Two Promises

That Lasted a Lifetime.
A True Story.

There are many words said and many little things that happen in childhood, that are never forgotten in old age. There is hardly a man, who lives, that is over fifty years of age, but what some sentence, that was spoken to him in his younger days, is still ringing in his ears, and will continue to do, as long as he lives. I can now call to mind a man, who has had just such an experience. He told me one day, substantially the following story.

He said, "he was born in one of the southern states away back in the forties, of very poor parentage, but during his early boyhood, his parents emigrated to one of the western states, where they remained, as long as they lived, but during this time, they never accumulated any property, but by sickness, mismanagement and misfortune, he was kept poor being at all times, unable to educate and give to his children such advantages as they ought to have had.

Time passed on, and he was soon a man of his own, ready to go out and meet the cold realities of an uncharitable world. When he left the parental home, his father said to him, "my son I have neither gold or silver to give you, neither have I its equivalent, but I have one piece of advice, that if you will take it, keep it and observe it, you will find my son, it will do you good, all along down life's struggles. The young man, with his eyes sparkling and anxious to know what it was, looked up into his father's face, and said, "well pa, what is it?" When his father said, "in all your business, with all the people with whom you may have occasion to deal, let these words be uppermost in your mind, 'Be Honest.' The boy promised his father, that wherever he went, and whatever he might do, he would remember his advice, and let come what would, he would "be honest."

In a very short time the young man went away and soon began to earn a livelihood for himself, but almost each day, he would say to himself, "the advice of my father was couched in so few words, that I shall never forget it. 'Be honest,' yes I shall ever be honest, because that was the request of my father and I am sure, he was right," exclaimed the young man on many occasions, when all alone as well as in company with others.

"But before leaving my old home," said the gentleman, another promise was exacted of me, which still rings in my ears as if spoken only yesterday. There was a beautiful black-eyed girl, lived not far from the home of my father. She and I, grew up together, went to school together, played together, and talked together. We never knew that we were anything else, but neighbors and playmates, and consequently we perhaps, never thought of each other, unless we were together, but it was often remarked, by our other associates, that we were one couple, that was never cross or mad at each other, all of which, I never noticed, until just before I was ready to leave home, when I met her in the road one day, where we stopped and gave each other a cordial greeting, when all of a sudden, she looked up in my face and with an expression that to this good day, looks as beautiful as it did then, and said, "are you going away?" I said "yes," she inquired "when," and I told her "in a few days." She informed me that she was, indeed, sorry to hear and know it. I then made the inquiry why she was so concerned in my going or in my staying. She then told me that "she loved me," which was the first time I had ever heard such a blessing pronounced upon me. I informed her, that I did not like to go away but, go I must, but at any rate, I was truly glad to hear that she loved me. She stood motionless looking me earnestly in the face, when she said, "will you promise me one thing before you leave, and never break the promise, while you live." I, of course said, "I will," not for a moment thinking what it was. She raised her hand and putting it in mine, and giving it a gentle squeeze, she lovingly but tenderly said, "I care not where you may go, or what your station in life may be, but I ask you, 'never forget me.' Such feelings were never before experienced by me, towards a young girl, but, I did not tear away from her, but firmly held her hand, in mine, and said calling her by name, I never will. Then we parted and I only saw her a few times, before I left, but love or this promise, was not mentioned, for I did not then realize what was meant by my pledge to her, or from her to me."

I then asked the gentleman, to tell me, what was the result of his boyhood promises, when he then continued by saying, "I soon drifted away from home and from that section of the country, and gave my time and attention to other business and other people, and soon my mind, was so much absorbed in other things that, I would scarcely remember much that was left behind me, but I was never so busy, or my pleasures so great, but what, 'be honest,' and 'never forget me,' would come ringing down the pathway of my travels and occupy a prominent place in my memory.

"Well, said I, did anything ever come of those promises, or what effect had they, upon you in after years?"

He continued his story, by saying, "that at least 20 years passed away, during which time he became engaged in other businesses, and did not meet his father but few times, before he died but never a day or a transaction has passed since, but what the two little words 'be honest,' have had something to do with him in all of his business relations." He continued, "If the request had not been made me, to be honest, perhaps I would have been so just the same, because most men are naturally inclined to be so, and perhaps, I would have proven no exception to the rule, but be that as it may, I have always tried to live up to my father's injunction, and have loved him the more, and thought of him the oftener, because of the manner in which he impressed his wish so indelibly upon my heart. 'Never forget me,' was just as indelibly written upon heart and memory, as what my father told me, and while it has been some pleasure to me during these long years, to remember them, yet they caused me much trouble and many heartaches. The reason it troubled me was, that until long in after years, I never knew the real meaning of those, seemingly prophetic, yet annoying words.

The poor innocent girl grew into perfect womanhood, married and became the head of an interesting family, and would have entirely passed out of my mind, but for the impression, that was made on it, by her, so many years before. She was seen by me but few times, for fully 25 years and at these meetings no allusion was made to the friendship that existed between us in our younger days. But time drifted along, and we both were anything but near neighbors, yet by chance as it seemed, we met face to face, upon one of the principal thoroughfares, when she took me by the hand, as she did fully 30 years before, and looked me squarely in the face, and said in a loving way for an old woman, "did you never forget me?" Notwithstanding I had experienced many changes myself, yet I readily told her, "I never did." She still held my hand and with a gentle squeeze told me she was truly glad to know, that I was still true to my promise, and said, "I must for the last time assure you that I still love you and will continue to do so until my life is no more." She then, let go my hand and walked away and has never spoken to me since.

Who knows, but, that the two hearts, beat together in perfect union, for a life time, yet were widely separated, and still, may be happily united somewhere, in the great beyond? No one.

A Ringing Letter

Of a Church Member Against Local Option.

I have seen several communications in the Tribune for and against local option; some of them have argued the question and some have not. If I understand the subject in its true light, it is not a question of whiskey or no whiskey, but in reality it is a question as to the how it shall be dispensed among the people of the district. If by voting for option we can get rid of its use entirely, as a beverage there would hardly be a vote against, but such a thing cannot be done, by voting option. It will take out of the hands of men who try to sell it according to law and put in the hands of the worst class of whiskey sellers in the country. The license of the present sellers will hardly expire before, on every train jugs, bottles and small packages of the vilest stuff to be found anywhere will be put off and smuggled around town, and sold in every alley, behind the stores and in the stables. To vote option is but to remove it from the open saloons drug stores into the stables and behind the doors and houses of the town, where it will be sold and given to every little boy that will call for it. I think I am as much apposed to drunkenness as any man that lives in this district and as between drunkenness and sobriety I am always in favor of sobriety; as between the sale of whiskey and no, I am always in favor of no sale, but the question that now confronts us is as to the "how" it shall be sold. If I could think or believe that to vote local option would rid the district of its sale I would not hesitate a moment to vote for it, but I do not believe such a law would stop its sale or its use in this district, and therefore, I for one, cannot support the new law. I am a church member and have been one for a number of years, during all this time I have drunk more or less whiskey. I have taken but very little in saloons, but I have used less of since saloons were re-opened in Benton than I did before. During the time local option was said to have been in force I drank in drug stores, in nearly all of the offices about town, behind the doors, in the stables, in the barber shop, behind the prescription case, in the law office, in the mills, behind the stores, in the court house, at home and in the streets. This honest confession may sound a little bold but it is true, and there are at least one hundred church members living in this district that have been guilty of the same thing. I have gone to church time and again and heard our preacher scold church members for drinking and then go right away from the church direct to a drug store or some other place and presenting prescription given me or to some other man by a physician, who was a member of some church, when he well knew that I was not sick, and would buy as much whiskey as I wanted. If I could believe for one moment, that the local option law, in this district would prevent doctors from giving prescriptions to well persons or stop church members from drinking, then I would heartily support it. But it will not and therefore I cannot vote for the law. Much has, in the past been said about drug stores, so much at least that the new option law gives the people a chance to make a clean sweep of it—out of saloons and drug stores, and the petition upon which a vote is to be taken provides that if the law carries it must go out of the drug stores. Whenever that is done there will be at least one hundred men who will vote for option that will be sorry they voted for such a law. The time to think of these inconveniences, is now, just before the vote is taken and not afterwards. There is not a physician in this county, but uses more or less whiskey,

Dr. G. C. Osceola,

Castoria.
"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. Archibald, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
Dr. J. F. Kitchell, Conway, Ark.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

wine, alcohol or brandy in his practice, in fact there is hardly a family in the district but what at times, needs something of the kind in some way or other, and why should they just to please some fanatic, vote for a law that will more or less inconvenience them and do the community no good.

This question had just as well be met by the experience of men who have tried it and know what it means and I for one cannot see that local option will do for the district what is claimed for it by its advocates. The town is just as quiet and orderly under the open saloon system as it was under local option. It is argued that the revenue derived from its sale is not of sufficient importance to prevent men from voting for option, that if the citizens of Benton want their streets fixed then let them levy a tax and keep them up. This argument would do if there would be no alcohol wine or whiskey drunk by the people in the district, but they will continue to drink it and if they don't buy it in Benton they buy it in Paducah and other places, and pay just as high prices for it and their own town and community get none of the benefit of it, while some other place will get all the money, sell all the whiskey, get all the revenue and this district its part of the drunkenness. Then who will be benefited by the change? Not the Benton district if you please. Never make a change, unless for the better, and it will never better the condition of affairs to make a change in the mode of selling and not stop the drinking. Our people have never tried an option law that was in itself prohibition, but whenever this law is voted it will be an ironclad prohibition law, and the people here will be very sorry for it when it is too late.

CHURCH MEMBER.

Trouble for Nothing.

The following good joke is told on Mr. J. T. and Ed Ozment. Last Friday week, he and his son Eddie, were out promading over their beautiful field, looking at their fine corn, when Mr. Ozment spied a nest of "honey bees," he thought, and of course, being so brave, he ventured a little too close to suit the bees when one popped it to him, and of all the music, screaming and unusual dancing it was done right there. After he recovered and came to his senses, he and his son Ed, came to town and had his wound dressed and Saturday morning they employed the services of Mr. S. L. Grace, to go and have the bees, who being hurried so, came near running his horse to death. When they reached the ground where the tree stood containing the so called bees, everything was in readiness to capture them when they all swarmed and it turned out to be a nest of "yellow jackets" and about that time Mr. Ozment and Ed both fainted and lay there speechless, on the ground, for a few minutes. They soon recovered

WEDNESDAY AUGUST 14.

Democrats should keep in the middle of the road. They should not wonder too far, to the right or to the left.

Where do these free silver democrats get these words? "Unlimited free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1." They can be found in no platform but those of the populist. Why not stop where party instructions stop?

It is a little funny to hear democrats fighting the battles of the party and at the same time find them off the state and national platforms, denouncing the democratic administration. Gentlemen stay in line and be very careful that you don't wonder from the fold.

Senator Blackburn would please the people better by telling them why he has been absent from his post of duty while congress was in session, so much, instead of abusing upon the democrats of the state. If his speech was concerned, we could find but little fault with it.
 It is said all of speeches have been as this one; if they have not, the senator is a gay old deceiver.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.

It seems that the populists are doing all they can to aid the republicans this year. It is only necessary to glance at the following list in order to get an idea of the names and number of their imported speakers that will be in Kentucky during the present campaign. Every vote given to the populists is a vote for republican rule and centralized power.
 It will be a hard thing to convince the democrats that these big speakers are not paid emissaries by the republican campaign syndicate to try and take Kentucky out of the list of democratic states. Here they are:

Among the speakers of national reputation already engaged to come to Kentucky are Governor Waite, of Colorado, Judge King, of Kansas City, Congressman Howard, of Alabama, Senator Butler, of North Carolina, Congressman Skinner, of North Carolina, Congressman Kearby, of Texas, Gen. James G. Field, of Virginia, Capt. C. A. Power, of Indiana, W. S. Morgan, of Arkansas, and others. There will be no lack of oratory, and the boys in the trenches may as well prepare for lots of fun.

COL. T. B. WALLER DEAD.

The many friends of Col. T. B.
 Waller will regret to learn of his death, which took place at his home in Mayfield last Friday evening at 4 o'clock. He had been sick for several days but his family and friends had hopes of his recovery until Thursday evening, when all hopes seemed to have vanished. He was a son of Major Wila Waller and was born and raised in this county five miles west of this place. There was no man in the county better known than Col. Waller. He was a man of more than ordinary ability. He spent most of his life since the war in the mercantile business, but was the editor of a republican paper published at Paducah several years ago. He has been engaged in the queensware business at Mayfield for the past few years and was making quite a success at it. We very kindly remember him for it was in his general store at Briensburg, 22 years ago, that we did our first work as a clerk. He taught us our first lesson in business and the kind treatment we received of Col.
 Waller and his family while we were a boarder at his home, we shall never forget. It has been but a few weeks since we saw him he was then in fine health and bid fair to live a long time, but disease soon overtook him and he is now numbered among the dead. His bereaved family has the sympathy of all their old neighbors and friends in this county in their hour of affliction.

I saw in your paper a piece from a mother; I can sympathize with her on the account of whiskey for I know the sting of it for I had it to contend with for 18 years.
 For God sake gentlemen vote against it. I know it won't bother me for I have no one now to drink but for the sake of our country, for you all ought to know that we would have better times in our little town if it wasn't for whiskey. If a man kills another man whiskey is the cause of it.
 Many a poor child and woman is crying to day for protection on account of whiskey. To day I am all alone, what is the cause of it? Whiskey; if it hadn't been for whiskey my husband would be with me to day. I have heard some folks say good treatment will break a man from I know and God knows that I did one I could for him, I pleaded with him and begged him to quit but he didn't quit, so finally it killed him. I don't see what a man wants to drink whiskey for when he knows that it will send his soul to hell. What does the Bible say? It says that a drunkard shall never enter into the kingdom of Heaven, besides it makes a man's home unhappy.
 A man that drinks no person can place confidence in him; if a woman marries a man and he drinks what pleasure does she see with him, if she loves him she is always uneasy about him for she don't know what hour the news will come to her like it did to myself that her husband is dead, then for her to ask what killed him the answer to come to her whiskey. Oh my God stop every voter from voting for the sale of whiskey is my prayer.

Esquire N. N. Rice Candidate For the Legislature.

By reference to our announcement column the people of Marshall county will learn that Esq.
 N. N. Rice, of Lyon county, is a candidate for a seat in the lower house of the Kentucky legislature from the counties composing this legislative district. Though Mr.
 Rice is almost a stranger to the democrats of this county, yet we can assure them that he is one of the most popular and best known men in Lyon county, and that when he is known here his popularity will be universal among our people. He is a simon pure democrat, one without a scar or a blemish upon his political record.
 He is a high toned practical businessman, intelligent, well informed willing and capable to reflect the will of his constituents in all matters pertaining to the passage of such laws as will benefit all the people. He resides in the country and his sympathies are with the people, and if he is elected he will never forsake them. He wears the collars of no men or set of men, knows no section or county, but will strive to make a faithful servant for all, from the humblest to the greatest in his district. He is subject to the action of his party as will be expressed at the democratic primary election which will take place on August the 31.
 He is intensely popular in his own county and if he receives the nomination he will beyond doubt carry the democratic banner to victory, at the November election by a rousing majority. He desires to meet the democrats of this county and ask them to assist in giving him the nomination at the primary, and he assures them that he will always be found with boys in the trenches. We as our readers to meet him and consider his claims together with the rest of the honorable men who are opposing him, and we are satisfied that they will learn to admire him for his ability, integrity and devotion to the people.

BRIENSBURG.

The grumbler had to cease grumbling last Saturday, when we were blessed with another good rain.
 That is the way with some people let them have the world by the tail on a down hill drag and then they will grumble because they can't get some one to do the dragging.

According to L. P. Palmer's statement the campaign of '96 will be fought on the financial question, if so then what are the sound money democrats going to do, for the silver craze is growing stronger every day. I note in a letter over the name of Dr. Lachey, of Trigg county, to the Kentucky Populist saying that the silver democrats would soon join the populists and then they (populists) would be the leading party of the day. I suppose the sound money democrats will join the republican party when ever the silverites join the populists.

Revs. Powell and Kelly, have just closed a revival at Zion's Call with 10 additions to the church.

Walter Phelps and Manuel Mac-lone both are improving fast.

Miss Bertie Fields daughter of the deputy sheriff, who has been visiting friends and relatives returned home yesterday.

Miss Frankie Walker the charming young daughter of Mr. C. C.
 Walker, of Epperson, has been visiting here the past week.

Miss Bee Freeman, of Calvert City, has been visiting her brother Dr. A. H. Freeman for a few days.

B. P. Bilbro and his wife have agreed to disagree, the cause we did not learn.

I think this neighborhood is going to turn out in full force to hear J. C. S. Blackburn's speech Thursday.

DICK HAMSTRING.

Walnut Grove.

In reading the columns of the Tribune I see a strange sentiment for and against whiskey, but when I saw a few lines from a broken hearted mother then I thought it was my duty to aid her in that just cause. I for one can sympathize with that good mother and if there is any man on earth that cannot, we don't know what kind of a human being he is. If those writers had seen the trouble that I have they would never write another letter in favor of whiskey I have lain a many long and lonely night and listened to hear some sad news to come to my bedside, but after a broken nights rest a lonely footstep would hit the pavement at the gate with an utterance that no one could enjoy. Now when there are hundreds of people

I have been a sufferer from trouble with my kid-myself from my chair, nor could I turn over tion. Since taking four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla with sults, I now feel like

 Sarsaparilla has done more for me than all the other medicines I have ever taken.

 trouble, now may God help those writers to turn from their wicked ways and help fight the battle with

ONE IN TROUBLE.

In Memory.

Mrs. Emma Draffen (nee Styers) was born in Graves county, Ky., March 9, 1863. She was married to Prof. John T. Draffen Feb. 3, 1889. She died after a long illness of typhoid fever, in Briensburg, Ky., June 29, 1895. She joined the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in girlhood and remained a consistent member thereof until death admitted her into the church triumphant. She adored the profession of Christ in all the relations of life. She was a dutiful daughter a faithful wife and a loving mother.
 We laid her away in the cemetery at Symsonia, Ky., to await the resurrection of the saints. The pungent sorrow of separation is softened by the hope begotten by the resurrection of Christ, from the dead. May that hope comfort and sustain the mother, husband and all the family and relations in their loneliness and sadness.
 May the child now motherless, be trained in the nurture of the Lord that he may meet her in the home beyond.

Is spent annually for Tobacco.
 Thousands of men die every year from that dreadful disease, Cancer of the Stomach, brought on by the use of Tobacco.
 The use of tobacco is injurious to the nervous system, promotes heart troubles, affects the eyesight, injures the voice, and makes your presence obnoxious to those clean and pure from such a filthy habit.
 DO YOU USE TOBACCO?
 If you do, we know you would like to quit the habit, and we want to assist you, and will, if you say the word.
 HOW CAN WE HELP YOU? Why, by inducing you to purchase a box of Colli's Tobacco Antidote, which is a preparation compounded strictly of herbs and roots, which is a tonic to the system; also cures the tobacco habit and knocks cigarettes silly.
 HOW DO WE KNOW IT WILL CURE YOU?
 First, by thousands and thousands of cures; Second, by the increased demand for it from the most reputable wholesale houses; Third, we know what it is composed of, and that the preparation will clean the system of nicotine, and will cancel all errors of the past.
 YOUR DRUGGIST has Colli for sale.
 If he has not ask him to get it for you. If he tries to palm off some thing just as good, insist on having Colli. If he will not order it for you send us ($1.00) one dollar, and receive a box of Colli postpaid.
 In most cases one box affects a cure, but we guarantee 3 boxes to cure any one.

Prof. J. P. Brannock, will soon take charge of the high school at Sikeston, Mo. He is one of the best scholars and teachers in this country, as the lovers of popular education in and about Sikeston will soon learn, they have made no mistake in securing his valuable services.

There will be a big barbecue at the bridge on the Benton and Mayfield road one mile this side of Oak Level and five miles west of Benton, at near Tom Wood's on Saturday August 24, 1895. There will be a big crowd present and the candidates for the legislature expected to be present and address the people. This is in a good section and will be an enjoyable occasion.

We spend our good money to let you know what the best remedy for colic, cholera and diarrhoea is, and when you buy it and pay your good money for it see that you get the genuine Dr. Bell's Anti-flux, made by the E. E. Sutherland Co., Paducah, Ky. Sold by all dealers.

If you live in a town you should take your own town paper. This is an imperative duty that you owe to both yourself and town. But if you just won't take it under any circumstances whatever, then don't read it. Don't go around and borrow a copy from your neighbor every time there is anything published that is of special interest to you.

Uncle Ike McCain, an aged and prominent citizen, died at his home in the west part of the county last Thursday of heart disease. He has been sick most of the time since Christmas and yet his death was sudden and unexpected. He made a will giving most of his property to his son crit. He left about $850 in gold.

Suppose every merchant in town, were to, during each week, select in his mind 10 persons and send out 10 copies of the TRIBUNE, with a mark on them directing the reader to see a certain advertisement in the paper concerning his or her business for say one month, how many men would come into your store that now never gives you a thought. Try it.

Protect the Game and Fish.
Shoot or fish only in the proper season and escape the game warden by observing the laws. Many states have new game and fish laws this year, and if you don't know them, send five 2c stamps for a copy of the game law issue of THE AMERICAN FIELD, 245 State St., Chicago.

Perhaps no diarrhoea remedy on earth has sold as rapidly since its introduction as Dr. Bell's Anti-flux. This is due to the fact that all who use it say it's the best on earth. It's guaranteed by all dealers.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

I heard of Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey being for sale at the store of Messrs. Gann, Burnett & Co., Grantsburg, Ills., and seeing many commendations from different persons, of its wonderful valuable merits, I thought I would try a bottle. I have been seriously affected for 25 years with a cough and pains in my side and breast that were causing me a miserable life. I spent hundreds of dollars with doctors and for medicine, but everything failed until I tried this wonderful remedy. It beats the world, and has saved my life. I recommend DR. BELL'S PINE TAR HONEY to every body with weak lungs. It is a great success. Sold by all druggists.

A New Addition.

Benton may be behind in some things, but in others she comes beautifully to the front. Two cornet players, have been added to the choir, in the Methodist Sunday school. This has made a marked improvement in the already excellent music of that most interesting school. But the pastor of that church has never yet gotten the consent of his mind to allow these cornets to enter the church choir.

An Old Paper.

We were shown the "Ulster County Gazette," a four column paper, published at Kingston, Ulster county, New York, on Saturday Jan. 4 1800. It is a very old paper, and belongs to Mrs. T. H. Hall. It was given her, in her younger days, by a friend from Virginia and she has kept it carefully ever since. It is 95 years, seven months and 10 days old today. It is perhaps the oldest paper in the county, and the best preserved. It contains some important proceedings of congress during the month of December 1799 and is in mourning over the death of Gen. Geo. Washington, which occurred on December 14 1799. It made us feel quite sad to read of the death of the father of our country.

A Wonderful Cow.

Mr. J. M. Bean is at present in a very precarious condition. Some time since, he purchased a cow, known as the "famous Dr. Thomas cow" and gave $10 for her. She is blind, deaf, lame and it is reported that she is also dumb. Her sense of smell and three legs is all that carries her along in this world. Her feeling is very sensitive and is very amusing to see Mr. Bean using pins, hot irons &c about milking time. She is said to be one of the finest milk cows in the state and furnishes several of his neighbors with milk and butter, besides what he throws away, and that is one reason why he is persuaded to keep her, especially by J. L. Harris. Mr. Bean's eyes are said to be failing him on account, we suppose, of drinking the milk. There is some talk of him joining some museum freak or side show with her and is to be congratulated on getting her so cheap.

HARVEY.

We have never claimed to be over smart neither do we claim to be a fool consequently we think we can answer the Tribunes question in regard to "which is the strongest and most lasting love in the world?" About the strongest case of love that we ever noticed is the kind that generally attacks every young man, or girl, when they are from fourteen to eighteen years old but then it generally is not of a lasting quality. We will venture the assertion that the bald headed editor, yea even the associate editor could certify to that kind of love being very strong but we think the strong-most lasting love is a mother's love for her children.

Ike McCain, one of our oldest and most prominent citizens died of heart disease.

Mrs. J. F. Cole, has been sick the last week with chills.

Three of Auze Reed's children have been very sick for the past week with la grippe.

John Edwards and wife, of Symsonia are visiting friends and relatives near here.

J. H. Ivey, our popular post master spent a few days in Paducah and Cairo last week.

The Harvey string band was out Saturday night tormenting a long suffering neighborhood.

We heard a few days ago that Driftwood was dead. Can any one tell whether its so or not?

HANK MONK.

Roland Vaughn Kills Frank Minter.

(Special Dispatch.)
Ardmore, I. T., Aug. 6.—Roland Vaughn shot an instantly killed Frank Minter, his father-in-law, near Cheek, twenty miles west of here, yesterday afternoon. After the killing Vaughn fled and is endeavoring to make his escape. Vaughn came to the territory about two weeks ago from Benton, Ky., and went to work for his father-in-law. A few days ago Minter for some reason discharged him, which engendered bitter feelings between them and led to the killing.

Later.—Mr. Gabe Allen, of Mayfield, received a telegram a few days ago, from Vaughn, stating that he was in jail at Fort Smith, Ark., and wanted him and J. A. Woodall to come there and go on his bond. We haven't heard whether they will consent to go or not.

Got His Gun, But Did Not—Lloyd Lents, of near town, was intoxicated, got into a fight last week with his father, J. T. Lents and his brother Sid, but consequently no one was very badly hurt, but this didn't end it. Lloyd got his gun and taken charge of the house for 4 or 5 days causing the whole family to leave, seeking refuge amongst their neighbors. Mr. Lents managed to get back to his dear old home some time during the week, but we are not informed whether or not any more trouble came between them. Lloyd had everything, so to speak, going his own way until, last Sunday when he and his brother Gus had a little "spat" which resulted in Lloyd getting his arm cut and a bruised head. Lloyd was arrested Monday by C. W. Ely, and his trial set for yesterday but up to the present has never appeared, and, is reported that, he has left the country.

"Incurable."
We know that it sounds quackish to talk about Electropoise curing incurable diseases, but bear in mind the fact that it is the old treatment which has pronounced the case incurable. We do not make the claim, that we can cure all so-called incurable diseases, but we do maintain with all earnestness that a pronounced incurable by your family physician is a splendid field for the operation of the Electropoise. It may be just the treatment necessary, and is quite likely to be so. If it fails, is no argument against the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received life through treatment of the Electropoise.

ROCKY POINT.

I have noticed with no little interest the enthusiastic discussion of the question of "local option," which is being so fiercely waged by both sides. It may be, by some critics, considered as an act of impropriety, as I live out of the district in which it is to be settled, for me to have anything to say in the discussion. But as all true citizens are interested in the affairs of the county seat and as free speech is tolerated, I believe I will say a few words. For we are aware of the fact that the decision of this question will to some measure, or should at least, make Benton worthy of praise and commendation or make her deserve reproach, and to be stamped with the most burning shame. It will either make her a monument to the morality and Christianity of her people or make her a place where is allowed the legalized sale of this hell-born, hydra-headed, death-dealing monster, the enemy of heart-broken wives and mothers, and the innocent daughters of our country and the fire-eyed demon that destroys the most upright characters, the profoundest minds and brightest intellects, that drags the youths down to the dark, obnoxious dens of shame and the howling dungeons of despair and finally hurls them headlong into the whirling vortex of bottomless perdition. It will make her a town whose example will be worthy of imitation or one at which will be pointed the crooked finger of scorn and at which will be hurled the hissing arrows of reproach by all true advocates of enlightenment. For this reason I shall not remain silent upon the question while others are exercising the liberties of free speech. I have, with pitying eyes and feelings of regret, noticed one or two (may the God of Heaven pity them, show them their awful mistake and cause them to see themselves as the world beholds them), who still continue to uphold the sale of this legalized abomination and to show with all the power of his eloquence the advantage of saloons—but in vain. This reminds me of a pygmy rumaging in the armory of a giant and contending for weapons that he is unable to wield. It is strange how a person who makes any claims to morality and respectability can here in the evening of the 19th century, in an age of moral improvement and literary advancement and in the very heart of a Christian world, uphold something that destroys both morals and intellect, something that has been condemned since time immemorial by the best and wisest men the world has produced, something against which societies are continually being formed and against which the voice of the pulpit has always thundered. One thing that is brought up to support the wicked cause of whiskey is that Murray has more whiskey sold, more drunkenness and more debauchery than towns that have saloons. Ah! such an awful mistake! Such a cruel charge against a town which were her example followed would place other towns upon a higher elevation. Experience proves that such charges are not correct as well as unjust. I know of several young people who left this county and their home school to attend school at Murray the prime cause being that Benton had saloons. This you see that an argument for the sale of whiskey is one against the interest of our school. Can you afford to do it? Certainly not and be respectable. We have a good, energetic and faithful teacher at Benton and let us give him a chance to build up a good school, and not have his efforts willfully murdered by the baneful influence of the nefarious saloons. The people cannot afford to do it. They cannot afford to turn their eyes heavenward and exclaim "O Lord thy will be done" and then go to the polls and vote for whiskey. Such would be mockery, sacrilege, hypocrisy. But, voter, in the name of enlightenment, in the name of morality, in the name of Christianity and in the name of all that is sacred to the people of Benton and Marshall county since it is inconsistent with morality, repugnant to religion and condemned in the most unqualified terms by all that good and noble and upright go to the polls, prove that you oppose whiskey in any form, that you condemn it, that you practice what you preach, that you as you pray and vote for the of the saloons from the realms of your district and you will be the true citizen and deserve the spontaneous commendations of all men. FELIX SCHOOPHORN.

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold; was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in the St. Paul Volks Zeitung I procured a bottle, and after taking it a short while was entirely well. I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cold. Wm. Keil, 678 Selby Ave., St. Paul, Minn. For sale by Dr. R. H. Starks.

FAIR DEALING.
Kind editor allow me space in your columns for a little admonition to the boys.

Boys the time of year is now at hand for protracted meetings; and, as usual, the preachers and citizens are going to keep a critical eye on you, if you are one of those fellows who go to church to have a good time, one who imagines the public cannot get along without you, or is too proud to pay you honor, you my friend are going to be wonderfully surprised one of those cool mornings, by being notified of the fact that the eye of Uncle Sam is over you from on high. On the other hand if you so conduct yourself that you escape censure, be assured the good people of your section will readily lend you a helping hand. For well they know that the boys who, in a few years, are to bring forth the perpetual and prolific rays of prosperity, are the boys who behave well at church. When we would have the dark clouds of adversity roll away and the bright sun of prosperity cast his benignant rays athwart our landscape, opening the avenues of industry, spreading the sails of commerce, we are sure to call on civil men, at church.

Mr. Henry Walker, of this place is very sick, and is thought will not recover.

Mr. G. W. Oliver began his school at Maple Spring Monday.

Our almost bosom friend, Prof. A. E. Cross, opened school at Colie's school house Monday.

We predict, for Bud, a successful school as this is his home district.

A protracted meeting at Davis Chapel, under the auspices of Dycus, Lyles and Cox, is being conducted with phenomenal success.

Our hospitable doctor, E. A. Henson reports a great deal of sickness. This is bad on the people, but the doc only laughs in his sleeves.

Miss Annie Jones, who has been visiting in Tenn., returned home Saturday.

H and T are all smiles.

M. G. Nelson and Uncle Dennis Hartley are reported as being sick.

I will close by asking a question. Was the parchment, on which Columbus wrote the history of his discovery, ever found? If so where, and by whom?

DEMOS CRATOS.

My little boy, when two years of age, was taken very ill with bloody flux. I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and luckily procured part of a bottle. I carefully read the directions and gave it accordingly. He was very low, but slowly and surely he began to improve, gradually recovered; and is now as stout and strong as ever. I feel sure it saved his life. I never can praise the remedy half its worth. I am sorry every one in the world does not know how good it is, as I do. Mrs. Lina S. Hinton, Grahamsville, Marion Co., Florida. For sale by Dr. R. H. Starks.

A Happy Editor.
When the subscription list of a county newspaper, increases at the rate that the TRIBUNE, is at present, the editor is most generally very happy.

After battling for financial success, for the past six years, the TRIBUNE is now a fixture, and can come before people of the county, free from any incumbrance, and ask them to subscribe and sustain their county paper. The people, one and all, are now of the opinion, that it is right and proper, to read the TRIBUNE, as it is evidenced by the great number of new subscribers that are now having their names enrolled upon our subscription list.

Such a universal endorsement, of our efforts, and appreciation of the Tribune, as a county paper, is certainly enough to make the editor happy. Every friend to the paper, who becomes a new subscriber, as well as those who have taking it for years, hardly realize our great appreciation for their assistance in the pride our life, and our feelings towards them, can hardly be expressed on paper. They all feel to us like first cousins.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists, price 75c a bottle.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages, this remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints.
