Dollars Come In; Subscription List Grows

ADVERTISER ADDS MANY NEW NAMES TO ITS LIST OF READERS

We take this method of acknowledging receipt of the dollar you sent us for subscription to the Advertiser during the past few days. Your name has been added to our happy family of readers and we will endeavor to make the paper interesting for you. If you sent in your dollar and your name is not included in the list printed below, please notify us at your earliest convenience.

April has been an unusually busy month in the Advertiser office. Besides printing around 100,000 candidate cards our job department has been overcrowded as it never was before, but by keeping the force continually on the job and doing much night work, no one has been disappointed in getting their printing promptly with that "little artistic touch" that characterizes Williams' printing—superior quality. Therefore, we trust those who sent in their subscription to the paper during the past few days will pardon us for not mailing a receipt. Just here we want to thank you for sending in your subscription and again we want to remind you if your name is not included in the following list please notify us:

Our Little Friends Are Returning

Calendar Social Brilliant Success

The calendar social given at the First M. E. Church on last Thursday evening by the ladies of the East Fulton Circle was a decided success from every standpoint. The attendance was all that could be hoped for and from an artistic standpoint it was great.

The guests were met at the door of the dining room by a bevy of beautiful girls. The ladies had evidently vied with each other in seeking to make each table more attractive than the other and they were all delightfully decorated.

The January table was a true portrayal of a winter scene which was very beautiful in its white and silver colors. A large snow mound being the center of the table. Silver candlesticks held white candles. No color whatsoever marred its beauty except the pink little New Year emblems from the snow with a tiny calendar suspended from his neck, the first leaf being January. Over this table Mesdames James W. Hackett and J. B. Coughlin, presided, their assistants being Misses Alice Vaughn and Muriel Stockdale. The February table was no less attractive being gaily decorated in St. Valentine colors, the center piece being a large white cake decorated in hearts and cupid. Mesdames Eunice Robinson and A. L. Martin presided at this with Misses Virginia Meacham and Martha Eunice Moore as assistants. Mrs. Hardeman Howard helped in making this table a success.

March followed next, the centerpiece being a pot of blooming yellow daffodils. Green shamrocks scattered about on the snowy linen made a very attractive looking table and also a reminder of St. Patrick. Mrs. Lynn Taylor and Miss Lena McKee presided, and were assisted by Misses Lucille Smith, Lena Evelyn Taylor and Katherine Taylor.

The April table carried the Easter suggestion. A vase of lovely Easter flowers and a nest of Easter eggs and rabbits adorned this table, the three colors, white, green and purple being the color scheme. This table was presided over by Mesdames J. A. Norment and N. B. Butterworth, assisted by

IT'S EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

"It's everybody's business, in this old world of ours, to root out all the weeds and make room for all the flowers. It's everybody's business, no matter where it lies, to make a garden like God made and called it Paradise."

Observance of clean up week in Fulton, April 14 to 20, by the club members and citizens in general, has made quite a difference in the city's appearance and we hope the good work will continue throughout the entire year. Fulton is a beautiful little city and the clean-up spirit and good work displayed this week is indeed commendable. Incidentally it is National Garden Week too.

Our city is indeed fortunate in having an active garden club. The members of this club are due much credit for encouraging the beautification of the home premises with flowers, shrubs and vegetable gardens.

Any kind of a garden can be made beautiful with a little extra work. Don't depend on your neighbors to grow your flowers for home decorations, and by all means don't depend on anyone to grow your vegetables for table use if you have a plot of ground you can cultivate yourself. That you grow yourself—you enjoy best. Let's all do our utmost in beautifying Fulton and keep it beautiful and CLEAN.

A GLORIOUS VICTORY

Joseph Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Williams; Avery Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hancock; Juano Mays, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mays, all representatives of Fulton High School, returned home last week from Lexington where they took part and won first place in the piano, American history and mathematics contest.

Surely this is an accomplishment never before achieved by any one school in the state and speaks well for the instructors who had much to do in developing the talent of these gifted young boys who are soon to graduate from High School, two this year and one next year.

Fulton is indeed proud of these boys. Joseph Williams is a natural born musician and has a bright future before him. What he has gained in the musical world was by hard work and persistent efforts. No task was too arduous for him to undertake when he had in mind the ambition of his ideal music. Any kind of work was joy to him to provide funds for his musical training and today he is honored and esteemed by his classmates and all who know him.

First Baptist Church

Cor. Second and Eddings Sts.
C. H. Warren, Pastor.

"The field is white unto harvest."

Sunday—9:30 a. m., Sunday school, J. S. Willingham, general superintendent.

10:50 a. m. Sermon and worship.

6:30 p. m., All B. Y. P. U's.

7:45 p. m. Sermon.

In addition to the above announcements there are services every morning at ten o'clock, and 7:45 in the evening, a series of evangelistic services, and the public is cordially, and urged, to join us in this campaign against sin. Dr. W. H. Horton, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Mayfield, Ky., is doing the preaching, and if you are not hearing him you are missing a rare treat. He is a forcible speaker, and great crowds are thronging to hear him at every service. The song service is being led by Rev. C. H. Warren, and this is a great inspirational feature of the services. Come and worship with us.

Do not fail to be in your place in Sunday school next Sunday morning. Our Sunday school is increasing in attendance, and if you are enrolled in some Sunday school, there is a class for you in our school regardless of age. We have classes for all ages, and a hearty welcome awaits you.

The B. Y. P. U. Convention convenes with the First Baptist Church in Paducah this week end, and a large number of our people will attend a part of the services. These are great, inspirational conventions and mean much to our B. Y. P. U. work throughout the State.

THE COUNTRY IN SPRING

A jaunt into the country at this season is well worth while. What is more restful to weary city dwellers than to gaze upon the rural scenes round about Fulton?

There are the cows standing in the flowing brook, if they are not eating the tender grass. The leaves are covering the trees with their pretty foliage. The ground is fairly teeming with life. The dogwood and redbud are in full bloom. Everywhere one turns, a scene that is good for the soul meets one's gaze; everywhere one turns, a scene is pictured that is good for "sore eyes"—the eyes that are tired and are seeking rest and need just such a change.

Try a trip to the country and commune with nature.

CLINTON MAN DIES IN ST. LOUIS HOSPITAL

W. B. Williams, 55, uncle of L. L. Lamkin, died at the Barnes hospital in St. Louis, following a operation. He is survived by his widow and two sons, Egbert and Edward. A brother, J. D. Williams, is a former cashier of the Bank of Clinton, and two sisters, Mrs. T. P. Berry, Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. W. D. Ward, Clinton, also survive. Funeral services were held at Clinton, his former home, Tuesday afternoon.

By J. T. Watkins

Well, the fair association directors are going to hold a meeting next Saturday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce rooms to make arrangements for the coming fair, and I guess we will know soon after that if we are to have a show or not. They will decide if they want to build us a suitable house or not. They will decide if they want to go forward or retreat. Anyhow we will wait and see what they do for the chicken people.

National egg weeks will be observed this year from May 1, to May 7, inclusive, during this week the people of the United States are supposed to eat all the eggs they can. There have been many different ways of the chefs and dieticians in preparing eggs doped out by that everybody can eat eggs all week and not get tired of them.

This is sure baby chick weather, good warm sunshine. Nature's ready made cod liver oil. Any person who has a hundred or so baby chicks scratching around in the yard at this time are lucky. I am only half lucky for I have about fifty.

A few good pointers on feeding baby chicks right here won't do any damage. Don't feed them anything until they are seventy-two hours old. Nature has provided for that. Don't feed any sloppy, sour mixtures unless you want a high mortality. One of the worst feeds in the world for young chicks is raw cornmeal, dampened and fed as a kind of a mush. Start them off on a good starting mash, of which there are several brands sold in Fulton, feed this mash dry in troughs, for about four or five days, then add several times each day as much rolled oats as they will clean up in about ten minutes, give them all the clean water they can drink and I don't think you will have any trouble with your chicks.

Not all chickens lost, die, nor are they stolen, and this will be vouched for by Mrs. Peoples who lives across from the Bowers school in Tennessee. The other night, hearing a noise out in the yard, Mr. Peoples went out to investigate. He was really looking for some one who was stealing chickens, but he kept his flashlight too high. The dirty rascal killed 150 month old Reds, left them piled up in the brooder with their throats cut.

Well, I guess I will let this hold you until next week and if everything comes out all right, I will have some good news for you. I will then begin putting out the dope for the show.

CAYCE SCHOOL NEWS

We were very proud to know that our contestants, LaNette Nelson and Kenneth Oliver, won the loving cups in the Declaration and Oratorical contest held at Sylvan Shade on March 15. They also entered the contest at Murray on March 22. Although they were defeated this time, we are looking forward to winning next year.

The grammar grades sponsored by Miss Ruth Wade, will present their operetta, "Sunny from Sunnyside," at the school auditorium, on Friday afternoon, April 12.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Dr. H. E. Waters, of Union University on May 5, at the Methodist church.

The high school operetta, "The Belle of Barcelona," and the Senior play, "Backbone," are being prepared. They will be given during commencement week.

After careful consideration and study of the Senior grades, Marye Jeffress was declared the valedictorian with Fred Bonduant as salutatorian.

Mr. Miller, the sheep specialist, from Lexington, visited the school last Wednesday and gave an interesting talk on sheep and his trip around the world.

The members of the Bible Study including both boys and girls, took their examination last Thursday.

Mr. McPherson visited the school last Tuesday and made an interesting talk on shop and rope work.

The ladies of the Homemakers' club entertained with a short play, "How the Story Grew," Friday afternoon, immediately following the Literary Society program.

Leroy Bransford, the champion speller of Fulton county, will enter the spelling contest at Louisville on April 17.

All the members of the Junior Homemakers' Club will meet here April 30, to judge the work that has been completed in this unit. The one elected with the best work will be given a trip to Lexington.

The baseball team has the diamond in good condition and has begun practicing. The team is planning on winning many games this season.

BEELERTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On last Friday night, April 5, the seniors of Fulham presented in our auditorium, a play, entitled "An Old Fashioned Mother." This was a good play and we are sorry there were no more present, for they surely missed a lot.

"In the Garden of the Shay," the musical comedy, was given in the Fulham auditorium on last Saturday night. This was a great success and $15.00 was added to our school funds.

The two hogs which the school has been feeding and caring for in the last two months has been sold. The entire cost of buying and feeding these hogs was $20.85 and we cleared $15.12. This proved to us that we could feed hogs high priced feed and yet make a profit.

The senior play which is given annually, will be presented in our auditorium Saturday night, April 13. "Deacon Dubbs" concerns itself with the laughable adventures of the deacon in the village and city. Country songs, country dances and plenty of action characterize the adventures of "Deacon Dubbs."

In addition to this play, the Bardwell high school chorus will be here to furnish some real music between acts.

Be sure and come Saturday night for you will get two good programs at the cost of one.

Don't forget the date—Saturday night, April 13.

MISS COSTELLO STARS IN "REDEEMING SIN," PARISIAN ROMANCE

At Orpheum Tuesday and Wednesday, April 16-17

What are said to be the most convincingly real Parisian scenes ever produced in an American motion picture studio are shown in Dolores Costello's latest Warner Bros. special production, "The Redeeming Sin."

Though settings and atmosphere reproduce so exactly the underworld of the French capital, all of the scenes were made at the Warner Bros. studio in Hollywood. The story is laid in the apache district, and embraces a multitude of types which are essentially parisian.

Miss Costello plays the role of a fiery apache dancing girl—singer in an underworld cafe—and in this colorful part she gives the most alluring portrayal of her entire career.

Conrad Nagel is seen as her lover, and thus the popular team is perpetuated for the enjoyment of the theatregoers everywhere.

PLANTING WITH PRIDE

Fulton is regarded as one of the most beautiful cities to be found any place. The well kept lawns, the artist shrubbery, and most essential of all, the beautiful shade trees, all add to her beauty.

We have these things to which we point with justifiable pride because somebody, many years ago, had the idea that in order to make a community attractive, it should appeal to the eye. So our forefathers were thoughtful enough to plant trees along the main streets.

Their sons and daughters, imbued with the same idea, have continued to take pride in their homes and the outside surroundings. They have planted shrubbery, rose bushes and a profusion of other plants which make this place distinctive—in a class by itself.

The responsibility rests with those who are now at the helm to carry on. They should never lose sight of the fact that unless some thought is given to the beauty of the premises surrounding their homes, the work of those who have gone before will have been in vain.

Springtime is planting time. Now is the time to keep up the cultivation of that beauty which we all enjoy in the decline of life. Old ages comes to all of us, but it can be made more attractive by the exercise of forethought and the expenditure of a little energy while we are still enjoying the heritage of a comparative youth.

THE COUNTY AGENT

"Three more Kentucky counties recently employed a county agricultural agent for the first time," notes the "Oldham Era." "We are unable to state how many counties are now without an agent but we are pleased to learn that the number is gradually decreasing. This is good evidence of the fact that Kentucky farmers are rapidly realizing the value of a trained man to advise them on matters concerning their business."

"Oldham county was one of the pioneers in this work. The first agent, Mr. Taylor, was employed about 1915 or 1916. He was succeeded by Mr. Lowry and he by Messrs. McCarty, Nance, Lickert and Howell, all of whom have been splendid men and eminently qualified to conduct their work. Opposition to the agricultural agent has developed at times from unprogressive farmers and citizens but the influence of the Farm Bureau, the progressive farmers and citizens has always been such that the agent has been retained from year to year. At this time little opposition to the employment of the official is heard, for the experience of the years has shown that the investment is one of the best that an agricultural county, as Oldham is, can make."

"It is due to the work of the county agent that Oldham county ranks so high from an agricultural standpoint. While it lacks many things yet, it is working toward a goal which the fiscal court of this county saw many years ago and which has not yet been visioned by some of the counties of the state. By being able to help the farmers help themselves by use of the best methods in modern agricultural science, the agent has rendered and is rendering an inestimable service not only to the county in which he works but to the state at large."

Among the County Agents.

100 Allen county farmers will sow alfalfa, sweet clover or lespedeza for the first time this year. The soybean acreage will be three times that of last year.

19 high-grade Jersey heifers have been distributed to junior 4-H club members in Union county at a cost of $65 each. 16 beef calves have been placed among club members.

Nearly every Pulaski county farmer who secured limestone from the state crusher that operated in the county last fall sowed sweet clover this spring. Dealers report the sale of 10 times as much seed as in any previous year.

The Louisa Rotary Club and American Legion are sponsoring the establishment of a permanent 4-H club camp in Lawrence county.

Members of the Owen County Golden Hoof Club are feeding many lambs grain in creeps, preparing them for the early market.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Covington gave a banquet to 25 outstanding junior 4-H club boys and girls and leaders.

COMFORT FOR GOD'S PEOPLE

LESSON TEXT—L. 404-411.
GOLDEN TEXT—As one whom his mother comforteth, so will I comfort you.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Love for His People.

JESUS CHRIST—God's Love for His People. He came to comfort and to give life to the world. He is the source of our comfort.

I. God's Message of Comfort (vs. 1, 2).

1. It was addressed to Isaiah and his successors in office (vs. 1).

He, as God's spokesman, was to make known the very heart of God to the people who were in great need of comfort. They were in a strange land, in captivity because of their sins. In spite of their apostasy from God, the breaking of their covenant with Him—His favor was about to return.

2. The natural relation of God and His people (vs. 1).

This is expressed in the phrases "my people" and "gentle God." The latter belongs to God, and God belongs to him. How blessed it is to be thus related to Him. Observe, this was said concerning a people who had sinned and blasphemed.

II. The Preparation Required (vs. 3, 4).

In order to secure the satisfaction which was to be theirs through the vicarious offering of Jehovah, it was necessary that certain preparation should be made. Observe:

1. The Voice in the Wilderness (vs. 3).

This voice was that of John the Baptist, and actually was heard at the time of the coming of Jesus Christ (Matt. 3:1-12).

2. Prepare to the way of the Lord (vs. 3). It was the custom on state occasions for some one to go in advance of the king or ruler and make preparation for his coming. This preparation consisted of the actual demolition of hills, the elevation of valleys and the straightening of crooked places so that the monarch could move forward with ease and facility. In its moral bearing, the meaning is that preparation for the coming of the Lord into the hearts and lives of the people consists of the subduing of pride and selfish ambition, and the straightening of the crooked and perverse things of this life.

3. The glory of the Lord revealed (vs. 4).

When there is proper preparation of heart, the Lord will enter and His glory will be revealed in the life. It primarily refers to the manifestation of the divine glory in the person of the Messiah.

III. The Frailty of Man in Contrast With God's Word (vs. 6, 8).

"All flesh is grass and all the goodliness thereof is as the flower of the field. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, because the Spirit of the Lord bloweth upon it. Surely the people are grass. The grass withereth, the flower fadeth, but the word of our God shall stand forever." Just as the blast of the hot wind scorcheth the grass and destroys the crops, so everything loved and prized by the natural man will wither and die under the blast of God's judgment, but His Word shall stand forever. The Word of God abides from age to age with perennial freshness. God's promise of ultimate triumph should steady us because no matter through what stress and strain we may be called to pass, when the Lord comes there will be victory.

IV. The Lord God Coming to Zion (vs. 9, 11).

1. Behold Your God (vs. 9). When He comes to Zion there will be no need of fear. This blessed truth can be proclaimed abroad to the cities of Judah.

2. The Lord God will come with a strong hand (vs. 10).

The hope of the world is in the coming of Jesus Christ in power and great glory to establish His blessed rule over the earth. Righteousness and peace can come only with the Messianic rule.

3. He shall feed His flock like a shepherd (vs. 11).

The Good Shepherd will search out and provide for His own.

Always Content

We shall be made truly wise if we be made content; content, too, not only with what we understand, but content with what we do not understand—the habit of mind which theologians call, and rightly, faith in God.—Charles Kingsley.

That We May Read Aright

God sometimes withdraws the eyes of his children with tears in order that they may read aright His providences and His commandments.—T. L. Cuyler

FOOD LIKE YOU GET AT HOME

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat.

Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals.

The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.

CALENDAR SOCIAL GREAT SUCCESS

Mrs. R. P. Witty, Misses Margaret Butts and Julia Frances Boulders.

Another pretty table which attracted quite a bit of attention was the May table presided over by Mrs. J. H. Roberson and Misses Dorothy Granberry and Elizabeth Etheridge. The centerpiece was a unique May pole from which suspended ribbons to which eight little children dressed in beautiful colors, caught and danced around the Maypole, each holding tiny May baskets filled with flowers while great branches of tiny white blossoms spread shadows over the Maypole. The children were Phyllis Kramer, Margaret Stevens, Marglin Harpole, Martha Ellen and Nell Genung, Mary Mozell Crafton, Ellen Jane Purcell, Jimmie Day. Pink and white candles added much to the beauty of this table.

June always suggests June brides and the center piece of this table was a beautiful bride's cake. The bride and groom were there too, and around them pink and white confetti had been showered. Also on the table was a large cut glass vase filled with lovely pink roses. Mesdames W. F. Boyd and L. H. Read were hostesses and were assisted by Misses Kellena Cole and Martha Kendall.

Mesdames Lon Jones and Ernest Bell presided over the patriotic table which represented the month of July. The centerpiece was a lovely cut glass punch bowl filled with red lemonade, around which toy cavalrymen rode on their high-spirited steeds carrying the colors. From the ceiling floated the flag of our country also streamers of red, white and blue and scarlet candles added much to the attractiveness of this table. Misses Luella Wood, Maudelle Jones, Ruth Nall and Mrs. Sebra Evans assisted at this table.

The August table brought a host of admirers, too. The centerpiece was a large watermelon with two colored boys looking wistfully on. This table was presided over by Mesdames J. A. Farabough and Mrs. Dick Bard, their helpers being Misses Dorothy Farabough, Ruby Matheny and Margaret Stevens.

September, the early fall month, showed the first touch of Autumn. This being the month of the opening of school the centerpiece was a miniature school building with "Fulton High School" on it. Also the high school colors, blue and white, were used which added much to the attractiveness of the table. Mesdames Abe Caudell and J. B. Covington were assisted by Misses Marie and Ruth Caudell.

The October table was presided over by Mrs. Will McDade and Miss Katherine Williamson. This table was suggestive of Halloween, the color scheme being black and yellow. A large cake plate filled with delicious ginger bread former the centerpiece. Around the table black cats, bats and witches were seen. This is a table the girls and boys so much enjoy and never forget. Pretty odd shaped lanterns were suspended from the ceiling. Mrs. Noble Butterworth, Elizabeth Williamson, Carl Williamson and Thomas Green Exum assisted in entertaining this table.

November—the last month of autumn when the fruits and vegetables are ripened and stored away, so the centerpiece of this table contained a pretty fruit dish of choice fruits; yellow candles placed either end. His Majesty, the turkey, reminder of Thanksgiving, which occurs in this month, was in evidence on the table, and a pretty cake added very much to its attractiveness. Mesdames Earl Boone and T. M. Exum presided at this table with Misses Helen Rucker, Marjory Griffin and Little Ellen Jane Purcell, as assistants.

December was last, but who can ever forget this wintery month in which so much happiness abounds. The table portrayed a beautiful winter scene, the Christmas idea being carried out, and was very attractive. A beautiful miniature Christmas tree former the centerpiece. Santa Claus stood at either end, red and green festoonings were draped around the table and snow was also in heaps on the table. Little Christmas packages with seals which had on them "Merry Christmas," added to the beauty of the table.

Mesdames W. L. Joyner and Purcell were hostesses, assisted by Misses Jane McAdam, Lucille Green, Elizabeth Witty, Eron Brock and William McDade.

Miss Martha Norman Lowe rendered beautiful music selections during the social hour.

The Calendar Party was a success and the success was due to the united effort of all the ladies and cooperation of their friends.

We understand this is to be an annual affair.

An interesting program of music and readings which was appropriate for each month in the year was rendered during the evening.

Joe D. Davis was Master of Ceremonies.

HOLLAND-READ

A wedding of much interest took place Thursday evening, April 11, at 8 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Read, when their daughter, Ann Flournoy, became the bride of Mr. William Laurence Holland, in the presence of only a few friends and relatives.

For the occasion the home was beautifully decorated. The living room was banked with ferns and bridal wreaths, with white tapers burning on either side, before which the ceremony was impressively said by the Rev. H. B. Vaughn, of the First Methodist church.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Ivora Cantrell sweetly sang, "At Dawning," by Cadman, and "O Promise Me," by DeKoven, accompanied by Miss Hattie Mae Godfrey. Little Miss Bess Shaw and Master Thomas Mann of Brownsville, Tenn., entered to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, drawing white satin ribbons, which formed an aisle down which came little Miss Ann Davis, ring bearer, followed by the bride and groom.

The bride was beautifully attired in an ensemble suit of pandora green and cordova tan with accessories to harmonize and carried an arm corsage of sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley.

After the ceremony the guests followed the bride and groom into the dining room, where the tables were laid with a beautiful Italian cut-work cloth, the center piece being a large wedding cake decorated in pink, green and white, which was cut by the bride and served to the guests with brick cream and pink rose mints.

The bride and groom left for a short wedding trip, returning the first of the week, after which they will be at home with the bride's parents, on Jefferson street.

FULTON FLOOD AID MONEY APPORTIONED

Hickman, Ky., April 15.—Judge W. L. Hampton, county judge, and Magistrates Hagler, Henry, Fields and Bradshaw, who form the members of the Fulton county fiscal court, had a special meeting to decide on places over the county where the flood relief money, voted by the federal and state governments, is to be used and it was decided to spend the money as follows:

Upper bottom bridges, $2,500; the Crutchfield road, $2,500; Picture Show road, $2,500; Dyersburg road, $2,500; Dresden road, $4,800; McMurry and Seymour Lane roads, $3,000. They stated that this allotment may not be final but it has been officially recorded on the books. This makes $17,800 to be spent in this county.

The fiscal court also decided to go in a body to Paducah as soon as possible to confer with Highway Commissioner Con W. Craig in regard to the county roads.

REFUSED AUTO, BOY KILLS SELF

Houston Campbell, 21, Found Shot to Death After Parents' Refusal

Clinton, Ky., April 15.—Because his father would not buy him a new automobile, it is supposed that Houston Campbell, 21, son of Jim Campbell, a farmer residing near Fulham in Hickman county, killed himself late Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A verdict rendered by the coroner stated that Campbell came to his death by suicide.

Campbell was despondent because his father did not buy him a new car. When he told his parents Sunday morning that he intended killing himself, they did not believe him, thinking that he was merely in an angry mood. He did not go home Sunday night, and a search was started this morning, which resulted in the finding of his body this afternoon with two bullet wounds in it. Neighbors report having heard several shots about three o'clock Sunday afternoon in the direction of the Olam creek bottom where the body was discovered, and it is thought that these were the ones which caused the death of young Campbell.

An inquest was held this afternoon by Magistrate W. T. Whitlock with the verdict of suicide returned. Funeral services will be held Wednesday morning.

CRAIG QUIZZED BY GRAND JURY

Paducah Member of Highway Commission Heard at Capital Monday

Frankfort, Ky., April 15.—Opening its second week of questioning, officials of the state highway commission, the Franklin county grand jury today called before it, Con Craig, a member of the commission, and Mrs. Schofield, secretary. Mr. Craig appeared before the jury in the forenoon, and Mrs. Schofield was questioned in the afternoon.

E. S. Helburn and W. C. Hanna, who also have been summoned to appear before the jury, will complete the roster of the highway commission. Ben Johnson, chairman, was quizzed last week for a total of more than 12 hours. During the questioning, he carried with him into the jury room a brief case containing records of the highway department.

H. Green Garrett, Lexington, former chairman of the commission under the Morrow administration, also testified last week.

What the questioning will terminate in is hard to foretell at this time.

BELOVED WOMAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Mrs. Lizzie Ray passed away Tuesday morning at 4:30 o'clock at her home on east State street, at the age of eighty years. The funeral service was held Wednesday in the Primitive Baptist church in this city, conducted by Rev. Bunn Ross, of Martin, and burial took place in Mayfield, in charge of the Winstead-Jones Undertaking company.

The deceased is survived by one son, Edgar Boaz, with whom she made her home, three grandchildren, Alpheus Boaz, of Paducah; Mrs. Louanna Gipson, Paducah; and Jim Harvey Boaz, of Fulton. She also leaves one nephew, Walter Reynolds, of Mayfield, four nieces, Mrs. Albert Fernstrom, Martin, Tenn.; Mrs. Laura Crockett, Sharon, Tenn.; Mrs. Minnie Cross, Memphis, Tenn.; and Mrs. Jennie Williams, of Jackson, Tenn., besides many friends.

This good woman had lived a long and busy life and while her suffering was severe at times she never lost faith in her Master. She was a good woman and lived a consecrated Christian life. She was loved by a wide circle of friends who deeply sympathize with the bereaved.

FOOD FOR PESSIMISTS

Actual count must show that the number of lemon squeezers and squeezers of sweet daisies is only exceeded by the number of those whose sour lives are consecrated to squeezing the joy out of life.

Now the piping hot cup that cheers but violates neither commandment nor amendment is under fire. A physiologist warns the past warning and over-warned public that hot coffee, tea, soup or other liquids are injurious to the stomach. Verily, Schopenhauer would have been prophetic if man surrendered his steaming soup on a cold day, his hot cup of coffee at breakfast, and his tea or coffee at dinner. What a lukewarm existence this is becoming with the physiologists blowing both hot and cold, condemning iced drinks in summer and hot ones in winter.

Formerly one of the advantages of growing up was that there would be nobody to tell you that which tasted good wasn't good for you and that which wasn't good to the taste, was good for you. Now doctors and professors are robbing adulthood of even this blessing.

BEELERTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

On last Friday afternoon at the biology period the students and Mr. Crisp, their biology instructor, went on a field trip, for a study and view of the different kinds of birds, insects and plants. This class has completed their fourth project, which was a collection of specimen of wood. Jency Bostick a sophomore, had the higher number of wood specimens, which was one hundred and thirty. Agnes Pharis, a freshman, had the best all around chart. This chart was arranged in the form of a tree, Hazel Latta, also a freshman, had the second best.

Each members of the general science class made a Martin box for the school last year. They were taken down last fall, but they have been put up this year and we are very proud to see so many of our Martin friends back with us.

The senior play, "Deacon Dubbs," which was given in this auditorium last Saturday night, met with the greatest success of any program rendered at this school this year. $31.25 was taken in at the door.

OLD FULTON CITIZEN DIES IN NASHVILLE

Friday, April 12, the remains of Mrs. Sue Freeman were brought to Fulton from the Masonic home in Nashville and buried in Fairview cemetery. A short and appropriate service, conducted by Rev. H. B. Vaught, pastor of the First Methodist church, was held in the cemetery.

Mrs. Freeman, nee Miss Sue McFadden, was born and reared in the old McFadden home, several miles west of town. When quite young she was married to Dr. John Freeman, a prominent physician of the flourishing little city of Duke, Tenn. After his death she was married to Mr. Holmes Hopkins, deceased. Mr. Hopkins lived only a few years after the marriage, and his widow was later married to Mr. John Freeman of this city. Mr. Freeman was the father of Ben Freeman, leading lawyer and at one time mayor of this city. The greater part of Mrs.

Freeman's life was spent in Fulton, and many old friends regretted to hear of her passing. She was one of nature's gentlewomen, cultured, refined and a true Christian character. Although she never had any children of her own, a number of orphan children could call her blessed. She mothered them and tried to instill into their minds the same high ideals which were the moving spirit of her everyday life.

Mrs. Freeman had almost reached the century mark, having recently passed her 98th birthday. Although nearly thirty years had slipped by since she was three score and ten, her friends marveled at her wonderful physical and mental vitality.

Friday, when they left her body in Fairview, our beautiful God's Acre, all who attended the service felt that heaven was enriched because of her going.

Mrs. Charley Fields of this city is a niece, and Mr. John R. McGhee, of north of town, is a nephew of the deceased.

JUST LIKE HOME FOOD

Smith's Cafe is in reality a home-like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can't serve food like you get at home.

Scores of patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they eat here so regularly.

Years spent in catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve wholesome, tasty meals.

The next time you feel like eating away from home, bring your family here.

OUR MESSAGE OF SERVICE

There is going to be a lot of activity in the building line this year. Architects and contractors, carpenters and masons all, are busily sharpening up their pencils and their tools, and getting set for business. It is not the young married folks alone who are going to build homes—who dream dreams of happiness in homes of their own—but many others who have long, too long, been renting the roofs over their heads are going to try this year to realize their desire to have a home of their own.

Whatever you plan to do by way of
BUILDING — REMODELING
REPAIRING

we want you to feel perfectly free to come in and consult our service department without the slightest obligation. Whether it's a big house or a bungalow, a new garage, new roof or new floor, a sun parlor or a sleeping porch, an alley fence, or built-in fixtures—we are prepared to give you unequalled service and low prices on Quality Material.

LET US HELP YOU MAKE YOUR DREAMS COME TRUE.

GROWING FEED FOR DAIRY COWS

By H. A. McPherson, County Agent.

The success of the dairy industry in Fulton County is not going to depend on the number of cows, kind or how many good bulls we get, but it is going to depend on the amount of feed produced to feed the cows. Good bulls and cows are absolutely essential for production, but without good pastures and plenty of home grown feed, it is next to impossible to make dairy farming pay.

Every farmer in the county who expects to milk cows should plan now on growing all the legume hay and corn that the cows will consume. It will take at least two tons of good legume hay for each cow, and if you are not producing alfalfa or red clover, you should plant at least two acres of soy beans for each cow. Each cow can use from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds of corn per year. With the above feed grown on the farm, the cow can be fed at a reasonable cost. It will take from $70.00 to $90.00 to feed a dairy cow what she should have during a year. The legume hay and corn that is grown can be deducted from this amount, which means that you would have to purchase some concentrates to make a balanced ration. A good home mixed balanced ration that is being fed with splendid results in some sections is 500 pounds of corn cob meal, 100 pounds bran, 100 pounds cotton seed meal, which will cost a little better than $2.00 per 100 pounds at the present price of feeds. The amount of feed per cow per day will depend on the amount of milk she gives, 15 pounds to 20 pounds, 3 pounds of grain, 20 pounds to 25 pounds of milk, 4 pounds of grain, 25 pounds to 30 pounds of milk, 5 1/2 pounds of grain, 30 pounds to 40 pounds of milk, 8 pounds of grain.

Our dairy farmers must grow better pastures for their cattle if they wish to make a profit from their cows. Too many pastures are rendered worthless from the result of turning in cattle before the grass gets started. We need more good legume pastures and with the present price of limestone, every farmer milking cows should prepare an acre of pasture for each cow. Both grass and legume pastures can be made at least 25 per cent better by using from 400 pounds to 600 pounds of basic slag or acid phosphate per acre broadcast.

If a farmer is milking as many as an average of 12 cows he should by all means, have a silo. It will enable him to feed his cows at a cheaper cost. Every dairy section has silos, and the farmers are ready to tell you that they could not do profitable dairying without them.

Now is the time to make your plans for a successful year.

THE MAY QUEEN'S FEAST

*"You must wake and call me early, call me early,
Mother dear;*

To-morrow'll be the happiest time of all the glad New Year,—

Of all the glad New Year, mother the maddest, merriest day.

For I'm to be Queen o' the May, mother, I'm to be Queen of the May."

CAN'T you see her in her little starched, frilly frock, a garland of flowers on her dainty head and her clear eyes shining with delight?
She'll hold court over all the little boys, and preside with great dignity from her improvised throne.

But it isn't she who is "Queen o' the May." Her Temporary Majesty is very apt to forget her queenly dignity and scamper rapidly across the lawn in pursuit of her tanger. And when she comes in breathless, her cheeks rosy and blooming, from a succession of such games, Her Majesty will certainly be in need of sustaining food. Here, then, is a menu to meet the occasion which will appeal to the Queen of the
May and all her court.

Custard Jelly
Asparagus Salad with Cheese Carrots
Water-Cress Sandwiches
Junket Ice Cream with Red Raspberries
Sugar Cookies Milk
Hard Candies

How to Make Them

Of course the sugar cookies, hard candies and currant jelly come in cans which keep them fresh until they're needed, and the first course consists of just an appetizer of a circle of strawberries with their stems on around a tiny cone of powdered sugar, but you'll want to know how to prepare the rest of the dishes for this wholesome May Queen meal for children. So here goes.

Cream of Tomato and Liver Soup: Make a white sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour and one quart of milk. Simmer the contents of a number 2 can of tomatoes with a slice of onion for fifteen minutes, then press through a sieve. Add very slowly to the hot white sauce. Add one cup of finely chopped cooked liver, season with salt and pepper, and keep hot in a double boiler, but do not boil after combining. This recipe is supposed to make enough to serve eight, but remember that the children have been running and playing tag.

The Main Dishes

Creamed Chicken and Peas: Make a white sauce of four tablespoons butter, four tablespoons flour, two cups of rich milk and the liquor from an eleven-ounce can of peas.
Add a teaspoon of salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Then add the contents of a twelve-ounce can of boneless chicken, cut in small pieces, the peas and one teaspoon of lemon juice, heat in a double boiler and serve on tiny split baking powder biscuits. This recipe, too, is reputed to serve eight people.

Asparagus Salad with Cheese Carrots: Drain and chill one sixteen ounce can of asparagus tips, and arrange in nests of shredded lettuce.
Pour over them French Dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar and to which some finely minced pimiento has been added.
Shape pimiento cheese (one jar of the soft kind) into tiny carrots, dust with paprika and insert a sprig of parsley for the carrot top. Use one or two as a garnish on each serving of salad. This recipe serves eight.

Then the Sweets

And now that the children have been still for a few minutes while they are eating, and have cooled off to some extent, you can give them their ice cream and cookies and hard candies as the final treat.

Junket Ice Cream with Red Raspberries: Scald together one quart of fresh milk, one cup of evaporated milk and three-fourths cup sugar, and then cool to lukewarm. Add one tablespoon vanilla. Crush one and one-half junket tablets and dissolve in two tablespoons of cold water. Add to the lukewarm mixture in the ice cream can and let stand until firm. Then freeze like any other ice cream. Scatter a few spoonfuls from a can of red raspberries over each portion and top with marshmallow cream. They say that this will serve eight, but have you ever noticed hungry children eating ice cream?

The U. S. A. is only a few minutes wide

THE Bell System is ever busy reducing the width of America and the distance between cities. For example, in the last five years 350 major improvements, as well as thousands of others whose aggregate importance mounts high, have been made in telephone central office equipment.

Improved operating practices have eliminated the necessity of your "hanging up" and being called back in 95 per cent of out-of-town calls, adding new speed and ease to your long distance service. You hold the wire and the operator does the rest.

Since New Year's Day, 1927, the average time for completing all out-of-town calls has been cut 35 per cent and at the same time the per cent of error has been further materially reduced.

There is no standing still in the Bell System. Better and better telephone service at the lowest cost is the goal. Present improvements constantly going into effect are but the foundation for the future's greater service.

Community Spirit

After all, the desire for happiness in this world is the primary object in life of the average man. To attain this condition of happiness man makes the world a better place to live in or obtain his happiness in, and unless humanity as a whole works together in improving the world the individual members of society fail to find happiness in life. The community is the world in miniature so, like the world, it depends upon the cooperation of all its citizens to make it a better and happier residence for the individual.

There is nothing in the way of community improvement that cannot be accomplished by a proper application of community spirit. Community spirit is merely the uniting and prodding into activity of the desire of individual citizens for a better city. Petty differences of opinion, prejudices, selfish interests and other barriers to a united community must be overcome by individual citizens before the community can prosper much. It is only when every citizen becomes proud of the home town and puts his shoulder to the wheel of community improvement that the hopes and ambitions for the future of the city take substantial form. By working together for community betterment the people work for the advancement of their individual selves.

The Touch of Nature

One touch of nature makes the whole world kin and one touch of discomfort or mishap makes a whole crowd jovial and friendly. The psychology is same in both instances. When responsive chords are touched they vibrate in unison. The touch of nature as a kinship maker is well established, and the effectiveness of discomfort as a maker of jovial friendship can be observed at almost any time and place.

A sudden downpour that sends the crowds scurrying to cover makes for pleasant exchanges that would not be thought of by the same individuals under ordinary conditions. A jam in a street car in the city breaks down barriers that formality would raise. A mishap rouses austere staidness and cold aloofness and brings onlooker together in common interest.

In such breakdown of barriers the sense of humor asserts itself. Men and women laugh with each other at their discomfort. This is a saving grace to a saving response to discomfort, that cynics might hold would logically lead in the other direction.

Egg Week Important to Kentucky Farmers

National Egg Week, which will be observed throughout the United States May 1-7, will call the attention of many people to the importance of the poultry industry, says Prof. J. L. Holmes Martin, of the University of Kentucky Experiment Station, and Kentucky chairman of the week.

Poultry affords Kentucky farmers an important source of income. The value of poultry and eggs produced in the state increased from twenty-six million dollars in 1920 to thirty million dollars last year. The celebration of National Egg Week will emphasize the food value of eggs and thus stimulate consumption of one of Kentucky's important agricultural products, doing their job.

More Than 1,000 Cars Cross New Bridge Sunday at Paducah

Formal Opening to be Held on May 8th—Elaborate Program Has Been Arranged for Presentation on That Day.

Thousands of Paducah and residents of the surrounding countries of western Kentucky, southern Illinois and Tennessee who have been wondering for months just what the new $2,000,000 highway bridge across the Ohio river between Paducah and Brookport would look like when it was finished and what sort of sensation the passage across the bridge in vehicles or on foot would produce, satisfied their curiosity Sunday and Monday. It was estimated that from 1,000 to 1,200 automobiles passed over the bridge Sunday, the day of the informal opening of the bridge to traffic. Each automobile which crossed the bridge was occupied with two to five or six passengers, and two buses of the Kentucky Utilities company, which operated on a regular schedule from Paducah across the bridge to Brookport all day Sunday, were loaded on the majority of the trips.

Those who decided that the new structure will pass muster took into consideration the incomplete state of several of its features, including the approach lighting system and the road to the bridge. The fact that the weather was not exactly the kind which encourages motoring and that it was necessary to follow a detour route before the bridge could be reached from Paducah probably caused a large number of those who would have otherwise turned their steps and guided their automobiles toward the bridge, to remain at home or proceed in some other direction. Nevertheless there was a steady movement of cars across the structure between the Kentucky and Illinois shores.

MARION DAVIES AND WILLIAM HAINES

Stars of Film World
Add Zest to Comedy

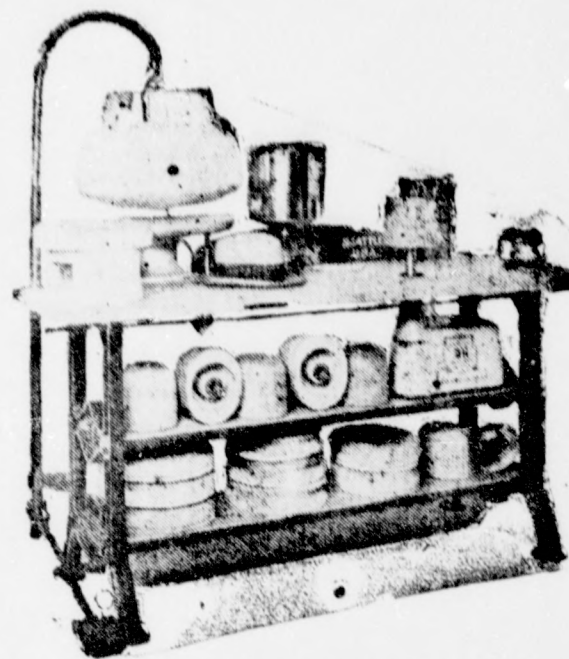

Marion Davies and William Haines in Roles of Actress and Comedian, Co-stars in Year's Laughing Hit

"Show People," a film of life in the movies, made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, which opens at the Grand Theatre Monday, has one scene in which Marion Davies and William Haines, co-stars of the piece, are helped out by William S. Hart, Douglas Fairbanks, Norma Talmadge, John Gilbert, Mae Murray, Rod La Rocque, Renee Adoree, Leatrice Joy, George K. Arthur, Karl Dane, Aileen Pringle, Claire Windsor, Estelle Taylor, Dorothy Sebastian and Polly Moran.

There's another sequence in which Charlie Chaplin does his bit in making realistic this peep into the inner circles of cinemaland. Lew Cody and Elinor Glyn also are among the atmosphere players.

In her role as an actress in the movie Miss Davies watches her real self and John Gilbert arrive at the studio for work. King Vidor, who directed, also is shown directing a film within a film. Why other well-known players were not included in the crowd scenes, has not been stated officially. It may be because they didn't need the extra's daily come. The value of poultry and eggs produced in the state increased from twenty-six million their labors.

All the stars named were perfectly willing to give their services for friendship's sake, but there was some rule governing actors' pay that made it necessary for them to take their wages for important agricultural products, doing their job.
