1929 Fulton County Fair

Keen interest is being displayed by the officers and directors of the Fulton County Fair Association to make the 1929 meet the best fair in its history. President Gordon has announced August 27 to 31, this year's fair dates, five big days, each a feature within itself.

Dairy Show

Probably one of the outstanding exhibitions this year will be the dairy show. This department is under the supervision of men who are working vigorously to create an interest in the breeding of high class cattle in Fulton and adjoining counties. County Agent McPherson is also doing his utmost to awaken a live interest among our people to the advantage of developing the dairy industry along with other lines of agriculture. His work is already showing results. Several purebred sires have been brought into the county. The local banks are giving financial aid to the work and also encouraging 4-H club endeavors. Dairy herds are being augmented with larger numbers of purebred registered stock. So taking it all in all, the cattle exhibition this year at the Fulton County Fair promises to be the best ever shown in Western Kentucky.

Poultry Show

Another feature of the Fulton County Fair is the poultry show. Under the supervision of J. T. Watkins, this department of the fair has outgrown its former limits. Last year around 600 birds were exhibited and this year's show will probably surpass that number.

Just here we want to say that Mr. Watkins has done more to develop the poultry industry in this vicinity than any one else. He is a railroad man with a run on the Illinois Central System, and his home is in Memphis, but for several years he has taken a lively interest in contributing much of his valuable time to the poultry development of this vicinity. He is also secretary of the Fulton Poultry Association. He is a chicken fancier and attends the local shows as well as National Expositions, oftentimes capturing blue ribbons with his own birds.

Moving Picture Exhibition

For several months, Joe Browder has devoted much of his time inspecting dairy herds and poultry flocks in this and other communities, with a view of educating our people in developing the industry along higher standards. He has a fine moving picture outfit and has taken many scenes on his inspection tours, which he will exhibit at the fair. This promises to be of unusual interest as the local scenes will show what development has taken place in our own community. Those not acquainted with the development may expect a pleasant surprise when they view the fine herds of cattle and poultry flocks. A lecture along educational lines will be given in connection with the showing.

Pacing and Trotting Races

As usual, the daily racing program during the fair will be a pleasing feature. Some of the fastest pacers and trotters will be here and all who enjoy seeing a good race on one of the best half-mile clay tracks in the state will not be disappointed.

Floral Hall

Preparations are already under way to make the exhibition in floral hall attractive and interesting. Some new features will be added to the exhibition in this department this year that will be really worth while. In fact, new features will be added to all departments and the agricultural displays and the displays of farm implements as well as automobiles will show marked improvement over displays of 1928.

Amusements

A number of free attractions will feature the entertainment program this year.

L. Winifred Nagle & Co., have been booked, with America's undisputed troupe of canine wonders—ten dogs, lady and gent.

Rosard-Harrison, all star acts, premier cyclists, dainty aerial gymnasts, every act a feature, each performer an artist.

Rice & Company carnival will cover the fair grounds with their many attractions.

The big night show will be the best ever, a brilliant exhibition worth while.

Make your plans now to attend the Fulton County Fair, August 27 to 31, inclusive.

POWELL REVEALS LEADING "CLUE"

'The Canary Murder Case' Discards Minor Characters as Possible Suspects

An important clue to aid those who see "The Canary Murder Case," at the Grand theatre Monday and Tuesday, was given by William Powell who heads the cast as Philo Vance, S. S. Van Dine's famous fictional detective.

"The duty person or persons need not be looked for among minor members of the cast," Powell divulged. "Authors and directors of detective stories consider that a cheap trick to play on an audience. The guilt should be fastened among the principle players. I would not, in the interest of good sportsmanship, go so far as to give more clues but I am perfectly within my rights in handing out this tip."

While "The Canary Murder Case" has been declared one of the most baffling detective stories written, each step in the unraveling of the plot, is absolutely logical.

ORPHEUM THEATRE

William Fox's big super special "Four Sons" is coming to the Orpheum Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 13, 14 and 15.

It's an amazingly interesting picture, this latest production by the man who made "Mother Macgregor," "Hangman's House," "3 Bad Men" and "The Iron Horse." Interesting in that the director has in one picture made a world celebrity of an unknown—an extra girl repulsed and rebuffed for ten years in Hollywood.

They're calling Margaret Mann a sixty-year-old Cinderella. Patiently she worked and waited since 1917 for her big chance. Opportunity knocked just once—and you should see the old lady grab the ball and run for a touchdown!

Hers is the one outstanding performance of the year! You'll love Margaret Mann. Keep an eye on these four sons—the stars of tomorrow. Watch for Charles Morton in Murnau's forthcoming "4 Devils."

Discriminating theatre-goers have learned to expect fine films from Fox—pioneer in the business. It's another masterpiece.

Friends of Mr. Joe Hurst will regret to learn of his death at his home in Jacksonville, Fla., this week. Mr. Hurst was engaged in the livery business here twenty years ago.

Mother

W. C. Reed Out For County Judge

Clarence Reed, well known business man now residing in Hickman, but a real Fulton boy, authorizes the Advertiser to announce his candidacy for County Judge of Fulton County, subject to the Democratic primary on August 3, 1929. In making public his announcement, Mr. Reed sets forth a strong platform for a progressive and constructive administration.

Mr. Reed needs no introduction to the people of the county. He was born and reared on a farm near Fulton, and was educated in the Fulton city schools. He worked in the City National Bank here five years and for some years was cashier of the Hickman Bank and Trust Co. For the past twenty years he has lived in Hickman, where he has been connected with the business and community life of the section, taking an active part in all the good movements for the betterment of the community. While still young, he is thoroughly trained in business and well versed in the things that a county judge should be familiar with. His mother and one of his sisters still live in Fulton, and therefore, Fulton is still home to him.

Mr. Reed stated that if elected, he would give the people an impartial and progressive administration, dedicated to constructive economy as opposed to false economy; that is that he would make the taxpayers' money go just as far as possible and protect the investments the county already has, while at the same time putting the county back on its feet by cutting the waste and duplication.

Mr. Reed stands for good roads and for the building of more good roads as fast as possible, and meanwhile taking care of what we have, both the gravel and dirt roads. He feels that it is a judge's place to watch these things and cooperate with the magistrates in every way possible to give the people the best.

His road program would include working of the roads early in the season so they could settle before winter, making permanent repairs of all the bad spots that give trouble year after year and make roads impassable; and stretching the road money so as to drag all the roads in the county, inasmuch as every citizen pays taxes to have them kept up.

Mr. Reed promises that if elected, he will gladly give courteous consideration to the opinions of every citizen on all public affairs as he wishes the cooperation of the people in running the county government, because the county is only the taxpayers banded together for their own interest and the judge is their servant, placed in the courthouse to work for them. Mr. Reed promises that he will cooperate with the county court in running the county's affairs to the best advantage, and he feels that his training and ability along financial lines fit him to take charge of the county's affairs in the present financial crisis and put the county back on its feet again, without tearing down any of the constructive work that has been done, or neglecting any of the vital things necessary to the welfare of the people that the county must do.

He pledges himself, if elected, to uphold the public health work and the county home demonstration work.

Mr. Reed will make an attempt to see personally every voter, but meanwhile he asks that due consideration be given his record, character and platform and any support given him will be deeply appreciated.

STREET PAVING NEARING COMPLETION

Work on paving the streets in East Fulton is being pushed to completion as rapidly as possible and if weather conditions are favorable, the entire paving project will be finished within ten days or two weeks.

JERSEY BULL CLUBS

Mr. O. E. VanCleve of Chapel Hill, Tenn., who is field representative of the American Jersey Cattle Club for Kentucky and Tennessee, was in the city during the week in the interest of the Jersey Club. While here, he organized four Jersey Bull Clubs.

The plan unfolded by Mr. VanCleve was heartily approved by the farmers who attended.

This will improve dairy cattle in his vicinity more than any other movement.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK IS OBSERVED IN FULTON

The Music Department of the Woman's Club observed National Music Week May 5 to 11, by giving programs each morning at the various schools.

The purpose of this movement is indicated by its slogan, "Give More Thought to Music."

Monday morning an unusual program was given by the boys of the high school, which consisted of a paper on Music Week, Piano, Violin, Clarinet and Vocal Solos, each boy displaying splendid musical talent.

Tuesday morning, the Junior members of the Music Department presented an interesting program.

Wednesday morning, the Senior members presented a lovely program of piano and voice numbers.

Thursday morning, the B Natural Club gave an attractive program.

Mrs. Ralph Penn, the leader of this department, presented the prizes offered by the Music department, to Misses Sara Owen, and Sarah Helen Williams, for the best written essay, and the most attractive poster on "Music Week."

All children in the grades, and Junior high were eligible in this contest. It has well been said that:

"Music is love in search of a word. Music is the hidden soul of harmony. Music's golden tongue flatters to tears. Music is the sunshine of our soul, and floods the heart with a perfect June. Music is the vapor of art. Music is the flying vision that merges with the tender air and whose image melts in shy misty shadows. Music is the medicine of a breaking heart. Music is called abstract beauty. Music compels the heart to yield to treasure of love. Music will steal easily into many a spot to which words stiffly articulated will be coldly refused admittance. The harmony of sound is so necessary to man that every situation upon earth has its singing birds and all over the globe they discover an instinct which attracts them to the habitation of man."

"Music is God's best gift to man, the only art of heaven given to earth, the only art of earth that we take to heaven. Music is poetry in sound and poetry is music in words. All deep things are song, the heart of nature is music. Music washes away from the soul the dust of everyday life. Music is the poetry of the air. Music is the language of emotion. The art of music is but the imitation of the music of nature. There are voices of grief in the winds, joy in the songs of spring and melody in the rippling brooks. Music is spiritual melody. It is the language of heaven. The ear is the auditorium where the soul sits to listen. The joy of salvation came to earth on the wings of song, and the message today is a joyful one both to those who proclaim and to those who receive it."

NEW ICE PLANT WILL SOON BE READY FOR BUSINESS

The new ice plant on Plain street is nearing completion. Workmen are busy installing the machinery and giving the interior of the building the finishing touches. Chas. Holloway, the manager of the City Ice Company, hopes to be able to announce the opening of the plant at an early date.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

Friday afternoon was the final meeting of the Woman's Club for the summer. Mrs. Martin Nall, the president, presided. Splendid reports were given by the treasurer, librarian and corresponding secretary.

Mrs. P. R. Binford announced the drive for Tuesday, May 7, for funds for the library.

The following delegates were elected to attend the Federation in Ashland, Ky.: Mrs. Jake Huddleston, Mrs. Ernest Fall, Mrs. Joe Browder, Mrs. R. M. Alford. Alternates were Mrs. Ramsey Snow, Mrs. Smoot Morris, Mrs. Walter Willingham, Mrs. J. W. Shepherd.

Mrs. Martin Nall was elected delegate to attend the biennial convention.

Mrs. Don Taylor's resignation was generally regretted by the club members, she leaving soon for St. Louis to join Mr. Taylor, where they will make their future home. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Taylor for her devotion and untiring club work to which she gracefully acknowledged in her usual charming way.

The Garden department had charge of the program for the afternoon with Mrs. J. E. Fall as leader, who presented the following program:

Mrs. R. S. Williams sang, "Thank God for a Garden," by Del Riego, with Miss Huddleston accompanist.

Miss Huddleston charmed the audience with a piano solo, "Lotus Land," by Cyril Scott.

Mrs. Fall then presented Mr. L. A. Nevin, of Memphis, editor of the Horticultural Department of the Progressive Farmer. Mr. Nevin gave an inspirational talk on landscape gardening, which was greatly appreciated by the large crowd present.

The Garden department is the youngest department of the club and they are to be congratulated on having such an interesting program.

The rooms were very attractive with vases and baskets of roses, iris and other spring flowers.

The hostesses for the day were Mesdames H. B. Vaught, T. M. Franklin. Pages were Mesdames Ira Little and Don Taylor. Delicious tea and sandwiches were served.

NEW FILLING STATION

The new filling station of the West Kentucky Oil Company located at the corner of Plain and Walnut streets, is completed and adds materially to the attractiveness of this corner.

JANNINGS COMING

German-American Portrayal
Given by Emil Jannings
in Paramount Film

Portraying the role of a German-American, his exact status, Emil Jannings gives another of his remarkable characterizations in his latest Paramount picture, "Sins of the Fathers," which comes to the Grand theatre Monday and Tuesday.

Jannings, in a statement made to newspapermen recently, had the following to say about his newest role:

"I believed that in 'The Patriot' I had reached my peak as far as character work was concerned, and thought that I would never again be able to portray a role with such ardor, but when engaged in making 'Sins of the Fathers,' I was conscious that here was a role that the American people would appreciate, a role portraying a man that every American knows about. I believe the American public will consider it my best to date."

Jannings was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., but moved at an early age with his parents to Germany. He won fame that spread over the entire continent, and reversed the popular order of things by coming back to America already a star in his own right.

Jannings has an exceptional supporting cast in "Sins of the Fathers." Ruth Chatterton, the stage star, has the role opposite him. Others in the cast are Barry Norton, ZaSu Pitts, Matthew Betz and Harry Cording. Ludwig Berger, the celebrated European director, handled the direction of the film, his second American directed picture.

POULTRY MEETING TUESDAY EVENING, MAY 7

There will be a meeting of the Fulton Poultry Association to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Tuesday evening, May 7, at 7:30 p. m. Election of officers for coming year and any other business that come up. All persons interested in the poultry industry are asked to come and join us.

PAVING BONDS ARE SOLD

Greenfield, Tenn., April 28.—The bonds amounting to $125,000 for paving streets in Greenfield have been sold to Caldwell & Company of Nashville, Tenn. The purchaser paid $600 premium. The contract to the lowest bidder will be let at an early date.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. L. L. White entertained the Junior Missionary Society of Wesley Church Saturday afternoon, in honor of Ruby and Ruffie's eleventh birthday. The afternoon was spent in story telling and games, after which all marched into the dining room and a nice luncheon was served. The table was laden with two cakes, each decorated with eleven pink and white candles. Twenty-one enjoyed the party.

HICKMAN PHYSICIAN GETS 14-YEAR TERM

Memphis, Tenn., May 2.—Dr. Luther D. Nichols, 50, Hickman, Ky., physician, was sentenced by Judge Harry Anderson in Federal court to 14 years in the Atlanta penitentiary for violation of the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

Dr. Nichols pleaded guilty to writing prescriptions for narcotics without making duplicates for authorities. The physician said he had been practicing medicine since 1911 and had conducted an office at Hickman.

SHIP FIRST BERRIES

Greenfield, Tenn., April 28.—First strawberries of the season were shipped from Greenfield Saturday. Only a few crates were brought in as the weather continues so cold. It was thought the carload shipments will begin next week. Greenfield ships each season, several carloads a day to northern markets.

OUR MESSAGE OF SERVICE

There is going to be a lot of activity in the building line this year. Architects and contractors, carpenters and masons all, are busily sharpening up their pencils and their tools, and getting set for business. It is not the young married folks alone who are going to build homes—who dream dreams of happiness in homes of their own—but many others who have long, too long, been renting the roofs over their heads are going to try this year to realize their desire to have a home of their own.

Whatever you plan to do by way of
BUILDING — REMODELING

Old Bethel News

We were sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Oleta Ray, wife of Oakley Ray, which occurred at Akron, Ohio, April 29. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Shelby. Burial took place at Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

The Pilot Oak 4-H Club boys took part in the celebration at Mayfield, Saturday. Eugene Moody and H. B. Gipson were contestants for the swinging station, being second to win. Pryors first, Pilot Oak second, Sedalia third and Cuba fourth. The Pryors boys will make the trip to Lexington.

We were sorry that the Pilot Oak Sewing Girls did not represent us at Mayfield, Saturday. We are pretty sure they would have stood a good chance of being also a winner.

Mr. Vernie Taylor has tobacco plants ready for setting, but on account of rain cannot prepare the ground.

Mr. Nolen Yates, Eugene Moody, Ollie James Mills, H. B. Gipson, Rozelle Yates, Iby Howard and Ethel Moody attended the rally at Mayfield.

The graders have been doing quite a bit of work on state line road. We appreciate seeing work done on it as it was greatly needed.

Edwin Cannon sold a nice bunch of hogs Saturday.

Mrs. Ira Rose is visiting Mrs. Adrian Rose and family.

Miss Nell Taylor is a visitor of Vernie Taylor and family.

Water Valley, Ky. (Route 1)

The storm that came on the night of the 1st, shook things up quite a bit in this locality. A tobacco barn on A. G. Stewart's farm was considerably shaken up, partly blown from the blocks. Several trees were blown and some topped. Mrs. Callie Gardner's henhouse and turkey house were both blown away, scattering her turkey eggs which were to hatch this week.

Mr. W. A. Stewart and family visited Jessie Gardner and family, Sunday afternoon.

Leonard Wilson's sick stock are improving.

Miss Carmie Lee Cooley spent last week with her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oath Cooley of near Cruitchfield.

Mrs. Della Robey is suffering from an affected arm. We hope it doesn't prove serious.

Mrs. A. G. Stewart and little daughter, Anita Gene, visited her sister, Mrs. Carl Cooley last Monday.

Mrs. Della Robey's sister, who was formerly Miss Carrie Gossum, is her guest for a few days.

A trustee election was held at Blair school house last Saturday and Mr. W. A. Stewart was elected.

Mrs. George Gardner and little daughter, Margaret Cathyrine, spent last Monday with Mrs. Robert Gardner.

Willingham Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Jeffress and family were last Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jeffress and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Walker and children were last Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Stallins and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Noles and family, Mrs. Philip Clements, Mr. and Mrs. John Luten and Joe Luten were Thursday afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burnie Stallins and family.

Several from this neighborhood attended the baccalaureat sermon at Cayce, Sunday morning.

Mrs. Coston Sams and sons spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Burnie Stallins and children.

Mother's Day Observance.

American homes are preparing to pay their annual tribute to motherhood Sunday, May 12, and programs will emphasize the important place which she holds in the family life. Tributes will be paid to her worth and central position in the institution of the family, which is still the basis of our social system.

The home life revolve about the mother. Usually she is the one who gives tone and direction to its activities. Father, to be sure, contributes his part, but after all it is the mother who creates the atmosphere that gives charm to the home.

To set aside a day in which the family pauses to recognize her accomplishments and her important place is a fine tribute to pay to her. Millions of mothers will be reminded of the respect and love of their husbands, and the affection of their children on Mother's Day. Many thousands of sons and daughters who have forgotten to write home for months, will send a note that will cheer and comfort their mothers. The letters, and flowers and boxes of candy will gladden the hearts of mothers on that day.

But why single out only one day or one week for this purpose and then express the affection with a gift. Why not speak a helpful and cheering word whenever opportunity presents itself year in and out. A wee bit of recognition of this kind, coming in the weeks in which there is no Mother's Day Observance, will accomplish much more in making her happy than will the card or token that she receives because Mother's Day reminded a son or daughter of his or her negligence and forgetfulness.

The spontaneous words of appreciation and love that are spoken when no special occasion prompts them are much more effective and gracious than those which are conventionally uttered on Mother's Day.

Mother's Day this year is a good starting place for a continuous appreciation of a mother's love and affection. If the sentiments of the celebration this year arouse in all of us a keener desire to show an appreciation every day of the year, the observance will create a fine attitude toward our mothers, which will make their lives happier and more cheerful for the manifestations of love which we are showing daily.

All who participate in the large number of programs that have been arranged this year will receive inspiration for a better and more constant love for their mothers. The purpose of the day will be richly served if hundreds return to their homes keenly alert to fill the hearts of their mothers with happiness. A mother cares more for a cheery greeting and a kind word of appreciation that habitually comes from her sons and daughters than she does for costly gifts occasionally given.

Commencement Time.

Some schools have passed the great day—commencement—but others are still in session and the students are in the throes of preparation for the big event of their lives, which is a stepping stone to new experiences.

No other occasion in life, save possible marriage, seems of such tremendous importance to these young people.

They now approach a great landmark of life, a time of fresh beginnings, and face untried issues. But young folks negotiate these sharp breaks with ease. Most of them are delighted to try their experienced wings.

Preparing for graduation, in the minds of some young women means mainly long sessions with the dressmaker and a gorgeous display of feathers. The girl of the struggling home sometimes makes more show than one from the abode of wealth.

In the case of the poor girl, her parents may feel that this is her one chance to show that she is as good as anybody, and according to true American standard she is. Her father and mother may make sacrifices on the necessities of life to give her the one big send-off of her life.

Such a thing is to be discouraged and those who are able to make a big show at commencement time can be of great service by setting the pace so that the burden of expense will not be so heavy on those less able to afford it.

The necessity of providing costly graduating clothes and incidentals has deterred some parents from sending their children through high school. The principles of American democracy would have every girl graduate appear in a simple, inexpensive gown, not necessarily uniform in design or color.

Those who adopt such ideas show that school training has put something into their heads. Young people preparing for graduation should have their hearts on higher purposes than dress. They need to keep their minds on the high plane of successful achievement so that they may continue their preparation for life in higher schools of learning.

Keeping Up Old Roads

With an automobile owned by practically every family in the land, the problem of good roads is an intensely local issue in every community. State highways cannot be built around every farm, but every farmer must get to town through roads.

Old roads upon which money has been spent for grading and graveling can not be recklessly "scrapped" without tremendous loss to the taxpayers. How to protect the old, worn-out rock surface and save the well-packed foundation for further use has been a considerable problem.

Today, however, methods have been developed for widening and resurfacing these old roads or broken-down, narrow pavements thereby saving the old road investment and giving rural communities hundreds of miles of smooth, hard-surfaced highways at a price they can afford to pay. "Salvage the old roads" should become a slogan of every rural section.

Deeds, Not Words, Count.

One's life should not be measured by time, but by service.

Its history should not be so much a record of his words as of his acts. Its influence is not in proportion to his years, but to his righteousness. He has been of service to his fellows to the extent that his deeds have been constructive.

It is not so much the evil things one has refrained from doing as the good things he has done.

Positiveness on the side of right gets him somewhere. It builds, it lifts, it pulls, it purifies and enables.

Quiescent good is not a force for right. It does no more good than it does harm—not as much.

Action is as imperatively demanded in mental and spiritual things as in material. It is not he who offers no discouraging words who cheers and comforts, but he who speaks the word of encouragement. Keeping silent when one's friend is overwhelmed with grief does not comfort him. It is the friendly hand upon his shoulder, the sympathetic word in his ear, the act of helpfulness in his behalf that means something to him.

The negative man is a failure. He may pull back, but those who pull forward carry his weight.

He is a consumer, but not a producer. He uses the light, but creates none. He slacks his thirst, but refuses to go to the well for water.

The life of service is the happy life.

Faint heart or complexion never won a husband.

You can't fool a woman by lying to her, unless it's a compliment.

God pity the rich; the poor still can enjoy wishing for things they cannot afford.

In some ways automobiles are almost human. The cheaper the car, the louder the horn.

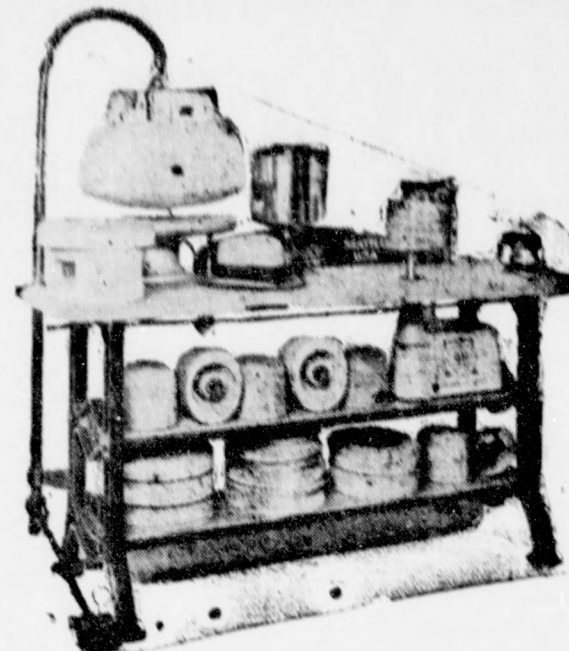

Bad luck is usually cursed for bad luck, while good luck is usually taken for granted.

The chief objection to some family trees is that they didn't stop growing about 80 years ago.

Sometimes talk is cheap. Some times it isn't. Often a little of it costs a man a lot of money.

About the only inalienable right a man doesn't have to fight for is that one of siding with the majority.

INTRODUCING STILL HIGHER STANDARDS OF EFFICIENCY

AN outstanding achievement... the first all-steel refrigerators. New low prices. The greatest values ever offered by General Electric.

This all-steel refrigerator development is another contribution to better living—made by the engineers and scientists of the General Electric Research Laboratories.

Now you can buy a refrigerator with a cabinet built like a safe. One with doors that will always fit perfectly. One which will operate on the least amount of current. One which shuts out the heat—keeps in the cold.

The hermetically sealed mechanism remains just as it always has been—sealed away from dust and difficulties permanently oiled, quiet, unseen, untouched—one of the miracles of modern science. The General Electric, too, was the first to provide an easily accessible temperature control which speeds up the freezing of ice cubes when the user desires.

Because of mass production economies, prices now start at only $215 at the factory. There are six sizes. See them at our display rooms—examine them thoroughly—let us explain our plan of conveniently spaced time payments.

POULTRY

By J. T. Watkins

The other day we read a news item in the Chicago paper, from Lincoln, Illinois, in which it stated that on May 1, there were mailed at the Lincoln post office, 75,000 baby chicks. This started me to figuring upon the output of baby chicks from this vicinity. As near as I could estimate, there has been about one hundred thousand baby chicks hatched this spring in and around Fulton. (Every Methodist preacher who reads this will grin from ear to ear, as you know they have the reputation of liking fried chicken). Now to the person who does not make a study of this business, it seems an enormous amount of baby chickens, and one would think enough to flood Fulton County with chickens of every nation, but as a fact it is about one-third of what it should be. By a careful estimation, early this spring, we appraised the value of poultry in this county at $60,000; in fact, one poultry buyer said if he could get all the poultry delivered to him within one week's time, he would pay that much for the entire lot, so we feel we didn't place the figure too high. Now again, this seems a large amount, and if I had that much money I would tell Rockefeller where to head in, but even so, there should be at least $200,000 worth of poultry in this county.

Some of you folks will say, when you read this article, "Oh chicken, you are having a pipe dream out of that little old Jimmy pipe of yours," but not so, there is only about one-third the amount of poultry in this county that there should be. There should be at least 100 hens on every farm. And they should every one of them be "STANDARD BRED." The commission men are continually asking for a better class of poultry and when Fulton county can furnish a complete carload of one breed, you will see a premium of at least five cents per pound over the current market price.

This is the month lice and mites hatch, and believe me, they out hatch the chickens. Now is a good time to start your battle with them and fight them to a finish. One of the best ways to combat lice is to have good flat roost poles, and if you have nothing else to paint them with, give them a good painting every week with plain coal oil or kerosene. If you can get some heavy oil from some one who has an auto, you can mix this oil half and half with the kerosene. Mites will have to be sprayed every week or two with a good oil emulsion—drawn them out with oil. To rid your flock of the scaly-leg louse, dip their legs in pure oil clear up to the feathers every ten days for about a month and you will see the legs get slick and shiny again. Remember, every hundred pounds of feed you buy for your chickens, the lice take one tenth of it. Get rid of them and stay rid of them. It can be easily done.

I was up to see the flock of Sam Holt the other day. Mr. Holt breeds Black Minorcas, and I saw some of the classiest hens as far as shape and type could be for this breed, as any one would like to see. Mr. Holt does not go in for show stock very strong, but I could pick out about a dozen of his hens and get me a good-shaped male bird to go with them and knock down some of the best prizes in this neck of the woods, Memphis included.

Another breeder of Black Minorcas is Mrs. Lon Jones. While her flock is not as large as Mr. Holt's, still she has some typy hens, just as good as anyone's hens, and her flock is headed by two dandy cockerels. I think next year these two cockerels will be hard to beat as cock birds, and next year they should make excellent breeders, and mated to the right kind of hens produce some show birds good enough to show almost anywhere.

While I am speaking of Black Minorcas, we don't want to forget our old friend and original Minorca breeder of Fulton, Tom Exum. You know Tom has had the doggonedest habit of winning everything in Black Minorcas at the fair for the last several years, and when he sets his head to win, he generally wins. But illness of himself and in his family has handicapped him for the last couple of years and he hasn't had the time to devote to his flock, so he does not expect to exert himself much this fall, but says when he gets ready to stage a comeback, everybody better look out.

Well, by the time you read this, we will have already held our poultry meeting, elected our officers for the ensuing year, and decided what part we will take in the show at the fair this fall. You will be informed next week in this column, just where we are "AT."

GOOD WOMAN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Amelia Foster Lagerwall, wife of A. F. Lagerwall, passed away at her home 308 Third street, Wednesday evening, May 1, after a brief illness. Mrs. Lagerwall has been a resident of Fulton for the past fifteen years, and had endeared herself to many loving friends whose lives she had touched. She was a faithful member of the Episcopal church. Mrs. Lagerwall is survived by her devoted husband, one son and one daughter.

The funeral service was held at Trinity Episcopal church, Friday morning at ten o'clock, conducted by Rev. Dr. D. L. Johnston.

The entire community sincerely sympathize with the bereaved.

FULTON GIRL WINS HONORS

Miss Margaret Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Allen, who is a Junior at the University of Kentucky, won several honors of mention this year. During the first semester she was initiated into Eta Sigma Phi, National Honorary Latin and Greek Fraternity and also Phi Beta Women's National Professional Music and Dramatic Art Fraternity. Just recently she was initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education Fraternity.

Each of these fraternities require a high standard of scholarship, also special ability in each of the fields they represent, therefore Miss Allen is to be congratulated on being received into them.

Miss Allen is now attending a National Convention of Eta Sigma Phi at Columbus, Miss., as a delegate from the State.

Tragic Death of Father And Daughter.

E. C. Foster and Miss Eunice Foster Found Under Car in Slough Near Melber

The discovery by a passing motorist of an automobile overturned in a slough on the Clinton road near Melber about 12 miles from Paducah Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, led to the finding of the drowned bodies of E. C. Foster, 1110 South Fourth street, Paducah, and his daughter, Miss Eunice Ellen Foster, young school teacher of McCracken county.

Only the wheels of the overturned car were visible above the water when it was discovered. The motorist summoned aid and the car was lifted enough to remove the bodies from underneath it. Tracks on the highway indicated that for some unknown reason the car had been turned sharply to the right, causing it to plunge off an 8-foot embankment into the slough.

JUST LIKE HOME FOOD

Smith's Cafe is in reality a home-like restaurant because it has been trying to overcome the prevalent idea that restaurants can't serve food like you get at home.

Scores of patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they eat here so regularly.

Years spent in catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve wholesome, tasty meals.

The next time you feel like eating away from home, bring your family here.

Railroad News

The "thrill of a lifetime" was accorded to a motorist with a new car near Meriden, Iowa, recently when Engineer W. H. Bird of the Illinois Central System stopped his train, practically "on a dime," within four feet of the stalled car in which the terror-stricken motorist still sat, according to the May issue of the Illinois Central Magazine. Engineer Bird and Fireman C. C. Hollister then got out and helped the motorist push his car off the track.

Typical of the cooperation which the management of the I. C. System is receiving from organized labor among its employees is the record of Loyalty Lodge No. 745, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Jackson, Miss., in the voluntary solicitation of traffic, according to the May issue of the I. C. Magazine. A committee appointed by the president of this lodge worked intensively for six weeks, in the spare time of its members, and obtained 303 carload shipments, 8 less-than-carload shipments and 69 passenger trips, besides arranging in 9 instances for the use of I. C. package cars. Future business has also been promised these solicitors by large shippers.

Signs Reading "Goods used by this store are shipped by rail only—save the highways" have appeared recently in a good many store windows in Freeport, Ill., according to the May issue of the I. C. Magazine. Freeport is a division headquarters and shop point on the Illinois Central System. The originator of this "ship by rail" appeal in Freeport is W. H. Jenner, an insurance man of that city, who was formerly secretary of the local chamber of commerce.

Among the County Agents.

Anslem Reiz, a Daviess county farmer, owned a sow which last year produced two litters weighing 4,239 pounds, entitling him to a gold medal from the Louisville Board of Trade Live Stock Improvement Association.

The Cynthiana Rotary Club will divide $110 in prizes among Harrison county rural schools having the best landscaped ground.

95 percent of the lambs in Garrard county will go to market as docked ewes and wethers.

100 Scott county junior agricultural club boys and girls are raising poultry under the direction of the county agent and local leaders.

A farmers' luncheon club has been organized in the Cannonsburg community in Boyd county. Girls studying home economics in the high school serve the luncheon.

Creameries and railroads cooperated with the county agent in a dairy campaign in Simpson county.

In an effort to encourage the growing of orchard grass, the Yopp Seed Company at Paducah supplied a pound of seed to each of 29 farmers in Hickman and Carlisle counties.

24 Casey county farmers reported good results from using black leaf 40 on roosts to kill chicken lice.

Junior Agricultural club boys in Fulton and Marshall counties will grow corn for a seed company at Paducah.

200 Washington county farmers sowed Jap clover in old pastures.

Kentucky Fourth in New Jersey Herd

1157 Jersey herds were established in Kentucky in 1928, according to O. E. Van Cleave, field man for the American Jersey Cattle Club. In only three other states were more new herds founded—Ohio, Texas and Mississippi.

Kentucky was 8th among the 48 states in the number of Jersey transfers last year, 2,351 transfers of purebred cattle being made for breeders in this state. Kentucky was 8th in point of registrations, 2,875 head being recorded by the American Jersey Cattle Club for farmers here.

The College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky reports 10 dairy herd improvement associations in the state with a total of 4,200 cows on test.

Junior Clubs Have 525 Calves on Feed

300 junior agriculture club boys and girls in 20 counties have 525 calves on feed for the annual fat stock show and sale at the Bourbon Stock Yards in Louisville in November, according to the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky. Several counties have not reported, and the total for the year is expected to reach 600 calves.

The calves averaged about 8 months of age and 450 pounds in weight when placed on feed. They are being fattened on grain and grass.

The counties and the number of calves being fed follow: Bourbon, 20; Caldwell, 23; Daviess, 30; Franklin, 20; Garrard, 60; Grayson, 15; Harrison, 5; Henry, 30; Hopkins, 25; Larue, 42; Montgomery, 20; Nelson, 20; Nicholas, 15; Oldham, 20; Pulaski, 30; Shelby, 15; Spencer, 5; Union, 20; Washington, 60, and Wayne, 50.

Obion County Judge is Death's Victim.

Henry C. Stanfield Succumbs From Heart Attack
Union City, Tenn., May 6—Judge Henry C. Stanfield, 64, died at his home here this morning following a heart attack. He had served almost four years as county judge. Previous to his services as judge he was an attorney at law since early manhood and served as deputy county court clerk two terms about 30 years ago.

Judge Stanfield came to Union City when a mere boy and has been a loyal citizen throughout his life.

He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Louise, who is a high school graduate this year, and one sister, Miss Tabbie Stanfield, who made her home with them.

Richer and Poorer.

Throughout the centuries of advancing civilization apostles of unrest have rung the changes on the assertion that "the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer." There have been alternating periods of expansion and contraction. In good times all shared in the prosperity, while in bad times the poor suffered greatly. But the movement as a whole has been persistently toward improvement.

The rich have become richer, and the number of rich or moderately well to do has increased enormously. But that the poor has grown poorer is not true. It is impossible for wealth to increase without its benefits being distributed to every stratum of society. For proof one has but to look around him.

In the 17th century in England the accumulation of wealth was as noticeable as has been the accumulation in the United States in the last few years. The rich got very much richer in that time, but the number of people with estates increased by leaps and bounds, those rising from the ranks of the poor, while the condition of the latter class vastly improved, as was shown by their ability to gratify ambitions of the time wholly out of their reach.

And today the betterment of the condition of all classes of society as evidenced by ability to gratify material desires is far greater than 300 years ago, or 10 years ago.

Will Tell of Thrilling Adventures in Arctic Siberia—Hairbreadth Escape from Bolsheviks.

A hero of the Arctic Circle, Capt. Sigurdur K. Gudmundson, will tell at the coming Redpath Chautauqua here his thrilling story of his personal adventures in the frozen wastes of Arctic Siberia.

A native of Iceland, with the blood of the Vikings running through his veins, Captain Gudmundson's life has been marked by adventure after adventure. In 1920 he responded to an appeal of the Soviet government to bring food to the distressed peoples of northwestern Siberia. Barely betrayed by the Bolsheviks, his vessel and its cargo seized, the intrepid Captain with one sailor made a midwinter trip of 2,200 miles across the Arctic wilderness, using dogs, horses, and reindeer.

The purpose of this trip was to appear before the Soviet Council to ask for justice. Justice being refused, Captain Gudmundson defied the Council, effected an almost miraculous escape from the Reds and returned to his vessel only to find it wrecked by ice. Repairing an abandoned vessel which he found nearby, he set sail for America and safety.

Captain Gudmundson is a speaker of rare force and power. He has the ability to paint vividly pictures of unusual scenes and adventures so that they seem to live before the minds of his audiences. His speech is marked by just enough accent to add realism to his recitals.

Lesson for May 12

THE EARLY MINISTRY OF JEREMIAH

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 1:4-10; 26:1-24

GOLDEN TEXT—We must obey God rather than men.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Doing Hard Things for God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Doing Hard Things for God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Taking a Stand for God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Faithfulness in the Face of Difficulties.

I. Jeremiah's Call (1:4-10).

1. It was prenatal (vv. 4, 5).

2. Before Jeremiah was born, God ordained him a prophet.

3. His diffidence (v. 6).

4. This seems to have grown out of his youth and inexperience.

5. His hesitancy overcome (vv. 7, 8).

6. God graciously appeared unto him and made clear that he should (1) Go where sent, (2) Speak as commanded, (3) Be unafraid of their faces. The servant of God is called upon to face strong enemies. (4) Be assured of the divine presence.

7. The divine message given (v. 9).

8. Not merely the thoughts, but the proper words to express the thoughts, were put into the prophet's mouth.

9. Nature of his ministry (v. 10).

10. It was to be wider than that of prophesying. Six words are given as descriptive thereof. The first four are destructive in their implication—"root out," "pull down," "destroy," and "throw down"; two constructive, "build," and "plant."

11. Jeremiah's Grief (2:1, cf. 6:10).

12. The unbelief of the people made him feel that his efforts were fruitless. Seeing so clearly the awful doom which awaited his people and nation, and their willful opposition, he wept sorely.

13. Jeremiah's Prophecy in the Temple Court (26:1-24).

14. Jeremiah's solemn warning to Judah (vv. 1-7).

15. The Lord commanded him to stand in a conspicuous place in the temple and proclaim the judgment which was about to fall upon them because of their sins. The object was to move them to repentance (v. 3). If they would not repent, God would make the temple as Shiloh (v. 6). Just as Shiloh was once the dwelling place of the Lord and now fallen into decay and abandoned, so would it be with the temple.

16. Jeremiah on trial (vv. 8-11).

17. (1) Cause of arrest (v. 8). It was for faithfully speaking all that the Lord had commanded.

18. (2) The charge (vv. 8, 9). Thou shalt surely die. They charged him with a capital crime. According to this charge his guilt was twofold: a. Pretending to speak for God, b. Speaking against the temple and the city. According to this charge he was guilty of blasphemy and sacrilege. The one who prophesied without God's command was to be punished by death (Deut. 18:20). Blasphemy was also punishable by death. (Lev. 24:16).

19. (3) The princes sit in judgment (vv. 10, 11). Matters of state were not entirely in the hands of the priests and elders, but were in part controlled by members of the royal family.

20. 3. Jeremiah's defense (vv. 12-15).

21. Threats of death did not deter him from preaching, but only made him repeat his message with clearness.

22. (1) Reiterates his divine commission (v. 12). He plainly told them that he was God's messenger and in opposing him they were opposing God.

23. (2) His exhortation (v. 13). He urged them to amend their ways and obey God and thus turn aside the divine judgment.

24. (3) He gave himself up (v. 14). He did not resist the powers of government (Rom. 13:1).

25. (4) Warnings of fatal consequences (v. 15). He told them that God had sent him and that if they killed him they would be guilty of defying God.

26. 4. Jeremiah saved (vv. 16-24).

27. (1) The judgment of the princes (v. 16). They found him "not guilty."

28. (2) The speech of the elders (vv. 17-23).

29. The elders pled for Jeremiah and adduced two cases in illustration: a. Micah (vv. 18, 19). Micah had prophesied against Jerusalem, but King Hezekiah instead of putting him to death, repented, and thus turned aside the punishment which was impending.

30. b. Urijah (vv. 20-23). Urijah prophesied against the city and the land and thus incurred the wrath of Jehoiakim, who even brought him back from Egypt and slew him.

31. (3.) Rescued by Ahikam (v. 24). Ahikam must have been a man of influence, to be able to interfere.

Faith

Faith is not blind acceptance of absurdity. Faith is the completion of a transaction in which we commit ourselves to a personal relationship with an unseen and living Master. Faith is such an adventure as every sailor makes when he sets out for an unseen port. Faith is our response to our yearning for the God who has made us for fellowship with himself. Faith is the answer of the vibrant human spirit to the music of Eternity. —(Zora S. Davis.

FOOD LIKE YOU GET AT HOME

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home. Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here so frequently to eat.

Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals.

The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.

KNOW FULTON

By Newton Ruddle
(Prize Winner)

The young citizens of Fulton, Kentucky, would like to know when their little home town was established. First, we shall go back to the beginning of Fulton, and watch it grow up to now.

In 1871 Fulton had only two grocery stores and a stock pen surrounded with trees or forest. In 1873, Fulton had grown up to the size of Halls, Tennessee, and the main part of Fulton was down on Meadows block. Where the City Hall now stands was a saw mill that blew up and killed four men. The sound of the explosion was heard four miles away and it jarred the earth. The reason the mill blew up was that they let it get dry and then turned cold water in the boiler, which caused much steam which blew it up.

East Fulton was planted in corn about 1875. About 1880, Fulton had built one hundred homes in one year. In 1884, Carr Institute School was built to educate young people. In 1889 the L. C. Railroad depot was where the Division Office now stands. The Usona Hotel is a very old building of Fulton. When election day came, the people used to cast their votes in the old building where the Irby Drug Company is at present.

Dr. Ruddle's house has some changes made in it. There was a fence around it with pretty trees.

The switch engine that made up the first train was the little engine numbered one-thirty-two. The railroad did run at the back of the division office. After the Civil War, the Confederate soldiers marched up and down the muddy streets. The first six churches of Fulton were the First Presbyterian, Cumberland Presbyterian, Episcopal, Christian, First Baptist and Methodist. Carr's Park was more beautiful than it is today.

Fulton did have many tobacco barns which kept the streets crowded with wagons waiting for their turns to unload.

The Browders' Mill was owned by Burton and Palmer. The mill kept the streets crowded with wheat wagons waiting for their turn to unload. A. Huddleston's Hardware Store had a porch over the walls, but it is the same building of today.

In 1901 the Baptist Church on State Line was built. In 1921 the Fulton High School building was built, in 1925, the First Baptist Church on Second Street was built. In 1927, Carey Reed began to concrete the streets of Fulton which the people did not enjoy in 1871. In 1929 the east part of Fulton is being concreted. The Swift Building and the new ice factory are being built in 1929.

Some of my ideas of Fulton are as follows: Fulton, Kentucky, is one of the most progressive, healthful and attractive of the smaller cities of the Central States, and is growing steadily. Fulton has through service to and from Cincinnati, Louisville, St. Louis and Chicago on the North; New Orleans, Birmingham, Memphis, Nashville, Atlanta and Jackson on the South. Fulton has a population of about seven thousand and is the distributing center of a large and rapidly developing section; the commercial center of Western Kentucky and Northwestern Tennessee.

It is a city of business enterprises and progressive ideas; a city of thrifty, intelligent, cultured, hospitable people; a city of churches and Christian homes. The "Square Deal" characterizes its municipal life, and integrity is a distinguishing feature of its business life; the atmosphere of its social life is pure and wholesome, while the tone of its moral and religious life is high and refreshing.

Its papers, daily and weekly, its railway, telegraph and telephone communications, put it in easy and quick touch with all the outside world, thus rendering it a most desirable city to live in, and at the same time enabling it to present many advantages and to offer many inducements to business men and manufacturers.

Its banking institutions are safe and accommodating; its capitalists are ever ready to assist in establishing and maintaining manufacturing enterprises; its real estate men are always in a position to offer inducement in building sites for homes, business houses or factories, and the city government will do its part in not taxing new industries for a term of years, in fact, encouragement meets the new comer on every hand and only "fair play" is asked of all who become citizens of our little city.

The private schools of Fulton have long passed but her public schools are excellent, hence be enjoyed here are such as to the educational advantages to be an inducement to parents seeking a location in which to rear their families, for certainly no father or mother today can afford to deny their children the opportunities of an education.

The churches of Fulton represent the leading denominations, and are cordial and fraternal in their relations to one another.

Fulton's sanitary conditions are perfect for a city of its size, so it is not surprising to find the health of her people good. Her climate not only makes Fulton a pleasant place at all seasons, but is such as to be conducive to healthfulness. The winters are just cold enough to afford the benefits of frost without subjecting one to the trying cold of a more northern climate. The summers never of excessive heat as will be seen from the statement that sunstrokes and cases of prostration from heat are unknown.

The surrounding country is such as to insure the future of Fulton. But few sections can boast of so fertile agricultural lands or of more varied agricultural products. Corn, wheat, tobacco, clover, timothy and alfalfa are the principal farm products though many other crops can be raised profitably. For instance, more cotton can be raised to the acre than is the average for the cotton belt; the peach, apple, pear, plum, cherry and many other fruits are raised with ease and profit, while most of the smaller fruits and berries reach unusual perfection. Then one should not forget that all garden products thrive, making it possible for truck farming to become as extensive as it is profitable in the immediate vicinity of Fulton.

Look where you will—North, South, East, West—"It is a good sight to see what Heaven hath done for its delightful land; what fruits of fragrance blush from every tree, what joyous prospects over the earth expand."

But we can boast of something greater than a city of material prosperity in the midst of a fertile region. It is more promising than a city producing only wares and merchandise; grander than a city made up of factories, banks and stock exchanges; more to be desired than any other product of civilization—for she can boast of her homes. These are her pride; in them is her happiness; on them her hopes, from them radiates that influence which has made the future promising of better things; to them the reader may go, expecting to find only that hospitality which characterizes the best communities. And he will not be disappointed.

For the professional man, the business man, the laboring man and the capitalist, Fulton has a welcome, and can offer him inducements as will attract those who know "a good thing." But to appreciate fully the advantages to be had here, one must needs come and see for himself.

"Come, and if you go away, you will then return to stay."

High School Notes

The latter part of last week was devoted to the preliminaries for the winners who will represent us in the spring meet.

The preliminary contest in oratory was held last Wednesday. Those participating in the oratorical contest were Randolph Kramer, who gave "The New South," by Henry W. Grady; Avery Hancock, who gave "The True Grandeur of Nations," by Charles Sumner; Alton Wade, who gave Webster's Reply to Haynes. The judges for this contest were Mrs. M. C. Nall, Bro. B. J. Cantrell and Mr. Moss of the South Fulton High school. The decision was awarded in favor of Alton Wade, who will represent us in the field meet.

Thursday morning was devoted to the music contests. Judges were Mrs. Chas. Brann and Mrs. Lois Hindman. The Piano Contest was first on program. Elva Davis played March by Mendelssohn, and Joseph Williams, who played Prelude in G. Minor by Rachmaninoff. Elva Davis was chosen winner of the contest. In the preliminary contest in voice, Annie Laura McWherter sang "Bird of June," and Randolph Kramer sang "The Tempest Hour." The judges awarded the decision to Annie Laura McWherter.

On Friday morning the contest in Impromptu Speaking was held. Randolph Kramer talked on Farm Relief and Avery Hancock talked on the Prohibition Problems. The speakers chose their subject an hour before the contest from a list of current important questions, and they had an hour in which to prepare their speeches. The judges for the contest were Mr. Paul Hornbeak, Mr. Tom Franklin and Mr. Ernest Fall. They awarded the decision to Randolph Kramer.

There being no other entry in Public Discussion, Avery Hancock will represent Fulton High in the field meet.

The Girls' Declamatory Contest was participated in by Elizabeth Williamson, who gave "The Night Watch"; Julia F. Beadles, who gave "When Love and Duty Meet"; Vivian

Austin Springs News

Miss Eula Ainley has returned to Murray, where she will resume her studies in the Murray State Teachers College. She has spent the past two weeks at home, owing to the illness and death of her grandmother, Mrs. Luraine Ainley.

Mr. and Mrs. Toy Jorgens have moved to this place, and are located on the north side, and will co-work with Ed Fields & Son Lumber Co., and Mr. Faunt Gibson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Mathis spent Sunday with Mr. Mathis' sister, Mrs. Walter Morris, of Harris Grove, Ky.

Mrs. R. O. Vincent has returned home from a two weeks stay in Mayfield, where she was under the care of a doctor. She is much improved, and her many friends will be glad to hear that she is on the road to recovery.

Mary Dell Jones, of near Fulton, spent last week with Lennie Sutton and other relatives near here.

Roy Vincent placed an order with the A. C. Bondurant Lumber Co., for lumber, which he will erect a house on the land recently bought from his father, Mr. Nick Vincent.

Mrs. Fount Gibson is reported to be some better, although a nurse from Paducah is attending her bedside.

Mr. Henry Moffitt and son have 22 acres of corn planted. A number of farmers have a few acres planted, but these hustling men report to have the largest acreage.

Mrs. L. B. Lassiter continues about the same.

Mrs. Faris Rickman and son Faris, Jr., spent last week with Mrs. Rickman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loy Abernathy.

Mrs. Milas Dismang has returned to her home in Arkansas, after attending the bedside during the illness and death of her mother, Mrs. Lou-raine Ainley. She was accompanied as far as Cairo, Ill., by Mr. and Mrs. Vance Glover, who made the trip by motor.

Mrs. Jim Dudley passed away at her home near Good Springs, after a few days' illness of paralysis. The deceased was born April 2, 1929, age 60 years and 1 month. She professed faith in Christ several years ago and lived a devoted Christian life. She was married to Jim Dudley several years ago and was a loving wife, and companion, a good neighbor and was held in high esteem by all.

She will be greatly missed by all as well as in the home. She leaves to mourn her departure, a companion, a step-son, Mr. John Dudley, of Detroit, a step-daughter, Mrs. Charlie Blaylock, three brothers and four sisters. Funeral services were held by Rev. J. L. Pettit at the home and interment took place at the Harris cemetery near here. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

AN Antidote for LONELINESS

To you modern women, telephone service in your home means freedom from the pangs of loneliness. For it stands ready to bridge the gulf between you and your friends in town, or those in distant places.

And what of the sense of security afforded by the telephone? What a comfort it is to know that in case of emergencies you are within instant touch of the various protective agencies—the police, hospitals, doctors, fire department.

Have you ever reckoned the cost of telephone service compared to the comforts and conveniences it returns to you?
