MOVING PICTURES FEATURED AT LIONS' CLUB LUNCHEON

The editor was a guest at the Lions' Club luncheon last Friday, served by the ladies of the Missionary Society in the basement of the First Methodist church. This is a feast enjoyed by the members of the club and their guests each week.

The menu consisted of the choicest edibles of the season, prepared and served in a faultless manner. The lovely vases of cut flowers reflected the springtime season and all the Lions and clubs were made happy.

This organization of happy boosters and civic workers, make a specialty each week in trying to outdo one another in entertainment during the luncheon hour. Friday, Lion Harry Murphy was in charge of the program and gave the members and guests a real treat, a thrill worth while.

After the meal the party was invited to assemble in another room of the building, which had been darkened and prepared for one of the best programs ever presented to the club.

Mr. Joe Browder, who was an honored guest, furnished the entertainment with his moving picture outfit, which proved to be educational and inspirational.

Mr. Browder's activities have been a potent factor in numerous developments in and around Fulton, but we venture to say that his latest endeavors to promote the development of poultry raising and dairying in this vicinity will go down in history as his greatest achievement. He has lost no time or spared expense in his equipment for educating the people of this vicinity, and many happy households and contented people will be the result.

In his showing Friday, were scenes of his Murfreesboro and Nashville, Tenn., inspection trip of dairy and poultry farms. The fine dairy herds and great flocks of chickens reflected what can be done along that line in this vicinity, where nature has so generously provided the essentials—soil and climate.

It was a happy idea conceived by Mr. Browder to educate the people of this vicinity in raising more and better poultry and developing the dairy industry. It may have been his determination to make good the promise in procuring the great Swift & Company plant which was landed for Fulton. The largest, ripest, juiciest plum that has been plucked from the tree of endeavor during the life of the Chamber of Commerce. Of course, Secretary Davis is Mr. Browder's right hand bower in his activities.

We wonder why other localities have not thought of the idea of educating the people along said lines as Mr. Browder, but when we stop to think, few men are willing to spend their valuable time and money as he has.

The showing also included a number of fine flocks of chickens and dairy herds in our own county, as well as scenes of the opening celebration of the Obion bridge, recent flooded area in the lower end of the county and scenes at the First Methodist church. For lack of time Mr. Browder did not show several interesting films, but enough was presented to thrill the crowd and make all present have a desire to engage in the poultry and dairy business.

Mr. Browder said he will gladly exhibit his productions any place in the county and at the coming Fulton County Fair if a place is provided for the exhibition.

It is without doubt one of the most interesting picture shows the editor ever witnessed. Educational, inspirational and thrilling.

We will add too, that the talk given with the pictures is a pleasing part of the entertainment. Equal to the highest paid radio announcers.

Thanks to Mr. Browder and the Lions' Club.

High School Notes

The Art Club, of Fulton High met on last Wednesday afternoon, after a short business session the program was given. The artists whom we studied were Rembrandt and Franz Hals. The life of Rembrandt was read by Karle Edwards Jones, and the life of Hals was read by Christine Brown. Some beautiful prints of the works of these two masters were then shown. Mary Nelle Nall was the winner of a contest in which everyone was asked to write down in five minutes all the pictures and artists at he could think of. She received as a prize a beautiful print "Baby Stuart," by Van Dyck. Delicious refreshments, consisting of sandwiches and tea, were served by the hostesses at the conclusion of the program.

Friday was "Senior Day." This is the first time that we have ever had a Senior Day in Fulton High. All the girls wore wash dresses and big bows of hair ribbon, while the boys wore overalls. The Seniors had charge of the chapel exercises, which consisted of the following program:

Scripture by Robert Binford. Violin Solos—"Indian Love Call" and "In Avalon Town" by Mary Nelle Nall, accompanied by Joseph Williams. Quartet—"School Days," sung by Randolph Kramer, Virgil Chapman, Martha Kendall and Helen Rucker. Reading—"I Want to be a Janitor's Child," by Kellena Cole.

Piano Solo—"Montez Winstead, Can't We be the Same Schoolday Sweethearts," sung by a chorus of Seniors. The Seniors truly looked the part of children, Friday.

Tryouts were held Monday afternoon for the dramatic contest cast. The play which will be presented this year is called "Treasure." This is a lovely playlet and we have high hopes of the Fulton Dramatic Team winning the cup.

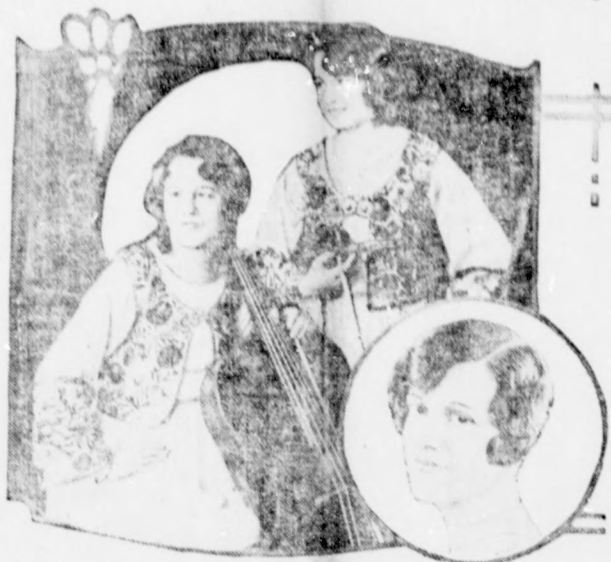

Our big spring meet will open the eighth of May, which is a week from last Wednesday. More interest is being manifested in the field meet this year than ever before. The Dramatic Contests will be held on Wednesday night, May 8th. On Thursday the Scholastic Contests such as Piano, Voice, Violin, etc., will be held. Friday will be devoted to the field events. The Fulton High students are awaiting this field meet with eager expectation, and we hope to be as successful this year as we have been the last three years.

The famous Vaughan Quartet gave a splendid program, consisting of varied program. Tuesday afternoon at special chapel.

Famous Hungarian Concert Artists Here at Chautauqua

THE GARAY SISTERS; IN CIRCLE, HELEN LINDSEY, PIANIST

The Redpath Bureau's musical director made a special trip to Europe to secure the noted Garay Sisters who will appear here in concert at the Redpath Chautauqua.

Elizabeth Garay, violinist, and Yalanda Garay, violoncellist, of Budapest and Florence, have received enthusiastic praise from the press of Europe for their amazing virtuosity. These young women are real artists. They have scored brilliant triumphs in concert work in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, and have achieved tremendous successes in some of the most important music and art centers of Italy, including Rome, Milan, Florence, Bologna and Genoa.

Helen Lindsey will be at the piano.

Treat In Store For Fulton

REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA OPENS IN FULTON, MAY 28

Three great plays, "Skidding," "Sun-Up" and "Rip Van Winkle," the John Ross Red Musical Revue and the noted European concert artists, the Garay Sisters, are among the many big attractions which will appear here during the coming Redpath Chautauqua. The Chautauqua will open in Fulton, May 28, and continue for five eventful days packed with music, entertainment, lectures and surprising novelty features.

"Sun-Up," powerful drama of the Carolina mountains, which will be presented on the fourth night by the well-known Sprague Players, is one of the really outstanding contributions to American drama of recent years. It tells a thrilling story of the forces let loose by the World War in the lives of simple, primitive Carolina mountaineers isolated from the world. There are many humorous turns to the play, but on the whole it is intensely dramatic.

On the afternoon of the fourth day the Sprague players will present that great favorite of American audiences, "Rip Van Winkle." Herbert Sprague is considered the greatest "Rip" since the days of Joseph Jefferson. He uses Jefferson's own version of this beautiful old play. Here is a play whose charm is unending, and whose interest is as great for grown-ups as it is for the children.

"Skidding," the popular comedy hit which will be the feature of the second night, comes straight from Broadway. It is an intriguing mixture of love and politics, told with a freshness and charm, all too rare in the theatre today. It contains a sure-fire recipe for uproarious laughter. Taken as a tonic in three doses it makes for one of the most enjoyable evenings imaginable. It is presented by a New York cast.

John Ross Reed and his company will be the attraction of the fifth day, giving two great entertainments, one in the afternoon and one at night. John Ross Reed, internationally known baritone, Columbia recording artist and popular actor, brings a wonderful production to the Chautauqua platform. With a distinguished company of artists he presents dramatic artistic presentations of scenes from grand opera, Russian vaudeville and original musical sketches. So elaborate and so cleverly designed is the gorgeous scenery used that it is a revelation in platform scenic possibilities.

The Ramos Mexican Orchestra, who open the Chautauqua with their grand concert on the first afternoon, bring to Redpath audiences the fascinating music of their native land. The charm of Old Mexico, the land of the gay caballero, breathes through their enchanting melodies.

Amazing young artists are Elizabeth Garay, violinist, and Yalanda Garay, violoncellist, of Budapest and Florence. The Redpath Bureau's musical director made a special trip to Europe to secure these noted virtuosos. They have scored brilliant triumphs in concert work in the leading music centers of Europe, and their appearance here will be a distinct musical event.

An Arctic hero from the frozen wastes of Siberia will tell his thrilling adventures in escaping from the Bolsheviks, on the first night. Captain Sigurdur K. Gudmundson, a two-fisted native of Iceland, tells a gripping story of the breath-taking experiences he encountered on a 2,200 mile trip across the Arctic wilderness.

The speaker of the third night of Chautauqua will be Chancellor George H. Bradford, one of the ablest and best-known dramatic orators in the country. Chancellor Bradford's stimulating, inspiring lecture "This Way Up" should not be missed by any citizen in the community.

An American girl with the temerity and the ambition to sail around the world alone to discover the how and the why of things—Miss Lethe Coleman—will tell of the experiences of her voyage, on the second afternoon. Miss Coleman is a charming girl and a delightful speaker. "An American Girl Sails Around the World," is her lecture subject.

Chautauqua week is a good-time week for the boys and

Dairy Meeting Here Monday

By H. A. McPherson, Co. Agent

C. L. VanCleve, field representative of the American Jersey Cattle Club, for Kentucky and Tennessee, will address those who are interested in the dairy development of Fulton county at the Chamber of Commerce, Monday evening at 8 o'clock, May 6th.

Mr. VanCleve is probably the best informed man in the south of Jersey cattle, having been employed by the Jersey Cattle Club for the past six years.

We wish to urge the business people as well as the farmers to attend this meeting, as some important questions will be discussed.

There is a big demand for good bulls in this county and Mr. VanCleve can be of much service in helping to put across this piece of work and he can give us information as to the best place to purchase these animals. Let's make this a big meeting. We are expecting a big crowd from adjoining counties.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES

The following people complete the list of Fulton High graduates which was begun in last week's Advertiser:

Harry "Buck" Bushart came to F. H. S. last winter from Beclerton. He is a fine basketball player, and was one of the stars on our basketball team. He has made a good record in his studies.

Reba Bell is another senior who has made a good record in her school work. Reba came to Fulton High from Carr Institute.

Talbert Sawyer came to us from Carr Institute four years ago. Talbert had the honor of being elected student president of the High School last fall. He is also manager. Talbert has made a good record scholastically.

Jane McAdams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McAdams, came to Fulton High from Carr Institute four years ago. Jane has made a fine record scholastically. She is a talented musician and is a very popular student.

James Milner came to Fulton High school last fall. Jimmy was a member of our football team and made a splendid showing in athletics. He is a very popular student.

Eugene Paschall came to Fulton High four years ago from Carr Institute. Eugene has made a good record scholastically.

Charles Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bowers, came to us from Carr Institute four years ago. He has made a good record in his school work.

We feel sure that in years to come Fulton High will be proud of this class of Seniors. It is a talented, ambitious class of young men and women and we are sure each one will be a success.

girls. New games, new stories, hikes and picnics, parades and contests and stunts make it a gala week for the children. One of the most important features of Chautauqua is Junior Town, where boys and girls elect their own mayor, marshal, town clerk and learn to take the responsibility of citizenship. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon this department, as today's juniors will be tomorrow's citizens. A capable junior supervisor will be in charge.

Hand us a dollar bill and get your name on the Advertiser list as a regular subscriber.

FINE STRAWBERRIES

B. J. Matthews and R. E. Hodges, of Pierce, Tenn., are advertising for strawberry pickers around May 10. They have four acres of the aroma variety. Fine, large, delicious berries. A number of others have berries in the Pierce vicinity and pickers can make good money during the season if you notify Messrs. Matthews & Hodges that they can depend on you showing up around May 10.

The Aroma berry is not only delicious to eat with sugar and cream, but a fine canning berry. Those who want the choicest strawberries should engage them now.

You Are Invited

To Attend Services at the Baptist Church Sunday

Sunday promises to be a red letter day for Fulton Baptists when the Rev. C. H. Warren will review the activities in the church during his pastorate of ten years. Last Sunday committees were appointed by the pastor to extend a special invitation to everyone who was a member of the church ten years ago to be present Sunday at the morning services, also to those who have united with the church during the past ten years. The committees have been diligently at work all during the week and a large attendance is expected.

Many changes have taken place in church circles in Fulton during the past ten years. All denominations have increased in membership and handsome houses of worship built and beautified to the glory of the Master's work. We could write an interesting chapter regarding the activities of the Baptists, but we will leave it to the beloved pastor to tell you in person Sunday morning. You will enjoy it all the more coming from him. So don't fail to be present at the morning service.

MISS RUCKER IS HONORED WITH GRADUATE PARTY

Mrs. James M. Rucker was hostess Friday afternoon with a delightful afternoon tea at home to compliment her sweet girl graduate-elect daughter, Mary Louise Rucker. Petite Betty Jean Howard in dainty elfin green frock received cards at the door. The San Jacinto High school senior class colors—green and silver—were featured in all appointments of the room and the class flower, the pink Radiance rose, lent its fragrance. The prettily appointed tea table was centered with a basket of lovely pink roses with pink tapers in silver holders standing guard.

Miss Rucker, in fashionable gown of pink taffeta, graciously received, with Misses Ianthia Wells, Dorothy Bollfrass, Awilda Steves, Frances Overtash, Helen Robins, Mozelle McReynolds, Val Locke and Hazel Goodman. Miss Dorothy McDonald registered the guests in the graduate book. She was assisted in registration by Miss Iris Bellows. Miss Anna Bob Taylor presided at the tea table. The bevy of attractive girls who passed tea dainties were Misses Alice Walker, Lorraine Still, Marjorie Ashe, Halie Beth Talley, Ruth Schneider. About 150 guests called during the hours.—Houston Post.

James Wallace Gordon, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gordon. James Wallace is a fine musician, playing both piano and saxophone. He came to high school from Carr Institute.

Avery Hancock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hancock, is one of our "celebrities." Avery recently won first place in American History in the State Contest at Lexington. He was a member of the debating team of 1928-9 and has made an unusual record scholastically.

Ruby Matheny came to F. H. S. from South Fulton High school last September. She has made a good record scholastically.

Nadine Morris has been a member of Fulton High school for the past four years. Nadine has made a good pupil. She is planning to enter a business college at Memphis next fall.

Randolph Kramer, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kramer, came to Fulton High from Carr Institute. Randolph has twice won medals in oratory in the West Kentucky and Tennessee Spring meet, which we have here every year. He represented Fulton last year and this year in the Inter-scholastic Tournament. Last year he won a trip to Lexington and represented this district there in oratory. Randolph was a member of the Dramatic Club and of the debating teams of 1927-8, and 1928-9.

Ruth Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Payne, came to Fulton High from Carr Institute, four years ago. Ruth is a member of the Dramatic and Art Clubs and has made a good scholastic record.

Lucille Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith, came to Fulton High from Carr Institute. Lucille represented F. H. S. in Public Discussion in Murray during the Inter-scholastic Tournament. She was a member of the debating team of 1928-9.

Mary Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, came to Fulton High from Carr Institute. Mary Louise has taken part in dramatics during her high school career. She has been a leader in the social activities of the school, and her lovely disposition makes her a favorite with all.

Mary Nelle Nall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Nall, came to F. H. S. four years ago. She is the high school poet and some of her selections have already been published. As high school reporter she has kept the public informed each week of the progress of Fulton High.

She has made a good record in school. She is a talented musician, playing violin and piano and is a member of the Dramatic and Art Clubs.

Mary Elizabeth Stevenson, daughter of Mrs. Arthur Stevenson, is a talented musician, member of the Dramatic Club and represented F. H. S. in Voice in Murray this year. Mary Elizabeth plans to enter Georgetown college next fall.

Elsie Windsor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. E. Windsor, has made a fine record scholastically during her high school career. Elsie represented Fulton High in Murray in Literature at the Inter-scholastic Tournament.

Evelyn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Williams, came to F. H. S. from Carr Institute four years ago. Throughout her high school course, Evelyn has made a good record. She is interested in dramatics and is a member of the Dramatic Club.

Montez Winstead, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Winstead, came to Fulton High from Carr Institute four years ago. Montez is a musician of outstanding ability and has made a fair record scholastically.

Joseph Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Josiah Williams, is another of our celebrities. Joseph won the piano contest at Lexington recently and he has a bright and promising future before him. He is a member of the Dramatic Club and has been distinguished in dramatics.

Helen Rucker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rucker. She has made a good record scholastically during her high school career. She came to Fulton High from Carr Institute.

Paul Tucker came to us from South Fulton High School last fall. He has made a good record during the year.

Mary Tyler has been in Fulton High school for four years. She has been a fine student, and has made a good scholastic record.

Frank Wiggins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wiggins. Frank has made a good record scholastically during his high school career. He has been a member of the baseball, basketball and track teams and has shown good sportsmanship in all he has undertaken.

Howard Edwards is one of our social leaders. "Happy," as he is better known, is a great mixer in crowds. He has shown fine sportsmanship in everything during his high school days.

High School Notes

Mr. Myers spent last Thursday and Friday in Louisville, where he attended the K. E. A.

Thursday morning the chapel program was in charge of the Music Club. Martha Norman Lowe played a piano solo and Martha Warren, accompanied by Nedra Marlin, sang, "In Avalon Town," and "Dream Train."

Several of our former students who are in school in Murray this year, visited the school during the latter part of last week. They were all home because of the dismissal of Murray State Teachers College for the K. E. A.

The Junior play, "The Hidden Guest," went over big last Tuesday night. A large crowd was present in the new gym, and each member of the cast played his or her role to perfection.

Now everyone is looking forward to the Senior play, "Daddy Long-Legs." The Seniors are practicing on the play every night and it promises to be an outstanding success.

Work on the playlet, "The Treasure," which will be presented in the dramatic contest at the spring meet, has been begun.

Next week the preliminaries in piano, oratory, declamatory and other contests will be held.

WELL KNOWN MAN KILLED

John E. Qualls was accidentally killed last week by a train, at his home in Homer, Mich., at the age of 26 years. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Qualls of near Dukedom, but had been making his home in Michigan for some time. The remains arrived in Fulton Sunday night and were taken to the home of his parents, and funeral services were held there at 2 p. m., Monday, conducted by Rev. Mr. Harris, and burial followed in Mt. Moriah cemetery, in charge of the Fulton Undertaking company. The deceased is survived by his parents, five brothers and four sisters, many other relatives and friends who will sympathize with his family in their great loss.

RETURNED FROM MEMPHIS

Mrs. A. J. Turney has returned from the Campbell Clinic in Memphis, where she has been taking treatment for an injured foot. Her friends will be glad to know she is improving, at her home on Washington street. While in Memphis, she visited her cousin, Mrs. Guy Pellet, and stopped in Mason Hall, Tenn., as she was returning, to visit her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Tom Ross, and they accompanied her home.

MAIL CARRIERS TO MEET

Clinton, Ky., April 25.—The District Association of Mail Carriers will be entertained in Clinton on May 30. One hundred visiting carriers are expected to be in attendance. ### OUR MESSAGE OF SERVICE

There is going to be a lot of activity in the building line this year. Architects and contractors, carpenters and masons all, are busily sharpening up their pencils and their tools, and getting set for business. It is not the young married folks alone who are going to build homes—who dream dreams of happiness in homes of their own—but many others who have long, too long, been renting the roofs over their heads are going to try this year to realize their desire to have a home of their own.

Whatever you plan to do by way of BUILDING — REMODELING REPAIRING

we want you to feel perfectly free to come in and consult our service department without the slightest obligation. Whether it's a big house or a bungalow, a new garage, new roof or new floor, a sun parlor or a sleeping porch, an alley fence, or built-in fixtures—we are prepared to give you unequalled service and low prices on Quality Material.

Lesson for May 5

WHAT HILKIAH FOUND IN THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—II Chron. 34:14-33.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Finding a Lost Book.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Finding a Lost Book.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Discovering a Guidebook.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Bible in National Life.

I. The Book of the Law Found (vv. 14-17).

1. The occasion (v. 14).
It was while restoring the temple during Josiah's reformation that the Book of the Law was discovered. No doubt, in clearing out the dark corners to make repairs and to find a place to store the subscriptions made by the people, many things which had been lost were found, among which was the law. This was "the law of the Lord given by Moses."

2. The book delivered to the king (vv. 15-17).

In a report of the work, the king was informed of the finding of the Book of the Law by Hilkiah, and the book was delivered to him.

II. The Effect of the Reading of the Law (vv. 18-28).

1. The king rent his clothes (v. 19).
As the law was read before him, the king was led to realize the awful extent of the nation's departure from God. He knew that sin merited punishment. The function of the law is to reveal sin. The reading of the royal robes indicated that the king was penitent and sorrowful.

2. The king sent a deputation to make inquiry of the Lord (vv. 20, 21).

The king included himself in guilt before God. "Go inquire for me and for them that are left—for great is the wrath of the Lord that is poured out upon us." His sense of sin was so keen that he sent to inquire of the Lord as to whether there was any means of diverting the divine judgments. Instinctively, the human heart turns from God's threatening judgments to a means of escape. The soul that sorrows for sin inquires for a way of escape. The law prepared for the gospel. The law is our schoolmaster to bring us to Christ (Gal. 3:24).

3. The message of Hilkiah, the prophetess (vv. 22-28).

(1) Confirmation of what the law said (vv. 22-25).

She said that all the curses written in the law must fall, for the sins had been so flagrant that God's wrath could not be restrained. Destruction was hanging over Jerusalem and it was too late to avert it. It was not too late, however, to repent and to obtain mercy from God, but the outward consequences of sin must be realized. Fulfillment of this is found on every hand today. The murderer must hang.

(2) Acceptance of Josiah's repentance (vv. 26-28).

Because of his tenderness of heart and deep penitence, the Lord said he should be gathered to his grave in peace and should not see all the evil to be brought on Jerusalem and its people. What Hilkiah said was true, even though Josiah died in battle (35:23-25). When God accepts a man and forgives him, his death is a peaceful one, even though it may be on the battlefield. God's presence is with him, therefore he will go straight from the battlefield to the heavenly home.

III. The Law Obeyed (vv. 29-33).

1. The king read the law (vv. 29, 30).

He gathered together the inhabitants of Jerusalem, including the priests, Levites and elders, and read unto them the law.

2. The king made a covenant before the Lord to keep His commandments and testimonies (vv. 31, 32). In this covenant he pledged himself to do three things:

(1) To walk before the Lord (v. 31). This meant that he would get personally right with God.

(2) To keep God's commandments, testimonies and statutes with all his heart and soul (v. 31). To read the law is not enough. Its holy requirements must be obeyed.

(3) To perform the words of the covenant, which were written in the book (v. 31). This was done sincerely and he caused all that were present "to stand to it."

3. The king took away the abominations out of all the countries which pertained to Israel (v. 33). All the days of the king he departed not from following after the Lord, the God of their fathers.

The Camel and the Rich Man

And Jesus looked round about, and said unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God! It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.—Mark 10: 23-25.

REHEARING IS DENIED

Pair Charged With Slaying
Farmer Sentenced

Dresden, Tenn., April 29.—Motion for a new hearing for Noel McWherter, 21, and Ezra Harding, 17, convicted for the murder of E. Yokum, farmer, was presented today by their attorney, R. E. Maiden. The motion was overruled and the defendants were sentenced to serve the term in prison according to the verdict of the jury, which was 35 years in the penitentiary for Noel McWherter and 25 years in the state industrial school for Ezra Harding. Appeal was taken to the supreme court and the bond was fixed at $20,000 for each defendant.

NEW BUS ROUTE IS ANNOUNCED

Paducah, Ky., May 2.—Fred Smith, president of the Smith Motor Coach company, largest operators of passenger motor busses in the South, announced Monday the inauguration of a new route in and out of Paducah, effective tomorrow. The newest schedule calls for three trips daily to points between Paducah and Fulton, via Wickliffe. Direct connections can be made from Wickliffe bus with a bus leaving Cairo for St. Louis twice daily. G. A. Maxedon, general passenger agent at Paducah, said last night.

The Smith coaches will leave Paducah at 6:30 a. m., 11:00 a. m., and 5:00 p. m., and will touch Bichon's, West Paducah, Heath, Woodville, Kevil, La-Center, Barlow, Wickliffe, Cairo, Bardwell, Arlington, Clinton, Crutchfield and Fulton.

The Paducah-Evansville bus line was started within the last thirty days. The Paducah-to-Memphis coaches have been running regularly since early last fall.

Surveys are now being made on Paducah-to-St. Louis and Paducah-to-Chicago routes which will be opened in the very near future.

Mr. Smith, who, with a party of Memphis business men, arrived in Paducah yesterday for the Irvin Cobb hotel opening, will leave tonight or Wednesday for Detroit to purchase busses for the Chicago and St. Louis routes.

The Month of Beauty

Now comes May, one of the prettiest and most pleasant months of the year. Winter has gone, the sudden showers of April are past, the seat of summer has not yet come and vegetation prepares to spread with lavish hand its beauty all about us.

The origins of the names of most months are easy to trace. Not so May. It is generally agreed that it was named for Maia, the Roman goddess of spring, but there is also a theory that May is the abbreviated form of Majores and that the month was so called because it was held sacred to older men as June was dedicated to juniors, or younger men.

Originally, May was the third month, but it became fifth when the Romans placed January and February at the beginning of the year. It always has had 31 days. Its special flower is the hawthorn and its gem the emerald.

Since earliest times the first of May has been marked by outdoor festivities and children have danced around a Maypole for hundreds of years.

Today many schools have May-day festivals in which gay costumes, pretty flowers and dancing complete a most colorful picture. May is marked by few important historical anniversaries, compared to other months, and few holidays.

What Stimulates Progress.

In legal parlance there is a term "caveat emptor" which means "let the buyer beware." And that doesn't single class of buyers.

There are people in Fulton who buy everything at home and from hometown merchants. And there are merchants who buy their advertising from the newspapers and other mediums from their own community.

And there are people in this community who buy very little here, thoughtlessly spending their money out of town where it is lost to the community. Those who buy here benefit the community by keeping their money in local circulation and reap the additional rewards of buying from business enterprises that depend, for their very existence, upon their reputation for fair dealing. The home-town merchant gives his patrons and his community the fruits of his industry and his community's patronage.

The same principle which urges people to patronize the local merchant who has his money invested where it serves them most, should impel the merchant to advertise in the newspapers of this community. This newspaper boosts Fulton and it people, institutions and business. It is a fixture with a heavy investment and dependent for its existence as a booster, upon the patronage of the community.

Merchants advertise in newspapers to increase their business. Consumers read the newspaper advertisements that they may buy with the least expense of time and effort and most advantageously, both in respect to price and quality. Both advertiser and buyer forget that this advertising makes possible the newspaper that brings them the news of the day and provides one of the chief stimulants to community growth and betterment.

Free Publicity

The Advertiser, like other newspapers the world over, is repeatedly the victim of artful attacks in an effort to obtain valuable space for the introduction of various schemes for private gain or the moulding of public opinion toward "putting over" some sinister plot.

Some bureau or syndicate or manufacturer or politician will hit upon a happy idea, and some clever fellow will tell him just how he can work the newspapers for all the "stuff" needed; whereupon the expert is engaged or the advice is taken without the expert. He makes good at getting the stuff out—but publishers are too keen to let the grafting go too far.

Invariably, when the scheme is found out in time and the matter is refused, a threat is hurled at the publisher that the story will be given to another paper. The plot works occasionally but not always.

In the long run the schemer usually loses out because never again can the paper be approached in the same way by the same schemer.

The fact must be considered also, that unless citizens can be depended upon at all times to furnish their local journal with real news stories they cannot expect to get away with spasmodic attempts to put over propaganda. The editor is a man hard to fool.

Not so much the first cost as the accessories dent the pocket-book.

Success is just a matter of sound sense, common decency and advertising space.

If at 16 he thinks he looks distinguished, his glands are functioning normally.

The objection to humble people is that they always seem a little too proud of it.

Why does nature give all the vehemence to the one who doesn't know he doesn't know.

There is one difficulty in putting to death weak-minded persons. It might include too many.

In the old days chivalry consisted in saying "May I smoke?" Now it consists in saying: "Try one of mine."

As a remedy for divorce a Chicago judge urges men not to marry until they reach the age of reason. But that would bar so many from marriage altogether.

If he sits on the hotel porch and talks loosely of million-dollar deals with the power interests, he is probably wondering whether his job will be there when he gets back.

Self-feeder Good Way to Feed Pigs.

A simple, homemade self-feeder for sows and litters save labor and feed, provides a balanced ration and helps to push the pigs through to early market condition, says Grady Sellards, of the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky.

Sows and litters are often inadequately fed, he has observed. Where a self-feeder is used, they help themselves and thereby get what is needed for best results. Quick maturity through proper feeding usually means highest profits.

Where the milk supply is limited for the sows and pigs, the self-feeder should contain, in addition to grain, a mixture of two parts of tankage and one part of oil meal, by weight. This helps to insure a balanced ration.

Pigs should not be put on a self-feeder until two and a half or three weeks old.

Illinois Central System Operating Motor Bus

Chicago, Ill. The first operation of motorbus service by the Illinois Central System was announced by L. A. Downs, president, Beginning Saturday, April 27, the Illinois Central began to operate a motorbus between Dubuque and Waterloo, Iowa, making one trip each way daily. The bus replaced two passenger trains—one in each direction.

The bus service is conducted by the Central Transportation Co., a subsidiary organized and owned by the railroad. Its operation is under the direction of L. E. McCabe, superintendent of the I. C. System at Dubuque. I. C. passenger stations along the route are used. Leaving the I. C. station at Dubuque at 7:45 a. m., the bus arrives at the Waterloo station at 11:55 a. m. Returning, it departs from the Waterloo station at 4 p. m. and reach the Dubuque station at 8:15 p. m. The distance between these stations is about 100 miles.

Regular stops are made in both westbound and eastbound trips at the Julien, Merchants and Canfield hotels in Dubuque and the Ellis, President and Russell Lomson hotels in Waterloo. Calls are also made at hotels in cities en route. In addition, stops are made on signal to allow passengers to board or leave the bus at points other than scheduled stopping places. However, the bus service is restricted from handling passengers locally between Waterloo and Independence or intermediate points, although it can handle the between points within this zone and points outside of it.

But fares are the same as standard railway fares, with a minimum fare of 10 cents. They are computed from station to station, points along the route at short intervals—none as great as five miles—having been designated as stations for ratemaking purposes. 50 pounds of baggage is transported free on bus tickets. However, bus and railway tickets are honored interchangeable to and from stations situated on both bus line and the railroad, so that passengers with heavy baggage may purchase railway tickets, check their baggage by rail and then ride either the train or the bus.

Commenting upon the entrance of his railroad into this new field of activity, President Downs said:

"The question of operating motorbuses either in conjunction with train service or to replace it involves the consideration of several factors. Among them are, in the case of additional service, the needs or convenience of the public and the amount of new traffic likely to be gained, and, in the case of substitutions, whether the available traffic can be satisfactorily handled by motorbus and what economies can be effected by so doing. Since conditions are the same in no two localities, each case must be decided upon its individual merits."

"We are closely watching the situation in our territory, and we stand ready to undertake such operation whenever and wherever the indications are favorable."

There is a wide-spread interest in sowing pasture mixtures in Pendleton county, and the "Pendleton mixture" is being sown in every part of the county.

Among the County Agents.

Farmers in 7 communities in Clay county have organized to cooperate in the use of limestone and phosphate and in the growing of legume crops. A carload of soybean seed has been purchased.

Pointer DeMyer, a Fulton county farmer, sowed 60 acres of sweet clover on land that had been treated with acid phosphate and two tons of limestone to the acre.

Three commercial orchards have been started in Magoffin county, where is much interest in fruit growing. Many old orchards have been pruned under the direction of the county agent.

The Bardstone Chamber of Commerce purchased a setting of purebred eggs for each member of the junior 4-H poultry club in Nelson county. Payments will be sold to farmers to promote better poultry raising.

Farmers of Mason, Bracken, Harrison, Fleming and Lewis counties in Kentucky and Clermont and Brown counties in Ohio will hold their third annual Ohio Valley dairy and beef cattle sale at Maysville June 7.

The Russell Springs Business Men's Club recently was organized to promote the welfare of Russell county. One of the first projects undertaken was to assist in the development of the dairy industry.

Tobacco Attracts Strawberry Growers

1600 farmers, growing approximately 3,100 acres of strawberries, have been signed up in the McCracken County Growers' Association this year. This is a decrease of 500 farmers and 1,600 acres from last year. County Agent Wm. C. Johnstone credits these decreases in membership and acreage to low prices received for berries last year and to tendency to increase tobacco growing.

Mr. Johnstone has endeavored to interest farmers in maintaining a normal strawberry acreage and to increase the yield per acre. He considers strawberries a profitable farm crop in the Purchase Region, where they have returned an average of $135 an acre for five years. He believes that through better cultural methods production can be increased from 52 crates, the present average acre yield, to 75 crates, which would materially increase profits.

The McCracken County Growers' Association in the past five years has paid farmers a total of $1,855,000 for strawberries. Five hundred and forty-four carloads were shipped last year.

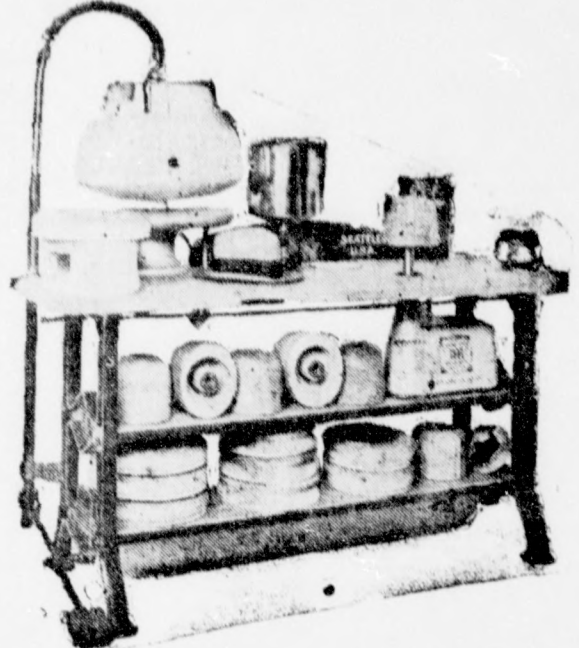

Is your machinery ready for the harvest?

Now's the time. Go over your equipment. Oil it, paint it and HAVE BROKEN PARTS WELDED. Why pay good money for new parts? Ox-acetylene welding will repair anything of metal that is broken or worn. No delay—small cost—the parts will fit. A welded part is good as new.

WELL KNOWN FULTON MAN VICTIM OF

Died Sunday Near Paducah
While Out Driving

In reporting the death of R. L. Parsley, well known Fulton blacksmith, the Paducah News-Democrat said:

"R. L. Parsley, 45-year-old mechanic of Fulton, who died Sunday afternoon shortly after he had been removed from an automobile on the 'Wildcat' road, about three miles from Paducah, had been subject to attacks of apoplexy and probably high blood pressure for years, relatives said yesterday. This information bears out the verdict of the coroner's jury which investigated the case, and which found that death resulted from an unknown cause, probably apoplexy.

"In the automobile with Parsley at the time of his death was Mrs. Louie Dreskell, wife of a disabled war veteran, John W. Dreskell. She said that she and her husband had driven to Paducah from Louisville in order to fill an engagement with Parsley which she had made. They went immediately to Union Station when they arrived here about noon Sunday, Mrs. Dreskell said, and met Parsley there. She went for a ride with Parsley while her husband went to a garage to have their car washed.

"Parsley drove out the Old Mayfield road, and turned into the 'Wildcat' road, she said. After driving a short distance, Parsley turned the car into a ditch and said, 'What's the matter with me?' He collapsed almost immediately after asking the question and was breathing with great difficulty when she got out of the car and ran for help, Mrs. Dreskell testified.

"Parsley was removed from the car and placed on the ground, and Dr. Bob C. Overby was called to attend him. He lived only about a minute after Dr. Overby arrived, the doctor said.

"At the coroner's inquest into the death, held yesterday morning, testimony was heard from several of those who aided in the removal of Parsley from the car and who witnessed his death. H. W. Perdew, a resident of the vicinity of the 'Wildcat' road, testified that Mrs. Dreskell seemed excited when John Wesley Garrison gathered up a few bits of paper which were scattered along the road. It was brought out in the inquest that these fragments of paper were apparently part of a note, written on an old envelope, which bore the address of Parsley at Fulton.

"Perdew also testified that he saw Mrs. Dreskell pick up something from among the leaves near the car which appeared to be 'a clear object, about the size of a fountain pen or about two inches long,' and that she wrapped the object in her handkerchief.

"An examination of Parsley's stomach was recommended by Commonwealth Attorney H. H. Lovett to determine if there might have been a possibility of poisoning in connection with his death but this recommendation was withdrawn when Parsley's step-son arrived from Martin, Tenn., yesterday afternoon to take charge of the body and announced that Parsley had been troubled with apoplexy and high blood pressure.

FACING THE FUTURE

The supremacy of the railroads in the field of commercial transportation is being challenged today as never before. Barge lines are competing for the freight traffic of the railroads, and so are motor truck lines. Bus lines and airways are bidding for their passenger traffic. What will be the outcome?

The railroads are giving their answer to that question. They spent last year approximately $680,000.000 for improvements in facilities and will probably spend more this year. In the last eight years their expenditures for improvements have amounted to around six and one-half billion dollars.

The present good quality of railway service is one result of such expenditures. The sustained volume of business is another, for railway purchases stimulate all other kinds of business.

In these fast-moving days of strenuous competition a program of expansion on the scale maintained by the railroads take courage. It also takes faith—not only in the essential character of railway transportation, but in the fair-mindedness of the American people, that they will recognize the outstanding service performed by fully self-supporting railroads under all conditions and that they will reward such service by continued patronage.

If the railroads are to continue to be reliable providers of transportation, they must prosper. Patronage and constructive regulation of rates are two main requirements of their prosperity.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

L. A. DOWNS,
President, Illinois Central System

CHICAGO, May 1, 1929.

By J. T. Watkins

This past week we received letters from the officers of the Memphis show to be held during fair week. They are contemplating in making some radical changes in their show rules and from a fancier's standpoint I don't think much of the changes. It looks to me as if they are playing into the hands of a few breeders who will try and hog everything. It looks as if they had forgotten the large army of fanciers who have made the poultry show what it is today. Where would the poultry game be now if they had eliminated the fancier years ago just as they are doing today.

The American Poultry Association is composed of fanciers who breed the several breeds for the beauty of the breed as well as the usefulness of the fowl. Men have spent years in perfecting a breed so it would come up to standard, but some of the breeds have been demoralized by men who are not true fanciers. Take the White Leghorn for instance, the standard calls for a perfect sweep to the back with the tail set at an angle of 45 degrees from the body, forming a perfect saddle shaped back, with a weight of 3 1-2 pounds. A bird of this type is a thing of beauty. But a few breeders have bred Minorca blood into the Leghorn until there is a large non-descript looking high tailed bird with the tail standing up about 90 degrees. The bird is out of shape, style and weight. If the Leghorn club doesn't get busy they will ruin this breed. And it is the same with other breeds. I think Memphis is making a big mistake.

We also got a letter from the National Dairy Exposition to be held in St. Louis during the week of October 12 to 20. They are also going to feature a large poultry show in connection with the dairy exposition. Speaking of shows, we haven't any good news YET, about the Fulton show.

We are going to call a meeting of the Poultry Association for Tuesday night, May 7. This will be the time to elect officers for the coming year, and to transact any other business that may come up for action. Some of the present officers who have served since the organization are ready to quit and let some one else have a try at them. It may be necessary to elect an entire new staff.

RUNNING WILD

In the spring and summer especially, complaints are made of children "running wild" on the streets of Fulton. Not very often are such complaints accompanied by suggestions of remedy or solution to the question of what the children do out of school or in their free time. As always has been, there again will be a "child problem" this spring and summer. But having joined heartily with those who dislike to refer to children as "problems," we prefer to resolve all so-called child problems into adult problems. For it is the undoubted business of the adult world to look after the interests of the juvenile world.

Children running wild on the streets do annoy us more sedate individuals. But until the community provides adequate opportunity for the exercise of children's instincts to play, the community is obliged to undergo that certain inconvenience occasioned by the unbridled self-expression of youth. Children not only have their rights, but they go about the business of exercising them.

From the child's standpoint, it must be remembered that even present-day civilization is but a step removed from savagery. The child, true to his ancestral instincts, is essentially a hunter, a climber, a soldier, a little ruffian-like cave man who recognizes little or no property rights except those of his own conquest. And in the modern community there are few places where children can play except in those places of public travel and business intercourse.

A certain amount of running wild is necessary in the life of every boy or girl. Without this free play there is chance of a too cramped and disciplinary development into adulthood. We, as grownups, ought to stretch a point and stand for much of childish pranks. But we ought also afford our children of the community such facilities as are possible to direct their recreative energies in channels conducive to wholesomeness. Work, study, research, association with others, the following of hobbies, the care of pets, the cultivation of plant and vegetable life, the encouragement in mechanics and youthful invention—all come properly within the scope of recreation, and are subjects in which the best minds and most willing hearts if the community can engage the young people with pleasure and profit to all. In addition, there should be a growing appreciation of the need for directed playgrounds. That we are living in an age when these are as necessary as any other institution of social progress is apparent. Educators, social workers, judges and juvenile authorities know this. According to the superintendent of public instruction of one of the largest states in the Union, out of thousands of boys and girls investigated, not one received punishment whose leisure time was properly directed.

RAILROADS HAVE FAITH

With barge lines and motor truck lines nibbling at their freight traffic and bus lines and airways doing the same for their passenger traffic, the railroads might be expected to lose heart in making their plans for the future. But they are courageously going ahead, according to President L. A. Downs, of the Illinois Central System.

The railroads have faith, and they are proving it with works, President Downs said. In the last eight years their expenditures for improvements have amounted to around six and one-half billion dollars.

Here is courage, President Downs believes. "A program of expansion on this scale takes faith in the essential character of railway transportation and in the fairmindedness of the American people. The railroads rely upon the latter to recognize the outstanding service performed by fully self-supporting railroads under all conditions and to reward such service by continued patronage."

AUSTIN SPRINGS

Mrs. Fount Gibson is reported to be on the sick list.

Mrs. L. B. Lassiter is slightly improved and is under the care of a physician, who advises the removal of her teeth. This will take place some time in the near future.

Mr. Jim McBee has placed an order for a bill of lumber to build a stock barn. Work will start as soon as the lumber is cut.

Mrs. Jim Dudley was stricken with paralysis several days ago, and lies in a critical condition at her home in No. 13. Her recovery is doubtful.

Mrs. R. O. Vincent was taken to Mayfield a few days ago and is under the care of a physician. She is making splendid recovery and will be home in a few days.

Mr. Newell Doron, and Miss Mozelle Maupins, students of Sedalia High, spent last week end with home folks.

Mr. Jim Smoot, wide awake and hustling farmer of near here, reports to this writer, that last fall he planted one thousand peach seeds and has six hundred and twenty-five trees as the result. That isn't a bad yield is it?

Luraine Ainley (nee Acree) was born Dec. 2, 1844, and departed this life in peace with God and all mankind April 23, 1929, age 84 years, 4 months and 21 days.

She professed a hope in Christ in early life and united with Unity Baptist church several years ago; was married to M. B. Ainley April 4, 1867, and to this union six children were born, three sons and three daughters.

She was known to be a woman of wonderful memory and was loved by a wide circle of friends and as long as health permitted she visited and administered to the sick and those in distress lent a helping hand. She will be greatly missed by all, as well as in the home. She was confined to her bed all the time for the past five weeks, suffering from complications.

She leaves to mourn her departure an aged companion, one son, Jess Ainley, who resides here, two daughters, Mrs. John Summers, a resident of here and Mrs. Milas Dismang, of Arkansas; nineteen grandchildren and twenty-one great-grandchildren, besides a host of relatives and friends. Funeral services were held by Rev. Lawrence McClain at the Acree cemetery, where also interment took place. The flowers that embanked the grave bespoke of the affection in which she was held. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, uprightness and independence.

You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them admire thrift.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds.

This start in the right direction is but a simple step. Bring children to the bank when you start them to school.

EDUCATIONAL PREPARATION A GROWING REQUIREMENT FOR SUCCESS IN MODERN BUSINESS

Death-Knell Sounded for Guesswork and Slipshod Methods by Advancing Technical Proficiency in Finance, Trade and Industry—How Banks Are Developing a Professionally Qualified Generation of Younger Bankers.

By HAROLD STONIER
American Bankers Association

THE great school of experience is still holding classes in America, but the scientific spirit of the age has so generally invaded the workshops of industry and trade that they have largely become technical research and training laboratories in themselves and are no longer run on the old-fashioned out-and-try methods of former generations when Experience was considered the only teacher. It would be hard to find a working force in any pre-eminent successful business or industrial organization in the United States today but what the scientific principles of its specific field, whether manufacturing, merchandising or finance. The rapidly advancing standards of business in this country, with their relentless demands for efficiency as the only hope for survival in the competitive struggle for economic existence, has sounded the death-knell for guesswork and slipshod methods.

HAROLD STONIER

As a result, educational preparation in the techniques of commerce, industry and finance are virtually essential to outstanding success in these fields, as it is already an absolute prerequisite in the various recognized professions. This is not to depreciate the value of native ability and experience in business, but education after all is merely a means for helping the individual to apply the net result of the accumulated experience of many to his own day's work—a means for helping special native ability to come into its own more rapidly and surely and for enabling all classes of ability to gain the maximum of success to which they are entitled.

These facts are plainly recognized by practical, workaday business in every line. Every progressive business organization in America is emphasizing the importance of education as never before. Education has come to be looked upon as the answer to many of the problems within the organization as well as to problems affecting industry as a whole.

Business Organizing Institutes
Institutes for developing specifically qualified workers are being organized or organized in many fields of commercial and industrial activity. These institutes are trying various types of educational work with a distinct trend toward more and more emphasis upon education for the rank and file of business employees of all grades.

We have been having business failures in this country at the rate of about 2,000 a month. This score speaks for itself. It is a glaring evidence of incompetence on the part of thousands of business men in handling the problems inherent in their fields of endeavor. The detailed records show that practically 75% of business failure in this country is due to lack of training and competence on the part of those who failed. This is conclusive evidence that no one can afford to undertake executive business responsibilities without adequate education and training. It is for that reason that every enlightened business organization is today insisting as never before that its employees take advantage of some type of technical training.

American banking is fortunate and has just cause for pride in that it has a record of twenty-eight years of definitely organized educational activity among its workers to its credit for developing trained bankers. People in banks in large numbers are taking advantage of the educational opportunity given by the great non-commercial college of the banking business, the American Institute of Banking. They see on every hand evidences of the value of the training it gives. Of the 10,000 graduates of this Institute, 70% now occupy official positions in American banks. The other 30% are still too young to have attained such heights. Here is an example and an encouragement to the people of all lines of business.

The American Institute of Banking has a membership of 64,220. Of these 22,851 are class enrollees, comprising younger bank people, both men and women, who are learning the scientific technique of their chosen business at the same time they are engaged in the practical work of earning their living at it. The difference between the 32,369 total membership and the 22,851 enrolled in classes and the 64,220 total membership comprises the older bankers who have taken the Institute courses in the past or are at the present time sponsoring some type of educational work in the organization.

Banking Educates Its People
It has been estimated that there are probably 375,000 bank officers and employees in the United States at the present time. These figures would mean that about one banker in every six is either enrolled in Institute classes in banking or is actively supporting some educational function of the organization. No statement could possibly give more emphasis to the importance placed on education by the banking interests of America than these facts.

This American Institute of Banking is the educational section of the American Bankers Association. It was formed twenty-eight years ago by bank employees and officers and has been carried on ever since as a voluntary organization. Many students who have graduated continue their membership in order to give active support to some type of educational work other than the actual class program.

The greater part of the educational work is carried on in 200 cities and towns in the United States. Here the local chapter of the American Institute of Banking has its regularly organized courses of study under supervision of the national body with local instructors and directors to fulfill the standard requirements regarding text material, classwork and examinations.

Instructors are recruited from the staffs of leading universities, from members of the legal profession and from among accountants and bank men who have made a record in some field of activity in banking that marks them as experts. All instructors must be approved by the national organization. They are compensated by the local units. The students pay tuition, in which they are frequently aided by their employing banks, and this, together with contributions made by the banks for general classroom overhead, finances the educational program.

Education a Pathway to Advancement
Leading banks in various parts of the country are insisting that their employees take work in the Institute. This is frequently a part of their contract of employment at the time they enter the bank. It is also now quite generally understood in the field of American banking that study in the American Institute of Banking is considered one of the basic factors in the promotion of the individual to a place of importance in a bank.

The Standard Certificate of the American Institute of Banking is annually gaining a greater and wider recognition among practical bankers throughout the United States. These certificates are coming to have the same importance in the banking world that certificates of education have in the field of the general professions. This is a practical example and one thoroughly well demonstrated by seasoned experience of the new spirit of American business.

ONE COW VS. ONE DOZEN

"Why milk twelve poor cows when one good cow will do the work of the twelve?" asks the bulletin of the American Bankers Association Agricultural Commission. It declares that analysis of more than 100,000 individual yearly records from cows on test in dairy herd improvement associations indicate that on the average:
Cows that produced 100 lbs. butterfat
▲ year returned $14 each over feed cost;
Cows that produced 200 lbs. butterfat
▲ year returned $54 each over feed cost;
Cows that produced 300 lbs. butterfat
▲ year returned $96 each over feed cost;
Cows that produced 400 lbs. butterfat
▲ year returned $138 each over feed cost;
Cows that produced 500 lbs. butterfat
▲ year returned $178 each over feed cost;

In other words, one 500-pound producer will return $10 more over feed cost than twelve 100 lb. producers. This does not take into account, either, the added labor of milking and caring for the larger herd, or the much greater expense of providing stable room for a dozen instead of a single animal. The figures are based on farm prices from all parts of the country.

Route 6 News

The entire community was shocked and saddened Saturday at the sudden death of Mrs. Jobe Phillips. She was feeling even better than usual Saturday morning and helped prepare the dinner, then feeling tired she sat down to rest. A heart attack struck her and she lived only an hour. Her family was called and arrived in a few minutes except a daughter, Mrs. Vernie Johns, who lives in Woodland, Miss.

Mrs. Phillips was 72 years old and had spent her life in this region, most of her married life in the immediate vicinity of New Hope church, of which she was a consistent member till her death. The funeral was conducted by her pastor, Rev. C. E. Moore at New Hope church, Sunday afternoon. She leaves an aged companion, one son, Sile, who has been with them for more than a year; three daughters, Mrs. Nannie Counts, Mrs. Earnie Johns, and Mrs. Vernie Johns, several grandchildren and many loving friends to mourn her going.

Mr. Sid Moore is in a critical condition at this writing. His daughter, Mrs. Libbie Robey, is with him this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Clement are rejoicing over the birth of a little daughter, April 20. Her name is Susie Lee, and of course she is quite a wonderful young lady—their first daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rye are entertaining a little grandson. Their daughter, Mrs. Guy Bushart, has been with them some time. The young gentleman made his appearance April 24.

W. H. and son, Beecher Finch spent Sunday at Martin Junior College, visiting Guy W. Finch, who has been very ill with tonsillitis and ear complications. They found him much better and planning to enter school again, Monday.

Our community was represented at Nashville last week by Mr. Barrax, Russell Parish and James Ross, who attended the State wide meeting of the 'Future Farmers of Tennessee.' Russell and James visited Russell's uncle, Mr. Henry Parrish while there.

Welfare Workers had quite an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. K. Henderson last week. Mrs. Ellis demonstrated a can sealer and many interesting plans made for the year's work. The club will meet Thursday, May 16, with the following program announced:

Scripture, Mrs. Watts; prayer, Mrs. Wilson. "How Shall We Provide for Our Young Folks?" Mrs. Finch; "How Shall We Accomplish Anything in Our Club Work If We Do Not Work Together?" Mrs. John Coffman.

"How Can We As a Club, Benefit Our Community?" Mrs. Parmenter.

"Do We Deem It Necessary to Help Our Poor and Needy?" Mrs. Henderson.

"Shall We As a Club, Make Aprons for Sale?" Mrs. Ridgway.

All who are interested in our type of club work are invited to attend.

Mr. Jack Butts has a severe cold.
