THE LISTENING POST

It is not my usual job to write the Sixteen Years Ago copy for this paper, but for the past few days I have been doing it, and yesterday, as I wrote the copy, I remembered something that had completely escaped my memory.

On the first page of the issue for December 5, 1924, there was a long story announcing the beginning of a campaign to erect a new building for the Methodist Church. The story occupied more than a full column and for a few minutes I wondered idly who wrote it. I saw that the story concerned a meeting of the board of stewards for the Methodist Church and I was never a member of that body. Yet the story was complete, and I saw that it had been written by some person who was present at the meeting.

Then I remembered that I had been at the meeting. Rev. J. V. Freeman, an old friend of my family, had been sent to Fulton that year to begin what was to be a four year pastorate. He knew us and we knew him and one of the first places he came to visit was this office. I had never known him in his youth, for he was gone from the old home town before I grew up old enough to know folks. But he was a fellow who had a heart in keeping with his gigantic frame and he took me into his circle of friends without delay. I was one of his friends from the day he first saw me.

Preacher Jim, as I later called him, and the name "Jim" fitted him like a glove, had one custom which was most enjoyable. He liked to entertain his official church family in his own home and there was never a man who knew the secret of entertainment any better than he. So, a few days after he arrived as pastor of the Methodist Church, he told his board of stewards that he would entertain them in his own home. The capable Mrs. Freeman, who is still with us, of course took a great hand in the matter, and Preacher Jim came into the office, laid his great hands around my shoulders and said: "Son, you are going to be a Methodist steward tonight for once in your life. I want you at my home tonight."

How Preacher Jim and Mrs. Freeman ever handled that crowd in the Methodist parsonage that night I will never know. I only know that long tables were set up which seemed to run the entire length and breadth of the house, and there was a seat for everybody. A magnificent meal was served, for Preacher Jim always had an appetite for good food and presumed every other man had the same feeling.

I remember also the white head and smiling eyes of that grand old gentleman, J. C. Cheek, as he presided over the meeting. He is another of my favorites of past years and present years; a man who has an inner feeling for courtesy and consideration and a gentle manner of speaking. I did not know when I went to the dinner that it was anything more than a get-together meeting for the purpose of starting off the church year. I soon saw that serious plans were afoot, for Preacher Jim wasted no time in beating around the bush. He saw the need for a new church building and was certain that Fulton could build one. The preliminary plans were laid that night, and with a newspaper man's usual cynicism, I wondered if the enthusiasm started that night would last.

As all of us know now, it did last. Preacher Jim galvanized his congregation into new life as he talked of his vision for a great new building, and in 1926, I believe it was, the cornerstone was laid for the magnificent building which is now in use. That vision was probably in Preacher Jim's mind before he came here, but he told us of it on that night sixteen years ago.

Jones Says England Is Good Risk

British Treasury Official Coming Here To Discuss Finances

Washington. — Speculation on the possibility of loans to Great Britain reached new heights in Washington tonight following two striking developments:

(1) Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, remarked tersely that England is "a good risk" for loans. He added that ordinarily he favored lending money "to good risks when they need it for a proper purpose."

(2) Secretary Morgenthau announced only a few minutes later that Sir Frederick Philips, the undersecretary of the British treasury, was arriving in the United States today to "place the latest available information (on British finances) before the treasury."

Eccles Releases Speech Later Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board said that in a speech Nov. 28 in New York, he had asserted:

"I believe that Congress, in considering all the interrelated elements of the monetary picture, should consider whether or not it would be wise to make credits available at low rates, as a means of aiding the British, taking as collateral their gold, as well as their security holdings here, in Canada or elsewhere."

Eccles released what he termed a "full and correct text of his speech before the National Industrial Conference Board. He said he was doing this because "incorrect and misleading accounts" had appeared.

George Wants Speed Another major development bearing aid to Britain occurred when Senator George (D. Ga.), new chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, told reporters that United States foreign relations committee should be placed on a 24-hour day and the whole arms production program stepped up to a "war-time" pace because material aid to Britain must be given quickly if it is to be most effective.

Buzzer Button Put To Throat Enables Mutes To Be Heard

New York. — John J. Smith, New York newspaperman, a mute whose vocal cords have been gone for nine years, last night pressed a little buzzer button to the side of his throat and talked, distinctly, over a national radio broadcast.

The buzzer replaced his lost voice. Its sound, a male monotone buzz, passed through the walls of his throat to the spot where a normal voice box would be.

Merely by moving his mouth and lips in the manner of speech, Smith talked.

The buzzer—operated by two small flashlight batteries—is something new to science, the first and only one yet made, and the miracle of its use is that the voiceless person does not have to learn how to talk. The sound is there for his use, right in the old familiar place in the throat.

He does not even have to expel any breath—Smith cannot, for he

GERMAN-BORN IN NAVY 231

Washington. — A Navy Department report showed today that except for the Philippines, Canada and Guam, Germany furnished more foreign-born enlisted men in the Navy than any other country.

Italy was second. Both showed increases during the fiscal year 1940, when there were 4,753 foreign-born men in the service compared to 194,801 natives.

The Philippines led with 1,578, a decrease of 115 from the previous year. Canada provided 611, an increase of 122, and Guam 587, an increase of 182.

Germany's 231 was an increase of forty-eight; Italy, 215, an increase of fifty-three.

Commonwealth Member Urges U. S. To Help Patrol Ship Lanes

London. — The British House of Commons heard an unofficial suggestion today that the government appeal to the United States for warships to guard Britain's much-attacked Atlantic convoys and for dollar credits to pay for American supplies.

Ian Gampbell, Hannah, conservative member of Parliament and an educator who taught church history between 1915 and 1925 at Oberlin College, Ohio, urged that the United States help patrol trade routes of the Atlantic with her own navy.

"I do not see how this nation can bear the tremendous burdens of carrying on a great war which, after all, if we see it rightly, is just as much to the benefit of America as for our own ends," said Hannah.

Government spokesmen avoided a direct reply to Hannah, who reflected the nation's concern over U-boat, submarine and raider attacks on Britain's Atlantic shipping in the face of a deficiency of warship protection for convoys.

R. A. Butler, undersecretary for foreign affairs, replying to another query, made the stock statement that Britain is maintaining close contact with the United States "on all matters of common interest" in the Pacific and the Atlantic.

The deputy leader, reiterated assurances that Britain did not intend to "barter the sovereignty of any British territory" in the Western Hemisphere for American war help.

Commons also heard from Sir John Anderson, lord president of the council, that powers of labor compulsion may have to be invoked to rehabilitate bomb-blasted industrial centers, that shipping losses in recent months in American supply lanes had not been "under-estimated" by the government and that technical naval advisers were doing everything possible to "find an early and effective solution of the grave problem" caused by shipping losses.

SPANISH COINS FOUND ON DE SOTO CAMP SITE

Hernando, Miss. — On a spot where legend has it that Hernando de Soto once camped, workmen have unearthed several Spanish coins so old that their date of minting is erased. The coins were excavating for the foundation of de Soto's new Court House.

Hernando and the county were named for the Spanish who discovered the Mississippi River.

CAPONE AID IS ACQUITTED

Chicago. — Five defendants accused of conspiracy to seize control of a bartenders union were acquitted in criminal court yesterday on a directed verdict after the State's key witness declined to testify.

Among the defendants were Murray Humphreys, once listed as Chicago public enemy No. 1, and Frank Nitti who, through his execution of Al Capone's decrees during the prohibition era, became known as "the enforcer."

Injunction Obtained Prosecution was initiated on charges made by George E. McLean, business agent for the Bartenders and Beverage Dispensers Union, Local 278, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor, when he refused to testify on grounds that he might incriminate himself the State's case collapsed.

MINISTERS MEET

WEDNESDAY A. M. The Fulton Ministerial Association convened Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. in the office of the First Methodist Church. The business of the hour was the election of officers for the ensuing year. Before the election Rev. L. O. Hartman, the new pastor of the First Methodist Church was accepted into the association.

The following were elected to office in the association: President, Rev. E. R. Ladd, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church; Vice-President—Rev. L. O. Hartman, pastor of the First Methodist Church; Secretary, Rev. Carmon G. Sloan, pastor of the Church of the Nazarenes; Treasurer, Rev. E. A. Autrey, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The association expressed its appreciation for fellowship and the untiring labors of the Rev. W. H. Saxon, former pastor of the First Methodist Church, and asked the secretary to convey such expression to Rev. Saxon, by letter.

The next meeting of the association will be held the first Wednesday in January.

FORD FAVORS GIVING ENGLAND ALL MONEY IT WANTS IF NEEDED

Detroit. — Henry Ford said today that if Great Britain needs money he favored "giving them all they want."

"It will end the war in a hurry," he said in brief interview. "We did it before and we might as well do it again."

Ford, who 25 years ago started a peace expedition to Europe, said he was convinced neither side would win the present war. "After this war is over," he said, "I see the people turning to the land the source of all things needed for the peace and prosperity of any nation."

25th Anniversary Of Sailing Of Ford's Peace Ship Feted

New York. — Under a troubled winter sky 25 years ago today, the Oscar II nosed down New York harbor and started one of the strangest odysseys in American history.

The Oscar II was the "peace ship" chartered by Henry Ford, and its oddly-assorted passengers were bound for Europe to "get the boys out of the trenches for Christmas."

Today, a handful of its survivors—including such writers as Elmer Davis, Berton Braley and Irving Caesar—gathered at a luncheon of the Overseas Press Club of America to commemorate the expedition.

The unusual manifestation of pacifism begun that bleak day was fated to come to an inglorious end. The goal was a conference of peace advocates to influence belligerent government to end the war—but the war was to run its destructive and horrible course for three long years more.

Ford Sent Telegram In a telegram read at the luncheon in honor of the survivors of the sailing, Ford said in part:

"I'm glad that you are observing the 25th anniversary of the sailing of what has been called the peace

Germans Expect War Aid From Small Nations

Paper Reports Axis To Dominate Vienna League Of Nations

Bucharest, Rumania. — The frank statement that Germany expects smaller European nations to lend their armies, their territory and their transport facilities to the axis for a spring offensive was made today by Curentul, the newspaper which frequently is called the Nazi mouthpiece in Rumania.

Rumanians in particular were exhorted to look seriously upon their promise of military assistance to the axis—made, along with those of Hungary and Slovakia, in recent adherence to the "all for one and one for all" alliance of Berlin, Rome and Tokyo. Nazi troops already are in Rumania.

"Axis diplomacy," said the newspaper, "is preparing a huge coalition of all European states which will involve participation of their armies and free use of their territories and transport facilities."

The newspaper did not say which direction the offensive was to take but the implication seemed clear that it referred to the German drive which is expected to descend through Bulgaria or Yugoslavia into Greece, Turkey and the middle east—aimed eventually at Suez; possibly to be coordinated with a German thrust through Spain at Gibraltar.)

Curentul also forecast an axis league of nations at Vienna—in which the axis would make and pursue its own decisions without referring them to satellite states.

SCOUT NEWS The Scout meeting of Troop 43 was held last night at the Cabin on Vine street with 17 boys present. The meeting opened with the pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, followed by the recitation of the Scout Oath.

After roll call, Mr. Edwards rehearsed the boys in the parts that they are to play in the program at the Science Hall, December 9. There will be a hamburger supper Monday night at the Science Hall lunch room for the benefit of the Scouts in Troop 43 and 44. Dads and all men and boys interested in Scouting are invited. This is the first stag affair ever undertaken by the troops and it is hoped that everybody interested in this work will help make it a success.

Plans were made for the decoration of the dining room for the night of December 9. When this discussion was over the meeting was dismissed.

Scribe—Virgil King.

25th Anniversary Of Sailing Of Ford's Peace Ship Feted

The unusual manifestation of pacifism begun that bleak day was fated to come to an inglorious end. The goal was a conference of peace advocates to influence belligerent government to end the war—but the war was to run its destructive and horrible course for three long years more.

Ford Sent Telegram In a telegram read at the luncheon in honor of the survivors of the sailing, Ford said in part:

"I'm glad that you are observing the 25th anniversary of the sailing of what has been called the peace ship. I do not hesitate to say that I learned a great deal on that voyage which has helped me to understand other things that have occurred during these 25 years.

"And it seems to me that with the oceans full of warships, we can afford to remember that there was once a peace ship. At least we who sailed in 1915 did not decrease the life or love that was in the world. It is a pleasure after so many years to greet my fellow voyagers on the Oscar II."

Henry Ford's aversion to war was widely known, and on the night of Nov. 25, 1915, after a conference with President Wilson, the automobile manufacturer chartered the Oscar II to carry an expedition to Europe.

He had said: "I will spend every cent I have in the world if necessary to bring about an end of the war."

He did spend $400,000.

Aboard the "peace ship" were about 100 passengers, including peace advocates, students and newspapermen covering the expedition and on their way to cover European war, Ford was among them.

REPORT SLAYING IN

ALCATRAZ PRISON

San Francisco, Alcatraz federal prison officials reported today that Henri Young, bank robber, had killed convict Rufus McClain, 37, in a sudden attack with a makeshift dagger in the prison tailor shop.

McClain, his abdomen ripped by the razor-sharp steel spike, died several hours after the attack.

Young, 29-year-old prisoner from Washington state, was placed in solitary confinement.

The stabbing occurred yesterday and was revealed by Warden James H. Johnson in telegrams to the press. The warden said he had not been able to determine how Young obtained and sharpened the steel spike.

ARMY BOMBER MAY TAKE SICK CHILEAN WOMAN BACK TO HOME TODAY

Washington.—Acting under orders from President Roosevelt, the Army put one of its giant four-motor bombers in readiness today for an errand of mercy to Chile.

The great machine, designed to carry tons of death-dealing bombs over hundreds of miles, has been placed at the disposal of Senora Davila, stricken wife of Don Carlos Davila, former president of Chile. If doctors agree, it may be used to take her to her Santiago home.

Senora Davila has been ill for many months. Recently she underwent an operation in New York City. Several weeks have elapsed since then and her condition, it was reported here, has failed to improve. Attorney physicians decided she should be returned to Chile where the climate might prove to be beneficial.

Chilean authorities took up the question of the journey with Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. The matter then went to the President who ordered the bomber made available.

The flight will start at Mitchell Field, N. Y., tomorrow if Senora Davila's physicians approve of beginning the journey at that time.

British Help Hike In Sight

Washington.—Imminence of an important new decision in the aid-for-Britain program—perhaps on a par with the dramatic destroyer trade or the release of giant bombers—was strongly indicated today. Positive information was lacking as to the exact nature of the matter under consideration, but high significance was attached to the fact that it brought nine of the most important officials in the Government together yesterday for a conference.

First surmises were that the meeting was concerned with the question of supplying Britain with enough tonnage to replace some of her recent heavy shipping losses.

One informed official said, however, that if merchant shipping was discussed, "it wasn't the big thing."

Financing Is Factor
Whatever else was discussed, it apparently had a close link with the whole question of British financial resources and her ability to buy war materials in this country. This financial question, it was authoritatively reported, was a major topic, although the meeting was not for the purpose of considering whether the United States should advance money to help Britain.

British Order 60 Freighters From America

London. —The British disclosed today that they have turned to United States shipyards with an order for 60 new freighters to meet their most immediate menace—Nazi raids from on, above and below the surface of the sea.

In addition, Ronald H. Cross, the youthful minister of shipping, told the House of Commons: "Old but servicable United States vessels, including vessels belonging to the maritime commission, have been and will continue to be purchased for the British flag as opportunity offers."

Britain's own figures and acknowledgements, entirely aside from those broadcast by the Germans, made it a black Tuesday for Britain at sea. Another cabinet member, food minister Lord Woolton, declared in a speech: "We must have Speed! Speed! Speed! and Ships! Ships! Ships!"

The German high command announced two successful submarine assaults on British convoys Monday in which 17 merchantment of more than 131,000 tons and an auxiliary cruiser of 17,000 tons were reported sunk. Two other ships were listed as probably sunk, increasing the likely toll to more than 160,000 tons by U-boats alone that day.

Presumably these were the ships which sent distress signals from about 500 miles west of Ireland over a 20-hour period beginning late Sunday night. It recalled the attack Nov. 5 by a German surface raider on a 38-ship convoy. Only the fight of the British armed merchant cruiser Jervis Bay, which went down with her guns roaring, permitted the bulk of those ships to escape.

MEREDITH TO FILE SUITS TO COLLECT TRAVEL EXPENSES

Frankfort, Ky., —Attorney General Hubert Meredith announced today he would file suits to recover any illegal travel expense accounts paid state officials and employees which he estimated totaled $40,000 to $60,000 in the last four years.

"I'll bring the suits as soon as the final audit is completed and I have compiled the data, which should be in about a week," Meredith added.

"It was my intention all the time to do so, but I advised the Governor yesterday in order to learn his attitude. We haven't been in accord all the time."

Gov. Keen Johnson replied to Meredith's letter late yesterday that it was his duty as attorney general to recover any "unauthorized or illegal payments" as Meredith termed those paid for expenses in attending conventions and conferences in other states.

MEREDITH IS HEARTLESS

It seems utterly heartless that Attorney General Meredith, up Frankfort way, should pick a time just about three weeks before Christmas, when there should be peace and contentment in all hearts, to spring a surprise by saying that in past years various state officials had spent more than forty thousand dollars in what he terms an illegal manner. He refers specifically to certain trips, and leaves the implication quite plainly that he believes several have gone on personal trips, merely for the fun of it, and have turned in expense accounts to the state and these have been paid. Now the Attorney General, learning of some of these trips, turns thumbs down on such practices and as a parting bombshell says that he will take steps to recover as much of the money thus spent as possible. It might be possible to recover quite a lot of it if the men happen to be still employed by the state. If they are it will be an easy matter to recover this money.

If the money is recovered it will be a most melancholy chore for those who pay it back to the state coffers. Suppose that John Doe felt that the state needed his services in White Sulphur Springs, or in Hollywood or in French Lick or in any of the places where men gather when they want to have a whooping big time. It is not difficult to combine a bit of state business with a bit of a personal trip, and no doubt some of the lads in Frankfort can easily persuade themselves that such practice is quite all right. No doubt many trips have been made in this manner, and perhaps there might be some justice in some of the trips. But such things have a way of growing and judging from the Frankfort yarn, the practice has been growing on some of our Kentucky officials.

Suppose John Doe made this trip last spring. He had a fine time and came back to work feeling as fit as eight wildcats. He really felt that the trip had made a better man out of him and that he was now ready to give vastly more to his beloved Commonwealth. So he pitched right in and gave prodigally of his stored up strength. All the summer he gave this way, and about now he is perhaps thinking of another trip that might be arranged for New Orleans, through some odd coincidence, when the Sugar Bowl football game was being played. Stranger things have happened.

Then the cruel blow falls. Mr. Meredith not only throws all those hopes out of the window, but issues the comforting statement that the trip made last spring must be paid for out of the official's pocket. What a blow! For on that trip, financed by the state, John Doe spent more liberally than he would spend personally—by a long shot. Now, just as Christmas is peeping around the corner, John Doe may have to dig deeply into his pocket to pay the costs of that enjoyable trip to French Lick or Hollywood or White Sulphur Springs. Naturally John Doe sees no justice in such a thing. That trip he made last spring is ancient history. Its joys have faded, and he has given of his

Andrew J. Kirkland, aged pioneer citizen of Fulton, died this morning at four o'clock after a long illness. He was born in 1840 and had lived in Fulton for many years and served as one of the first trustees of Carr Institute.

The opening guns for building a new Methodist Church in Fulton were fired last night at a dinner given by Pastor J. V. Freeman at his home on Walnut street. J. C. Cheek presided over the meeting, which was attended by the stewards of the church and several invited guests. Pastor Freeman stated that he believed a new building could be erected and pledged his full efforts to the work.

The Little Ten Athletic Conference will meet tomorrow at the Fulton High School. Fulton High is a member of the conference.

At a meeting of the Lions Club plans were laid for the organizing of an Associated Charities group in the city. Mrs. John Culver, Harry Brown, Stuart Brown, Messrs. Benedict and Hornbeak gave a fine program.

AMERICAN'S "WALLOP INDEX"

Now that this nation is really swinging into its national defense program, there is a good chance to look around and judge some of the factors that would give any possible aggressor pause before it—or he—went looking for trouble with the United States.

Examining the facts of the case, the conclusion is inescapable that it is the industrial might of this country that is our best insurance against getting embroiled with any other nation in the world. Col. Willard M. Chevalier, publisher of Business Week, has, for instance, collected some very pertinent statistics on this subject. Col. Chevalier has estimated America's "wallop index" based on the national capacity to produce the essentials necessary to carry on a modern war—items like coal, steel, autos, and electric power.

"Setting at 100 the German capacity to produce these resources, our own capacity would figure at 242," he declares. "Stacked up against the totalitarian powers, the United States still has the edge despite the recent industrial and agricultural acquisitions of Hitler and his Axis partners."

Citing the steel industry as an example, the noted analyst continues: "The capacity of U. S. mills at the beginning of 1940 was 81,619,500 tons. This is nearly twice last year's output in Germany and the countries that have come under German control where mills were operating at a feverish pace. It is 50 per cent greater than the production of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis; and it falls only 15,000,000 tons short of the output of the entire world outside the United States, but including Russia and the British Empire."

Industrial production alone does not make a country strong. National faith and national unity are vital, too. But when all work together, the result surely is foreordained.—Mayfield Messenger.

renewed strength quite liberally in the service of the Commonwealth.

No loud applause will be heard among those who have made such trips. No doubt there is a lot of scurrying back and forth in Frankfort as the various John Does endeavor to put a quiet fix on such things. All the John Does might be willing to forget future trips, at least for a year or so, but this matter of paying for one that has been already been made is something else entirely.

How could the Attorney General be so hard hearted about a trifling matter of forty thousand dollars? Particularly how can he be so tough just at Christmas time?

U. S. General

Says British

"Won't Lose"

New York.—Maj. Gen. J. E. Chaney, commander of the North-eastern District of the U. S. Army Air Corps, told newsmen Tuesday that after a forty-three-day survey in England he was "very optimistic on the outcome of the war from the British point of view."

Describing the British Isles as "a fortress," he said "at the rate they are going, the British won't lose the war."

Asked whether he meant that the British would win the war, he replied, "that is another question."

In the most extended interview permitting direct quotation given by an American Air Corps officer returning from England, General Chaney asserted the military information the United States is gaining from England on both British and German military establishments "in money would be worth hundreds of millions of dollars."

NEW SEA, AIR BASES

Washington.—A total of $75,000,000 has been allotted, it was announced today, to start developing sites being acquired from Great Britain for naval and air bases guarding the Atlantic approaches to America.

Announcing that Army engineers had started preliminary work on defense installations in Newfoundland and Bermuda and that additional field parties would sail "at early dates" for the six other sites, the War Department disclosed that President Roosevelt had allotted $35,000,000 of emergency funds for initial Army expenditures.

This money will be spent on surveys and construction of facilities for Army garrisons which will be stationed at the bases to protect them from air raids and hostile landing parties.

Previously, Secretary Knox had disclosed that the President had made $50,000,000 of emergency funds available to the Navy for its share of the work dredging harbors, building wharves, navies, store houses, repair shops and the like. Both sums came from funds placed at the chief executive's disposal by

Air Lines In Agreement To Turn Engines Over To U. S. Army

Washington. — Commercial air lines have agreed to turn over to the Army a quantity of new engines which recently were delivered to them, making possible the immediate completion of warplanes for which engines had been lacking.

The air lines and manufacturers also have agreed the priorities board of the National Defense Commission announced Monday night, to permit release to the military services during 1941 of about $7,500,000 worth of equipment, part of which the air lines had planned to use in expanding their services.

This announcement followed by a week Secretary of War Stimson's statement that the priorities board should prevent the air lines from expanding their services. He said this should be done to expedite warplane manufacture for the armed services.

President Roosevelt also expressed a hope that the commercial lines would not expand while planes were urgently needed by the Army and Navy.

Donald M. Nelson, administrator of priorities, in making the announcement, said new policies had been adopted by the board which would provide "accelerated delivery of military aircraft."

The policies, he said, "were formulated by the commercial aircraft priority committee and approved" by his board after "a meeting with representatives of the various interests in the aviation industry."

"A program is being developed in co-operation with the air lines and the manufacturers which will permit release to military services during 1941 of approximately $7,500,000 worth of equipment, part of which the air lines had planned to use in expanding their services."

British Financial Outlook Studied By U. S. Officials

Washington. — The whole question of British financial resources and ability to buy war materials in this country was reported authoritatively to have been the cause and chief topic of a meeting today of some of the most important officials in the government.

According to this source, it was not a meeting to decide whether the United States should lend money to Great Britain but more to take an accounting of the situation resulting from British contracts, now aggregating more than $2,500,000,000 and expected to rise to $4,000,000,000 in the next year. Another source, who seemed to have the same idea, said he understood all British purchases, present and prospective, were tabulated and analyzed.

It was, one indicated, the aftermath of the controversy stirred up by the recent statement of Lord Lothian, British ambassador, that Britain was running out of the means of buying American products and needed financial aid as well as material aid.

The report makes the meeting also seemed to fit the news that came out here Saturday that the British shortly would send an official mission to this country to survey the financing problem.

A possible explanation of today's gathering was that the United States was setting up a committee to join this British mission in the study—a study which is expected to develop vital information of the very nature for which a number of Congressmen are demanding investigations.

The only certain thing about today's meeting was the attendance, which alone was significant because nearly every time a similar gathering of so many high officials has occurred in recent months some important step in the "aid-to-Britain" policy has been announced very soon afterwards.

Such meetings preceded the trade of Navy destroyers for Atlantic bases, the announcement that British would be allowed to order 12,000 more warplanes and the release of four-motored bombers to England.

N. Y. Teachers Are Accused Of Spreading Radical Propaganda

New York. —Charges that the city's vast public school system had been used deliberately to spread subversive doctrines and that professors in city colleges had attempted to obstruct exposure were made Monday by Paul Windels, counsel for a special State inquiry into municipal education.

Windels outlined his charges in a prepared statement issued as a joint subcommittee of the State Legislature opened public hearings on evidence it had been assembling for several weeks.

The committee had witnessed the "spectacle," Windels said, of city college professors who refused to answer when asked if they were members of the Communist Party "under aliases known to the committee's investigating staff."

"There is no denying that such efforts to delay our work have been partially successful," he continued, "but they have not entirely succeeded, and I venture to predict any early collapse of the scheme in its entirety."

The bulk of evidence already obtained, the investigator said, "relates to Communist activity in the schools," but he added that the committee also was trying to ferret out "the extent, if any, of Fascist or Nazi activities" among the city's 1,000,000 pupils.

MIGRANT AID IS PROPOSED

Washington. —Secretary of Labor Perkins and Wage-Hour Administrator Philip B. Fleming offered Congress several proposals today for easing the economic plight of migratory workers moving from State to State in search of job opportunities.

Fleming suggested extension of wage regulation to large scale agriculture so as to give the workers on big farms minimum pay rates of from 15 to 30 cents an hour.

Extensions Urged
Secretary Perkins proposed that labor and social laws be extended to protect the workers in industrialized agriculture and agricultural processing and packing plants.

The secretary suggested the extension of labor and social laws to provide migratory workers the protection of workmen's compensation, child labor and wage-hour laws, wage payment and wage collection laws, unemployment compensation, collective bargaining and old age insurance.

Miss Perkins also called for the regulation of labor contractors who recruit migratory labor.

U. S. Curtails Parcel Post Service To Europe

New York. —Even Christmas won't cheer some sections of Europe expecting gifts from America, for parcel post service from the United States to all except ten areas there has been suspended because of the war.

Postmaster Albert Goldman reported yesterday packages might be sent only to Great Britain, Ireland, France, Switzerland, Portugal, Spain, Gibraltar, the Azores, Iceland and the Faroe Islands.

Regular foreign mail, however, continues. This includes letters, magazines, newspapers and books.

War Zone 'Nerve' Wins Term Stay From U. S. Judge

Philadelphia. —Commenting "You've got more nerve than I have," Federal Judge George A. Welsh gave Frank McElherron, 52, marine engineer accused of violating the United States neutrality law by sailing on a vessel which entered the European war zone, a suspended sentence Tuesday. McElherron was said to be the first person indicted under the provision. He was chief engineer of the Greek steamer Nocolau Virginian.

"Did you see any submarines?" asked Judge Welsh.

"No, sir, but we heard them and, to tell you the truth, I'm more afraid of lawyers than I am of submarines," McElherron replied.

SAYS ANY EMPLOYEE OF STATE MAY VOTE FOR PRECINCT OFFICERS

Frankfort, Ky. —State employees covered by the federal Hatch anti-politics Act may legally vote for precinct committee men and women this coming Saturday, Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herdman held today.

In response to a request from a Louisville Highway Department worker, Herdman said voting for a committeeman was no more a violation of the act than voting in a primary, adding, however, that those covered by the act might not serve as committeemen.

Alps Continue To Push Swiss From Homes

Bern, Switzerland. —Swiss mountain peasants are retreating gradually before the onslaught of their rigorous Alps.

In the seventy years from 1860 to 1930 the population of 242 mountain villages studied declined by 22,000, an average of 18 per cent, while during the same period the population of Switzerland as a whole almost doubled.

One old peasant, explaining the retreat before nature, commented:

"No one like to have a ten-ton rock come bouncing into his kitchen just as the family is settling down to some homemade apple cider."

QUESTIONS CITATION OF FLORIDA TRIP AS ILLEGALLY REIMBURSED

Frankfort, Ky., —Major James Brown, state fish and game commissioner, today questioned Attorney General Hubert Meredith's citation of an April, 1938, out-of-state trip as being illegally reimbursed.

Brown said Meredith had authorized his trips for "co-operative work between state federal officials" in 1939 and that he could not understand why in writing Gov. Johnson Meredith had cited the 1938 trip to Jacksonville, Fla., which Brown said was on "similar business," as having been paid for by the state illegally.

Brown said both these trips and others he had made were for official conferences called by U. S. Biological Survey and Fisheries Bureau officials.

Major Brown also declared that Assistant Director S. A. Wakefield's Mexico City trip in 1937 was approved in advance by Gov. A. B. Chandler, nearly a year before the attorney general had first questioned legality of such trips. Brown said it was made for official conferences with federal officers, which he said "are always held at conventions."

Training For Defenso

By Rufus T. Strachm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

SKILLED man power is needed to put national defense plans in operation. New jobs are being created faster than they can be filled. It takes time, much time, for a man to learn the work of a skilled mechanic or technician. You can't educate a man overnight, no matter how great the emergency.

These are facts of the greatest importance to industry. The War Department, under the National Defense Act of 1916, has surveyed 30,000 manufacturing plants to ascertain what equipment they can produce in case of war. More than 10,000 of these have been earmarked as being available for carrying out one or another phase of defense production when needed. The plants cannot be put to work making weapons and equipment overnight. Machine tools must be designed and made, the mechanism of production must, in many instances, be rearranged and adapted to different uses.

The problem of national defense, therefore, is one of men and machines. The men must be highly trained, and the machines must be fashioned for special jobs. The problem is so important and so complicated that we cannot afford to have any illusions about it. We cannot afford to overestimate or to underestimate our ability to do it. The job will be done, but it requires cool, earnest, realistic, and intelligent effort, with a full understanding of what is to be done and how to do it.

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

Clinton-Fulham Game

Our biggest basketball crowd, a $76.00 house, saw the Central Red Devils tangle with the Fulham Black Cats in a hard fought game Friday night on the local court. Coach Roger's prediction was right. It was a good game. Even though we lost by a 7 point margin, the score, 26-33 was much closer than many expected.

The home team, a combination of Shiloh, Beelerton and Fulham players, with a "rep" to make, put up a stiff fight against superior physical strength and experience. And that, plus perseverance, is potential factor in changing a present "good loser" into a future winner.

Our pep squad leaders—Frances Armbruster, Ethel Berry and Beulah Mae Evans, donned their black and white uniforms and made their initial appearance in grand style Wednesday. They were likewise heard, as well as seen.

The preliminary game was also a victory for Clinton, who "came strong," brought a good team and gave splendid support. Thank you!

Church Supper Program

Mt. Pleasant's annual church supper will be served on attractive tables at 25c per plate late Thursday night, December 12. Rev. J. C. Gilbert of Dyer, Tenn., former pastor, has accepted an invitation to be with us and Rev. H. M. Stroud, a home boy now pastoring the First Methodist Church at Covington, Tenn., is also expected to be present. An informal short program will follow the 6 o'clock supper.

A Sad Surprise

Messrs. Bent and Edd Wilmuth of Charleston, Mo., had a shocking surprise Sunday when they arrived at the home of their sister, Mrs. Vernon Collins and learned of the death of their brother, Joe Ben Wilmuth, who died November 22, in the West Kentucky State Hospital. They failed to get the death message and were on their way to Hopkinsville to see him. While here they also visited in the home of J. M. Stroud.

In Hospital

Joe House, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey House, is in the Mayfield Hospital following an appendectomy last Wednesday, November 27. His condition is reported satisfactory now but Joe's worrying a bit over missing that school work.

Called Home

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gore of Detroit were called home Friday by the fatal illness of his mother, Mrs. Jennie Gore, who lives south of Clinton. Death occurred Tuesday night, December 3.

The Watts children of Detroit—Herman, Hub, James (Buck Wayne), Mrs. Elizabeth Jackson and Miss Mildred Watts—who were called home by the fatal illness of their mother, Mrs. C. W. (Duck) Watts of Water Valley, returned to Detroit Saturday, accompanied by their father who goes to spend the winter. The family formerly lived here and several relatives and friends attended the funeral services at Obion Graves County, last Thursday.

Hello, Folks!

Carma Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dietzel Allison (Marie Via) made her appearance at the Fulton Hospital November 27. Mrs. Allison and infant returned Saturday night and are doing nicely.

Phyllis Joyce arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larue Cunningham December 1. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Wedding Anniversary

W. M. Watts, 80, and Lou Anna Watts, 76, celebrated their 55 wedding anniversary December 3. They have ten children living, five of whom reside in Detroit—Love, Artie, Mrs. Ima Batts, Mrs. Oma Mullens and Mrs. Beatrice Hill. Bob Watts lives in Fulton. Mrs. Flossie Armbruster of Columbus, Mrs. Lillian Franklin of Wingo and Aubrey and Miss Verna Watts are at home. 30 grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Watts are both active. He has an excellent memory and is one of the most accurate spellers for his age.

The officiating minister and those witnessing the marriage ceremony have long since made their final departure.

Birth-Wedding Anniversary
George Humphreys celebrated two important events in his life last Sunday, December 1—his 67th birthday and his 43rd wedding anniversary. Present for the occasion were five of their children—Walter, Lavern, Kimbell, Erma Crooks, Alberta Elliott and Gladys Dew and families.

Personals

"Mike" Hanners has returned home from Detroit.

Leslie Spicer has been confined to his bed for more than a week.

The condition of Mrs. Willie Jackson, who suffered a stroke of paralysis several days ago, remains unchanged.

Mrs. Clint Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dowdy, Prentice Curling and Frank Leath attended the funeral of Mrs. A. W. Burgess at Beulah Thursday.

Mrs. E. E. Armbruster and daughter, Ara, shopped in Paducah Saturday.

Buster Pillow and Boss Mullens made a business trip to Detroit last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vanpool and grand-son, Jimmy Vaden, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Vester Clark near Fulton.

Dewey Humphreys, who received a badly broken leg two months ago, had the cast removed Saturday and is on crutches now.

There's but little improvement in the condition of Mrs. Y. E. Burkett who has been sick several days.

Uncle Dave Humphreys is very low. His children in Detroit have been called to his bedside.

Funeral services for Mrs. Jennie Gore who died at her home south of Clinton Tuesday night, December 3, have not yet been arranged. Her two sons, J. F. Gore of Albany, N. Y., and Jim Gore and wife of Detroit, were called to her bedside several days ago.

This and That

Attendance at Sunday school last Sunday dropped with the mercury. Only 176 were present at the five churches. Mt. Pleasant had 61, Salem 39, Bethel 30 and Mt. Moriah and Jackson's Chapel tied with 23 each. And three of those churches have new stoves—Salem, Bethel and Mt. Pleasant. Our first quarterly meeting will be at Friendship December 11. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors are all selling chances on that lovely table cover, a gift from Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jackson of El Monte, Calif.

Miss Evelyn Hopkins of Detroit has employment at Nelsner's Store on Harper where she formerly worked. Mrs. Nora Watts has employment in the Grace Hospital, Detroit. At one time in November 520 patients were registered there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon McAllister of Detroit remembered mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Locke, by sending them a new radio. Claud Campbell is basketball coach of the independent team of Southern in Detroit, composed mostly of Hickman Countians, one of whom is Gene Nicholas, member of our last year's team.

Is Gene Happy? Well—Yes! A year ago when Clinton played here, had a $52.00 house and last Friday night, a $76.00 house.

Five years ago November 30 Pat Moore and Ruth Hales married on his mother's birthday. The same day Mrs. Dora Henderson died. Even chickens are ungrateful. We have a brand new poultry-house and are buying eggs for our daily use. Spent enough on it to have bought several nice Christmas presents. And now it's just 17 more days to do our "window shopping."

Training For Defense

By Rufus T. Strohm

Dean, International Correspondence Schools

At this moment, we in the United States have a 14 billion dollar job confronting us. It is the job created by the money which has been appropriated for a national defense program. It is a stupendous undertaking, one which may well decide the future of our civilization. Vast quantities of materials and supplies must be assembled to build ships, tanks, airplanes, guns; to maintain the fighting men who man our first line of defense; to equip the one or two million men who make up a "protective mobilization force." There are new plants to be erected, machinery to be built and installed, and skilled men to be developed.

The United States has virtually all the essentials needed—the money, the natural resources, the man power, and the industrial leadership.

Only one thing is lacking—a sufficient number of trained men. This problem can and will be solved, but it is one that will make our defense program slow up in spots. Although much has been done by some industrial groups to provide for a sufficient force of skilled workmen, others have been slow in establishing an apprentice training plan.

The skilled mechanic never had a greater opportunity to serve his country and himself.

The victims, Fabius Frankel, said he was riding to the union station in a cab which stopped for a traffic light and was boarded by two unmasked men carrying revolvers. The gunmen forced the chauffeur to drive more than a mile to another section of the city where the jewels were taken from a secret pocket in Frankel's vest.
