SOUTH FULTON COUNCIL DISCUSSES NEW BRIDGE

Plans for the new overhead bridge on West State Line near the city limits were discussed at the regular session of the South Fulton City Council last Friday night. Work is expected to start on this overpass as soon as the new bridge at Riceville is opened to traffic.

Officials of the Kentucky State Highway Department appeared before the South Fulton group seeking right-of-way for a 25 foot strip of land now belonging to J. B. Houston. This property, which is just south of the present bridge is needed to make the approach for the new bridge. The council resolved to grant this request on condition that Mr. Houston be given other land in compensation.

During the month of February a total of $1,732.34 were collected in taxes, and $32.50 were collected in fines and costs, J. L. Crockett, treasurer, reported. The total of funds on hand was given as $5,513.63.

The board approved a project to erect a concrete walk on the Kentucky-Tennessee state line from Bates-st to the Midway property, near the overhead bridge. This is to keep dirt and drainage from accumulating.

Mr. Hughes of the Westinghouse Electric Company, Evansville, Ind., was present and quoted prices on transformers and cables for the new plant at the water works.

The board resolved that no merchant is to sell anything to the city of Fulton unless a requisition slip is furnished.

FIGHT TO RETAIN HIGHWAY ROUTES

The regular bi-monthly meeting of Young Business Men's Club met at the Rainbow Room Tuesday night and enjoyed a luncheon. Roy Manchester, Scout executive, of Paducah, was present and met with the club's Scout council to discuss plans for activities in Fulton.

Billy Blackstone, Robert Batts and Kellie Lowe told of TVA conferences in this region, including one with the Authority officials held here Monday at the city hall.

Jack Robbins appeared before the club and told of proposals that are being made to reroute highways 45 and 51 through Fulton. One plan is to construct a cut-off connecting with the present detour at the Middle Road just west of Riceville and intersecting with the Cairo-Fulton Highway somewhere near the Wolverton bridge. That route would take all north and south traffic around Fulton through Highlands to the Union City highway. The new Ohio River bridge now nearing completion at Cairo when opened will bring a lot more traffic from the north that is now going through Arkansas, Mr. Robbins pointed out.

It is rumored that a proposed cut-off run from the Mayfield highway across the Fairgrounds and connecting with the route over the new bridge now being constructed at Riceville. If such a plan should be carried out all north and south traffic via Cairo or Paducah would never strike Fulton, it was shown.

Figures compiled by the American Automobile Association show that every tourist passing through Fulton leaves an average of $1.50, or $7.50 if an overnight stop is made. It is estimated that Fulton, which is located on the hub of two national highways, realizes between $6,000 and $8,000 monthly from tourist travel. Mr. Robbins said that the tourist dollar is cash, and represents a definite source of income to the community.

As a first step in getting the highway department to route these arterial highways through Fulton, a petition was circulated here this week to remove the parking zone from the middle of Lake-st in order to afford a wider lane of traffic in the congested downtown district. All firms on Lake-st, with the exception of five favored the move.

It is proposed that parking zones be removed from the center of this street, and lots back of Lake-st be cindered and arranged for parking. A committee will follow thru on this program, and endeavor to keep Fulton on the hub of Highways 45 and 51.

DRIVE FOR LIGHTS FOR PARK HERE

Smith Atkins, president of the Fulton Baseball Association, assisted by a committee, conducted a drive this week, to obtain funds to install lights at the back-lot park by selling stock in the association. Local fans and citizens were told that approximately $3,500 is needed to install lights and prepare for the opening of the 1938 season here.

Fulton got a lucky break last year, President Atkins pointed out. "We sold two players for $550 and received $350 net from the payoff, making a total of $1400, but we may not be so lucky this season. We must either have lights for night games, when more people can attend, or we must dispose of our franchise to some city that wants it. The people are responding to the subscription drive in fine spirit, and if this kind of co-operation continues we should find no difficulty in putting baseball on a paying basis in Fulton. Any individual who can and will is urged to subscribe for some stock in this community enterprise which means a lot to our city."

Installation of lighting equipment will cost between $3,000 and $3,400, it is estimated, and an additional $500 will be required to improve the park and build more bleachers.

Eighteen contracts have been signed and returned to the Fulton club, Frank Beadies, secretary, states. Practically all contracts are from new players. Fulton has a working agreement with the Brooklyn Dodgers through Nashville, and a school will open here next month.

HA' NAPHIN SELECTS KITTY LOOP UMPIRES

J. E. Hannephin, president of the Kitty League, has been busy recently getting everything in readiness for the opening of the 1938 season. Five umpires have been selected, and three others are to be named soon.

Jimmy Futrell of Jackson, Tenn., will don the blue regalia of a Kitty League umpire this season.

The other new addition to the Kitty League umpire corps is J. Buford Webb of Earlington, Ky. President Hannephin expects to have a good group of umpires ready for the opening of the season May 10.

Three old umpires, W. H. Speck of Chicago; Ellis Beggs of Kentucky and Don Archer of Rose City, Michigan, have been signed for another year.

NEW SKATING RINK TO OPEN IN FULTON

Plans are now being made for the opening of a new skating rink in Fulton on April 2, on the lot in the rear of the C. & E. Sandwich Shop. Chas. Newton has returned from St. Louis where he purchased complete new equipment, and the rink will be one of the most modern in the South.

W. F. McMURRAY OPENS GRAVES CIRCUIT COURT

The March term of the Graves Circuit court opened Monday morning at Chapel Hill with Special Judge W. F. McMurray, Paducah, presiding in the absence of Judge L. L. Hinaman, Clinton, who is recovering after a recent operation.

Grand Jurymen were selected as follows: Clyde Waggoner, foreman; J. W. Moses, Orville Holloway, B. B. Mason, C. L. Jeltin, J. O. Rickman, Earl Hamilton, M. C. Freeman, Clarence Richardson, Bode Timmons, B. F. Wheeler and Hub Holloway. The grand jury will have a week in which to complete their work. Petit jurors will report next Monday morning for the beginning of trials of criminal and civil cases.

EDWARDS FOOD STORE INSTALLS MEAT DEPT.

Edwards', the Monarch Food Store on the hill, has installed a modern, new refrigeration box, and is now handling fresh meats in order to thoroughly serve their patrons. The store has been rearranged and presents one of the most interesting food displays in Fulton.

Friends and patrons are invited by Edwards to visit the store to see the new meat department.

Plans For Cayce Banquet Gets Support Of Lions

Tickets are now on sale for the Casey Jones Memorial banquet to be held at the Cayce High School Friday night, April 8th. The program is being arranged and sponsored by the citizens of Cayce, who will be assisted by the Fulton and Hickman Lions clubs.

Directors of the Fulton Lions Club met Monday night, when it was decided to omit the regular Easter egg hunt that is usually sponsored yearly, and funds will be used to provide lunches for the undernourished children of the local schools. The finance committee is also at work on plans to carry on this program permanently.

The Fulton club now has the largest membership in its history, and has just been awarded a miniature lion statue with the name of the president, A. G. Baldrige, inscribed upon it. This award was given for its outstanding record during the month of February, when it led all other clubs in the district, in membership, dues paid and secretary records.

Fulton Citizens Meet With TVA Officials

A group of Fulton citizens, including Mayor Paul DeMyer, the city councilmen and city attorney, met with TVA officials at the city hall Tuesday morning to discuss plans for obtaining TVA power in Fulton. Officials of the Tennessee Valley Authority present at the meeting here Tuesday were: E. J. Muir, chief of contracts division, Knoxville; and E. R. Wall, division engineer, Memphis.

Mayors and city officials of 16 towns and cities in this section Tuesday night adopted resolutions in a meeting at McKenzie, Tenn., favoring immediate conferences with officials of the Kentucky-Tennessee Power and Light Company, for the purchase of the company's facilities.

Mayors were present at the McKenzie meeting from Paris, Huntington, Henry, Bruceton, Trezevant, Gleason, Dresden, Martin, Greenfield, Bradford, Newbern, Tiptonville, Ridgely, Troy, Rutherford, Kenton, Tenn., and Fulton, Ky.

The franchise with the Kentucky Utilities Company expires in Fulton August 26, and city officials are anxious to obtain first-hand information about TVA. Mr. Muir explained that TVA's aims have been tentative to a certain degree, but after Mr. Lillenthal's statement Sunday, it is certain the Authority will grant loans to municipalities anxious to operate their own distribution systems. He pointed out that TVA cannot enter into competition with local plants, nor make outright purchases, but through appraised loans, it can aid cities.

"GOOD SEED" WAS SERMON SUBJECT

Drawing lessons from the parable of "The Wheat and the Tares," in his sermon at the First Christian Church, last Sunday morning, Rev. Wm. Dunn Ryan, spoke, in part, as follows:

"This is one of the parables which Jesus, himself, explained, in considerable detail. What is the field? What is the good seed and who sowed it? What are the tares and who placed them in the field? What shall take place during that growing period? All these questions are definitely answered right here in the 13th chapter of Matthew. So, our task in interpreting this parable is greatly simplified.

"The Sons of the Kingdom," we are told are the good seed. So, the Master is talking about us in this parable. Now, what does our Lord, who planted us in this field, which is the world, teach us concerning our surroundings and our mission, here?

He would have us understand that we are in a world where evil and hostile forces will always be present—'Let both grow together until the harvest, the wheat and the tares.' We are to make our way to maturity amid difficulties and hindrances. We shall always be opposed by active enemies to Christian growth. These enemies are within ourselves. There are tares in our own nature. 'When I will to do good evil is present with me,' exclaimed Paul. Who has not felt the sam edrag upon his own loftiest aspirations? Inertia, greed, lust, malice, a host of tares grow up within our own hearts and crowd out every noble purpose and to (Continued on Page Two) indicate the LIVE ACTIVE candidates.

Many who have been nominated have so far failed to turn in one single subscription to the Fulton News. Some have not even called to get an official receipt book. They are, so far, candidates in name only—nothing more.

Candidates who will not produce subscriptions cannot expect to win. The more subscriptions you produce the more votes you earn. The free coupons appearing in the News from week to week are valuable only in the degree in which you enhance your vote score by subscriptions. There is absolutely no hope in coupons alone.

Coupons are printed primarily to stimulate interest. Of course, they do have some value, but it is questionable when one considers that one subscription offsets a whole bundle of coupons.

Simple nomination of a candidate does not mean anything. The nomination is but the first step, the starting point. Anyone content to rest after nomination cannot get far in this election. Active work, honest effort, constant attention to the business in hand—and that alone—can get the votes and votes win. And subscriptions mean votes.

With so few candidates entered and so many of those not yet, at least manifesting any life or activity, the opportunity is here for some live ones to enter and "carry on" to win.

In fact, the more candidates entered, the less votes it takes to win.

If only two candidates are running for office they must have all the votes between them. The winner must have a majority—over half—of all the votes cast. But if five candidates seek the same office, the winner only needs to have more votes than the next highest.

"Everybody Wins Something."

Then, too, in this campaign Everybody wins something. There are big, luxurious prizes for all. And remember too, the cash commissions of 20 per cent paid to all active participants—Twenty cents on each subscription.

You who are "in," get busy, work, carry on. You who are still "thinking about it," get in. Go after 'em. You win.

Clip or tear out the nomination blank in today's Fulton News. Bring it or send it to the campaign office. Then spend, the next few weeks more profitably than any like few weeks of your life were ever spent before. Go in and win. Candidates, get your subscriptions in to the campaign department at the office by 8 P.M. Wednesday and Saturday nights.

To you who are in, to those who have been nominated, get busy. Get every subscription in you possibly can by Saturday, March 12, and it will be credited in the score board.

Send in your nomination and share in the $3,000 prize offered by the Fulton News. When paying your subscription at the office, if you want votes credited to the candidates, you must mention the name of the person who is paying for your subscription.

She was employed for some time at Curlin-Neill hospital in Fulton, and has been a clerk in the Fulton County Certifying Office at Hickman recently. The groom is employed as a diesel engineer with the Smiley Sand & Gravel Co., now located at Hickman. The young couple will make their home at 112 Jackson-st. Hickman.

VOTE ON COTTON AND TOBACCO

For many reasons it is VERY IMPORTANT that every farmer who raised cotton or tobacco in 1937 attend one of the following meetings and hear the discussion of why they should vote next Saturday. Meetings will be held at: Cayce, Tuesday night at 7 p.m.; Sassafras Ridge, Wednesday night at 7 p.m.; Crutchfield, Thursday night at 7 p.m.; Sy Van Shade, Friday night at 7 p.m.; Fulton Woman's Club Building, Saturday at 1:30.

This is a grand opportunity to show the people of the country whether the farm people are interested in a farm program and how much it is wanted and there are still some who think farmers are indifferent about a program. This is one way to show the interest you wish shown.

The Secretary of Agriculture is giving the people a chance to say whether they want a program that will discourage the production of surplus cotton and tobacco, so now is the time to show your wishes.

DARK FIRED TOBACCO GROWERS MAKE STATEMENT

We, the undersigned members of the Board of Directors of the Western Dark Fired Tobacco Grower's Association, beg to submit to the tobacco growers of West Kentucky and West Tennessee, the following salient facts for serious consideration, and which we believe afford nullify every wonderful endeavor. There are tares always growing up in our environment, too. Every snare the devil can devise to catch the feet of the unwary is found in our surroundings. "Fightings without and fears within"—just so! There are tares without and within. The race we run is a hurdle race and sometimes the hurdles are exceeding high, and there is no promise that the tares will be uprooted nor the hurdles removed as long as we live. Now, all this is most disconcerting and one of our commonest questions is, why are the tares allowed to remain as a constant menace? Why does a God who loves us permit evil to persist in torturing us? Or, as Friday naively asked Robinson Crusoe, "Why don't God kill the devil?" He will when the proper time comes; we are assured of that right in this parable. Meantime, we can turn to good account the opposition they offer by making our lives stronger by resisting them. It is not our function to try to forcibly uproot them but, by resisting them, to grow so strong as to crowd them out by our dominant vitality.

A seed becomes powerful only when it loses its own life. When it falls in the ground and dies it brings forth much fruit. When the early Christians followed the example of Stephen and lived and died in the frame-work of self-sacrifice, giant evils were crowded out of the social order without even being attacked; flowers bloomed where thorns had grown; peace and brotherly love filled the world with new music. But when, in later time, the church took up the weapons of carnal warfare and force, evil became triumphant and the dark ages came. In these days when the nations are forgetting the teaching of the Prince of Peace and are slipping back into the dark ages of violence and dependence upon force shall we whom our Lord calls the "good seed" remember that it is not our function to forcibly uproot the evils of the world but, by sacrificial service, to gain such Christ-like vitality that the tares will be stripped of their power to do harm.

good and reasonable grounds for voting for the proposed farm program in the election to be held on Saturday, March 12, 1938.

Since 1931, the Government, thru our Association has furnished money for advance on tobacco, and by so doing has established the tobacco market and on several occasions has prevented its collapse.

For the last two years the Agricultural Department has assisted us in diverting the surplus tobacco into nicotine products thereby strengthening the market on all tobacco.

This same Agricultural Department is now offering a program to control production in order that we may still receive a fair price for our tobacco.

Unless the growers cooperate in this program it will be impossible for the Agricultural Department of the Government to continue furnishing money for advance to our growers.

For these reasons we earnestly appeal to you as tobacco growers to support this program by giving it your vote in the coming election to be held March 12, 1938:

Doone Hill, Marshall county; W. H. Finney, Calloway county; E. H. Lox, Calloway county; W. H. Ramsey, McCracken county; A. C. Jones, Ballard and Carlisle counties; J. D. Wade, James E. Wilson, H. C. Shemwell, Graves county; E. A. Hilliard, Hickman county; E. A. Thompson, Fulton and Obion counties; S. C. Huddleston, Henry county; E. E. Shanklin, Weakley County.

Why shouldn't a Fulton woman be allowed to go through her husband's pockets when a congressman is permitted to do the same thing. The length of the Great Wall of China, including spurs and loops is estimated at 2,500 miles.

THE FORUM

As one who observes the seventh instead of the first day of the week, as one who is pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church in Fulton the writer submits the following by way of a review of arguments which came out in a recent article or sermon reported in your paper. At the outset we wish to point out that "the Lord's day" of Rev. 1:10 is the 7th and not the 1st day of the week. All must admit that the Lord's day is the day of which Christ is Lord, and in Mat. 12:8 Jesus said, "the Son is Lord of the Sabbath Day." Then in Mark 2:28 we read that "the Sabbath was made for man" and then in Jno. 1:3 in speaking of the Lord Jesus it says "all things were made by him." So the Lord being the author of the Sabbath day it is "the Lord's day." Let it be observed in this connection that since "the Sabbath was made for man" and "man" was made 2,000 years before a Jew, this proves why "the Gentiles" be- sought that these words might be preached to them the next Sabbath day." Act. 13:42. It was for them too.

The claim that the true Lord's day was not a day of worship in the old Testament is wrong. When Moses said "Let no man go out of his place on the Sabbath" he was speaking of gathering manna on that day. (Exo. 16).

The Sabbath was to be a day of "holy convocation." Lev. 23:3. Anyone knows that "holy convoca- tion" means congregating for a holy purpose. Jesus said, "I have kept my Father's commandments" and he went to the house of worship. "On the Sabbath day and stood up for to read" (Luke 4:16). The 7th day Sabbath was not a type. Types originated after sin. The "Sabbath was made for man" before sin. Gen.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folklore

OLD FIDELITY

A few days ago I read in a coun- try paper a letter from a former Kentuckian who had returned for a visit after an absence of forty or more years. Rather oddly the very place he had visited here was my own Fidelity, now long known by another name. He reviewed the former grandeur of the little village mentioned many people whom I knew or had heard of, and set my mind awork with memories that should have died a natural death with the nineteenth century. Since Fidelity was a typical village a gen- eration or two ago, a few words about it might not interfere with your own memories of places equally large important.

It was a self-sufficient place, with everything from a flour and grist mill to a wagon factory. The near- est railroad until I was a good- sized boy was twenty-five miles away. People had never known the so-called modern conveniences. They raised what they needed or did without, a fine old pioneer way of doing things. Every spring branch was a potential source of power for a sawmill or grist mill; it was not far away to a carding mill, where the wool from our own sheep was made into rolls for spinning; even a tobacco factory grew up on a large plantation to give employ- ment to Marse Peter's slaves and their descendants in the winter months when farm work was slack. The county seat was a necessary evil, but not very necessary; pay- ing taxes, serving on a jury, and buy a few things, spring and fall, that the village stores did not keep about constituted its importance as a center of population.

Then the railroad came. Our lit- tle Fidelity, like most of the places missed by the railroad, began to dwindle. "Fetch-on" wagons took the place of those laboriously made in the shop; flour could be bought in barrels from elsewhere; even the tobacco factory moved to the county seat, to be nearer the rail- road. But on its gullied hills the little village remained, growing a bit shabbier year by year, but still interested in the big world that had run away and left it. Now it is connected with the world by a modern state highway, it has a good four-year high school, some of its downhill tendency has been stopped, but it is really a ghost of what it was forty years ago, when memories were still vivid of the Civil War and the passing of sol- diers through its one street, if the road could be worthy of such a name. Something it had, however, that time cannot kill, a vigor that crops up in all of its children, wherever they go. None ask other than a reasonable chance for themselves; they are able and will- ing to take care of themselves. Fi- delity folks, no matter where they now live, will admit that the soil is of the very poorest, that there is nothing fine about the community in agriculture or wealth or other showy things. But every one of them will tell, even at the expense of being boresome, how some mighty fine people have originated among the hills and hollows around the village. Remote relatives who have visited in the village have caught some of the same loyalty; some rather good poems have been written about the hills there. And not a person from old Fidelity ever is ashamed of his origin; he never says he is from the county seat if his home was really in the hills ten miles away. Here I am, more than 30 miles away, boasting of the seedy little place, glad to call it and its surroundings as mine. And every other native son of Fidelity is just as foolish as I am.

2: 1-3. Types pointed forward and the 7th day Sabbath is a memorial pointing back to the recognition of God as Creator.

As to the death sentence for Sabbath desecration we find the same death sentence was executed for dishonoring parents, stealing, lying, fornication—and all the rest of the Ten. Because God does not execute the sentence immediately now, does that mean there is no penalty for such immoralities? If one will read Rev. 21:8 it will be discovered that the penalty has not been abrogated but deferred to the day of judgement at which time the penalty will be "the second death."

If any one will go to an analyti- cal concordance it will be found that the word "sticks" is translated from a Hebrew word "ets" and is many times translated "timbers." The death penalty for the violation of any of the commandments was only when they "despised Moses' law" (Heb. 10:28). In Ex. 16:27-28

we read where Sabbath desecration was met only with reprimand. So today "sin is the transgression of the law." (1 John 3:4) and "the wages of sin is death." (Rom. 6:23).

It was declared that since Chris- tian "are not under the law" they are not to keep the Sabbath. Why not the thief and liar use the same argument? Paul means that par- doned men were no longer under the judicial condemnation of the law. (Rom. 3:19). Under the law means "guilty before God." A pardoned person is released from "the curse of the law" which was the "death that passed upon all men." (Rom. 5:12) and was paid by the One "who dies for our sins." Then the pardoned man is under "grace" but does not have a license to steal, desecrate the Lord's name, day, etc. Such teaching turns grace into disgrace.

It is true that "her sabbaths" (Jewish) were abolished. These the yearly pentecost, atonement, passover and other annual sabbaths. (Lev. 23). But the "seventh day" is called the Sabbath of the Lord thy God" (Ex. 20:10) and not "her sabbaths." The holy day the 7th day could be Jewish Sabbath in origin and application would be for the Jews to have made the world in six days and rested the 7th. But it was God who did this and that makes it "the Sabbath of the Lord," "the Lord's day" and not the Jew's.

Jesus met with the disciples every day after his resurrection (Acts 1:3) Does that mean every day the Sab- bath? Any one who will read Acts 20 will see that the breaking of bread took place between "mid- night" and "break of Day" which proves it was not a custom but an incident. It was a farewell service. (Verse 25).

Jesus said "the Sabbath was made for man" so long as man shall exist this day set apart by the Lord at the close of creation's week will be "the Lord's day" which was "made for man."

Instead of Sabbath observance meaning hell, it means access to the tree of life. Rev. 22:14. "Blessed are they that do his command- ments" (Ex. 20) that they may have right to the tree of life and may enter in through the gates into the city.

HOLLYWOOD HI-LITES ON BEAUTY

By Connie Smythe

It's really marvelous how some women can hide their age—and it's amazing too how some neglect one of the minor details that give their secret away. How many times have you seen a young face whose own- er has "old-looking" hands. Some women are foolish enough to put all their time and beauty efforts on their face and neck and neg- lect entirely the detail that screech- es out—"I'm over 40!" Most tragic of all, however, is the girl who is really young but has hands that look middle-age.

Why do hands need special care to keep them lovely? There are tiny oil glands in the skin of our face that protect it against sharp winds and time's toll. But the skin of our hands lacks these youth- giving oils and consequently hands chap more easily, become rough and red from too much washing or little exposure to the cold. Then dried-out skin cells contract and hands become old-looking. There is a special hand cream, however, that ends or prevents any such tragedy as this—it goes deep inside the cells—yet doesn't leave the least trace of oil or stickiness. This lotion helps to Put Back the moisture that hands lose and keeps them soft, smooth, white and young-looking.

Don't let romance slip through your fingers—instead let your hands be so lovely they will invite caresses—that's one step toward happiness.

If you'd like to know where this lotion may be purchased in Ful- ton call Connie Smyth at 470.

THE WHY OF TRADE-AT-HOME.

In common with most of the citizens of Fulton we believe most sincerely in the advantages to be secured by the thorough practice of "trading-at-home."

It is a doctrine that is often misunderstood, in that some people would go so far as to demand a blind adherence to the theory without regard to the facts of the situation. The essence of such a course of conduct, if it is to be a community success, requires the intelligent co-operation of the merchants as well as the buyers.

It is the paramount duty of local merchants, or sellers, to be alert in their business, to present to their customers attractive goods, fairly priced in line with modern competition and to keep up with the best modern merchandising practices elsewhere. This does not necessitate, or require the elaborate displays of metropolitan stores, but it does mean meeting the prime essentials of trading that make buying profitable to the buyer as well as to the seller.

The obligations which rests upon local citizens, as buyers, demands that, before purchasing merchandise or service out of town, they give local business houses the opportunity of handling the business. No buyer should, through sheer laziness, or a careless idea of economy, thoughtlessly send money out of town. The foolishness of such conduct can be easily demonstrated to any reader who has the slightest doubt of its correctness, or of its value to a civic community.

Fortunately, we have had a generous observance of the "trade-at-home" ideal. Fulton boasts many progressive business houses, where service to the buyer is as much the keynote as profits to the seller. Of course, this policy exists because, in the long run, business men know that it is an adjunct to profit-making. Our local buyers, as a rule, do patronize local businesses, and, we are convinced, in the majority of instances, with pleasure and profit.

OATS AND GAS

Older Fulton residents recall that 40 or 50 years ago the farmer sowed about as many acres of oats as of corn or wheat. The oats went to fuel the power plant of the farm—the horses and mules which pulled the plows. There was a city market for the surplus, for horses and mules by the thousands pulled the ice wagons, the street cars, the drays and he carriages. It was an oats-drawn world.

The horseless city has been with us now for years, and again they are predicting that the horseless farm is soon to be a reality. One tractor pulling the plows now takes the place of ten horses used to fill. Henry Ford is at this very moment preparing to introduce a tractor to do the work of many horses at a cost of one. It will eat no oats and hay. The horseless farm will destroy its own market for oats and hay. The soil once needed for those products is turned to cotton, corn and wheat. So up goes the supply, and down goes the price of those products, and Uncle Sam must step in and save agriculture by helping it fill or avoid the vacuum made by the coming of the horseless age.

Ford predicts a time not far away when the bodies of autos will be made almost wholly from corn husks, soy beans, wheat chaff and other products of the soil. He might have added that the ultimate fuel for the motor age will come in great part from the soil in the form of alcohol. Thus again, in due time, the farm will be furnishing the "oats" for pulling machinery of country and town. And so it goes, around in a circle and everything eventually working out to the good of all mankind. The outpower of yesterday is the gas-power of today, and there is no need in worrying about tomorrow. When the gas gives out the farm will step in again and provide a substitute.

ONE-ROOM SCHOOLS.

We read in a daily paper an article in which a New York professor declares the little, one-room rural schoolhouse is "a menace to the nation" and not capable of laying the foundation for the kind of an education demanded in these modern times.

It's our candid opinion and we believe that opinion is shared by practically everyone around Fulton that the New York man is "talking through his hat." The country need not worry about the one-room schools in which the boys and the girls are drilled in a few studies by teachers who speak the English language and who constantly emphasize the importance of loyalty to the U. S. government. Of course our rural schools are not the equal of the great ones boasted by our cities and larger towns; allowance must be made for the inability of the rural neighborhoods to raise the money for big buildings and high-salaried instructors. But the thousands of American teachers in the little one-room schools scattered all over this nation are doing a work far more wonderful than they are given credit for, and they are deserving of the highest praise, not words of criticism. Such teachers are among this nation's greatest assets. If a poll was taken today in every city of any consequence in the country it would show that the men who are actually running those cities, and who are back of all their big business institutions, in majority of instances received their education, or the foundation for it, in the little one-room school houses in the rural district and the smaller towns of the nation.

A DANGEROUS PRACTICE

A thoughtful Fulton motorist dropped into the office a few days ago with one of the most unselfish requests any man ever made of any newspaper. "Do something for a certain class of motorists around here," he requested, "who have a habit of ignoring traffic when they are changing a tire along a highway."

And it is a good and thoughtful suggestion. One does not always have a puncture or a blowout just where the road is wide, but it is easy to get the car as far off the main body of the road as possible before starting to repair or change the tire. It is also easy to keep a sharp lookout for approaching machines, and to avoid working on a curve where an approaching driver may not be able to see you until it is too late to avoid striking you as you stand or kneel alongside your car. Every motorist knows the danger referred to, but not all of them use the care they should when they encounter repair emergencies along the road. So we pass on the suggestion in the hope that someone who sees it may recall it when he has a roadside tire change to make—and protect himself accordingly.

UPON WHAT CAN MAN DEPEND?

The individual who has no great principles to guide his life finds the present an era of great tribulation.

There are wars, rumors of wars, economic difficulties, political puzzles and personal problems to confound the average citizen of the republic. What once seemed safe and secure, in many fields of human activity, is now precariously attacked and even the sacred formulas of early days are badly battered.

Upon what therefore can man depend? Surely, upon the fundamental principles that he has adopted to guide his life. The basic faith that makes men lift up their heads the confidence that faces doubtful fate superbly and the attributes of the soul that stand supreme above the vicissitudes of earthly strife are strength to the intelligent and the brave, a staff upon which the tired lean and a blessing to all those who are willing to work for a better world of better human beings.

PAST FAD STAGE.

It won't be long until residents of southern states have occasion to count up their winter tourist dollars, and when they do they are going to agree most heartily on this one point—the trailer has now passed the fad stage. Summer resort states wondering about it, until last summer. Then they saw indisputable evidence of its truthfulness, and the trailer as a permanent institution. This past winter the states boasting warm breezes when the north, east and west are anxious under have reaped a veritable gold mine from trailer owners. Now that is a year-round vehicle, and that a trailer owner can find an ideal camp in winter as easily as he can in summer, it makes this vehicle a still more profitable investment. With more and more modern campsites being constructed and opened to them, the investment is still greatly enlarged. With a knowledge of popularity last summer, and this new proof from winter resort states of their popularity, in the colder months, it would seem that the Fulton citizen who has had the "trailer bug" in his bonnet can now profitably go ahead and let it bite him.

GOOD REASONING.

A Wisconsin university professor following an investigation over a period of several years, reaches the conclusion that the most prosperous and progressive communities are those in which the most reading is done. That sounds reasonable, because people who are posted do not spend as much money foolishly as those who are not in touch with the business and industrial world through newspapers. We honestly believe that survey would show that the families taking the most newspapers and magazines are likewise the most prosperous ones. Maybe the newspapers do not make them so, but they do help a great deal. It doesn't cost much to try to stop if it fails. We would suggest, however that to make the experiment more sure of success that you start in by subscribing for your home-town paper first.

SPARKS OF WISDOM

Maybe the reason older citizens of Fulton used to call tomatoes "love apples" is because they soon got rotten.

Here's one thing that's too one-sided. Motorists killed more than 15,000 pedestrians last year and not one pedestrian killed a motorist.

Everybody in this country is anxious for world peace, but most people can't see any reason for fighting over it.

Most Fulton young men are wise enough to know that when a girl begins running her fingers through a fellow's hair it's time for him to either propose or go home.

A New York chemist says he has a way to make crops grow faster. That's the trouble now—they grow so fast the farmers can't sell 'em.

The only thing worse than having a traffic cop raise his hand at you is having a bandit make you raise both of yours.

Many a girl around Fulton has listened to honeyed words only to find out later that she had been stung.

One advantage the auto has over the airplane is that when the auto engine stops so does the auto.

Man is an animal, all right. Ever notice that he growls like a bear when dinner isn't ready and then purrs like a cat after he has it?

Love is what makes some Fulton boys think they are stealing a kiss when the fact of the business is it being forced on them.

Anyhow, Noah wasn't one of those fellows who goes off on a trip and leaves the cat for the neighbors to take care of.

Nothing pleases a hen-pecked husband as much as to have his daughter grow up and drive her mother out of the house.

That which the politicians call "what the people want" is often something they take because they can't get anything better.

One sad thought is that there is another generation now growing up around Fulton that never saw and never will see a buggy whip decorated with a big bow of red ribbon.

Another difficult thing to understand is why some women can't realize the worth of their husbands half as quickly as they can their worthlessness.

An eyeless calf, normal in every other respect, was born on a farm near Bremen, O.

Tides on the Pacific coast are generally higher than those on the Atlantic.

Cows on Indiana state farms are to be milked three times a day to increase production. It is to be hoped that this new practice doesn't put notions into the head of tax collectors.

Motor cars made during the past 10 years total 42,146,000. And at least 80 per cent of them were equipped with back-seat drivers.

Not all those New Year's resolutions have been broken yet, but some of them are marked by suspicious cracks.

HIS Aim IS TO Serve YOU

As a telephone installer and repairman, he knows that the less you need him, the more satisfaction you get from your dependable telephone service.

He wages a battle with sleet, rain and wind, as well as with lesser troubles, such as carelessness in leaving the receiver off the hook which may require a personal visit by him.

He is winning his battles, too, for back of him in the constant effort to make your service more and more free from imperfections, errors and delays are the scientists in the Bell Telephone Laboratories who contribute the research; the Western Electric Company, which makes and distributes high quality, standard equipment; and the training activities of his own group, which helps him to be more expert and efficient on the job.

It is a man-sized job. There were 1,079,692 Southern Bell telephones in service at the end of 1937. But they didn't all "stay put," for installers connected 236,788, and moved 106,512, this latter step requiring both a "connect" and "disconnect" operation.

Learning to do a constantly improving job is the aim of the installer and repairman, which is in harmony with the Bell System's desire to give the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost consistent with financial safety.

safest place on earth

The safety of the railroads is a phenomenon of the times. The speed of passenger and freight trains has been increased tremendously. Yet the rail safety record has steadily improved.

The increased speed and superb comforts of modern passenger trains can be enjoyed all the more because of the knowledge of complete personal safety. Women and children are as safe on a train as in the security of their own home.

Freight shipments are equally safe. They arrive in good condition and on schedule when shipped by rail. Customers are not disappointed.

This remarkable safety record is an achievement in the elimination of waste in human life and in the nation's economic life. It is an achievement of which the railroads can well be proud.

You Can't Take Out IF YOU DON'T PUT IN!

GOOD TIMES ARE HERE AGAIN - BUY NOW AND HELP TO MAKE THEM BETTER!

THE more you put into life—the MORE you get out of it!
AND it's the same with a bank or a town. The more you put in the more you take out. The more money YOU spend HERE and the more your neighbors spend, the greater your chance for getting more as it circulates.

THE BUSIEST SEASON of the year is here. Things are starting to hum and conditions are better—and constantly getting better—than for a half-dozen years. That's the story the whole country over. The community that lags now is one where its citizens expect to take out without putting in.

YOU CAN'T DO THAT AND IF YOU ARE A GOOD CITIZEN YOU DON'T WANT TO!

START right NOW and put more into your home. Put more into your property. Put more on your back. Put more in your stomach. And it will be easier to put more in the bank. Buy the things you have been neglecting to buy. Make the improvements you've too long been postponing. Get more out of life—for yourself and your family—by buying the things that make for comfort and better living conditions. You're not coming back to get a second chance to do it!

WE INVITE YOU, as friends and neighbors, to join now in putting into circulation dollars that are sure to come back to you if they are put into circulation RIGHT HERE AT HOME.
We urge you to buy now and avoid higher prices later on. We suggest a general cleaning up of outstanding obligations—and thus keep your credit good. It's your best asset. You've helped to make this a good town and a good community. Now help to make it better.

DOLLARS spent in your own community are kept in circulation and work over and over for individuals living and earning their living in that community. Thus is the general economic condition of your home improved. You gain if you SPEND AT HOME and you lose if you don't.

TRY THIS NEW MEDICINE FOR ACID STOMACH

"Too much cannot be said for a medicine with the merit of LANG'S COMBINATION TREATMENT," said Mrs. G. Hendricks, 220 N. 8th street, Paducah, Ky. "For years my health had been greatly impaired with constant suffering with a disordered stomach and poorly regulated kidneys and bowels. I could not eat a single meal without dreadful suffering afterwards, although I dieted strictly all of the time. After every meal I would bloat almost beyond endurance, often I could hardly breathe I was in such misery. For three years I had not been able to eat many foods I liked so well yet I suffered just the same. My kidneys would not allow me a good night's rest. I was forced to get up at all hours of the night, was always dead tired and there was nothing I could do about it. I was badly constipated, too, and my entire system was filled with poisons. I consulted a score of medical authorities and tried every known medicine without benefit and I was fast becoming terribly discouraged. I did not know where to turn next for I had exhausted every effort to no avail—but then I learned of LANG'S COMBINATION TREATMENT—it accomplished for me what I thought was impossible.

MRS. G. HENDRICKS

"I am feeling the best I have in years," continued Mrs. Hendricks, "and I cannot say half enough for LANG'S COMBINATION TREATMENT. My stomach and kidneys were regulated easily, bowels are fine again and I am able to eat and sleep well. It seems LANG'S COMBINATION TREATMENT was made for cases just like mine and I would advise all who suffer as I did to try this new medicine without fail. No wonder LANG'S COMBINATION TREATMENT has become so popular in such short time—the results it gives speak for themselves."

LANG'S COMBINATION TREATMENT is sold in Fulton by Bennett's Drug Store. They are exclusive agents in this section for this new acid stomach medicine.
