THE LISTENING POST

● I wonder sometimes if I am not a cross-grained, cantankerous old sour-puss, for I am always finding myself completely out of step with everybody else. At that, I am rather like a mother I once heard of. She had a son who had just joined the army and saw her son about the middle of a marching column, slouching along in a haphazard manner, completely out of step with the entire column. She looked at him fondly and said: "Just look there; everybody is all out of step except my boy."

● Reason for this wierd beginning is the fact that I get all tired out of Christmas before Christmas really comes. Already I am tired of the Christmas lights which are strung up over the town, and if I had my way I would put the lights up the day before Christmas Eve and take them down the day after Christmas. At my own home I always dread to see the Christmas tree go up, for I know it will remain there until after New Year's. That is the family custom--while my personal desire is to do away with Christmas on December 26 and forget it. Understand, I am not trying to tell anybody that things should be this way. No, I am merely stating my own feelings and beliefs, and because of this belief and feeling I have decided that I could play the part of Old Scrooge quite well.

● However, the business of making the Christmas season much longer has advanced so rapidly that it really lasts more than a month. For commercial reasons, I imagine this is an advantage, but it does get on my nerves. I heard an interesting yarn in this connection some time ago.

● Joe Bennett, Sr., who has been running a drug store here for so many years that he has seen and experienced all emotions, spent Thanksgiving with his daughter in Vicksburg, Miss. He spent the first Thanksgiving, which came on November 21, more than a month before Christmas. When he left here he had done nothing about putting out his Christmas goods, for it was yet a full month before the holiday. He arrived in Vicksburg on Thanksgiving morning, and at once visited his son-in-law's drug store there. (Of course, everybody remembers good old bald-headed McGee, who was with Mr. Bennett for so many years.)

● When Mr. Bennett walked into the McGee store he was disturbed to see that Mc had put out his Christmas goods and was selling them right along. Mc says that Mr. Bennett had no more pleasure in his visit, for he was worrying over the fact that back in Fulton the Bennett store was not displaying Christmas goods. At one time he toyed with the idea of wiring young Joe to put the Christmas goods out that very day; again he wanted to fly back home on a plane in order to begin selling. But he stuck it out and came on home the regular way, and the first morning he was back in the store I dropped in there and the entire force was busy setting out the Christmas goods and getting ready for the annual sale of such merchandise.

● Mr. Bennett spoke of the matter. "I guess that before many more years we will be putting out our Christmas goods the day after the Fourth of July, and perhaps in another hundred years we will sell at one Christmas for the next Christmas. Anyhow, I saw down there in Vicksburg that I had lost a week or more of the Christmas trade and I don't intend to get caught that way again."

● Yet, with all this speeding up, there will always be the late shoppers. The final Saturday before Christmas will see dozens of harried looking men and women making the rounds, wearing a puzzled look and trying to select a dozen pres-

British Loan Dispute Awaits FDR's Return

Jones Says Congress Must Approve Any Advances By R. F. C.

Washington. --The next turn in the controversy over loans to Great Britain tonight awaited President Roosevelt's return to Washington with differences of opinion apparently developing meanwhile on the question whether such an extension of credit should first have the approval of Congress.

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce and federal loan administrator, said flatly during the day that no money could be advanced from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation without first obtaining congressional consent. The neutrality act stands in the way, he said. Many in Washington had interpreted that law, however, as forbidding only private financiers to make loans to belligerents.

Funds Seen As Sources Both the RFC and the treasury's stabilization fund had been regarded as potential sources of loans to Britain if they are to be made.

In the case of the latter, however, secretary Morgenthau, the controlling official, has promised Congress that no advances would be made to a belligerent country unless approved in advance by the Senate and House banking committees. Such approval was obtained recently for a loan to China but important figures in the Senate have since challenged the legality of an advance made made on such a basis.

FDR Favors Loans?

Most informed Washingtonians believe that in the light of the record, Mr. Roosevelt is favorably inclined toward lending funds to Britain if she needs them.

The day brought announcement of two foreign loans, but not to belligerents. Jones said that $60,000,000 would go to Argentina (erasing and replacing a previous $20,000,000 credit) and $7,500,000 to Uruguay (similarly absorbing a previous advance of $4,000,000).

Bates Urges U. S. Swap Destroyers For Alaska Road

Washington. --Representative Bates (D., Ky.), proposed to the State Department Wednesday that negotiations be started for the lease of United States destroyers to Canada in exchange for road rights through Canada to Alaska.

In a letter to Secretary Hull Bates suggested Canada willingly would grant defense road rights to Alaska in exchange for the use of United States destroyers for convoy duty, with the understanding that the destroyers be returned to this country at the end of the war.

"I think," Bates said, "such a transaction would be mutually beneficial to the two nations."

First Two Spies Of War Are Hanged By Britain

London. --Britain hanged two German spies in gloomy, century-old Pentonville Prison Tuesday in her first executions for espionage in the war.

The two Nazis, 25-year-old Josef Waldberg and 24-year-old Karl Meier, were convicted under the treachery act November 23 in a civil trial at the Central Criminal Court. Its penalty is death by hanging.

Had they been convicted by a court-martial they would have died before a firing squad. The charge was that they had erected a radio transmitter by night in secluded spots in the countryside. The court was told that their apparatus--entirely of German manufacture--was ex-

No Letters, Huh! Soldier Gets Plenty Now

Hattiesburg, Miss. --Chapter two: Military life of Pvt. Clifford Brennerman, first cook, headquarters battery, 135 Field Artillery at Camp Shelby:

A recent newspaper story conveyed the information that Private Brennerman had not received a single piece of mail, not even a bill, since he arrived at camp.

Five days later when the battery formed for mess the Top Sergeant found six letters for Brennerman.

Since then Private Brennerman has received seventy-five letters, a box of cigars, a carton of cigarettes and three invitations for visits during the Christmas holidays.

Private Brennerman spends his evenings replying.

Nye And Capper Plan To Fight For War Referendum Proposal

Washington. --Two Republican Senators--Nye of North Dakota and Capper of Kansas--declared today they would make a vigorous fight in the next session of Congress for enactment of war referendum legislation, but there were immediate indications such a move would encounter strong opposition. The legislation, opposed by President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull, would submit to the State for ratification a constitutional amendment providing that no troops could be sent outside the Western Hemisphere without a popular vote in favor of war. A similar resolution bogged down in a House committee last spring.

20 Sponsors Predicted Nye told reporters he hoped to get "a substantial number" of Senators to sign the legislation and Capper predicted more than twenty would sponsor it.

"Because of developments abroad and the Administration's handling of foreign policy, support for the referendum idea is increasing," Capper declared. "I don't think there is any doubt the constitutional amendment would be adopted if it were submitted. The people in the Midwest are overwhelmingly for it. It is the people who fight the wars. It is the people who pay for wars. It is the people who should decide if we are to have wars. There is nothing in the proposed referendum that would hinder immediate action in a war of self-defense."

Nye said he thought public opinion would force a showdown on the legislation. Senators Truman (D., Mo.), Johnson (D., Cal.), and Brooks (R., Ill.), expressed opposition on the grounds it would impede the Government in times of crisis and generally weaken its hand in foreign policies.

"I don't think the average citizen can become a diplomat, as bad as some of our diplomats have performed," Johnson said.

Jury Cuts Term While Correcting Verdict Form

Kansas City. --Because a jury changed its mind, William F. Taylor, 56, faces a two-year sentence instead of five in the Missouri penitentiary.

The jury convicted Taylor on a morals charge and recommended five years. Judge Ben Terte noticed the verdict was on a wrong form sheet, and sent the jury back to "re-copy this on a correct form."

Within five minutes the jury returned with the correct form completed, but the sentence cut to two years.

"We changed our minds," explained M. E. Burnley, foreman.

Officers Elected For Local Ball Club

K. P. Dalton was elected president of the Fulton Baseball Association at the meeting last night at the Rainbow room, this being his third year to serve at head of this organization. Other officers reelected were H. H. Bugg, vice president and Walter Evans, secretary and treasurer.

Five of the directors of last year were reelected. They are Bert Newhouse, F. A. Homra, K. R. Lowe, Bailey Huddleston, R. E. Sanford and Abe Jolley. Smith Atkins was elected to the board of directors, succeeding Dr. M. W. Haws.

A good crowd attended the meeting last night and plans for the 1941 season were discussed. Fulton's hook-up with Detroit was explained and Manager Zoeller of the Detroit Tigers sent word that he was as anxious as Fulton to get the local ball club out of 7th place, that Detroit has promised to give Fulton more and better help than they have for the past two seasons.

A committee made up of the president, vice president and secretary was appointed to contact different men for the manager's job for the coming season.

Quezon Says He Expected Election Setback

Manila. -- President Manuel Quezon said in a statement Wednesday he was not surprised at the victory of the opposition party in Manila's city election.

He had expected the people to "punish" Nacionalista councilmen he suspended some months ago because of alleged irregularities in electing a council president, he explained.

Unofficial returns showed the opposition had gained control of the council in Tuesday's election. Quezon is head of the Nacionalista Party.

CLAIMS BALDNESS IS HIS GREATEST BLESSING

Kansas City. --Charles T. Kornbroid, 80, claims baldness was his greatest blessing.

"It got me to America," he said. "I had lost most of my hair by the time I was 19 years old, at a time all young men of Germany had to sign up for three years in the army. I was rejected because I was bald. They said a soldier with no hair couldn't stand the work in the sun."

Ten Counties To Sue State For 2 Million In Road Aid

Pikeville, Ky. --Francis M. Burke, former assistant State's attorney general, disclosed Tuesday that he was representing ten counties he said would seek more than $2,000,000 from the State under provisions of the 1914 State aid law.

The aid law encouraged counties to approve bond issues for highway building, for which the State agreed to match funds.

Whitley County, represented by Burke, filed one suit against the State Monday in Circuit Court at Frankfort for $114,338.47 with interest since July 1, 1939, and the attorney said he expected the case to come to trial in January.

Burke asserted the State had paid some $11,000 of a total of $135,000 it was to have reimbursed the county for road and bridge building.

"The State paid some counties in full," he added, "but other counties today failed to press their claims, and there remain about fifteen counties which still have not received reimbursement from the State Highway Department."

Defaults On Bond Issues

Some years ago Whitley County defaulted on a bond issue it had approved for the road building and an attempt to straighten out this case is pending in the Federal Court at Lexington, Burke said.

He added he also was representing Rockcastle and Laurel Counties, but declined to discuss the cases because "we're not ready to let the Highway Department know about them. If they do, it will be a serious strengthening their claims."

Kentuckians Are Asked To Stop Epidemic

Heath School Closed As Disease Spreads In McCracken County

Louisville, Ky. --Dr. F. W. Caudill, state epidemiologist, appealed to Kentuckians today to prevent an influenza epidemic in the state.

Thus far "no unusual outbreaks of the disease" have been reported in any Kentucky county, he said. Dr. Edgar Reddick, McCracken county health director, reported a "mild type" of influenza had affected more than 300 of the 700 pupils of the combined grade and high school at Heath, Ky., causing officials to close the school and postpone a basketball game.

At Lone Oak, another McCracken county school, 160 pupils were reported affected by the disease. Several hundred cases of varying seriousness have been reported at Fort Knox but the number was not considered excessive by military authorities because of the large total of men concentrated there.

"Stay at home, preferably in bed, and away from well people," was Dr. Caudill's advice to anyone with a cold or with symptoms such as aching limbs or fever.

"Well people," he added, "should eat and drink moderately, get plenty of sleep and exercise in the open air whenever possible."

Army's Head Man Has Trifles, Too, To Dispose Of

New York. --If you think of the Secretary of War as simply the Army's head man, take a look at these "legislative trifles" which Assistant Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said Wednesday "are dropped into the Secretary's lap."

"These are some of the assorted duties of the Secretary of War during the present century," he said at the annual luncheon of the Columbia Law School. "Selection of a line officer as master of the sword at the United States Military Academy, erection of porter's lodges at National cemeteries, removal of cattle from the Indian country, authority to sell wrecks, drawing up of regulations for an increase in vegetable rations, provision of headstones for deceased soldiers buried in private cemeteries, loan of chairs for Confederate veterans' reunions."

"But a recital of this miscellany which could be extended indefinitely," he added, "should not blind us to the basic fact--that the chief duty of the Secretary of War is to serve as a living symbol of the fact that in the United States the civil authority controls the military authority."

Food Plight Of Britain Called "Grim"

London. — Britain's food situation was declared by Minister of Agriculture R. S. Hudson Wednesday to be "just as grim" as it was in the bleakest days of the World War when these islands came perilously close to starvation.

Hudson put this bleak picture before a farmers' meeting in a speech viewed by informed quarters principally as a pep talk. But the House of Lords, in debate on the same subject, heard declarations that the convoy system needed immediate overhauling to meet the Nazi threat to British shipping.

Says Navy's Talk Trebled "The situation today is just as grim as when Mr. Lloyd George (the World War Prime Minister) started his intensive food production campaign in 1917," Hudson told the farmers. "The Government is trying to adjust production so as to produce foodstuffs that will keep the people healthy as well as alive."

A brief business session was held, presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Eldridge Grymes. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. George Hester, and approved. Answering the roll call were seventeen old members and one new member, Mrs. Robert Roland. One visitor, Mrs. T. A. Parham, was also welcomed.

The meeting was then given to Mrs. Haws and the first feature was Christmas carols sung by the entire group. They were "Joy To The World" and "O Little Town of Bethlehem," accompanied by Mrs. Haws at the piano. Miss Ruby Boyd Alexander gave a delightful piano solo, "First Noel." The choral club, accompanied by Mrs. Haws, sang

"The Snow," "Christmas Eve," and "Sleep, Holy Babe." A very interesting discussion was then given by Mrs. Haws on the song, "It Came Upon A Midnight Clear." In conclusion the club sang "Silent Night."

The hostesses served refreshments at the close of the program in the Yuletide motif. Brick ice cream with Christmas trees in the center was served with cookies and salted nuts. The napkins were also in Christmas colors.

Meeting
Industry's Defense
Telephone Needs

MANY southern industries are strenuously at work building new plants, expanding existing ones, and generally gearing their facilities and man-power to advance the nation's defense program.

It is a tremendous and urgent job they have taken on. Their rapidly increasing communications needs create an equally important job of service expansion for the Telephone Company, including the engineering and installation of enlarged telephone facilities in many localities.

These industries are going ahead with their production and expansion activities and plans, with confidence that the Telephone Company will meet their telephone needs promptly and fully. Their daily requirements are being provided now, and the thousands of highly trained telephone workers are prepared with materials and experience to meet whatever service demands the future holds.

Inside, only the outer fringe of the letter sheet remained—looking very much like a picture frame definitely without a picture.

KROGER QUALITY

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

Dear Santa: The calendar says it's rather late now to send in a big order of "wants" so will just list a few important "needs."

First, a patriotic present in the form of a standard flag and flagpole to be erected on the high school campus. Such would be a visible reminder of daily allegiance to our country's emblem.

Second, the cold winter days coming is an urgent need for hot lunches for the school children, especially the undernourished. This could easily be provided, for the W. P. A. will gladly assist in both funds and labor.

Third, from your furniture department, send Mt. Pleasant church 24 new pews and Salem some pulpit furniture for their new building. Perhaps Jackson Chapel is a little greedy for they have an order in for a "new bank" (one for offerings) and the membership of Bethel will appreciate a little "cold cash."

Santa, if you can't fill this order on or before Christmas, please send a card of encouragement, stamped with approval and addressed to all patrons and members with a promise that these will be the first things on your 1941 shipment.

And last, for the shut-ins, Levi Price, Harry Sullivan, Merin Evans, Gordie Hopkins, Mrs. Laura Hopkins, Lily Mae Prince, Martha Lee Horgan, "Granny" Prince, Aunt Belle Vanpool and Uncle Dave Humphreys, grant them their heart's desire—"Comfort, ease and happiness," and shower them with material needs. Then to the children, give them at least some of their wants and remember, too, that we older ones have a lot of "childish" ways long 'bout Christmas time.

School Will Close

Fulgham High school will close on December 20 for the Christmas holidays.

New Residents

Good neighbors come and go. Woodrow Leath, tax commissioner, and Mrs. Leath, and three children moved here to the Harry Sullivan place. On account of Mr. Sullivan's health, he and Mrs. Sullivan will spend the winter in Clinton with their daughter, Mrs. Bob Burkett and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grubbs moved to Spring Hill where they recently purchased a farm and Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, owners of the Grubbs place, have moved. A few others will move before Christmas.

Pre-Christmas Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Noah Clark are the parents of a son, Larry Dale, born Wednesday, December 4, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Cash.

Donna Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stephens, arrived Thursday December 5, at the Fulton hospital.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fate Bone Friday, December 6, at their home in McConnell, Tenn. Mr. and Mrs. Bone moved Tuesday to McConnell where he drives a milk truck.

Stolen Chickens

For the past few days the "round the stove crews" at each store have had a new topic for discussion. Two men who gave their names as W. W. Watts and John Thomas drove up to Armbruster's store in a '29 model A Ford with several barred rock chickens (125 pounds) which they sold to Renick, Jr. He paid Watts a $15.50 check and he (Watts) then went in at Burkett's store, purchased some groceries and presented the check as payment.

Thursday Dallas Poultry House at Fulton bought the fowls and Friday the Fulton County sheriff came with Thomas under arrest, who admitted being here but denied knowledge of the stolen chickens. At that time Watts had not been located. It was reported that the chickens were stolen from Sassafras Ridge, near Thomas' home. Some thought Watts lived near Lynville or at one time lived there. And now, Renick, Jr., Armbruster, Jewell Scott, Burkett's clerk, and other witnesses will probably "go courting" at Hickman in the near future.

Kimbro-Floyd
Miss Mildred Kimbro, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kimbro, and Herman Floyd, son of Mrs. Stella Floyd, were united in marriage Saturday night, December 7, at Fulton with Esq. S. A. McDade officiating.

Both bride and groom are ex-graduates of Clinton High. At the present time they will reside with Mr. Floyd's mother, who lives near Croley.

Gale-Clark

Wedding bells rang again Saturday night, much to our surprise, announcing the marriage of two high school students, Adell Gale, 17, and Elwood Clark, 17, both juniors. The ceremony was read by S. A. McDade at Fulton. They were accompanied by Miss Jenola Watts and Cornell Gale.

Adell is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Gale and Elwood is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark. They will reside with the groom's parents.

Personals

Mrs. Jack Vaden, Misses Addie Bone and Evie Jackson and Mrs. Jim Moore visited Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Clayton at the parsonage Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Vol Armbruster made an enjoyable visit in Love-laceville last Sunday with Esq.

Pryor and family, one time neighbors whom they had not seen in 30 years. Mr. Armbruster, with 84 winters, and Mr. Pryor, counting 83, are still active in "reminiscent conversation." They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. Armbruster of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nall and children of Princeton spent Sunday here in the home of Clay Parrott and Bill Parrott.

"Pal" Johns, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johns, went to Detroit Friday in answer to a "come at once" call.

This and That

Lumb and Abner at the Strand Theatre Sunday and Monday were as popular as Santa Claus. All movie fans from this section were right there.... Five years ago our pre-Christmas weddings in December were Leon Batts and Margaret Wright, Allee Watts and Donald Hill, Marvin Jackson and Rubie Hopkins and Elmer Farmer and Rosamond Wilson.... Mrs. A. D. Gatewood (Janet Humphreys) is helping Santa Claus during the Christmas rush at Woolworth's Dime store on Harper Avenue, Detroit.... Sunday School reports for last Sunday were Bethel 20, Mt. Moriah 38, Jackson Chapel 53, Salem 77, and Mt. Pleasant 88, an increase of exactly 100 over the preceding Sunday.... Rev. M. H. Stroud of Covington, Tenn., and Rev. J. C. Gilbert of Dyer will attend the church supper at Mt. Pleasant Thursday night, December 12.

AIRLINER CRASHES INTO CREEK BANK WHEN PILOT MISSES FIELD RUNWAY

St. Louis.—An American Airlines plane, arriving from Chicago in foggy, rainy weather, missed the runway at Lambert-St. Louis municipal airport this afternoon and smashed into a creek bank, trapping the pilots in the front compartment.

Rescue crews working with axes and hacksaws broke into the cockpit after about 30 minutes. The chief pilot, Capt. Herbert W. Susott, of Elberfeld, Ind., and first officer Earl Phillips, based at Chicago, were hurt slightly.

Four passengers and stewardess Ruth Arestad of Duluth, Minn., were able to leave the plane without assistance but one of the passengers, Miss E. Lindenmeyer, was shaken up.

Arriving over the field at 2:47 p. m. the plane circled the airport and then came in from the east for a landing on the No. 1 runway. Instead the plane hit the wet turf alongside the runway and bounced into the creek.

The nose of the plane banged into the farther bank but the tail remained on the other bank, bridging the creek.

SOCIETY MATRON IS ATTACKED BY MAN WHO THROWS HER INTO LAKE

Greenwich, Conn.—Detective Sergeant John Teufel reported that Mrs. John K. Strubing, Jr., 32-year-old society matron, had been assaulted in her home early today by a man who later tossed her into Kensico lake. She was taken to a White Plains, N. Y., hospital where her condition was described as not serious.

Police Chief Patrick Flanagan said Federal Bureau of Investigation agents had entered the case, seeking to determine whether the offense included kidnapping.

The lake where Mrs. Strubing was found by a truck driver shortly after dawn is in New York state, 9 miles from here.

Sergeant Teufel said a negro chauffeur-buttler was being questioned in connection with the case. Mrs. Strubing's husband, a New York advertising agency executive, was in Philadelphia at the time of the attack.

POLICEMAN LEARNS HOW BURGLARS OFTEN FEEL

Newport, Ky.—Policeman John Schnelle knows how a burglar must sometimes feel.

One of a group of officers who responded to an alarm from the home of A. P. Richard early today, Schnelle was making a hurried search of a cupboard when: Zing! and a cry of "there he is!" Schnelle ducked just in time to miss a shoe hurled by Richard. "Nerves sorry," Richard apologized.
