Business is suspicious of the New Deal and has been for a long time. Admittedly, business has not been utterly free of blame. Business has sinned and has been punished many times during the past ten or fifteen years. On the other hand, as a class, it can safely be said that business has contributed as much sincere effort as any other class in the nation during the emergencies of the past decade. There is no reason to say that business will always be guilty of shady practices and sinister motives. Business leaders are just as anxious as any other class to see this country prepared for whatever crisis may be brewing for us in coming years. Admitted on all sides, too, is the fact that defense work is not making much of a showing. It seems almost a crime that such a nation as the United States, a nation which pioneered in mass production and cost cutting, should find itself blundering along these days,

TWO PERILS TO AVOID

It is strange how many people continue to be fearful of Communism, but go blithely along their way undisturbed by thoughts of Fascism or evidences of its activity in this part of the World. They forget that both Mussolini and Hitler used fear of Communism as their chief rallying point in putting over Fascism and Nazism on their own people and a good many other nations thereafter.

This country needs neither of those undemocratic movements to protect it from the other or to solve any of its problems—economic, social, or governmental. And it need fear neither of them if it sticks to first principles—the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.—Exchange.

THE TAX PROGRAM

Americans generally will applaud Chairman Robert L. Doughton's announcement that Federal taxes should be increased next year sufficiently to meet the normal, non-defense expenditures of the government. The fact that President Roosevelt is in agreement with this program gives hope that it can be put into legislative practice.

Although our nation is not at war, it is being out on a war basis, and the preparedness program will necessitate sacrifice on the part of everyone.

Congressional leaders should join in an earnest, non-partisan effort to frame a good and just tax bill.

The public recognizes that all must contribute to the utmost of their financial resources under the levies that will be necessary during the present period of emergency.

During the period of recovery, vast pump-priming expenditures were made for the purpose of restoring industry and commerce to something like a normal basis. Now, that an artificial stimulant in the form of war orders is serving to supply abundant business for most of the mills, there is every reason why governmental orders should not be sharply curtailed, and taxes increased on an equitable scale by which the regular budget may be balanced.

It will require the best thought of the foremost leaders of both political parties to perfect a satisfactory, practical tax law to meet the needs of the situation.

No greater public service can be rendered, though, than by the Republicans joining with Democrats in the patriotic and painstaking job of framing such a measure.—Exchange.

with smaller production schedules than war-battered England.

If peace could be made it might relieve the pressure which is delaying this vast program. Mr. Lamont might be the man who could bring about this long desired result.

Beaverbrook's Paper Asks Aid Against Blockade

London, —The Evening Standard, published by Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Aircraft Production, urged "the people of the United States" Monday to consider giving Britain credits and "further help" in the Atlantic.

The paper asked recruiting of Unused resources of the automobile industry for aircraft manufacture and for "specific measures of assistance in our blockade."

It said the "dominating fact of this war" was that "Hitler's only hope of victory resides in his power to hold America out of the ring when he gets us in a corner and punnels us to pieces with his existing superior resources of metal."

MEREDITH TO FILE SUITS TO COLLECT TRAVEL EXPENSES

Frankfort, Ky., — Attorney General Hubert Meredith announced today he would file suits to recover any illegal travel expense accounts paid state officials and employees which he estimated totaled $40,000 to $60,000 in the last four years.

"I'll bring the suits as soon as the final audit is completed and I have compiled the data, which should be in about a week," Meredith added.

"It was my intention all the time to do so, but I advised the Governor yesterday in order to learn his attitude. We haven't been in accord all the time."

Gov. Keen Johnson replied to Meredith's letter late yesterday that it was his duty as attorney general to recover any "unauthorized or illegal payments" as Meredith termed those paid for expenses in attending conventions and conferences in other states.
