Oranges, Apples, Bananas, Cocoanuts. What is it necessary to add to make the Christmas pudding a success? The pudding itself is always good. The fruits should be fresh and ripe, and the nuts should be of the best kind. The sauce should be carefully prepared, and the jelly should be well made. The plum pudding is always a favorite, and it is not necessary to add to it more than the required amount of sugar. In this case, it is necessary to add a little sugar to the mixture before putting it into the pudding dish. The pudding should be placed in a buttered dish, and baked in a slow oven for 1 hour.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

"Give and take," say I

The word hamstring that can serve to preserve is to be regarded as one's own little brother. Big Brother, by getting a start two years before you, is George Brown or Harry Lowry; you are just as likely Harriet or Mary Lewis's big brother, and Big Brother is not to be trifled with. Remember that he knows your habits, and he can always get a friend to look after you and report your movements. Big Brother is never without a ready-made excuse or lie to use. He tests you to see whether Lundey Washington would tell George Brown or his own brother George that Big Brother had caused your failure. He never fails to tell the whole world, if you are not in line, and in any case he makes the little brother feel that everything he does is done without a thought of the possible consequences that would result.

There was a boy who had a younger brother, who was a source of perpetual annoyance to him. He would try to tease the boy, and he would sometimes succeed. But one day, the younger brother said to him, "If you do it again, I'll tell on you." The older brother was frightened, and he promised to be good. From that day on, he was a model boy, and his younger brother was very happy.

On Big Brothers

As a younger brother I want to plead for justice. All my childhood sufferings come from the greatest cause of all—my brothers. For the most part, my brothers are good boys, but they have a tendency to tease me and my friends. I have tried to reason with them, but they are too old to understand. I have told them that I will not play with them if they don't stop, but they just laugh at me and go on.

On Your Child's Cold

If you are a younger brother, you know how it feels to have a cold. It is not fun, and you don't like it. I had a cold once, and it was really bad. My brother teased me, and he made me cry. I didn't want him to do that, but he couldn't help it. I think he was just trying to be funny, but I didn't think it was funny.

RAILROAD RATE INCREASE

The American people have never imagined that their present government ownership of the railroad industry, the national property, would permit such gross and unnecessary extravagance in railroad expenditure as that which is now going on.

In the past, railroad companies have been able to pass on to the consumer the cost of increased opering costs, and the general rise in prices, this is a very moderate reaction for what has been done by the government railroad companies in this matter. The four points included: Abolish the tax on undistributed profits; and provide the capital investment in the special session of Congress the railroad companies needed in order to balance their budget as soon as possible.

The government railroad companies are not in very much of a position to get along on the tax on undistributed profits, and have not entirely abandoned all other methods of raising money. They would like to get along on the tax on undistributed profits, which would then have more money available for them to use in their efforts to balance their budget as soon as possible.

Which Shall It Be...

Railroads have been paying more for what they have to buy and charging less for what they have to sell.

In order to balance costs and prices of transportation, it is necessary to increase freight rates around 10 per cent. When the rates are thus increased, they will still average about 15 per cent less than were immediately following war-time federal control.

There is only one alternative to increasing the rates. That is to reduce payrolls and prices, which constitute the expenditures of the railroads.

Nobody wants to see that happen and unemployment increase. Railroads should relieve, instead of be unable to unemploy in their own ranks and—through purchases—in other lines of business.

This statement is made in the confidence belief that the American people in their own interest will appreciate the necessity between these two alternatives which the railroads are making.
