We have Some of the Same.

A Russellville special to the Courier-Journal or yesterday says: "Henry Hart, a white man of about thirty years of age, living in this county, was indicted at the last sitting of the grand jury for vagrancy. Shortly afterwards he was arrested and placed in jail, and yesterday was tried on the charge, to which he pleaded guilty, and the jury decided that he should be hired out at public outcry to the highest bidder, whom he should serve sixty days. Hart is a married man, having a wife and two children, but is constitutionally opposed to work of any kind."

Death of Col. George Poindexter.

The death of Col. George Poindexter early Sunday morning removed from this community one of its oldest and most respected citizens. He had lived to an age when life had lost its tinsel and glitter and he knew things as they were, but in his declining years he was kind to the afflicted, affectionate to his friends and true to his Christian faith and religious convictions. There was no bitterness in him, but he wore an "old man's crown of honor" with the dignity and tenderness of one who stands beneath the shadow of the other shore. His funeral was preached Sunday afternoon at the Christian church by the pastor L. W. Welsh. Immediately thereafter the interment took place at the city cemetery with Masonic honors.

Col. Poindexter was born in 1807 and moved to this city in 1829. He served two terms in the State legislature from this county and has repeatedly held positions of public trust. He was the oldest Mason in the city, and with his death the last of the original 19 incorporators of the Christian church at this place passes away. He was an Elder in the church 47 years and a Deacon 8 years, and his Christian character worthily reflected the honors of so long a service. No man enjoyed a more general respect of people of all classes and his death is mourned by our entire community.

Democratic Committee Meeting.

The Democratic County Executive Committee met Monday morning, 11 members being present. Precedent conventions to appoint delegates to the county convention April 23, were called for Saturday, April 16, to be held between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. All known Democrats are entitled to vote, and the qualification of voters is to be decided by the Chairman of the meeting in each district. All credentials must be signed by the Chairman and Secretary to be valid, and precincts not holding conventions in accordance with this call shall not be represented in the county convention. The basis of representation shall be one delegate for every 50 Democratic votes and fraction over 25. The new districts of Beverly and Kelly shall have one vote each. The County Convention is to be held at 1 p. m., April 23rd, to appoint delegates to the State Convention.

A resolution endorsing the nomination for State Senator to Hopkins county was adopted. The Committee adjourned to meet the first Monday in April.

The interior decoration of the audience room of the Christian church is fast being completed. The papering is finished and the central chandelier, a magnificent design in brass, has been swung into place. The pews have arrived and an expert will be here this week to put them in place. In a few days the stained glass windows will be put in.

At the conclusion of Prof. H. K. Taylor's speech, Monday afternoon, Col. M. D. Brown, of Madisonville, was called out. He made a nice "speech" on turnpikes and partially committed himself to the race for Senator. He said "he did not intend to make a scramble for the nomination, but if the people of Hopkins and Christian wanted him, he is ready for the fray."

Prof. H. K. Taylor, of Russellville, candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, made a pleasing address to a large audience at the courthouse, Monday afternoon. Prof. Taylor is a clear, forcible speaker and makes a good impression. He is one of the leading candidates for the position to which he aspires and would make an efficient officer. His address on education is a fine evangelical effort and well received.

Monday morning about two o'clock the confectionary establishment of R. P. Stevens, on 6th street, near the depot, was broken into by some sneak thief, who carried away a goodly supply of merchandise, including six boxes of cigars, tobacco, oranges and a few dollars of loose change from the cash drawer. The bold robber gained entrance through the front window which was smashed in. His exit was effected by the same route. Jno. Bradley, colored, has been arrested for the offense.

Chronicle. The L. & N. Railroad Company will soon lay the water pipes from Guthrie to Dr. W. D. Merriweather's spring—two and a half miles, and placing a large engine at the spring the water will be thrown into Guthrie in a quantity sufficient to supply all the engines on the road and leave enough for any machinery that may hereafter be put up in that place. The already popular Grant Hotel under the management of Mr. A. F. Rogers, will be still more attractive with the supply of pure, fresh spring water for drinking and bathing.

Dedicate persons, and all whose systems have become debilitated, should bear in mind that Simmons Liver Regulator is not a drastic, purging medicine, does not weaken or deplete the system as other purgatives do, but acts gently. It will invigorate like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system.

Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Ga., says: "Simmons Liver Regulator is mild and suits me better than more active remedies." Sold by H. B. Garner.

A Strangely Sad Death.

Last Friday, at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mr. Henry Mosely, in Russellville, Miss Lida McCarty, of Fairview, step-daughter of Prof. T. C. Kernan, died. The deceased was a charmingly beautiful young lady just blooming into womanhood. A week previous to her death she was taken ill and a physician summoned. Strange to say, she refused to take any of the prescribed medicine. She adhered to this strange determination to the last, and after a week of suffering death came to claim her. Those who knew her well say she died of a broken heart. Her friends think she was desperately in love with a young man in this county, and the burden of sentiment upon her heart was too much for it to bear. She is at rest now, and may the memory of her sweet youth strengthen and comfort the friends and relatives in their hour of woe.

The Latham Monument Arrives.

The magnificent monument to be erected over the Confederate dead in the city cemetery arrived in the city Friday night. The monument is in sections and no idea of its appearance can be gained from the mass of marble piled on the cars. It was shipped from the marble works in Connecticut eight days ago on five cars. The total weight is 112,700 pounds, and the freight charges foot up the enormous sum of $12,450. Special machinery accompanies the monument to unload it from the cars and place it in position in the cemetery. This machinery occupies one car and a half and includes a heavy wagon to haul the material to the place of erection. Expert workmen will be here today to give special attention to all the work in detail. It will take 3 or 4 days to unload the monument and probably a week to get the shaft in position in the cemetery.

As is well known the monument is a gift from Mr. John C. Latham, of New York, and when in place will have cost the donor over $100,000. An Executive Committee will be appointed in a few days to arrange for the unloading, which will not occur until the summer. This will be one of the grandest occasions in the history of Hopkinsville. Distinguished speakers will be invited to deliver addresses, and not less than 5,000 visitors will be present to do honor to the occasion.

Company D Attention!

Each man in the company is hereby ordered to report at the armory on Monday at 7:30 sharp. The time is upon us when active preparations must be begun in order to present a respectable showing in the Washington drill, May 23 to May 30, inclusive. The company must be organized thoroughly this week, in order to go regularly to work, and as the service of the company is a matter of honor and credit to the community, as well as ambition to outstrip their competitors all over the State.

I wish to inform the members, that no man is either honorably or dishonorably discharged from the company until he receives such discharge, and until he does receive it he is still an active member of the company, and subject to orders, etc., etc.

Let every man be present in uniform, and let us determine what to do, and whatever we do, do it well.

Very Respectfully,

JOHN ELIAS JR., Capt. Comd'y.

KENTUCKY NEWS.

One of Ben Franklin's great grand sons died in Louisville last week.

The first pension to be issued under the Mexican Pension bill was to Senator John S. Williams, of Kentucky.

The State printing and binding from December 14, 1885, to December 6, 1886, cost the enormous sum of $41,732.17.

Two recent combination stock sales at Lexington, the total sales were 555 horses for $296,730. Who can beat that?

At Sparta, George Montgomery prospered in his marriage to his cousin, Miss Louisa Kison, and upon her refusal shot her dead.

If Holt is beaten for the nomination it will be only because he will not have had sufficient time and opportunity to get sufficiently over the State to make known to the people what is in him.—Paducah News.

There are four State Senators running for re-election. Each man feels that he is best qualified to reside over the Senatorial fog-bank. Reed thinks he can see over Hill, and Bryan over Cooke. Garner.

The new Government building at Frankfort was occupied last Tuesday by the Postmaster and Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue. The building will not be completed for a month. It costs with the site, about $150,000.

The rafting of logs on the Kentucky river is a big business. The other day the steamer Favorite, in a distance of twenty miles, passed 130 rafts. Each raft had about 10,000 logs, the aggregate of which number would be 3,000,000 feet of saw lumber.

Judge Samuel H. Jenkins, an old citizen of Ballard county, died recently, aged sixty-six. He was the first County Judge of Ballard under the present Constitution, and was a member of the State Senate several terms and a leading Democrat of that section.

The Somerset Reporter protests against Kentuckians leaving the State on the uncertain hope of bettering their condition: "We don't believe there is a State in the Union that is better in any way than Kentucky, and there are very few that can equal it. Give us old Kentucky in preference to any other State."
