Lynn Grove High School Honor Roll

The only two who made all A's were Mildred Swann and Roy Jones, both members of the senior class. Elsie Rogers.

100 Per Cent Jersey Cream

The four selected dairies that we buy our bottling milk from have nothing but Jersey cows in their herds. Jersey milk has been called "The milk without an apology," because it is sold on the strength of its quality.

The quality of milk is judged by its richness, its creaminess and the amount of protein, milk, sugar, and minerals. Jersey milk contains more food solids as mentioned above than any other milk, and because of this fact it tastes richer and is far more nourishing.

We buy the highest quality milk we can get, then we PASTERIZE it as an added measure of protection for you and your family—So we say, it is truly "A Milk Without an Apology."

The farmers of this section are not very busy trying to get their fall work done.

Good health continues with the exception of head colds.

The people of this community are traveling the Murray and Hordaville road. They will travel it from the Murray State Teachers College to Waverly, through by the way of Gibbs Store. Some of the people are also working on the new highway running from Murray to Hazel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Harwell, of Coldwater, visited their daughter, Mrs. Luther Easley, Saturday and Sunday.

Prof. and Mrs. Claude Wright and son, Harold B., spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Easley. Mr. E. J. Easley and R. R. Emerson attended the association at Walnut Fork last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Verba Taylor and Miss Orline Robertson of Detroit, returned to the home of their parents last Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Luther Easley had a fine time to die Thursday night.

Several of the people of Hwy City attended the old time fiddlers' contest at Gunter's Flat school house on last Friday night, and all reported a nice time and a lot of good music.

Mrs. Jennie Cagel and daughter, Edna, of Harris Grove, was in Murray shopping Monday. They stopped to see Ruth Easley, who has been quite ill for several weeks with malarial fever. She is better this week.

Lynn Grove Hi Notes

The Lynn Grove Wildcats will play the first home game of the season on Thursday, October 30, on the evening preceding the community day program. They will be met by the Kirksey Eagles, who have already started their season off by defeating the Farmington five.

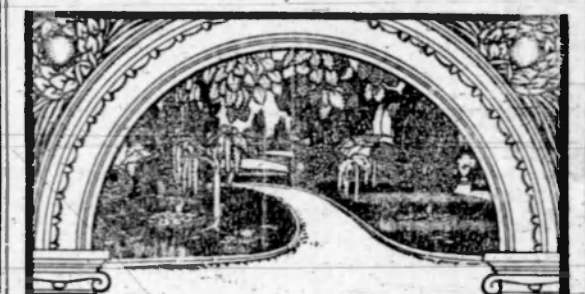

A series of poultry talks were given at Lynn Grove Tuesday afternoon, October 21.

The speakers and their subjects were as follows: J. E. Humphrey, poultry specialist of University of Kentucky, on "Care of the Farm Poultry this Year"; Dr. T. P. Polk, extension veterinarian for University of Kentucky on "Poultry Diseases"; and C. O. Dicke, county agent, on "Poultry Demonstration on Poultry Project."

Records show that the two youngest members of the senior class, Elsie Rogers and Mildred Swann, who attended the Training School at Murray during the summer, made all A's in their work at that place.

To help foster the spirit of cheerfulness, the fifth and sixth grades, under the direction of Miss Thelma Jones gave the following chapel program Monday afternoon, October 20:

Song—"A Laugh Provoker", by Song—"A Laugh Provoker", by Bible Reading—Ecclesiastes verses 7:10, by Estelle Todd Prayer—Mr. Arnett Piano Duet—"The Moon Rock"

Personality.

In no other business or profession is personality more important than in the work of funeral directing. For this task, touching so closely upon the most sacred things, people demand the service of one whom they know and trust.

Through long and conscientious service we have earned confidence and friendship. As a result, our service is more than a matter of business. . . it is an earnest attempt to be of help in time of need.

Dix in the red-blooded roles which brought him screen fame again will see their favorite in this type of characterization when "Shooting Straight" Radio Pictures' gripping drama, opens at the Capitol Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

For the past year Dix has been featured in a series of comedy romances which have brought out the fact that he is a real actor.

He returns in his old age or role, however, in this new production which has been unusually well received in other cities where it has played.

Dix is cast as a two-faced big city gambler and the story concerns his complete regeneration. Combined with the stirring drama of the picture is a strong romance with Mary Lawlor, beautiful Broadway stage star, playing opposite Dix. The two are said to form one of the most effective combinations in pictures today.

"Shooting Straight" is an original story by Barney Sorkin. It is said to represent the last word in talking picture entertainment, an account of its brilliant and fast-moving action.

George Abrahamson directed the production, gathered together an unusually capable cast of supporting players, Matthew, the prominent screen "heavy," is the menace. Other important roles are portrayed by Robert Emmett O'Connor, George Cooper and William Janney.

Much interest was shown by grape growers at a meeting at the vineyard of J. T. Andrews in Logan county. The results of a spray program outlined last spring was studied. Practically the entire crop was free of black rot.

Mr. O. H. Wilson's well has gone wrong in some way and he is having a new one drilled.

A Vote for Logan Is a Vote for Decency

One of the filthiest pieces of work that has been committed in the present campaign is the Logan edition of the Fellowship Forum, printed in Washington, D. C. This magazine purports to be a Masonic magazine but actually is nothing other than the scum of the northward Ku Klux Klan, which is in a dying condition because it has not one single worthy element to keep it alive.

The Ledger & Times believes that the Masons of Kentucky, get too high-class gentlemen to be misled and hood-winked by such brazen frontiers and borkum. A person who will resort to such a low trick to gain a seat in the United States Senate is not worthy to lean up the beds of wine and such democracy will, we believe, cost Robeson many thousands of voters from among the

Giving the Murray Negro His Due

Every town that has a proportion of colored people in its population cannot avoid some aspects of the Negro problem.

More southern towns make mistakes in handling their colored people than in any other problem. Some are too strict, others are too lenient. Murray's principal fault in this respect is in being too lenient in some ways, particularly political, and too strict in others.

The chief thing the Negro deserves and rarely gets, is justice. Strong, virulent justice, not mere sympathy. The Negro is entitled to his place in our life but he must certainly not be kept there by a mere sympathy.

Every campaign move of Robeson has been motivated by a muddy mind and characterized by deceit and falsehood. The big John I has been subtle about the state-industrially plotting up and knocking down a straw man and heartily applauding himself for doing so.

Many across are driven to criminality by neglect and abuse and failure on the part of the white race to provide them with the fair and fair opportunity to find their place in our life. One of the main duties devolving upon cities with negro elements is to enable the colored people to attain better living conditions. Squallor breeds worthlessness if it does not produce crime and must not be tolerated.

For these reasons, the Ledger & Times believes, the city of Murray has communitarily performed duty in providing the colored children of this city with modern school facilities. Some of our citizens may disagree with this but the new Douglas high school will read as high return as any other civic investment in Murray.

Another improvement in the Negro quarter that was proper was the graveling of the streets so that these people will not be compelled to wallow in the mud and dust. A little thing, but very important.

If Murray citizens will pay heed to getting the Negro's ballot on election day and more attention to enabling him to make a sober, industrious citizen and earn an honest living they will reap a rich reward.

JUST JOTS

By Joe

The Elizabethtown News has increased postal receipts indicating a nature of normal business. On the other hand, it may mean that for it had made the discovery that the only rewards it was getting for its pains were ill will on every hand and no official results.

There was a time when the publisher of the News did not regard himself as the appointed moral guardian of the public and he was charged with the most useful fault that could be attributed to his profession.

Lack of results has not been the only reason for the abandonment of this policy by large numbers of editors. Another fundamental cause has been the feeling on their part that they have often served merely as cats' paws in the interests of some other person or party.

Nowadays most persons resent the effort of another to hand them a sermon. The few who do not are the few who make his dupe believe that the conclusion arrived at is his own.

All facts, no matter how clearly they may be defined and stated, are subject to widely varying interpretation and anyone who undertakes to expound them immediately finds himself in controversy with honest persons on every hand.

One of the most appalling things about American life today is the lethargy of the people concerning corruption, graft, negligence and carelessness in public affairs. Moral agencies have been checked, the press has been vain and newspapers, as one of them, have almost unanimously decided that some other mode of doing business must be found.

The people do not seem to be much interested in saving them. The only instances in which they can be induced to do so are when their own personal fortunes are involved. Most of the failures under judgment in the welfare of man.

Crusades have been waged in the balance and found wanting. The influence of the word crusade in this profession, but most editors have abandoned the crusade as having failed to prove its worth.

These good ladies have done much work on this project to build another Woolworth building and those who won't cooperate with the have not the pride in Murray to deserve to live here.

If Kentucky persists in electing Robeson, after having three years of his political twin-brother, Samson, she has less brains than we believe.

Pale and Weak

"I took Cardui as a wonderful medicine, for I improved greatly after taking it," says Mrs. A. W. English, of R. F. D. 4, Boone, Va. "When I was just a girl of 13, my mother gave this medicine to me, and it did me a great deal of good. I was weak and run-down. After I had taken Cardui awhile, I felt much better. In 1924, my health was poor. I felt miserable, and hadn't enough strength to do my housework. It took all my willpower to keep up. I was pale and weak. I got Cardui again and took it. My improvement was wonderful. I can recommend Cardui to others. For my health was so much better after I had taken a course of the Cardui Home Treatment."

The Elizabethtown News has increased postal receipts indicating a nature of normal business. On the other hand, it may mean that for it had made the discovery that the only rewards it was getting for its pains were ill will on every hand and no official results.

There was a time when the publisher of the News did not regard himself as the appointed moral guardian of the public and he was charged with the most useful fault that could be attributed to his profession.

Lack of results has not been the only reason for the abandonment of this policy by large numbers of editors. Another fundamental cause has been the feeling on their part that they have often served merely as cats' paws in the interests of some other person or party.

Nowadays most persons resent the effort of another to hand them a sermon. The few who do not are the few who make his dupe believe that the conclusion arrived at is his own.

All facts, no matter how clearly they may be defined and stated, are subject to widely varying interpretation and anyone who undertakes to expound them immediately finds himself in controversy with honest persons on every hand.

One of the most appalling things about American life today is the lethargy of the people concerning corruption, graft, negligence and carelessness in public affairs. Moral agencies have been checked, the press has been vain and newspapers, as one of them, have almost unanimously decided that some other mode of doing business must be found.

The people do not seem to be much interested in saving them. The only instances in which they can be induced to do so are when their own personal fortunes are involved. Most of the failures under judgment in the welfare of man.

MTYRE BOARD

Murray Man Named at Meeting at McKenna Train, Tuesday of Last Week.

A meeting of the Mt. Tyre Board of Trustees was held at Mr. Tyre's School Tuesday afternoon. Ed Filbeck of Murray, Ky., was elected president of the board and Mrs. Clifford Bateman and C. D. Moody were added as members to the present board.

In looking over the program of the school and the entire situation since the last meeting of the board in the summer, members of the board expressed themselves as very much pleased with the outlook. The board unanimously passed a resolution of hearty endorsement of the work that had been done by Prof. J. A. Robins, Sr., and members of the executive committee.

Plans were made for Mr. Robins to follow through his work with the Southern Association of preparatory schools in the connection with the recognition of the privately operated schools by the various state departments of education.

The board of trustees also made plans for Mr. Robins to make a major portion of his time through the fall and winter months to the securing of additional funds for the school and to increase the present enrollment. An optimistic note was sounded throughout the meeting. McKenna Banner.

many of us can remember when there was only one mud hole in the public roads in Calloway county and that was from home to our destination; it mattered not where we were going, to mill or to market. Sometimes it was necessary to put in a spike team in order to carry a two-horse load, then we would hitch up two of our best mules and lead put them by the engine and the going in tight but we could carry us through. We called them our wheelers. I am glad that is not so in full today, but many of our county roads are still in the mud.

On last Friday evening Chief Police Burgess Parker approached a car driven by a girl with boys riding on the running board. Just as Mr. Parker placed his hand on the car to tell the boys they were violating a law recently made by the city council prohibiting people riding on the outside of cars, the girl deliberately threw her car in front of him and sped away, thus throwing Mr. Parker down and dragging him several feet. Mr. Parker's knee was injured to the extent that it was necessary for him to be off duty for a few days. Unless the people of Murray are willing to cooperate with Mr. Parker in enforcing these new laws which are made for our protection, it will be impossible to avoid probably many serious accidents.

On last Friday evening Chief Police Burgess Parker approached a car driven by a girl with boys riding on the running board. Just as Mr. Parker placed his hand on the car to tell the boys they were violating a law recently made by the city council prohibiting people riding on the outside of cars, the girl deliberately threw her car in front of him and sped away, thus throwing Mr. Parker down and dragging him several feet. Mr. Parker's knee was injured to the extent that it was necessary for him to be off duty for a few days. Unless the people of Murray are willing to cooperate with Mr. Parker in enforcing these new laws which are made for our protection, it will be impossible to avoid probably many serious accidents.
