When Delta State Teachers College football team of Cleveland, Mississippi, made its appearance on the M. S. T. C. athletic field last Saturday, by all appearances I thought the "Thoroughbreds" would be put to a mean rally by the green and whites from Miss. Their backfield was well balanced in fact, as far as looking was concerned, it was the largest and most uniform team that the "Blue-Blacks" have met so far this season.

MOVIES

version of the Broadway hit, re-creating the scenes of the Trojan story, filling up sides that played as spirited a game as though representing rival colleges.

Many novel camera shots were obtained by mounting cameras on platforms on a track that paralleled the routes taken by the players in end runs, making forward passes and touchdowns. Other cameras were placed in dug-outs, over which the players charged toward the goal.

With the recording of these scenes in sound, many thrilling moments of football action were obtained, revealing to fans difficult plays exactly as they are made.

Beale Love, Gus Shy, Mary Lawlor, Cliff Edwards, Lois Lane and Stanley Smith are featured in the cast of the musical movie and the supporting players include Dorothy McQuitty, Tom Jackson, Frank McGlynn and Billy Taft.

Lon Chaney Scores Sweeping Hit In First Talkie

Gripping mystery, a love story strange in the grim plot that surrounds it, and Lon Chaney, speaking for the screen at last, and using five voices—even singing—in his debut on the talking screen; these are the magnets that are drawing crowds to the Capitol Theatre, where "The Unholy Three" opens Friday and Saturday.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, of Chaney's greatest early successes on the silent screen, is a new and infinitely more powerful drama with speech and Chaney, with speech added to his deft artistry at pantomime, actually presents his fans a new Chaney—a Chaney more forceful, more mysterious and more gripping.

His use of five different character voices, one of the impersonation of an old woman, and two facial disguises, has started him doing, with his voice, what he always has done with his face. It would be hard indeed to venture a guess as to which of his voices is his natural one—just as, though his constant disguises, he never lets his fans see his face entirely devoid of make-up.

Star Has Strong Role Chaney plays a ventriloquist involved in a sinister plot with two side show companions, a giant and a midge. As the sinister "Echo" he dominates one of the strangest plots fiction ever invented.

Lila Lee plays the heroine, giving a powerfully dramatic performance that runs the gamut of emotions, and Elliott Nugent gives a well balanced impersonation as her lover, the clerk.

Harry Earle plays the midge, and gets much comedy as well as many thrills out of his first talkie role, and Ivan Linow is a compelling figure as the giant "Heracles." John Miljan as the prosecutor, Crawford Kent as the defense attorney, and Clarence Burton as the detective "Ragan" all have interesting roles well played.

Jack Conway, in his direction of Chaney's first talkie, has reaped new laurels to add to his triumphs in "While the City Sleeps," "Twelve Miles Out" and others of his directorial hits.

Piano Classes in the Training School

Piano lessons in classes of fifteen are to be offered in the Training School of the State Teachers College. There will be no charge for these lessons and it is expected that a large number of children will be enrolled. Those in the grades including the third, fourth, fifth and sixth will be eligible provided they have not had piano lessons.

The method of teaching does not require a piano in the home. It is possible through these classes to determine whether children have talent before they buy pianos. It is not an unusual thing to find that many of the student do most of their practicing on the paper keyboards, with perhaps no real understanding of the neighbors' or relatives' piano.

The plan is called "The Melody Way." It has been especially prepared by W. Otto Meisner, past president of the National Association of Music Supervisors. It will follow the class piano instruction method.

This should be a wonderful thing for Murray because the is no doubt a great deal of undiscovered musical talent here. It is bound to benefit the community because a wider appreciation of music is sure to be the result. More music in more homes means a healthier civilization.

Instrumental classes in public schools are not an experiment. They are now a part of the music program of practically every progressive school system. It is not the purpose of class instruction to take the place of private lessons. Pupil study in classes for from 1 to 2 years only. The child's interest and progress during that time will be a good guide to the parent in deciding whether to spend considerable sums of money giving him private lessons at the end of that period. Thus the private teacher gets a selected group of pupils already possessing a sound musical foundation.

A great advantage is the keen interest and competition aroused in class work which is not possible in private teaching. Each pupil wants to play before the class as well as his friends and it is not necessary for mother to stand above him continually for a half hour each day to see that he gets in that practice.

All of the classes will meet twice a week for 40 minute lessons.

The pupils will give public recitals during the year in order they may have experience in playing in public and that the parents may have a chance to see what they are accomplishing.

Senator Robison's Sugar Record

Judge M. M. Logan, Democratic nominee for the long term in the United States Senate, charges that the Housewives of Kentucky will be deprived of $12,500,000 annually by the sugar tax imposed under the Grundy tariff law, while censuring Senator Robison for a reversal of attitude with reference to the sugar tax.

Judge Logan's statement is an answer to Senator Robison's statement in the House when the tariff bill was passed in that body. The rate on sugar was fixed at 2.40 cents per pound and he voted for it.

While the bill was pending in the Senate, by the grace of the Governor of Kentucky, he became a member of the Senate and when the sugar schedule came up for consideration, he voted against an increase of the rate from 1.76 cents on the pound to 2 cents on the pound. As soon as he had cast his vote, he immediately gave out an interview carried by one of the press associations to the effect that by his vote he had helped to save the housewives of Kentucky $12,500,000 annually. The rate was increased to 2 cents per pound later, and of course, he voted for the bill when it was passed.

His figures may be accepted. It is true that 24 cents on the pound in the sugar schedule took from the housewives of Kentucky $12,500,000 annually. It requires but simple calculation to ascertain that under the present schedule of 2 cents on the pound, the housewives of Kentucky are paying $12,500,000 annually. What benefit is a tax on sugar to the citizens of Kentucky? There is only one-fourth of one per cent of the people in the United States that are interested in sugar production and that means about three hundred million dollars annually is collected for the benefit of one-fourth of one per cent of the people. In other words, one out of each four hundred only is benefited by the tax.

When the average citizen goes to the grocery to buy 25 cents worth of sugar, he gets about four pounds. Out of 25 cents, 8 cents is a tax imposed by the present tariff bill, to say nothing of the tax paid on sugar in every food in which is an ingredient. This is another method of the international administration of taking taxes from our people without them being any the wiser.

Celebrate Coming Of Lovins Family

Windsor, Ill., Oct. 1.—One hundred thirty-five members of the Lovins family assembled at the basement of the Christian church in this city Sunday to hold their first annual reunion. The family separated one hundred years ago when J. W. Lovins, better known as "Uncle Wesley," and his brother, Wylie Lovins, of Madison county, Tennessee, came to Illinois then known as the frontier to establish their homes.

The five other branches of the family whom they left in the south were scattered during the Civil war, and lost all trace of each other until within the few months.

The one hundredth anniversary of the arrival of Wesley Lovins at his new home, at Youngs Bluff, on the Okaw river, in Shelby county, was selected as an appropriate time to reunite the seven families.

After dinner the history of the family since 1830 was read by W. M. Lovins of Toledo which was verified by official records.

A permanent organization was effected with W. M. Lovins of Toledo as president; W. L. Lovins of Windsor, secretary; Mrs. T. W. Lovins of Windsor, treasurer. The third reunion is planned for next year.

Five members of the family served in the American revolution, five in the Confederate army and one in the Northern army.

Mrs. Lula Miller of Murray, Hagie T. Allen of the gathering.

Why Join The Red Cross?

What does one's membership accomplish when he or she joins a Red Cross Chapter in the town or county?

These questions and many others are heard over the state with the launching on October 5, of the annual membership enrollment for Kentucky.

Membership in the Red Cross, it is explained, benefits primarily the community in which the member lives, because it enables the local chapter there to conduct activities in behalf of the people along various lines. The usefulness of a chapter, it is stated, is measured by the strength of its membership.

The Red Cross Chapter is ready as the agency of the people in the community to conduct whatever activity may be needed. In the case of drought-stricken farmers, the fact that many sections of Kentucky had a local Red Cross Chapter enabled them to act promptly with the National Headquarters at the Red Cross to bring relief, it is pointed out.

All Red Cross service, national and local, derives support through membership enrollment. Whether a member enrolls for one dollar or five, only fifty cents goes to national activity; thus if a member took out a $5.00 membership, he would know that his own chapter would have $4.50 to spend for his community's good.

Even the 50 cents which is allotted for national service, it is emphasized, goes largely for work which is beneficial to each community; it particularly enables the National Organization to respond immediately with disaster relief, whether there is a local Red Cross group or not.

For instance, the National Organization of the Red Cross has expended more than $630,000 in Kentucky for disaster relief alone, just since 1927. This does not count the amounts expended in the present year seed program which is part of the drought relief.

In 1927-28, for relief following the Eastern Kentucky flood, the Red Cross expended a total of $274,763. The following year, the organization expended an additional $156,000 for flood relief in the state, and last year more than $158,000, including expenditures for the western Kentucky flood and minor disasters.

This brief record indicates that the Red Cross has been almost continuously engaged in Kentucky during recent years, extending disaster relief service, its most important function. This record is pointed out in explaining why the present roll call is important to

Importance of Firing Tobacco Correctly

The recent rains have been followed by fine weather for ripening tobacco. The earliest crop is ripening and much is cut; the late crop is growing fast and with favorable weather, if allowed to stand, will make desirable tobacco, as it will be leafy and have good body.

The main thing ahead of the growers now is the firing or curing. This is most important, as everyone knows the best fired tobacco has been bringing the high prices for several years.

Ripe tobacco when put in the barn will naturally yellow. This yellow will gradually turn to a brown with slow firing, the tips and edges turning fast and then gradually the whole leaf and stem.

The fires should not be allowed to go out until the whole leaf and stem is entirely cured. Occasionally drying out makes for poor quality tobacco and often causes the stem to rot if there is much time between the firing periods.

The best argument for steady firing until the crop is cured is that the best firers, who always lead the market, fire unbrokenly for sometimes five or six weeks.

They increase their revenue for their crops to twice as much as many growers get for their poorer fired tobacco.

The barns should be fairly tight as too many large cracks allow the wind to drive out of the barn all smoke before the tobacco gets the benefit of it. On the other hand the barn should have some ventilation in the top so that the smoke and heat after it has passed around the tobacco and evaporated the moisture from the plant, can pass out. Otherwise this moisture-laden atmosphere will quickly houseburn the tobacco during the early stages of the curing.

The plant when put in the barn is four-fifths water and this large amount of moisture amounting to many tons has to be evaporated. This moisture has to be gotten out of the barn. Very light barns will houseburn the crop quickly.

Slow firing is very necessary

NASH Announces 3 new EIGHTS and a new SIX

NEVER was such motor car quality offered at prices so sensationally low. The literally startling difference becomes at once apparent when you contrast the prices of the new and finer Nash series, with prices of corresponding models a year ago.

Its low non-productive overhead, its elimination of borrowed capital, and remarkably foresighted manufacturing alone enable Nash to offer so much for so little. The unique example in value-giving thus provided the industry was planned last November. At that time, C. W. Nash and the strong group of executives surrounding him, clearly foresaw present conditions. They at once began to design cars affording value so great, so unmistakable, as to overcome all buying reluctance.

The result is instantly apparent. Even casual inspection of the four new Nash cars establishes the fact that nothing even remotely approaching them in downright dollar value has ever been available in their respective price fields.

SENSATIONALLY PRICED!

STUDY THESE SENSATIONAL PRICES!

Compare what is probably the most remarkable achievement of Nash in greater value-giving—the New Six—with the Single Six it succeeds. The new Six offers a multitude of improvements—at prices which range from $160 to $140 below the prices of the Single Six.

| Body Style | The New Six W. B. 1140* | Last Year's Six W. B. 1140* | Price Difference |

| Coupe (rummy seat) | $925 | $1085 | -$160 |
| Sedan (2-door) | $795 | $935 | -$140 |

Compare the New Eight-70 with its two additional cylinders, its longer wheelbase, its larger, more luxurious body, with the six-cylinder car it replaces. Then consider the remarkable fact that there is actually a basic price differential in favor of the New Eight!

| Special Sedan (4-door) | $955 | $1065 | -$110 |

Compare the New Twin-Ignition Eight-80 Series with the 6-cylinder car it replaces. The Eight-80 is larger, longer, heavier, appointments, upholstery are finer—prices are radically lower.

gradually heating them up until they are fairly hot. This will start the most rapid evaporation and take care of it as it increases. Then when most of the moisture is out of the tobacco the fires can be allowed to settle down to moderate heat.

One thing that is most important is to keep the fires from ever getting very hot for the tobacco can be seriously damaged.

While moderate heat is very beneficial, excessive heat will scorch the tobacco, fixing the color permanently and taking all the stretch out of it. This accounts for the "blue" and off color tobacco we see so much of. Do not let fires too hot.

While last year a great deal of tobacco was light in color there may be a tendency this year to try to make it too dark. This is done by firing earlier, before the tobacco yellows. Too much dark tobacco will be undesirable. The best of all is the dark brown tobacco which is needed in every trade.

EXCESSIVE GUM

IN GASOLENE CAUSES HIGH FUEL CONSUMPTION

KOOLMOTOR GASOLENE

is FREE FROM HARMFUL GUM

GASOLENES that are carelessly refined and of inferior quality deposit a sticky, gummy, clinging substance on your valves. This causes delayed seating and, in some cases, complete sticking of intake valves. Faulty valve operation allows unburned gasoline to blow out through the exhaust—unused and wasted.

Koolmotor—the original high test, anti-knock green gas—protects you against this waste of fuel because it is free from harmful gum.

A special Cities Service process—the mini-gum process—has reduced the gum content in Koolmotor Gasoline to a harmless minimum. It keeps your valves clean and free-moving—always ready to do their best—unburdened with sticky, gummy deposits.

For a powerful and smooth-running motor and full mileage from your gasoline, keep your tank full of Koolmotor—the gas that is free from harmful gum.

The Outward Appearance Is the Least of Our Service

Not just a few but a good many have volunteered the compliments that our Super-Service Station is the prettiest and most commodious in Western Kentucky and is not surpassed by any in the state.

Be that as it may, the least advantage we can offer you is having your car served in a station that offers the very latest word in mechanical equipment and personal comfort for our customers.

For the first things we stress are THOROUGHNESS and Quality. Nothing here is ever half-way or any other way less than as near perfect as it is humanly possible to do it. We have the latest automatic, electrically operated machinery, yet these are worth little unless the men behind them are willing to give their very best efforts.
