Live Wires Attend C. of C. Business Meeting

Enthusiastic Members See a Bright Future
In Store for Fulton--Swift & Company
Making Preparations to Build and Operate Factory Here.

The first meeting of the new year of the Chamber of Commerce was a delightful and instructive affair with President A. M. Nugent in the chair and Secretary J. D. Davis at his post. After the reading and adoption of minutes of previous meeting Mr. Nugent gave an interesting review of the past year's work, all of which the community is well acquainted. Some of the outstanding accomplishments deserving special mention, however, and which the public is enjoying today, are the new concrete street on State Line and other road projects on which effective work has been done; the friendly feeling existing among all new comers in railroad circles by welcome greetings; the efforts put forth in developing the dairy industry, which may result in Swift & Co. locating a large creamery and butter plant in Fulton. In fact, it is understood that Swift & company have purchased the Chas. Brann home place and the line street, extending back to the Pierce-Cequin line for a building site. It is also understood that said plant will not affect the creamery stations already located here, but may create a keener competition in the local market for dairy products.

We could enumerate many other things, but enough is said when we tell you that the directors at a recent meeting secured the services of Joe Davis as secretary for another year. During the meeting a deserved compliment was paid J. T. Watkins for the efforts put forth in developing the poultry industry in this vicinity and the splendid exhibitions at our county fair. Mr. Enoch Browder, in his talk on dairy development, said he would not object to being called "Cow" Browder if he could accomplish as much in the development of dairying as "Chicken" Watkins in poultry.

R. H. Wade, secretary of the Fulton County Fair Association and a loyal worker in the Chamber of Commerce, asked the Chamber to cooperate with the Fair Association in encouraging raising more swine and offering good premiums on ton litters six months old.

T. M. Franklin, chairman of the executive board, made an interesting as well as instructive talk. So did Joe Browder and several other members. Harry Murphy reported that the old auditorium building in Carr's park was sold as advertised and brought $279.00. Twelve benches were reserved to be used in the railroad parks.

Before closing the meeting the matter of financing this year's work was adopted which is the same as last year. Committees were appointed to call on all members and raise the $7,000 required for the work. Many of the members present signed cards for their quota and gave checks in payment for the first six months.

Taking it all, in all, it was the best meeting, with the largest membership present, in many months, and all enjoyed the nice refreshments served with our favorite brand of Chancellor cigars, made in Fulton.

MISS HETTIE COLLINS SLEEPS IN FAIRVIEW CEMETERY

Funeral services for Miss Hettie Collins were held Monday morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Browder, conducted by the Rev. B. J. Cantrell, pastor of the First Christian church of which the deceased was a member. Interment followed in Fairview cemetery.

Miss Collins died at her home in Princeton, Ky., Saturday morning. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fon Collins of this city. She was born and reared in Fulton and upon the white canvas of life she drew no uncertain lines which needed to be erased. When the bloom of childhood was blooming into the blush of refined womanhood she graduated from Fulton high school and was employed as teacher in the school, later being promoted principal of Terry-Norman school in East Fulton. After the death of her sister in Princeton, Ky., she resigned and removed to that city where she could best look after the interests of her sister's children. Her years were full of consistent plans and wise action in assisting in molding the minds of Fulton's younger generation into the higher ideals of life's usefulness and today the eternal springtime with everlasting glories belongs to her. Though she is gone, she will long linger as a fragrant memory in the hearts of all who knew her.

MISS VICTORIA HOMRA TO WED MR. SAM HAMRA ON FEB. 3RD

Invitations were issued this week by Mr. Foad Homra, of this city, announcing the approaching wedding, Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, of his sister, Miss Victoria Homra to Mr. Sam Hamra, of Steele, Mo.

The contracting parties are both popular young people and the wedding will be largely attended by a number of friends and relatives from out of the city as well as in Fulton.

After a reception tendered the newly weds, the happy couple will leave for a bridal trip, and will be at home to their friends after March 1, in Steele, Mo., where Mr. Phillip Hamra, the groom's uncle, will give a reception in their honor.

Lon Adams Out For Re-election

To the voters of Fulton County, Ladies and Gentlemen:

I wish at this time to announce my candidacy for re-election to the office of county attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic primary to be held in August of this year. In making this announcement I wish to thank the people of the county for their generous and loyal support which I have received in previous races, and to assure you that if elected I shall endeavor to render the best service of which I am capable. Again thanking you for past favors and earnestly soliciting your support and influence in the coming election, I am, Your humble servant.

LON ADAMS.

It is a genuine pleasure for the editor of this paper to publish the above announcement of County Attorney Lon Adams for re-election. Mr. Adams is nearing the completion of his second term as county attorney of Fulton county and we honestly believe he deserves the hearty endorsement of every voter in the county with their vote on Aug. 3, 1929.

Everyone knows that he is well acquainted with county affairs and has honestly and faithfully filled the office to the best of his ability and with perfect satisfaction. His splendid record is an open book—a record any public official should be proud of and one the voters should endorse by electing him for another term.

MATTHEWS-ROPER

The Methodist church provided a most beautiful setting Wednesday morning for the marriage of Miss Mary Whitesel Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Matthews, of Forestdale, to Mr. Paul A. Roper, of Detroit, Mich.

The Rev. H. B. Vaught reading the ring service at 10 o'clock. Elegant simplicity marked the decoration of the church.

The charming young bride given in marriage by her father was gowned in a smart model of cadet blue georgette with accessories to harmonize. She carried pink Kilarney roses with valley lillies in a shower bouquet.

Little Miss Katherine Morris wearing a dainty blue Clifford was the ring bearer. Miss Ethel Mea Matthews, of Memphis, was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. Davis Valentine, matron of honor, were especially smart in frocks of blue georgette with effective accessories.

Mr. Doris Valentine was best man and Mr. Joseph Williams attendant. Mrs. Clarence Maddox was at the organ, playing Mendelssohn's Wedding March and Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus. Mrs. Chas. Brann sweetly sang "O, Promise Me."

The bride is a highly accomplished musician, and for the past year has been in Marietta, and Portsmouth, Ohio, as an organist in a theatre.

Mr. Roper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Roper, near the city, and holds a responsible position with the Sterling Secret Service, at Detroit, Mich.

Immediately after the ceremony they left for Detroit, where they will reside.

Two Paducah Men Killed in Train Wreck

Two Paducahans were killed and another injured when the Floridian, fast I. C. passenger train from Chicago to Florida, crashed into a freight train one mile south of Mounds, Ill., Tuesday night at 10:50 o'clock. Leo Wellington, 44, engineer of the freight and Milton Johnson, negro brakeman on the freight, were killed and Joe Grasty, 25, fireman on the freight, suffered a broken leg.

According to reports of the accident, the passenger train crashed into the freight as it pulled off a siding into the main line.

W. T. Pendleton Announces For Jailer

Read what his home paper, the Hickman Courier, has to say about him:

"We are authorized to announce in this issue of The Courier that W. T. Pendleton, well known restaurateur man, is a candidate for jailer of Fulton county, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in August, 1929. Mr. Pendleton decided to make the race for this office at the urging of many friends throughout the county and says at the proper time he will make a thorough canvass of every precinct. Meanwhile he wished to announce early so that his friends might know he was in the race to stay and could prepare to support him in the primary.

"Mr. Pendleton is no stranger to the people of Fulton county, having spent many years in and around Fulton in his boyhood days, and his first position in Fulton with Frank Mims in the old English Kitchen. For some years Mr. Pendleton has been in the restaurateur business in Hickman and is now the proprietor of the Busy Bee cafe here. He is known to practically everyone in the county, as his friendly nature and genial disposition has won him friends with everybody. While this is the first time Mr. Pendleton has ever run for public office he feels that his business training and his character insure the people of his success in the position of jailer if elected to that office."

The above article, taken from Mr. Pendleton's home-town paper, justifies us in saying that he would make an ideal Jailer if elected. Few men are better known throughout the county, and we will add too, that he is known by many of our citizens who believe he is capable in every way of filling the office with perfect satisfaction. He was in Fulton Wednesday, shaking hands with friends and making new acquaintances. He is a thoroughbred Democrat and will appreciate your goodwill during the campaign and your vote on Aug. 3.

MR. GEO. F. BOTTS DEAD

Sunday morning at 1:30, Mr. George F. Botts died at his home in Rives, Tenn., of pneumonia. Mr. Botts was born in Glasgow, Ky., and was educated in Lexington. Soon after completing his college course he engaged in the lumber business in Rives, Tenn., where he met and married Miss Bettie Clemons. Three children were born of this union: Mr. Claud Botts of Union City, Tenn.; Mr. Edgar Botts of Metropolis Ill., and Mrs. George Garth of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Mr. Botts had lived in that community for nearly fifty years, and had endeared himself to every citizen of the town and surrounding country. He was considered by all to be an honorable, Christian gentleman, one charitable in deeds and lenient in thoughts. A life so well lived is a wonderful asset, that swings the gates of the beyond ajar and bids one enter and claim the reward promised the righteous.

The entire little city of Rives keenly feels the death of Mr. Botts and mourns with his bereaved family.

He was a brother in law of Mrs. Mollie Cummings and Mrs. Mike Fey, and an uncle of Mr. Max Cummings of this city.

Funeral services were held at the Christian church in Rives, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hardeman. Burial was in Eastview cemetery, in Union City.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The Fulton High Cagers met defeat at the hands of the Murray High basketball team in a hard fought game last Friday night at the new gymnasium. This was the first game of the season and although we were defeated in it, we have strong hopes of making a good record in basketball this year. Next Saturday night there will be a doubleheader between Fulton High and Wickliffe. We hope by having the new gymnasium for the games to be held in this year, that we will have much larger crowds in attendance.

Rev. Malphurs, of the Church of Christ, gave a most interesting address to the students on the parable of the Good Samaritan.

The attendance of the high school is about normal now, after the influenza epidemic.

The Fulton High Debating Team will meet Mayfield here next in the new gymnasium. It is hoped that a large crowd will attend this debate. The Fulton team is composed of Randolph Kramer, Avery Hancock and Clanton Boyd.

BELOVED WOMAN OF FULTON CALLED HOME

Mrs. Emma Felts passed away Saturday afternoon at her home on Central Avenue, at the age of 72 years. She had been ill for many months and had suffered much, and everything possible had been done to restore her to health, but all remedies proved unavailing, and she has passed from a world of suffering to a place of blissful rest, and freedom from all pain. The funeral service was held Sunday at 2 p. m. at her late home, conducted by Rev. H. B. Vaught, and burial followed in Fairview.

Mrs. Felts was a member of the Methodist church and was faithful in the discharge of her duties while in health, and those who love her feel that she is safe and happy in that home above. All of her near relatives have preceded her to the grave except Mrs. W. A. Terry of this city, who is a niece, and who will miss her through the coming years. Mrs. Felts had many friends who will regret her death.

Mrs. C. F. Jackson of Fulton is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moore, who are quite ill with flu.

New cases of flu reported in the community are: Mrs. O. T. Kimbro, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lee.

Mrs. John Howell visited her mother, Mrs. John Bostic, Saturday, who is very ill at her home near Beelerston.

Miss Elizabeth Craddock, who is attending school in Clinton, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Craddock.

School reopened Monday morning after being closed for about two weeks on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Claud Howell.

PIONEER CITIZEN OF HICKMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Sarah Moore, 73, a pioneer citizen of Hickman, died at her home here Saturday of asthma and influenza. Mrs. Moore had lived all her life in Hickman and for many years had been a member of the First Methodist church. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Maud Smotherman, of Blytheville, Ark.; Mrs. B. E. Cheate, and Miss Lide Moore of Hickman; two sons, John Moore of Minneapolis, Minn.; and Rube Moore, of Hickman, and one brother, John Perry of New Orleans. The funeral was held at the home Sunday afternoon with services by Rev. R. P. Duckworth and burial in the city cemetery.

Water Valley, Ky. (Route 1)

Sunday was a rather blue day for this community for so many people were sick with flu. No one hardly able to go anywhere.

Water Valley school began last Wednesday week, but did not have a full school on account of flu.

Miss Marget Wilson spent Sunday with Miss Thelma Wilson.

Miss Ruby Kobey returned to school Monday morning after a few days of illness.

Mrs. Lon Morgan spent Saturday with Mrs. Chesley Lee.

J. M. Sexton, Murray, Dies

Was Confederate Veteran, 91 Years Old, Victim of Pneumonia.

Murray, Ky., Jan. 14—Death claimed another of Murray's well known and aged citizens Sunday morning when J. M. Sexton, Confederate veteran, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Victoria Martin, who resides at 5th and Olive streets, following an illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Sexton had reached the age of 91 years. Until 7 years ago he was a resident of Stewart county, Tenn. Since that time he had resided on South Eighth street here, last summer, when death claimed his wife. He had been making his home with his daughter for the last few months.

He is survived by two sons, Bert and J. O. Sexton, hardware merchants of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. Victoria Martin and Mrs. E. E. Douglass, of Lynn Grove, Misses Ruth, Francis, Jane and Elizabeth Sexton and Charles Sexton, Miss Katie Martin and Homer Martin are grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist church at 10:30 this morning by the Rev. C. E. Norman, Rev. L. L. Jones and the Rev. E. B. Motley.

The pallbearers were T. O. Turner, Charlie Hood, Luther Robertson, R. L. Williams, Ben Grogan and T. H. Stokes.

Burial was in the city cemetery.

Spaghetti — The Economy Of The Month

EXCELLENT brands of spaghetti are now selling occasionally three cans for twenty-five cents, and frequently for ten to twelve cents a can. Inasmuch as each can contains four generous servings, there is little economy in preparing the dish at home.

In addition to the saving of gas and the labor of preparing the spaghetti and sauce, at these prices the housewife saves practically the entire cost of the ingredients for a home-made tomato and cheese sauce. Furthermore, the canned spaghetti is invariably more tasty than the dish prepared at home, for few cooks have the art, the recipe or the patience to blend a perfect Italian sauce.

Sauce is Carefully Blended Large canners so jealously protect the flavor of their famous spaghetti sauce formulas that they actually grow the seeds for the plants which supply the tomatoes for the sauce. Cheese and spice ingredients are selected and the sauce is blended with similar care.

Serve spaghetti just as it comes from the can, or try this delicious and attractive spaghetti combination meal.

Spaghetti in Cabbage Nest: Hollow out the center of a large cabbage, and cook cabbage in boiling salted water, just until tender. Remove carefully, and arrange on a serving platter. Fill center with hot canned spaghetti, and garnish the top and sides with broiled bacon. Or the cabbage may be boiled as usual, drained and put into a serving dish, and the spaghetti and bacon piled on top.

JOHN EARLE, CHEVROLET DEALER, ATTENDS LOUISVILLE MEETING

Chevrolet Motor Company has established as its 1929 production quota 1,250,000 passenger car and truck units, according to J. G. Earle, who has just returned from Louisville, where he was in conference with factory and zone sales executives.

Mr. Earle was enthusiastic in his comment on the meeting which drew into Louisville 500 dealers from Kentucky and Southern Indiana. The dealers convened at the Knights of Columbus Auditorium Monday afternoon, where they witnessed the most unique sales meeting ever sponsored by any company in the industry. Following the meeting there was a banquet at the Brown Hotel, featured by an elaborate display of entertainment.

At the afternoon meeting, Mr. Earle said, he heard from the lips of M. D. Douglas, Assistant General Sales Manager, the most inspirational sales discussion he has ever heard since he entered the automobile business. Mr. Douglas, according to Mr. Earle, made the unqualified prediction that not only would Chevrolet build 1,250,000 automobiles during the present year, but that the cars would be sold as quickly as they were produced. Last year, according to Mr. Douglas, Chevrolet sustained its position as the world's largest automobile manufacturer with a production of 1,200,000 automobiles.

The Louisville gathering which Mr. Earle attended is one of a series of 40 such meetings which Chevrolet is conducting throughout the country during the next six weeks. No large center in the country has been overlooked on the itineraries which take three crews of ranking factory executives to every section in a complete coverage of the country.

BACKFIRES BY SPARK PLUG

It is estimated that the cost of street and highway accidents in the United States represents an economic loss of about $2,000,000 daily.

More than 27,000 persons were killed in the United States in auto accidents during 1922. In two years that will be as many as the A. E. F. lost in the World War. Yet we are striving to outlaw war and doing little to stop the "Killer of the Highways."

A mother's sorrow on the loss of her son "over there" is no less than her sorrow over the loss of her child "over here." An orphan child's tears are just as real over the loss of a father killed here as they were over his falling in the trenches in France.

We protect our citizens abroad with the full power of the army and navy. We neglect them at home.

Accidents will happen. The human element enters into them. But their number can be materially lessened by law officials and the public co-operating.

An analysis of the gasoline taxes paid by motorists in the 48 states and the District of Columbia in 1928 shows the average tax was 3.2 cents per gallon. During the year the gasoline tax was increased in 23 states, while in two states,

New Jersey and Illinois, gasoline taxes were levied for the first time. In Illinois the tax was discontinued on February 25, after it had been declared unconstitutional by the Illinois supreme court. But two states now remain in the gasoline tax-free column, these being Massachusetts and New York, with the added exception of Illinois at the present time. Massachusetts will have a gas tax this year, it is reported.

BOLIN-MANSFIELD

Mr. Robert L. Bolin and Miss Rheudelle Mansfield were united in marriage Sunday afternoon in Union City, Rev. Mr. Hicks officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mansfield of this city, and is loved and admired by a large circle of friends who will wish her happiness in her married life.

The groom is a young business man of Clinton, Ky., and is quite popular in business and social circles, and will receive the good wishes of many friends on winning the heart and hand of the fair young bride. After the ceremony they motored to Clinton and spent the night with the groom's relatives, returning to Fulton Monday afternoon to visit the bride's parents. They will make their home in Clinton where the groom is engaged in the grocery business.

CHICAGOANS DEMAND END OF MILK STRIKE

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Wanton waste of milk, with the attendant possibility of a shortage of the previous fluid, brought residents of Chicago together today in an effort to end the strike of Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana dairymen.

Following discovery of kerosene in some of the milk shipped into the city, inspectors were assigned by Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegal to guard against further pollution.

Highway patrolmen were assigned to guard receiving plants of the larger producers to prevent further violence to farmers attempting to deliver milk and the Lake County circuit court at Waukegan issued a temporary injunction against the strikers.

Federal action seemed imminent, inasmuch as the interstate shipments of milk were involved. George E. Q. Johnson, United States district attorney, announced he was ready to act if any complaints were made to him.

Mayor Thompson came to the fore with the information that he opposed the increase of 35 cents per hundred weight, asked by the farmers, members of the Pure Milk Association. He said it would cost Chicago residents $5,475,000 additional each year.

More than 1,000,000 pounds of milk have been destroyed since the strike started three weeks ago when the larger distributors, such as the Bowman Dairy Company, and the Borden Dairy Company refused to meet the new price asked, $2.85. It was the Bowman Company which filed the petition for injunction at Waukegan.

It appeared like that the Indiana farmers and dealers would get more.

POULTRY

POINTS MARKING PROFITABLE HENS

Characters that mark the best producing hens are most in evidence during the fall of the year.

Hens molting during July, August, or September, are poor layers as a rule. Early molters are slow molters, their production period being of only short duration. The late molter is a quick molter; she has a long period of production.

A hen to lay well must have a sound body. The first consideration, then, must be vigor and health.

Good layers of yellow-shanked breeds usually show well-faded beaks, legs, and toes at this time of year; while the poor layer will have the yellow beak and shanks.

The laying hen has good width of back and depth of body, and a large abdominal region. The skin is soft and pliable; the vent large and moist. The pelvic bones are spread well apart and are thin and pliable. There is usually three or four finger widths between the pelvic bones and the end of the keel bone. The hen that has stopped laying will show a collection of fat in the abdominal region. The skin will lack pliability and the pelvic bones will show but very little space between them.

When laying, or getting ready to lay, the comb and wattles are well developed and bright red. When not laying the comb and wattles shrink and become covered with a white scale.

Hens of the heavier breeds that persist in broodiness should be culled. Mark the broody hen with a colored leg band every time she is found broody. Cull all those that become broody more than once. Always cull a broody hen of the lighter breeds.

O. C. Uford, Assistant Professor in Animal Husbandry, Colorado Agricultural College.

Plenty of Green Feed for Hens Is Important

The importance of plenty of green feed for hens has long been known and appreciated, but the average farmer who keeps perhaps 100 hens has been slow to make much of an effort to provide anything like an adequate supply for his hens during the winter months. The poultry experts at Ohio state experiment station, realizing that a regular supply of green feed is difficult to obtain, at least for a great many farmers, set out to find a substitute.

Alfalfa, red clover, and soy bean hay were tested out and all gave excellent results. Almost every farmer can easily provide some one of these feeds for his hens, and he will find it greatly to his advantage to do so. The hay should be cut green and well cured, and it will be palatable to the hens only if it retains its green color.

The hens will eat more of it if the hay is cut into short lengths, but they will eat a large amount of uncut hay. It has been customary on some farms to feed the leafy scatterings of alfalfa and clover hays that accumulate on the barn floor, indicating that some people have appreciated the value of this feed for a long time.

Poultry Notes

Keep the ventilator at work so that the air will be fresh and pure.

Gather the eggs often and do not let freeze. Market at least once a week during the cold months.

Success in getting a good egg yield depends to a great extent upon the proper selection of the laying stock.

You simply cannot make a first-class meat fowl out of a Leghorn any more than you can produce beef that will top the market from a dairy cow. Leghorns, as a rule, have to be sold to a cheap trade.

If any birds in the flock develop colds, put as much potassium permanganate as will remain on the surface of a dime into a gallon of water and keep this mixture in their drinking water for several days.

Have plenty of ventilation in the poultry houses and let as much sunlight in as is possible, but do not allow drafts to exist.

Put aside a few bales of fourth-cutting alfalfa for the hens to pick at this winter. Do not bother to remove the wires as there will be less waste if bales remain tied.

Fortunately, feeds such as milk, mash, green food and minerals, that produce winter eggs, also help in producing good hatching eggs.

During the winter the hens will need a larger proportion of grain because some of it must be used for body heat.

Sodium fluoride is safe to use on hens to kill lice and seems to be the most generally recommended of all the louse-killing materials.

Lime builds bones, and one glass of milk contains as much lime as a loaf and a half of white bread, or nine potatoes, or five and one-third pounds of beef, or eight eggs.

Picturesque
Not Very Practical

NOWADAYS, we would look upon the town lamp lighter and the flickering street lamp as picturesque objects . . . Our streets are efficiently lighted with electricity.

There is no record that the lamp lighter considered himself or his job picturesque—especially on blustery winter evenings . . . Nor did our grandparents see anything picturesque in the poorly lighted streets of their childhood and youthful days.

For the well lighted streets of our cities and towns today we can thank the inventive genius of Thomas Edison and others and the enterprise of electric power companies which have made immediate use of every stage in the development of electrical science.

"What's YOUR TELEPHONE NUMBER?"

Haven't you noticed that nowadays, whether you open a bank account, apply for credit, seek a new position, or merely meet a friend on the street—the question is almost asked, "What's your telephone number?"

If you are forced to answer, "I haven't a telephone," you are virtually shutting out many opportunities that would bring you both profit and pleasure. That's one reason why most persons, anxious to maintain social and business contacts, regard telephone service a modern necessity.

Telephone service is so inexpensive that it is available to almost everyone. Any telephone worker will gladly quote rates and take your order.

Home Pride Comes First.

"You'll live in the same place you always did?" we asked a man the other day as we walked up the street with him.

"Yes, in the same old hole," he replied.

The answer was typical of the man. He called home a "hole" and in was a "hole" because he could see nothing else in it.

It has always been a "hole" to him and probably always will be because he hasn't vision enough to see its possibilities.

There are not many people like this in Fulton, but there are far more than there should be, simply because they have taken the wrong view of life and their job.

They represent a type who doubtless have suffered some disappointment, some fancied wrong, and they have brooded over it until everything looks dark. They fail to see a bright spot any place in the future.

Home and all that it means depends upon the viewpoint. If we get the proper perspective, home is something more than a "hole" and we take a just pride in making it respectable.

A humble home may be made just as attractive as a home on which money is lavished. It may be beautiful in the exact degree to which we give time and thought to it.

Pride in our community, our county, state and nation begins with home pride and those who take a justifiable pride in the place they live cannot but day as good citizens.

The People's Business

Some figures have been announced by the Postmaster General with reference to the use of the mails by the people of the country during the month of December, which show vividly how universally they employ the postal service for their business and personal communications. During the month the sum of $73,500,000 was spent for postage stamps an increase of $3,500,000 over the same period last year. The mails in December required 42,646 railway mail cars for transportation, an increase of 1,043 cars over the number used the year before.

A two-cent stamp is a trifle, a little rectangle of printed paper, gummed on one side. It is more however, than a mere piece of printing. It is a contract for a service which the Government alone renders and which is given at cost. That contract is one of the achievements of security. It is an assurance against loss and of American administration. It is a guarantee against disclosure. Letters are lost, but rarely through the fault of the postal system. They may be misdirected or the address so badly written that delivery is impossible, and then they go to the postal morgue, the "dead letter office," where they are held a long time before destruction.

Millions of letters are moved each year with speed and delivered with precision. A wonderful system has been evolved for the discharge of this duty which the Government undertakes at the behest of the purchaser of a stamp. A great force of men and women is engaged, selected according to a high standard of efficiency and trustworthiness.

Now and then the mails are robbed by bandits seeking valuables. Most of that loot is recovered. The thieves are pursued implacably for these crimes are committed against the whole people of the country.

The big investments in stamps for December has a special meaning, for it compasses not only the ordinary business of the people, but shows the annual exchange of greetings and gifts, denoting an expression of prosperity and good will.

A Popular Winter Game.

Basketball is a great sport and it is not difficult to understand why it has gripped the interest of the people as it has.

Basketball has all the elements of uncertainty, which is its principal reason for its popularity. Like the great American game of base ball, it is a sport wherein "dark horses" are liable to upset strong contenders any time.

Basketball is typically a high school sport and one that is not likely to become tainted by professionalism.

It appeals to the love of good sportsmanship inherent in the true American boy. It is a game of games for red-blooded youth where courage, stamina, a strong body and the correct mental attitude count.

Basketball upholds the highest ideals of American sportsmanship. It teaches boys who play never to take unfair advantage.

There are what the rules define as fouls, but the vast majority of them are unintentional. Players assist their opponents when they happen to be knocked to the floor and are with few exceptions solicitous for their welfare.

In fact, they set an example that might be well followed by some over-enthusiastic supporters of some of the teams.

Arranging Nests for Easy Cleaning Is Best Plan

Arrange nests for the hens and the new pullets as soon as possible. It is best they become accustomed to this equipment so that they are not afraid of it later on. If possible, build the nests in a long row, using a 12-inch board for the base, and square sections of same for partitions. Fasten together with hooks like screen door hooks, so the whole structure will come apart for thorough cleaning. This is infinitely better than nailing up a few old boxes, and expecting the hens to use them.

Hens prefer dark nests, and if given choice between a dark nest and a light nest, will almost always avoid the light. It is convenient, also, if you can arrange the nests along the wall, so that the eggs can be taken up without going into the scratching area. This is convenient, and avoids disturbing the chickens.

Attend to Ventilation

Those who expect any great number of winter eggs from old hens are doomed to disappointment unless they have especially favorable conditions such as electric lights. Old hens will molt. The poor layers start shedding in June while the best hens may not do so until late in the fall. And once in a while there is a hen that does not molt until December.

One must depend upon the pullet flock for satisfactory early winter egg production.

Blood Spots in Eggs

Blood spots in eggs are due to various causes, and often are not serious so far as the flock is concerned. Such spots are found quite commonly in eggs from commercial flocks, and unless in unusual numbers call for no change in management. If they do appear in larger numbers, examination of the ration to find whether there is not something wrong with it is recommended. The cause is sometimes feeding condimental foods such as pepper.

CHICAGO FACES MILK SHORTAGE

Dairymen of Three States Strike When They Fail to Get Increase

Chicago, Jan. 21.—With striking dairymen throwing up an effective blockade against importation of milk into the Chicago area and further reports of violence, Gov. Louis L. Emmerson tonight moved to bring about a settlement of the controversy between the producers and distributors.

The governor said he would do all in his power to effect a settlement and plans to confer at Springfield tomorrow with a representative of the producers to work out an arbitration program.

The announcement followed further reports of violence. Farmers picketing the highway of Kane and McHenry counties, slugged Abel Gifford, of Bartlett, Ill., poured some of the milk from his truck over him and dumped the remainder into a ditch.

At Burlington, Wis., a Chicago-bound truck, carrying 11,000 pounds of milk was seized by a party of farmers and destroyed.

Waukegan, Ill., Jan. 21.—Militant dairy farmers waylaid two Soo Line trains at Lake Villa station, 15 miles west of here tonight and dumped the contents of two cars of milk onto the track.

Sixty cans of milk were taken from a late afternoon train bound for Chicago, and at 8:45 p. m. the strikers boarded a second milk train, emptied two tank cars and tossed out all the milk they found in three refrigerator cars.

POULTRY NEWS

(By J. T. Watkins.)

I had the pleasure of attending two first class shows the past week, and when I say they were first class I mean they were above the average. The Memphis National was held in the auditorium of Bry's big department store at Memphis, and had large crowds all day long. There were several large entries of the most popular breeds, with the usual run of off breeds. White Wyandotte, White Leghorn, Barred Rocks, Rhode Island Reds were the dominating breeds, and each class had wonderful entries. The champion cock of the show was a white Wyandotte, while a White Leghorn hen carried away the honors for females.

The Illinois State show held at Carbondale was also above the average and was full of wonderful birds. The largest entries were Barred Rocks, White Wyandotte, White Leghorn, Rhode Island Red, Buff Orpington, and Jersey Giants. There were about one thousand birds entered in each show, and that is a mark I have set for the Fulton show. With the exception of the Carbondale and the two Memphis shows Fulton had the largest show within a radius of one hundred miles, I know, for I went to them all, and counted the birds in the coops.

There was one very fine feature held at the Carbondale show which I enjoyed very much it was the moving pictures. I gathered some information which I am going to pass along.

The poultry industry of the United States was valued last year at $1,047,000,000.

It is double the value of the combined sweet potato and Irish potato crop.

It was 12 times the value of the entire wool crop.

It was greater than the value of all the cattle raised for the same period.

It was nine-tenths the value of all swine.

It was seven times greater than all sheep.

It was six times the value of all horses and mules.

It was four times the value of all garden crops combined.

It was double the value of the entire cotton products.

It was five times greater than the entire apple crop.

It was three-fifths the value of the entire fruit crop.

It was one-half the value of the entire corn crop. It exceeded the value of the wheat crop by over $300,000,000.

Now then, do you blame the roosters for crowing; they have something to crow about. And the best part of this story is the poultry industry is not one-tenth of what it should be. In other words the surface is just scratched over. There is big money to be made in the next few years from chickens, and I want to be just pertinent enough to ask you this question: "Are you going to get yours; if not, why not?"

I noticed in my yard the other day the grass is beginning to come up, and some of the early flowers have ventured to stick their heads above the ground, which all means that it is not very long now until the Fulton show, and I have begun to have the fever, and I hope that enough of you readers will catch enough of the fever and that it will affect you as bad as the flu did this past month, so that you will all come in strong at the fair, and we will have that thousand bird entry. Here's hoping.

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stallions and Jessie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Stallions of Fulton. Mr. W. B. Stallions, Willie, Irene and Lottie Stallions and Lester Parks, of Memphis, were also there.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jeffress and Louise spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Harrison and family.

Rev. Joe Gardener filled his regular appointments at Union Sunday. As the roads were bad, there were not so many present as usual.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY

On last Monday, January 16, little Miss Ruth Clifton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Clifton, of Beelerton, was very much surprised upon going home from school at noon, to find that in some mysterious manner her teacher and all her school mates had reached her home before she did, and were there to help her celebrate her sixth birthday. She also found a table loaded with packages, which proved upon opening them, to be presents from her little friends.

The next thing to delight the children was a bountifully laden dinner table, with a big birthday cake in the middle on which was written Ruth's name and age. After a very delightful dinner and a short time spent in games, the guests regretfully took their leave, all assuring Ruth and Mr. and Mrs. Clifton of the splendid time that they had had.

Route 4, Fulton Ky.

Mrs. J. T. Murchison, of Beelerton, spent last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Watkins were the Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Haynes, near Moscow.

Mrs. J. A. Eskew attended the funeral and burial of her sister, Mrs. Kate Jackson, at Mt. Moriah, Thursday.

The flu epidemic seems to be on the wane here. There have been no new cases in the last week, and most of the others are recovering or improving.

Mrs. Carl Phillips and children, James and Wilmar, returned home Saturday, after spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Moore.

Mr. Raymond Presley happened to quite a painful accident Saturday night. In some way he slipped and fell from the hayloft of the barn, thus suffering a dislocation of the shoulder. A physician was called and later he was taken to Fulton where an X-ray was made the necessary surgical aid rendered.

Hickman News

At the last regular meeting of the Lions club of Hickman it was voted that the club aid the farm work in this section by means of committees who will help thresh out some of the many problems now confronting the farmers, such as more extensive truck farming, and an assured market for the products of same, more canning to be done at the local canning plant, and any other problems brought up by County Agent H. A. McPherson, and Miss Jackson, county home agent.

A committee composed of W. C. Reed, John Pyle, W. A. Johnston, Father Gettlefinger, and E. Dobson, was appointed to work with the Fulton county farm improvement association in obtaining new members and pushing the work of the county and home agents.

Two Hundred Twenty Miles of eggs

New York City eats over 7 million eggs a day. Place them end to end and you would have a row of eggs 220 miles long. One hundred million dollars is a conservative estimate of what New York pays for poultry and eggs in a year.

And yet, of the 42 carloads of poultry unloaded in the city of New York during the week ending Oct. 30, only one car showed up from the South, and it was from Oklahoma. Pretty much the same thing was true of the rest of the several thousand cars that were unloaded in New York last year. California and the Middle Western states are not only supplying New York, but they are also shipping many millions of dollars' worth of poultry products into the South.

The South is the ideal section of the country for poultry raising. Soil and climatic conditions are as nearly perfect as could be expected and, no matter how rapid the progress, it will be a long time before the South raises enough poultry to supply home markets. New Orleans alone consumes over $6,000,000 worth of poultry products annually—easily half the present output of Louisiana.

There is plenty of room and abundant opportunity in the South for commercial poultry raising but we must grow into the business instead of plunging into it. Every Southern farmer can profitable keep from 100 to 500 chickens. 100 good, intelligent farmers in any one community, keeping 500 good hens each, will have a carload of eggs to sell every week.

By far the bulk of our poultry products comes from farms where poultry is one of the several side-lines that insure a steady year-around income regardless of how major crops turn out. Side-line poultry raising in Rockingham County, Virginia, is turning out poultry products with an annual value of more than $3,000,000. It is the result of concerted effort to get a flock, averaging about 200 fowls, on every farm and to make it just as good a flock as possible.

J. E. Hoyle, of Burke County, North Carolina, made a profit of $600 last year from his flock of 450 hens. Mrs. Nat Williams, of Greene county, Tenn., says she cleared more from her turkeys alone last year than her husband did from his 300-acre farm. Miss Emmie Hammond, of Oktibeha county, Miss., keeps an average of 300 hens. They paid her a profit of $2.35 per hen for the year 1927. Her chickens and 12 milk cows have paid for 180 acres of land which were bought six years ago at a cost of $3,600.

The beauty about raising poultry is that it is never too late to start. J. M. Buckalew, who lives near Guntersville, Ala., celebrated his 64th birthday more than 4 years ago. He felt that he was too old to do hard work but he wanted to keep busy and earn something, so he started into the poultry business. He has made it pay its own way and now has a poultry plant that brings him a good return and for which he has been offered $3,000,000.

"Kissing Aids Diphtheria," says a noted medical authority, all of which leads us to believe that diphtheria has an advantage that will be hard to overcome.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. H. FEEWATER, D.D., Dean Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Ed. 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for January 27

THE HOLY SPIRIT

LESSON TEXTS—John 16:7-11; Romans 8:12-14, 26-27.

GOLDEN TEXT—For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, these are sons of God.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Our Unseen Helper.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Our Unseen Helper.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How the Holy Spirit Helps Us.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Work of the Holy Spirit.

I. The Personality of the Spirit (John 16:7, 8).

Personality is here implied by the use of the personal pronoun. In the original Scriptures personal pronouns are used uniformly in speaking of the Spirit. Then, too, He is called the Comforter. The word "comforter" literally means one called to stand by the side of another as a helper, counselor and guide. While Jesus sojourning in the world He was such to His disciples. He assured them that upon His withdrawal the Holy Spirit would take His place as friend, helper and counselor. The personality of the Spirit is also proved by the fact that He performs acts only possible to persons. In John 14:26 He performs the function of a teacher. He not only teaches, but He speaks as a person, giving direction to the disciples as in Acts 8:29 and 13:2. His personality is again proved by the fact that men act toward Him as they could act only toward a person. In Isaiah 63:10 the prophet declared that men vexed the Holy Spirit. It would be manifestly improper to speak of vexing an influence; only a person can be vexed. In Matthew 12:31 Jesus speaks of men blaspheming against the Holy Spirit. It would be impossible to blaspheme against an influence. In Ephesians 4:30 Paul speaks of grieving the Spirit. Again, it would be manifestly improper to speak of grieving an influence. Further, in 1 Corinthians 12:11 Paul speaks of the Holy Spirit exercising the function of will. One of the essential characteristics of personality is that of volition. The Holy Spirit is represented as divine. He has the attributes of deity. In Psalm 133:7-9 He is declared to be omnipresent; in 1 Corinthians 2:9-11 omniscient. He also performs the works of God. He is the creator and renewer (1st Cor. 10:1-30). He is called God in Acts 5:3-9, and 11 Corinthians 3:18.

II. How Believers are Related to the Holy Spirit. They are regenerated by Him (John 3:5-8); they are indwelt by Him (1 Cor. 6:19 Gal. 4:6). He also fills (Eph. 5:18 and Acts 4:31). To be filled with the Holy Spirit is the duty of every believer. No one has the right to perform any work for Christ without this filling (Luke 24:48, 49; Acts 1:8). Even the temporalities of the church should be in the hands of Spirit-filled men (Acts 6:1-3).

III. What the Holy Spirit Does (John 16:8-11).

1. He convicts the world of sin (v. 8). The one great sin of the world is unbelief. The Holy Spirit convicts the people of the world of their error concerning sin and shows their guilt before God.

2. He convicts the world of righteousness (v. 10). The resurrection and ascension of Christ prove that He is the Righteous One, and that righteousness is only possible as He is accepted as Savior.

3. He convicts the world of judgment. To be convinced of the reality of judgment is the crying need of the world today. Sin unatoned for shall be punished. The sinner who refuses the righteousness which God provided in Jesus Christ also shall be judged.

4. The Spirit mortifies the deeds of the flesh (Rom. 8:12, 13). The only way to get the victory over our carnal natures is to give the place of rulership to the Holy Spirit.

5. He leads the believer (v. 13). The Spirit-filled believer lives the life of the Son of God.

6. He gives assurance to the believer (Rom. 8:15-17). The Holy Spirit witnesses together with the human spirit to the reality of the new birth.

7. He enables the believer to pray according to the will of God (Rom. 8:26, 27). While the believer does not know how to pray as he ought, the Holy Spirit helpeth his infirmity. All prayer which the Holy Spirit indites the Heavenly Father answers.

FOOD LIKE YOU GET AT HOME
This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat. Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals. The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.

Route 5 News

There is just one topic of conversation in this community just now. "Flu," nearly every family has its victims, sometimes entire families are down with it. Myself, a daughter and son, Mr. Sid Moore's family, except Mrs. Moore and two daughters, Mrs. Walter Parmenter, Tilman Oliver's family, Mr. Coffman and Mrs. Coffman's mother, Mrs. McDade, Mrs. Irene Yates, Mr. and Mrs. Meakin Nanney, Mr. Ben Nanney, Montez Milam, Mr. Fred Thomas, Mrs. Roach and children, Mr. Jim Kingston's family.

L. C. Parham has been very low with pneumonia, following flu at the home of his uncle, Mr. Lon Watts. He is now improving. I hope the epidemic is most over, for there seems to be a general improvement.

Lloyd Watts arrived in Fulton Wednesday with the body of his little daughter, who died Monday morning at a hospital in Detroit, of pneumonia, following flu. His wife and two other children were just recovering and were not able to make the trip home. The body was taken to the home of his brother, Roy Watts, to await arrangements for burial, Thursday.

Notwithstanding so much sickness many changes have taken place in this community. Mr. Subbery has moved to Mr. Meakin Nanney's place; Mr. Griffin to the Tilman Oliver place; Mr. A. J. Butts to the Butts home vacated by the Griffins; Mr. Oliver to the Caldwell farm, which he has recently bought; Mr. Caldwell to Calloway county; Mr. King Henderson to the Ridgway place; Dewey Hagg to the Bert Conner place.

Schools have opened up with fair attendance.

Mrs. Mack Ladd is very ill at present.

Uncle Bill Burke is sick with the flu.

"Welfare Workers" will meet at the home of Mrs. B. A. Golden Thursday, February 7th; should the weather prevent they will meet the following Thursday.

NOTICE

FROM CITY TREASURER

WHEREAS, the Board of Council of the city of Fulton, Kentucky, has by ordinance adopted on January 11, 1929, and published in the issue of the Fulton Advertiser of said city of date January 18, 1929, assessed and levied local taxes against the property abutting on certain streets and parts of streets in said city, known as Improvement District Number Three, improved under an ordinance of said city adopted June 29, 1928, entitled "An ordinance providing for the improvement, construction and reconstruction of certain streets and parts of streets, including curbing and guttering, in the city of Fulton, Kentucky";

THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all persons upon whose property said local taxes have been assessed and levied shall pay same in cash without interest within thirty days from January 18, 1929, or, at their option, they may pay same in ten annual installments as follows: One-tenth of the tax, with interest on the entire tax, at the time fixed by law for the payment of general city taxes occurring next after the expiration of the thirty days allowed for payment in cash, and annually thereafter one-tenth of the entire tax, until the whole is paid; at the end of each six months from the time the first installment of the tax becomes due interest shall be due and payable for such six months on all unpaid installments of the tax, provided that any person may, at any interest-paying period after the fifth annual installment of his tax becomes due, pay the entire assessment of tax against his property with accrued interest.

However, any property owner who desires to exercise such privilege of payment by installments shall before the expiration of the said thirty days allowed for payment in cash enter into an agreement in writing with said city, and filed with the City Treasurer, that in consideration of such privilege he will make no objection to any illegality or irregularity in his property, and that he will pay the same in the manner herein set forth with specified interest. Forms for such agreement may be obtained from the City Treasurer or City Clerk of said city.

In all cases where such agreements have not been filed with the City Treasurer within the time limit of thirty days allowed for payment in cash, the entire tax shall be payable in cash without interest before the expiration of said thirty days; and such tax not paid within said thirty days shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum from January 18, 1929.

This January 18, 1929.
GEO. T. BEADLES,
City Treasurer.

WOULD BAR HOOVER

Herbert Hoover will not take his seat as President of the United States if Gustave F. Ebbing of Cleveland has his way. Ebbing has filed a suit with a view to barring Hoover from the office on the ground that he had not resided in the United States for the required length of time before his election.

It appears that Mr. Ebbing has some other ideas not shared by people generally; for example, he has written extensively in an effort to prove that the world is flat.

Probably Mr. Hoover is worrying less about Ebbing's contention than he is about how to satisfy deserving Republicans who will shortly line up at the political pie counter.
