FULTON, KY., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1938.

NUMBER THREE.

YOUNG MEN'S CLUB MET TUESDAY NIGHT

Meeting in regular session Tuesday night, with a good attendance, the Young Men's Business Club, heard a report by Jim D. Stephenson no the Scout program. With the assistance of J. O. Lewis, superintendent of Fulton city schools, a Boy Scout Council composed of 12 men was named as follows: James D. Stephenson, Ward Johnson, Bob Binford, Bill Browning, W. K. Cummins, Bertie Pigue, Bill Blackstone, R. E. Sanford, Roper Fields, John Davies, James Meacham and Hendon Wright.

A resolution was offered that the club endorse a movement for stricter enforcement of law against the operation of slot machines and other games of chance. After lengthy discussion, the club voted down this resolution on the ground that city and county officers were duly elected to perform those duties, and the club did not wish to become involved in politics.

YMBC ENDORSES TVA

At a special session Wednesday night, the YMBC heard a report from the TVA committee regarding data on this subject, which had been gathered preliminary to presentation before the city council Thursday night. Facts obtained by this committee from an interview with officials at Union City, disclosed the cost of the municipal plant there, and revealed its plan of operation, rates, kilowatts consumed, the gross and net income and profit. Information presented before the club showed the cost of TVA power delivered to Fulton and tales of residential and commercial rates that would be charged were spread before the organization. Following a prolonged discussion, the following resolution was adopted by the club:

1. Fulton is geographically lucky to be able to get TVA. 2. All legislation, court rulings and politics favor TVA and that the time is ripe for immediate action. 3. The YMBC proposes to canvass the consumers of electric current in Fulton to get the actual feelings of the people. 4. YMBC will give every householder a change to sign their position in regard to TVA. 5. YMBC will furnish a TVA representative to any organization for the purpose of talking on the subject, after due notice has been given. 6. YMBC, after careful consideration, has decided that TVA would be the greatest economic step to progress for the community that is now available. 7. YMBC will have a committee on hand at all meetings of the city council pushing TVA. 8. YMBC will also have a committee to urge action in the Chamber of Commerce, Woman's Club, Lions and Rotary clubs. 9. YMBC solicits all personal ideas, written articles that will help the cause. 10. YMBC solicits and begs for all criticism of TVA regardless of whether it be pro or con, and will co-operate in getting these printed in our newspapers, if they are signed by the critic.

The committee was authorized to prepare campaign to present full facts about TVA to the citizens of Fulton, arrange for public meetings and addresses, circulate petitions or make house-to-house canvass, after the public has had an opportunity to be told of what TVA is doing in this territory and the possibilities it opens to Fulton.

COMMUNITY CHEST HOLDS ROUTINE MEETING

A meeting of the Community Chest was held last Friday at the city hall with the chairman, Rev. J. S. Robinson, presiding. Members of the board present included Joe Bennett, Sr., Bailey Huddleston, Robert Lamb, Homer Roberts, Abe Jolley, H. H. Bugg and T. T. Boaz. Routine business matters were discussed, and accounts for January approved and paid, in the amount of $162.00.

4-H CLUB LEADERS ELECTED OFFICERS

The Fulton County 4-H Club leaders and officers organized their first 4-H Club Council at a meeting Monday afternoon, February 7, at Cayce School. The council set as their objective to plan and promote better 4-H Club work in the county. The following officers were elected to serve one year:

Mrs. Abe Thompson, president; Alfred Lowe, vice president; Miss Elizabeth Williamson, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Homer Weather- spoon and Miss Mary Douglas with one member from the Farm Bureau and Homemakers' Association to serve with the county officers as executive committee. The members of the council will be all 4-H Club leaders, president and secretary of each 4-H Club in the county, and the county school superintendent, Board of Education and County and Home Agents as ex-officio officers.

The council also made plans for the 4-H Club spring rally which will be held Friday, May 6 at the Cayce school. Contests that will be offered are: Baking, judging, team demonstrations for boys and girls, style show, clothing judging and terracing team.

Those present were Mrs. Homer Weather- spoon, Miss Jessie Wade, Miss Elizabeth Williamson, H. P. Roberts, Mrs. Dean Collier, A. J. Lowe, Catherine McNeil, Joan Collier, Dorothy King, Fred Collier, Raymond Harrison, Eugene Waggoner, Billie Williams, Travis Nipp, Layne Spence, Martha Williamson, H. C. Brown, field agent in 4-H club work; J. B. Williams, county agent; Sam Foy, assistant county agent and Catherine Thompson, home demonstration agent.

Officers Bear Down On Law Violators

As a continuation of the drive against the unlawful operation of slot machines, tip and punch boards in Fulton County, operators were warned this week to discontinue these alleged "gambling" devices, or face the action of the court. This step was taken in both ends of the county, in an effort to stop the flagrant violation of the law, officials state.

In Fulton several months ago slot machines were in operation in many business places, but indictments and officers brought pressure to bear which stopped that racket, authorities point out. Since then, tip jars, tip boards and punch boards have become more numerous. This recent action is an effort to check this form of illegal operation. The sheriff's office expects to continue its drive against gambling, and several poker parlors are alleged to be closed, before the drive is completed.

Here in Fulton an effort is being made by the police department to bring promiscuous drunkenness under better control, and the local bastille has been kept full lately by arrests made of drunks and those disturbing the peace.

State Highway Patrolmen are conducting a drive against drunken drivers, and several have been picked up, fined heavily and jailed.

Cayce Man In Auto Wreck At Union City

W. J. Cruce of Cayce, who teaches school at Rutheford, Tenn., and Miss Lucille Smith of Union City, his companion, suffered cuts and bruises in an automobile accident at Union City last Thursday night, when a car driven by Bob Ingram employee of the Union Dairy Co., crashed into theirs.

Mr. Ingram was uninjured. He was placed under arrest pending trial and Miss Smith and Mr. Cruce were given medical attention at the hospital.

John Earl, George Alley, Hartwell Parker, Everett Rushton and Glenn Wiseman spent Thursday afternoon in Jackson attending a sales meeting at the New Southern hotel.

BUSINESS HOLDS OWN IN FULTON VICINITY

Despite a so-called recession in many parts of the country, business is going along about normal in Fulton and vicinity, survey here shows. Postal receipts, express and freight shipments are encouraging, and building activities are above the average.

Business improvements, new homes and repairs on old residences are going forward with much gusto, contractors report. C. A. Stephens of the Pierce-Coquin Lumber Company here, stated this week, that prospects are unusually bright in the building field, and many plans are being drawn that promise building activity.

Several new homes are being built, others are being remodeled, and a survey shows that the following are building or plan building:

A. G. Baldrige, new house on Park-av now under construction, and he plans to construct a modern duplex on the corner of Park-av and Fourth-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Owen plan 5-room bungalow in Highlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fields are building a 5-room bungalow on Parrhall-st in South Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Sebra Evans will erect a new home on West-st.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Exum plan home on Green-st in near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Turbeville and Mr. and Mrs. Hendon Wright plan to build new homes in Highlands.

Mr. and Mrs. Doran Colley plan a home on lot adjoining Dr. Crafton on Walnut-st.

W. W. Batts is remodeling his beautiful home on the Mayfield highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob White plan a new home on the Mayfield highway.

Burglars Continue Spree In Fulton

Burglars have been unusually active around Fulton in the last few weeks, with several homes being ransacked and considerable produce and farm material stolen in the farm districts.

Unknown pilferers entered the home of Rev. J. N. Wilford, pastor of the First Methodist Church last Friday night as the family slept. A small amount of money and a Hamilton watch were stolen. Footprints outside the window indicated that several persons were involved, and the prints were evidently those of boys.

The same night, the home of Mose Homra, also in East Fulton, was entered through a rear window. Members of the family were awakened and heard the thieves as they pilfered various rooms.

Annual Fish Fry Is Held By Men's Class

The annual fish fry of the Busy Men's Bible Class of the First Methodist Church was held at the church last Friday night, with 64 men enjoying the occasion. And, boy, did this bunch of men eat! With W. L. Carter, Paul and Alf Hornbake the chefs in charge.

Ward McClellan, class president, explained the purpose of the dinner was to create new interest and encourage new members to join the class. H. T. Smith, teacher of the class, then introduced Jimmy Felts, assistant teacher, who stated it was his honor to organize the first men's Bible class south of the Mason and Dixon line. It was a most enjoyable affair and well carried out.

MILADY CAN LOOK BEAUTIFUL EXPERT SAYS

Arrangements have been made with Miss Connie Smeatham of Chicago, one of the country's foremost beauticians, by which this paper will present a series of beauty talks in a special column. Miss Smeatham has had wide experience in her field, having had many prominent women, including movie stars as her clients.

The first of this series of talks will appear in the issue of February 24, and will run consecutively for four weeks.

ROTARY CLUB HELD LADIES NIGHT FEAST

The annual ladies night of the Rotary Club was held Tuesday night at the First Methodist Church with members, Rotary Anns and other guests present to enjoy a delectable dinner served by the ladies of the church. J. O. Lewis, president, acted as toastmaster, and after giving a brief sketch of Rotaryism, turned the program over to Rev. Woodrow Fuller.

In a novel contest, a box of candy and a lemon was started around the table, the candy passing from lady to lady and the lemon from man to man as music was played, the idea being that the lady in possession of candy as music stopped to receive the confection, and the man with the lemon to pay for it. As the last note was sounded, Mrs. E. N. DeMyer had the candy, and the lemon was in the air as Theodore Kramer tossed it to Clyde Lester, so both paid for the candy.

To add more fun to the program Leslie Weeks introduced a resolution before the club to abolish ladies night on the ground they were a waste of time, money and patience. A debate resulted with Joe Davis, Robert Binford and Mrs. Theodore Kramer, putting Leslie's resolution into the cold.

Mrs. Martin Nall, as Madame Telemore, gave a delightful demonstration on palmistry. As Theodore Kramer and Bob White came under the scrutiny of the palmist who revealed some of the dark secrets of their lives, the crowd was amused as they reacted to some of the revelations.

Music for the occasion was furnished by two quartets from the Murray College, the girls vocal quartet and the faculty string quartet.

Drawings For Obion County Tournament

At a meeting of basketball officials held at Union City Saturday drawings for positions in the Obion County Tournament were conducted. The tourney will be held at Obion, starting Wednesday, February 16.

In the girls division, Dixie, South Fulton, Cloverdale and Troy were seeded teams. In the boys' division, South Fulton, Dixie, Rives and Troy were selected as seeded teams. All seeded teams were granted byes in the first round of play.

Both the boys and girls teams of South Fulton have established a good record this season. South Fulton Red Devils are favored to win the county title, although they will find stiff opposition from the Dixie Rebels, county and district champs and from the Rives Panthers, who have an enviable record this season.

Coach Bill Roberts of South Fulton is drilling his teams for tournament play, and they will be in there scrapping for victory. He has brought the southside basketballers through a most successful season, creditable to him and the players.

LIONS CLUB PLANS ANNUAL LADIES NIGHT

Plans are being made by the Lions Club for the annual ladies night banquet, which will be held at the First Methodist Church, Friday, February 18. Approximately 150 people are expected to be present, including club members and guests.

The presidents and secretaries and their wives of the Paducah, Mayfield, Clinton and Hickman clubs will be present. Sam S. Sloan, District Governor of Lions, from Paducah, and the Paducah Lions quartette will be on the program. This promises to be one of the most enjoyable meetings ever sponsored by the club.

The News Congratulates

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Hardie on the birth of a seven pound boy, born Wednesday morning at the Fulton Hospital. He was named Ralph Dale.

Mr. and Mrs. George Winters Jr. on the birth of a seven pound boy at the Fulton hospital Wednesday night.

FULTON FARM BUREAU PLANS ANNUAL MEET

Plans are now being formulated for the annual convention of the Fulton County Farm Bureau which will be held at the Cayce high school auditorium, Tuesday night, February 15th, at 7 p. m., according to Roscoe Stone, president.

Officers and directors are to be elected for 1938, and Ben E. Niles, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau and Ben Kilgore, executive secretary, are to be the main speakers. Every farmer is invited to hear the farm program discussed as Mr. Kilgore is now in Washington and will be able to give first-hand information on the new farm bill.

Kid Eberfield Will Direct Doan School

Norman (Kid) Eberfield, one of baseball's scrappy bantam roosters of the Kid Gleason and John McGraw cast, and formerly manager of the Fulton baseball club in 1936, has signed as an instructor for the Doan Baseball School, Hot Springs, Ark.

Eberfield's fame could rest alone on his courage and aggressiveness. But he also ranks as one of the game's great shortstops and served as manager of the New York Yankees in 1908. He continued as an active player with Washington until 1911 and has been a minor league pilot since.

The Kid will be at the Doan school for the full course, February 25 to April 1. He'll handle the infielders with Rog Hornsby. He made many friends while in Fulton who will be glad to hear of his assignment.

Union City Postmaster Dies At Reelfoot Lake

C. G. Guill, 48, prominent resident of Union City and postmaster there, dropped dead Sunday afternoon at the Dixie Rod and Gun clubhouse on Reelfoot Lake, where he had spent the week end. With him at the time of his death were Mrs. Guill and Union City Finance Commissioner, D. A. Box and Mrs. Box.

The party had spent the week end at the club and were preparing to return home when Mr. Box heard Mr. Guill fall upstairs. By the time he reached his side, Mr. Guill had died. Mr. Guill had suffered an illness several days ago, but was apparently improved.

Mr. Guill served as city clerk and finance officer at Union City for 11 years, resigning to accept the postmastership there. He was a member of the American Legion, former Lions and Elks clubs there, and was secretary of the Dixie Rod and Gun Club for a number of years.

Mrs. C. G. Guill has been appointed by Congressman Jere Cooper to fill the vacancy caused by husband's death, and will be postmistress of the Union City post office.

Obion County Plans Health Day Program

Plans were made Saturday for the annual Blue Ribbon Festival program to be held at Union City in April. The program will be presented by all of the Blue Ribbon children of Obion county at Turner Field in festival day, following the Blue Ribbon parade, when 3,000 children are expected to participate.

After the parade, the program at Turner Field will consist entirely of folk games, choruses and musical games.

JUDGE HINDMAN'S ILLNESS BRINGS OPERATION

Circuit Judge L. L. Hindman was stricken Monday night at his home in Clinton and rushed to the I. C. Hospital at Paducah, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis Tuesday morning. The court is in session at Clinton this week, and in Judge Hindman's absence Attorney W. F. McMurry, of Paducah, is presiding.

SERMON TOPIC AT FULTON CHURCH

Following is a synopsis of a sermon by the Rev. J. S. Robinson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church here last Sunday:

Subject: God's Prayer Measure. Text: Eph. 3:20, 21, "Now unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think, according to the power that worketh in us, unto him be glory in the church of Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end, Amen."

Paul was a man of prayer. In all of his 13 epistles he began with a prayer, interspersed them with petitions and supplication and closed them with benedictions or doxologies. The text, with the verses immediately preceding, are an example of his very earnest prayers. There are several petitions in these verses:

First, he prays to be "Strengthened with might by the Spirit in the inner man," vs. 16. He might have asked for many other things—freedom from prison, more temporal blessings, or to be a more popular preacher. But he asked for himself and the Ephesians saints that they might have spiritual renewal and life.

In our day too much stress is being laid upon bodily activity and development at the expense of the development of the spiritual. The popular hero of the day is the athlete who can play ball to the delight of those who look on and to his own profit. Paul said to Timothy "Exercise thyself rather unto godliness. For bodily exercise profiteth for a little; but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come." I Tim. 4: 7, 8.

Another petition was that Christ might "dwell in their hearts by faith," vs. 17. The Christian religion transcends but does not contradict reason. One may see things by faith that cannot be seen by the natural eye.

Plans Are Made For District Tournament

Preliminary plans have been completed for the First District Basketball Tournament which will be held from Tuesday, March 1 through Saturday, March 5, at the high school gymnasium in Clinton. Teams participating in play are: Fulton, Hickman, Clinton, Cayce, Sylvan Shade, Sassafras Ridge, Beclerton, Bardwell, Arlington, Cunningham, Fulgham, Columbus, Milburn and Shiloh. Drawings for positions have been held with the following results:

1. Bardwell vs. Cayce; 2. Sylvan Shade vs. Cunningham; 3. Shiloh vs. Sassafras Ridge; 4. Hickman vs. Cayce; 5. Arlington vs. Fulgham; 6. Columbus vs. Fulton; 7. Milburn vs. Clinton; 8. Beclerton vs. Byrd; 9. Bardwell vs. winner of Sylvan Shade-Cunningham game will play Thursday night at 7:30.

10. Winners of 3 and 4 play on Thursday night 8:30; 11. Winners of 5 and 6 play Friday night 7:30; 12. Winners of 7 and 8 play Friday night 8:30; 13. Winners of 9 and 10 play Saturday afternoon; 14. Winners of 11 and 12 play Saturday afternoon; 15. Winners of 13 and 14 play the finals Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

COMMUNITY SINGING AT COURT HOUSE SUNDAY

The regular second Sunday singing will be held at the court house Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:00 o'clock. Many singers are expected and one of the largest turnouts in the history of singing as steadily growing interest is being evinced in this type of singing.

BULLDOGS LOSE TO MURRAY CAGERS 15-31

The Fulton High School Bulldogs traveled to Murray last Friday night, where they were defeated 31-15 by the high school basketballers. Murray held the advantage throughout the game, which was zestless and mediocre. The Fulton Pups also lost their game by a close score of 26-30.

SERMON

Dan Crawford, the noted African missionary, went hunting with a native chief. Coming to a thicket where deer were thought to be the chief said, "Doctor, can you see any?" The missionary adjusted his spy glasses and replied, "I think I see two." But the chief looking with his trained eye said, "I see twenty." Eye glasses are good but seeing more without them is better. Faith is better than eyes. Faith sees further, sees better, sees more than sight does.

A third petition is "That they might comprehend, and know, the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge." You ask, How is it possible to know that which passes knowledge? and we answer that it is humanly impossible; but when renewed by the divine Spirit it becomes possible to understand some of the deep things of God.

Paul prays that they "comprehend" the love of God. The word comprehend is more inclusive than the word "apprehend." We apprehend a thing when we understand only some part of it; we comprehend a thing only when we understand it in all its parts. So Paul was praying for full and perfect insight into spiritual truths.

If this knowledge is to be gained one must really know what it is to love, to love God and man. Love is the greatest command, Mt. 22: 34 to 40. One must love before he can be "filled with all the fullness of God." One cannot begin to really understand until he loves.

Paul describes the love of God as having breadth, depth, length and height. The breadth of the gospel reaches to all ages, nations and conditions of men. Its depth is sufficient to reach down to the lowest sinner and save him. Its

Muscular Rheumatic Pains

It takes more than "just a salve" to draw them out. It takes a "counter-irritant" like good old Musterole—soothing, warming, penetrating and helpful in drawing out the local congestion and pain when rubbed on the aching spots.

Muscular lumbago, soreness and stiffness generally yield promptly. Better than the old-fashioned mustard plaster, Musterole has been used by millions for 30 years. Recommended by many doctors and nurses. All druggists. In three strengths: Regular Strength, Children's (mild), and Extra Strong.

Beware Coughs That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold, or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with any remedy less potent than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble and aids nature to soothe and heal the inflamed mucous membranes and to loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, try Creomulsion. Your druggist is authorized to refund your money if you are not thoroughly satisfied with the benefits obtained from the very first bottle. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

height assures that those who believe will be lifted up to become sons and daughters of the Almighty. And its length guarantees these blessings to all eternity. How inexhaustible are the riches of grace in Christ!

God's prayer measure is infinitely greater than that of man. How feeble is our faith, how pitifully small are our petitions. Some one has beautifully written:

"Thou art coming to a King, Large petitions with thee bring; For his grace and power are such, None can ever ask too much."

Look out into the heavens about you. There is the moon, the sun, and other planets, some comparatively near and some much farther away. Then look at the twinkling stars of the night and imagine, if you can how far away they are. The largest telescopes and the wisest men can only guess how far off these stars. Now hold the imagination on that farthest star for a moment, and then try to think how much farther it is to the outer limits of space! But here the minds fails; however far the imagination travels, there is still infinitely beyond.

Perhaps this is our best illustration of God's prayer measure, for "He is able to do exceeding abundantly above all our highest prayers or thoughts."

Won't you call now upon this God and Saviour? Let's make his prayer measure ours.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 13

"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, Feb. 13. Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Seeing you have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth forever." (1 Peter 1:22, 23)

This includes Christian Science Society, Fulton, Ky., which holds regular services Sunday at 11:00 A. M., and Testimonial Meeting Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. Reading Room at 211 Carr-st. open Wednesday and Saturday from 2 and 4 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend these services, and to visit the Reading Room where The Bible, and authorized Christian Science literature may be read borrowed or purchased.

MARTIN STOPS DEVILS' LONG WINNING STREAK

Both Angels and Devils fell before the onslaught of the Martin teams here Friday night, the Angels being nosed out by a two point margin, 47-45, and the Devils halting by a 35-31 set back. The girls game was an interesting affair from start to finish, with Martin holding the lead most of the way. South Fulton had three guards to foul out in the last quarter. Bell, South Fulton forward, stole the cake for individual honors, making 36 points. The boys game was fast and packed with thrills with each team fighting to hold small margins thruout the game.

South Fulton plays her last home game Friday night when they meet Mason Hall. They will journey to Obion next week to vie for honors in the county tournament.

University of Kentucky at 11:00 o'clock the first day, and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture will speak at the same hour the second day. Dr. W. W. Dimmock of the College of Agriculture will make two talks on livestock diseases, and Dr. H. B. Price will tell farmers what is ahead of them in crop and livestock values this season. How pastures can be improved and what may be done in general to build fertility, will be the subject of two talks by Prof. George Roberts, noted soil authority.

PADUCAH WALLOPS FULTON IN BIG SCORE

After battling the Paducah Tornado 4-4 in the first quarter, the Fulton Bulldogs failed to keep pace Tuesday night and lost 40-9. The local team fought valiantly and held the visitors to a score of 18-6 at the half, but Tilghman walked away with an easy victory.

In the B team game, the Paducahans won 31-10, thus giving the Tornado both ends of a double-header.

NERVOUS?

Do you feel so nervous that you want to scream? Are there times when you are cross and irritable—times when you scold those who are dearest to you?

If your nerves are on edge, try that world-famous LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND. It will help Nature calm your quivering nerves and give you the strength and energy to face life with a smile.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife, take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through" with this reliable, time-tested medicine made especially for women from wholesome herbs and roots. More than a million grateful women have written in reporting benefit from Pinkham's Compound. Why not give it a chance to help YOU?

University of Kentucky at 11:00 o'clock the first day, and Dean Thomas P. Cooper of the College of Agriculture will speak at the same hour the second day. Dr. W. W. Dimmock of the College of Agriculture will make two talks on livestock diseases, and Dr. H. B. Price will tell farmers what is ahead of them in crop and livestock values this season. How pastures can be improved and what may be done in general to build fertility, will be the subject of two talks by Prof. George Roberts, noted soil authority.

Formers attending the meetings will have an opportunity to see cattle on feed and hear about their rations and gains. The meeting will be open to all farm men and women, and Supt. S. J. Lowry is arranging to accommodate a large attendance from western counties of Kentucky and from other states.

DUKEDOM MEN TO ASK ROOSEVELT TO THEIR NEXT BIRTHDAY PARTY

John Stone, 86, and Charlie Ross, 66, Dukedom residents, birthdays come on January 29, the same as President Roosevelt's, and for the past thirty-eight years they have eaten birthday dinners together. They plan to invite President Roosevelt to join them next year, when it will be time to eat dinner at Stone's house.

Mr. Stone is cashier of the Dukedom Bank, and Ross is a retired farmer. They alternate the birthday dinners, and the last was held at the home of Ross.

What has become of the old-fashioned Fulton man who used to drink a lot of patent medicine of some kind or another just to get his picture in the paper?

THE INDIAN

We sometimes think that the Indian did not become prominent in literature and tradition until he was a vanishing remnant of a former grandeur. In reality he was idealized in the nineteenth century quite as much in America as in far-away Europe, where there was no danger of scalping and captivity. One of the oddities of our American literature is a play called "PONTIAC," written by Major Robert Rogers, in 1766, the year after he had helped crush the conspiracy of this valiant Indian chieftain of the West. No later writer has made more of the noble savage than this hardened Indian fighter. The whites of the play are deceitful, overbearing, and worthy of the contempt felt for them by the savage chief. Before the Revolutionary War Philip Freneau was jingling the praises of the Indian, in such poems as
"The Indian Burying-Ground,"
"The Indian Student," and "The Dying Indian." Just at the turn of the nineteenth century Alexander Wilson, a Scotch weaver who had come to America, found the vanishing red man very poetical, especially the Indians of New York State, who were at that time being forced from their ancient hunting grounds. More than a generation before Cooper was singing the praises of the Indian in this very area, Wilson was writing rather creditable verse about the native warrior who reluctantly was leaving the places where he and his ancestors had lived for unnumbered centuries. Bryant, Whittier, Cooper, Simms, Bird and Thoreau are only a few of the writers who found the Indian a great literary figure a century or more ago. The culmination of this whole tradition was the writing of Longfellow's Hiawatha, which is itself a versification of legends and traditions collected by Schoolcraft among the Ojibways of the Lake Superior region. Cooper has often been accused of making his Indians too noble a criticism that certainly would not apply to the Indians of Simms and Bird. In the novels of these two men the American savage is a brute, with few if any good qualities. Without doubt each of these had determined to modify the entrancing picture of the savage as Cooper had painted it.

In more recent years there has been a determined effort on the part of scholars to record faithfully the actual achievements of the Indian. Indian music has come to have a real value, and such musicians as Liacurra have done much to make everybody appreciate the haunting melodies of the natives of America. Folklorists have been equally busy in taking down the stories the Indians have told for ages. Some of the scholars in this field have had Indians tell the stories in their native language and have recorded them in a written code or even had them reproduced on a victrola. Indian basketry, pottery-making, and other arts are gradually becoming known everywhere. Though our real knowledge of the Indian is late in developing, it is sure to influence many of our artistic creations in future years. The folk conception of the Indian for a long time blinded us to actual values.

"THE NEWS" WEEKLY SCRAPBOOK

Week's Best Recipe—

Brown Betty—One cup of bread crumbs; 2 cups of chopped apple; 1-2 cup sugar; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; 2 teaspoons butter cut into bits. Put a layer of apples into a deep dish, sprinkle with sugar, cinnamon and bits of butter, then a layer of crumbs, and in that way fill the dish. Cover and bake three-quarters of an hour, then uncover and grown quickly. Serve with whipped cream.

On Ironing Day—

To iron men's soft collars, begin at the points and press towards the center of the back. This will prevent the unsightly wrinkles that are usually seen on home-laundered collars. . . . If talcum powder is rubbed into washable kid and chamois gloves after they have been washed and dried they will have a soft finish.

Kitchen Kinks—

When baking fruit cookies or cakes add a small pan of water to the oven. It helps to keep them moist. . . . It is usually economy to prepare more foods than are to be eaten so that leftovers can be utilized for meals to follow. . . .
Cheese sprinkled over the top of mince pie before it is heated for serving gives a glossy top and delicious flavor.

The Doctor Says—

Don't let the medicine chest become a catch-all. Remove all the contents and make a clean sweep of everything except the essentials.
Then wash the inside thoroughly with warm soapsuds, working it well into corners where spilled liquids and dust collect. Wipe off the bottles and other containers with a soapy cloth before putting them back then arrange them with labels so they can be easily read.

Winter Washing—

No housewife likes to hang the wash in doors, but most of them do during the winter months. It is not so nice to iron as when dried out of doors. Next week when your clothes are dry dampen them, roll them up tight and put the basket out on the back porch, letting the clothes freeze. They will iron beautifully and smell nice and fresh.

An Inspiration—

Do something for somebody, somewhere.
While jogging along life's road;
Help someone to carry his burden.
And lighter will grow your load.

VANISHING SCARECROWS

According to the U. S. Bureau of Biological Survey, the scarecrow is already virtually extinct. No Fulton citizen need take the bureau's word for it, however. All he has to do is get in his car and drive around awhile through most any farming district. Where every corn field once had its crude cross decked in discarded clothing and hat with perhaps a few handfuls of hay for stuffing, one may drive for miles now without seeing a single one.

The scarecrow is gone, says the Bureau, because it so miserably failed to live up to its name. The crow is a wise bird. It saw in the ridiculously outstretched arms of the scarecrow not an evidence of human presence, but merely a convenient perch from which the better to enjoy the feast and taunt the farmer. Yet that has been going on for a good many years before the farmer lost faith in the scarecrow.

Modern mechanical science, we suspect, might provide a much more lifelike and effective substitute. Why not a radio-controlled dummy, perhaps, with all the earmarks and movements of a real man, that the farmer, manipulating his armchair, could dispatch about his fields at will? But the new taste for crow's meat, which it has been discovered can be made into a fairly delectable dish, has removed even the necessity for that. As a result the hunter's quest for the crow has discouraged the flocks from pilfering corn more than ever the scarecrow did. So there is another clue to the disappearance of another familiar figure from the countryside—the old scarecrow.

CLOTHES AND CARS

If you'd like to know what the average family does with its income when father gets a raise, then lend your ear a moment to the result of a recent survey completed in a half-dozen mid-western states. A poll was taken throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Iowa to determine as nearly as possible how the average family, just about the same type of families around Fulton deal out their money for food, clothes, shelter, automobiles, medical care and so on.

Among the most interesting things revealed by the figures, now that they have been tabulated, is the admission of those whose incomes are the lowest that when they do get a little extra money they spend it for food and clothing. But when all of them are bunched together and the census is considered as a whole, it is found that the most decided increase in spending goes on the family car—even more on the car than they spend on clothing. For incomes between $2,000 and $2,500, for example, food costs according to the survey took 31 per cent, the auto 19 per cent, housing and clothing, 11 per cent, and so on.

The car is used to take the whole family out for pleasure trips, drives into the country and on vacation jaunts. This all has its good effect on health, education and mental stimulus. There is a parking lot as big as a farm outside the Ford plant at Dearborn, Mich. So the American family car isn't luxury by any means, though it may look so to millions of middle-class persons in other lands to whom a car is a dream far beyond realization.

ROAD ECONOMY

As a rule, Fulton citizens think of good roads chiefly in terms of speed, convenience and comfort. The highway research board in Washington has found another advantage—savings in cost of car operation and maintenance. The study was made among rural mail carriers in Iowa. It costs them 3.07 cents a mile to drive their automobiles over dirt roads. Gravel roads, at 2.17 cents per mile, are much better. But a good paved highway is easy enough on gasoline, oil, tires and the like to cut the figure to 1.44 cents per mile. As between the old dirt road and the modern highway that is a saving of 1.63 cents per mile—$163 annually for the driver who covers 10,000 a year. So good roads become a matter of good business. Motorists willingly paid for them even before the pocketbook argument was evident. But where special taxes levied for road building are diverted to other needs the driver may well wonder if one factor doesn't offset the other.

A WELCOME VISITOR

One fellow who is always welcome at the front door of every home around Fulton is the free-delivery carrier. Nobody motions to him from the front window to drive on, and nobody ever stops him and says: "We don't want any mail today." In fact, every one is glad to see him coming along the road. His job is not the most pleasant one in the world by any means, since it takes him out into all kinds of weather. But like a real soldier he is always to be found at his post of duty, uncomplaining and unmindful of the drab side of his life. We sometimes wonder if he gets all the smiles and hearty well-wishes to which he is entitled; we wonder if all of his patrons are careful to show their appreciation of his faithful service. Have you ever done any wondering along that line, or are you one of those who take him as a matter of course and withhold the smiles to which he is really entitled and which would help him along in his work?

A THIN ARGUMENT

When someone tries to tell you that the big city merchant can sell cheaper than the merchants in the smaller towns because the city merchants buy in so much larger quantities, ask him this: How much greater are his taxes? How much greater is the cost of his heat and light? How much more expensive is his clerk hire? How much more costly is his advertising space in the big city papers than space in the small-town paper that serves your local merchant? How much more insurance must he carry because he carries a larger stock. And, finally, who has to pay all this added cost in the long run? If you've been believing that old stuff about buying in larger quantities, forget it. Answer the above questions for yourself and you'll understand why the small-town merchant does not have to knock under such sales argument as that, regardless of section of the country he is doing business in.

Why is it some fellows will pay $1200 for an automobile and then kick if the laundry loses a quarter collar?

As a general rule, Fulton people who have a skeleton in their closets do the most talking about other people.

JUST HUMANS

"A Penny For Your Thoughts!"
"Make it a Nickel an' Y'on!"

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY

Chas. A. Williams

To war or not to war, is the problem facing the greater powers of the world today. This question so vital to the well being of every citizen commands a large part of the headlines. As well, it can be little doubted that it commands a large part of the thoughts of these citizens. For what is more interesting to a parent than the blood of their son. Certainly few things can command more consideration from a world that desires peace to yet prepare for conflict? Why may one with a mad lust for power obtain peaceful followers? Followers who give their lives to make a red river, which will float Ole Lust in his canoe of manifest(?) destiny to a pinnacle called Power. Which, after reached, is only a precarious seat.

It would seem from the blood-stained pages of history that it has been honor plus greed. To make all this possible a lack of penetrating thought must be and is in evidence. Few stop to think that what is called honor may not be the real thing. Soldiers who give their lives (and civilians now) for either side believe they are doing it for honor's sake. This character Lust tells them it is honorable to die for so-and-so and such-and-such and they fail to discern his motive for the declaration. The motive, of course, is greed. In reverse order, greed gives motive which in turn begets honor, and for honor's sake they died and will die. Is an honor that is given birth by greed a worthy ideal?

There are always two sides to every war and peculiarly enough both sides ever have honor with them. Is nobody wrong? Yes! The leaders with their greed and the followers who blindly tread the path of their leading Judas, while he blatantly tells them it is for an "Tis all a checker-board Nights and Days

Where Destiny with men for pieces plays:

Hither and thither moves and mates and slays. And one by one back in the Closet lays."

It appears quite clearly by this time that the eroubie with commerce and industry in this country is that the congress does too much backseat driving.

Picked Up Around Town

I have heard of giving barbers shaving sets, and shoe salesmen shoes on Christmas, but when a profectionist attends a movie on his night off, something remains to be explained.

A. G. Baldrige says it has been his observation that a man seldom has his heart in his work unless he has his back in it too.

"Hereditry," asserts Robert Davis "is something the average father believes in until his son gets to acting the darned fool."

Maybe the reason the bill of fare in the big city hotel is printed in French is because what you don't know won't hurt you.

Fred Sawyer says husbands do not object to their wives using a little powder on their face, but that any husband dislikes going out with a wife who is so powdered up she looks like a marshmallow.

Feed the birds. They deserve it because they don't get up amateur concerts and insist on selling tickets to it.

"Why is it," asks Bob White "that when you do a man a favor without being asked he will spend an hour trying to figure out where the catch comes in."

J. C. Wiggins says the average man has a hard time of it. Outside the home the bandits hold him up and inside it the in-laws hold him down.

The pies mother used to make seem even more wonderful when we consider how little dough father used to make.

"I've never been able to figure out," says Charlie Walker "how old Adam vented his temper when there wasn't a single door around the house to slam."

SPARKS of WISDOM

No Fulton man has reached middle-age wisdom until he learns not to put much faith in hair tonics.

Modern girls are old fashioned in that they love spinning wheels—but they prefer to have them on automobiles.

They say an honest confession is good for the soul. Yes, and its also good for a column or two in the newspapers.

Our advice to Fulton men is not to knock the church. Maybe it has improved a good deal since you have been there.

Most lawyers do not care who makes the country's laws so long as they can fix its juries.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

Here and There and Ashley

By IRVIN S. COBB

CLIFFORD ASHLEY, former noted authority on whaling days in New Bedford, and whose marine and Cape Code paintings have made him famous wherever art is bought and sold, spent most of his time around in a light automobile seeking subjects for his brush. It was his custom to seek out the quaint settlements, spend a week at his easel and travel to the next village by night. No living man knew the Cape region as Ashley knew it.

One summer he hit the trail for New Jersey and succeeded under the cover of darkness in getting himself completely lost. He stepped on the gas for several hours and went deeper and deeper into oblivion. Toward midnight the wanderer reached a roadside farmhouse, from upper windows of which gleamed the fitful rays of a candle.

"Hello there," shouted the painter.

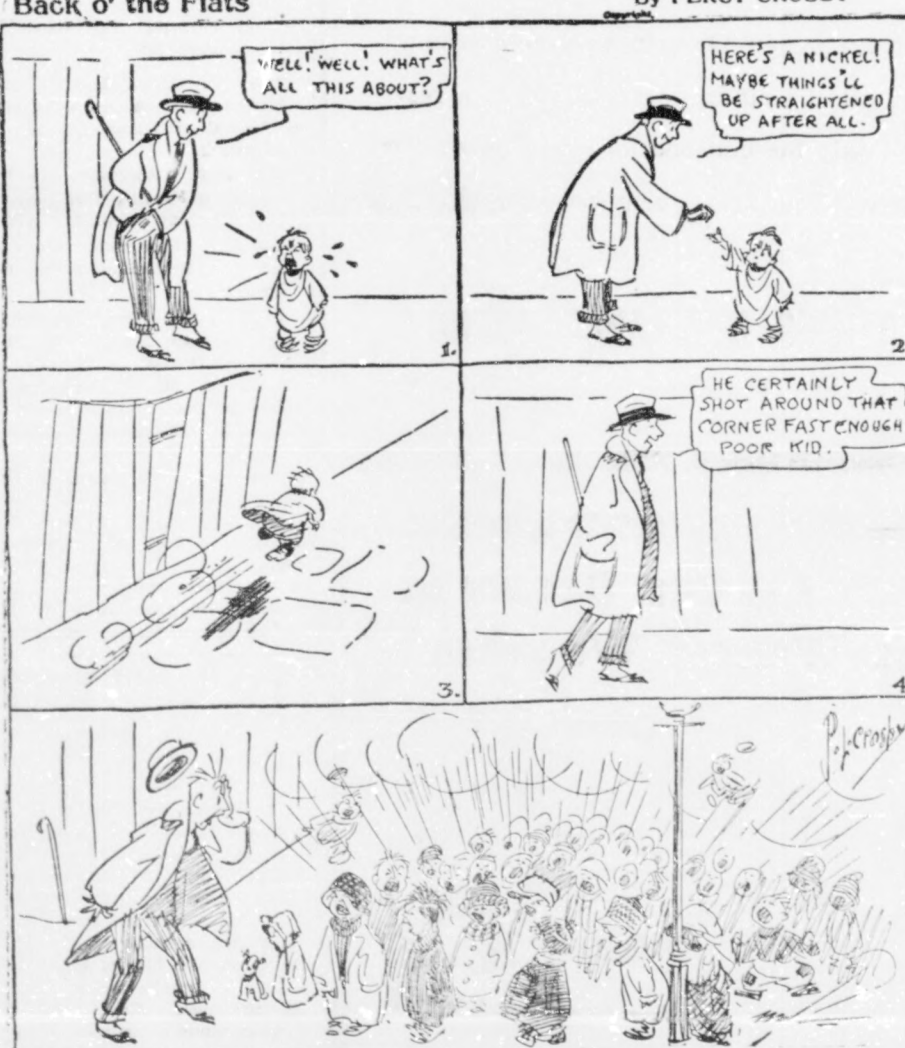

"Whadda you want?" came back the gruff query.

"Where am I?"

"You're right here. Where the thunder do you think you are?" (American News Features, Inc.)

HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Charles G. Baker, M. D.
Health Officer.

The trend of smallpox in Kentucky was markedly upward during the last nine months of 1937. By the end of the first three weeks of January, 1938, the number of cases of the disease was greater than the expected cases for the entire month. With the present rapid transportation systems and wide spread travel epidemics of smallpox may appear in any county in the state.

The Fulton County Health Department has made definite efforts to vaccinate 100 percent of all the school children, teachers and food handlers, and this goal has been practically achieved. The public is urged to co-operate by consulting their family physicians or the health department for this service. Vaccination may protect an individual for an indefinite period but experience has shown that vaccination should be repeated at seven year intervals. If an individual is immune the vaccination will not take and causes but slight reaction.

Teachers and parents are urged to report any case thought to be chicken pox since it may be a mild case of smallpox. Such mild cases can give rise to an epidemic of smallpox.
