FIRST VOTE COUNT IN NEWS CAMPAIGN

Plenty of Time Remains to Enter and Win Out of Big Capital
Prizes

Thursday, the first vote count in News' 'Everybody Wins' competition for the big cash prizes will be printed. Hereafter the vote will include votes cast up to 8:00 p. m. of the day before date of publication. Today's vote score is as of Wednesday night. Many expiring subscriptions have been renewed during the past few days. That, of course, made votes. And these were cast at the option of the subscriber for some candidate.

More votes have been cast by subscribers themselves than most candidates have secured.

Neither the list of candidates nor the record vote today is a fair indication of how the race will be. Subscriptions and coupons have been turned in for some who as yet have made no apparent actual effort themselves. Another few have tried to skim the cream.

Some contestants there are who will get along very well for a few days. They will bubble over with enthusiasm. But it won't last. They will go out and "get their ears knocked down" once or twice and they'll be ready to quit. They have not got the stuff in them that will urge them on.

And rather than admit their deficiency they'll come in or write in and say: "I find I haven't the time." Others will be content to let their friends vote for them when they turn in their subscriptions over the counter of the News office. Some will start but will not finish.

It is just the battle of life in miniature. Some have it within themselves to be successful. Others can become so with the proper urge. Still others lack confidence. (Continued on Page Two)

'FOLLOW ME' SERMON TOPIC HERE SUNDAY

The light of a new day was breaking over the sea of Galilee. A group of fishermen were seen washing their nets after a night of toil. Intent upon their task, they did not notice a stranger who came along, walking in silent meditation. Suddenly the man stopped, and with a call of salutation attracted the attention of the fishermen. Then He said, "Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men."

Two of the fishermen were greatly impressed. Could it be possible that here was one who could deliver them from their dull drudgery, long had they desired a higher task and better reward. Then in a moment of surging faith and hope they "straightway left their nets and followed Him."

Again that same day, two other fishermen responded to the blessed invitation to Jesus. What a change came in the lives of James and John, Peter and Andrew! Little knowing who they were following they cast aside their livelihood forsook their village and went out trusting that this stranger would bring to their lives that higher fellowship for which they longed.

Here were four ignorant men whose horizon was the enclosing shores of a fair-sized lake. To them every day meant fish, and simply fish, when this stranger broke into their circle and said "Follow me."

This simple but potent phrase, "Follow me," seems to be the very heart of Christ's message to a lost world. He used this expression on many occasions, each time a new life was born. Narrow provincialism was lifted to universal love and selfish interests changed to Christ-like service for the needy.

SERMON

How quickly the problems that baffle the world would fade into nothingness if we would simply obey these words of the Master! Take any problem if you will, world peace, economy economic security, social inequality, capital and labor, religious indifference, crime—yes, every world problem, and every personal one—all would be solved if men had the desire and faith to follow Christ in word and truth. How simple the formula for curing the world's ills—and how futile our efforts apart from Him.

Who does Christ mean, in His invitation to us? First, He means sacrifice. We must come to Christ empty handed. We must cast aside the husks of life that the sweet kernel of truth may be revealed. We speak of sacrifice as something that hurts and scars, but what matter the pain of the surgeon's knife when cancerous tissue is being removed.

Next Christ means Service. He once declared "I am among you as he that serveth." We do not at once follow our Lord to the kingdom of glory. We must be perfected. Our character must be transformed. We must be submissive to the will of our Heavenly Father, ever attentive to the needs of others. In a life of service for the Master we find our best reward.

When Christ calls us to follow Him it is first in sacrifice, second service and then finally to follow Him to glory. We read, "They follow the Lamb whithersoever He goeth."

The apostle John in vision saw a company of people that triumphed over sin and stood upon Mount Zion. Their character had been perfected, and they were without fault before the throne of God. These are they who through earthly trials and toil, learned to follow the Lamb "whithersoever He goeth."

This is what Christ means when He calls "Follow me." While at first all may not be apparent, as you follow Him, new vistas of hope and glory will open before you. An abundant life of usefulness and satisfaction will be yours. You will some day be invited into the presence of God to dwell with Him and to have fellowship with the King of Kings and Lord of Lords, Jesus Christ Himself.

My friends, we look out upon a world of trouble today. We see much that is causing men's hearts to fail them for fear, and the only safe course for us to follow is to anchor our lives to the Rock of Ages.

There are ominous times ahead, and I trust that you will make that needed preparation to meet Christ in peace when He returns the second time, without sin unto salvation.

There are many indications the return of Our Lord is near and I plead with you to follow him while the opportunity is still yours. Won't you accept the Invitation?

WATER VALLEY NEWS

Sunday morning, March 6, the Sunday School of Water Valley Methodist Church honored Ben P. Bennett for his faithful service during the past 48 years as Sunday School superintendent. The occasion was his 76th birthday, and each class presented him with a gift. The pastor, Rev. M. S. McCastlain along with other members of the Sunday school spoke briefly on Mr. Bennett's life of loyalty and service to the church.

The highlights of the program were the presentation of the lovely pink and white birthday cake, by the Young People's division, and a group photograph of the Sunday school, given by the Adult division.

The celebration was a complete surprise to Mr. Bennett. Many visitors were present.

The Sewing Club, correctly named "The Stitch and Chatter Club," met with Mrs. Clifton Williams Thursday afternoon. Between "Stitches and Chatter" the hostess served a lovely place using the St. Patrick motive.

INTEREST INCREASE IN MOVIE

STARRING LOCAL CHILDREN

Interest in the juvenile comedy which is to be made here entirely with local children continues to grow, according to Malcolm Gilbert, manager of the Fulton Theatre, sponsoring the local production.

To give local youngsters between the ages of 3 and 12 an opportunity of appearing before a camera crew and acting a story that will make a two-reel comedy, the theatre has engaged the Melton Barker Juvenile productions. This organization is familiar with the casting and filming of youngsters and has been active throughout the nation in producing juvenile comedies.

Registrations of applicants by local boys and girls who want to appear before the movie camera continues briskly, but the theatre management and William D. Patton, casting director from Hollywood, are eager to get additional youngsters. As soon as all the applications are received, actual casting McNeil were joint hostesses Wednesday afternoon to the "Get Together Club" in the home of Miss McNeil.

On Friday, March 25th, at 8:00 o'clock at Ray's school building the Young People's division of the Pleasant Valley Methodist church will present a 3-act play, "Here Comes Charlie." A large crowd is expected to enjoy the sparkling comedy.

Leon Bard is confined to his home with measles.

The Woman's Missionary Society of Water Valley Methodist Church met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. S. E. Tarpley with eight members and one visitor present. Mrs. M. S. McCastlain presided and Mrs. E. J. Hall gave the lesson.

Little Ruth Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cheslie Lee is dangerously ill at her home.

The well known "Yellow Jackets" of the WPAD Studios, gave a very interesting program Monday night at the Water Valley Gymnasium. They were sponsored by the Ladies' School Club. For their return engagement April 8, they will be sponsored by the Junior Class of Water Valley High.

Mrs. Cleo Hatchel is seriously ill at the Fulton Hospital.

The people of Water Valley, regret very much the loss of Fred Lawrence who came to us one year ago from "Pilot Oak" to be the mail carrier on route one. He was still an ardent booster of the "Pilot Oak Warhorses," and still felt that they were tops in the basket ball field.

The burial took place immediately after the Heath and Pilot Oak game, which was played Saturday.

ble the applicants and give them a Hollywood test. Those selected through this test, which will be made before a regular sound camera, will then be assigned roles for the production. Around 75 local youngsters will be selected and the entire picture will be made here.

Those children who so far have not had an opportunity of registering and who want to try out for a part in the picture may do so by making application at the Fulton, Orpheum or Strand Theatres. Every type of child is needed for the picture—tall and short youngsters, "fatties" and "leaves" and every other type. There will be some call for singing and dancing types, but neither of these talents is necessary. Mr. Patton wants to get as many applicants as he can to assure himself of having covered the city thoroughly in his search for talent that will later sparkle on the Fulton screen.

March 12th, at 1:00 a. m. His death was caused from the fact that Pilot Oak was beaten 2 points, after an overtime period was played. (It was a good game though.)

The pall-bearers were "The Water Valley Hornets." Flowers from friends and loved ones showed the sentiment of every one at heart.

Mr. Lawrence's last remarks were:

"Tread softly stranger as you go by,
As you are now so once was I,
As I am now, you are sure to be
If you blow off too much at your "Bazzoo" like me.
I was for Pilot Oak War horses
May I rest in peace."

Creulation Drive

dence in themselves and ability to stick and win.

The prizes are extraordinary. Never before have such great cash prizes been offered in this section of Kentucky in a newspaper election. And "Everybody Wins." And yet contestants will lag along, hoping by some miracle that the other fellow will also stay asleep and allow them to carry off the prizes without work and without giving a semblance if return to the News. That isn't fair.

Why, today, an absolutely new candidate could enter this election and with a half a dozen or so subscriptions or three or four good subscriptions, sprint up and gain a clean lead over each and every one now entered. It can be done.

And a contestant now in can do the same thing. All are on even terms. Work is the governing factor. Salesmanship, too helps.

For instance, for every club of $20.00 worth of subscriptions turned in, the contestant gets 200,000 extra votes over and above the normal votes which the subscriptions themselves provide. These clubs may be of twenty one year subscriptions or five four year subscriptions, or three six year subscriptions, or any combination they may work out, up to they total $20.00.

Then, if it is a new subscription, 60,000 votes extra are given. Twelve one year subscriptions would total 48,000 regular votes, if new add 720,000 extra votes. With the "club" of 200,000 votes, the candidate would have a grand total of 868,000 votes.

Then, if it is a new contestant, there would be 10,000 votes on nomination, 100,000 coupons for receiving a subscription within 24 hours. Thus a new contestant, with twelve one year subscriptions could today have one million two thousand (1,002,000) votes.

Is there an opportunity for a new live wire contestant? Is there a chance for a real worker? You know there is the same chance for any contestant now entered. All are on even terms.

NOTE—Office will remain open evenings until 8 p. m. All candidates asked to report Saturday.

BETTER RESULTS from BETTER EQUIPMENT

THE RIGHT KIND OF FEEDER can do much toward promoting the growth and health of young birds. Healthy birds mature earlier — are more profitable. Good layers are the result of good care during the growing period. Provide your birds with feeders that are convenient — that will encourage your flock to eat — that are sanitary and prevent feed waste.

This Jamesway Reel Type Feeder with its easy rolling reel prevents roosting on the feeder — keeps birds out of feed and leaves feed free from contamination. Inbuilt top edge saves feed. Keel and stand adjustable for growing flock. Made of heavy galvanized rust resisting sheet metal for long wear.

WATER AS IMPORTANT AS FEED Almost 60% of a chicken's body consists of water. Reduction in the proportion of water will prove detrimental to the growth and development of the birds. Keep them supplied with plenty of clean, fresh water in this handy Jamesway pull type float feed waterer.

Let us show you our Complete Line of Jamesway Poultry Equipment for Chicks, Growing Flock, and Laying Hens.

ALL SET TO START.

Here's the first call for the bucket and mop brigade, the rake and shovel regiment, the paint and whitewash corps and the hatchet and saw recruits. The spring push is about to get under way. The entire nation is arming for its annual war on dirt and rubbish, soot and disease-breeding dumps. It's a mighty army that is now getting set for its annual campaign, and it behooves everyone around Fulton to promptly fall in line.

There's no way of estimating the benefits that arise from a clean house, a clean yard and a clean community as a whole. It not only means more comfortable living conditions but it assures health and prevents epidemics that might easily claim a heavy toll of death. Starting early means more time for other duties, too, and serves to lighten the jobs that come along later in the season.

It is well to remember that no better beautifier and no more effective sanitary agent can be procured than whitewash. Use it, as well as the raw, unslacked lime about your premises. But get on the job now, for once you start your neighbors will follow your example, and even our city fathers will be encouraged to set about giving streets and sidewalks the attention they need to place them in proper shape for spring. Roll up your sleeves, whistle if you can't sing and help make the home town shine like the noonday sun.

How much worse it would be if we were born old and had to look forward to growing young and silly.

RAISING CHICKENS.

Despite the fact that more money has been lost and more people discouraged in poultry raising than in most any other venture, it still remains one of America's greatest industries. In fact, government figures show more people directly interested in the production of poultry and eggs than in any other food commodity. Last year, according to a recent government estimate the business amounted to approximately a billion and a quarter dollars.

While the smaller cities, towns and villages still contribute much to the general success of poultry raising, it is on the farms and in rural poultry yards that production piles up fastest and where the "big money" is made. Citizens of Fulton who keep chickens are mainly in it to serve their own needs and yet, if they will figure a little, they will be surprised to find that a good profit can be had from even the smallest flock. In no other food is there as little waste as in eggs. No other food can be eaten in as many ways—boiled, raw, fried, scrambled, poached, steamed, shirred or scalloped. And no other food serves as satisfactorily in both sickness and health.

We are paying this little tribute to the American because she deserves it. She is a friend of humanity, and one we cannot get along without, since practically all cooking is based on eggs. Here's hoping her numbers never decrease and that come what may—strikes, fires floods or earthquakes—she will always be found on the job.

MERITED HONOR

When the state of Ohio started in a few years ago to confer the degree of "Master Homemaker," through its farm bureaus, it set a splendid example. It is interesting to note that several other states are adopting the innovation. Yet it strikes one as strange that the country is just beginning to reward woman for a task she has been carrying out in a masterly way for thousands of years. Since the beginning of time, women have been the homemakers. There are dozens right around Fulton entitled to be recognized as masters of the art. But the only prize they seek is the love and esteem of their families and the respect of their neighbors and friends. Is it different in this day of bridge parties and tin-can meals that prizes have to be offered to those who really know how to keep a house and how to make it worthy of the name of home? It might be necessary in some sections, but we don't believe this community has yet reached that stage.

THIS USUALLY WORKS

Just what to do with household she no longer has use for is a worry to more than one woman now about to engage in the annual task of house-cleaning. We know house-cleaning is a big job, and for that reason we again want to offer a hint that has solved the problem for many in the past, and to their advantage. Someone would be glad to have the old stove, chairs, bed, floor covering or other household furnishings you are discarding for something new this spring, and they would be glad to pay a fair price for it. But, unless they know what you have to dispose of, how are they going to purchase it. A few cents—a smaller amount than you would ordinarily think—will tell everybody for miles around just what you are willing to dispose of when those few cents are spent for a little reading notice in these columns. In that way you get actual cash for what you do not want, and someone else gets what they want at a bargain. Drop in and let us explain how this feature of your annual house-cleaning problem may be happily and profitably solved.

Most mothers call it the "Bad Place" when they are scolding the children but they have an entirely different name for it when they are scolding Father. Paying taxes by mail is a fine idea. Now the taxpayer doesn't leave home and have to walk home in a barrel. What has become of the old-fashioned Fulton man who used to vote for the candidate who gave him the most five-cent cigars? A tourist and a vacationist are two different things. A tourist is a man who fares forth to see the country without depending on a timepiece, a speedometer or a map.

If a Fulton woman finds out ten things her husband was keeping from her it is safe to bet that she guessed nine of them. The old admonition to "love your neighbors as yourself" has been responsible for a lot of fellows landing in divorce court. Right now the lay of the spring poet doesn't interest the average Fulton citizen as much as the lay of the spring hen. One of the first things a fellow learns after he gets married is someone he spends a lot of time waiting for after he gets ready to go some place. Every now and then you meet a girl who looks as though she trying to win a prize for putting the most powder on her nose. Ever notice how many Fulton people who don't know one note from another are pretty good at blowing their own horns? Still another home where happiness always reigns is the one where Mother never kicks because she has to put Dad's shaving set away. These are times when a man needs a new hat but doesn't want one. But it's different with his wife. Many a Fulton man who thinks his wife couldn't get along without him probably would be surprised if he knew that she endures him just for the children's sake.

1938 "ARM PROGRAM

It is impossible for the committee, County Agent, or anyone to tell just how many acres of crops can be grown in 1938 because of the method of figuring the acreage that will be allotted to each farm to be grown in 1938 is changed.

The acreage of cotton, corn, wheat and other crops that have been grown for the past three to five years as well as the tillable acreage of land all have to be considered in establishing the 1938 acreage. However just as soon as these figures can be determined they will be mailed to the producers and they have the right to appear before the committee and have them to review the allotted acreage if they are not satisfactory.

Small producers are very much favored in payments this year as those who receive a payment of $20.00 will get an increase of 40 per cent and those receiving $20.00 to $40.00 will be increased $8.00 plus 20 per cent of the amount over $20.00 payments of $40.00 to $60.00 will be increased $12.00 plus 10 per cent of the amount over $40.00; payments of $60.00 to $180.00 will be increased $14.00 and payments of $180.00 to $200.00 will be increased $200.00.

The cotton payment will be 24 cents per pound on the normal yield of cotton for the allotted acreage. In other words, if a producer is allotted 10 acres and the normal yield is 300 pounds per acre, he would receive a $72.00 payment from the cotton, unless 80 per cent of the allotted acreage is planted the allotted acreage will automatically be reduced 125 per cent of the acres planted.

The payment on corn will be 10 cents per bushel on the normal production times the allotted acreage.

Wheat will draw a payment of 12 cents per bushel on the allotted acreages. Wheat allotments will only be established for farms that have been producing more than 100 bushels during the past three years.

The 50 per cent planting of allotted acreage also applies to corn and wheat. 15 cents per pound will be paid on the normal yield of tobacco produced on the allotted acreage.

Payments on the soil building practices are practically the same as were announced sometime ago and will be made for using lime, terracing and phosphate where used in connection with soil conserving crops.

A CHESTNUT FAMINE.

Most everyone around Fulton recalls the poem of boyhood starting "Under the spreading chestnut tree the village smithy stands." And most everyone knows that the smithy has about disappeared with the advent of the auto. But few there are who realize that the chestnut tree is fast disappearing from America and may have entirely disappeared within another dozen years.

A steady drop in the chestnut crop each year for several past has caused Uncle Sam to take notice and he finds that a strange tree-blight, caused by a foreign insect has been destroying this particular variety of tree all over the nation. The destruction has been going on steadily for almost 20 years. So slowly, in fact, has been the work of destruction, that the average citizen has not noticed it. Thus are we being robbed of still another institution for long years linked pretty closely with boyhood joys—the chestnut tree.

On good land an acre of soy beans will support 15 to 20 shots.

Picked Up Around Town

J. O. Lewis says he has often wondered why it is that the fellow who has the most to say usually does the least talking.

"It occurs to me," asserts Geo. Alley "that most of the farm bills they introduce are designed to help the congressman about as much as they are intended to help the farmer."

Some political campaign managers seem highly qualified to get and then forget.

"I don't know of anyone entitled to more pity," says Dick Hastings "than the man who got married just because he likes home-cooking."

J. C. Wiggins says the fact that there is a lot of unemployment in the country still doesn't explain why so many fellows are after political jobs.

If a boy has a snappy looking According to Harry Reeves there's just one sure way to have all your fellowmen speak well of you. That is to lay down and die. car his girl friend can forgive him for not knowing how to play bridge.

"Beware of the man," warns Bertie Pigue, "who slaps you on the back. He probably wants you to coup up something."

H. H. Bugg says we have progressed to the point where many want considerable here below—and expect it from the government.

Why is it that when you tell a woman she is not looking well she will look triumphantly at her husband.

How many of you can remember when a Fulton girl got a thrill in the spring thinking about how soon she could hang out the hammock.

There are 30,000 lakes in the state of Florida.

The International highway from Alaska to Argentina will be 12,000 miles long.

Lowered production of calves is noticeable in a winter following a dry year.

Failing wells have caused 20,000 acres of land to be abandoned in the upper San Joaquin valley.

An epidemic in 1932 piled up more than 10,000 dead ducks to the mile on the shores of Great Salt Lake.

How many Fulton people can remember when they bought liver and bacon from the butcher but orly had to pay for the bacon.

"THE NEWS" WEEKLY SCRAPBOOK

WEEK'S BEST RECIPE—

Barbecued Ribs—Cut 3 to 4 lbs. spare ribs into pieces, convenient for serving. Sprinkle with salt. Slice 2 medium onions. Mix Barbecue Sauce by blending 2 tablespoons vinegar, 1 tablespoon Worcester Sauce, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 teaspoons brown sugar, 1 pinch of red pepper, 1-2 teaspoon each of paprika and chili powder, 1-4 teaspoon black pepper and 3-4 cups each tomato catsup and hot water. Arrange ribs, onions and sauce in layers in a roasting pan. Bake, covered, for 90 minutes in a moderate oven (350F). Remove cover and bake for 20 minutes at 375F. (Pork chops may be barbecued in the same way. This recipe will serve six people).

STYLE HINTS

Almost every other new frock has some type of yoke. This may be a feature of the blouse or it may be a part of the skirt. The shoulder yoke introduces all over embroidery or braiding to bring it into the limelight or adopts an odd shape. Little corded trims sometimes adorn the edges and indicate the emphasis upon novelty. Skirt yokes are employed to give a slender hip line in spite of numerous pleats.

THE SEWING ROOM

When removing snaps from one garment to use on one in the future snap them together on a piece of paper and place in the sewing cabinet. Then you will really have them when they are needed and not just one section of the snap for which you are looking.

KITCHEN KINKS

To prevent peeled apples turning dark while standing, cover them with salt water. Unless you sift flour before measuring, it is possible to put as much as an extra cup of flour in the batter. To flatten cookies you are ready to bake, used the broad side of a knife which has been dipped in cold water.

CLEANING HINTS

When acid is spilled on a rug remove it as quickly as possible with a wet cloth then cover with baking soda off soda with cold water. A solution of ammonia and water, made by combining a teaspoon of ammonia to a pint of water, will remove iodine stains from white linen. Soak in the solution.

AN INSPIRATION

"When you hear of good in people, tell it;
When you hear a tale of evil—
it!"

Students To Aid In Planning Survey

According to G. W. Carr, Field Supervisor of the Kentucky Highway Planning Survey, who was recently in Fulton, local high school students have been granted permission by J. O. Lewis, city superintendent of schools and Clyde Lassiter, county superintendent of schools, to assist in a special study soon to be made of the use of U. S. State highways, county roads and city streets by vehicle owners living in Fulton county. This is a part of a highway planning program to collect data needed in planning construction and maintenance of highways and streets.

The data which is being collected through the local high school is an important part of the Highway Planning Survey, according to Mr. Carr. He said that both local and state school officials have cooperated fully in this work, and it is anticipated that local students will furnish much needed information concerning Fulton county.

Mr. Carr states that each student will be instructed how to interview his or her parents or neighbor about the driving of their vehicle during the last 12 months. The data can be obtained concerning the purpose of travel and highway systems used.

The information collected in Fulton county through the schools and through other sources will be used in determining the future highway program. With active cooperation from state and local school officials, particularly the teachers, parents will be requested to assist their children in preparing these assignments so as to increase the amount and reliability of data from Fulton county.

Two field instructors for the Highway Planning Survey are expected to begin their instruction in Fulton County high schools Thursday, March 10. This work is purposely being done through the high schools for the reason that a larger sample of representative vehicle owners may be obtained than otherwise possible. The students learn civic duty through helping their government and are also giving on a lesson in the practical application of representative government.

HOMEMAKERS PLAN FARM CLEAN-UPS

Early spring has been designated as farmstead clean-up season among the 15,000 members of home makers clubs in 48 Kentucky counties. Some of the things to be done as listed by N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture, include:

Removal of old buildings no longer useful and already falling down, saving the useful lumber. Removal of dead and unsightly trees. Sometimes the stumps are left as places for flower boxes and sometimes branch stubs are left and the trumpet vine or Virginia creeper planted at the base of the old tree. Dismantling of worn-out machinery, selling the iron as junk and burning the wooden parts. Usable machinery put in tobacco barns or other buildings, if possible or out of sight behind buildings. Lots and corrals for livestock cleaned of old fencing and other trash.

Old fences, especially in front yard, repaired or replaced and discarded parts removed.

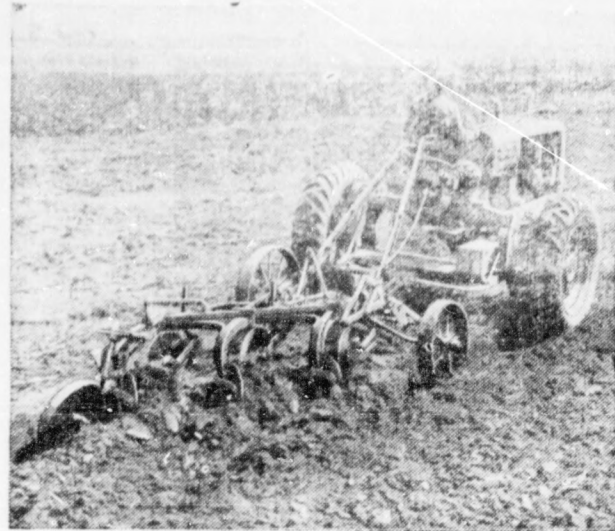

Gates repaired or replaced and supporting posts straightened. Sagging, dragging gates give a poor impression.

Wood for stove or fireplace carefully piled, and coal placed inside.

It most cases it will not be necessary to spend money, says Mr. Elliott. Members of the family working together, with the use of a team and wagon, can remove a lot of trash and rubbish in a day or two.

Public spirited citizens are necessary to every town. One way to spend money is to endorse a note for a friend. Everybody sympathizes with China but that doesn't help the Chinese.

DAM SITE DEEDS

FILED AT BENTON

Apparently confident of final approval of a preliminary $2,763,000 federal appropriation for construction of the proposed $112,000,000 Gilbertsville, Ky. dam, the Tennessee Valley Authority land acquisition office filed with the Marshall county clerk seven deeds to 358.4 acres of farm land.

The purchase price was listed as $21,269.

George M. Baker, director of the acquisition office, said at Murray that purchases would continue. Approximately 15,000 additional acres in Marshall county are under option. County Clerk Elwood Gordon said the total bought and optioned represented 22 per cent of the county's area.

The land, south and southwest of Gilbertsville, is to be used as the site for construction camps and a road from Highway 68 near Palma to Gilbertsville, over which materials are to be hauled to the dam site.

The appropriation, approved by the United States Senate, awaits sanction by the House and the President.

Still another reason for quite a bit of the domestic discord you hear of around Fulton is that no house is big enough for two cases of swelled-head.

A woman likes for her husband to pay her compliments, but she wants him to remember that she can use a little money, too.

FOLK TYPES—MAMMY

Mammy as an institution is rapidly passing, especially in the border states, though she still is fairly well known in the Far South. Probably few of this generation know her as she used to be. The modern colored maid sometimes takes her place in some ways, but she is not Mammy. Mammy felt herself a part of the family, after the Civil War as well as before. Her young charges were reared according to the traditions of the Big House and also according to Mammy's own rigid ideas of what is right and wrong. She never thought that white and black children should be reared alike; black was black and white was white to Mammy. The only compromise between the two was "pore white trash." Somehow Mammy seems to have always been plump, with beaming face and white teeth. Her voice was one of her most valuable characteristics; she could be heard, and knew it. Her frankness and freedom of speech resembled those of an ancient court fool. Many a time her remarks must have cut pretty deeply, but it would have violated a tradition to condemn her for her frankness. She knew quality when she saw it and tried to enforce an appreciation of quality on her charges. Mammy herself was known among her own people for the quality of the people she served rather than for any personal goodness. No real Mammy ever forgot the famous people she had raised and "nussed." Regardless of the actual value of her white folks, she could prove to all comers that her people were the best. Otherwise she would not have been their servant. No, suh!

Just how much authority Mammy had I do not know; it was probably considerably less than she pretended it was. Her big voice and her husky frame enforced more authority than she had. She was a creature of dignity, especially in the presence of the white folks or of her own race who were not so highly favored by being trusted with the white folks' children. She gave the appearance of knowing a great deal more than she would like to tell, a characteristic that was sure to impress her own race. Mammy was a great moralist, in spite of her own shortcomings. She upheld the rigid standards of her church and was fairly bristling with platitudes on all occasions. Not being very scientific-minded, she did not check over her previous pronouncements to see whether she was consistent. Mammy could sing, and did sing, the old melodious songs that she and her ancestors had learned from generations of masters, with African touches of melody. If she did not know enough words for her songs, she could improvise as well as a poet and make her words fit the tune she was singing. More than the other Negroes she represented the ancient traditions. She knew all sorts of stories, she never lacked for picturesque figures of speech, she always had a grace of language. Biblical words flowed from her mouth, often pretty badly scrambled, but genuine in their sound. And Mammy has found a place in song and story, a place she deserves. She varied greatly in different parts of the South, but there were many similarities in the Mammies of all states and areas. Whatever her own ideas were, she hid them completely in the tradition that made her a trusted servant, a member of the inner circle, worthy of genuine respect.

Housecleaning Time for TVA
Notwithstanding the many external enemies of TVA it seems now to have a severe internal malady—lack of coordination. It is well that President Roosevelt should give it his personal attention for upon the bulwarks of TVA, at least to a large degree, the success of the present administration rests. For it is one of the alphabetical jingles that even some of the better economists are behind and more important still the wide experimental school of business men.

TVA is certainly a step toward conservation of natural resources and a public betterment. So far it has been a costly step (most new ones are) but the public has looked upon the expenditure as necessary to attain a goal. The public, however is not going to be so sympathetic toward expenditure of public funds not for TVA, but to assuage the whims of its directors. No person who occupies a place of public trust has a right to use that position to satiate his personal loves and hates. Between TVA directors it seems to be all hate and in the fight that ensues and in the cauldron of their past jealousies the furtherance of the cause of TVA seems to have been negligently cast aside.

Some have predicted that all of directors will be discharged. This really seems to be the only satisfactory solution for it is not those three men that the government must be concerned with, but the welfare of TVA. Certainly, if there is any "three horse team" that should pull together it is this one; obviously they are not so pulling. Just as certainly, while they are fighting the good of TVA is suffering. Surer still, the government needs men who will not betray the trust reposed in them and should tolerate only those who will efficiently and effectively dispose of the duty bestowed upon them.

FOOD CHOICE, NOT INCOME,

MAY BE KEY TO GOOD DIET

Few city families spending less than $1.50 per person per week for food obtain diets adequate for average health, according to a National-wide analysis of diets made by the Bureau of Home Economics in 1935-36. On the other hand, the great majority of families spending $3.75 or more per capita a week were buying food in sufficient quantity and variety to provide high-grade diets. Whether good, fair or poor diets were obtained by families spending between $1.50 and $3.75 weekly per person depended on their food choices.

CROWDING CHICKS NOT A

WAY TO ADD TO PROFITS

The poultryman who overcrowds his brooder house is likely to be penalized with sick chicks and with birds that are underweight at market time. H. L. Shrader, poultry husbandman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, recommends at least 50 square feet in brooder houses for each 100 chicks. A brooder house 12 by 14 feet will care for about 300 baby chicks, but not for many weeks if the chicks are kept confined.

If the young birds have range, such a house with plenty of roosts added will care for the flock for the first three months. Or, if the pullets are removed to range early in the season the house will be about the right size to care for the cockrels until they are ready to market as broilers.

Mr. Shrader quotes with approval a veteran poultryman who says that he can raise only about 50 many pounds of chicken in a brooder house of a given size. If he crowds in a few extra chicks, there is sickness enough to reduce the flock to the number that could have been sheltered adequately to begin with. Or if he manages to escape the "dead loss" from disease the young birds do not develop so rapidly as in an uncrowded flock.

The result is that the product of the number of chicks and the average weight per chick is about the same in the uncrowded house as in the crowded quarters. The original expense for extra chicks and the cost of their feed is wasted.

Frankness covers a lot of dirty remarks. Waiting is hard work but not quite so bad as working.

TIMES Are Just About What We Make 'Em

GOOD TIMES ARE HERE AGAIN-BUY NOW AND HELP TO MAKE THEM BETTER!

We do a lot of talking about good times and bad times, but as far as this community is concerned, times are about what we make 'em. We have gotten into the habit of referring to "the lull season" when it's largely a state of mind.

Things have been humming along at a pretty nice pace for several months now. Old-time confidence has been restored. More money in circulation. People buying more of the comforts and necessities of life. Old obligations are being met, and good credit being preserved. Repairs and improvements long neglected are being made.

Those are the things that have made times better in this community.

And they are the things that will make them still better.

There will be no "dull season" in either your line of work or ours if you will continue to buy the things you NEED as well as the things you want but have been afraid to buy. No dull season, if you will continue to settle up old obligations, even if you are able to make only small payments on them at a time. Faith in the future and a determination to keep your credit good will keep times good in this community, and the more money we put into circulation the better they'll be.

We, the Undersigned, want to see good times the year' round.

But the wish can't be granted without the individual co-operation of every citizen in the community.

So we join in inviting you to help keep times good in this community—to help make them still better—to burst the old "dull season" bubble. Buy RIGHT NOW the things you've postponed buying. Pay what you can on outstanding obligations. Show your confidence in your community and your faith in the future—just as we expect to continue doing.

I'LL MAKE MONEY FOR YOU, MISTER!

And you can bet that this chick will make money for you, too, because it's a carefully bred SWIFT'S BABY CHICK.

Swift's hatching eggs are produced by flocks in which each bird has been tested for pullorum disease, and selected for breed type, vigor, and good egg production.

Each egg from these flocks is individually inspected for size, shape, cleanliness, and shell texture. Only the best of these eggs are set, so the chicks hatched grow into fine, all-around birds.

SWIFT'S BABY CHICKS mature early, lay large, good-quality eggs. These chicks develop rapidly into meaty birds that consumers like.
