The brightest news of this dreary weather is that Joe Bennett, Sr., is doing nicely in Memphis where he underwent an operation recently. Mr. Bennett's condition has been the source of much concern to all of us and that he is improving is gratifying news.

And then its sad news to hear that the Elvis Myricks are leaving town on March 1 to make their future home in Paducah. The Myricks will be greatly missed in business and social circles of Fulton, and it is a good wish and much success that we wish them.

There's a bright ring to the metronome at South Fulton School since Mrs. Thomas Stokes joined the music teaching staff. Mrs. Stokes is a graduate of the music department of Murray State College and a welcome addition to the staff.

We are indebted to Attorney Jennings Kearby, for the splendid souvenir edition of the Washington Post he sent us. The paper depicts hundreds of pictures and news articles of the inaugural activities. Since the paper is Paul's Washington Alma Mater, we were doubly glad to get it.

We have seen proud grandpappies on our day but we believe that J. C. Wiggins at the National Stores takes all records. We were in to see him the day his first grandchild was born, in fact the youngster was a few hours old, and Mr. Wiggins was telling us the remarkable shenanigans of that infant. Why just as soon as the baby was brought out of the delivery room he just opened his eyes and was looking all around. Now we know that's true, but we know too, that the youngster must have sensed that over-expansion of humanity in the room and was just looking around to see just who it was, his pappy or his grand-pappy.

Congratulations to Dr. S. G. Dyer, formerly of this city who is now the operator of a 16-room, 12-bed hospital in Cadiz, Ky. Dr. Dyer was at one time connected with the Haws Hospital here. Their many friends here wish Sid, Dessie and their young son many successful years to come.

"I believe her eyes were two of the prettiest things I ever saw" E. C. Grisham said when called about the condition of his daughter Betty Jane who has been under the care of nerve specialists in Memphis for some time. "She opened her eyes for the first time in two weeks and the encouragement we felt then is hard to explain."

Betty Jane 20, was seized with an uncontrollable spell of hiccupping two weeks ago and was confined to the Haws Hospital here before she was removed to Memphis. She is now in the Wallace Sanatorium in Memphis while her mother resides at 1438 Norriswood to be at her bedside daily.

John Watts, county agent of Fulton County, who received the distinguished service award from the national organization of county agents at the meeting held in Chicago, was honored by having his photo on the front cover of the Kentucky Farm Bureau News this month. Mighty good news of John and we are certainly proud of him.

Lion's Club Minstrel Promises Fine Show

If by some strange coincidence you have not made plans to attend the Lion's Club minstrel to be staged at the Fulton High School for two nights, February 7 and 8, you'd better revise your plans immediately for this year's show is the most scintillating, star-studded, rhythmic extravaganza of local talent this town has ever seen.

In a sneak preview of the show on Wednesday night the News sat in the bleachers of the Carr Institute Auditorium and viewed practice sessions of the songs, dances and special acts that are sure to make your feet keep up a steady pat-pat during the whole performance. Its incredible that such hidden talent could be discovered in the roster of this civic group. For instance, take Charles Gregory. That silver-haired popular insurance agent is the gayest, dancingest singinest "nigger" that ever hit the legitimate stage for any reason, legal or otherwise.

BLOODWORTH TAKES OVER POST OF VFW

Harry Bloodworth, veteran of 29 months of combat in the Pacific area is the new commander of the local post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Bloodworth, who has acted as senior vice-commander since the recent elections of the veterans group, succeeds H. P. Allen who resigned to become concessionaire at the American Legion Clubhouse.

Gene Howard, who has been junior vice-commander steps up to the post vacated by Mr. Bloodworth.

Mrs. Grymes Named Woman's Club Head

Mrs. Eldridge Grymes, for many years an outstanding member of the Woman's Club was yesterday named by the Board of Directors of that group to fill the unexpired term of president left vacant by Mrs. L. N. Gifford, who resigned on January 8 because of her planned residence in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Grymes has served on many special committees of the club and was at one time president of the Music Department. At the time of her election she was serving as secretary-treasurer of that department.

The good wishes of the entire membership of the Woman's Club go with Mrs. Grymes for a successful club year.

Dad's Night Planned For South Fulton P-TA

The next P-T.A. meeting of the South Fulton school will be Dad's night and Founders day February 10. A pot luck supper will be served in the Home Economics room at 7:00 o'clock. The state vice president and county officers have been invited. All parents are urged to attend.

Boy Scout Week Starts Sunday; Fund Drive Planned; Boys To Govern City Council

Next week is Boy Scout Week in Fulton and the Nation. In Fulton as in every town in America the 39th Anniversary of scouting will be observed with appropriate ceremonies and a drive for funds. Principal among the activities is the administration of the city by the Boy Scouts of Fulton, on Tuesday February 8.

The mayor and city councilmen are urged to make a list of the pet peeves of their constituents and place them before the boys. It will be a ideal way to dispose of weighty problems. Through the courtesy of Supt.

W. L. Holland of the Fulton Schools, the Boy Scouts will be dismissed from their classes for that day in order that an election might be held and subsequent offices taken over. The Boy Scouts of Fulton will take over the administration of the City of Fulton, while the Scouts of South Fulton will take over the duties of the city officials there.

On the morning of February 9 a group of businessmen will invade the city to raise funds for the operation of next year's scouting activities here. The funds to be raised are for regular scouting and have no connection with the stupendous drive to be staged in June.

Those who will solicit funds are: Maxwell McDade, chairman; Harry Lee Bushart, Bob White, Fred Sawyer, Louis Kasnow, Russell Pitchford, Robert Burrow, Clifford Shields, Louis Weeks, Leroy Latta, Bert Pigue, Frank Beadles, William Scott, Bob Binford, Gene Williamson, William McDade, Joe Hall Joe Davis, Will Holman, Ernest Fall, Jr., Bill Browning, Milton Exum, Happy Edwards, Carter Oliver, R. March of Dimes Falls Short

Although the March of Dimes campaign ended on January 31, there is a still a few hundred dollars lacking to make the quota set for this county. If polio were to strike in your family, there would be no questions asked about your contributions... why not accept their help... if you must... with a full heart and send in your contribution if you have not already done so.

The benefit basketball game held Tuesday night netted only $35 here, while a similar game in the lower end of the county netted $145. There will be no discrimination in the service from the State headquarters if you are stricken, so give today!

BURROW IS NAMED NEW PRINCIPAL AT SOUTH FULTON HI

Mack Burrow, commercial teacher and girl's basketball coach at the South Fulton High school has been named principal to fill the vacancy occurred by the resignation of Slayden Douthitt, who has been principal for more than a year. Burrow has been a member of the school faculty since his return from Army service three years ago. Prior to his war service he was on the faculty of the Troy High school. He received his Bachelor of Science degree from Murray State Teachers College. The new principal is married and the father of two children.

Slayden assumed his new duties as principal of the Union City High school yesterday morning. Mrs. Douthitt and their three children will remain here until living quarters can be found in the Tennessee town. Douthitt has been extremely popular with school patrons and students alike. Joining the faculty in September 1947 he has been active not only in progressive school work, but in civic matters as well. Before joining the South Fulton faculty he was principal of the Mayfield High school for five years and altogether on the teaching staff of that school for twelve years. He was formerly engaged in newspaper publishing in Mayfield and was at one time connected with the Symsonia, Ky., school faculty.

Mrs. G. B. Butterworth, who has been teaching commercial subjects at the school on a part time basis has joined the faculty as a full time teacher. Mrs. Butterworth is well known and beloved in local teaching circles having been a member of the Fulton school faculty for many years.

LOCAL LEADERS TO ATTEND MEET IN HOPKINSVILLE

Change of Date With Sturgis Fair Sought

A meeting in Hopkinsville on Sunday, February 6, may change the proposed date of the West Kentucky-Tennessee Fair Association Fod Homra, president of the Young Men's Business Association told the News Thursday. The change of date would be to enable the local fair to be held at the time of the "horse show circuit," affording a wider range of entries in the horse show tentatively scheduled to be held during the county fair in the fall.

Planning to attend the meeting in Hopkinsville this Sunday and to "swap" fair dates with Sturgis, Ky. are Bob White, Barney Speight and Russ Anderson. It was learned that Sturgis is planning a county fair on August 1, but is not planning a horse show in connection with the event. The date of the Sturgis activity coincides with the regular circuit of horse shows in the late summer and if Fulton can exchange dates with them, it would afford a greater attraction to horse-owners horses in the tentatively scheduled horse show of the local fair association.

The meeting will be held at the Central Hotel at two o'clock Sunday and will be attended by other Kentucky cities to discuss matters pertaining to fair activities. The local committee will also make a study of klieg light entertainment in connection with county fairs.

Clinton-Moscow Road Plans Would Take Million Dollars In Revenue From Merchants

The NEWS, always an enthusiastic booster of anything that will bring benefits to Fulton and Fulton County, has reported in recent issues that a large-scale State road program is scheduled for this year. Prior reports indicated to us that two of our principal arteries of commerce, the Middle Road and the Fulton-Metropolis road, were to be given first priority this year in the County black-topping schedule.

We now learn (from reliable sources close to Frankfort) that road-improvement program has been set up in this order:

1. Middle Road
2. Clinton-Moscow-Union City road
3. Fulton-Metropolis road

We endorse the first without reservation. This road, entirely within this county, deserves immediate attention. According to our sources, black-topping will begin as soon as weather permits.

Clements as a member of a Constitutional Revision Commission of seven-lawyers of relatively high attainment in the profession to make a study of constitutional revision and to recommend to the General Assembly desirable changes in the present instrument.

"Practically everyone recognizes serious defects in the present Constitution—even among those who have felt a constitutional convention unnecessary," Governor Clements said.

Stahr is the son of Judge and Mrs. Elvis J. Stahr of Hickman and was recently named as one of the ten most outstanding young men in America.

184 MILLION SPENT BY TOURISTS LAST YEAR, REPORT SAYS

Out-of-state tourists spent an estimated $184,160,400 in Kentucky in 1948, according to a statement issued today by the Kentucky Department of Highways. The estimate is based upon a formula devised by the department's Division of Public Information last year. Total gasoline consumption as represented by gasoline tax receipts is keyed to tourist and pleasure travel percentages determined by traffic surveys on selected typical highways in various sections of the state.

The 1948 figure shows an increase of 13.8 per cent over the 1947 total of $161,777,152.

The report indicates that out-of-state pleasure tourists returned $3,707,688 in gasoline taxes to the road fund in 1948. This is an increase of more than a million dollars over 1947 when the total amounted to $2,612,632. Despite the increase in gasoline tax effective last April when the two-cent rural road tax became effective, Kentucky's gasoline consumption in 1948 showed an increase of 57,845,658 gallons over the previous year. In 1948 the gasoline used totaled 475,866,802 gallons while 1947 gasoline consumed amounted to 418,021,144 gallons.

Federal Aid to Education vs Socialized Medicine

The publishers of the News are privileged to print herewith, verbatim, two letters of utmost interest to every man, woman and child in the State of Kentucky. Especially are they of great concern to our children, for to them it is a ray of hope that their education here, may be comparable to that received by children in more prosperous States.

We feel a sincere gratification in the statement by Virgil Chapman concerning legislation that would give federal aid to education in that it will be passed "without any danger of either federal control or government monopoly in education." Thank heavens for the vision expressed in the letters. This is still America, where regimentation of thought is still a few centuries off, we hope.

It may occur to you at this writing how we can be so enthusiastically in favor of federal aid to education and yet so bitterly opposed to the National Health Insurance plan as proposed by President Truman. Its very simple.

Funds granted by the Federal Government to aid education would be expended by the various States as stipulated by the constitutions and laws of the respective States. There would be no compulsion as to the school a student should attend, or even the type of education he should pursue. The student would remain a free agent, remaining illiterate if he so desires. But the IMPORTANT thing is that we have to have schools, good schools, good teachers, not home-tutors or one-room affairs. As long as citizens are given a sound education therein lies the basis for a sound America. With modern adherence to the three R's and development of the senses to free thinking we need have no fear about the future of this great country. But with the trend in education of low salaries for high qualifications we see a disintegration of the educational system in America. Since this is a problem of national importance, then it is the duty of a national body to come to the assistance of this important field.

With regard to the National Health Insurance plan, things are different. Payroll deductions for medical aid would be compulsory. It would mean then that your medical care would be received from a doctor designated by the government. There would hardly be any other choice, since most everybody pays at the source of their income. It is only natural then that the wage-earner should go to the doctor named by the government. Then you might say, "I don't have to go to the doctor that receives his pay from the government" . . . where would many others be found . . . they've got to eat you know. Such would be the result of politicians taking over medical care. With millions of people paying for medical care and thinking that they would be getting something for nothing, they would in reality be getting nothing for something.

Having worked for Uncle Sam, which was good duty, we cannot help but have visions of what medical care under government supervisions would be like.

For example, my appendix needs out. We'll go to the doctor and advise him of same. Ok, says he, now is form A1755-Rev. 1949, fill out all six copies and send them to Section B, Department of Appendices and Appendages, Louisville, Ky.

In two weeks you will receive a card signifying that your application has been received and is being given proper handling.

In three weeks you will be notified that your application failed to indicate your place of employment and please to attach a copy of birth certificate and if married a copy of your marriage license. If you do not have copies of either of these vital statistics you must write to the courthouse of your birthplace and to the church of your wedding. Having secured all these things and mailed to the proper department you wait a few weeks and then your application may or may not come through in time, depending on the government holidays involved.

If it does, then fine, you can talk of your operation, if it doesn't your family and friends will remark at your bower that the Fulton County News warned you, and just in memory of our warning we will give you the finest last words your cold corpse can read.

So help us, if you don't believe the above remarks, ask any veteran who has tried to get a claim through the Veterans Administration.

The above is only a minor aspect of this very serious business of government medicine. From time to time we will tell you of the influences on the religious, medical humane and other phases of the plan.

Congressional Leaders To Help Schools

United States Senate
January 26, 1949
Mr. W. L. Holland, Supt.
Fulton City Schools,
Fulton, Kentucky
Dear Mr. Holland:

I appreciate your telegram about the need for federal aid to education. During the 80th Congress, as you know, I supported strongly and spoke in favor of the federal education bill that passed the Senate. Also, I resorted to the most drastic means known to parliamentary procedure to force that bill to a vote in the House of Representatives by signing a petition to discharge the Committee on Education and Labor from consideration of the proposal. That was the first discharge petition I had signed since I became a member of Congress on March 4, 1925. I believe the bill would have received a large majority in the House if we had been permitted to vote on it.

In the 81st Congress, this time as a member of the United States Senate, I have renewed my efforts in behalf of adequate federal aid to education by introducing S. 133, a bill practically like the measure which passed the Senate last year and on which the members of the House were not permitted to vote.

I am advocating this type of bill because it would provide badly needed financial aid to the States to be expended under the constitutions and laws of the respective States without any danger of either federal control or government monopoly in education. Such a bill is based on sound principles and ought to become a law. I shall do everything within my power to have it enacted by the 81st Congress.

With best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
VIRGIL M. CHAPMAN

Mr. and Mrs. David Sundwick and little daughter, Marda have moved from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Stephens on the Mayfield Highway to their new home at 407 College street.

Mr. and Mrs. Flynn Powell have returned to Murray College after spending the mid-semester vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Evans.

Congress of the United States
Washington, D. C.
January 24, 1949
Mr. W. L. Holland, Supt.
Fulton City Schools,
Fulton, Kentucky,
Dear Friend:

I have and appreciate your telegram with reference to the proposed Federal Aid to Education legislation. As you doubtless know, I have long been interested in this type of legislation and regret that Congress has not seen fit to enact it before this time. As you know, the bill was passed by the Senate last year but the Republican leadership of the House declined to let it come to the floor for a vote.

I am inclined to think that there will be no doubt about its passage in the 81st Congress for I know that the President looks with favor on the legislation as is the case with the majority of the Democratic leaders. I shall of course support this legislation enthusiastically.

With best wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
NOBLE J. GREGORY

JOHN DEERE DEALER to ENTERTAIN
FARMERS and THEIR FAMILIES

"The Sugar Plum Tree"

starring BILLIE BURKE and DON WILSON, is feature picture in BIG JOHN DEERE DAY SHOW

Billie Burke and Don Wilson, popular movie and radio stars, head the all-Hollywood cast in "The Sugar Plum Tree," feature picture to be shown in the Orpheum Theatre, Feb. 16th. The movie headlines the free John Deere Day entertainment and educational program for farmers and their families which is being sponsored by Williams Hardware Co.

"The Sugar Plum Tree" is a rollicking comedy about two young people who have never been on a farm, and what they do when they receive one as a gift. You'll get a kick out of sober, bookish C. St. John Smith, on the farm, as played by Kirby Grant. Pretty Linda Johnson plays Matilda Thorne the other "greenhorn" on the farm. Lee "Lasses" White will give you many a chuckle as the eccentric hired man. "The Sugar Plum Tree" will prove Grade "A" entertainment for the entire family.

In addition to "The Sugar Plum Tree," several other new all-talking pictures will be shown. They include "Early Does It"—a snappy picture with tips on timely care of Farm Machinery . . . "Greener Pastures"—an educational full-color picture on pasture care and renovation . . . The opening verse may be plagiarizing the ballad made famous by Cayce, Kentucky's own John Luther, "Cayce" Jones, but if the ambitions of his grandson, sparked by the "whip-porwill" of his grandfather's legendary whistle are realized, a whole new song will have to be written.

Charles Brady Jones, Jr., is the grandson in mention and he is a member of Fulton's own Illinois Central family. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones of Jackson, Tenn., the young man is a dead-ringer for his famous grandfather. Not only does he possess facial resemblance to the hero of the rails, but we imagine that if we could talk to that character of the million legends, he would say, "That boy sure took after his grand pappy."

Railroading is a serious business with Charles. It's a profession with him borne of love for adventure and precision machinery. Ordinarily shy when in a group, his face beams with interest when railroads, trains, locomotives or anything in that category is mentioned; then he takes over from there, forgetting any inhibitions he may have about crowds. So pronounced is his love for the roaring engines, that his wife was lead to remark, "there's no blood in his veins, it's just railroads."

But what manner of man is this Charles Jones, whose own father was a railroader and a son of the famous man who was described by Vice-president Alben Barkley as a "human being" and loved and respected by all who knew him. Charles does not live in the reflected glory of his grandfather. In fact, it was months after he knew the charming lady who later became his wife that she found out that Cayce Jones was his grandfather, and that revelation was made quite by accident. It seems that while they were together on one occasion she was humming the chorus to the song that is ranked as an American classic. "That song's about my grandfather," he said. It was hard for her to believe that it was true. His reticence in making his relationship known has had its embarrassing aspects, too.

It seems that recently the couple went calling in the home of one of their close friends. On arrival they found the lady of the house in a great state of hilarity and it was revealed that her amusement was caused by an article she had just read about "Ma-ma" Jones, widow of the famous engineer. The story, the hostess said, was concerned with the strong beverage tastes of the widow and the hostess seemed to get a big bang out of relating how an old lady could do such a thing. It was Mrs. Jones who was beset with embarrassment for her husband and the hostess, too, but it was Charles who said, "that's my grandmother." His good humor smoothed over the whole incident, but it was pretty tough sledding there for a moment.

Charles attended the St. Mary's Parochial School in Jackson and at one time was coach of a girl's soft-ball team in that city. An avid enthusiast of sports it was golfing that brought him in touch with the lady who is now Mrs. Jones. It seems that he was fond of playing golf with the dean of Lambuth College, where his future wife was a student. He asked a mutual friend for an introduction and after that his golf game became very much improved... the constant playing on the grounds of the college, no doubt.

As a hobby Charles collects pipes. Ninety-six pipes of all kinds and makes occupy the top shelf of his book-case in the living-room of the cozy little home they purchased from the L. A. Cliftons two years ago. Many of the pipes are imported. He loves to read and his book-shelves are filled with volumes of engineering manuals and some good fiction, too. He is passionately fond of Chopin's Polonaise and all of the works of the great composer.

He's tweedy and tall and good-natured and the light of his life is his little four-year old daughter, their only child.

There aren't many funny stories you can tell on the quiet reserved Charles Jones, but something that happened just recently in connection with his love for sports is worthy of mention. Much to the consternation of the "little lady," Charles went out and bought full hunting regalia in order to match his wits with the winged web-foots of the marshes. To the tune of $36 in apparel he ventured out to the Kentucky Lake region in search of ducks. After a hard day in the wilds he came home with one lonely duck, which if sold at the price of the investment involved in its capture would have cost $18.00 a pound. Mrs. Jones, dutifully cooked the bird, and cooked, and cooked, until the fowl was not quite edible. In characteristic good nature Charles gave his wife a cook-book for Christmas.

If grandfather Cayce Jones could be called a "human being" then his grandson could be called "human being cum laude," for in that little household with Charles and his wife and daughter is where real people really live.

hearts and flowers by Patricia Latane

Dear Patricia;

I am a boy 15 years old and I have lost my billfold I would appreciate your information. This is my first time to write I enjoy reading your letters.

R.F.B.

Dear R.F.B.

Your billfold is gone. My advice is to get you another one as you won't find it. You are lucky. There wasn't much in it. I see from your handwriting you are a lucky person. There is only one thing to keep you from getting the things in life that you want and that is if you don't work hard enough for them, because if you work hard enough for the things you want you shall have them.

Dear Miss Latane,

I am writing you for advice. Will I get work in Mayfield or Fulton soon? Is my mother sick as she thinks she is, am I right in my thoughts about her. Will I ever marry any more? If so, have I met the man yet. Please put it in this next weeks News. B.N.W.

Dear B.M.W. Yes, you will be called to work at both places about the same time, but you will take the job at Mayfield. No she isn't as sick as she thinks she is, I am sure your thoughts are true. Yes, you will marry again but not as long as you live where you are now. You will meet this man after you go to work and will marry him.

Dear Patricia, I read your advice and like it a lot. I have been a widow for around 3 years and my health is not good and I have a hard time. Can you tell me if I will ever make a change and will there every be anyone to care for me? I am going with a man which I have gone with for around 2 years. Does he care for me? M.L.

Dear M. L. Yes, this person does care for you more than you think. You will marry again and will be happy. Your health isn't as bad as you think, it is good for a woman of your age. Your hardships will soon be over. You will take an unexpected trip. This trip will help you in many ways. You will take this trip between now and July 18, 1949.

HCL Headed For Disaster; Corn, Hogs Hit New Low

Those mystic little figures "HCL" (high cost of living) may be headed for the junk heap if present price trends continue to fall. At Kennett-Murray and Latta the lowest market price in more than a year was recorded for hogs with the price hitting 19 and one-half cents per pound. This is a cent less than it was last week.

And in some instances nearly ten cents less per pound than a year ago. Sales this week are rather slow the shipping firm revealed, but generally farmers are moving their stock to the shippers for today's price.

Though the death of the high cost of living is good news to Mrs. Housewife, who is already noticing the slight decreases in the cost of food, the new trends are not encouraging to the farmer, who has had the expenses of buying high price feed during the summer and spring only to have the animals sell for today's new low in meat prices.

Meanwhile there is other bad news from the farmer's standpoint in that seasonal lows were recorded in all corn deliveries at the Board of Trade today. There were also marked up new lows for the season in December wheat, deferred oats, May rye and May and July soybeans.

At the close, wheat was 3-4 to 3 cents lower, corn was 2 to 3 cents lower oats were 3-4 to 1-4 cents lower, rye was 6 3-4 cents lower, soybeans 5 to 7 cents lower and lard 7 to 20 cents a hundredweight lower.

These prices are nearly $1.50 to $1.75 lower than a year ago when some grades of corn was being sold by the farmer for nearly $3.00 bushel.

Louisville feed and flour manufacturers report they are paying, subject to market changes the National Sporting Goods Association convention.

"This is something which must be regarded as part of the process of getting back to normal," he said, adding that many recent price declines represent merely a return to "normal relationship to the general price level."

Calling all outdoorsmen
By JIM MITCHELL

As the current hunting season fades in memories and we sit around the living room or sport-grounds store and rehash last year's trips afield, here's some figures that will keep the arguer's fires boiling until another season rolls around.

Frank Bellrose, veteran game technician who has devoted many years of his life to the study of waterfowl, has uncovered some amazing facts about ducks. His studies have been limited to Illinois, still it is practical to assume that the same facts will apply on all the nation's waterfowl flyways.

Mr. Bellrose says that out of every 100 mallards alive last September 1 in Illinois only 45 will be alive this coming September 1. Of the 55 mallards that will not survive, approximately 22 will have fallen before hunters' guns and 33 will have died from natural causes.

Hunters kill more mallard drakes than hens (1.25 per cent more). Mr. Bellrose's studies have disclosed. But natural causes, mostly on the breeding grounds, take from 1 to 8 per cent more hens than drakes.

Young mallards migrating through Illinois stand a poorer chance of living another year than do the old birds. The average life of a young drake is 1.27 years. But if a young drake gets by the first year he can expect to live another 1.79 years. The overall average life of mallard drake is 1.56 years and a hen 1.38 years.

A few of the luckier mallards may live as long as six or seven years, but this is only two or three per cent.

Those figures probably will fit every state and, after reading them, it is easy to see why it is such a tough problem keeping the waterfowl population high.

Honesty is one part of eloquence. We persuade others by being in earnest ourselves.—Hazlitt.

Mesdames Williamson and McDade Hostesses To Dessert Bridge Party at Strata Club

The popular dessert bridge in the Valentine motif was the entertainment selected by Mesdames E. E. Williamson and William McDade to honor their more than forty guests at the Strata Club last Friday afternoon. The party was a gathering of Fulton's popular social set who formed ten tables of party contract bridge players.

The club room was made gay and festive in the decorations of cupid's day with huge red and white carnations gracefully arranged in a low bowl as a centerpiece for the long table covered with a white linen cloth. Stuningly attired in afternoon dresses and handsome suits this fashionable assemblage made a pretty picture seated in the soft candle light of the room.

For this occasion Mrs. Williamson wore a handsome grey wool crepe afternoon dress with an eye-catching brown pleated taffeta hat. Her other accessories were also brown. Mrs. McDade was attired in a becoming black crepe creation in tunic effect. Her hat was an off-the-face wide brim. Completing the outfit was a necklace and earring set of sparkling stones. After four progressions, prizes were awarded to Mrs. George Doyle for the high score and Mrs. J. P. Williams for second high. Other prizes were awarded to Mrs. Uel Killebrew and Mrs. Jack Edwards.

The guest list included Mesdames W. T. Browning, Jack Edwards, Joe Hall, Glenn Dunn, Edward Johnson, Ernest Fall, Jr., Horton Baird, Hendon Wright, Charles Fields, Ward McClellan, Fred Gibson, Milton Callahan, Rube McKnight, A. B. Roberts, J. P. Williams, George Doyle, R. V. Putnam, Jr., L. O. Bradford, Sara Meacham, Ann Hornbeak, Peter Trinca, Russell Pitchford, J. H. Maddox, Paul Boyd, C. H. McDaniel, H. L.

MUSIC I LIKE

Sometimes on our wireless set The music's very grand But, oh, so very difficult For me to understand.

Give me instead the laughing wind Among the leaves and grasses. I understand the song he sings To every child that passes.

And give me, too, for orchestra, The merry thrush and lark, For lullaby, the nightingale Who sings when all is dark.

Let me hear the babbling brook Where bends the slender reed, For here is all the music A little child can need.

Many pastures provide poor feed for livestock because the soil lacks phosphorus. Phosphorus-deficient soil produces phosphorus-deficient feed. Phosphorus-rich soil produces feed richer in both phosphorus and protein—and a bigger, more palatable growth! News From HENRY I. SEIGEL-CITY

Originated in 1937

The awfulest thing I've ever seen a Henry I Siegel sewing machine.
It takes one stitch, misses two, you have to fuss the thing black and blue.
You think you know what it's all about, the needle unthreads, the shuttle pops out, you thread it all up, life never seemed duller. Then you find out you have the wrong color.
You change black thread to old sultan
From grey to Texas Blue. By the time you've done this several times the day is nearly through.
You control your temper; try not to fuss,
You feel someone staring at you and there stands Gus.
I think I'll keep on sewing and save my money as I do
And now pay close attention to what I'm telling you.
I'm going to buy a strait jacket and ride until I come to a town called Hopkinsville.
And if I find a factory worker there
"I'll know" Henry I. Siegel caused him to go.

No reflection on our employer what so ever. It's just one of those days we all have summed up in a little poem.

HOT FLUSHES?

Does the functional "middle-age" period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.) make you suffer from hot flushes, feel so nervous, high-strung, irritable, weak? Then do try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. It's famous for this!
Taken regularly—Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such "middle-age" distress. It's what Doctors call a uterine sedative. It positively contains no opiates—no habit-forming drugs. Pinkham's Compound helps nature (you know what we mean). It's also a great stomachic tonic! Any drugstore.

This is a diesel... a modern locomotive that means better service to you.
Leaders of two unions think it's a feather-bed... a "make work" grab that means less service to you.

Leaders of unions representing railroad engineers and firemen seek to force railroads to add extra, needless men on diesel locomotives. This is sheer waste—a "make-work" program which would mean fewer improvements and higher costs—for YOU!
 Railroads use modern diesel locomotives because they are one of the means of giving faster, better service to you.
 Two men compose the crew of a diesel. They occupy a clean, comfortable cab at the front. The engineer handles the throttle. The fireman sits and watches the track ahead. With no coal to shovel, he has practically nothing else to do.
 No Benefit To You
 Now the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen want to use the diesel locomotive as a means of forcing a feather-bedding scheme on the railroads. The extra men they propose to add to the diesel crews are not needed. There is no work for them.
 The union leaders are fighting among themselves about which union should furnish these extra, needless men. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers have even threatened a strike. You may not be interested in this dispute of these two unions, but you would be vitally concerned if these groups succeed in putting through this feather-bedding scheme, because it would mean a slowing up of the improvement program of the railroads—of which the diesel is the outstanding symbol. Diesel crews are among the highest paid railroad employees—real aristocrats of labor! Their pay is high by any standard. Granting of these demands, therefore, would mean that the railroads would be paying out millions in unearned wages to those in the very highest pay brackets.
 We'd Like To Spend This Money On You
 You know how much the diesel has meant to you in increased speed, comfort and convenience. The railroads have many more of them on order for even greater improvement in service to you. But needless drains of money, such as this present demand of the unions for needless men on diesels, reduce the ability of the railroads to spend money on better service for you.
 Proud as the railroads are of the diesel, it is only a small part of their improvement program. Since the War, literally billions of dollars have been spent on improvement of tracks and stations, on new passenger and freight cars, as well as on diesel locomotives, and on the many other less conspicuous details of railroading that contribute to improved service.
 Feather-Bedding Means Less Service To You
 But brazen feather-bedding schemes like the one now proposed would, if successful, divert large sums of money from our present improvement programs. Even worse, they make improvements like the diesel worthless, by making the cost of their operation prohibitive. These demands are against YOUR interests—as well as those of the railroads. They are schemes to "make work"... Neither you nor the railroads should be forced to pay such a penalty for progress.
 That's why the railroads are resisting these "make work" demands to the last ditch—and why they are telling you about them.

TEEN-AGE TATLER

by the
"Walkie-Talkie"

Oh boy, I will let you in on a secret: C.R. is going to be dropped and I mean cold too, because L.M. is wild about B.E. and all he is waiting on is for B.E. to say she will go with his regularly.

S.O.S. Flash B.W. is fairly bursting with pride over her love affair with B.C.

S.H. has a new heart throb, J.H.

J.F. is doing a lot of worrying over T.M.

S.C. is now married to a A.M.H. of McConnell but still intended to finish school, smart girl.

S.O.S. Flash Help, help, help calling all girls: someone please rescue J.A.E.; he is going mad if he doesn't fall in love again, so he can forget his last heart failure.

Calling all girls be sure and go by to see J.N. as her heart throb has just wrote her he is sailing far across the seas so she wants to be true, and she said she knew she would get lonesome and we don't want her to get so lonesome that she would forget him. So let's remember to go back and say "hi."

T.H. is now going back to South Fulton, so pal I'm sorry. I knew you should have been studying instead of courting so much, as I knew the first thing anyone knew you wouldn't get to see her at all.

T.F.G. is also going to South Fulton, and believe me you A.M. is really sad about it.

S.M. is still wild about J.E. at the Little Breezy.

Can't B.O. do any better than he is? I think he could go with someone his own age or else someone younger in place of someone older.

Mrs. Johnny Lancaster and little daughter, Nancy May have returned to their home in Dyersburg Tenn., after a visit to her mother, Mrs. S. L. Brown.

Weakley Farm Bureau Names New President

S. H. Collier of Martin, was elected president of the Weakley County Farm Bureau Saturday at Dresden in the first quarterly meeting of the year. William Hunt of Cottage Grove was named vice president. Election of a secretary was left open to the Board of Directors.
