A LETTER

From Judge E. Barry, Giving an Account of His Travels

THROUGH THE WEST

Also Substance of the Vaughn-Minter Killing by an Uninterested Person.

Fort Smith, Ark., Sept. 12.—As I have a little time this morning before business hours, I will write you another short letter. After leaving Springfield, Mo., I took the Frisco railroad, which runs a southwest course. I stop at Republic, Aurora, Monet, Pierce City and Seligman. Aurora is a mining town; lead and zinc are mined in great quantities. Seligman is just on the Missouri side of the state line, and is the point where you leave the main road and take the Eureka branch, which is merely a little spur, 18 miles long down to Eureka Springs. It only costs $1.85 each way, to travel this 18 miles. To describe Eureka Springs intelligently, is an impossibility. There is only one street, that can be properly called a street, and that is Spring street, and it certainly is the crookedest street in the world. It runs towards every point of the compass. As you go into the city, on your right is the mountain, with business houses, private residences and hotels fronting on Spring street, and many of them three to four stories high in front, but you can step out of the highest story in the rear on to the mountain side. I got out of the carriage at the Southern hotel on to stone steps, then I went up eight flights of steps to the ground floor. I was in a room on the second floor, and I easily step out of the ground. This would be the case of fire. The opposite level the county seat of Benton county. This is the banner apple county of Arkansas, and as pretty country as I have yet seen. From Rogers I went to Fayetteville, the county seat of Washington county. This is a splendid town of 5000 people. This is a town of schools and churches, no saloons. The state University is located here, and the book store people say that there is no town in the state where the best literature is read more than here. I spent Sunday here, and heard two splendid sermons at the First Christian church by Bro. Ragland. He has a large congregation and they seem to be alive to all good work. I understand the Second church is also, in a flourishing condition. From Fayetteville I came to Fort Smith, famous for being the location of the U. S. court for the Indian Territory and Oklahoma. I had heard and read so much of Judge Parker, that I had a great curiosity to see him, and especially to see how he conducted court. From what I had heard of him I expected to see a perfect tyrant on the bench. But I had a very erroneous idea of him, he is a very large old gentleman, perhaps seventy years of age, with white hair and whiskers, and one of the most genial pleasant faced men I ever saw. But he is holy terror to evil doers. He has sentenced 148 men and 3 women to be hanged. But one of the most interesting features of the court, to me, was studying the faces of the crowd about the corridors and court yard, many of the were defendants and witnesses and many had come in to see Cherokee Bill hang, that day, the 10th, but he was not hung and the crowd was disappointed. Whites, half whites and half Indian, full blood Indians of all the different nations, half Indians and half Mexican, half Indian and half negro, negroes, and many of the different nations. Cherokee Bill is a white stopped at Mrs. Poes, who is Minter's mother-in-law, she persuaded Vaughn to not go back to Minter's; and told him she would send for his clothes and every thing that he might have there. He promised her that he would not go there, but left in that direction. Before he reached there he met a man who lives in the vicinity, and said to him, "that he was going over to Minter's and he was going to have his wife or kill somebody or get killed." When he arrived there Minter had just got home and hitched his horse to the yard fence. They had considerable talk at the house, in a very angry manner. It seems that Minter, to put an end to the interview, started to put up his horse. Vaughn preceding him and going outside the gate. Minter did not go outside at all, but turned on the inside toward his horse. They were still quarreling and when Vaughn had got about fifteen steps away he turned and began firing, shooting twice. The first ball penetrated the heart and as he fell, the second passed through the body also. Minter had no weapon of any kind on or about his person. Vaughn then fled and was captured three days afterward by the officers. He was in hiding when captured, but offered no resistance. This is nearly verbatim the report he gave me of the matter. I give it without comment or coloring, knowing that a great many readers of the Tribune would be glad to know the facts in regard to this sad affair. Mr. Hardeman said, "that it was regarded as one of the most deplorable things that had happened in that vicinity for many years."

E. BARRY.

In a recent letter to the manufacturers Mr. W. F. Benjamin, editor of the Spectator, Rushford, N. Y., says: "It may be a pleasure to you to know the high esteem in which Chamberlain's medicines are held by the people of your own state, where they must be best known. I am, of course, a native of mine, who respects the commandments."

OBITUARY.

It becomes my sad duty to chronicle the death of sister Aena Nimmo, widow of John M. Nimmo. She lived 1 1/2 miles east of Olive. She had been lingering a long while, being confined to her room and to her bed most of the time for six months past, struggling with that fell destroyer, consumption. Through all her sickness she was remarkably patient, saying she did not fear to go but would rather stay till she saw her children settled down. She was a woman of strict integrity and indomitable energy. When left a widow with a house full of small children she found her farm under mortgage for a good sum, on account of the long sickness of her husband. She went to work with a will and soon cleared the farm of its encumbrance, paid every debt, and leaves a good home to her children, clear of encumbrance. She was a true christian, loved her church, although she lived a long way from its place of meeting, she was there when health and circumstances would admit. She died in the triumphs of a living faith on Saturday Sept. 14 at 11 a. m., and was buried Sunday at 4 p. m., in the family lot at the Barnett grave yard, near the old Bishop mill. The entire neighborhood turned out to pay their last respects to their departed sister and friend.

On last Thursday another good and much loved woman, Mrs. Ann Cox, wife of S. M. Cox, near Fair Dealing, was taken from earth. She too was a truly good christian woman. She leaves a heart broken husband and several small children to mourn her loss. But they mourn not as those who have no hope, for by and by, Roe hopes to pass over and meet her on the "ever bright shore."

Thus one by one is God transpiring our dearest treasures to the other shore, that we may have greater incentive to labor harder in the master's vineyard that we may be prepared when our call comes to enter into that rest prepared for those who love God and keep his commandments.

For Representative, ESQ. N. N. RICE, of Lyon.

WEDNESDAY SEPT. 25.

men are among the brainiest of the young democracy, and with such intellectual giants in the field asking for the democratic nomination we can safely expect the fur to fly. It is expected that the fight will be made entirely on the money issue, but it may be by the time the convention meets there will be no unlimited free coinage issue before the country. But if the signs of the times indicate anything there is fun ahead in this district for the Democratic nomination for Congress next year.

DEMOCRATS TAKE NOTICE.

The Democrats shall assemble in mass convention at 2 o'clock on Saturday following the first Tuesday in October 1895 at their respective voting places and then select a Precinct Committeeman. In all cases the very best and truest Democrats should be selected, who have the confidence of the party and who will honestly and faithfully serve the best party interest. It is made the duty of county committees to make all necessary arrangements for holding said mass meetings and give due and full notice thereof to all Democrats.

Good bye silver-bugs, your days are numbered if you want it unlimited and free.

There are 179 G. A. R. posts in Kentucky with a membership of 5,341. Charters have been granted to 210 posts.

Don't forget your precinct meetings on Saturday October 5, when a Democratic Executive Committeeman is to be elected.

Each precinct committeeman should go out to his district meeting on October 5, and see that the meeting is held and that a good and true Democrat is selected.

Col. Bradley will get at least 10,000 votes less this year than he ever received before in a state election. The Republicans are very much disgusted with his course in this campaign.

The silver "craze" and the "sub-treasury craze" are about alike, one lasted only a short time, the other is now spending its force. Such chimerical schemes do not last long but pass away as soon as the people learn of their impracticability.

McCracken county has four candidates for the legislature. Polk Brooks, Democrat; Maj. J. H. Ashcraft, Republican; Jo. A. Parker, Populist; Dr. J. D. Smith, Independent Prohibitionist. Mr. Brooks will be elected by a handsome majority.

When Wild Bill Evans gets a few more blows for his indiscreet way of talking in the pulpit about people, then perhaps he will learn to be more respectful towards other men. His conduct in many places has been roundly censured by men and women of his own church.

The TRIBUNE has always supported the National Democratic platform and now supports the State platform. It is opposed to unlimited free coinage of silver and it understands both platforms to be likewise opposed to it. It will support the Democratic ticket from one end to the other. It likes Hardin, Tyler and all the rest of the boys, and it will do all it can to elect them.

The Republicans are more disgusted with Bradley than they have ever been before. They don't like the idea of his backing down from Mr. Hardin in their joint debates. The Republicans do love to vote for a brave man, but since Mr. Bradley has seen fit to show the white feathers in this campaign, hundreds of Republicans in this section will not vote for him. Who can blame them?

NUMBER ONE.

A Republican Quits his Party and Joins the Democrats.

The Beginning of a Series of Interesting Articles.

On September 26, 1854. Just forty-one years ago, a convention was called to meet at Auburn, New York, the home of William H. Seward to organize a Republican party, which should represent the friends of Freedom for no white men were then deprived of their freedom and of course this meant negro freedom. This meeting recommended that a convention of delegates from Northern States only be held on July 6, 1856, to nominate candidates for President and Vice-President of all the United States. This convention met and nominated Fremont and Dayton thirty-nine years ago July 4th just past. On that day I was born into a Republican family. I was born on the "self same day that the real Republican party was born, and consequently am exactly the same age of that party. My father and mother were both original Republicans and have been so until this day.

I was born a Republican. I was fed and nourished on Republican food, and from my infancy imbibed the doctrines and principles of the Republican party from the day of its birth and from the day of my birth until I became 37 years old.

For sixteen years I voted for none but men who were uncompromising Republicans. Whenever the party put a man before the country for support I never asked any questions, but did all I could for his election and the party's success. I never gave the science of government or the principles of any party but little study until about three years ago, when I began the study of politics. Since then I have searched the musty pages of all authorities on the origin, history and acts of all political parties, especially those relative to the Democratic and Republican parties. In the course of my studies I for the first time learned that the Republican party is only the child of the old Federalist party whose father was Alexander Hamilton. I have always been more or less familiar with the life and character of Mr. Hamilton and I must be permitted to say that he never was a good man or a friend to the people.

I Was Weak,

Tired and nervous, my food did not digest easily. In fact I was in poor health generally. I had to sleep propped up in bed to breathe easily at night. I had the grip and afterwards a severe cough. I found relief in Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken seven bottles and can eat what I please, sleep soundly and feel rested unless I overwork. I feel as young as I did at 18 when I use judgment in my daily exercises. I cannot begin to express my thanks sufficient for such a great soothing, health restoring medicine.

simple nearly every man, woman and child in this country. This same party is the sole cause of two issues of bonds during Mr. Cleveland's administration and will be the cause of more. In these articles I will in my feeble way show to the young men that there is not one living in this country that would support Alexander Hamilton, if he were living and running for office advocating the doctrines that he did at the beginning of this government, and that now to vote the Republican ticket is to do worse. A LADY WHO SUFFERED DEATH ALMOST WITH SICK HEADACHE. It Relieves Neuralgia Pains Every Time and is a Certain Cure for the Exasperating Grip.

I will say that my wife suffered death with sick headache for years and the Electropoise has almost cured her. It relieves neuralgia pains every time, and I do not doubt but that persistent use will entirely cure that trouble. I have used it for ordinary fevers on our children of 3 to 6 years of age with most marked success. Thirty-six hours usually resulting in a decided cure.

As for myself, I have had occasion to treat for a violent attack of la grippe, broke it up completely in forty-eight hours, an hour's treatment locally between the eyes and nostrils, and out at high temperature in fifteen minutes. Under schedule train No. 2 Louisville at 7:52 a. m., as heretofore, in connection with the Western roads, leaving St. Louis Union Station. This new time for with the fine equipment, and service makes the Mobile Ohio an "up to date" road in particular and the public slow to show their appreciation by an increased number of passengers as to time.

Prof. Draffen commenced school here last week with good attendance considering the busy season. DICK HAMSTRING.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became a Girl, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
