LOST?

I lost my dog, named Fido, about 1 month ago. He is a small, white and brown terrier. He was last seen on Main Street, near the old post office. If anyone has seen him, please contact the lost and found department at the police station. I will be very grateful for any information you can provide.

Well, the fair assurance of a nice, big stuff to hold up next Saturday night and a lot of good work.
I know that in my corner there are eight other friends for the coming test, and I guess we will know soon either that it was a lot of shock or not. They will decide that they want to build something with these things and we will have to play for the execution.
We will all be on time, and we will not let you down.

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, righteousness and independence. You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them admire their savings.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds.

This starts in the right direction, but a simple step. Bring children to the bank when you want them to school.

THE MAY QUEEN'S FEAST
"You must wake and call me early, call me early, Mother dear; Tomorrow'll be the happiest time of all the glad New Year, Of all the glad New Year, mother, I'm to be Queen of the May;"

The may queen, with all the draperies and the bright garments, the gay colors and the decorations of the season about her, was the talk of the town. The girls were all excited and eager to see who would be the Queen of the May. The May Queen's Feast was a time of joy and celebration, where the community came together to honor the May Queen and enjoy the essence of spring.

In the heart of Fulton, Kentucky, the May Queen's Feast was marked by the bright colors of du Pont paints. Each home, adorned with colorful schemes, celebrated the transition from winter to spring. The May Queen herself, dressed in vibrant hues, was a symbol of the season's renewal.

The May Queen's Feast was not just a moment of glory for the Queen, but also a festive occasion for everyone in attendance. The celebration lasted throughout the day, with music, dancing, and games that brought the community together.

As the day drew to a close, the May Queen was crowned, and the festivities continued into the night, with a grand fireworks display that lit up the sky, marking the end of the May Queen's Feast and the beginning of a new season.

The May Queen's Feast was a unique celebration of spring, a time when Fulton, Kentucky, came alive with the colors of du Pont paints, and the joy of a new beginning.
