BENTON STAVE MAKER PRESIDES AT FUNERAL.

Faithful Few Sing Requiem Political Corpse is Lowered Into Oblivion.

A few friends and acquaintances of deceased, Fig Newton Christman, the Benton stave maker, were present Tuesday afternoon in the court yard to pay their last respects to the dead and attend the funeral obsequies over his remains and which were conducted by the deceased himself.

The proposed object of the funeral services was previously announced by the deceased as a county mass convention to select delegates to attend a district convention to be convened at Edenville the 17th at which time the deceased, by and with the aid of a few other dead ones of the city of Paducah, propose to name a candidate for the state senate from the Third Senatorial district. Previous announcement of the funeral services were made but only a few of the elect cared enough for the political carcass to attend the self-conducted services. After loud and clamorous announcement about 50 people, a large number of these of idle curiosity, gathered in the court yard Tuesday afternoon at about two o'clock. Fig Newton mounted the steps in front of the clerk's office and at once launched out on his funeral oration. He called the congregation to their knees and some fellow moved that the stave maker be made the permanent corpse for the funeral which was done with dispatch. Then it was suggested that a committee of three be appointed to draft a suitable obituary notice for the deceased and Rainey Wells, Will Dunaway and Nat Gibbs were burdened with the task. They "retired" by making a circle around the old clerk's office and Rainey returned with a typewritten obituary about two feet long and it was read in the presence of the assembled few and Fig Newton was so well pleased with his own obituary that no objections were raised to order of publication in each of the county papers. Fully ten persons in the august assembly voted for the passage of the obituary notice. Within fifteen minutes after the services were commenced the body of the stave maker was quietly laid to rest in the political grave that was prepared for him about two years ago.

Deceased was about 40 years of age and many years ago was a resident of this county, having been born and raised somewhere near Pottertown. He stood five foot eight inches in his stocking feet and was recognized by several who knew him as being one of the best stave makers Marshall county ever boasted, having been engaged in that business at Benton the past many years and without doubt was one of the most splendid stave buckers ever in this section. He never affiliated with any political party in his life, but two years ago was imported into Calloway county for the purpose of aiding and abetting a political gang to disfranchise about two thousand of the best democrats in Western Kentucky, and more recently has attempted to deny the entire Third district the right and privilege of nominating and electing a state senator. Peace to his ashes.

Before departing this life last Tuesday Fig Newton bequeathed his rights, titles and interests in every thing political to a fellow from Lyon county by the name of Sugar Glenn. He instructed this county to give it all to Sugar Glenn at the meeting over at Edenville today. We suppose the stave maker learned about Sugar Glenn through a brand of molasses that has been on the market the past several years. Sugar Glenn was never in Calloway county in his life but a large number of the grocery stores of the county carry the molasses in cans with his name and picture on the can. It is supposed that the deceased stave maker was very fond of this special brand of molasses and was desirous of leaving every thing he had to the maker. Quite a surprise was sprung when it became known that nothing whatever was left to the other Fig Newton, of Lyon county, and no mention whatever was made in the will regarding the Parson of Livingston county. A delegation was named to carry the news to Sugar Glenn that Fig Newton had left him all he possessed, and it is sure to cause Sugar Glenn much sadness to learn of the death of his benefactor. The meeting Thursday between the delegation to go from this county and Sugar Glenn will be very sad indeed.

Now, really, what will the 3,500 democrats of Calloway county think of the action taken here Tuesday? Forty two men by actual count, of this number a large per cent merely spectators, delegating unto Fig Newton the right of instructing the democracy of this county to cast its vote for a man not known to a half dozen citizens of the county to represent them in the state senate. What do you think will become of Sugar Glenn if he accepts such a nomination? Fig Newton is not chairman of the democratic party of this county and unto him has never been delegated the right of acting for the people without their authority or consent. The time of ring and gag rule is forever past in this county. Committee or one man nominations passed into eternity four years ago when this right of nominating was taken from the people. It was disastrous to the democracy of the Third district then and it must not be perpetrated a second time. The voice of the people shall be heard, and their right of selecting their servants shall not be delegated to any man.

Meeting Only Slightly Attended.

The mass meeting of the citizens called for Monday night at the court house for the purpose of raising funds to make a preliminary survey and procure commercial report on the proposed electric line from Murray to the Tennessee river, was attended by a few enthusiasts and as a result of the meeting about one half of the necessary $500 has been subscribed. The work of raising the funds will be pushed and the survey and report made at the very earliest date possible.

LAWUIT THAT IS DESTINED TO ATTRACT MUCH ATTENTION.

Colie Pool, contractor, builder and concrete worker, was last week garnished by Warren Swann for wages due for mixing concrete and the case is now in court and a trial will be had this week or the first of next. While at work putting down a concrete walk at the new residence of Clay Beale, on Institute street, last week Mr. Pool could not secure sufficient hands and while down town looking for laborers made mention of his troubles to Mr. Swann, who agreed with Pool that he would accept the work. Pool agreed to pay him $2 for the work but when approached by Swann for his money Pool refused to pay. Swann immediately had a garnishee issued and the merits of the case will be tried out at an early date before Judge Patterson. Further writs are expected to be issued as Swann is charging that Pool is attempting to hire a jury to serve his interests and upon the other hand Pool is intimating that Swann is endeavoring to bribe the judge. A number of interested persons are anxiously awaiting a decision of the case. We have heard mention made already of as much as three cases and several quarts.

BEGAN LIFE AS A WAIF AND IS NOW RICH MAN.

Ben W. Hooper, the newly elected governor of Tennessee, was found on the streets of Knoxville less than forty years ago. The waif, whose parentage is not known, was committed to the care of an orphan asylum, where he received his early training. When he was ten years of age he attracted the attention of Captain Hooper, of Newport, Tenn., who gave him an education and his name, and before he was 21 years of age he had been graduated in law with distinction.

While he had achieved some distinction in his home county, having been sent to the State Legislature two terms. Hooper was not known generally in the State before he was nominated as the Republican candidate for Governor. He is a successful lawyer and is considered wealthy. He will be the first Republican Governor Tennessee has had in many years and the third in the history of the State.

He was the choice of the independent Democrats as well as his own party, and his campaign has been a remarkable one. Although Tennessee is a safely Democratic State he received the support of some of the leading Democrats and on every stump where he has spoken Confederate veterans have sat on the platform.

Cooper's career has been romantic and spectacular, starting in an orphan asylum and finally leading to the Governor's chair. He was a striking figure in a romance, which led to his leaving Tennessee for the West, where he grimly determined to make good, because he had been taunted with the fact that he did not know who his parents were.

From a small investment he made a fortune in a few months, and returned to his Tennessee home to practice his profession. Later he married Miss Annie Jones, daughter of one of the wealthiest men in Tennessee. He has four attractive children.

Report of the Murray Methodist Church 1909-1910.

The general state of the church is fairly gratifying. Our membership today is 330. We have received during the year 75 members. 32 of these as a direct result of the Holcomb meeting. Of the 75 new members: 35 came to us by letter. 28 came to us by baptism and vows. 10 came to us by vows.

2 came to us by Church Conf. While the addition shows 75, the net increase is only 39 owing to the fact that we have had 36 dismissals.

We have five different organizations in our church and all of these seem to be thoroughly alive. The church has made one of the best financial records in some years. In the first place every dollar of our Connectional assessment was paid before the beginning of the calendar year.

The total amount of money raised by the church is $3,068.79. This shows a per capita of about $9.30.

It shows an increase over 1908 of $1,068.79. It shows an increase over 1909 of $1,061.79.

This report does not include the sale of the parsonage nor any subscriptions in the hands of the parsonage committee.

Respectfully submitted,
P. B. JEFFERSON, Pastor.

Mrs. W. G. Whitefield, of Paducah, arrived here the first of the week to be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Rowlett, for some time.

COUNTY COMMITTEE IN SESSION SATURDAY

The grand jury was empaneled and is composed of the following well known citizens:

J. A. Holland, Foreman; Thos. B. Smotherman, J. F. Padgett, J. W. Wrather, Henry Phillips, Jr., B. F. Lax, Wallace Outland, W. C. Nance, Luther Graham, J. O. Wrather, Ace Simmons, J. C. Allbritten.

After delivering his charge to the grand jury and instructing them in the duties of their office the petit jury was empaneled as follows: Everett Outland, R. W. Williams, Will Clark, V. J. Williams, J. M. Thurman, G. W. Robertson, Sam Marr, Geo. D. Rogers, J. B. Hodges, Alva Willis, R. D. McCuiston, T. M. Hayden, D. R. Drinkard, L. A. Jones, Charlie McGehee, Huie Cunningham, Cleav Wells, A. C. Smith, W. T. James, W. T. Houston, L. Clint Jones, W. T. McCollum, C. W. Clark, Claud Daily.

Quite a large number of minor commonwealth cases have been called and disposed of. A special venire was summoned Tuesday and Wednesday from which to select a jury to try Homer Bridges, colored, for the killing of Earnest Lowry about one year ago. The task of selecting the jury was commenced Thursday afternoon.

Noah Crouse was acquitted Thursday of the charge of shooting L. B. Edmonds.

A number of other important cases are set for this term and will be reached as rapidly as possible. Judge Hanbery is moving court matters expeditiously and is making a herculean effort to clear the docket of all cases.

Proclaiming himself to be a Methodist minister a stranger giving his name as Long, together with his wife and three sons, arrived here Tuesday and after inquiry made requests for funds to pay their way to Jackson, Tenn., stating that they had been transferred from a Texas conference. The ladies of the church responded quite liberally and with private donations a neat sum was realized. While Long was out in town Mrs. Long and two of her sons went to the residence of Nat Ryan. After they left here on the 3:30 o'clock train Mrs. Ryan discovered that $50 that was in her purse was missing. A warrant was issued for the parties and Deputy Sheriff Langston went to Hazel on the 8 o'clock train and arrested the man and his wife. They were returned to Murray and after giving up the money to Mrs. Ryan their little boy went before the authorities and stated that he took the money. After some further examination they were all released.

Chairman Keys Convened The Body Here Last Saturday Evening.

Chairman J. H. Keys called a meeting of the Calloway County Democratic County Committee last Saturday and seven of the members responded to the call in person and two other members were present by proxy. The meeting was one of the most harmonious ever held in the county and a number of matters were discussed. Resolutions were introduced and after a general discussion were adopted and each member of the committee authorized that his name be attached to the resolutions and that they be published. They are as follows:

We, the undersigned members of the Calloway county democratic committee, and elected to the positions we hold by the sovereign voters of this county, in meeting assembled beg to submit to the democrats of Calloway county the following:

First: We rejoice with loyal democrats throughout the entire nation over the splendid victory achieved at the polls Tuesday, November 8th, and feel that the victory is a victory of the people over corruption, political chicanery and is a national demonstration that the people are determined to wrest from the hands of the favored few the right of government and to place this authority and right in the hands of the people. We congratulate the citizenship of the states of the east and north, the south and west upon their decision as expressed at the polls. It augurs well for the nation that the people are yet mindful of the character of the government under which they live and the character of the servants placed in authority to rule over them.

Second: We look with disfavor upon the conduct of a few designing, scheming political politicians who are now endeavoring to over-ride the wishes of the people of the Third Senatorial district in their endeavor to make a nomination for this office contrary to every principle of right, justice and honesty. We express faith in the people and believe they have a right to name their public officials and any attempt to deny them this right is an attempt at corruption and should not be tolerated by the citizenship of this district. We denounce the interference in this district upon the part of W. A. Berry, of Paducah, as being detrimental to the party and the right of local government, and his endeavor to foist upon this district, without his advice being asked or sought, a usurper as its chairman as being ruinous in its scope and unprecedented in party government.

Third: We congratulate our Senatorial district chairman, John H. Keys, of Calloway, in the steps taken by him and the members of the senatorial district committee, Mr. R. J. Doon, of Lyon county, and Mr. W. C. Broadbent, of Trigg county, in calling a primary election for the purpose of nominating a candidate to the responsible position of

FOOTBALL PLAYER UNDER ACCUSATION

WEST VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY CAPTAIN DIES, FOLLOWING BLOW ON HEAD.

MURDER CHARGE IS MADE

Umpire Tells of Affair as He Saw It, and Faculty Member Sheds Slight Side Light on Rough Game.

Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 15.—A warrant charging Thomas McCoy, right end of the Bethany college football team, with the death of Capt. Rudolph Munk of the West Virginia university team, has been issued. Munk suffered injury in the game between the two teams here Saturday from which he died within five hours without regaining consciousness.

The testimony on which the warrant was issued was furnished by Homer N. Young, a Pittsburgh attorney, who umpired the game. Young said the ball was on Bethany's 40 yard line when Munk started down the field for interference. He testified:

"Munk Slugged by McCoy.

"He was not near the player with the ball. Munk was met by McCoy, who ran toward Munk as they both were running down the field. Ten yards behind the scrimmage line, when Munk was in front of McCoy, struck him in the back of his head with his fist. Munk fell and McCoy fell also, but quickly regained his feet, looked at Munk and started off the field."

Umpire Young said the blow appeared to him as clearly intentional and he ordered McCoy out of the game.

Death Caused by Blood Clot.

The autopsy disclosed the fact that Munk's death was caused by a blood clot at the base of his brain and could not have been the result of a former injury.

McCoy has gone to his home in Canton, O. He had left college this fall without notifying the faculty and had not played on the team for two weeks.

President Crummett of Bethany, who saw the game, said that he was unaware that McCoy was to play Saturday.

"The game was a rough one," he said, "and several times our coaches asked the officials to stop the slugging. The Morgantown players were the chief offenders and the opinion is that McCoy took a chance to get even."

Football End Denies Murder.

Canton, O., Nov. 15.—"I am going back to Bethany to face whatever charges the state authorities may bring against me," declared Tommy McCoy, the football player, when informed that a warrant for his arrest on the charge of murder had been issued in connection with the death of Rudolph Munk of the Wheeling (W. Va.) team.

"I was playing end," said McCoy, "I knew that the play was aimed toward my direction. I had no grievance against Munk. He headed the interference. I dumped it; that's all there was to it."

EXPRESS STRIKE IS OFF

DRIVERS BACK AT WORK UPON THEIR WAGONS.

Forty Men, Accused of Violence, Are Refused Their Old Jobs—Cost of Strike.

New York, Nov. 15.—The strike of drivers and helpers employed by transcontinental express companies was declared off and the men have returned to work. This action ends one of the most serious labor disputes the Metropolitan district has experienced in years.

The close of the strike was brought about by the New Jersey strikers, who voted to accept the terms upon which the companies offered to take the men back. They rejected the terms at first, but a conference of strike leaders with Mayor Wirtz of Jersey City and President Towne of the New York Merchants' association cleared the way for an agreement.

The New York strikers voted Thursday night to accept the companies' offer, conditional upon similar action being taken by the men across the river. The agreement provides the men shall be taken back without discrimination, except for acts of violence during the strike.

The agreement between the companies and their employees does not affect the strikes of chauffeurs, cab drivers and drivers for department stores, who at first quit work in sympathy with the express employees, and later presented demands of their own.

The strike cost the lives of two men and a wage loss estimated at $1,170,000. The strike cost the city $37,500 a day for police patrol, or a total of $750,000. About forty men accused of violence were refused their old jobs.

ALL QUIET IN HONDURAS

Fire-Eater Valladares Is Thoroughly Subdued and Offers to Surrender to American Commander—Bluejackets Are Landed.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Closing days of the little revolution in Honduras initiated by Gen. Jose Valladares on the island of Amapala are characterized by something of an opera bouffe air. The valiant general, who a week ago was threatening everything American on the island, has been obliged to implore Captain Anderson of the United States gunboat Yorktown to protect him from his own people, and the naval officer, forgetting all that has gone before, has placed a guard of American bluejackets around the house of the rebellious revolutionist.

Valladares Offered to Surrender.

The information comes to the state department from United States Minister McCreery at Tegucigalpa, the Honduran capital, who also confirms the press reports that Valladares has offered to surrender. President Davila has directed Valladares to turn over a command of arms to be guarded by sailors from the German warship Bremen, the commander of which apparently is acting in harmony with Captain Anderson. The town of Amapala is quiet and well protected by the foreign sailors.

American Sailors Landed.

The landing of American bluejackets at Amapala was precipitated by a drunken officer of the revolutionary forces shooting a telegrapher in the foot, which led to such a disturbance is warranted the American naval commander in sending his men ashore to protect foreign interests.

Sister Is a Nun—Novelist's Wife Pleads for Privilege of Sharing His Hardships.

Tula, Russia, Nov. 15.—No effort will be made by his family to induce Count Tolstoy to abandon his self-imposed exile and return to the peasant hut at Yasnaya Polyana, which he recently deserted with the avowed purpose of spending the remainder of his days in solitude. His wife, who is married to the countess, who, however, has sent a message to her husband imploring that she be permitted to join him and share the hardships which he is determined to experience.

Little by little the story of the author's pilgrimage to date has become known. In company with his physician, Dr. Maklowsky, he went from Tula to the ancient cloister of Shramm in the province of Kaluga, where he remained the guest of his sister, Marie. The latter for many years has been a nun at the cloister, which was founded 500 years ago.

RICH GIRL DIES A GYPSY

FORMER MEMBER OF BALTIMORE SMART SET EXPIRES.

Husband Near at Death—Father, Who Had Spent Fortune Seeking Her, Was Ill.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 15.—Jessie Habersham, former society favorite of Baltimore, descendant of Francis Scott Key, daughter of a wealthy banker, who forsook the gay world of fashion six years ago to become a gypsy, died at Cincinnati after giving birth to a baby girl. Her husband, John Mitchell, king of a Roman band, was with her when she died.

Jessie Habersham was 19 years old, the petted daughter of H. B. Habersham of Baltimore, when she forsook the life of society for the wild, carefree existence of the swarthy nomads. She later declared she had been abducted by a band of gypsies camped near Baltimore, kept secluded for a year under hygienic influence, and was sold to Mitchell for $500.

Her mother died soon after her disappearance and her father spent a fortune seeking trace of Jessie. When she had become enamored of the roving life and manifested no desire to return to her family and friends, she was permitted to communicate with her father, telling him of her marriage and her preference for the new life. Five weeks ago she became ill in Cincinnati, and when her condition became critical she was removed to a hospital. Her father was notified of her danger, but was too ill to visit her.

The gypsy queen was the great-granddaughter of the author of the "Star Spangled Banner" and a scion of one of the oldest and proudest southern families.

REGULATION OF RAILWAYS

Commissioners From Nearly All States Are in Convention in the National Capital.

Washington, Nov. 15.—More effective and comprehensive legislation by the various states for the regulation of all interstate railroads and railway traffic is a subject that was taken up for consideration today when the National Association of Railway Commissioners met in this city in annual convention at the capitol. Practically every state in the Union is represented.

A committee headed by Ira B. Mills of Minnesota, embracing commissioners from Maryland, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and about a dozen other states, has had under consideration one of the most important topics that the convention will consider. It relates to the adoption of uniform laws by the various states in regulating "within state railroads." The committee's recommendations, it is thought, will go a long way in assisting the interstate commerce commission in its work of supervising railway control.

The association will consider, among other things, shippers' claims on common carriers; railway service and accommodations; railroad statistics; accounts and statistics of street railroads; simplification of railway tariffs, rates and rate making; uniform classification; car service and equipment; railway capitalization; safety appliances; grade crossings and trespassing; railroad taxes and railroad valuation; amendments to the act to regulate commerce and delays attendant upon enforcing orders of state railway commission. President M. S. Decker of New York is in the chair.

HONEST STATEMENT OF WELL KNOWN CITIZEN

A friend recommended Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and I decided to give it a trial. I purchased a bottle from a druggist and after taking a few doses, felt relieved. After taking several bottles the pain was entirely gone and I have not suffered the slightest since.

Back to the Wild.

There was a time when all dogs were wild and when what we call wolves were different from other dogs only as a colt is now different from a Newfoundland, for instance. From time to time you will hear of dogs that have returned to the life of their ancestors and have run wild with the wolves of the prairie or of the woods. In the town of Sandy in Oregon a greyhound one night made the acquaintance of a coyote, which is a kind of wolf, and ever since he has lived away from the town, running with the coyotes and approaching human dwelling places only to steal a hen or two when he has been more than usually hungry.

MORE THAN EVER

Increased Capacity for Mental Labor Since Leaving Off Coffee.

Many former coffee drinkers who have mental work to perform, day after day, have found a better capacity and greater endurance by using Postum instead of ordinary coffee. An Illinois woman writes:

"I had drank coffee for about twenty years, and finally had what the doctor called 'coffee heart.' I was nervous and extremely despondent; had little mental or physical strength left, had kidney trouble and constipation.

"The first noticeable benefit derived from the change from coffee to Postum was the natural action of the kidneys and bowels. In two weeks my heart action was greatly improved and my nerves steady.

"Then I became less despondent, and the desire to be active again showed proof of renewed physical and mental strength.

"I am steadily gaining in physical strength and brain power. I formerly did mental work and had to give it up on account of coffee, but since using Postum I am doing hard mental labor with less fatigue than ever before."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville, in Pigs." "There's a Reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

RIDES ON THE BRAKE BEAMS

Newsboy Traverses Country From Coast to Coast and From Canada to the Gulf.

New York—Harry Blanche, nineteen, who sells newspapers in New York when he is not riding on the brake beams of a railroad car, has recently returned to the city from a 20,000-mile trip to 250 American cities. Blanche is ambitious to be known as the "King of the Newsboys," and in order to prove his kingship he sold newspapers in all of the cities he visited, and brought back with him the badges of the newsboys' unions and organizations in all of the cities he visited.

into the area of trains through a passage which was being used by workmen. He wore overalls and easily passed for one of the gang. He has no use for freight trains, and always rides, not on, but beneath passenger cars. Railroad men do not look for stowaways there as frequently as they do on freight trains.

During the four and a half months that he has been away from New York Blanche went as far south as Jacksonville, Fla., and as far north as Quebec, Canada, as far west as San Francisco, and as far east as Boston.

IS A CHARMING YOUNG WOMAN

Helen Taft, the President's Daughter, Has a Sincere Manner and is Utterly Unaffected.

Washington.—One of the principal topics of conversation among members of the social set in Washington this fall is the debut of the president's daughter, Helen. If Miss Taft achieves the popularity at Washington this winter that was hers while a student at Bryn Mawr, she will make for herself an enviable record.

In appearance the president's daughter is tall, well built and very dignified, with clear white skin, which is usually well-browned by outdoor exercise. Her hair is brown and wavy and her eyes brown as berries. She is so fond of wearing brown that she won for herself at Bryn Mawr the sobriquet of "nut-brown maid."

In manner, Miss Taft is as cordial and frank as a child. She has a clear, resonant speaking voice, and she enunciates her opinions on all subjects very decidedly. She can converse as entertainingly about her life in foreign lands as her father. She has crossed the Pacific four times.

The coming White House debutante has one accomplishment that is most unusual in girls of her position in life. Indeed, few among the smart set with whom she associates know as much about the art. She is a first-class cook. Not a cooking school product, mind you, but a graduate of her mother's kitchen. She can bake, pin, make bread and cakes, etc., and is an all-round good housekeeper.

Taking His Meals Out.

"And do you take your meals out?" asks the village probe, who is garnering information from the former resident who is home from the city for a few days.

"Not until after I have eaten them," wearily responds the unwilling victim.—Judge.

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores around his mouth, and the sores grew worse. Then they began to come out on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in clothes at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk.

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. I can sincerely say that only for Cuticura my child would have died. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment.

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Dyspepsia Five Minutes After Taking a Little Diaphepsin.

There should not be a case of indigestion, dyspepsia or gastritis here if readers who are subject to stomach trouble knew the tremendous anti-ferment and digestive virtue contained in Diaphepsin. This harmless preparation will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the most acute acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, nauseous odors from the breath.

If your stomach is sour and full of gas, or your food doesn't digest, and your meal don't seem to fit, why not get a 50-cent case of Pope's Diaphepsin from any druggist here in town, and make life worth living. Absolute relief from stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow five minutes after, and besides, one fifty-cent case is sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Pope's Diaphepsin, which will always either at daytime or during night, relieve your sick, sour, gassy, upset stomach and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? We can furnish positive proof that it has made many remarkable cures after all other means had failed.

Women who are suffering with some form of female illness should consider this.

As such evidence read these two unsolicited testimonial letters. We guarantee they are genuine and honest statements of facts.

Cresson, Pa.—"Five years ago I had a bad fall, and hurt myself inwardly. I was under a doctor's care for nine weeks, and when I stopped I grew worse again. I sent for a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it as directed, and now I am a stout, hearty woman."—Mrs. Ella E. Aikley, Cresson, Pa.

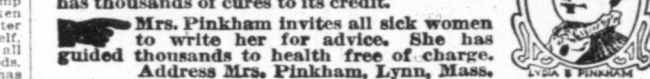

Baird, Wash.—"A year ago I was sick with kidney and bladder troubles and female weakness. The doctors gave me up. All they could do was to just let me go as easily as possible. I was advised by friends to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier. I am completely cured of my ills, and I am nearly sixty years old."—Mrs. Sarah Leighton, Baird, Wash.

Evidence like the above is abundant showing that the derangements of the female organism which breed all kinds of miserable feelings and which ordinary practice does not cure, are the very disorders that give way to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are afflicted with similar troubles, after reading two such letters as the above, should be encouraged to try this wonderfully helpful remedy.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

More Electric Road Talk.
 Dear Editor:—Great deal is being said about the electric railway from our county seat to the east border.

Such would be indeed a marvelous move, but it seems that some writing on the subject does not touch on various things that is to be considered first of all.

A survey is first necessary to determine whether a road bed could be built at the figures that could be paid for it and stay in the bounds of reason.

For instance the grade and cut proposition which is practically the big end of the road bed work, is little harder to handle than one might think for that was not familiar with them.

Take a one per cent grade which is considered a small one, requires four times the power to pull a certain tonnage that can be handled on a level.

Out of the twelve miles the writer don't think there can be over four miles that can be constructed without a grade without a very big expense in doing cut work and dragging back to make dumps.

And another thing is the bridges and culverts which will be plentiful and long ones, as any one can decide from the county bridges that plenty of water space is an absolute necessity.

To build bridges will approximately cost one dollar and thirteen cents per running foot for the labor, and from two and three quarters to three dollars for the material in same space.

To do this stunt will require some capital and if old Calloway sets her head it will be done, there never was but one thing she failed on, "voting a court house $35,000." Well, I don't blame her for voting it down, $35,000 would not build a decent lock-up for the crap shooters and chicken-eaters. See you again in the spring. A SUBSCRIBER.

BUYERS WILL FORCE GROWERS TO STREET SELLING.
 Very little tobacco is being brought to Mayfield just now on account of the weed being dry to handle. The first warm wet spell that comes there will be several hundred loads of tobacco roll into the city for the purpose of selling on the streets. A number of the largest rehandlers in the city will not send out any buyers this year to the country but will depend on buying it as it comes to town and paying the highest market price. It is predicted by a number of the leading tobacco men that the sending of men to the country to buy tobacco has been the custom for years, will almost be eliminated. The street selling is growing more popular everywhere and seems to be satisfactory to both the farmer and the buyer.

A few loads of tobacco have come to the city this week and good prices have been paid, the prices being from $6 to $8 for medium grades of leaf. The Mayfield dealers want all the tobacco that they can buy and are willing to pay a price as high as any other town in Western Kentucky.—Mayfield Messenger.

The Delinquent For December.
 The Delinquent for December is one of the most beautiful of the holiday magazines. The Christmas spirit is suggested in picture and story. There are illustrations in color that mark the highest artistic attainment. The frontispiece by Sigismund de Ivanowski, and the full page, "The Night Before Christmas," by Mary Ellen Sigsbee, are remarkable examples of the best that the art of painter and printer can offer.

In "Conversazione" Erman J. Ridgway strikes the keynote of right living with a bit of philosophy suggested to an out-of-door Christian who hears a strain of church music.

The Christmas stories are of rare quality: "What Happened in the Night," by James Hopper is a delightful fantasy; "Christmas for One," by Parker H. Fillmore, will touch the heart, and "Madame Joy-in-Life," by Wanda Petrunkevitch will reveal a character whom everybody will welcome as a holiday guest.

"The Unforeseen," by Mary Stewart Cutting's fascinating serial, reaches a happy ending.

Among the articles of the month is "Children's Christmas Around the World," by C. Bryson Taylor, a description of holiday celebrations in many lands. Charles Francis Read, M. D., tells how Christmas is passed in "These Terrible Asylums." Gelett Burgess gives advice on "How to See a Play," and Mabel Potter Daggett contributes a character sketch, "A Father to Forty." The fourth of Anne Forsyth's experiences when "Seven Times a Servant" is most illuminating.
