CHRISTMAS ON W.D. PENNYPACKER

In human experience there is no page more replete with joyous association. The first Christmas we remember only as described in sacred story, and we visualize its influence through the spirit exemplified in the lives of our fellows.

The next Christmas we cannot recall. We may have lain in trundle-bed or cuddled in a mother's arms. That was a hallowed Christmas!

Then followed anniversaries teeming with visions of sleighs, Santa Claus, candy and toys, when the veriest romance of Yuletide was so real! We never forget those days.

But how mystically they merge into another epoch. With the diminishing vision of Santa we become aware of a better Christmas in the conscious love and loyalty of others. And then—

In years that follow, the Christmas season becomes richer and more beautiful. It has lost the confusion of toys and confections. But in all these years there has been growing a tree that is ever green—upon it a thousand glittering spangles—hallowed memories of those who played with us around our earliest Christmas trees, or shared the season's festivities in later years.

Refreshing are the recollections that flood upon us as a newer generation takes our place in the pleasures and happy illusions of Christmas.

May this Yuletide be brighter and happier than all that have gone before.

RULES TO BALK

In order to avoid the discomfiture and discomfort of influenza, it is most desirable to avoid all contact with persons who are known to be suffering from the disease. It is well to remember that the disease is highly contagious and that persons in contact with those who are affected are very apt to become infected. It is a wise rule to avoid all contact with persons who have been exposed to the disease, and to avoid all contact with persons who have recently recovered from it.

The following are some of the rules to be observed:

1. Avoid all contact with persons who are suffering from influenza, and especially avoid contact with persons who are known to have been exposed to the disease.
2. Avoid all contact with persons who have recently recovered from influenza.
3. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who are suffering from influenza.
4. Avoid all contact with persons who have been exposed to the disease, and who are in the early stages of recovery.
5. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been exposed to the disease, and who are in the early stages of recovery.
6. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who are suffering from influenza.
7. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have recently recovered from influenza.
8. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been exposed to the disease, and who are in the early stages of recovery.
9. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who are suffering from influenza.
10. Avoid all contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have been in contact with persons who have recently recovered from influenza.

The above rules are based on the latest information obtained from medical authorities, and are recommended for the protection of the public.

Laid up in the Hospital

He sold $20,000 worth of Silk

A NEW YORK silk salesman had to go to the hospital for 18 days. He secured a month with a stenographer. Throughout his convalescence, he kept informed of the course of the market. News and material he sent by telephone. Keep in constant touch with office and customers. Sold over $20,000 worth of silk.

A Minneapolis dry goods salesman was forced to cancel his regular trip because of a broken leg. From his sick room, he controlled 3 days by telephone at severe penalties that took 5 to 6 hours each. Held up by bad conditions, the salesman had to abandon a certain trip in southern Nebraska. He wrote to the telephone office, covered by Long Distance mail, and sold $2,000 worth of silk.

You will be interested in little long-distance calls now made. New Silk in Soho six days are Atlan- tics to New York, R.I., New Orleans to Chicago, R.I., going by regular mail rates.

LISTEN—CHILDREN!

The O.K. Laundry during the week between Christmas and New Years has set apart for the cleaning of school children's garments, to the end that they may return to school with germ-free, clean clothing, better fortified to carry through the latter half of the school year. And that we, as cleaners, are willing to contribute of our time and service to those who, through no fault of theirs, are unable to pay for this service.

Let us have your garments early during the week between Christmas and New Years.

Remember the service is free to any child unable to pay.

What Shall I Give For Christmas?

This very pertinent question is answered—exhaustively, thoroughly, comprehensively, suggestively. We mention gifts appropriate for every member of the family—father, mother, brother, sister, relatives, friends or sweethearts. And with the selection as varied and attractive as it is this year at this store, Christmas shopping and gift selecting is more of a pleasure than a drudgery.

You come into this store and see so many beautiful things that are suitable gifts for the loved ones in mind that you are happily perplexed in not knowing which ones of the hundreds to buy. We offer you the result of months of buying and looking around for Christmas goods. While we are always desirous of selling just as low as we possibly can, yet quality is our foundation, and you can rest assured that any article bought for a present will give satisfaction and pleasure to the recipient every time he or she has occasion to use it.

We are mentioning a few of the appropriate articles suitable for Christmas and purposely omitting prices in order that you may forget all about the cost in anticipation of the pleasure of giving.

When Business is Good

SATURDAY night is a mighty good time to ask yourself this question: "Is our community sending more money out of town than is coming in each week?" Of course the only safe answer is "NO!"

This means that we folks in this neighborhood must patronize local supply men and merchants if we expect our town to prosper and "stay on the map." Frankly, it means that every citizen will find it most profitable to read the advertisements in this paper every issue, and to follow their good advice.

Our advertisers are all genuinely interested in this town—and in YOU. They are helping you build a better home community. When business is good, their profits are being shared with you in an endless chain of co-operative betterment.

A PLEA FOR UNITY IN THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

Dear Editor:

Republican leaders in Kentucky seem to think that the Democratic party has played its last card in its struggle against the Republican majority. They have concluded that the wedge of 1929, which has been bringing votes in favor of the party in recent elections, has come to an end. Nor do they find in the present situation where they hope to find the solutions of their political and social problems. But the prospect of a Republican victory in the November elections is not so far distant as it may appear to some people. The issue is a battle for the future of Kentucky, for the future of the United States, and for the future of the world.
