News-Prints

Last Tuesday afternoon a young man walked into the office and very bashfully asked us if we ever printed poetry. When we replied that we gladly published poetry from residents of the area, provided that it was original and made pretty good sense (we exclude the brainstorms that we have for this column off and on) he pulled out a well-weathered pocketbook and extracted a couple of short poems for us to put in the paper when we had room. It was apparent from the creased and soiled condition of the paper that he had carried them for some time, perhaps too self-conscious to ask for publication before now.

Anyhow, they offer some well-worded and pleasant messages and when you see "April Sunsets" and "Twilight" by Randall L. Cashon of Route 4, Martin, you'll now know from whence they come.

Absent-minded professor of the week: W. L. Holland, in opening the program at last Tuesday's Rotary Club banquet for the Fulton Hi football team started off with: "Mr. President, members and guests of the Lions Club."

When they yell "Yeah Man" out at Fulton Hi basketball games this season there will probably mean just what they say. Snooky Mann and Don Mann, guards, will be supplemented by Leon Mann at forward and Coach Bill Hogg tells us that all three will probably be in at the same time in some games. The three are known to teammates as "A" Mann, "D" Mann and "L" Mann.

The fans' favorite goal-scoring play will no doubt go: A. Mann-D. Mann-L. Mann, Amen.

In the sports world, the opening contest of the season is generally supposed to be a breather... one in which you can check your offense, defense and team-work to get a few of the wrinkles ironed out. Noting that the Fulton high school has scheduled its first game this year against Fulham, we are now wondering which side will use it as a warm-up. Last Tuesday Fulham, not only warmed up, but STEAMED up, wore out the netting against Western 100-12... one of the highest scores in basketball history. (Note to Fulham: the Fulton scoreboard can't count above 99).

Add notes on the Rotary football banquet: The soft, lovely candle-light setting that greeted incoming guests was rather hastily abandoned as Rotarians first donned glasses, then yelled for more light when they were unable to find placecards with their name.

Although most members of the audience didn't know it, there must have been quite a twinge of sadness that passed through Murray Coach Fred Faurot as he reminisced on his earlier days in the game during his talk last Tuesday evening.

Fred comes from a famous football family back in Missouri... one of four brothers who made great names for themselves in their playing years. One, however, was lost to them in the war, and another killed in an auto accident last year. That leaves only Fred at Murray and Don, who has made a great name for himself at the University of Missouri.

We'll bet Billy Mac Bone wouldn't have traded a million dollars for the chance to come back home and sit with his last-year's teammates... and don't know of anything that could inspire them more than to know that one of the old gang is really going places.

During the past two weeks while the wife and baby were in the hospital, (and expected back each day), ye scribe has fought a stubborn battle at home... with the milkman. For the first three days, each bottle was quietly placed in the icebox before suddenly it dawned that some-

Santa Claus Coming To Fulton Dec. 11th

Santa Claus is on the way! The arrival of jolly old St. Nick on the streets of downtown Fulton is scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Saturday, December 11th, and all the children in walking, driving, bicycling and trucking distance are invited to town to help welcome him.

Santa will have plenty of candy and goodies for everybody, and if his arrival is greeted with as much enthusiasm as it was last year, it will be a big, happy afternoon for downtown Fulton.

Although his exact method of entry into the city is not yet definitely arranged, he might come either by airplane, landing in the middle of Lake street, or he might arrive on the City of New Orleans "North Pole Express" as he did last year, and be escorted downtown on the city fire truck to the accompaniment of the band. (Watch next week's papers for final details).

In any event, it will be a big afternoon for the kiddies, and all mothers and fathers who can possibly make the trip in will be well repaid by the excitement and happiness brought to their little ones.

In addition to December 11, Santa will also be on downtown streets the following Saturdays, December 18 and Friday, December 24th.

The arrival and appearances of Santa are sponsored by the Fulton Young Men's Business Club.

MRS. J. C. FOSTER SERVICES ARE HELD

Beloved Lady Was Friend To Needy

It was with a feeling of great sadness that all of us at the News office learned of the death of Mrs. J. C. Foster, former correspondent for this paper on Route 3, who died at the home of her daughter in Wyandotte, Mich., last Sunday.

Mrs. Foster was one of those people who loved life just for the living. Her great joy came from doing things for others and caring for those she loved. When her husband, the late J. C. Foster, passed away last year, the News editors drove out to her home to offer condolences. They did not find her there for she had gone to the home of a neighbor to help in their distress. At that time there was untold sadness in her heart, but she would not let her personal feelings interfere when she felt that she was needed.

She was a fine and bountiful lady and the News will miss her greatly.

Her body arrived in Fulton on Tuesday afternoon and was taken to the home of her sister, Mrs. Fred Bennett on Route One.

The deceased is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Herschel Sisk of Wyandotte, with whom she made her home after the death of her husband; one sister, Mrs. Fred Bennett of Route One; two brothers, J. S. Morris of St. Louis and F. W. Morris of Wardell, Mo., and two grandchildren of Wyandotte.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at Old Bethel Primitive Church. Jackson Brothers Funeral Home of Dukedom were in charge.

Dr. Bard Reported Slightly Improved

Condition of Dr. Robert Bard, popular and prominent local dentist is slightly improved, the News learned at press time on Thursday. Dr. Bard became suddenly ill more than a week ago and was taken to Memphis under advice of his physician where he was put under the care of specialists.

The News joins his legion of friends in wishing him a speedy recovery.

CLEMENTS MUM ON SENATORIAL CHOICE

Governor Earle Clements declared there is no basis for reports that he about to fill a vacancy in the United States Senate.

Stating he has been bombarded with telephone calls since Senator Barkley became Vice-President-elect, the Governor issued a statement saying:

"There is no vacancy now and I do not anticipate there will be a Senate vacancy before next January 20 at the earliest."

"Under our statute, it will be the duty of the Chief Executive to fill the vacancy by appointment. Since this statute was enacted, no Kentucky Governor has delayed very long filling any senatorial vacancy."

Senator Barkley will be sworn in as Vice-President on January 20. Until then, he can continue to serve as senator.

Friends of the Governor say he has not started a single discussion with anyone concerning the filling of the upcoming vacancy. They also are sure Clements will consult with Barkley, who is now at his home near Paducah, before naming the senator's successor.

A visitor who saw Clements recently said he understood about 45 persons have been recommended to the Governor as candidates for the appointment.

Of the 45 candidates, 15 reportedly asked the Governor personally for the appointment and 30 were recommended by go-betweens, the visitor said, adding that the count is about a week old.

BULLDOGS ELECT HODGE

Jim Hodge, three-letter senior on the Fulton high school football squad was elected captain of the 1948 team by his mates last Tuesday evening.

The election followed the annual Rotarians' football banquet at the school cafeteria.

Leon Mann, another three-letter senior, was elected alternate captain. Other nominations included Aubrey Glasco and Johnny Hyland.

Hiway Dept. Blamed For RR Signal Delay

The death of Virgle Hutcherson, 45-year old Negro killed at the Browder Mill railroad crossing last week has again focussed public attention on the long-awaited project of furnishing these crossings with warning devices.

Contrary to public belief, it is the Kentucky Highway Department that is holding up the installations, and not the railroad, the News learned this week in an interview with city councilman Bill Browning, who has handled all of the go-between details for the past year.

There are six crossings involved in the current negotiations:

NOTED EVANGELIST COMING TO JACKSON

Dr. E. Stanley Jones, Methodist missionary to China and world-renowned evangelist, will be in Jackson, Tenn., the week of December 12-17 to conduct a "retreat" for ministers of all denominations.

His appearance is being sponsored by the Methodist, Cumberland Presbyterian, Presbyterian and Christian churches of Jackson, and the Department of Evangelism of the Federal Council, Churches of Christ.

Sessions are to be Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday mornings at 10:30 and Monday and Tuesday afternoons at 2:30. Preachers of all denominations are invited and urged to come. Dr. Jones will speak at great mass meetings each night, Sunday through Friday at 7:30 in the Jackson High School Auditorium; the public is invited.

Thousands of the educated classes have heard him in India, Japan, Korea, Burma, China and in Malaya. Recently South Americans thronged a series of meetings which he held in their principal cities.

Dr. Jones began his work as a missionary in 1907 when the Methodist Episcopal church commissioned him as pastor of the English Church in the city of Lucknow, India. For ten years he served in various capacities in the Missionary work there.

Thirteen books from the pen of Dr. Jones, beginning with his famous "The Christ of the Indian Road" have not only been translated in over twenty foreign languages.

Pitchford Named To County Banking Post

Under the Kentucky Bankers Association's expanded agricultural program R. H. Pitchford, Vice-President of the Fulton Bank here has been appointed the Association's County Agricultural Chairman for Fulton county.

His appointment is announced by George S. Hart, of Murray, President of the Kentucky Bankers Association, and will run through October 1949.

As County Agricultural Chairman, Mr. Pitchford will assist the banks of Fulton County in planning and arranging their participation in meetings with agricultural leaders and farmers throughout the coming year.

$16 More For Triplets Is In From Union City

Five donations totaling $16 are acknowledged this week from Union City, as the drive for the needy family continues under the persistent spurring of Mrs. Butts and Mrs. Jolley.

With the total now standing over $800, it is hoped that the additional $200 needed to buy a house for the Lewis family will be soon realized from generous-hearted citizens during the Christmas season.

Reported this week from Union City:

The Weather Class of the First Methodist Church.....10.00
Intermediate Class of the First Methodist Church.....2.00
Willhaws Garage.....1.00
Baptist Church.....2.00

"Tomorrow will be a better day if you begin this morning to improve it."

Walnut, Main and State line off Lake street, Norman street at the ice plant, Walnut at Kramer's and the one on east State line at the Swift plant (at the last three mentioned, the signal system needs to be changed). Two of these crossings are highways, and therein the State enters the picture.

According to Browning, who made a special trip to Chicago last February to discuss the matter with the railroad's vice-president and chief engineer, the I.C. is willing to recommend the expenditure of $19,490, as its share, provided the Kentucky Department of highways will spend $6,858 on those crossings with which it is involved.

The Department of highways was thereupon written, and sent an engineer here to survey the crossings. That is the last that has been heard from the department.

Following last week's death, the railroad representatives were on the scene the following morning. When questioned about plans for warning devices at that time, their only answer was "Is the State going to do anything?"

JOHN WATTS GETS STATEWIDE HONORS

John Watts, 32, Fulton County agent since April, 1946, Monday night was named one of Kentucky's four top county agents for 1948.

Mr. Watts was honored at the annual meeting of the National Association of County Agents in Chicago. He is credited with developing the ladino clover business in Fulton county into a $1,000,000 seed enterprise.

Mr. Watts was born in Woodford county and has been with the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of Kentucky since 1938. His first job was as assistant agent in Carlisle county. He left Carlisle for an assistant's post in Union then returned to Carlisle in October, 1938, as agent. He remained in Carlisle until transferred to Fulton.

Mr. Watts has developed an outstanding pasture program in Fulton county. He also has been active in development of the pecan industry.

KU OFF ICE; TO SELL PLANTS

Kentucky Utilities Company announced today that it had "agreed to sell" its ice plants in 10 Kentucky cities to the Western Ice Service Company, Kansas City, Mo. Transfer of the properties is expected to take place within the next few weeks, KU President R. M. Watt said.

Included in the sale is the Old Dominion Ice Company, Norton, Va., a KU subsidiary. The sales agreement covers ice plants, equipment, and rolling stock in the following Kentucky towns: Lexington, Maysville, Carrollton, Central City, Madisonville, Mt. Sterling, Lebanon, Middlesboro, Somerset, and Winchester.

Mr. Watt also announced that the new company has agreed to recognize employee seniority, and to continue KU's sick benefit plan, including employees' accrued benefits.

Route Three Resident Arrives In Far East

Pvt. Thomas J. Wild of Route 3 Fulton, arrived in Japan in October 1948, and has been assigned to the 21st Ordnance Medium Maintenance Company, in Tokyo, Japan, home of Headquarters I Corps.

The 21st Ordnance Company is one of the many ordnance units in Japan whose duties include auto maintenance, carpentry, electrical repair, care and maintenance of all types of weapons, and repair of precision instruments such as telescopes, field glasses, range finders etc.

Pvt. Wild entered the Army in February 1948 at Fort Knox and after receiving his infantry basic training he was sent to Japan in September 1948. Prior to entering the service, he attended Fulton High school.

His mother, Mrs. Lottie B. Bruce resides on Route 3.

ROTARIANS HOSTS TO 75 AT ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

Twenty-five members of the 1948 Fulton High school football squad, plus the managers, coaches, cheerleader, queen and sponsor were all guests of the Fulton Rotary Club last Tuesday evening at the Rotarians' annual football banquet in the school cafeteria.

Following the meal, Rotary President Paul Hornbeak turned the program over to W. L. Holland, school superintendent, and Coach Bill Hogg introduced the team members to the assemblage.

Erl Sinsing, native Fultonian who left the Daily Leader as editor this Fall to accept a position in the public relations department of Murray State college at Murray then introduced the principal speaker of the evening, Coach Fred Faurot of MSC.

In his talk, Faurot emphasized not only that a fighting, driving, clean game was necessary to win, but also that a football player must not let his fondness for the game sidetrack the necessity of maintaining high grades in school. He pointed out that an intelligent approach to school-work and football plays go hand in hand, and concentration on both prepares the athlete for success both in college and in the business world.

Following the well-received address, the audience removed to the gym and saw a full-length film account of the Murray-Evansville game. The contest played this fall, produced a 9-7 win for Murray amid a number of near-riots by the fans.

Other out-of-town guests besides Faurot and Sinsing included Billy Mac Bone, native Fultonian and freshman standout on this year's Murray squad (he is the only freshman member to make the trip to the forthcoming "Tangerine Bowl" in Florida on New Year's day), and Ken Evtit, this year's captain of the Murray squad.

Besides those mentioned above, the banquet attendance included the following:

Managers: James Hibbs and Jimmy Hancock.

Coaches: Hogg and Phipps; Cheer Leader: Jean Holland; Queen, Norma Jean Willey; Sponsors, Mary Royster; Principal Hubert Jaco.

Rotarians included: Gordon Baird, Gus Bard, Joe Browder, Leon Browder, Glynn Bushart, Joe Davis, John Earle, Ernest Fall Sr., Tom Franklin, Happy Hogan, Paul Hornbeak, Arch Huddleston, Jr., Theodore Kramer, Ira Little, Rube McKnight, Fred Sawyer, Leslie Weeks, Clyde Williams Sr., Clyde Williams, Jr., Dr. J. P. Williams, E. E. Williamson, Clyde Hill Jr. and C. M. Townes.

Guests included Bill Browning and Lee Williams.

NO ROSE-COLORED GLASSES

No need for rose-colored glasses in the Herschel Kimble family today. Everything is 'jes natchelly' rosy for the popular young couple who are the parents of a seven-pound, 14 ounce boy born to them at the Haws Hospital Thursday morning.

At age 20-minutes, Herschel was showing off his fine nose to hospital patients and staff with that gleam in his eyes that only a proud father can have. The Kimbles have another child, Brenda, age 15-months.

Fulton Is A Good Place To Trade

Now that the Christmas shopping season is right on us, the thoughts of all are turning to gift lists, what to buy and where to buy it.

Be it ever so humble, there is nothing like a gift of good quality, bought for a fair price from a merchant of good reputation. A great many people associate fine quality only with large cities, and believe that in order to get something "extra special" they have to drive miles and miles to a big city and wade through endless crowds of shoppers.

Nothing could be further from the truth. Unless one is prepared to spend lots of money for high-priced "exclusives," he will probably wind up bringing back the same thing that he could have bought right at home, less transportation costs.

We submit that the merchants of Fulton carry the cream of the nationally-advertised clothing, accessories, furniture, perfumes, jewelry, cosmetics, etc., that the leading stores throughout the nation are displaying for the Christmas season, and that gift buying can be pleasantly and happily accomplished with our own local merchants, who are your friends and neighbors.

When you decide to go shopping to round out your gift list, spend a few hours around downtown Fulton. If your favorite store can't satisfy you, try some of the others. Fulton is a good place to shop. The stuff is here.

Farm Objectives

Allan Kline, AFBF President, last week called upon organized farmers to continue their efforts toward a sound farm program, operating within a stable, high-production economy.

The election did not automatically settle farm and other issues," he warned in a speech before the Massachusetts Farm Bureau November 14. "Farmers should intensify, rather than relax their efforts to secure adequate farm legislation."

Mr. Kline asserted that farmers should work together toward the following goals: (1) a more stable general price level; (2) a farm program including adequate price support and soil conservation provisions; and (3) decentralized administration of government programs.

The first goal is especially important to farmers, he emphasized, adding: "High and stable costs, and falling prices, which come with deflation, mean ruin to farmers."

He called for a joint House-Senate committee and a commission of qualified people to study monetary and fiscal policy.

Pointing out that agriculture continues to produce when other groups maintain prices and cut production, Mr. Kline said that the farm program "should involve a whole set of measures, designed to protect farmers against bankruptcy."

He cited the agricultural education system as a good example of decent realization, and credited it with helping to increase productivity of agriculture.

Farmers should also help develop sound solutions to problems of international trade, Mr. Kline said.

Spud Supports Cut
Secretary of Agriculture Brannan last week announced a one-third cut in potato price supports, together with 1949 goals designed to effect a substantial reduction in acreage.

Next year, potatoes will be supported at 60 percent of parity instead of at the present level of 90 percent. This change is permissible under legislation passed by the 80th Congress.

National acreage target for next year is 1,938,300—about 18 percent below this year's goal. Officials are aiming at an output of 350,000,000 bushels of potatoes next year. Production will amount to about 431,000,000 in 1948.

Brannan announced: "I have been extremely reluctant to approve the lowering of potato supports. This cannot be regarded as a precedent or as the attitude of this Department in establishing level of supports under our new legislation."

Individual growers must stay with acreage goals in 1949 to be eligible for support. Brannan also declared that he intends to ask Congress for legislation by means of which production adjustment may be encouraged rather than simply allowing for dropping price support from under a specific crop.

Rural Roads

The need for better rural roads should be placed on 'must' list of legislative topics when Congress reconvenes in January, H. Willis Tobler of AFBF's Washington office declared in a speech before the Florida Farm Bureau last week.

"Today, after more than 30 years of federal assistance, approximately 50 percent of our rural road mileage remains unsurfaced, of which about one-half is described as primitive and unimproved," Tobler said.

Adequate roads are absolutely necessary to the smooth operation of production and marketing programs, he added.

Veto power of the federal government over standards and specifications of rural roads was listed by Tobler as one of major obstacles to highway improvement.

AFBF favors greater local control over these major standards and specifications, said Tobler, emphasizing that during the last Congress, AFBF sought legislation whereby states and local political subdivisions would determine them.

The last Congress was reluctant to change the law until "more exhaustive data can be obtained concerning these problems," Tobler concluded: "It is up to us to make certain that the next Congress obtains this data."

Aiken On Supports

Congressional advocates of permanent, flexible farm supports are unlimbering their heavy artillery in preparation for a hot battle over support levels next session.

Last week, Senator Aiken (R., Vt.) author of the long-range price bill, asserted that any attempt to enact permanent farm supports at 90 percent of parity will not get very far in the next Congress.

He declared in Washington that lasting high supports might well lead to over-production, thus jeopardizing the entire farm program. Mr. Aiken had expressed the same thought to the Illinois Agricultural Association only a few days before.

His statement was made shortly after the new chairman of Agriculture Committee in both houses, Senator Thomas (D., Okla.) and Representative Coolidge (D., N.C.) had been widely quoted as favoring permanent supports on basic crops at a rigid 90 percent level.

The Aiken measure, supported by AFBF, provides supports

"This Same Jesus"

Grace Noll Crowell

TODAY on the road I met Him:
The very same Jesus who trod
The old, old lanes and the highways
On His beautiful errands for God.

I was troubled and heart-sick and weary
With a load too heavy to bear,
I cried aloud in my weakness
And suddenly He was there,

His gentle hand on my shoulder
Was lifting the burden from me;
And He dried my tears, and I knew Him,
It was Jesus of Galilee:

No different at all from the Master
On the Jericho road that day,
No different at all from the Saviour
Along the Samaria way,

And I am so glad that I met Him!
I knew; and I called out His name,
And I am so grateful I found Him
Unchanged and forever the same.

ranging from 60 to 90 percent of parity on basic commodities as supplies are larger or smaller than normal. Supports would range from zero to 90 percent for non-basics with special provisions for wool and potatoes. It also bases parity price relationships among farm commodities on a 10-year moving average formula.

Matched Accessories in Doeskin

Plain gauntlets team up with this fat purse to make a matching set of tawny doeskin accessories which Betsy Drake wears with a classic black dress. She makes her screen debut in RKO Radio's "Every Girl Should Be Married", starring Cary Grant, Franchot Tone and Diana Lynn. Note the strap of the bag, which is actually heavy leather braid, ending in tasseled ends. Because of the many shades now produced by manufacturers, doeskin comes in luscious pink, all the light shades of green, a milky white, and the brown hues ranging from the lightest beige to the deepest coffee brown.

Try deep copper with a slate gray suit, gleaming fuchsia with black crepe, or a shade either slightly darker or lighter than the precise color of your dress. And you might look into the purchase of washable doeskin gloves. They retain their softness after innumerable trips through the suds so long as you don't dry them near artificial heat.

hearts and flowers

by PATRICIA LATANE

Dear Miss Latane:

I wonder if you would give me some advice? My life is in a terrible mess and I am afraid I shall never be happy again. Could you tell me if my husband and I will ever go back together? Does he love me or does he love someone else. Will he love our baby? Should I continue being true to him and hope that someday we'll go back together or should I forget him and try to be happy without him? Should I stay with my family or should I get out and try to make a new life for myself and my baby when it comes? M.N.S.

Don't worry about him for he will be back, he loves you but he will always have flirtations. He is that type person, and you will love him enough to forget these things but as time goes by he will learn to be the perfect husband, and will be really good to you. Yes, I would stay on with my parents, then no one can say anything about you.

Dear Miss Latane:

I want to know if the man I went with cared anything about me, and will I ever get to be with him again? What do you see in the future for me? Will my brother ever marry? Does my other brother love his wife and children? R.H.

You remind me of some school girl. No, he didn't care for you, no more than just a party girl to have a good time with. No, you will never be with him again as he has a wife. There's nothing in the future for you. If you don't change your way you will never have a home, you will always just be a party girl.

Dear Patricia:

I have been very much in love with a boy for a long time but lately he has married someone else. I am still writing him and he answers. I want to know if he ever thinks of me and are they happily married. I still love him as much as ever. Will I ever see him again and if so will he be alone? I try to forget him. Did he ever care anything about me? I also would like to know what happened to my diamond ring that disappeared a while ago? Will I finish school? If not why and how soon will I quit? I am going with someone else now. Do you think he will ever mean anything to me? HLB

Dear H.L.B.

Your initials are wrong, but handwriting is the same so will I answer your questions. Well, I don't know what kind of girl you could be to keep writing a boy who married someone else. You should have enough sense to know if he was in love with you, he would have married you. He plainly showed you he didn't care for you. If he had married you, would you have appreciated the other girl writing him. No, you wouldn't have liked it and she doesn't either, but she thinks you are younger than you are. No, you won't be alone with him for quite awhile, but when he wants a girl to get out and have a good time with he will look you up, as that is the only reason he went with you because he was ashamed of you. The best thing for you to do is forget him.

As for your ring, it was stolen. You will never get it back. A man has this ring. If you will watch you will see someone with it on.

No, you will never finish school you will have to quit in the 11th grade, as at that time you will need to be getting married, as for this boy you are going with you are to him just another girl.

MURPHY-SPELLINGS VOWS PLEDGED IN CHURCH CEREMONY

Joan Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Murphy of Memphis, Tenn., became the bride of Charles Spellings, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Spellings of Martin in a flower-decked, taper-lighted setting Saturday, November 20, at the First Methodist church in Memphis with Dr. R. H. Wade, pastor, officiating.

Prior to the ceremony, a program of wedding music was given by Albert Johnson, organist, and Linda Patterson, soloist. Selections included a song, "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," and "Clair de Lune," played on the organ.

The church was decorated with white baskets filled with white chrysanthemums against a background of smilax, palms and ferns. Branching candelabra held tall glowing white tapers, and the wedding aisle was bordered with cathedral candles tied with white satin bows.

Mr. Murphy gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride wore a wedding gown of white satin, the hem of the skirt which swept out into a long train, was bordered by a deep band of white ermine. The bodice was fashioned with a pearl-encrusted yoke which was edged with a narrow band of the ermine. Her veil of illusion fell from a coronet of illusion and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and white bridal roses intermingled with illusion and satin loops which fell in a shower effect.

The feminine attendants were Mrs. Charles Thomas of Fulton, matron of honor, Mrs. Clarence Camferdam, the former Nancy Hames, was bridesmaid, and Nancy Brummitt, niece of the groom, was junior bridesmaid. Emale Appleton and Marcia Eckles, cousin of the bride, were flower girls.

The matron of honor wore a frock of champagne satin, and the bridesmaid was in seafoam green satin, both frocks fashioned with peg-top skirts that had demi-trains. The junior bridesmaid also wore green satin in Emale Appleton's frock was of champagne satin and Marcia Eckles was in seafoam green satin; the flower girls' frocks were fashioned with hoop skirts.

George Spellings attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Jimmy Martin and William Morris Eason.

The feminine attendants carried bouquets of Picardy gladiolus cups and full-blown roses tied with Picardy satin and Nile green illusion. The junior bridesmaid carried a small bouquet of the same blossoms and the two little flower girls carried white baskets tied with bows and streamers and filled with rose petals.

Mrs. Murphy wore a gold cocktail suit and a vivid green hat and wore a large green orchid

TWILIGHT

There's something about a sunset and its last gleam's fading glow
When the earth seems hushed and waiting for what I do not know.

There's something about the twilight and its mystical rainbow pall
That stirs the heart within me and holds my soul in thrall.

And so, through the long night vigil and the hurried rush of the day
My heart will e'er keep turning

As an oasis in a desert, an isle in a storm-tossed sea
This golden pause 'twixt the day and night is heaven for you and me.

tied with gold ribbon. Mrs. Spellings mother of the groom, wore a gray dinner dress and an imperial purple orchid.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the Georgian Room of Hotel Peabody. The bride's table was centered by a tiered white cake garlanded with gardenias, with tall tapers gleaming at the sides in silver candelabra. Another beautifully appointed table was centered by a silver punch bowl and decorated with flowers.

Among the out-of-town guests were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Tucker, Mrs. Gertrude Murphy, Charles Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Pickering, Mrs. Ward McClellan, Mrs. H. H. Pierce and Tobe Pierce of Fulton.

body would have to drink it. We started in and downed a quart that night. Next day, to our consternation, we realized that we had forgotten to tell Palmer Downey to stop delivery, so the quart we drank that evening didn't make any headway at all. By carefully placing the freshest bottle at the back of the row, we have managed to keep any from getting sour, but it has been a terrible struggle.

To other fathers who find themselves in the same predicament, we recommend that a "No Milk Today" sign be firmly tacked on the back door so it won't blow away, be removed with the empty bottle, or be forgotten. Without some sure system, you'll get that frustrated feeling all over again as you come home in the evening, grinning at the thought of only two bottles left, only to round the corner and find another one waiting.

A truly, virtuous person is like good metal,—the more he is fired, the more he is fined; the more he is opposed, the more more he is approved.—Richelieu.

Good Light Saves Not Only Sight But Helps Farmers Do Work Right

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Light and good workmanship go together. And farmers, to be successful, must be good workmen. Whether it be in or out of doors, therefore, good farmers are careful to see that they have sufficient "light on their work" for the job at hand. This includes satisfactory, non-glare illumination of all farm buildings and those outside areas where late chores are Satisfactory "light on your work"—in the feed room, as in the above picture, or elsewhere—pays dividends in efficiency.

performed. It means, too, that drive-ways which may be used after dusk by farm vehicles or the family automobile should be properly lighted for accidents as well as poor workmanship thrive in hard-to-see farm yards and buildings.

In addition to the correct placement, number and types of lights for various locations on the farm, there is another factor to be considered.

KENTUCKY TAXES LOWER IN NATION

Taxes for the average Kentuckian are much lower than those for the average American even though, for the past thirty-five years, taxes for state and local purposes in Kentucky have gone up rapidly.

This conclusion was made by Dr. James W. Martin, Director, Bureau of Business Research of the University of Kentucky in presenting a report on "Taxation" in Kentucky. He stated that the average Kentuckian paid about $50.00 in taxes in 1947 while the average amount paid by citizens in other states was approximately $90 per person.

"In 1913, 80 percent of all our taxes in Kentucky were based on property but by 1947 the

That is a wiring system which is planned for adequacy. An efficient wiring system will provide your lights and electrical equipment with all the electricity required for maximum operation.

A recommended guide provides the following information as to lighting outlets needed for satisfactory illumination of some typical buildings:
DAIRY BARN—Outlet every 12 feet on center line of alley, or slightly off center, if necessary, to ensure carrier. In the feed alley, install lights every 20 feet on center line of alley. Each group of lights should be controlled by separate wall switches. MILK HOUSE—Outlet for every 100 square feet of floor area, including one in the center of the ceiling and one or two in each work area. POULTRY HOUSE—Outlet for every 200 square feet of floor area, installed according to individual practices in providing laying hens with 13 hours of light in every 24 hours. Use of a time switch will relieve farmer from turning lights on and off at required periods. Dim light outlets should be on separate circuit. BEEF CATTLE BARN—Outlet for every 250 square feet of open pen area.

SHEEP BARN AND LAMBING SHED—Outlet every 20 feet on center line of feed alley. HOG AND HARROWING HOUSE—Outlet for each pair of hog pens. Locate lights over partition line. HAYMOW—The following three ideas are suggested: one light near peak of roof, floodlight located high at one end of mow, or two floodlights placed at diagonally opposite corners of mow. FARM SHOP—Outlet for every 200 square feet for general lighting. For local lighting, it is suggested that one light be installed to illuminate each permanently placed piece of equipment, and each 10 feet of bench length. MACHINERY SHEDS—Outlet for every 400 square feet of space. TO BACCO BARN—Outlet every 12 feet. Locate them on posts on one side of center driveways.

In all cases, lights should be controlled by switches. Power supplies and dealers can provide additional lighting and wiring information. They also can help in planning the best locations for yard lights and other outdoor lights.

David Holland Heads UK Military Society

David K. Holland, son of C. N. Holland of Hickman, was recently elected captain in command of the Pershing Rifles, a national military fraternity at the University of Kentucky.

As commanding captain of the organization, Holland led a 27-man platoon of the company in an exhibition drill at a memorial retreat ceremony, Armistice Day, in honor of Gen. Pershing.

A graduate of Hickman High school, Holland is now a junior at the University.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT EXAM

A merit system examination for appointment to the grade of Sanitarian I in the county health departments will be held at the McCracken County Health department, Paducah, on next Friday, December 3.

In order to compete in the examination, it will be necessary to mail a completed application to the Merit System Supervisor, State Department of Health, 620 South Third street, Louisville, 2, Ky., not later than midnight, Monday, November 30, 1948.

Application forms and details can be obtained from the Merit System Supervisor, or from the local health department.

property based tax dropped to 41 percent," Dr. Martin stated that, "although local government taxes in Kentucky have risen in the past five (5) years, this rise has not been as fast as in the average of all states."

The expert declared that, "Property assessments are so low in certain areas that the effect is to cut the rate restrictions to one-third or one-half those provided by law. The valuations are so unequal as to make heavy property taxes highly discriminatory."

"A modernized assessment program," the author explained, "would provide at least two most important by-products: 1. Greater equality among our taxpayers and, 2. Reduced interference with business."

UK GROWTH IN '48 LARGEST IN HISTORY

The 1947-48 school year was "one of the greatest years" in the 83-year history of the University of Kentucky, President H. L. Donovan declared at a press-radio dinner Monday evening.

Dr. Donovan reported that 7,802 students registered at the beginning of the 1947 fall quarter (7,863 are enrolled this fall), while the largest pre-war enrollment was 3,805. Thirteen hundred and six students received their diplomas at U. K. this year. "During the 42 years Dr. James K. Patterson occupied the presidency of the University," he signed only 896 diplomas," President Donovan pointed out.

"There were many great accomplishments during the current year," Dr. Donovan said, "but the greatest victory gained by the University was a decision made by the Court of Appeals, which reversed a former decision limiting the salaries of professors to $5,000, the constitutional limitation on officers of the state. . . . The statesman-like decision made by the Court has saved the University of Kentucky from becoming a mediocre institution, one that would have been a joke throughout the academic world."

Western, Brownsville Elect '49 Officers

At the Annual Farm Bureau supper and election held last Thursday night at Western the following officers were reelected: Raymond King, president; Kelly Conder, vice-president and Kirmitt Parks as secretary-treasurer.

Short talks were made by Bro. Abernathy, Bro. Cecil, Guy Barnett, E. W. Yates and John P. Wilson, who showed the colored slides of various scenery over the county in John B. Watt's place who was absent. J. B. McGehee, the County secretary also made a brief talk on successful community leadership.

Excellent attendance was reported, despite the rainy weather.

Brownsville farmers, who had their election previous to Western, elected all new officers as follows: Truman Benthall, president; Willie Thomas, vice-president and Joe Parker as secretary-treasurer.

Guy Barnett, who had been president for the last four years, refused to be reelected. Guy made a wonderful record and his resignation is a loss to his community. However, with the spirit Truman Benthall, his successor, accepted his duties all will be well again as soon as Truman gets the "feel" to carry on.

A wonderful supper was served and following, Guy's quartet entertained the members throughout the speaking program.

Roy Bard, county president, Lucian H. Isbell, vice president, Wayne Yates, Mrs. Bertha C. McLeod, Mrs. Wayne Yates, Mrs. Roy Bard and J. B. McGehee made short talks and John B. Watts, county agent showed colored slides. Everyone seemed to have a good time.

Y. M. C. C. MEETS

The Fulton Young Men's Business Club met last Tuesday at the Lake street clubrooms in a regular business session.

In the absence of Foad Homara, president, the meeting was conducted by Vice-President Russ Anderson.

The Club voted not to sponsor a trade-day venture which was proposed by a Murray (Ky.) radio station, and transacted other routine business.

The next meeting date was announced as a dinner at the Water Valley school on December 14. The meal will be prepared by the Water Valley P.T.A. it was stated.

The sale of tickets for the benefit of the Club's Christmas-baskets-for-the-needy program was reported to be progressing well.

LADINO SUPPLANTS FESCUE

Howard McClendon of the Mud Lick community in Monroe county is so pleased with ladino clover that he plans to seed his 14-acres of fescue to this crop in February. He showed Farm Agent Justis L. Ellis an eight-acre pasture seeded with ladino clover, orchard grass, redtop, timothy and some lespedeza. Twenty-eight cows were feeding on the pasture which had been grazed almost continuously since May. Ellis noted that the ladino clover was the greenest part of the entire pasture.

Happiness consists in the attainment of our desires, and in having only right desires.—Augustine.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 5, 1948.

The Golden Text is: "Thus saith the Lord that created the heavens; God himself that formed the earth and made it; he hath established it, he created it not in vain, he formed it to be inhabited: I am the Lord; and there is none else." (Isa. 45:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord he is God; it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture" (Ps. 100:3).

All are welcome to our service.

SEPTIC TANK CIRCULAR

To help the hundreds of farmers who plan to modernize their homes, the College of Agriculture and Home Economics, University of Kentucky, has issued circular 431, dealing with the construction of septic tanks for sewage disposal. Every farmhouse with modern plumbing and running water should have a septic tank. It is the simplest safe method for sewage disposal where there is no public sewer system. Ask a county or home agent for the circular, "Septic Tanks for Dwellings."

The 1948 fescue seed crop of 125,000 pounds in Ballard county was sold principally to local farmers to seed 10,000 acres.

This being the season when a lot is expected of the laying flock, a lot of care should be given to the flock's well being.

Amazing Burner!

No fuel oil heater can be better than its burner. That's why Duo-Therm builds a heater from the burner out—designs the complete heater around the burner itself. And what a burner!

It gives more heat from every drop of oil! That's because its exclusive full-bodied, mushroom type flame hugs the side of the heat chamber, transfers more heat to the home quickly.

It burns a clean, efficient flame from lowest to highest fire! That's because air is injected in 6 stages (a Duo-Therm exclusive) to give proper balance between air and oil for perfect combustion and clean performance from low pilot setting to highest flame.

It's absolutely noiseless! No moving or mechanical parts, nothing to wear out. And low velocity air intake produces a gentle diffusion of combustion air. You feel the heat—you never hear it.

Despite the bad weather Sunday, Bro. Pat Hardeman preached to a large audience. The congregations represented were Antioch, Christian Chapel, Hatlers Chapel and Knob Creek and Palmersville.

Mrs. Horace Jones, Jerry, Bobby and Jimmy and Mr. James Finney spent Thanksgiving in Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Carlos Blachard and new baby were brought home Sunday.

Let's remember our Bible study every Thursday at Bible Union church. Conducted by Bro. Garmen Brundige.

Auzie Ligons lost a mule last week.

Everyone enjoyed the box supper at Bible Union school, Wednesday night. We are planning to buy play ground equipment with the money. Our next program will be a concert presented by the Goodman family on Dec. 10. Carthal Brundige bought his grandfather Brundige's home place recently.

Several relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Griffith helped them celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 21.

PFC WADE VISITS AT HOME

Pfc. Cecil Lee Wade, USAF of Biloxi, Miss., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wade of Cayce spent the Thanksgiving holidays at home. Cecil volunteered in June and is now taking a nine months course in radar and electrical engineering and is doing excellent work. Friends and his family are looking forward to seeing him again Christmas. His grandmother, Mrs. Mildred White will also be able to spend the holidays with them.

Commissioner Gives Advice To Farmers

By Harry F. Walters
Commissioner of Agriculture

Since at this time we are starting to market another golden crop of tobacco it behooves each and every farmer to think seriously what disposition he should make of the proceeds of his last year's labor.

It looks to me at this time that we will sell close to 540 million pounds of burley tobacco, and from the best information I have been able to secure, the types of dark tobacco will market something like their last year's poundage at equally as good if not somewhat higher prices. When we receive our check for our crops we should at least keep a part of it as a back-log to be used in the case that in the next few years the products of the farm will not sell at the present level.

Now the question is—What shall we do with the money that we have over and above our immediate needs?

The first thing that should be taken care of if the farmer is carrying any indebtedness against his present holdings is to liquidate his indebtedness by paying off the indebtedness as soon as possible.

The second use of some of this money, that I would recommend, would be the purchase of more and better sires of purebred lines to use in connection with his present live-stock program.

The third recommendation for the use of some of this money is to start a soil conservation program on his farm, ever remembering that it is necessary to keep his farm built up in a high state of cultivation that it may be drawn upon for higher production in the times of stress and also to keep in mind, under his soil conservation program, that it is necessary for him to handle his farm in such a manner that it will be preserved for the use and benefit of posterity.

The fourth thing that I would recommend is that some of this money be used for the repairing and keeping in good shape the machinery that in this day and time is absolutely necessary for the operation of an up-to-date farm and for the replacing of those items that are worn out and to purchase a ledger for the keeping of farm records.

After some of this money is used in the above necessary manner, my recommendation would be that we invest at least ten percent of this money in government securities from the proceeds of this year's crop.

Postage Rates To Increase January 1

Effective January 1, 1949, air-mail postage rates will jump from 5c to 6c; postcards will be carried by air mail for 4c each; third-class mail rates will be increased one-half cent for the first two ounces; and the bulk rate for identical pieces under permit will be increased 2c per pound, with the present minimum of 1c per piece retained. Parcel post rates will be increased approximately 28 percent. Book will be available at 8c for the first pound and 4c for each additional pound as compared with the present rate of 4c for the first pound and 3c for each additional pound. Special delivery rates will jump from 13c to 15c. Inflation has hit the post-office department, too!

It is estimated that each rat on a farm eats, damages, and destroys more than a bushel of grain a year.

Vets' Pensions Must Be Applied For Within Year

Application for compensations resulting from the death of an eligible war veteran should be filed by his dependents within a year after his death in order to take full advantage of the law pertaining to death benefits. Veterans Administration officials advised today.

Although application for death compensation or pension may be filed anytime after a veteran's death, benefits are retroactive to the date following the date of death only if the claim is filed within one year from that date.

VA claims officials point out that if a claim for death compensation is filed after the expiration of the one-year period, benefits are payable from the date the claim is received in a VA office, providing sufficient supporting evidence is submitted within a year after the claim is made.

Burley Market Sets New Opening Record

An average price of $49.48 a 100 pounds was paid for burley tobacco on 14 Kentucky markets Monday as the 1948 crop went on sale, the State Department of Agriculture reported.

If the present trend continues, the average will be the highest for any opening in recorded history of burley auctions. Last year's opening average was $48.61, highest on record.

The top individual day's sales average for Kentucky is $51.66, recorded during last season's auctions.

The 14 markets struck the $49.48 average on the sale of 8,338,164 pounds Monday for $4,126,059.80.

Top quality leaf brought over $60 a hundredweight, up $2 to $3 on the 100 pounds, the United States Department of Agriculture reported. The department said incomplete reports indicated Lexington, the largest burley market, would have an average between $49 and $50 a hundredweight. Lexington's opening average last season was $49.42.

RECUPERATING NICELY

Little Miss Mary Lou Ridd, daughter of M-S and Mrs. Roland Ridd of Salina, Kansas is recuperating at the home of relatives after a tonsillectomy performed at the Haws Hospital.

Little Mary Lou is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Fortner and the granddaughter of Mrs. Eunice Walker. Her father is serving with the Army in England.

THEFT REPORTED

E. J. McCollum, who operates the local Standard Oil bulk plant, reported to police that last Tuesday evening thieves pried the lock from the door out at his office, entered the plant and obtained about $150 worth of loot.

Stolen articles included a brand new 5-horsepower Atlas Royal outboard motor, a 410-gauge shotgun and a 38-caliber revolver. Apparently in search of money, the thieves caused considerable chaos in scattering files, papers and contents of desk drawers around the floor.
