Request Expanding County's Road Aid Program Is Approved

A request by Calloway County to expand the planned rural secondary road aid program by one additional project for this fiscal year has been approved.

Approval of that request was announced here recently by state Highways Deputy Commissioner Otto Ingram, acting for state Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts.

According to Ingram, the newly authorized project provides for initial blacktop surfacing for 1.4 miles of the Les Todd Road.

Funds for completing the project will come out of the county's rural secondary road aid allotment for this fiscal year. That amount, as earlier announced, was $335,652.

The rural secondary road aid program was established under a 1948 state law after Kentucky legislators recognized the need to improve farm-to-market and other rural roads.

It is supported under a funding formula which provides that two cents of the tax collected on each gallon of gasoline sold in Kentucky be set aside for annual allocation to the state's 120 counties for maintenance, construction and reconstruction of rural secondary roads.

The actual work may be accomplished using state highway personnel and equipment or local road contractors, or a combination of both.

According to state Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts, more than $120 million will be allocated by the state to support rural-secondary, county and municipal road aid programs during the current biennium (1974-76).

"During the fiscal year just ended, some 31,000 miles of county, rural secondary and municipal roads and streets received support, either for maintenance, construction or reconstruction projects," Roberts said.

At least 30,000 miles of those roads will continue to fall under those same programs during the current fiscal year, he added.

Administration Offers To Drop 60-Cent Tariff On Imports In Congress Okays Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration is offering to drop a 60-cent tariff on refined petroleum imports if Congress adopts President Ford's plan to decontrol domestic crude oil prices.

Federal Energy Administrator Frank G. Zarb said the 60-cent-per-barrel tariff, imposed by Ford when he announced a second tariff for imported crude, affects two million barrels of refined fuels daily. The lower costs must be passed on to consumers, Zarb said, adding that the end of the tariff would save consumers about $1.2 million each day.

Zarb's proposal, which would leave crude oil tariffs at their present $2-per-barrel level, came after the House Rules Committee cleared the way for full House votes on two key energy proposals.

One measure is a resolution rejecting Ford's latest program for phasing out price controls on 60 per cent of U.S.-produced oil. Friday is the deadline for such a vote. The Ford program becomes effective unless killed by a majority in either the House or Senate by then.

The Rules Committee also sent to the House floor an amendment by Rep. Bob Krueger, D-Tex., that would rewrite the Ford decontrol plan and tie it to a windfall profits tax on oilmen.

No specific time was set for the resolution to reject the Ford program, and sources said the vote, expected to be close, would depend on how the House acted on the Krueger amendment.

The Zarb proposal may bring added support to the Ford oil price decontrol plan, especially from states expected to benefit most from the removal of the 60-cent tariff on refined imports.

Those states are California, Connecticut,

Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Vermont and Virginia, according to federal officials.

The Ford plan would decontrol prices for "old oil" from wells in production before 1972 over a 39-month period with a ceiling of $11.50.

The hour-long meeting was a highlight of a week long State FFA Presidents Conference in the Nation's Capital. ## Ken-Bar Branch Bank Of Marshall County Robbed Tuesday Afternoon

Armed robbers escaped with an undetermined amount of money in a holdup at the Bank of Marshall County, Ken-Bar Branch at about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, according to Marshall County Sheriff's authorities.

Officials said two men, armed with pistols and with stockings over their faces, fled in a stolen car, which was later found, still running, by Marshall deputies in Livingston County. Although no official figure of the proceeds of the robbery was released, a source placed the amount at several thousand dollars. An audit is being conducted today.

According to a sheriff's office spokesman, the two men were followed in the getaway car by a civilian, who informed deputies of the direction of the men's escape. The deputies then found the stolen car parked, with the engine running.

An investigation is being conducted by Marshall County, Kentucky State, and F.B.I. authorities.

New UK Publication Tells How

DRYING FRUITS AND VEGETABLES AT HOME

Feeling nostalgic, curious, or frugal, lots of Kentuckians who never did it before are drying fruits and vegetables this summer. A new publication, written by Extension food specialists at the University of Kentucky, tells them how to do it.

Drying is an easy, cheap way of preserving food. People have been doing it for centuries. In scattered primitive cultures around the world, it's still the main way of putting food by.

"Canning and freezing do a better job of holding the taste, looks, and nutritive value of foods," according to Barletta Wrather, Calloway County Extension agent for home economics. "But along with a revival of interest in the way things used to be done, there's new emphasis lately on drying foods."

She says that the easiest foods to dry at home are apples, herbs, dry beans and peas, corn, sweet potatoes, green beans, and onions. The simplest, cheapest method is sun drying.

"But, in case the weather doesn't cooperate, you should dry in small enough batches that you could finish them in your oven if necessary. Foods will sour or mold if they stay warm and damp too long."

"Our new publication gives step-by-step directions on drying 8 fruits and 11 vegetables, including those old-time shucky beans."

Many fruits need an anti-darkening pre-treatment before drying. Vegetables should be blanched, just the way you would do it if you were going to freeze them.

Once the food is properly dried, conditioned, and Dried fruits are good snacks to take along on a camping trip. vitamins, flavor and color during storage. Plan to eat them within 6 to 8 months.

Using Dried Items
Reconstituted dried vegetables are especially good in soups, stews and casseroles. Seasoning them with herbs helps make up for flavor lost in drying, Mrs. Wrather says.

Dried fruits are good for snacks, and they're great to take along on camping and hiking trips. Reconstituted fruits are good in pies and cakes.

Coffee Cup Chatter

As every family food shopper knows, many factors have to be considered when it comes to buying the weekly groceries. Total dollars available, family tastes, storage and preparation facilities, end use and item cost all affect a buying decision.

With citrus fruits and juices so readily available, we might think no one in the U. S. would be lacking vitamin C. But this is evidently not the case. Nutrition surveys show a considerable number of persons to be lacking sufficient vitamin C. Orange juice is an excellent source of vitamin C with four fluid ounces (1/2 cup) supplying 100 per cent of the U. S. recommended daily allowance. At present, frozen orange juice is an especially good buy since it is less expensive than fresh, but is equally nutritious.

Vows Solemnized At The Methodist Chapel

Mrs. Louis Henry Leigh III

The wedding vows of Miss Patricia Marie Hoffmann and Louis Henry Leigh III were solemnized in a summer wedding at the chapel of the First United Methodist Church, Murray, with the groom's father, Rev. L. H. Leigh II, Methodist minister, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Hoffmann of Marissa, Ill., and Rev. and Mrs. L. H. Leigh II of Jacksonville, Fla. Communion was held for the couple and their rings were blessed before being placed on their left hands.

Two vases filled with lavender and white mums flanked by brass candelabra were used as decorations for the chapel.

Special music for the ceremony was by Miss Marietta O'Bryan of Bardston who played "Traumeri," "Because," "I Love You Truly," "Melody of Love," "Fascination," "Till," and the traditional wedding marches for the processional and the recessional.

Bride's Dress
Given in marriage by her parents, the bride was lovely in her wedding gown, also worn by her mother at her wedding, of ivory satin designed with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline accented with tiny seeded pearls, and a long train that swept gracefully down the aisle. Her lace picture hat was caught with a bow of satin at the back to hold her short veil.

She carried a Colonial bouquet of white daisies and four sweetheart roses. Her "something borrowed" was her grandmother's pearls, also worn by her mother.

Mrs. Tom Ludwick, matron of honor, sister of the bride, and Miss Murray Moore, bridesmaid, wore dresses of lavendar flocked with white flowers, and floppy brimmed lavender hats. They carried Colonial bouquets of pink, lavender, and white flowers.

Tom Leigh, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsman and ushers were Tom Anderson and Lloyd Brown. The groom and his attendants wore grey tuxedos, and the bride's father wore a black tuxedo.

The bride's mother was attired in a long dress of chiffon with pink flowers on a light pink background. The dress featured a long sleeve jacket. Mrs. Leigh, mother of the groom, wore a long jacket dress of green. Both had orchid corsages.

Reception
Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall.

The satin covered table was in the color of lavender with matching net. At each corner was a bouquet of lavender mums and greenery. Centering the table was a white cherub holding matching flowers flanked by candles on each side. The three tiered wedding cake was iced in lavender and white flowers and topped with a bridal bouquet which the bride "threw" to a circle of friends.

Serving at the reception were Raylene Burris, Belinda Russo, and Bernie Willett.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia and are now residing at 915 Coldwater Road, Murray, where they are both attending Murray State University.

The new Mrs. Leigh is a graduate of Carmi Community High School and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority and the MSU marching band. Mr. Leigh is a graduate of Lake City High School.

Pocahontas the First Female Face in Circulation

DEAR ABBY: A woman's libber (obviously) wanted to know why no woman's face had ever appeared on a U.S. dollar bill or any other denomination. You polled 12 women, asking how they felt about it. Nine agreed that it was time a woman got her face on paper money, two said they didn't care one way or the other and one said, "I don't want to get my face on any folding money, but I'd like to get my HANDS on some."

Abby, didn't you know that Martha Washington's picture appeared on the silver-dollar certificate in 1891? T.O.W.

DEAR T.O.W.: I do now. I also learned from my readers that Martha wasn't the first female to have her face on folding money. Pocahontas appeared on a $20 National Bank Note in 1875.

DEAR ABBY: My 73-year-old husband has been providing my best friend (she is 71) with friendship, affection and all manner of "looking after" since her husband's death 15 months ago.

She has been my friend for 38 years. Her husband, also an old friend, was an invalid for several years, and when he died, she needed the strong shoulder of a man. My husband volunteered with my full approval.

I slowly came to realize that my husband was spending more time with my friend than with me.

He admitted that he had grown very "fond" of her and enjoyed being "needed." Then she confessed to having developed a deep affection for my husband. Of course, they both said they "love me" and don't want to hurt me.

She advised me to "stay put" until we could work things out.

Does this happen frequently in the geriatric set? And what should I do? I am 72. This is my second marriage. It has lasted 30 years. Thirty years ago, I was the other woman. Ironic, isn't it?

HARD STAYING

DEAR HARD: What was, was. Your husband is trying to catch a few moonbeams in the twilight of his life. Stay put, and he'll probably get things in focus again.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15, and my parents are in the process of getting a divorce.

I can understand their wanting to be apart because they fought when they were together, but the pressure I get from both is something terrible.

Each puts down the other one, and both try to find out who the other is seeing.

Please help me. How can I tell them to get off my back? IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: Tell them both that you don't want to report to either one. And that should settle it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Red Carpet Campaign A Successful Promotion

The Red Carpet Sales Promotion, sponsored jointly by this newspaper and 59 participating merchants over the past ten weeks, officially drew to a close with Tuesday's edition of The Murray Ledger & Times.

At least this particular promotion has ended. But the participating merchants, who provided countless bargains for consumers during the Red Carpet campaign, will undoubtedly continue to do so in the weeks ahead.

The increase in business generated by this successful promotion has been a boon to the consumer as well as the individual merchant. The merchant benefits directly through increased sales volume, and the consumer benefits via lower prices for his needs and wants.

Promotion and good business go hand-in-hand. And good business is the life-blood of our community.

HEARTLINE is a service for Senior Citizens. Its purpose is to answer questions and solve problems—fast. Write to HEARTLINE, 8514 North Main St., Dayton, Ohio, 45415.

Heartline: Under the old law of the Railroad Retirement Board, a wife had to be age 62 to qualify for a reduced spouse's annuity and her husband had to be 65. Has this been changed under the new law? J. D.

Answer: Starting in 1975, a full spouse annuity is payable at age 60 to the wife of a retired employee age 60 or older with 30 years of service, if the employee's regular annuity began after June 30, 1974. Also, employees retiring with less than 30 years service in 1975 are not required to be age 65 for their wives to receive benefits. The requirement for the husband is now age 62. But, the rules did not change for those who retired in the past.

Heartline: I am collecting Social Security and a widow's pension from VA. Each time my Social Security goes up, my widow's VA pension is reduced. What I want to know is if this new pension law will stop them from reducing my VA Pension? O. D. F.

Answer: No, the new pension law does not affect anyone who is already retired and it has no jurisdiction over VA Pensions.

Heartline: I understand that it is almost impossible for me to know exactly what Medicare will allow as reasonable charges. Is there anyway I can find out the maximum that Medicare will allow for any particular service or charge? W. A.

Answer: Yes. Medicare carriers are required under the Freedom of Information Act to furnish payment maximums applicable to Medicare claims in their areas.

Heartline: Would owning life insurance count as a resource in deciding whether I can receive supplemental security income? E. Y.

Answer: Yes, however, life insurance is only counted as a resource if the face value is over $1,500 and even if it is, only the money you could get by cashing it is counted as a resource.

Heartline: How old do you have to be to get help from Heartline? A. K.

Answer: Our services are only for people 50 years of age or older.

TODAY'S TOPIC: THE MEASURE OF HOOVER

WEST BRANCH, Iowa—There is something very moving about the tiny cottage where Herbert Hoover, 31st president of the United States, was born in 1874. The two-room structure is hardly more than a hut on the prairie—one bedroom, an all purpose family room and a semi-enclosed porch area for the wood stove.

In contemporary terms, Herbert Hoover was a profoundly disadvantaged child. He was the child of a Quaker blacksmith and was orphaned at age 9. He spent his formative years in rural isolation, remote from the influences which are supposed to lead to advancement in life.

It is hard to believe that a President of the United States could emerge from West Branch. Nevertheless, something in that Quaker environment and heritage—the values of honesty and self-reliance—propelled Herbert Hoover toward extraordinary achievement as a mining engineer, humanitarian relief organizer in World War I, and Secretary of Commerce. This spectacular career was capped by his election as President.

It was Mr. Hoover's misfortune to be elected at a time when economic crisis was spreading throughout the world—a crisis with complex causes. He would be frustrated in his efforts to deal with it at home. He would be subjected to crude and unfair political abuse for years. In time, however, he was honored for his integrity, his proposals for a sweeping and necessary reorganization of the Executive Branch, and for his prudent view of America's responsibilities on the world scene.

Today, Americans are better prepared to understand the achievements of Herbert Hoover, to view his fine qualities without partisan coloring of his deeds. In history, he stands as a true creature of the American prairie world. It is an environment that produces people with a strong commitment to the work ethic and with appreciation of self-reliance. Today, as in Hoover's childhood, this is a part of the country singularly free of the excesses of political or ideological passion.

West Branch, Iowa, belongs to a region where calm reigns. Perhaps this has something to do with the influence of nature, of the prairie lands planted in corn. The special spirit of this part of the country is little studied—even as the Hoover achievement is somewhat neglected.

Recently, I read an excellent description of the prairies written by Dennis Farney and published in The Wall Street Journal. "It is a widespread misconception that prairies are always flat," said Mr. Farney. "Most of them have a pitch and a roll. Another misconception is that they are monotonous landscapes of grass and only grass. A virgin prairie sparkles with color of from 200 to 300 kinds of wildflowers from April to October. But above all else, a prairie is an utterly open landscape, a place of lonely windmills turning in a ceaseless wind, of red-tailed hawks circling in an empty sky, of endless distances receding toward infinity."

The Iowa prairies, planted in corn take on that same majestic calm. And calm and openness were the characteristics of Herbert Hoover. He had the personal qualities which command respect. He came to the Presidency, however, at a time of global turbulence and passion, much of it rooted in the faulty peace settlement of World War I. Inflation in Europe and undercurrents of revolution would lead to a second world war six years after Herbert Hoover left the White House.

Americans can learn much about their country as well as the man, Herbert Hoover, in visiting West Branch, Iowa. They can appreciate anew the marvel of a society that permits a blacksmith's son to rise to the Presidency. They can ponder the harmful power of political partisanship in neutralizing and downgrading the leadership qualities of a truly remarkable individual who did not follow the regular political path to the White House.

Today In History

By the Associated Press

In 1953, race riots broke out in Chicago's Trumbull Park housing project after a black family moved into the previously all-white community.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1909, the U.S. government bought its first airplane. It was a Wright biplane costing $31,000 dollars.

On this date: In 1619, the first representative assembly in America convened at Jamestown, Va. Two delegates were present from each of the eleven Virginia Plantations.

In 1718, the founder of Pennsylvania, William Penn, died in England.

In 1863, the American auto pioneer, Henry Ford, was born in Greenfield, Mich.

In 1916, before the U.S. entered World War I, German saboteurs blew up a munitions plant on Black Tom Island near Jersey City, N.J.

In 1918, the American poet who wrote "Trees," Sergeant Joyce Kilmer, was killed in action in France.

Ten years ago: President Lyndon Johnson flew to Independence, Mo., and signed the Medicare Bill in the presence of former President Harry Truman at the Truman Library.

Five years ago: President Richard Nixon, in a news conference statement, assured Israel that U.S. proposals for a Middle East peace posed no danger to that country.

One year ago: President Nixon surrendered eleven Watergate tapes to Federal Judge John Sirica on orders of the Supreme Court.

Today's birthdays: British sculptor Henry Moore is 77. Pianist Gerald Moore is 76.

Thought for today: The borrower is servant to the lender — the Bible.

Fickle Goat

In the back yard of a suburban apartment, the landlord installed a billy goat as a mascot for the building. For months the goat reigned as favorite pet of the neighborhood children.

But one day, without warning, it severely bit a young woman. Her father immediately filed a lawsuit for bringing "this dangerous creature" onto the premises.

However, the court dismissed her claim on the ground that the landlord "did not know and had no reason to believe that the animal was of a bad disposition."

Generally speaking, the law gives domestic animals—horses, cows, goats, sheep—the benefit of the doubt. That is, they may be considered harmless until proven otherwise.

Actual misconduct, however, puts the owner "on notice" to take precautions in the future. Thus: A man owned a pony which he allowed visiting youngsters to ride. But again and again, the pony showed a tendency to nip and buck.

When he finally kicked a boy in the head, the court held that the owner could indeed be held liable. The court said that even though ponies are usually harmless, bad behavior will put a specific pony into the "dangerous" category.

In one unusual case a farmer kept a beehive near his back fence, only a few feet away from a neighbor's doghouse. One day the bees swarmed over the fence and attacked first the dog, then the neighbor himself when he rushed to the rescue.

True, these bees had never injured anyone before. Nevertheless, a court pointed out that bees are prone to attack if kept too close to another creature. Holding the farmer liable on grounds of simple negligence, the court said:

"The owner of a domestic animal is bound to take notice of the general propensities of the class to which it belongs."

Treating Shyness

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

BLASINGAME

Shyness constitutes a common defect in human relations, and its ill effects are not generally recognized so that they can be helped.

Shy persons have difficulty in meeting other people and in maintaining friendships. Shyness is frequently associated with frustration.

The body of the shy person may react with a fast pulse, excessive perspiration, blushing, belching and a spastic colon.

Writing the May issue of Psychology Today, Stanford University researcher Philip Zimbardo and associates commented, "Findings like these suggest that most psychologists haven't taken shyness seriously enough."

The researchers interviewed 600 students, 40 per cent of whom considered themselves to be shy.

Most of them admitted they didn't like being shy and that they would seek help in a shyness clinic if one existed.

The Stanford group believes its studies show that the high incidence of shyness in the United States results from our cultural drives, in which competition, emphasis on individual success and personal responsibility are stressed. The authors reported that other researchers, recently returned from the People's Republic of China, noted that several thousand Chinese children who were observed showed little evidence of shyness.

The Stanford researchers expressed the belief that shyness, if the worst bones together. Maligned, it is not considered a danger from such swellings. Aspiration of the fluid gives temporary benefit until more joint fluid refills the cyst wall. Careful surgical excision is the treatment of choice, especially if the ganglion is enlarging and is painful. Wearing a splint on the wrist for several weeks after surgery many assure healing and lessen the chance of recurrence.

Q Mrs. D.H. writes that their 11-year-old daughter has had a ganglion on her wrist for two years, with recurrence after aspiration; and asks about treatment and possible malignancy.

A: Such a ganglion (synovial cyst) is a common occurrence, often thought to result from an earlier injury to fibrous outer connective tissue which binds the wrist bones together. Malignancy is not considered a danger from such swellings. Aspiration of the fluid gives temporary benefit until more joint fluid refills the cyst wall. Careful surgical excision is the treatment of choice, especially if the ganglion is enlarging and is painful. Wearing a splint on the wrist for several weeks after surgery many assure healing and lessen the chance of recurrence.

Q Mr. O.H. asks how much Americans spent for health care last year.

A: According to the February 1975 issue of Social Security Bulletin, United States citizens spent $194.2 billion in 1974 for health care, an increase from $94.2 billion in 1973. Public spending amounted to more than $40 billion, or 39.4 per cent of the total.

Thomas Misses Chance To Go In Record Book

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer
Milwaukee's Gorman Thomas was a desperate man. He had eight straight strikeouts to his credit, tying an American League record. He needed one more to tie the major league mark.

The fans in the centerfield bleachers at Boston's Fenway Park rose to his support with a standing ovation as he came to bat in the sixth inning.

"I think they were just trying to get a share of my success," confided Thomas.

Manager Del Crandall offered encouragement.

"Before Gorman went to bat in the sixth inning I told him if he strikes out again I'll buy him a dinner," said Crandall with a grin. "I did it because he was getting tighter and tighter and I just wanted to loosen him up."

Not to worry. Thomas came through in the clutch. He bounced into a double play. His chance for glory passed.

"I think I deserve at least an asterisk," he said.

Despite Thomas' efforts the Brewers won the game 4-0 behind Jim Colborn's seven-hitter.

In Tuesday night's other American League games, Texas topped Oakland 6-1, Baltimore clubbed Cleveland 7-1, New York beat Detroit 4w2, Kansas City dumped Minnesota 5-2 and Chicago downed California 7-4.

Don Money and Darrell Porter led off the game with home runs and Money added another one in the third inning as the Brewers handed Boston only its fourth loss in the last 22 games.

Colborn, 7-8, bested Diego Segui, 2-4, who struck out 11 batters in his first start since May 16, 1972.

There would be pressure on anybody chosen head coach of a pro football team three days before the regular season opener.

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Namath and the New York Jets have reached agreement on a new contract that could have the veteran quarterback in uniform by the end of the week.

The Jets planned a 12:30 p.m. EDT news conference at the team's National Football League training camp in nearby Hempstead, N.Y., where they will announce the new pact hammered out Monday night by Jets President Phil Ilesin and Namath's attorney, Jimmy Walsh.

Though neither side would confirm it, a source close to the bargaining between the Jets and football's most famous quarterback said they had agreed on a salary of $450,000 for each of two years.

The agreement apparently does not deal with any fringe benefits, only with time and money. The contract also represents a compromise, something which neither the Jets nor Namath appeared willing to do earlier.

Namath, 32, who turned down a $4-million offer to play in the World Football League earlier this year, wanted a $1-million package spread over two years.

Ilesin wanted Namath to sign a three-year deal for $400,000 a year, which would have been a $100,000 a year raise.

"We have made our top offer," Ilesin said last weekend. "There is only so much juice you can get out of an orange, and there is no juice left."

Walsh replied: "Joe will not play unless he gets the figure he wants."

The length of the contract had been a key in bargaining. Namath, who earlier this month signed a multi-million dollar contract with a perfume and cosmetics manufacturing firm, did not want to commit himself past two years.

"If after that period," Namath said, "I still am of a mind, then I can always renew it."

The Jets' first preseason game is a week from Saturday in Phoenix against the Minnesota Vikings, and Namath has said he would like to play at least half the game. That, however, would seem unlikely, even if Namath begins workouts immediately.

Namath, who led the Jets to six consecutive victories at the end of last season, played his college ball at Alabama, where Bear Bryant called him "the greatest athlete I have ever coached." Namath, a 10-year veteran, has spent all his pro career with the Jets after signing a $400,000 contract on the eve of the 1965 Orange Bowl game at Miami.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday are scheduled for national television coverage by Hughes Television Network.

little 6,614 yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club course in suburban New York.

The lineup includes 54 of the year's top 60 money winners.

Among the leading contenders are the always-dangerous South African Gary Player, British Open champ Tom Watson and veteran Gene Littler, each a two-time winner this year; U.S. Open title-holder Lou Graham, and John Mahaffey, a four-time runner-up this year.

But the challenging trio, all high among the favorites, has plenty of competition in the 153-man field that begins a 72-hole test Thursday over the hilly lead in the money race Johnny won last year with a record $353,021.

Nicklaus, a playoff loser to Weiskopf in the Canadian Open last week, now has $203,599 in official winnings for the year. Miller, like Nicklaus a three-time winner this season, is second at $183,270. Irwin has $180,227 and Weiskopf $169,565.

Weiskopf and Irwin each have picked up two 1975 titles. Neither has ever won the money-winning crown.

The absence could cost Nicklaus his lead in the money-winning standings, a category that most touring pros feel determines the season's real champion.

With $50,000 going to the winner here and $28,500 to second, Weiskopf could move into the top spot with a victory while Miller and Irwin need to finish either second or first to take top honors.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Billy Cunningham of the Philadelphia 76ers, Harthorne Wingo of the New York Knicks and Ron Behagen of the Kansas City Kings have accepted invitations to participate in the 17th annual Maurice Stokes Memorial basketball game here on August 12.

The Jets' first preseason game is a week from Saturday in Phoenix against the Minnesota Vikings, and Namath has said he would like to play at least half the game. That, however, would seem unlikely, even if Namath begins workouts immediately.

Namath, who led the Jets to six consecutive victories at the end of last season, played his college ball at Alabama, where Bear Bryant called him "the greatest athlete I have ever coached." Namath, a 10-year veteran, has spent all his pro career with the Jets after signing a $400,000 contract on the eve of the 1965 Orange Bowl game at Miami.

Portions of the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday are scheduled for national television coverage by Hughes Television Network.

little 6,614 yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club course in suburban New York.

The lineup includes 54 of the year's top 60 money winners.

Among the leading contenders are the always-dangerous South African Gary Player, British Open champ Tom Watson and veteran Gene Littler, each a two-time winner this year; U.S. Open title-holder Lou Graham, and John Mahaffey, a four-time runner-up this year.

But the challenging trio, all high among the favorites, has plenty of competition in the 153-man field that begins a 72-hole test Thursday over the hilly lead in the money race Johnny won last year with a record $353,021.

Nicklaus, a playoff loser to Weiskopf in the Canadian Open last week, now has $203,599 in official winnings for the year. Miller, like Nicklaus a three-time winner this season, is second at $183,270. Irwin has $180,227 and Weiskopf $169,565.

Weiskopf and Irwin each have picked up two 1975 titles. Neither has ever won the money-winning crown.

The absence could cost Nicklaus his lead in the money-winning standings, a category that most touring pros feel determines the season's real champion.

With $50,000 going to the winner here and $28,500 to second, Weiskopf could move into the top spot with a victory while Miller and Irwin need to finish either second or first to take top honors.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Billy Cunningham of the Philadelphia 76ers, Harthorne Wingo of the New York Knicks and Ron Behagen of the Kansas City Kings have accepted invitations to participate in the 17th annual Maurice Stokes Memorial basketball game here on August 12.

Another T-Bird? Simms Could Be

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledge & Times Sports Editor
Another T-Bird? Turner at Murray State?

Racer Track coach Bill Cornell thinks he may have found another superstar sprinter in Norman Simms of Washington, D. C. Simms was among 18 track recruits announced for the coming season by Cornell.

The story behind Simms is interesting. A former Murray State track star, Fred Sowerby, was teaching high school in Washington D. C. last year when he ran across Simms. It seems Simms was going out for track for the first time. And believe it or not, he ran a 51.1 quarter his first year in the sport.

Sowerby now lives in Landover, Md., and is the track coach for Sports International Track Club in D. C. But he has been in close contact all year with Simms and filling him in about the track program at Murray.

"When Fred called me this spring, Simms' best time was a 49.3," Cornell said.

"Fred told me he was going to watch him run the next weekend and that he would make his judgements on whether or not Simms was worth recruiting. The next race, Simms ran a 48.5."

"Fred had built up the school and the town and offered Simms a full scholarship. Simms was elated. The next week, he ran a 48.4. I called him to see if he had sent off his admission papers and the week after that, he ran a 48.1."

"The week after that, he got admitted to school and ran a 47.7 in Atlanta," Cornell said. Simms would have to be one of the biggest sleepers in the country this year. Many major colleges sought Simms after the 47.7 but it was too late because he had already signed with Murray State.

"He has a 3.0 grade point average and has won special awards in the D. C. area for art," Cornell said.

"We're sure he's going to be a fine student and athlete for us." Turner had recorded a 47.9 in the quarter before he came to Murray. When he left, he had it down to 45.1 and was considered as one of the top sprinters in the world and had even earned a national championship for himself and Murray in one event.

"He's taller than Tommie and if he has anywhere near as much heart as Tommie had, then he's going to be great. The main man I ever had was Tommie. I'd take one like him any day of the week," Cornell praised Turner, now a member of the athletic staff at Murray High.

Another outstanding athlete signed by Murray is Ron Stetina of St. Clair, Mo., and Merrimac Junior College. Stetina has recorded a 4:15.4 as a personal best in the mile and comes to Murray able to fit in to the cross country plans for this fall.

Stetina finished fourth last year in the National Junior College Cross Country Championships.

Murray has recruited two more Englishmen to join last year's freshman standouts Brian Rutner and Martyn Brewer.

Ralph Cheek of Bristol, England, has recorded a 3:57 for 1500 meters, or the equivalent to a 4:15 mile. His mile time has improved 11 seconds over the past year and he has just turned 18-years-old.

The other English recruit will not be eligible for a year, if he gets here. Tim Butt of Latchworth, England, is going to pay his own way to school, if first he can get things cleared up at the American Embassy in England.

Butt is just 17-years-old and already has a 4:13 mile (indoor) and a 1:54 in the 800-yard-dash. Another one of the top recruits is Tom Miracek of Springfield, Ill. He attended Lincoln Land Junior College and has personal bests of 49.1 in the quarter and 1:54.1 in the 800-yard dash.

Cornell said he is still corresponding with a couple of other potential recruits, one a 209-javelin thrower.

Other recruits this year include seven from Kentucky and one each from nearby Paris, Tn., and Metropolis, Ill.

Bubba Jones of Paducah is expected to be a big help in the field events. He has a personal best of 22-10 in the long jump and 47-2 in the triple jump.

Jimmy Jackson of Memphis will bring times of 9.6, 22.9 and 49.6 while Deayne Gray of Louisville has times of 10.2 and 22.4 in the 100 and 220 respectively. The other sprinter is Rafael Solice of Riverdale, Md., who comes to Murray with times of 10.1, 22.4 and 51.6.

John Clontes of Elgin, Ill., has personal bests of 1:57.8 in the 800 and 4:28.2 in the mile. Another middle distance man is Mark Rhodes of Louisville who has a 1:57 in the 800.

Scott Lester of Metropolis comes to Murray as a walk-on with times of 2:09 in the 800, 4:38 in the mile and 10:10 in the two-mile run. Sprinters, whose times are not available, include Mark Reynolds of Paris, Tn., and Jim Carter of Whitesville, Ky.

Murray has two hurdlers in fold. They are Jude Kawa (14.8) from Louisville and Tom Potter (14.3) of Toms River, N. J.

Also coming to Murray are high jumpers Michael Tandy of Louisville (6-5) and Carl Heissler (6-6) of Louisville. Jim Arney, who has a personal best of 13-6 in the pole vault, will join the Racers from Benton, Ill.

"We lost six men through graduation last year and each of those were on half-scholarships," Cornell said.

"That gave us a total of three full scholarships left. We lost two full scholarships because of the cutback in the OVC, giving us just one to recruit with. We had two half-riders from last year who did not receive such aid this year because they failed to live up to expectations.

"So, we have 18 men coming to Murray on a total of two scholarships. We expect to have about 40 out for track next spring," Cornell said.

"We have 17 events in track but yet we have only a total of 12 scholarships for the program. How do you fill a team with that? Plus we don't even have anybody in the shot, discus or javelin."

The track team will get a big boost this year though as Cuthbert Jacobs is expected to be ready for competition again. A two-time winner in the OVC Championships in 1974, Jacobs sat out all of last year after undergoing two knee operations.

Good Condition

HOUSTON (AP) — Race driver George Snider was listed in good condition today following surgery for two broken arms.

A hospital spokesman said Snider was "doing very well" following the Tuesday surgery.

Snider, 34, of Bakersfield, Calif., was injured in a heat race at the Winchester, Ind., Speedway Sunday.

The Phillies have an uncanny hold on Pittsburgh and because of it, the Pirates are losing their grip in the National League East.

Behind rookie Tom Underwood, the Phillies defeated Pittsburgh 5-1 Tuesday night for their ninth straight victory over the Pirates and climbed within 3 1/2 games of the front-runners.

"Tonight's game is an important one," said Dave Cash. "It will mean the difference between leaving Pittsburgh 2 1/2 or 4 1/2 games behind."

The Pirates haven't beaten the Phillies since April 16, when they finished a three-game sweep of their Pennsylvania neighbors. Since then, it's been downright bizarre the way the Phillies have handled the Pirates.

In the other National League games, the San Francisco Giants turned back the Cincinnati Reds 4-2; the Atlanta Braves whipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2; the Houston Astros stopped the San Diego Padres 6-2; the Chicago Cubs ripped the Montreal Expos 4-3 and the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the New York Mets 5-3 in the first game of a twinight doubleheader before losing the second game, 11-6.

Underwood pitched a four-hitter and doubled in a pair of runs to help Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh. Underwood, a 21-year-old southpaw, stroked his double to left center to key a four-run fourth-inning spurt off losing pitcher Dock Ellis, 7-7.

Bobby Murcer's two-run double in the ninth inning carried San Francisco past Cincinnati as the Reds failed for the 45th straight time to get a complete game from their pitching staff.

Braves 4, Dodgers 2
Blue Moon Odom earned his first National league victory and Darrell Evans belted his 13th home run as Atlanta beat Los Angeles.

Astros 6, Padres 2
Jose Cruz' run-scoring double highlighted a three-run Houston uprising in the fifth inning and the Astros defeated San Diego, ending a five-game losing streak.

Cubs 4, Expos 3
John Summers' bases-loaded pinch single in the eighth inning scored Jose Cardenal with the tie-breaking run and another run scored on a forceout, lifting Chicago over Montreal.

Cardinals 5-6, Mets 3-11
Ron Fairly drove in three runs with two singles and his fifth homer of the season to lead St. Louis to its first-game victory over New York. Del Unser collected four base hits and drove in three runs to lead the Mets' triumph in the second game.

Bartkowski Says Linebackers Of Pittsburgh Dictate Tempo

By MIKE ROBINSON
Associated-Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — "They dictate the tempo of the game," says quarterback Steve Bartkowski of the College All-stars. "They take pride in dictating the tempo of the game."

Bartkowski spoke Tuesday of the Pittsburgh Steelers' line-backing corps, possibly the shrewdest and fastest in the National Football League.

"Trying to throw past Jack Lambert is like throwing into a tree," he said of the middle linebacker who took defensive rookie honors in 1974. "At 6-foot-5, with his speed and range, he can knock down almost anything."

"That's not to slight the other two," the precision passer out of California said wryly of All-Pro Jack Ham and Andy Russell. "From watching the films, I think they are about the heaviest linebackers in the league."

"I say heaviest because they use their heads, not because they are the most physically awesome," he said of the linebackers for the 1974 Super Bowl champions.

Bartkowski's first job is to survive the onslaught of Joe Greene and the rest of the Pittsburgh front four when his team meets the Steelers in the 42nd annual College All-Star Game on Friday. The game will be televised nationally on ABC starting at 9:30 p.m., EDT.

If Bartkowski, who says he has "great confidence in our offensive line," can elude the grappling arms of Greene, Dwight White, L.C. Greenwood and Ernie Holmes, he then must somehow get the ball past Lambert, Russell and Ham.

How to beat the Steeler linebackers, assuming they can be beaten?

"We have to establish a running game if we are going to be successful throwing," said Bartkowski, who passed for 4,434 yards and 20 touchdowns in his college career.

All-Stars Coach John McKay of Southern California says the same: "You can't win without a running game."

The Stars are blessed with formidable leg men. The list includes hefty Don Hardeman of Texas A&I, Jackson State's speedy Walter Payton, Louis Carter of Maryland, Willard Harrell of Pacific, Champ Henson of Ohio State and Arkansas State's Stan Winfrey.

But Pittsburgh's defense has not been known to leave a lot of daylight for opposing infantry. They held their opponents to less than 100 yards rushing in both the AFC championship and Super Bowl games last year.

FOOTBALL
PHILADELPHIA — Willie Wood, former Green Bay Packers defensive back, was named coach of the Philadelphia Bell of the World Football League.

BIDDEFORD, MAINE — Nat Pierce, one of the famous Seven Blocks of Granite that built the Fordham Rams into a college football power, died at the age of 62.

SAN DIEGO — Linebacker Bruce Bannon, who was traded by the Miami Dolphins to the San Diego Chargers, retired from the NFL.

These Bonds will be secured, in common and on a basis of parity as to security and source of payment, with the outstanding and unpaid Bonds of the District's "Waterworks System Revenue Bonds," dated September 1, 1963.

Huddleston To Oppose Naming Of Hooper

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Hooper of Mississippi is a "mediocre" candidate for the Tennessee Valley Authority's board of directors, Sen. Walter Huddleston, D-Ky., said Tuesday.

"We need excellence, not mediocrity," Huddleston said. He said he will oppose Hooper's naming to the board, asked by President Ford.

Huddleston said Hooper has little or no background in energy and conservation, and said he was concerned about "Hooper's close association with at least three business that failed, some under controversial circumstances. This indicates, if nothing else, a lack of management skills required to run a multimillion dollar utility."

Huddleston said that "previous participation in party politics rather than qualifications appear to have dictated Mr. Hooper's nomination."

Citizens' Committee Suggests Pay Increase For Kentucky Legislators

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky legislators should receive a modest increase in pay and expense money, a citizens advisory committee says.

Its recommendations to the Interim State Government Committee would give legislators about $1,200 a year extra. John R. Clarke of Louisville, the chairman who read his report Tuesday, said Kentucky now ranks 34th among states in legislative compensation. It ranked 23rd a two decades ago, he said.

Clarke also cited the rising cost of living and the increase in legislative duties, adding

The citizens group called for payment for eight round trips between Frankfort and a legislator's home during a session instead of paying one such trip as is done now.

It suggested raising per diem payments for interim committee meetings from $25 to $40 daily.

The panel said expense allowances between sessions should remain at $400 per month, and stationery allowances at $50 per session.

A state lawmaker now averages $12,232 every two years when various items are considered, such as the regular biennial session.

The proposal would raise the average to $14,666 every two years.

The panel also recommended additional pay for legislative leaders and committee chairmen, from $5 extra daily to $25 more daily during a session to the house speaker, senate president and senate president pro tem, who acts as president.

The advisory group also called for eliminating fragmentary payments under which legislators sometimes receive as many as 10 separate checks a month.

Reed Attends DECA Conference

Roderick Reed, newly elected Secretary-Treasurer of the Distributive Education Clubs of America - Alumni Division, recently attended the National Officer Leadership Development Conference in Washington, DC, on July 16-20.

The Distributive Education Clubs of America - otherwise known as DECA - is an organization whose program of leadership, personal development and career encouragement is designed specifically for students enrolled in Distributive Education. Distributive Education is a program of instruction which teaches marketing, merchandising and management and DECA is an integral part of this program. DECA began in 1946 and is now operating in 50 states plus the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. DECA is composed of five Divisions: High School, Junior Collegiate, Collegiate, Alumni and Professional and its membership numbers over 170,000 in approximately 5,000 Chapters. Its purposes are (1) to develop a respect for education which will contribute to occupational competence, and (2) to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system.

The purpose of the Leadership Development Conference is to develop leadership skills and to provide training for all National Officers. During the Conference the officers were drilled on public speaking, leadership development and their knowledge of DECA. The 1975-76 officers also developed their program of work for the coming school year. Members were flown in from all over the nation.

Roderick was elected the national Secretary-Treasurer of the Alumni Division last May in Hollywood, Florida, at the 1975 DECA Career Development Conference. He is attending Murray State University where he is majoring in speech and theatre arts. He is the son of Mrs. Orea Nell Bumphis.

Woman Flutist Finds Her Instrument Popular

By DONALD SANDERS
Associated Press Writer
Doriot Anthony Dwyer, speaking of the flood of new musical compositions which has been commissioned by the Bicentennial, says, "I hope some of it will be flute music - there has been a big upsurge of flute playing."

Miss Dwyer becomes something of a zealot when she talks

20 years - the first woman appointed a principal player with a major U.S. musical organization.

"It can be used in many different ways," she said in an interview. "And there are more great players performing in public."

She performed in three recitals called "Doriot Anthony Dwyer and Friends" at Carnegie Recital Hall in New York in the past season and has been invited back next year. She recently completed a tour of the country with the Boston Symphony Chamber Players.

Bruno Walter first hired her as first flutist with the Hollywood Bowl Symphony after she had played with the National Symphony in Washington and the Los Angeles Philharmonic. It was Charles Munch who auditioned her, after hearing many male flutists, and gave her the first chair position with the Boston.

"It was quite hairy at one time, being a woman musician," she said. "Lots of times I wouldn't get my letters answered when I was looking for a job, because I was a woman."

As for what she regards as the upsurge in popularity of the flute, she notes that it is easy to carry around and, that while not inexpensive, it does cost less than an organ, a piano or a harp.

"You can play notes faster than on a stringed instrument," she added. "String playing is so long and tedious - it's a very

Children Can Respond To Literature

URBANA, Ill. (AP) - If elementary school teachers would recognize and encourage the existing ability of their students to respond to literature, a "more articulate generation" may result, says an authority on teaching English.

Alan Purves, professor of English education at the University of Illinois, says young children's comments on poems and stories are worth listening to.

Working with seven researchers investigating the response of children in grades three through 12 to poems and short stories, he discovered that the youngest children react with comment on facts. As they grow older, they identify with characters and by the fifth grade they become aware of the emotional effects of language.

After the fifth grade, students are more likely to report hidden meanings. But they also increasingly ignore their own emotional responses.

Purves asks whether the child's concern for how a story affects him is suppressed by teachers who disapproved of his early literary criticism.

Economy Giving New Strength To Preservation Of Buildings

By DENNIS MONTGOMERY
Associated Press Writer

The nation's economic ills are improving the prognosis of some of America's urban landmarks suffering from acute cases of downtown redevelopment.

Authorities say recession and inflation have eased the demolition fever that leveled many structures of architectural or historical significance in the postwar construction boom. Preservationists are using the breathing spell to perfect techniques that could give the remaining buildings new leases on life.

"Very often the most historic area of a town is the most rundown," said Mary Smith of the National Trust for Historic Preservation in Washington.

In the past, she said, developers found it more profitable to raze aging structures than to salvage them.

"I think now we are sort of realizing that this whole idea of demolition and reconstruction is not the best way to go," Mrs. Smith said. "That's because now with new construction costs so very high it has made rehabilitation efforts so very much more feasible."

Paul Sprague, a Chicago architectural historian and past president of the Illinois Historical Structures Survey, said that there are perhaps 100 landmark commercial structures in urban cores living in the shadow of the wrecking ball.

The best hope of saving the structures, he said, is in making them worth saving from the economic standpoint, generally by continuing to use them for the purpose for which they were designed.

"It's very difficult to adapt them for uses which require larger spaces, higher floor levels and things like that," he said. "I think realistically you have to really consider keeping them in some sort of business use."

In August, planners, developers, contractors, municipal officials and preservationists from around the country meet in Seattle — the site of a showcase, 20-block, rehabilitation district called Pioneer Square — to discuss the economic benefits of preserving important buildings.

Among the likely topics of conversation is the successful rescue of a St. Louis structure, the nine-story Wainwright Building. Designed in the early 1890s by Chicago architect Louis Sullivan, the Wainwright is generally considered the precursor of the modern skyscraper.

Sullivan solved the problem of giving a building a sense of unity when it is taller than it is wide, Sprague said. Using decorative masonry grids and piers, Sprague said, "He lets your eye ride up each side of the building. These are devices which tie the building together. In that building he shows how to do it."

The area around the Wainwright became blighted and the building's existence looked precarious. In 1974, however, the trust for historic preservation obtained an option to buy the building and early this year transferred it to the state government.

Missouri plans to renovate the Wainwright for use as the centerpiece of a proposed complex, which will include new buildings.

Cold test proves aspirin not too hot

CHICAGO — Research workers at the University of Chicago's Abraham School of Medicine describe aspirin as "disappointing in the amount of benefit" derived in treating the common cold and say the drug makes an infected person more apt to "shed" cold germs.

Aspirin was of some help in relieving inflamed eye tissue, relieving headache and sneezing, decreasing nasal discharge and generally made sufferers feel less ill.

Blackbird Is Worst Hazard At 11th Hole In Des Moines

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Despite ribbing from fellow officers, Patrolman Richard W. Wise wore his bullet-proof vest every day he was on duty, except one.

His vest was being laundered Monday when a man Wise stopped for a traffic check shot him in the back.

The 32-year-old policeman survived. He coughed up the bullet, apparently from a lung, doctors said. He was listed in satisfactory condition after surgery.

Police said Wise, the father of three young sons, was shot after he stopped Alexander Thorpe, a 36-year-old prison escapee from Jacksonville, on a traffic violation.

Witnesses told police that Thorpe shot Wise in the back and then fired five more bullets at the officer as he lay wounded in the street, a police spokesman said.

After Wise was wounded, he shot six bullets into Thorpe's car but did not hit Thorpe, the spokesman said.

Thorpe was later captured by police after he attempted to hide under a rooming house near the scene of the shooting, police said. He was reported in serious condition with a head injury which police information officer Mike Gould said Thorpe suffered when he scrambled under the building or during a scuffle with police when he came out holding a brick and resisted arrest.

Thorpe was charged with assault to murder.

Police said the car Thorpe was driving was stolen Sunday from a Jacksonville man who was shot in the leg by the thief. They said Thorpe escaped from a state prison facility on March 31.

VA Hospital Refuses Operation To Save Dying Pastor's Life

LYNNWOOD, Wash. (AP) — The Rev. Darrell Morgan says he is ready to face death.

But his congregation isn't ready to accept his departure or a Veterans' Administration ruling denying their 36-year-old pastor an operation they believe could save his life.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan suffers from lymphoma, a cancer of the lymph gland that destroys bone marrow and the body's ability to fight infection. Without a bone marrow transplant, the doctor of the young minister says he will die within a month.

The operation costs between $10,000 and $25,000, and the VA, which has provided treatment for the Rev. Mr. Morgan since the cancer was discovered five years ago, has refused to pay for it.

Jerome R. Dolezal, director of the Seattle VA Hospital, says the operation is still considered experimental and is "not a bona fide, proven type of procedure." And Dolezal says the Rev. Mr. Morgan's cancer cannot be attributed to his four years of military service.

Dr. Dean Buckner, associate professor of medicine at the University of Washington, has challenged the VA claim that marrow transplants are not an acceptable procedure in the medical profession.

Although still experimental, no criticism of the operation has been voiced by his colleagues, according to Buckner, who works with the transplants at Seattle's Providence Hospital. He says about 60 bone marrow transplants were performed at Providence last year.

Don Huber, a friend of the Rev. Mr. Morgan's, says that during the past year the pastor's brother and sister have flown in from Cincinnati for tests to determine if their marrow could be used in the transplant. The tests were positive, Huber says.

"The real problem is that they led Pastor Morgan up to the very last minute on this transplant and then told him they weren't going to do it. There is time for the operation, but the VA has to approve it and they have to make room for him at the hospital," Huber says.

During the five years that the Rev. Mr. Morgan has been minister at the Chapel of Peace Community Church, the congregation has grown from 15 to 700, Huber says. The church building holds only about 300 people, and services are now held in a community theater.

"He had them busting out the walls. He is down to earth, pragmatic, realistic. He is here and now, not hell and brimstone. He wants to face problems as they really are," Huber says.

The congregation has appealed to the Washington congressional delegation, but an aide to Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., said the VA decision appears to rest firmly on federal law.

The Rev. Mr. Morgan "won't ask for help," Huber says. "That's why I'm trying. He says he's not afraid of dying. He knows his Maker and he's prepared to meet Him. But he would like to finish the work that he set out to do."

It is estimated that 1.2 million motor vehicles will be checked by the California Highway Patrol for noise-emission violations during 1975.

Begley Drug Reports Sales, Income Records

Sales and other operating revenues climbed to $6,097,172 for the period, an increase of $771,265 or 14.5 per cent over the same period last year.

Net income advanced to $167,206 from the $132,837 recorded for the quarter last year, a gain of 25.9 per cent. This increase pushed earnings per common share to 28 cents up 27.3 per cent over the 22 cents earned for the period last year.

During the quarter, Begley's opened a new pharmacy in Physician's Mall in Lexington, moved its downtown store in Paris to a new shopping center location, and consolidated two dry cleaning units in Johnson City, Tennessee. On the last day of the quarter, it consolidated its downtown Monticello drug store into its newer shopping center location in that city and discontinued a dry cleaning unit in Versailles.

Begley's maintains its corporate general offices and distribution center in Richmond and serves some 23 cities in Kentucky with its drug outlets and 26 cities in Kentucky, Tennessee, Florida, Illinois, Missouri and Iowa with its Big B Cleaners.

Murray Little League All-Stars: One

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Somebody said they didn't have enough pitching. Someone else said it could never be done two years in a row.

What nobody said was this: If enough people believe so strongly in one thing, then it shall come to pass. It's called child-like faith and many of us don't have it, unfortunately.

There are a few people in Murray that do. And they are called the Murray Little League All-Stars. And because of their faith in themselves and their coaches and their natural physical talents, they will be playing for the second consecutive year in the State Little League Tournament.

Murray will battle Louisville St. Matthews in the opening contest,

The winners will collide Saturday for the State Championship with the winner earning a trip to Florida.

Hamp Erwin is the manager for the All-Stars again this year and his assistant is Barry Stokes. Together, they have directed the Murray Little League All-Stars to a 10-1 record in the past two years of tournament play.

Last year, the Little League All-Stars dropped a heart-breaking 4-2 contest in 11 innings to London, which went on to win the State Championship. This year, the tournament is close to Murray and it is hoped hundreds of fans will make the trip to Mayfield to give support to this outstanding group of young men.

Nursery No Longer Considered Woman's Private Reservation

There once was a time when the nursery was considered the woman's private reservation.

A man was considered to be too fumbling - all thumbs - when it came to handling his offspring.

Today, however, the picture has changed considerably. Father no longer feels like an intruder in the nursery. He can be his wife's equal when it comes to formula mixing, baby bathing, and even diaper changing. Assisting with baby's needs often results in a stronger, closer, more fulfilling relationship for fathers, resulting from the earliest days at home.

Some of the credit for this domestic revolution belongs to the American Red Cross.

At the close of World War II, the Red Cross foresaw the need of a course that would provide prospective fathers as well as mothers with proper training in baby care. By the time the postwar bumper crop of babies arrived, free classes were being offered by Red Cross Chapters throughout the country.

The Preparing for Parenthood Course usually begins with a discussion of conception, symptoms of pregnancy, and prenatal health, with an explanation of the emotional and physical stages of pregnancy. General information is included about subjects such as prenatal care, labor, delivery, formula preparation, nutrition, bathing, diapering, and recognition of illness. Information is presented through charts, films, slides, demonstrations, and lectures.

Expectant parents also learn to care for the baby during the first few days and weeks at home. Red Cross nurses use a maternity doll to illustrate handling, dressing and diapering, and bathing the baby. An integral part of the course is a description of the baby's first year, with examples of growth rate and normal patterns of growth and development.

All expectant parents courses are taught by Red Cross nurses and are offered free as a public service. Additional information concerning class times and dates may be obtained from your local Red Cross chapter or by writing the Kentucky Division, American Red Cross, Nursing Programs, 510 East Chestnut Street, Louisville, Ky. 40202.

Stockpiled Grass Can Provide Grazing For Fall And Winter

Pasture growth for grazing in November and December? That's what you can expect if you take your cattle off fescue or bluegrass pasture in late July or early August and let the grass accumulate. Garry Lacefield and J. Kenneth Evans, Extension forage specialists with the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, refer to this system of managing late summer and early fall grass growth as "stockpiling."

During the period when bluegrass or fescue is being stockpiled, approximately August 1 to November 1, you will need to use other available forages for grazing. These might include sudangrass, sorghum-sudangrass hybrids, bermudagrass, or grass-lespedeza. After the first hard frost, fields containing alfalfa-grass and clover-grass mixtures should be grazed. ## 'Crazy Salad' Pulls No Punches

NEW YORK (AP) — "You can write the most wonderful piece in the world about someone and the only word they'll see is 'plump,'" said columnist Nora Ephron.

"You learn very early that you're not in this business to be friends with people you write about. If you are, you start pulling punches."

Nora Ephron has compiled a selection of her punchy articles and interviews with some people who may never talk to her again in a new book called "Crazy Salad."

The book has gone into its second printing, is a Book of the Month Club selection and the author notes with relief, is no longer displayed in the cookbook section in book stores.

The 25 articles have appeared in various magazines and "glance off and onto the subject of women." In them, Miss Ephron ("I only make a fuss about Ms. with the airlines" that ask Miss or Mrs. for reservations) carefully scrutinizes and deftly portrays:

Julie Nixon Eisenhower ("the only woman in America over the age of 20 who still thinks her father is exactly what she thought he was when she was 6."); Rose Mary Woods, former President Richard M. Nixon's longtime secretary; transsexual Jan Morris ("Jan Morris is perfectly awful at being a woman."); Pat Loud, star-participant of the American Family documentary; "Deep Throat" star Linda Lovelace; and Martha Mitchell.

"She's one of the few people I've really been wrong about," the writer said of Mrs. Mitchell. "I followed her around for five days watching her and found her canny, in control of herself and a woman who used her reputation as a crazy lady to get jokes. I decided she wasn't crazy."

"But after thinking about it longer, I really think now she is truly whacko."

A dedicated feminist, Miss Ephron nevertheless pokes affectionate fun at her consciousness-raising group and sexual politics ("We have lived through the era when happiness was a warm puppy, and ... a dry martini and now we have come to the era when happiness is 'knowing what your uterus looks like.'")

The 34-year-old daughter of two Hollywood screenwriters, Miss Ephron credits her early upbringing with creating "this sneaky little person in my head that starts to laugh at just about everything."

"It was like living in a talk show. My three sisters and I had to fight very hard to get a word in. And the best way to get attention was to tell a funny story."

She is separated from her husband, author Dan Greenburg ("I just didn't really want to be married that much.") and currently dating Carl Bernstein of Washington Post-Watergate fame, whom she sees on weekly commutes to Washington.

"Men dominate the conversations in Washington and therefore, as far as I am concerned, the conversations are far less interesting than those in New York," she said.

Rural Development Tools Of USDA Are Put To Work

Increasingly, people want to live and work in rural America, and rural people and communities are using credit from the U. S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to improve living conditions and enhance employment opportunities, John H. Burris, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration for Kentucky, said today.

He pointed out that USDA's Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) channeled nearly $113,428,395 in loans into rural development in fiscal year 1975 to help achieve these state goals:

1. More food and fiber for the nation: In 2,120 loans to help family farmers buy and operate farms, FmHA made more than $23,591,500 available to supplement regular commercial credit. Farmers whose production was disrupted by natural disaster received 114 loans amounting to $1,902,225.
2. Improve rural housing:

FmHA made loans of $61,791,790 to construct, purchase or improve more than 3,711 homes and apartments for rural residents of low or moderate income.

3. Modernize small towns and rural communities: FmHA made 34 loans totaling nearly $14,000,000 and 24 grants totaling over $4,600,000 to help build water and waste disposal systems. FmHA also directly administered nearly $2,000,000 in funds from other agencies to help finance these systems. Three loans amounting to $1,724,600 and four grants amounting to $295,000 were made for other essential community facilities.

4. Provide more and better rural employment opportunities: Under new authorities of the Rural Development Act, FmHA made 11 loans totaling $5,523,950 for business and industrial development, providing an estimated 900 jobs in rural areas. This program was the leader as FmHA began to change from lending agent to guarantor of loans made and serviced by private commercial lenders.

Varied employment opportunities have been provided through the business and industrial loan program—a hosiery mill, 400 jobs; a plant manufacturing steel wire for tires, 147 jobs; an extension of water lines for industry, 400 employees; shopping center, 23 workers; and many others—processing plants, retail stores, a laundry, a grain elevator, and a farm supply and equipment store. The diversity of projects shows how readily the program adapts to community needs, Burris said. Through all FmHA housing programs, the agency provided financing for homes for approximately 11,875 rural residents. More than 3,643 individual home loans were made for $60,804,120 and 68 apartment units were financed at $987,670.

Under the expanded community facilities program, a wide range of municipal and civic needs of communities are being met—a 43 bed hospital at a cost of $1,600,000 construction of community buildings, fire stations, utilities to industrial sites and other needed facilities at a cost of $419,400.

FmHA's $14,000,000 of loans and $4,600,000 of grants for construction of water and waste disposal systems exceeded the previous high under the program, attained FY 1974. About 22, 658 families will be served by the new systems approved the past year. The agency also provided over $330,000 through loans for water shed development and Resource Conservation and Development area projects. The high level of loan and grant activity during FY 1975 brings to nearly $400 million the total of loans outstanding with Farmers Home Administration in its current programs, the agency has now advanced some $3,660,000,000 in loans, with advances written off. FmHA conducts its lending operations through 58 county offices in Kentucky. Most loan funds come from two sources—Sale of certificates to the Federal Financing Bank, or from regular, private-lenders with FmHA guaranteeing a portion of the loan against loss.
