German-American Portrait Given by Emil Jannings in Paramount Film

Portraying the role of a Gettysburg citizen in his latest picture, Emil Jannings gives another of his remarkable performances. He portrays "U.S. of the Fathers," which comes to the Strand the next Monday and Tuesday.

Jannings, in a statement made to the press yesterday, said he was to portray a role with such interest and when compared to making "U.S. of the Fathers," I was convinced that here was a role that the American people would appreciate. A role modeling the average American family.

I believe that he is the right person for the part, and I know about it. I believe the American public will enjoy this, it’s my best lead.”

Jannings was born in Brookland, Pa., April 12, 1889, the first of four sons with his parents to Gertrude, his mother, and John Jannings, his father. He spent a time that spread over the entire continent and received the peculiar order of things by coming back to America already a star in his own country.

Jannings has an exceptional gift in portraying and in "U.S. of the Fathers." Ruth Chatterton, the lead star, has the role opposite him. Others in the cast are Harry Norton, R. B. Haggart, Max Baer and Henry Hull. Luther Berger, the celebrated European director, handled the direction of the film, his second American devoted picture.

American homes are preparing to pay their annual tribute to the motherhood of May. The programs will emphasize the love of the community for the mothers associated with the family life. Usually she is the only one who gives love and direction daily to its activities. Father, to be sure, contributes his part, but the programs have been planned for the recognition of the lady, who is the constant vital center of the family.

Guiding Your Children

Bad habits lead children astray. Good habits guide them safely into the path of character, uprightness and independence.

You can start them right by teaching them to save money. Set them an example by saving yourself. Make them admire thrift.

Once started, the saving habit helps to form other good habits. It provides experience for them in handling their own funds. This starts in the right direction and is but a simple step. Bring children to the bank when you start them to school.

Richer and Power

Throughout the annals of advancing civilization up to the present time, there may be in the assertion that “the rich are getting richer and the poor poorer.” There have been alternating periods of expansion and constriction. In great times all classes are prosperous, while in bad times the poor suffer greatly. But the movement in which a family has been persistently toward improvement.

The rich have become richer, and the number of rich or industriously well-to-do has increased constantly. But that the poor’s moral power is not true. It is responsible for wealth to increase without its benefits being distributed to every station of society.

For proof one has but to look around him.

In the 15th century in England the accumulation of wealth was far greater than in the 21st century in the last few years. The rich were very much richer in that time. The number of people with wealth increased by leaps and bounds, so that the numbers of the poor, while the total wealth of the country was improved, was shown in the ability to pay their debts and ultimately to accumulate time wholly out of their reach.

And today the instrumentality of the conditions of all classes so easily as evidenced by showing generally material desires is far greater than 100 years ago, or 10 years ago.

An Antidote for Loneliness

To modern women, the home, or your home office, stands as a refuge from the pace of loneliness. For it holds within its walls a person to talk to, and a world of interests to pursue. There is no need to worry about loneliness, for you have friends nearby, and those who are far away are just a phone call away.

And where is the home of beauty affected by the machine age? The answer is, of course, the home! We can all agree that in care of emergencies you are saving lives, and in the face of death, you are meeting it with dignity. The police, doctors, and nurses all work together to save lives.

Have you ever noticed the coldness of telephone conversations? It's surprising how quickly we lose our patience when talking on the phone. The problem is that we can't see the person we're talking to, and we can't hear the inflections in their voice. It's a reminder to us all to be more present and engaged in our conversations.

The young fellows—from a strong, athletic state to a gentle, scholarly state—must also learn to respect each other. They are all important to the state, and they should be treated with respect. The older men should be gentle with the younger ones, and the younger ones should respect the older men. It's a lesson that all of us need to learn.

The schools of Fulton are providing a great education for the young people. The teachers are excellent, and the students are hardworking. The schools are providing a great future for the young people of Fulton.
