DR. RICHMOND TALKS TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

PRAISES DIVERSIFIED FARMING AND TELLS OF TVA IN THIS TERRITORY.

A representative crowd of Fulton business men turned out Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce meeting, to hear Dr. James H. Richmond, president of Murray State Teachers College, as he praised diversified farming, told of the program as fostered by TVA and stressed the importance of education and branded ignorance the greatest blight to humanity. Ernest Fall called the meeting to order, then J. O. Lewis, superintendent of the Fulton city schools, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Richmond in discussing the importance of diversification in farming, pointed out that a one-crop community always suffered when struck by drought or low prices, while in communities where diversified crops are grown they are better prepared for unexpected adversities. He praised the encouragement that is being given to the raising of thoroughbred cattle and dairying in the Fulton territory, and spoke of the improvements being made in poultry raising.

He cited the work that is being done by the CCC in soil conservation, and urged that farmers continue to give more attention to the preservation of their soil. Pointing out that in European countries land has been farmed for a thousand years and is better today than ever before, while in this country the tendency has been to abandon a farm after it has been allowed to lose its fertility by erosion and neglect.

"Land worked to death by one-crop farming is costly in two ways—it runs down the soil and jeopardizes the economic safety of the farmer in case of crop failure or low prices," Dr. Richmond stated. "Cotton and tobacco are slave crops and they do more to foster ignorance than any other one thing, because they take the children out of school most of the year to help raise and harvest them."

Speaking of the TVA program, which is bringing many of the advantages of town to the rural homes, he declared that this program is here to stay, and all small communities in the Tennessee valley must awaken to the necessity of keeping in step with the progress that is ahead as populations and governments are decentralized. He said further that electricity is one of the cheapest things that can be manufactured, and with the use of electric power steadily increasing, every town, hamlet and rural section will be affected.

In closing he said that good homes, church and schools make a good community and these assets should be protected at all times.

No. 8 Island Voting Precinct Discontinued

During the regular January term of the Fulton County Court at a meeting of Sheriff O. C. Henry, Election Commissioners George N. Hester and Claude S. Owens and County Attorney W. C. Tipton, it was decided that the No. 8 Island precinct shall be abolished and consolidated with the Sassafras Ridge precinct.

This action was taken because there are only a few voters on No. 8 Island, which voting precinct could be handled with greater facility in combination with the Sassafras Ridge precinct.

Open Circuit Court Session In Hickman

The January term of the Fulton county circuit court opened Monday in Hickman, and the following week the court will move over to Fulton. The docket this session is the lightest that has been experienced in many years, according to court officials. The commonwealth docket for the term has only ten cases of which six are felonies and four are misdemeanors. At Hickman there will be 21 cases, 15 felonies and six misdemeanors. On the Fulton docket will be three ordinary appearances. Six divorce cases are set for the Fulton term.

DEATHS

ROBERT FULTON JOLLEY

Robert Fulton Jolley, age 84, died of pneumonia Tuesday night at his home south of Fulton on the Martin highway, following an extended illness. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from his home by Rev. J. N. Wilford, pastor of the First Methodist Church of this city, with interment at the East Side cemetery in charge of Winstead-Jones & Co.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Miss Willie Jolley with whom he lived, and Mrs. Bertie White of Ponca City, Okla.; three sons, Abe Jolley, Tom Jolley and E. M. Jolley of Fulton; two brothers, E. B. Jolley of Martin, and J. W. Jolley of near Fulton; nine grandchildren, Bob White, Everett Jolley, Buster Johnson of Mayfield, Mrs. Roy Speight of Alton, Ill., Randolph Jolley, Mack Jolley, Jean Jolley and Mrs. Alton Butler of Ponca, Okla.; a nephew Billy Jolley of near Fulton; three great grandchildren.

Mr. Jolley was a native of Martin Tenn., being a son of the late Abe and Jane Jolley. During the past few years he had resided near Fulton, and had engaged in the timber business with Jess Parrish. He married Miss Alvarado Kilgore on December 17, 1873 and to this union were born five children all surviving. He was a member of the Old Salem Methodist Church near Martin.

His survivors are his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Thacker; one brother, William and one sister, Mrs. Carlyle Croft of near Fulton.

Honorary pallbearers were Joe Malone, Robert Jeter, Malcolm Duke, Ed Maiden Jr. and Allen Stenbridge.

MRS. BETTY JONES CROFT

Mrs. Betty Jones Croft, wife of O. C. Croft, passed away at her home here Wednesday night. Her death came suddenly from a heart attack. She is survived by five children: Miss Betty Croft of Clinton, Mrs. Mary Hammock of Acreage, Ky., William Douglas Croft of Millington, Tenn., Hugh Croft of Ft. DuPont, Dela., and Ralph Croft of Huntington Park, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Vodie Richardson visited Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Jones in Martin Monday.

FULTON COUNTY DEBT IS REVIEWED BY THE STATE

COUNTY HAS MADE STRIDES IN STABILIZING ITS FINANCIAL STATUS, REPORT SAYS.

Although Fulton county is headed over heels in debt like many other counties in the state, this indebtedness incurred prior to the present administration, under the able direction of Judge Claude L. Walker, the county's financial condition is looking up. In each of the last two fiscal years, Fulton county not only lived within its current income, but definitely decreased both its floating and its bonded indebtedness. This total net reduction of nearly $21,000 means a saving in interest of nearly $1,100 a year.

Under normal conditions, these results would constitute a showing of careful management; under the distressing conditions that existed at the beginning of Judge Walker's administration, on January 1, 1934, they represent real, outstanding accomplishments.

"The first audit of Fulton county made by the Department of Finance, under the 1934 County Audit Law, revealed an astounding condition in the county's financial affairs that clearly had been brought about, though a period of about fifteen years, by the careless, extravagant and illegal expenditure of public funds," according to Nat B. Sewell, director of post audits.

"During this period one county administration after another spent an average of more than $20,000 per year in excess of the county's annual income for general expenditure purposes. Apparently, neither the public officials in charge nor the people who elected them made any serious efforts to stop this ruinous policy. In 1922, as the direct result of overspending, a large floating indebtedness—interest-bearing warrants and bank and individual loans—had piled up and was constantly increasing. The Fiscal Court then issued $100,000 in 5 percent funding bonds to take up outstanding general obligations. However, the orgy of reckless spending was continued and, in 1928, the Fiscal Court ordered another issue of $115,000 in 5 1-4 percent funding bonds to take up floating indebtedness that had accrued since 1922. To cap the absurd climax this county administration and its successor went merrily on, issuing warrants and borrowing money far in excess of the county's ability to pay and in open violation of the constitution and the statutes until another floating indebtedness of close to $100,000 had been thrust upon the county before January 1, 1934.

"Certainly, the set-up inherited by the present administration was not an encouraging one. To make the task of operating the county government within its income doubly difficult, public revenues had been reduced through decreased property valuations at least one-third below those of 1930-1931. However, the records show that the county immediately put a stop to several purposes are not out of line with those of other counties of approximately the same taxable wealth. The average county dollar will be spent as follows: 30 cents for general administration; 16 cents for health and general welfare; 19 1-2 cents for roads, and 34 1-2 cents for debt service.

The debt burden of Fulton county is excessive, amounting to $32.39 per capita, of $7.15 per $100 taxable wealth. As of June 30, 1937, there were outstanding road and bridge bonds to the amount of $258,000 general funding bonds to fund floating indebtedness to the amount of $175,000, and a floating debt of $55,200. In all, after deducting a sinking fund balance of $4,720, the county's debt stands at $483,480. All principal and interest have been paid to date on the road and bridge bonds, presumably by virtue of State grants under the new repealed 3 per cent gross receipts ("sales") tax.

Fulton is one of the several counties of the state which are carrying debts patently in excess of their ability ever to pay. In such cases, an adjusted settlement with the county's creditors appears to be the only possible solution.

MEET TUESDAY NIGHT

The Young Business Men's Club will hold a business meeting at the Rainbow Room next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock with K. P. Dalton in charge of the program. Reports will be heard from various committees.

KITTY LEAGUE MEETING WILL BE HELD SUNDAY

A meeting of the officials of the Kitty League is scheduled to be held here Sunday afternoon at the Rainbow Room, J. E. Hannephin, loop president announced today. This is the annual January meeting when plans for the season will be discussed. A schedule of games will probably be worked out and approved.

Immediately preceding the Kitty League meeting, directors of the Fulton Baseball Association will meet to discuss plans for the coming season. Smith Atkins, president said today. Every effort is being made to form a contact with some major league team before the season opens.

Fulton has been greatly handicapped in the past because the park here does not have lights for night games, and this year plans will be inaugurated to install lights at an estimated cost of $3,500. The co-operation of citizens and baseball fans will be needed, and their loyal support will be appreciated by those striving to keep Fulton in the league.

Doorway Lights Aid Visitors; Lighted House Number Helps, Too

The illuminated house number and entrance lights lend an air of hospitality to the home, and make it easy for callers to find the address.

By Jean Prentice

HAVE you ever started out on an evening for the home of friends, then upon arriving at their street, had difficulty in finding their house number?

I have, and it's such a nuisance. No reason for it, really, when attractive illuminated house numbers and doorway lights are so easy to install.

The charm of a carefully planned home is first revealed in its entrance. And if it is cheery and inviting, and the number plainly visible, we instinctively feel that we are welcome.

Porch-brackets and doorway lanterns, which are so much in favor in the better districts, should be selected with an eye to the architectural design of the house. There are, on the market, styles for all the principal architectural designs, that harmonize with the house exterior. To be practical, they must have open bottoms, so that the steps and porch will be lighted.

An illuminated house number is a convenience that should be part of every hospitable home. This feature may be incorporated into the porch lighting unit itself, or a separate illuminated number may be used, operated by a small bulb. Otherwise, the number should be so placed that it is illuminated by the entrance light. Side and rear porches each call for their individual lights. A single fixture on the door-opening side is suggested.

MR. A. G. BALDRIDGE TAKEN FOR RIDE

After closing time Saturday night the employees of the Baldridge Variety Store took their employer for a ride. The employees were waiting in front of the store for him and quickly seized and blindfolded him and proceeded to ride him over the city. After he was pretty well shaken up and completely at lost to his whereabouts, he was taken to the home of Miss Louise Wade where lovely refreshments were enjoyed. Mr. Baldridge had to "take" all of this for having birthdays.

MRS. STRANGE ENTERTAINS CLUB

The Thursday night bridge club met with Mrs. Howard Strange at her home on Taylor street. Two guests were present, Mrs. Malcolm Gilbert and Miss Monette Jones. At the conclusion of games Miss Rubye V. Yarbrough held high score and Miss Mary Anderson, second high. Miss Jones received guest prize.

At a late hour a lovely salad plate was served. The club will meet with Mrs. Geo. Moore next week.

SEW AND SO CLUB WITH MRS. HOLLOWAY

Mrs. David Holloway entertained the Sew and So Club at her home on Green street. The afternoon was spent playing Bingo with games won by Mesdames Thomas Browder, Louie Bard, T. D. Boaz, Parish Carney and guest prize went to Mrs. James Cummins.

A lovely sandwich plate was served to ten members and one guest, Mrs. Cummins.

WARD-CLARK

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ward of the Lowes community announce the marriage of their daughter, Armona Ivey to Eugene Clark. The wedding occurred here December 19 at the home Esq. S. A. McDede. Mr. and Mrs. Clark are at home near Cunningham, Ky.

NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

A new club met at the home of Miss Bessie Jones Tuesday night. The club members are Adolphus Mae Latta, Mary Anderson, Margaret Jones, Mrs. Guy Winters, Mrs. Ardel Sams, Mrs. Malcolm Gilbert, Louise Rye, Mrs. Howard Strange and Miss Monette Jones. This will be a needle-work club. Light refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Monette Jones.

GENERAL MEETING OF THE WOMEN'S CLUB

The Junior department of the Women's Club entertained the Senior department Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Warren Graham, president presided over a brief session, during which time the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Hendon Wright and reports of the officers were heard.

Mrs. Arch Hu'ileston, Jr. chairman of the Junior department presented the program assisted by Miss Ruth Metcalfe of Memphis, Mrs. Jack Mountjoy and Mrs. D. A. Gardner of Union City, and Miss Alice Waters of Murray.

Miss Metcalfe sang "Caais 'Fu Le Pay," by Thomas, "House on the Hill," by Ernest Charles and "Let My Song Fill Your Heart" by Charles. She was accompanied by Miss Sara Butt. Miss Metcalfe has a beautiful soprano voice. She has studied in Paris, France, and is a graduate of Bush conservatory.

Mrs. Gardner, violinist, played "The Wooden Shoe Dance," by Edward Reader, and "Turkey in the Straw," by Juan Manin. She was accompanied by Mrs. Mountjoy.

Miss Waters, a missionary of China gave a very interesting and entertaining talk on "Arts and Crafts of China." She displayed her large collection of porcelain, clorissane, tapestry brass, bamboo, rugs, silks, embroidery, and numerous articles made in China.

During the social hour tea was served from a Colonial tea table, arranged by Mrs. Uel Killebrew. The lace draped table was very attractive with a centerpiece of spring pastel shades of nosegay and white tapers, tied with small nosegays in silver holders. Mrs. George Dayle and Mrs. Laurence Hollan were the servers.

The out-of-town visitors were Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Mountjoy, Miss Waters, Miss Metcalfe and Mrs. W. D. Bramham of Union City.

CIRCLE THREE WITH MRS. HUMPHRIES

The Circle Three of the Baptist Missionary Union met at the home of Mrs. T. S. Humphries. Eight members and one visitor, Miss Katherine Humphries were present.

Mrs. C. H. Melton opened the meeting with a prayer and Mrs. M. L. Rhodes conducted a short business session. Mrs. L. E. Mann was in charge of the Stewardship program and was assisted by Mrs. E. H. Knighton and Mrs. Humphries. Mrs. L. V. Brady closed the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Humphries and Miss Humphries served lovely refreshments during the social hour.

ANNIE ARMSTRONG CIRCLE WITH MRS. RICHARDSON

Mrs. V. A. Richardson and Miss Helen Tyler were hostesses to the Annie Armstrong Baptist Missionary Circle Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Richardson. Mrs. Atila Hemphill presided over the business session, in the absence of the president. Mrs. Jack Rawls, secretary, read her reports.

Mrs. Hemphill, mission study leader, read "The Personal Service Guide Book" by Una Roberts Lawrence. Miss Myra Searce closed the meeting with a prayer.

During the social hour lovely refreshments were served to twenty members and three guests, Mrs. Morris Ferrell, Mrs. Otis Blizell and Mrs. James Robertson.

TUESDAY NIGHT CLUB

Mrs. Leon Bondurant entertained two tables of bridge and one guest Mrs. Glynis Bushart Tuesday night. Mrs. Patton Godfrey received high score which was hose and Mrs. Bushart received a guest prize. A delicious salad plate was served at the conclusion of the games.

CIRCLE FOUR MONDAY

Mrs. Hattie Bondurant was hostess to the Circle Four of the Baptist W. M. U. Monday afternoon. Twelve members and three guests, Mrs. Earl Taylor, Mrs. Matthews, and Mrs. Addie Rice were present.

Mrs. John V. Long was in charge of the program which was based on "Love as a Force in Winning Souls to Christ." Mrs. Flippo, Mrs. Roach Mrs. Halliday and Mrs. Elledge taking part.

Refreshments were served by the hostess during the social hour.

MRS. DANIELS GIVES PARTY

Mrs. John Daniels entertained two tables of bridge and eight tea guests at her home Friday evening.

After several games of contract, Mrs. Felix Segui held high honors, Mrs. Robert Bard, second high and Miss Mary Swan Bushart, consolation.

A delicious dessert plate was served at a late hour.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen met at the American Legion cabin. Twenty-one members were present.

Mrs. V. B. Telford, president, discussed plans for the coming year and conducted the business. The door prize was given to Mrs. B. F. Hill.

Victuals, Grub and Food

What we eat may not vary much in calories or vitamins, but it varies enormously in dignity. It is a well-known fact that the very idea of eating is itself capable of many interpretations. Some eat to live, some live to eat, but most of us have abits that lie somewhere between ostentatiousness and gluttony. Similarly, we may not always eat in the same sphere. Sometimes we range from the super-dignified to the eplebeian. I must tell you about these various levels of eating, so that you may know where you are, socially and otherwise.

Most words borrowed from the Latin have a tendency to be dignified, it is otherwise with victuals. It has now fallen on evil days. When you hear it, you recall certain homely foods, foods associated with the old-fashioned country home, with its well-stocked smoke-house and with plenty of frying-sized chickens running around in the front yard. Cabbage and corn-bred and fried ham and fried pies are assured victuals, the kind that Aunt Mary used to cook and serve in abundance rather than in style. You are invited to "take out and help yourself." No napkins are needed, since most of the men at the table have red bandanna handkerchiefs and the ladies wear aprons. The word victuals may sound harsh to modern ears, but to many it brings a watering of the mouth, a longing for "square meals" of other days. The word, though, is "not nire" now and is tolerated only out of courtesy to Grandma. Grub has a plebeian smack, with a half-fellow-well-met sound. Grub is coarse but substantial food, cooked usually by a man for men. It is found at logging camps, at wheat-threshings, at log-rollings (when-ever and wherever such now occur), and at other activities where men are both the workers and the cooks. Potatoes cooked in plenty of grease or boiled in the jackets, beans and bacon, plain hoeecake, and sliced potato pie are grub. You know you are getting enough to eat. Grub tastes better when eaten out of tin pans with iron forks and knives and spoons, with coffee served in tin cups. Table manners were not meant for grub, but many people have lived and died without ever having eaten anything else.

Eats are of recent origin and have a sophisticated air. We could almost say that eats are of college or high school rank. Picnics are responsible for eats. You take along sandwiches and pickles and olives and peanut butter and fancy cakes of all kinds. Eats are served in fiber plates or are eaten right out of the hands. If coffee is on the menu, it appears in paper cups, or if the crowd is select, from actual china. The lunch is not complete without ice cream, served in cones or small cups. Eats are decorous, even to the paper napkins. By a figure of speech or transference of meaning, you may call boarding-house food eats. This should be used sparingly, however, unless it is to designate special preparations on the part of the landlady. Ordinarily it is better to call what is served at the boarding house grub, or, using a par for the whole by another figure of speech, hash.

Fertilized pasture land, properly grazed and managed, will produce an abundance of feed that can largely be harvested by the cattle themselves.

Tennessee farmers used over 420,000 tons of limestone on their lands in 1937. This is 50 per cent more than the amount used last year, and six times the amount used two years ago.

● Picked-Up About Town

As J. B. Casey sees it, doing your best is all right so long as the other fellow's best isn't a little bit better.

"The man who is always trying his hand at something and failing," says Roy Cummings "ought now try using his head."

Another trouble is too many men are in favor of large expenses for good roads until they start improving the ones in front of their farms.

Gene DeMyer says "a ripe old age" is a beautiful thing so long as you are not paying it to an egg.

"Speaking of taxes," says Clarence Reed "Why wouldn't it be a good idea to abolish all the nuisance taxes and tax all the nuisances."

Bobbed hair, a cigarette and a lipstick may make a lot of difference but we don't really know a single man they ever fooled.

Tillman Adams says another thing he has noticed is that quite a few women grow old before their time trying to look young beyond their time.

"What a shock it would be to the coal miners," asserts E. A. Mayfield "if strikes lasted all winter and nobody froze to death."

R. E. Sanford says two problems women didn't have 50 years ago were cigarette stains on their fingers and chapped knees.

WHAT CAUSES 'EM

Motorists who wonder what causes the greatest number of accidents might try listening to Chief Flynn, for 30 years a traffic officer on the Chicago police department. He lists the causes in this order: First, speed; second, booze; third, horns, and fourth, carelessness. It probably will not surprise the average motorist to learn that most mishaps are the result of speed, though many had come to believe that booze had edged into first place within the past year or so. But few can realize that the horn—held by many experts to be an almost unnecessary part of the car—is responsible for so many deaths. Flynn explains that horns confuse both the very young and the very old, and they rush in front of a car instead of away from it. His entire list is interesting and worthy of study, and the part referring to the horn especially. Every motorist should think that over.

THEN AND NOW

In a paper published in an Illinois city we note a comparative market report that ought to be of interest to every citizen of Fulton and especially those who are capable to thinking back to what they now refer to as "the good old days." In one column the paper prints the current market quotations, in an opposite column the prices that prevailed in 1878—sixty years ago. The report shows that in '78 corn was quoted at 18c a bushel; potatoes 15c a bushel; cornmeal, 75c a hundred. But flour was $3.25 a sack. Eggs were bringing 15c a dozen and "frying" chickens $1.50 a dozen. And country school teachers were getting $25 a month. Sixty years is a brief span as measured by old Father Time's yardstick, but when we compare these prices of sixty years ago with the price of the same commodities today it shows that we have come a long way in the matter of increasing the cost of living in a short space of time. And at the present rate it would be interesting to see another comparison, one made sixty years from now.

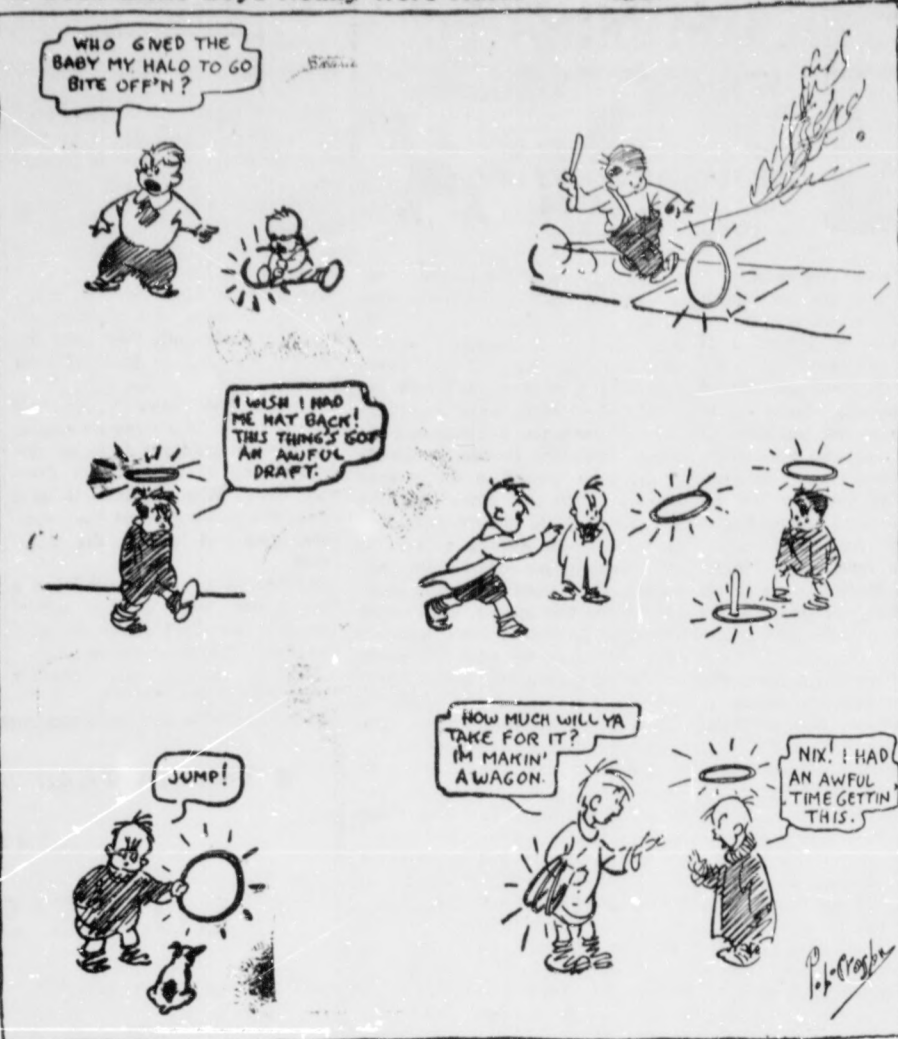

DON'T OVERLOOK IT

As a general rule most people are so busy along about this time of the year trying to get their holiday affairs adjusted and to keeping the home fires burning and the inside of the house comfortably that they are apt to overlook a simple little duty they owe to that army of feathered friends outside who now find pretty hard going. Winter brings much suffering to the birds who elect to spend it around here. With their usual sources of food supply shut off, eking out an existence until the return of spring is a difficult job, and one that hundreds of them are not capable of coping with.

You know the delight they bring you later on, when insects and fruit and berries are plentiful and you know their tremendous worth to you in destroying the insects that would make this bleak old world were it not for them. But you nevertheless are inclined to forget them along about this time of year—the time when they need your help most.

If Good Little Boys Really Wore Halos

By PERCY CROSBY

Start today and throughout the remainder of the winter scatter a few crumbs daily to the birds outside of your home.

ONE WAY TO BOOST

Don't get the impression that because Fulton isn't as big as New York or Chicago that it isn't worth boosting to a stranger. It often happens that you have occasion to converse with a stranger here, but it probably does not always occur to you to speak a few words for the town. He may not think any more to the town when you have finished but he will have a better opinion of you for boosting it. Nothing gives a neighborhood greater favor in the eyes of a stranger than the knowledge that the residents of it are satisfied and are not just "another set of knockers." Speak of the schools and churches and good living conditions of your own community at every opportunity you have to do so—and keep on doing it. You'll be surprised how often a stranger will be interested in what you have to say, and you'll never be able to measure the value of the good things he may also have to say of it as he goes on his way into other communities.

JUST "CHARITY"

Nothing annoys the average business or professional man more than to be approached by someone soliciting ads for a church, school or lodge program. He knows to begin with that it isn't good advertising and he also knows that in 99 out of 100 cases it won't do him a penny's worth of good. But he also knows that back of the solicitation is a sort of threat that "if you don't come across our organization will forget you when it comes to buying what you have to sell." The merchant knows this type of publicity is not advertising, but a form of charity, and while there is no law or local ordinance to prevent such solicitation there should be for the protection of the business and professional men upon whom such expenditures prove a constant and steady drain. Simply because their hands are tied and they dare not say "No" is no reason why such a procedure should be tolerated, and the sooner the organizations engaged in it realize that the better it will be for legitimate forms of advertising—and also for legitimate forms of charity.

EXPENSIVE RATS

Estimates of government agents place the rat population of the U. S. at close to a billion, with an annual food bill of from $250,000,000 to $1,000,000,000. Since each individual supports from two to four rats and that number of rats eats as much as an ordinary cat, the actual expense of maintaining Fulton's rat population is realized.

It is estimated that a good dead rat is worth at least $2 to any community. In addition to the vast quantities of food consumed, rats destroy annually millions of dollars worth of fabrics and furnishings, books and records, to say nothing of buildings rendered uninhabitable by their unwelcome presence. The rat has a gnawing mechanism that rivals the best carpenter's bit, and in some instances has been known to master even soft brick work and lead pipes. Steel, iron, cement and glass, however, are immune to its destructive habits. The mysterious disappearance of valuable papers, and the actual maceration of paper money traced to rats will reach into millions annually.

While in many communities "rat campaigns" are frequently conducted, with a whole neighborhood joining in the slaughter and prizes being offered those killing the most rats, organizing such a drive is not always an easy matter. There is nothing to prevent each individual conducting a constant and never-ceasing warfare of his own against them, however, nor is there anything more profitable. Rid your premises of rats and help your neighborhood do the same thing and you will not only save money but help to advance the health of the community as well.

PAYING THE PASTOR

We do not believe there is a community in the state boasting more conscientious ministers than will be found occupying the pulpits of Fulton and surrounding territory, and we feel sure church-goers who are expected to support these pastors too often overlook the fact that they are the poorest paid men in America.

This statement is made after having read that a recent survey shows that 60 per cent of the ministers of the gospel are receiving less than is earned by the average day-laborer or farm hand. Of the other 40 per cent it would be probably be safe to presume that one-half of them break even with the common laborers as to wages. That would leave 20 per cent of them earning more than we pay men who do not have to spend years in study and preparation for their life-work.

Every resident of this community is invited to give this subject some serious study. Isn't something wrong with a country that pays more for having its ditches dug than for having the souls of its people saved? Or that rewards a man who knows only enough to guide a plow as liberally as it rewards those who guide the nation in the straight and narrow path, and who point the way to higher, better and nobler living? Think it over and then ask yourself this one question: "Am I doing all that I might do and should do to put the preachers of this community on a little better financial footing?"

WHY NOT TRY THIS

Wonder why most people wait until spring to do a lot of odd jobs around the house when they could be done just as well now when there is more time to devote to such things? If there is a little inside painting or varnishing job to do there is no reason why it cannot be attended to, in a lot of instances, during the winter months. Opening the windows at top and bottom an inch or so for a short time in chilly weather won't freeze anybody, and the paint job will dry quickly. And locks and other hardware patching on the inside of the house can be looked after just as well now as in the spring, when there are so many other things demanding attention. The Fulton citizen who accomplishes something along this line now that ordinarily would be put over until spring will find themselves ahead of their neighbors when the regular spring season arrives, and they will also find that they have saved up a lot of energy by doing these jobs during the winter months.

Believe it or not, hundreds of men around Fulton who are sixty years old have been rich if they hadn't dropped it all trying to pick up some more.

YOUNG FOLK WED FOR 12 REASONS OTHER THAN LOVE

Workers in the Abilene, Tex., Taylor county clerk's office worked over the marriage license ledger and then listed 13 reasons why people got married.

- To get a living.
- To avoid income tax.
- To avoid living with the old folks.
- To save the trouble of putting on their best clothes to go courting.
- To get a slice of "Uncle Horace's" estate.
- To get the premium that employers put on married men in salary increases and unemployment liability.
- Just for a lark.
- Curiosity.
- Intoxication.
- In order that they might settle down and quit wasting money.
- To avoid eating in a boarding house.
- From fear that it might be their last opportunity.
- Love also was listed as one of the reasons.

The rising generation seems to know everything but one thing and that is that it pays to be good.

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The Trouble With Being Lionized

By IRVIN S. COBB

A REFORMED post-prandial orator—one who had taken the cure and remained cured—was talking to a group of us the other day. "It wasn't that I got tired of hearing my own voice," he said; "few do. A man can get drunk on his own eloquence and become a confirmed inebriate. What checked me in my nefarious career was that I finally became cognizant through the haze of vanity which had been blinding me of the expressions that spread over the faces of the other guests when the toastmaster, making his introduction, pronounced my well-known name.

"In illustration of the point I'm trying to make, I may call your attention to an historic example. Have you fellows ever seen copies of that celebrated painting of Daniel in the Lion's Den? Well, did you happen to notice the happy, satisfied expression on the Prophet's face? You did, eh? Well, don't you see how that proves what I have been trying to do? Daniel looks pleased because he knows he's about to be present at one dinner where he won't have to listen to any of the after-dinner speeches."

Capitol Comments

News that Governor Chandler has just about made up his mind to run for the Senate against the incumbent, Alben W. Barkley, Democratic Floor Leader and Kentucky's senior Senator in Washington, has set tongues wagging here in Frankfort. Everybody in and around the Capitol accepts it as a foregone conclusion that the Governor will run against Barkley despite the fact that neither the Governor nor any of his political advisors have said that he would run. Not one word has been issued officially that the voters could expect to have Chandler as one of the entries in the August primary. So far as that is concerned, neither has Barkley officially indicated that he would seek the nomination. However, in both cases it is not necessary to stage a flood to let one know that it has been raining. The nearest thing to an official word that the Governor might run came from Lt. Governor Keen Johnson when he declined to accept an invitation to a dinner in Louisville in honor of Senator Barkley. Governor Johnson told Judge Elwood Hamilton that he would decline the bid because it appeared to him that Governor Chandler and Senator Barkley would engage in a vigorous contest in August and that, as President of the Senate and a part of the present State Administration, he thought it best not to attend a function where praise was to be heaped on Barkley. The Kentucky General Assembly last week petitioned President Roosevelt to name M. M. Logan, Junior Senator from Kentucky, to the Supreme Court bench to replace Justice George Sutherland who retired January 15th. However, the President appointed Stanley Reed, a native Kentuckian, to the post. If the Governor decides to enter the Senate race there is little doubt but he will enter into a long and strenuous campaign. Chandler is a wheel horse in such political endeavors and his statewide popularity cannot be denied. He would enter the race an ardent New Dealer who has backed the President in all of his policies. It might be noted here that the Governor has run three previous races for political office and has battled 1,000 in the political league.

"THE NEWS" WEEKLY SCRAPBOOK

WEEK'S BEST RECIPE

Cherry Pudding—1-2 cup quick cooking tapioca; 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1 teaspoon salt; 1-4 teaspoon nutmeg; 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon; 2 cups canned sour cherries, drained; 3 cups water and cherry juice; 1 tablespoon lemon juice; 2 tablespoons melted butter. Combine ingredients in greased baking dish. Mix thoroughly. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F) 30 minutes, or until done, stirring every ten minutes and again when removing from oven. Serve in deep dishes. This recipe serves eight.

THE STYLIST SAYS

Bands play quite a big role this season, especially glittery ones. A little afternoon frock of black crepe has bands of black sequins across its bodice. The same model may be had in dark blue with iridescent sequins. Other frocks have bands of sequins at the neck and at the hem.

THE BEAUTY DOCTOR

This is the season when hands suffer most, so here is a lotion you can prepare yourself that has no equal for rough and chapped hands: Soak 60 grains of gum tragacanth in 14 ounces of strong rosewater for three days. Add one ounce of alcohol, one ounce of glycerine and a few drops of your favorite perfume. Oil of rose geranium added to the rosewater will make the preparation pleasantly fragrant. Keep in jars in which you can dip your fingertips.

KITCHEN KINKS

Scrape dough from a rolling pin and wipe with a dry towel instead of washing it. A potato cut in half and dipped in scouring powder is a good agent for scouring knives and other cutlery and saves the dishcloth. Trim a worn whisk broom to make an excellent brush to scrub food from kettles.

ON WASH DAY

A few tablespoons of glycerine added to the last rinse when washing woollens prevents the garment from scratching when worn. Always have each water the same temperature when washing woollens as it is the change from warm to cold water that shrinks them.

AN INSPIRATION

Little by little our tasks are done; So is the crown of the faithful won So is heaven in our hearts begun.

No Change In Rate Of Old-Age Insurance

There is no change in the 1938 rate of contribution for old-age insurance, it was announced today by R. A. Tweedy, manager of the Paducah field office of the social security board.

"This year and next the employee and employer continue to contribute one percent each for old-age insurance," Mr. Tweedy said.

"One percent is deducted from the wages of all persons who are employed in occupations covered by the social security act. A like amount is added by the employer, the combined contributions being sent to the United States collector of internal revenue each quarter, instead of monthly as heretofore.

"Contributions for the first three months of 1938 are due not later than April 30 under this arrangement," Mr. Tweedy added.

He said the social security act provides for an increase in employer-employee contributions to 1 1-2 per cent starting January 1, 1940. Contribution rates under the various unemployment compensation laws reach their maximum this year, Mr. Tweedy reported.

In Region V, which is the social security unit under which the Paducah office is operated, are three states, Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky. The unemployment compensation laws of those states provide the following state contribution rates for 1938: Michigan, employers 3 per cent; Ohio, employers, 2.7 percent; Kentucky, employers 2.7 percent, employees 1 percent. In all three states a contribution of three-tenths of one percent of the payroll is payable to the United States collector of Internal Revenue.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientists, throughout the world on Sunday, January 23.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus . . . If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," (John 8:31, 32.)

This includes Christian Science Society, Fulton, Ky., which holds regular services Sunday at 11:00 A. M., and Testimonial Meeting, Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. Reading Room at 211 Carr Street open Wednesday and Saturday from 2 to 4 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend these services and to visit the Reading Room where The Bible and authorized Christian Science literature may be read, borrowed or purchased.

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Un- author of mortal discords. There- less an ill is rightly met and fairly overcome by Truth, the ill is never conquered. . . God is not the author of mortal discords. There- fore we accept the conclusion that discords have only a fabulous existence, are mortal beliefs which divine Truth and Love destroy" (p. 231).

POULTRY THAT PAYS

About this time every year we begin to plan our coming poultry flock. If the past year has been a favorable one, we buy well bred chicks from some hatchery that has been carrying on the breeding and testing work that is too expensive for the average farmer to do. If the year has been a poor one, the majority of us set a few hens and raise a batch of chicks of all different ages. These chicks are hatched from eggs laid by birds that have not been carefully culled for egg production. Some of the chicks will be from birds that may only lay the month or two that setting eggs are being gathered. The egg production from such chicks will be low. The death loss resulting from the White Diarrhoea of untested stock will be high. And, even though the coming year brings high egg and meat prices and low feed costs, the birds from the in- bred, untested flock can not possibly make a profit.

An egg right now, at the lowest price in a year, is worth 1 1-2 cents. Six eggs will pay for a well bred hatchery chick. Such a chick will lay dozens of eggs more than a poorly bred one, thus more than paying for itself.

It costs no more to feed a well-bred chick than a scrub. Therefore it is common sense and practical farming to breed your flock up by buying good stock so that they have to make a profit, rather than breed them down, to save a few cents chick cost, and make it impossible for your flock to pay for themselves.

Home Agent Leaves For Farm Home Meet

Catherine Thompson, Home Demonstration Agent, will leave Monday, January 24th for Lexington, Ky., where she and seven delegates will attend Farm and Home week which will be held at the University of Kentucky. They plan to return Saturday, January 29th.

Those planning to attend are: Mrs. Clarence Caldwell, Palestine; Mrs. J. B. Inman, Lodgeston; Mrs. Dean Collier, McFadden; Mrs. W. C. Sowell, Jorlan; Miss Linnie Threlkeld, Montgomery; Mrs. Paul Williams and Mrs. Will McClanahan, Crutchfield.

SPARKS of WISDOM

The farmer raises his own feed stuff and his own foodstuff and cuts down expenses. It's the Ford-stuff that causes him to worry. Ever notice that when the average Fulton man gets fired he always wants you to know what an "onery character" he had for a boss.

It's pretty hard to trust the man who can smile when he reads that some millionaire has been stricken with a serious ailment.

Some married people find it so hard to stir up a fight that they even quarrel over how to make each other happy.

All that some women around Fulton think about is pleasure—and about all the pleasure some of them get is in thinking about it.

About the only way coffee will break down your health is through losing sleep in trying to find a decent cup of it.

Still another question that bothers about nine-tenths of the people around Fulton is how any of the other nine-tenths manage to get along without an automobile.

The cost of government may not be more than government is worth, but it's more than the kind we quite often get is worth.

The modern bride's idea of back-breaking work is having to operate a can opener while her husband is around to do it for her.

Every Fulton husband knows that even if his wife smoked and he didn't he'd still be blamed for getting ashes on the rug.

As a general thing, the rumor that has to be denied as many as four times usually turns out to be true.

Still Coughing?

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

NERVOUS?

DO you feel so nervous that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable—times when you could scold those who are dearest to you?

If your nerves are on edge, try that world-famous LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It will help Nature calm your quivering nerves and give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.
