JAMES WANTS TO BE SENATOR.

Is An Avowed Candidate With Possibly Others In The Field.

Washington Jan. 3.—Kentucky is facing a bitter fight over the election of a United States Senator to succeed Senator Thos. H. Paynter. On the surface there are but two candidates for the office, Senator Paynter and Representative Ollie M. James.

Kentucky Democrats in the house, who are in close touch with the senatorial situation at home, are authority for the statement that while Paynter is apparently being supported by J. C. W. Beckham, formerly governor of the state, and John C. C. Mayo, a millionaire lumber dealer and oil producer, both men are putting the Paynter candidacy forward to cover up their own movement to split the democratic vote between Paynter and James with a view to deadlocking the legislature and then come out into the open.

Senator Paynter is confident that he will have the support of Beckham and Mayo in the finish. Men in close touch with the situation assert, however, that the senator is in a most peculiar position. They declare that, although he is slated for defeat, he will be in position to name his own successor.

The plan as outlined here is to divide the members of the legislature between James and Paynter. When it becomes evident that Paynter can't be re-elected, Mayo and Beckham will enter the fight as compromise candidates, with an agreement to assist each other and to keep the senatorship away from James.

Of the four candidates for the senate, Senator Paynter openly and Mayo and Beckham as dark horses, only Representative James is in favor of submitting his candidacy to a popular vote of the people. This proposition was put up to the Democratic State committee and rejected, so that the election of a United States senator will rest with the legislature, where Paynter, Mayo and Beckham are supposed to be stronger than James.

The James followers are confident that in the end Senator Paynter will deliver his votes to James, thereby interfering once more with the senatorial ambitions of Mayo and Beckham.

REPORT FROM FRANKFORT SAYS O'REAR WILL RUN.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 7.—It is being stated by prominent Republican leaders here that Judge E. C. O'Rear, of Montgomery county, has made up his mind to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor before a state convention of the party. Judge O'Rear is assured of strong support, especially outside the cities, and from the wing of the party that is not within the influence of Senator Bradley.

The Senator is said to have remarked some time ago that O'Rear would be the ideal candidate but for his views on the liquor question, and he will throw his influence toward the nomination of W. H. Cox, of Mason.

TRIGG TRAGEDY HOLIDAY WEEK.

Andrew Dixon Killed With Knife In Hands Of Calvin Calhoun.

Trigg county did not pass through the holidays without an unfortunate tragedy, and as a result one young man lies in the cold grave while another is in the clutches of the law and must answer the charge of murder.

The unfortunate trouble occurred on Christmas night at the home of Bob Williams, who lives on what is generally known as the old Holland place on Donaldson creek about five miles east of Canton.

Quite a number of young people of the neighborhood had met at the home of Mr. Williams to spend an evening in pleasant association. Among those who were present were Andrew Dixon, known to his intimate friends as "Jack" and Calvin Calhoun, son of Ricks Calhoun, of near Canton.

Just two years ago young Calhoun had engaged in a difficulty with his first cousin, Jim Calhoun, son of W. S. Calhoun, and the young man, who had been fined for the offense, had recently arranged to pay the fine, he having escaped from the officers at the time. Calvin was sitting in the lap of his cousin with whom he had the difficulty two years before, and it was suggested that they go out of the house and talk the matter over. They did so, and it is reported by one side of the affair that they were heard to be talking loud, and young Dixon stepped out of the house and walked up to where the boys were and asked them not to start a difficulty, and instantly Calhoun turned on him with his knife and cut him so severely that he died on Monday night about seven o'clock. Another report is to the effect that when Dixon walked up to where the boys were, Calvin Calhoun said to his cousin Jim in substance that the trouble two years before had made a man of him, and that Dixon immediately replied that if it had not they could then and there, and struck at Calhoun with his knife, and to save himself Calhoun cut Dixon so severely that he died twenty-four hours after. —Cadiz Record.

GROWERS ARE AFTER TRUSTS.

Again Attempting Organization And Vote To Cut Out 1911 Crop.

Lexington, Ky., Jan. 10.—With enthusiastic cheers of approval the Burley Tobacco Growers' Convention in session here Thursday, by practically a unanimous standing vote, decided to "cut out" the 1911 crop. Owing to the tremendous crowd, which was to large for the courtroom, the convention had to adjourn in the opera house, where fully one thousand delegates, growers and spectators faced Chairman June W. Gayle, who presided at the meeting.

Col. Harry Weissinger, formerly of Louisville, but now of Shelby county, was the principal speaker at the opening session. He declared that the only immediate remedy for the tobacco growers was the "cutting out" of the 1911 crop. Judge Ben F. Hill, of Henry; the Hon. J. N. Kehoe, of Mason, and others made strong speeches approving the elimination of the next year's crop. The utmost harmony and good feeling characterized the convention and the slogan seems to be "get together."

The new organization started by the independent Burley tobacco growers was finally launched last night by the formation of an advisory board composed of one member from each county. This board met here today to complete the organization, elect a president and other officers of the new body, formulate articles of incorporation and definitely decide whether there shall be a pool or cut out in 1911.

Gaskins Sent to Asylum.

Dresden, Tenn.—Tom Gaskins, aged 73 years, who a short time ago carried away Miss Lizzie McDaniel, aged 18 years, to Paris, Tenn., where they were married, was today tried on a writ of lunacy and declared of unsound mind. Since he was arrested and brought here following his senseless matrimonial escapade the old man has been in jail here. Fifty witnesses testified in the case.

The lunacy proceedings were instituted by the son of the old man, Jim Gaskins, whose purpose in doing so, it is said, was to prevent the young bride from retaining possession of his property, she having made it a condition of her marriage that he bequeath to her his property. In compliance with this demand the old man made a will bequeathing to her his estate, and the young lady now has the will in her possession.

Gaskins was committed to the asylum at Bolivar.

On last Monday, after the lunacy was prepared and recorded, Gaskins was tried on the charge of abduction and his bond fixed at $2,000, but he remained in jail.

He had been in ill health for some time and only recently suffered a slight stroke of paralysis and afterward developed pneumonia from the effects of which he died. Mr. Scott served with credit in the Confederate army and was a native of Calloway county and his death brings much sorrow to all who knew him. He is survived by five children, four sons, Dummas, M. ## VITAL STATISTICS LAW IN EFFECT.

Certificates Of Death, Birth And Burial Permits Must Be Issued.

The State Board of Health has supplied all the physicians, cemetery sextons, undertakers, etc., with blanks to be used in case of death or birth and the bureau of vital statistics will see that the new law is observed to the letter. The undertaker is supplied with a book of certificates and the place of birth, voting precinct, in case of death. The occupation, cause of death, name, age and birth place of parents and dozens of other questions. This is the case also with the physicians and cemetery sextons. And the sextons are instructed most emphatically to allow nobody to be buried unless a permit is given and carefully and correctly filled out in each instance.

The appointments of persons to keep a record of the births and deaths in Calloway and by whom certificates are issued was announced last week and are as follows:

D. L. Redden, E. and W. Murray and Fair; Arthur B. Perry, Hazel; Otis Stubblefield, N. and S. Concord; Toy McCuiston, S. Liberty; Thos. M. Jones, N. Liberty; Jas. W. Craig, Almo; Jas. W. Clark, Jackson; C. C. Smith, N. Brinkley; T. J. Wright, Coldwater; A. J. Myers, N. Brinkley; John Carlton, S. Swann.

This new law went into effect the first of January and until the people become acquainted with the law it will cause considerable worry and inconvenience.

Precise statement of occupation is very important, so that the relative healthfulness of various pursuits can be known. The question applies to each and every person, irrespective of age. For many occupations a single word or term will be sufficient as farmer or planter, physician, compositor, architect, locomotive engineer, civil engineer, but in many cases, especially in industrial employments it is necessary to know the kind of work and also the nature of the business or industry, as examples, spinner, cotton mill, grocery salesman. Women at home, who are engaged in the duties of the household only (not paid housekeepers who receive a salary), may be entered as housewife, housework or at home. As to the cause of death, the physicians must be very definite in synonyms, etc. Where the correct information is not given the certificates will be returned for additional information which give any of the following diseases, without explanation as the sole cause of death: Abortion, cellulitis, childbirth, convulsions, hemorrhage, gangrene, gastritis, erysipelas, meningitis, necrosis, peritonitis, phlebitis, pyaemia, septicaemia, tetanus.

IS NOW FIRST LADY

Girl of 16 Presides Over Oklahoma's Executive Mansion.

Governor's Motherless Daughter, Who is a Half-Blood Indian, Assumes Duties Ordinarily Devolving on an Older Person.

Armore, Okla.—Oklahoma's new "first lady," mistress of the executive mansion and debutante daughter of Gov. Lee Cruce, is a half-blood Indian.
Her mother has been dead since she was a little girl and her father has devoted himself to his daughter, who is now a student in Hargrove college, this city.

Miss Lorena Jane Cruce is the full name of the young girl. She is only sixteen years old, but the absence of anybody else to take charge of the social and domestic affairs of the executive mansion makes it necessary for the governor's daughter to step to the front and assume the duties ordinarily devolving on an older person.

Cruce was married in 1892 to Chickie Le Fure, a full-blood Chick-saw-Choctaw Indian of the noted Le Fure family of Carter county. She was conceded to be one of the most beautiful girls in that section of the territory. She and her sister were known throughout the southern part of the state as "Chickie and Chickie."
The mother of the girls was a Chick-saw and the father a Choctaw. Mrs.
Cruce, who died eight years ago, inherited the facial characteristics of the Chickasaws and was named
"Chickie," while the name, "Chickie," was given to the other twin, who resembled the father's race, the Choctaws.

Cruce came to the Indian territory from Kentucky in 1891 and settled at Armore. He had studied law at Vanderbilt university. He went into the office of his brother, A. C. Cruce, who had preceded him from Kentucky, and they formed a partnership with W. B. Johnson, former United States attorney of the Indian territory district. The law firm was known as Cruce, Johnson & Cruce until A. C.

Miss Lorena J. Cruce.

Cruce became the federal district attorney under President Cleveland. W. J.
Cruce, a brother, who had gone to Texas, came to Armore then and the new firm became known as Cruce, Cruce & Cruce.

Leo Cruce remained a member of the firm until 1901, when he organized the Armore National bank and was chosen cashier. He was elected president of the institution in 1903, and held the position until January 1, 1910, when he resigned to make the race for governor.

A Life for a Life.
Cape Town, Africa.—Everywhere in New Guinea the traveler is continually brought face to face with death, and the natives are devoid of the slightest pity or respect for the dead or dying, although after a death they will often wail and mourn for a considerable time. Murder is an everyday occurrence, and nothing could be worse than the morals of the natives.
In fact, they have none; they thieves and lie with a persistence and confidence which is surprising.

The Papuans have a cheerful custom which demands a life for a life; should anyone die, at the first opportunity they kill someone—they are not very particular whom to make up for it. When the account is settled, everybody—except, presumably, the victim's friends—are satisfied.

New Field for Women.
New York.—Many large real estate firms in New York, Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia and Washington are employing women in skyscrapers to keep an eye on things. They are better than men in this respect, it is contended. The pioneer in this new field for women came from Chicago and got a position as general superintendent in a New York office building. She regulates the sweepers, dustmen and even the employees below the earth line, including firemen, and so forth.
One duty of this big woman is to show vacant rooms. The agent of the building says she works wonders. A pretty and attractive young woman, who persuasively relates all the conveniences of her building—how cleanly are its attendants, how regular its elevator and janitors—can fill up any sort of office.

Be'sun and Sir John Fisher.

he was most inaccessible. One day an an interview.

"Tell him to go to hell," roared Sir John.

"Aye, aye, sir," piped the boatman, who stood in the doorway at a respectful salute. "I know I meet you there, sir, but I want to talk to you now, too."

The Difficulty.
"Life ain't nothin' but disappoint-

"Cheer up," urged the Cheerful Idiot. "Didn't yer git $50 for puttin' yer picture in the paper as havin' bin cured o' all yer ills by Buak's pills?"

"Yes, I did. An' now all my relaxers are gone, so why I don't go to work, how 'd I be cured?"

NEVER GOT TO KNOW HIM

Seemingly, This Husband Was Somewhat of a Hard Man to Get Acquainted With.

"I met a queer old woman character on the train between here and Buffalo one morning," remarked Police Judge McGannon when talk had drifted around to queer people one evening. "She was traveling with her brown son, whom I had met in the smoking compartment, and later on I got talking with the old lady. She spoke of several people she knew here in Cleveland."

"Did you ever happen to know
James H. Boardman?" I asked. "I occasionally judge from something she had said that she did know him."

"She saved me a strange sort of a look," she replied. "I don't know whether to say I know that man or not. He's a queer sort, you understand—the kind of a man that nobody really knows. Why, I was married to James Boardman, and lived with him for four years, but I never felt that I was really acquainted with him."

"And the funny part of it," added McGannon, "was the woman was in deadly earnest about it. She didn't make the remark by way of springing any comedy at all."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Due Precautions.
In a town in Georgia there was an old preacher whose knowledge of the world was not wide nor deep, but who concocted it to be a place where, if one should trust his fellow men, he should at the same time keep an eye on his own interests.

One hot day he pulled off his coat and preached a vigorous sermon, under the pines, in his shirt sleeves. At the close of the open-air service one of his admirers approached him and said, regretfully:

"I don't suppose that you knew that the editor of one of the big New York Sunday papers was here when you pulled off your coat."

"I reckon I knew it well, for I'd been told of it," said the preacher, calmly. "I don't believe he's as bad as he might be, and anyway, I put my coat on the chair close by and had it right under my eye all the time."—

"Yes, very dangerous," Backstay

RUNNING AS A DEACON.

The Lyon county Herald will not let the fact that Sugar Glenn is a Sunday school teacher and a deacon in the church be obscured from the public any great length of time and only last week has the following to say regarding Fig Newton's candidate for the State Senate:

"Hon. Seldon R. Glenn, the nominee for the Senate from this district, was, last Sunday, re-elected Superintendent of the Sunday School by acclamation and also for his efficiency in office and faithful service, was presented a beautiful silver pitcher by the school. Surely that such a man has been made the nominee of his party for the important office of State Senator is no mistake or mark of bad judgment."

It must be said that it is to Sugar Glenn's credit that he is a Sunday school teacher and a deacon in the church, but when this fact is persistently paraded before a thinking public as a vote catching scheme it becomes nauseating. Sugar Glenn, we take it for granted, is an ornament to his Sunday School, but the fact remains that he accepted a fake nomination for the State Senate at the hands of a gang of political pirates and cut-throats, aided and abetted by the booze bloats of Paducah, and this does not redound to his credit as a Sunday school teacher and deacon. We sincerely hope that Sugar Glenn will not develop into a church member similar to some we have in Murray who have been political wire pulling through the pulpits for the past several years. False piety and a long face one day and six days devoted to flirting with the devil does not hoodwink the righteous or blind-fold the devil.

The democratic state executive committee, at a meeting in Louisville last week called a state primary election for the purpose of nominating candidates for the various state offices. The date of the primary was fixed for May 27th. Every newspaper in the state that is opposed to the people having a choice as to who shall be their state servants is now devoting much space to abusing the committee for giving the people this opportunity to have an expression in their own affairs. These papers would turn the matter into the hands of a gang of cut-throats and bullies that the rank and file might be compelled to bow the head and bend the knee that favor might follow fawning. The booze element wanted a convention in order to force Boozie Champion Ben Johnson upon the party as a candidate for governor. The committee is to be congratulated upon its decision and the common people, who for years have been trampled under foot and driven with whip and lash like dumb brutes and made to endorse the outrages of political pirates, who have been forced to swallow every nauseous dose prepared by the gang and their cussed and abused if protest is made that it wasn't palatable, who have been beamed with the filth and slime of the corrupt coterie domineering the commonwealth, are now rejoicing and when the time arrives will nominate a clean set of men who can be elected by the party.

or the people wanted. The Herald makes honest confession in the following editorials which appeared in its last week's issue:

"We wanted a convention and got a primary and we are too loyal a Democrat to kick."

"The State Central Committee seemed to know that the masses wanted a primary and gave them what they wanted."

Other papers of the state now kicking because of the action of the executive committee are not honest enough to make a similar admission. It is a fact, however, that these same papers are always found opposed to that which the people want and are justly entitled to. Old gag and gang rule is long ago dead and has been buried with all respect due, and the rank and file will never again submit to a similar yoke. We congratulate the Herald upon its frank expression and would advise that it stand for the people upon every issue in the future. Be their friend and they will in return be your friend.

One year of ruinous prices was sufficient to convince the growers of Burley tobacco that without organization they were at the mercy of the trust. While it was a costly experiment and the independent grower, who in the past refused to pool his tobacco with the old organization of the district, was the first fellow to cry out for help and a new pool. It is a splendid illustration of what may be expected in the dark tobacco belt should the association fail because of insufficient acres pledged to control the price, and as in the Burley district so would it be in this district, the fellow on the outside would be the first to cry for help. The right thing, the righteous thing and the honorable thing for every tobacco producer to do is to get into the association and help his neighbor bear the burden of maintaining the price. Failure of the Burley pool the past year has cost the producers of that type of tobacco hundreds of thousands of dollars and a like calamity would befall the growers of dark tobacco should the association fail to control a sufficient acreage to fix the price.

MOLASSES.

Seldon Glenn told Capt. Stone, Judge T. P. Gray, Denny P. Smith, and perhaps others that it was Mott Ayres who first started the movement to put him (Glenn) in the State Senate. The Eddyville Herald, in its last issue, says that "the Herald knows of a truth that Col. Mott Ayres had nothing whatever to do with putting S. R. Glenn in this Senatorial race. But what does this bunch who are behind him say by telling a lot of lies if by so doing they can get their man in the State Senate of Kentucky."—Cadin Record.

Sugar Glenn, deacon in the church and Sunday school teacher, nominee of the Paducah whiskey bloats for the state senate from the Third Senatorial District, is mighty liable to get his molasses mixed with booze if he or the gang don't tell the same story. Sugar Glenn is so sweet that he is liable to tell the truth occasionally if the whiskey bloats fail to keep their collar around his neck tightened to the last notch.

WE'RE STILL STANDING.

The farmers of Calloway county made Editor O. J. Jennings, of The Murray Ledger, a New Year's present of a fine gold watch as a token of their friendship for him and for the good work he has done during the past few years in the interest of the farmers of Calloway county. Mr. Jennings has stood nobly by the interest of the people of that county and for good honest government. We are glad to see his services recognized by the farmers of Calloway county. Mayfield Messenger.

The Paducah whiskey steam roller has been taken down from Eddyville to Paducah for repairs. Wonder where it will be sent to next? It was rather a failure on its first trip. — Calvert City Times Understand the gang's going to convert the old junk into a snow plow. Goin' to take something of the sort to get 'em out from under the avalanche that's cummin'.

Hon. Denny P. Smith.

In a letter to the editor of the Ledger Hon. Denny P. Smith, commonwealth's attorney of the Third Judicial District, says that he is receiving daily urgent requests to make the race for attorney general of the state in the forthcoming primary which is to be held May 27th. Mr. Smith is one of the most widely known attorneys of the state and during his administration as prosecuting attorney has built up a splendid reputation. He states, however, that he expects to make an early trip over his district and that if his constituency objects to his surrendering his present place that he will accede to the wishes of the people and remain as commonwealth's attorney until his present term is served out. Mr. Smith has many friends in this county who would be glad to see him make the race and would lend him every support possible. He will make known his intentions at an early date.

ESTEEMED CHRISTIAN WOMAN PASSES TO REWARD.

Mrs. Wm. Diuguid, one of the oldest ladies of the county, died very suddenly Wednesday at about 12 o'clock of heart failure. She was living at the old home place a few miles north of town. She was 84 years of age and her sudden death came as a severe shock to the family. She was able to be up and about the house as usual and only a few minutes before her death spoke to a member of the family stating that she was not feeling well and after laying down expired within a few minutes.

She was a native of Franklin, Ky., and moved to this county in early life where she was married to Wm. Diuguid, who preceded her the grave several years ago. She was the mother of nine children, seven of whom survive her. They are E. S. Guthrie, "Billie" and Beckham Diuguid, and Mrs. Bourland, of this county. G. C. Diuguid, of Paducah, and P. A. Diuguid, of Quinton, Ok.

Mrs. Diuguid was a member of the Christian church and was a most devoted christian woman, a splendid neighbor and one of the best mothers the world ever saw. Her death, while it came in the late afternoon of life, brings grief and sorrow.

The funeral services were held Thursday afternoon by Elder Alexander after which the remains were laid away to await the call of God in the City Cemetery.

Hood—Phillips Wedding.

The home of C. M. Hood and wife on Institute street was the scene of a most beautiful and impressive wedding ceremony last Wednesday evening at seven thirty o'clock.

The bride, Lula Virginia Hood, is one of the most popular school teachers of the county and very popular with the younger set in this, her home town.

Robert Crouch Phillips, the groom, is a most estimable young man and a successful merchant of Staten, Tenn.

Rev. Watson Hood, an uncle of the bride, from Mayfield, performed the wedding ceremony which made these two one.

The bride who is a handsome brunette, was handsomely and becomingly gowned in champagne duchess satin, trimmed with spangled net, gold bead fringe, passementerie, and with touches of pink chiffon in the trimmings. Her going away costume is a castor and brown tailored suit with the accessories to match. She carried a handsome bouquet of bride roses with shower of lilies of the valley.

The large display of presents in cut glass, silver, linen, and china showed the esteem in which the bride was held and another large display of presents awaits them in their new home from the friends of the groom.

They will leave for their new home in Staten next Friday afternoon.

CITY SUES FOR BACK TAXES.

Would Collect More Than $130,000 From Distilleries and Warehouse Company.

Frankfort.—City Attorney Frank M. Dalley filed suit in the circuit court for the city against the Kentucky Distilleries & Warehouse Co. for back taxes on storage accounts alleged to have accrued while the warehouse company had its main offices here.

The total amount sued for is $116,297 with a 5 per cent penalty and 8 per cent interest, which would bring the total up to a little over $129,000.

These are the same storage accounts upon which the county of Franklin brought suit several months ago and for which Judge Hicatt gave judgment in favor of the county. The fire originated from a spark which ignited the fireworks, and in a few moments the time several hundred dollars had been consumed in the explosives, reports of which were heard for several blocks. The lives of the firemen were considerably endangered during the explosion of huge cannon crackers and they could not approach the building until the bombardment had subsided.

D. C. Wiggins is proprietor of the grocery. Several people who were in the store when the fire broke out tried to make their exit at the back way, due to fire having them cut off from the front.

A RIPE OLD AGE.

Frankfort.—On the anniversary of her one hundred and eighth Christmas eve, Mrs. Jane Arven, the oldest white woman in Central Kentucky, died here. She has been for years the most accurate encyclopedia of the early history of Frankfort.

She rode on the first steam train to leave Frankfort, and was present at the dedication of every capital erected here. She could recall when citizens of Franklin county birds lay at the wharves selling them to Christmas services, fearing attacks of the Indians.

KENTUCKY SOIL SURVEY.

Frankfort.—The annual report of the chief of the bureau of soils of the United States Department of Agriculture, shows that during the past fiscal year a soil survey was made of Rockcastle county, Kentucky, covering an area of 161 square miles, or 1,414,400 acres surveyed by the bureau in Kentucky to date. Besides Rockcastle county the following counties have been surveyed: McCracken, Madison, Mason, Scott, Union and Warren.

SECRETARYSHIP IN JAPAN.

Frankfort.—A Christmas present of a great surprise, but also a pleasant one, on account of the honor which goes with it, has been conferred on Stanley Harris, secretary of the Frankfort Y. M. C. A. He received a telegram offering him the secretaryship of a Y. M. C. A. in Japan. There are only eight secretaries there, one having been added recently. Mr. Harris is offered the newly-created place. He will be located in a city of 200,000.

POPULARIZING THE POTATO.

Paris.—When potatoes were introduced into France the natives had been told they were poisonous and that it was death to partake of them. To overcome this prejudice Parisian gave a big banquet in Paris, at which every dish was made from potatoes. There were 16 courses in which potatoes played the major or minor part. Even the brandy and liqueurs were the product of this vegetable. King Louis XIII. was among the guests and gave his host a letter in which to cultivate potatoes near Paris. As the tubers grew to size the Parisian posted guards around the fields by day and withdrew them at night so that those who lived around the vegetable and thus become convinced so unconsciously, the French were converted to the dish and never gave it up.

LONE PIGEON LEFT

One Ohio Bird Survives Breed of Several Billions.

Endling, Mar. Days in the Cincinnati Zoological Garden is All That Remains of a Species Once Numerous.

Cincinnati, O.—One solitary passenger pigeon, ending her life at the Cincinnati Zoological Garden in Cincinnati, is today all that remains of an American species that early in the last century swarmed over the continent in flocks numbering billions. With the death of this sole survivor of a bird tribe whose nesting places often covered hundreds of square miles, there will soon disappear the last race of the wild pigeons that have been slaughtered by the million by men who fed their flocks upon the carcasses they could not carry away. Though it is too late to save this species, special efforts are now being made by the Audubon workers to bring about the resurrection of other birds of economic value that must otherwise share the same fate.

For many months systematic search has been made throughout the continent by officials of the Audubon association for relics of the once-prolific passenger pigeon. Members of the organization headed by Prof. C. F. Hodge of Clark university have made a standing offer of $1,500 to anyone discovering a nest of this species; but, though thousands have been trying eagerly for the prize, not one single claimant has appeared. In response to a recent inquiry by T. Gilbert Pearson, secretary of the National Association of Audubon societies, the authorities of the Cincinnati Zoo have just furnished the last chapter in the tragic tale of these butchered birds. The "Last of the Passenger Pigeons" is a female, eight years old, whose mate died recently without issue at the age of twenty-four.

As late as 1877 what is now known to have been the last nesting place of these wild birds was found in the state of Michigan, where their nests thickly covered the trees over an area 28 miles long and four miles wide. Residents of New York declare that in 1820 they flocked over Manhattan Island in such numbers that they obscured the sun and that ships landed in bulk with the bodies of these birds lay at the wharves selling them at a cent apiece. Audubon is quoted as observing a roosting place of wild pigeons in Kentucky early in the last century that extended 40 miles and was three miles in width. On its edges men with guns, nets, clubs and torches slaughtered the roosting birds, each often bagging 500 in one day.

Declaring that practically all the guilts and terns in America today have survived solely through the work of protection and restoration at their reservations, leaders of the National Association of Audubon societies are now appealing to the people of the country to support the work of preserving dying species of native birds which they have already begun. The Upland Plover, Cabot's Tern and the Least Tern, they assert, can now be saved to the nation by quick emergency measures for which special funds are to be raised.

A Poetry Problem.

"Which is correct," said the summer boarder who wished to stir his knowledge, "to speak of a sitting hen or a setting hen?"

"A setting hen," replied the farmer. But there's one thing I don't care. But there's one thing I would like to know—when a hen cackles, has she been laying, or is she winging?"

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS THAT WILL HELP THE HOSTESS

A Jelly Out-Door Party.
This was a decided success, for the children were so enthusiastic. The affair took place in the country, but I do not think a city back yard at a park would fall short of the requirements. Of course, all depends upon the weather, for this party requires snow and a frozen pond, if possible. The hours were from five to eight, and it was quite dark when the youngsters assembled. The mothers had been instructed to dress the little guests, who were from ten to fourteen, very warmly with sweaters and mittens. Japanese lanterns were strung all over the lawn and twinkled brightly in the darkness; then there were huge bonfires built along the edge of the pond with caretakers to watch for sparks. There were skating races, running races, tobogganing and a merry game of hare and hounds, with red confetti for "scat." The last stunt was storming a snow fort, the children being divided into two sides, white men and "Indians." After this excitement they were called in to a supper consisting of piping hot oyster soup, hot buttered crackers, olives, turkey sandwiches, then ice cream in shape of snow balls with a little flag in the top of each ball; the cakes were balls, too, rolled in coconut form and then in sweet chocolate. A big sleigh took all the children home, each with a tin horn which was tied with scarlet ribbon. The horns were presented when good-bys were said.

A January Luncheon.
This pretty luncheon was hastily arranged in honor of a friend who was going away, and by accident the hostess learned the day set for her entertainment was also her friend's birthday. As the guests were all very intimate friends and only too glad of the opportunity to show some attention to the departing guest, they all contributed a small sum with which the hostess purchased a charming net parpin. It was tied to a bouquet of red roses. On the card was written this couplet, allotted to the month of January:
By her, who in this month is born,
No rose save garnet should be worn;
True friendship and fidelity,
The flower for the month is the pearly snow drop, and there was a huge bunch of them in a red Bohemian glass bowl for the table centerpiece. Red candles were used with shades of the same color, and a lovely fire blazed in the grate. Altogether it was a most hospitable affair. With the dessert of frozen pudding came a birthday cake with the name of the guest picked out in small red candles. The cake was on a candle board surrounded by a circle of blazing red candles. Each guest made a wish and blew one out before the cake was cut. After this the maid brought in the bouquet on a silver tray and the pin tied in a web white box with garnet ribbon was discovered.

For St. Agnes' Eve.
Friday, the 28th, brings Saint Agnes' eve, a special day in the old-time calendar. At this season, young girls were wont to peer into the future to discern the characteristics of their future husbands. They resorted to all sorts of tricks and used rosemary and thyme, as custom, or tradition rather, proclaimed them the flowers for that day. It was the time for love prophecies, so it would be an auspicious time for an engagement announcement, or for a bridal luncheon.
White flowers, with a white menu as far as possible, would be pretty, passing with a tray of marshmallows and a wee glass candlestick each guest to be taken as souvenirs. Toasting marshmallows at the table and watching to see whose candle burns the longest, makes a happy finale to a luncheon or dinner. The first candle to go out foretells, "no wedding for a year," the one with a flickering flame denotes an interrupted courtship; the one that burns clean and clear to the socket means a wedding within a year.

TARIFF IN MAKING

SOME TRICKS MADE USE OF BY SPECIAL INTERESTS.

For One Thing, the Idea That Most of the Schedules Were Beyond Popular Comprehension Has Been Widely Exploited.

It is proposed, as a necessary measure of public enlightenment, that a government commission shall translate the tariff into English that may be understood by the people. The need for such translation supplies by itself a suggestive commentary on the methods pursued in tariff making and the tricks and concealments employed to cover the tracks of special interests which have made them profitable bargains for a few at the expense of the general public.

A Washington dispatch, for example, tells how tariffs are made: "Nothing for sale, and, nothing more serious, paradoxical, it may seem, has been seen than the spectacle of senators and representatives voting upon tariff items without the slightest notion of their meaning. The strong hold of the dictators of the textile schedule, for example, has been the absolute incapacity of the people to understand it. It means much to a textile manufacturer whether a fabric runs 100 threads to the inch, but it means nothing to a tariff proposition, to the people. The tariff board, which is a rather wise body, believes that the people are entitled to a translation of their tariff law. The tariff board is nonpartisan. It has no axes of its own to grind, and it has no theories to promulgate. It is investigating and will spread the reports of its investigations before the people of the country. It is a popular notion that the tariff board will report only to the president. Nothing could be more erroneous. This could be no worse policy than for the tariff board to report only to the president. The people are entitled to learn the results of investigations of these men and their assistants, and the reports will be published broadcast."

Of course it was the interest of the favored few on the inside to create the general belief that tariff making was an esoteric mystery, far beyond popular comprehension. All the people had to do about it was to pay the price and look as pleasant as they could. Now, when the mystery is explained to them in plain English and they learn that they are paying a 200 per cent. tax on articles of common wear and from 80 to 100 per cent. on foodstuffs, they may not look so pleasant about it; all the more when they understand that the major part of these taxes goes not into the public treasury but into the pockets of manufacturers who have been working the tariff game for all it was worth to them and their allies in congress.

Blessing to Be Earned.
"We house Democrats got together at the long session of this congress for the first time in sixteen years, and by the blessing of God we will stay together," Champ Clark.
These words in the statement issued by the prospective speaker of the house might be applied not only to his fellow representatives, but to Democrats outside of congress, throughout the country. For the first time in sixteen years the party presents a unified front, and faces toward possibilities of usefulness and power. It is looking forward with hope to the possession of the presidency, which, with the exception of Cleveland's two terms, it has not held for fifty years. But whether the party "will stay together" in any sense that is worth while—whether the success of 1910 will prove a mere momentary bit of sunshine or really mean something for the future—remains to be seen. Mr. Clark indicates his feeling on the subject in the pious phrase he uses; but it will be a good thing for Democrats in general, and especially for the Democrats newly elected to high place, to put on the supposition that "the blessing of God" has to be earned.—New York Evening Post.

Robbery by Trusts.
One allegation of the government's attorneys is that $10,000,000 in stock was given, without cost, to H. O. Havemeyer at the time when four independent refineries were absorbed.
Another charge is that certain directors bought independent refineries and resold them to the trust at greatly increased values, thereby enriching themselves at the expense of the mass of stockholders. Independent refineries so purchased were permitted to remain idle, or were dismantled.
The result of all these operations is that the public is forced to pay dividends on watered stock, on dead investments, and on vast fortunes unfairly obtained by directors, at the expense of the small stockholders.

Through their greed and their dishonesty the men who organize and control the trusts defeat the only public policy which might be served, and thus attract the antagonism of the public and pave the way for their ultimate downfall. For it is merely a question of time when the people will put out of existence, in one way or another, the sinister combinations which have operated on the plan of the sugar trust.—Kansas City Star.

The sugar trust now, to quote Paris Rice and Louisiana, appears to be going after the Philippines.

PARTY HAS ITS OPPORTUNITY

Democratic Leaders Must Realize Weight of Responsibility Resting Upon Them.

We are glad to know that Mr. Champ Clark is so confident of the ability and honest intention of the Democratic party to serve the people. The outlook is, we agree, on the whole favorable. Broadly speaking the Democratic leaders seem to feel the weight of the responsibility which rests on them and their party. And that is encouraging. Mr. Clark himself tells wisely, and with a proper conservatism. There are few people, and none who understand present political conditions, who do not feel that the Democrats have an opportunity such as has not often come to a political party. Even the Republican leaders agree that if the Democratic party acts wisely, the immediate outlook for their own party is rather dark. They are frankly counting not on Republican strength, but on Democratic weakness and folly, to win the next election for the Republican party. The conclusion, of course, is that the Democrats have everything in their own hands if they conduct themselves properly.

We have no doubt of their desire and intention to do this. The question is as to their ability to meet their obligations. The party has been out of power for a long time, and so has been deprived of the benefit of such education which administration undoubtedly gives. This does not mean that it is incapable of wielding power, but it does mean that the party will have to move carefully. This it seems disposed to do. Fortunately the business of government is no mystery, as some statesmen would have us believe. For the most part it consists simply in the application of honesty and common sense to public affairs. We have never taken any stock in the theory that the Democratic party as such is incapable of governing the country, or in the other theory that the Republican party had a monopoly of intelligence, efficiency and patriotism. Its record surely does not prove this, for are not Republicans now demanding that a Republican tariff bill, only a little more than a year old, be made over?—Indianapolis News.

COUNTRY LOOKS FOR RESULTS

Recent Elections Showed Popular Demand for Tariff Reform, and Democrats Must Heed.

At last even the "friends" of high protection seem to understand that they must make some concessions to the public demand for downward revision. That understanding came through the recent elections, which registered a rebuke to the makers of the Payne-Aldrich law.
It now seems wholly probable that the present session of congress will witness the creation of a real tariff commission, with sufficient power to procure tariff facts. If that should be done, it would be a big concession to the Progressive in congress, and to the insistent demands of the people in general. It would be a formal admission that "the best bill ever" is not what it ought to be. It would also suggest a strategic effort to do something before the doing of things shall be turned over to a Democratic house.

Meanwhile the Democrats are quite as active, but with reference to the time when they shall come into their inheritance. Wise tariff action at the hands of the Democrats will be hoped for by the country, but as the correcting of tariff abuses is a pressing need, practical co-operation will be asked of the Democrats in this session if good measures are offered by the party still in power. The people have rebuked Republican failure; they are quite capable of rebuking Democratic obstruction or unnecessary delay. The country wants results much more than it wants advantage for one party or another. It has little tolerance for partisan interference with its business.

Judge Baldwin's Program.
Says Governor-Elect Baldwin of Connecticut in a recent address: "Where in Connecticut we want free raw material for our manufacturers and free food for our workmen. That is what tariff reform means to us."

That is what tariff reform means to every manufacturing and commercial state.
Such tariff reform means no great American staple of the farm, the forest, the mine or the ranch. Our cotton, our gold, our wheat, our timber are sold abroad at free trade prices. Our steel, Carnegie says, needs no protection. Our beef barons are outlaws plundering the farmer as well as the consumer. Free meat, with jail for the lawless engrossers of meat, would leave the farmer better off than he is now.
Much better off if he could get cheaper clothing, binding twine and hardware; and if American farm machinery were sold in Wichita as cheaply as in Cape Town or Teheran.
Believe the farmer, the manufacturer, the workman. That is tariff reform not for Connecticut alone but for the entire country.

Few Senatorial Aides.
In planning the responsibility for tariff revision in the next Democratic house, probably Senator Aldrich does not overlook the fact that there will be a Republican senate and president for the next two years, at least.

STUBBORN ECZEMA ON HANDS

"Some nine years ago I noticed small pimples breaking out on the back of my hands. They became very irritating, and gradually became worse, so that I could not sleep at night. I consulted a physician who treated me a long time, but it got worse, and I could not put my hands in water. I was treated at the hospital, and it was just the same. I was told that it was a very bad case of eczema. Well, I just kept on using everything that I could for nearly eight years until I was advised to try Cuticura Ointment. I did so, and I found after a few applications and by bandaging my hands well up that the burning sensations were disappearing. I could sleep well, and did not have any itching during the night. I began after a while to use Cuticura Soap for a wash for them, and I think by using the Soap and Ointment I was much benefited. I stuck to the Cuticura treatment, and though I could use other remedies for over seven years with no result, and after only having a few applications and finding ease from Cuticura Ointment, I thought I deserved a fair trial with a severe and stubborn case. I used the Ointment and Soap for nearly six months and I am glad to say that I have hands as clear as anyone."
"It is my wish that you publish this letter to all the world, and if anyone doubts it, let them write me and I will give them the name of my physician, also the hospital I was treated at." (Signed) Miss Mary A. Bentley, 32 University St., Montreal, Que., Sept. 14, 1910.

A Settler.
Maud—Jack said when he proposed that he could give me only the necessities of life.
Ethel—And what did you say?
Maud—I told him that one of the necessities of my life was a husband who could supply me with the luxuries.

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alternative should be taken which has no bad after-effects. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.
The ingredients, as after of under oath, are Stone root (Coffea racemosa), Canada balsam, Blackberry root (Rubus fruticosus), Black Cherry bark (Prunus virginiana), Queen's root (Sedum sp. var.), Blackberry bark (Rubus fruticosus), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no drug could imitate.
This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heartburn and many other terrible symptoms, stops excessive waste in convalescence from fever, for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. ## Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, their heart is not sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alternative should be taken which has no bad after-effects. Such is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which contains no dangerous narcotics nor alcohol.
The ingredients, as after of under oath, are Stone root (Coffea racemosa), Canada balsam, Blackberry root (Rubus fruticosus), Black Cherry bark (Prunus virginiana), Queen's root (Sedum sp. var.), Blackberry bark (Rubus fruticosus), with triple refined glycerine, prepared in a scientific laboratory in a way that no drug could imitate.
This tonic contains no alcohol to shrink up the red blood corpuscles; but, on the other hand, it increases their number and they become round and healthy. It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heartburn and many other terrible symptoms, stops excessive waste in convalescence from fever, for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing. Stick to this safe and sure remedy, and refuse all "just as good" medicines offered by the druggist who is looking for a larger profit. ### Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutionally remedying the condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube, restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for the circulars free.

MILLIONS OF LIVES.

An Awful Toll Collected by Consumption. Many Unnecessary Deaths.

If people could only understand that systemic catarrh is an internal disease that external applications cannot cure, they would not need to be warned so often about this malady, which when neglected, paves the way oftentimes for consumption, at the cost of millions of lives every year. Yet catarrh may be cured if the right treatment is employed.

The only way to successfully treat catarrh is by employing a medicine which is absorbed and carried by the blood to all parts of the system, so that the mucous membrane or internal lining of the body is toned up and made capable of resisting the infection of consumption and other diseases.

We have a remedy prepared from the prescription of a physician who for thirty years studied and made catarrh a specialty, and whose record was a patient restored to health in every case where his treatment was followed as prescribed. That remedy is Rexall Mucic-Tone. We are so positive that it will completely overcome catarrh in all its various forms, whether acute or chronic, that we promise to return every penny paid us for the medicine in ever case where it fails or for any reason does not satisfy the user.

We want you to try Rexall Mucic-Tone on our recommendation and guarantee. We are right here where you live, and you do not contract any obligation of risk when you try Rexall Mucic-Tone on our guarantee.

We have Rexall Mucic-Tone in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Very often taking of one 50-cent bottle is sufficient to make an impression upon the case. The average in such instances is three $1.00 bottles. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Murray only at our store.—The Rexall Store. Dale & Stubblefield.

Come back may come from over work, cold settled in the muscles of the back, or from disease. In the two former cases the right remedy is Ballard's Snow Liniment. It should be rubbed in thoroughly over the affected part, the relief will be prompt and satisfactory. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Dale & Stubblefield.

ELDER ALEXANDER ACCEPTS CALL TO CRAWFORDSVILLE.

Elder J. M. Alexander, pastor of Murray Christian church which he has served the past year, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Crawfordsville, Ind., church. His new charge is one of the strongest organizations of the denomination in Southern Indiana and the call extended to Elder Alexander is in recognition of his splendid ability as a preacher and pastor. He will remain here till his year is up which will be during the coming March.

The town of Murray and the Christian church can ill afford to have this splendid man leave them. During his short stay here he has endeared himself very much to both those within and without the church, and regardless of denominational affiliation, he is recognized as one of the brightest and ablest ministers who ever served a charge in this community.

The writer feels that he can call Mr. Alexander his friend and it is with a feeling of personal loss that we learn that he is to leave. However, it is our sincere desire that he will find in his new field of labor much work for his master, and that health and happiness will follow him and his esteemed family.
