Prepared for Anything Department: If good playing doesn't work this year the Railroaders aren't going to take it lying down. To wit—The Fulton Baseball Association have received two new prayers.—Fulton Daily Leader.

Sometimes the want ad page in a newspaper has it all over the comic page when it comes to being funny. Maybe it's because the funniest things always seem to happen when people are not trying to be funny. The following classified ads appeared in the Louisville Commercial of 1893, so you see this has been going on for a long time:

"Help Wanted—Woman to nurse lady sick during the day only."

"Lost—On Jefferson street car, piano instructor."

"For Sale—Brand new combination folding bed and piano."

"Wanted—The acquaintance of a lady not over 25 by a man of 30; non-mercenary working girl preferred."

If you're dreading that next visit to the dentist, read this and be thankful you're a human being instead of an elephant.

Four men at a veterinary hospital in Negapatam, India, tugged for 30 minutes on a rope tied to a cow elephant's first molar before the tooth was finally extracted. And for two weeks prior to that, the elephant was given daily treatment designed to loosen the molar, which protruded so far out of line the animal could not chew properly.

The tooth, removed under local anesthetic, weighed 9 pounds, had a grinding surface of 11 inches and a root 14 inches long.

If a creel census taken by the Fisheries Department of the Division of Game and Fish may be taken as accurate, then Kentucky fishermen spent almost $10,000,000 last year in pursuit of their favorite sport.

A breakdown of the figures reveals that each of those questioned made an average of 14 plus fishing trips during the year, and the cost for each fisherman for each trip averaged $2.49. This would mean that with a $1.00 license fee each of these fishermen spent a total of $36.40 during the year.

The census also revealed that each fishing trip was of a little more than five and one-half hours and that the take was 2.71 fish per trip. Fishermen in Livingston county had the highest take in the state, the census showed, with each trip being almost four hours and the take per trip being 12 and one-half fish. Henderson fishermen averaged 3.3 hours per trip and yielded 4.9 fish on each jaunt.

Jack B. Kellam, head of the art department at Centre College, has been awarded first prize of $250 in the 22nd annual Kentucky and Indiana Art Exhibition in Louisville, it was announced here. Kellam's winner a portrait of his mother, topped 60 other entries in the exhibit which is sponsored by the Art Center Association of the University of Louisville.

The award was presented to Kellam by a representative of Aetna Oil Company which donated the first-place prize.

Contracts for black-topping the Middle Road out of Fulton will be let next Friday, April 22, the News learned yesterday. In the meantime, some filling of bad spots has been underway.

The News is delighted to welcome back to Fulton, Richard Looney and his interesting family. Dick is associated with the A-1 Cleaners and is mighty glad to get back here too. The Looneys attend the Baptist Church and reside at 305 Paschall street.

Railroaders Theme Song Is Recorded By Ham Ethridge

Thanks to "Ham" Ethridge, local radio man, baseball fan and sports booster deluxe, the Fulton Railroaders baseball team now has a theme song... and besides being the only theme song in the Kitty League, it is probably the most unique in the business.

It all came about in this fashion. Besides being known as the "Railroaders" the local ball park is located right alongside the Illinois Central main line, where considerable switching and train movement usually takes place during ball game broadcasts.

As a result, broadcasts and announcements during games have been frequently drowned out by rumbling trains, blaring whistles, bells, steam and what have you. Visiting radio announcers and reporters have frequently devoted as much time to this sidelight as they have to the game. Several, during the past winter, have wondered just how the railroad trains down in Fulton have been getting along.

"Ham" Ethridge, not overlooking a bet to have more fun with the visitors this coming season, decided that the Fulton team had a tailor-made theme song just waiting to be recorded for regular use.

Securing a couple of blank records, a recorder, a microphone and plenty of wire, Ham drove to Pierce Station early one afternoon last week and set up his apparatus at the I.C. main line, placing the microphone along side the tracks. As No. 1 (City of New Orleans) came tearing along, Ham motioned for the engineer to whistle. The same procedure was used for a fast freight train. The recording of the whistles approaching the microphone, and the terrific rumble as the freight passed the point, was brought to Fulton and "auditioned" for effect.

The recorded piercing shrieks and rumbles of trains which you will hear before the home ball games this year will be either taken from trains No. 1, No. 2, No. 25 or a fast freight... made last Wednesday at Pierce Station. The Fulton "Railroaders" now have a theme song

HOLDS POST—Mrs. Charles Dixon has been re-elected president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Fulton, Ky.

MRS. H. G. BUTLER REPORTS ON FINE MAYFIELD SPEAKING

(The News is indebted to Mrs. H. G. Butler for the fine report she has handed in on the speaking engagement she attended in Mayfield of Judge Camille Kelly, Judge of the Juvenile Court in Memphis. Nationally famous Judge Kelly is America's foremost authority on problems confronting teenagers today. R. L. McNatt of Dresden also attended the meet.)

Only those who heard Judge Camille Kelly discuss delinquency at the high school at Mayfield last Thursday night can really know what was missed by those who did not attend.

In a style of her own, Judge Kelly held the large audience "spellbound" for about two hours. She covered many of her past experiences, in a most fascinating way. In a typically Christ-like manner of humbleness and entirely unassuming, she told how she has saved souls from repetition of sin and led them to the straight and narrow way, by her counsel and guidance.

The Fine Arts Department of the Mayfield Woman's Club is to be commended in having offered such public service to local citizens. Judge Kelly was the first

MRS. LILY LUTEN IS LAID TO REST

Mrs. Lily Nolen Luten passed away Wednesday afternoon at 12:40 at her home on Carr St. She was born December 8, 1852, the daughter of Judge and Mrs. William Augustus Nolen of Paducah. She was first married to Charles R. Adams of Paducah and to this marriage her son, William Adams who survives her was born.

In 1876 she came to live in Fulton and for many years operated a small private school, then later taught at Carr Institute for a number of years. She was married June 6, 1905, to Dr. J. R. Luten, beloved Fulton physician, who preceded her in death in 1921.

Mrs. Luten was a charter member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy. She also was a charter member of the First Methodist church. Besides her son, she is survived by one brother, Mr. Bob Nolen of Fulton and several nieces and nephews.

CITIZENS NAMED TO HEALTH GROUP

An organizational meeting to select members to serve on a Citizens' Health Committee for this end of the county was held Wednesday at the Elk's Club with Judge Homer Roberts representing the fiscal court and Mrs. Ward Bushart acting as temporary chairman.

With a representation of civic, cultural and school groups nominations were received for members to serve on the committee suggested by Dr. Bruce Underwood, State Health Commissioner to act as watch-dogs over civic health matters. Elected from the city of Fulton are: Mrs. Ward Bushart and Russell Pitchford; from the outlying sections: Roy Bard and Mrs. Pauline Waggoner. Also to serve on the committee are the following: Dr. Russell Rudd, representing the medical profession; Dr. J. L. Jones, Jr., representing the dentists; Clyde Corum, the fiscal court and Mrs. A. B. Gordon, clerk.

Present at yesterday's meeting were Harry Barry, County sanitation officer and Mrs. Grace Cavender, who must have felt a feeling of accomplishment in seeing a dream come true. Both popular health officers were suggesting citizen's health committee long before Dr. Underwood brought the plan in the open and it was their insistence and agitation that may have had great influence on the state-wide programming of such a group.

HARRY POYNOR IS OUT FOR JAILER OF FULTON COUNTY

Harry Poynor of Hickman herewith authorizes the News to announce that he is a candidate for the office of Jailer of Fulton County subject to the decision of the Democratic primary on Aug. 6, 1949 and that he respectfully solicits your support and influence to that end.

Mr. Poynor needs no introduction to the voters, having been born and reared here and having reared his own family of five children in this community. He has always been a Democrat and his loyalty to the party is above question.

This is Mr. Poynor's first time to ask the voters for a public office but he emphasized, in discussing his candidacy, that his experience as Deputy Jailer under Mrs. Inez Shanklin especially fits him for the office of County Jailer and will enable him to perform the duties of the office more efficiently than could anyone unaccustomed to these responsibilities. This position as Deputy Jailer he held for one year, doing practically everything the office entailed.

Mr. Poynor stated that he is making the race on his own merits, with special promises to no one, and he pledges that, if elected, he will abide by the law and do everything in his power to fulfill the duties of Jailer impartially and to the best interests of the people of Fulton County.

Mr. Poynor hopes to canvass each voter personally before the Primary, but in the event that this is impossible he earnestly solicits your vote and your influence in his behalf.

Bridge Party Planned By Altar Society Ladies

The annual Easter Monday bridge party sponsored by the Altar Society of St. Edward's Catholic Church will be held again this year at the Woman's Club. A cordial invitation is being issued to card enthusiasts to make reservations with Mrs. Glenn Dunn at phone 1032 or any member of the organization. Bridge, bingo and other games will be enjoyed and a large crowd is expected.

P.T.A. HEADS NAMED

Mrs. J. E. Campbell has been elected president of the Terry-Norman P.T.A. Other newly elected officers to serve the next school year are: Mrs. Charles Bowers, vice president; Mrs. Leroy Latta, treasurer and Mrs. T. J. Smith, Jr., secretary.

Joe Johnson Sums Up School Excellence To a 'T'

A little boy by the name of Joe Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Johnson is responsible for this story. As a matter of fact, little seven year old Joe, in a small gesture, has summed up to the letter, the excellence of Fulton's school system and without his knowing has paid a signal tribute to his teacher Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, and given recognition generally of the work that efficient superintendent W. L. Holland and his corps of teachers have been doing.

It happened like this: Sometime during last month Mrs. Payne conducted a language project in her second grade class. Joe, an exceptionally bright student turned in a very good paper, and subsequently received a good grade. His mother was pleased with the type of work that Joe had been doing, and in writing her aunt in St. Louis, Mo., enclosed several of Joe's papers to show the progress that the young student was making in his studies. The aunt, Mrs. Annie Dupree, was visiting with a lady in her apartment building in that city at the time the letter arrived, and just as a matter of proud concern for her bright young nephew showed the papers to the lady, who happened to be Miss L. Ryder, a fourth-grade teacher in the St. Louis schools.

And that's how it all began. Miss Ryder scanned the papers carefully and was fairly amazed to learn that Joe was only seven years old; his writing ability and his general aptitude, learned through his letter, indicated that he was a child whose schooling was superior.

Miss Ryder took the papers to school with her and showed them to members of the faculty of the Ashland School who showed equal interest that such outstanding work could be done by a student so young.

In appreciation of Joe's work, Miss Ryder showed the papers to her own fourth grade class, who in turn spent part of their school-day writing letters to Joe, (he received 40 of them) telling him in general what they thought of him. A typical letter follows:

Ashland School
St. Louis, Mo.
March 23, 1949

"Dear Joe:
I think your papers were very nice and neat. When Miss Ryder said that you were seven years old I couldn't believe it. I know that when I was seven years old I couldn't write that good.
Your friend,
DONALD QUEST."

And what's more there could hardly be many students in St. Louis who do as well as Joe, for two reasons. One of them is Joe, and the other is Mrs. Payne and the fact that she is a part of the staff of Fulton schools.

This recognition of Joe's talents is all the more significant when one considers the statement made recently to Supt. Holland by the Board of Equalization, who made a survey of the local school system. One of them commented as follows:

"Mr. Holland you do not have the best school in the State for obvious reasons, but you have the best organization of any school system we have evaluated. For what you have to work with we can say that your school is the best in the State."

This statement, in view of the insurmountable obstacles Supt. Holland encounters daily, Spring weather brings to mind the heart-breaking, losing fight that the school fought last year to get a bill passed through the legislature that would revise our local assessment structure and in turn give badly needed increased salaries to the excellent staff of teachers. The governor found it within his province to veto that bill, but it is with amusement that those who worked on the bill view the new assessment bill recently passed by the legislature and explained on the front page of section two in this issue.

Intentionally, or unintentionally the new law contains two of the most important provisions of House Bill 286, the Fulton bill. One is that the city can make its own assessments for school purposes and the other is that the city can hire a man to collect its schools taxes, thereby, by-passing the 4 percent commission that goes to the Sheriff for collection purposes in 1950. The law be-

Women represent 50 percent of stockholders in corporations, control 70 percent of Nation's wealth, hold 40 percent titles to homes, 57 percent savings bank deposits, 42 percent income tax returns, spend 85 percent consumers' dollar for home and family. Obviously, editorially and advertisingly they are our most important readers.

Five-Cent Cigar May Yet Return

The dollar in your pocket is going to buy more now than it has in a long time and it looks like prices are going to continue to readjust downward in practically all fields.

Within the last month, prices for automobiles, electrical appliances, real estate and food have taken noticeable drops, which is welcome news to the shopper.

Leading the news this week was the announcement Monday that the Ford Motor Company was reducing prices on their cars from $12 to $120. Prior to this Kaiser-Frazer, General Motors and Willis-Overland had all slashed selling prices, passing on to the consumer savings from the lowered cost of steel.

New homes in many sections are also costing less. One large builder explained that the cost of construction labor has not dropped, but that workmen were turning in on the average a third more work each day than a few months ago, which actually reduces the cost of building by one-third. This builder, in Kentucky, said that many new houses are going unsold and that price tags are being trimmed to match the reduced demand.

A Memphis paper this week listed many radios at approximately half their former price. Refrigerators have been reduced in cost, along with many other home appliances.

Even with lower prices, many businesses report difficulties in moving merchandise which was previously being sold without effort. In other words, the buyers market seems to be coming in as the sellers market goes out.

One curious fact is that a lot of those persons who have said prices were too high have jumped the fence and now claim the price trend shows we are entering a depression. In effect, they admit they had rather have the high prices. Business is still above normal and it seems a little silly to forecast a depression at the present time. The downward price trend is a normal and healthy sign after inflation unless it is carried to extremes. This can only happen when business men lose their nerve, retrench too much, sell at too little, and bring on a depression as a result of their own jitters. But boom or bust, have a good time, for the era of the five-cent cigar is returning.

Telling Our Side Of The Story

Last January, the American people, acting through their chosen representatives, took one of the most important, and even revolutionary, decisions ever taken in the history of our foreign relations. The real significance of the change which was made in the conduct of our foreign policy is not yet appreciated, or even understood, by many people.

Just a year ago, a law was enacted providing that the Department of State should continually carry out, as an integral part of the conduct of our foreign relations, an information, or "propaganda" campaign, if you wish, intended to reach over and through and around foreign governments, direct to the peoples of foreign countries.

Let us face the significance of this decision squarely. In our propaganda activity, we are not primarily concerned whether foreign governments like what we say to their people. We are only concerned with what the people themselves think about it.

Until a few years ago, governments normally conducted their foreign relations exclusively with other governments. They wrote diplomatic notes and expressed their governments' policies to foreign officials.

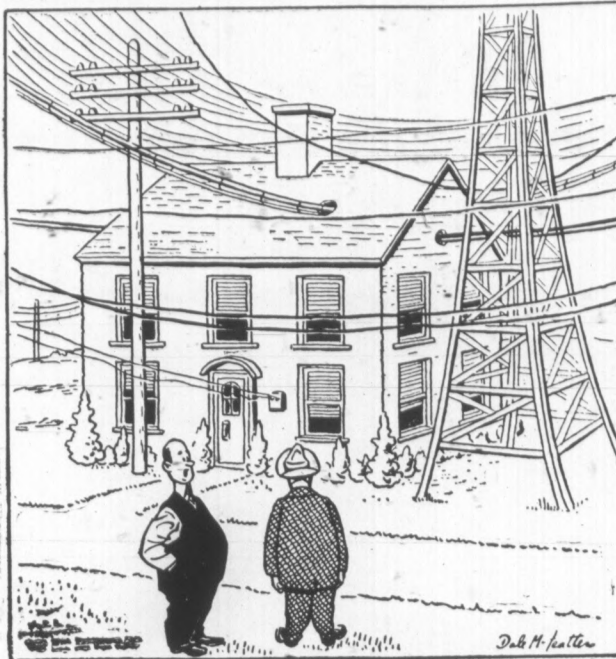

At present the American Government is appealing direct to foreign peoples every day, speaking to them in their own tongue, in a Voice of America radio program designed to tell foreigners what we wish to say to them, and not necessarily what their own governments may wish them to know.

While the American Government did not originate this new practice of appealing directly with foreign peoples, we do not regard the development as disadvantageous to us. Quite the contrary. We believe we can play the game as well as the next man, and much better than any totalitarian government can ever play it.

We shall win the propaganda war. We shall do so not because the individuals engaged in this activity on our side are abler individuals than our opponents. We shall win because democracy is a sounder system of government than any other that has ever been devised. We have a vastly superior story to tell, and with supreme confidence in this superiority we cannot fail to triumph.

FOOTNOTES

by ALICE AND ME

Alice and I know that the thing that makes a country great is not its size, nor its wealth, but its people—and the spirit of those people.

In vast areas of the world, notably India, Asia and Africa, only 5 percent to 15 percent of the inhabitants know how to read.

A double barreled report for milady on the Spring fashions both in the U. S. and in Paris tells that the general trend is toward flares. It may be a flared collar a flared jacket, a flared hat . . . to give your costume a "flair" include a flare.

A cure for cancer can't be bought. It will come, in all probability, as a result of research. The end results of research will be obtained by the patient building of fact upon fact. 18,000,000 people now alive will die of cancer unless new treatments and cures are found.

The sword is a sign of vigilant independence in the canton (county) of Appenzell, Switzerland. It is a symbol for the people in that part of Switzerland, which has been a custom for over 400 years.

Legend has it that F. P. Blair (original owner of the famed Blair House in Washington) came from Kentucky at President Andrew Jackson's request to establish "The Globe" as the administration's mouthpiece.

"The Entertaining Lady" by Vera Bloom is another how to do or how not to do book. It is a quick full length view of the entertaining lady we want to be.

Alligators have extra eyelids—transparent—enabling them to keep their eyes open under water.

The steadily rising trend of accidents involving youthful drivers, especially those between 18 and 24 years of age, should be a matter of gravest concern to everyone.

Are you the type who holds a cup of tea with a crooked finger? Why not be a natural simple person who has made an art instead of a chore of living?

Alice and I are reminded of a friend (in a not too distant city) who was invited to attend a bridge party as a tea guest. Now, this friend worked for several days to get things in order at home so that she might be free to look into the social life of her town. While the refreshments were being served at the party, one bridge player looked askance at her and said, "But my dear, what DO you do if you DON'T play bridge?" Our friend sat quietly for a second, then said "Oh, I just sit at home and rock."

TIDBITS OF KENTUCKY FOLKLORE

REGIONAL LANGUAGE

The longer I study regional language, the more I am amazed that a single pronunciation, not necessarily appearing in a dictionary, will have a wide area of usage. It is easy to see how some local pronunciation would penetrate into surrounding sections of the country. Some well-known local celebrity might give currency to a sound that others would imitate, intentionally or unintentionally. But how can such sounds, without the aid of books and radio and other learned ways, come to be the accepted form among people hundreds of miles away? Of course, most of our usages are oral, anyway, and books influence most people only at second hand.

Suppose we take you-all as an illustration. Why should it be almost universal in the Southern states and be a freak elsewhere except at the borders of the South? Of course, there are some areas in the South where you-uns replaces you-all, but such areas are not very large. Whereas you-uns smacks of the hillbilly or the poorly-educated, you-all is a word of every social class. People who came into contact with typical old Southern ways use it; but so do people who never were on a plantation and knew nothing about the slave economy. Just how did the earlier users of you-all come to use it at all? When you ceased to be a plural only, it certainly was obvious that some plural was needed; but why not dozens of such plurals, one for each neighborhood or social set? Of course, there has grown up a consciousness that you-all is distinctly Southern and that it has a sound that reveals orange blossoms and plantations and all that sort of thing. In actuality, it reveals whatever you want it to reveal and may be no more distinctively Southern than Middle Western. The whole background of the expression needs further study, especially to see why it became so widely used.

It is easy to see how this same spirit works in other words. North of the Ohio River blouse spells blouse, with the s sounding like s; south of the Ohio River the s sounds like z. Both pronunciation occur, of course, in dictionaries; but most people do not use dictionaries. It would seem that some people might say blooze, which would be like the original word in French. And why do not some Southerners use the s-sound and some Northerners the z-sound? As our dictionaries are now made, there is no easy way to tell which regional pronunciation applies. But these same regional sounds continue, whether recorded in books or not.

Similarly, greased has the s-sound in North, the z-sound in the South. When I have asked some Indiana friend why he had his car greased, with the strong s, rather than greased, with the sounded z, he has replied that he knows greased with the z-sound but that it means covering with grease, like greasing a skillet. Certainly, he insists, he does not want his car covered up with grease. He wants the grease applied at the proper points and there only.

To the unobservant, our language seems consistent, but a few words, even, would convince the most set-in-his-ways person that we are not regularized by any means. We laugh at the Irish for pronouncing ea as a, forgetting our great. We laugh even more loudly at the Englishman for saying Darby for what we call derby, but what about sergeant? Similarly, lieutenant for lieutenant is funny, but so is kernal for colonel? Just about all the rules that can be made about English can have exceptions. It is well to know that this language, and no other language, grew according to any rules that the layman can state. The whole thing is so complicated that we wonder when we actually agree over wide areas in the use of a single distinctive expression like you-all.

Dairymen Urged To Better Cream Care

Over one-half of a million dollars was lost, during 1948, by Kentucky farmers through failure to properly take care of their milk and cream, according to figures from a large buying agency in the State.

The money was lost in two ways—from outright rejection of milk and cream as legally unfit for human consumption and in lower returns as cream of secondary quality that could not be manufactured into a 1st grade product.

Poor quality milk and cream, that takes money right out of the farmer's pocket, is easily eliminated by the simple practice of cleanliness, proper cooling, and frequent marketing.

Cream quality hints from the buyers include these:

Clean cows before milking by brushing and washing udder and teats.

Filter milk immediately after milking—using a filter disc strainer. Cheese cloth removes 2 1-2 times less sediment and a wire gauze strainer removes 4 times less sediment.

Wash separator everytime it is used! A dirty separator loses you butterfat by slowing up the free flow of milk and cream—causing more butterfat to go in the skim milk; also causes bad cream.

Separate milk immediately after milking. Delay is a costly business causing cream to spoil more quickly and up to 20 percent butterfat loss.

Cool cream immediately after separation by placing can (with lid on tight) in water. Cooling in air is slow—hastens spoilage.
 Cooling in water is fast—Keeps cream fresh.

Cream is a perishable food product that can spoil quickly, even under favorable conditions,
 so above all: Market your cream
 at least twice per week!

Tax Commissioner
 Exams Announced

The department of Revenue has announced the following places and dates for examination for county tax commissioner in this area. Owensboro, April 26 Paducah April 27, and Bowling Green April 28.

The new law passed by the extraordinary session of the General Assembly requires that a candidate for county tax commissioner must pass an examination given by the Department of Revenue before his or her name can be placed on the ballot in primary or general election. All old certificates outstanding from examinations in prior years were cancelled by the new law.

The examinations are required to be both oral and written this year.

Grass, Legume Seed Worth Half Of Corn

Fulton county's white clover, Ky. 31 fescue, lespedeza, red clover and redtop seed crops last year sold for approximately $750, 000. These crops were grown on about 10,000 acres.

Fulton county farmers produced 1,080,000 bushels of corn on 27,000 acres the past year.
 This corn was worth about $1,- 350,000.

"The grass and clover seed was worth more than half as much as the corn," noted County Agent John B. Watts, "and the 10,000 acres growing them were improved while the 27,000 acres in corn were being depleted."

The News that although the State generally has made tremendous gains in its school program as a result of the Tennessee State sales tax, a large proportion of the monies received thus far have been used to pay increased teacher's salaries, which has long been an urgent need in the State. Mr. Fowles has worked constantly to assist the patrons of the South Fulton School in their attempts to secure additional building space.

With the over-crowded conditions at the school, the shortage of teachers normally results. In the elementary school there are 11 teachers, which averages about 40 students to the teacher. This is 15 above the national average.

which is 25 students to the teacher. In the High School the situation is even more acute, with 11 teachers and 235 students. Although the number of students in the high school is smaller, with the same number of teachers as in the elementary school Mr. Burrow said that the demands on the teachers in the High School are almost tripled because of extra-curricular activities.

Only encouraging note in the South Fulton High School picture is the report recently made by a representative of the State Planning Commission who reported that a school consolidation movement is on foot for Obion County. If present plans are carried out the county will have about three, instead of the present 11 high schools. South Fulton is scheduled to be one of the three remaining schools, which would increase the enrollment to upwards of 1200 students.

At the meeting Tuesday plans were discussed to send a representative to the Strawberry Festival in Humboldt next month.

Mrs. Bobby Mathews, P.T.A.

president presided and Mrs. Jerry Strong was in charge of the program.

woman judge south of the Mason-Dixon Line. She seems to be near superhuman in understanding. She says she rarely criticizes anyone—her point is made by a personal joke concocted on the spot or by irony or humorous sarcasm. Once a twelve year old was brought to her—the father was wearing black pants, a white shirt and a hat; the mother was wearing black pants, a white shirt and a hat just like the father. She looked them over carefully. "The case will be heard next week," said she. "O, cried the mother, aren't you going to hear my boy?" the mother replied. "It is very difficult to hear a case where there are two fathers and no mother." That was all it took for the mother to return dressed rather attractively, she related.

"Few people are great!" "Every individual is great!" "My friends, sin is the oldest thing in the world; goodness is glamorous." "Most violence comes before the age of 21." "I believe in practicing what we teach. Many social workers need a blood transfusion." "I don't trust a woman who has no vanity. We are all given the privilege of looking our best."

Continuing she said, "We cannot take politics out of science and the art of government; but we must put praying into politics. Politics creeps into sewing circles and will always. Teach children to appreciate leadership. Teach them manners. Commercialism keeps dissipation alive—90 percent of all crimes come from dissipation. If you want to smoke, wait until you are grown. Then you'll not want to do it."

Memphis college girls come to me and ask if I think it a sin to drink, she said. "Of course I do—the Bible clears up this subject. They then ask if it's a sin to smoke, some may not agree with me here, I tell them no. "Do you smoke," they ask. "I do not." "I've been too busy all my life to nurse anything on fire at one end!"

After Judge Kelly lectured, her two books were offered to the hearers, many copies of both "Kellygrams" and "Delinquent Angels" were bought.

She has a radiantly charming personality that is thoroughly magnetic.

C. N. MELTON ENDS 50 YEARS WITH RAILROAD

A fresh Spring rain beating against the windows matched the tears of balding, white-haired C.N. Melton as he sat in a seventh floor office of Central Station yesterday morning.

The rain heralded a new year, with its promise of youth and growth, while the kindly Memphian's tears were shed over things past—only to return as memories.

Mr. Melton yesterday said goodbye to the Illinois Central Railroad and the friends he made in 50 years of railroading.

Officials of the line, friends and members of his family were on hand when Second Number 3 arrived in Memphis, bringing home the senior conductor of the I. C.'s Fulton District. As he signed out, Mr. Melton ended a railroad career which he began as a flagman between here and Paducah.

In a simple ceremony, H. K. Buck, superintendent of the I. C. presented Mr. Melton a $100 War Savings Bond and a wallet from I. C. and members of the Order of Railway Conductors, Division 175.

Mr. Melton in 1902 was promoted to conductor, and became a regular freight conductor six years later. He made his first trip in passenger service on a Mardi Gras train out of the old Poplar street station. In 1910 he fell heir to a regular passenger run, having worked steadily in the passenger service since. His years were spent on runs between here and Louisville, Cairo and Fulton.

Retirement will give Mr. Melton time to keep up with his fishing visiting and gardening, he said.

Mr. Melton married Miss Ora Haynes of Curve, Tenn., in 1902. They have three sons and two daughters. Mr. Melton lives in Memphis at 622 Watson. He lived in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Le-land Jewell of Fulton.

J. V. Cash Purchases Local Ford Agency

Announcement is made this week of the change of name and ownership of the Huddleston Motor Company, Fulton Ford agency, to J. V. Cash of Fancy Farm, Ky.

Mr. Cash, who is now in active management of the agency, has changed the name to the J. V. Cash Motor Company. Bill Elliott has been named as new sales manager and Bobby Cash, son of the owner, is now associated with the parts department.

The Huddleston Motor Company was founded by the late Bailey Huddleston, and was an outgrowth of the old Auto Sales Company, opened in 1937 in downtown Fulton. The present location on Mayfield highway was occupied at a later date. Mr. Huddleston died last November following a heart attack while on duty at his job as Fulton postmaster.

The United States Geological survey was organized in 1879.

The study of geography had its beginning with Herodotus.

ACP Sign-Up Must Be Done This Month

With approximately one month to go in the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program sign-up campaign, 65,726 Kentucky farmers have signed farm plans indicating their intention to participate in the program.

All Kentucky farmers are eligible. The number of practices on which program assistance is available varies in the different counties of the state. Applying time to farm land and spreading phosphate on legumes and grasses have been approved for ACP assistance in all Kentucky counties. Establishing small-grain winter cover crops has been approved in 119 counties; winter cover crops of crimson clover, hairy vetch, or ryegrass have been approved in 117 counties; and 114 counties have adopted pasture development for assistance under the 1949 ACP.

The remaining 1949 Kentucky ACP practices where they have been adopted are as follows: Applying potash to legumes and grasses, 73; contour planting of crops, 71; terracing farm land, 69; open ditch draining, 64; establishing annual lespedeza, 61; developing stockwater by digging ponds building dams, 60; turning under sweetclover, 56; laying drain tile, 53; digging diversion ditches, 50; planting forest trees, 50; and establishing sod waterways, 44. Special practices, including clearing pasture, turning under summer legumes and establishing cover crops of kudzu, were approved for ACP assistance this year in 24 counties. Farmers may obtain specific information about practices on which ACP assistance is available in their counties when they sign 1949 program plans.

The amount of assistance offered under the program this year has been increased around 25 percent above the amount available last year. This assistance will be allocated to individual farms after the close of the sign-up campaign. ACP aid is offered on a share-the-cost basis, and farmers pay—on an average—about 50 percent of the cost of practices.

F. B. Members Urged To Join Blue Cross Now

There are now over 20,000 Farm Bureau people in Kentucky carrying Blue Cross Service through the Kentucky Farm Bureau, according to a recent report by Lane Tynes, director of the Blue Cross Plan in Kentucky.

In 1948, these Farm Bureau members had 2,433 hospital cases and were in the hospital for 16,003 days. They received $138,278 in benefits.

Farm Bureau members who are not members of the plan, may join during the month of April. H. J. French, Farm Bureau representative in Fulton County, announced today.

Sunday afternoon at the Hamlin and Newbern home on Holder street. Matching candelabra with white candles added the finishing touch to the table. Large bouquets of dogwood and red bud branches attractively arranged added much beauty to the living room and front porch. Mrs. Hamlin presided at the combination and the following classical numbers were played: "The Swann" by Andre Kostelanetz; "Fire Date" by Oscar Levant; "Clair De Lune" by Berdames Asqua.

The Cross Is Not Greater

The cross they give may be heavy, but it ne'er outweighs His grace. The thorns in my path are sharp storms that I fear may surround me but it ne'er excluded my Master's face. Will this compose a crown for me? The light of his love shineth brighter as it falls upon paths of woe. The cup that I drink not more bitter than He drank in Gethsemane. The toil of my work growth as I stood to raise the law. Will I have joy in fulfilling as I walk in my Master's sight? He alone can keep me right. My cross is not greater than His grace. Their storm cannot hide His face. I have gained a strong feeling with Jesus here below. I can conquer every foe. My eyes are turned toward the shining side of the cross.

Little Miss Sonja Vick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vick who reside at 119 Roach street was crowned queen of St. Paul AME church Sunday night, Mar. 10 after a hard race with Mary Louise Patten and Donna Jean Alexander.

Sonja is five years and eight months old and she has one little sister, Sybil Vick who is very proud of Sonja for winning the crown but dislikes not having one of her own.

Sonja is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cavitt of Memphis and Mrs. A. W. Dumas and the late Dr. Dumas of Natchez, Miss. Dr. Dumas was at one time the president of the National Medical Association for Negroes. Mrs. Dumas is the past president of the Mississippi State P. T. A. and president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Medical Association and an outstanding civic leader.

Sonja who is not of school age is quite an aggressive youngster. She has won many little friends both her own age and older due to her pleasing personality and charming smiles.

Sonja has quite a collection of dolls, about 23. Her oldest doll is Mandy who was a gift to her when she was nine months old. Pando, a favorite doll of hers, was sent from New York City and Betty is Sonja's youngest doll. She was a gift to her last Christmas.

Sonja also has a collection of other toys and she would be very glad to entertain all little girls who wish to visit her. Take it from me, you would not have a dull moment around Sonja.

She wishes to express her appreciation to everyone who helped her to win the crown. If anyone wishes to call and congratulate her phone number is 1192-W. The contests was sponsored by the Trustee Board of which Mrs.

Annie Wright is president. Sonja Vick $72, Donna Jean Alexander, $40.05, Mary L. Patten $17.

TOWN & FARM ANGLES IN THE WASHINGTON NEWS

Wheat Quotas & Allotments

With a record-breaking 1949 wheat acreage indicated, the Department of Agriculture is delving into the problem of whether or not it will be necessary for the Secretary of Agriculture to proclaim a national marketing quota for wheat for the marketing year beginning in 1950. The Department is preparing itself for any eventuality.

If the Secretary decides to take this action, he must also proclaim a national acreage allotment for wheat. The Secretary has until July 1, 1949 to proclaim a national marketing quota and until July 15, 1949 to proclaim the national acreage allotment for 1950-crop wheat.

Acreage allotments do not require the approval of the producers. Marketing quotas, however, may be put into effect only if approved by two-thirds of the producers voting in a referendum held not later than July 25.

Under the Agricultural Act of 1948, quotas may be invoked only if the supply is equal to 120 percent of normal or if the supply is at least normal and the price for three months is 66 percent of the parity level.

Acreage of all spring wheat is expected to be 20,300,000 acres, or 3.6 percent larger than the total planted in 1948, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Combined with the winter wheat acreage estimated last December, the total 1949 planted acreage of wheat is estimated at 81,670,000 acres—5 percent more than planted for harvest last year and 4 percent over the 1947 record.

Rural Telephones

Legislation along the lines of the bill by Cong. Poage of Texas to authorize loans by REA on telephone projects and furnish improved telephone service in rural areas is favored by AFBF provided.

1. Loans are based on an economically sound pay-out basis.

2. Twelve months or more are allowed for existing telephone companies to prove their intention of furnishing and improving telephone service in rural areas.

This action was taken at a recent meeting of the AFBF Board of Directors.

The Poage bill recently was reported by the House Agriculture Committee with a provision allowing only six months for existing telephone companies to prove their intentions to provide service. Under this bill loans would be made on the same terms as for REA projects. In making such loans, the REA administrator would be required to give preference to persons "providing telephone service in rural areas and to public bodies, cooperative, nonprofit and limited dividend, or mutual associations."

International Wheat Agreement

Stat Department hasn't determined whether to send the international wheat agreement to the Senate for ratification as a treaty or to both houses of Congress as a memorandum or joint resolution for passage by majority vote in each case.

Administrative strategy in regard to steering the agreement through Congress is being developed cautiously, inasmuch as the Senate of the preceding Congress failed to ratify a similar agreement. That was only a little over a year ago.

The 1949 agreement has the same objectives as the one signed in 1948—"to assure supplies of wheat to importing countries and markets for wheat to exporting countries at equitable and stable prices."

Times have changed, however, since the 1948 agreement was signed by representatives of importing and exporting nations. No longer is there a severe shortage of wheat. Prices have dropped sharply. Importing nations are in a stronger bargaining position than a year ago.

The relative bargaining position of importing and exporting nations is illustrated by the fact that the ceiling price in the present agreement is 20 cents a bushel lower than in the agreement drawn last year. The floor price is 10 cents higher for the next four years than was provided in the 1948 agreement.

Before the treaty was signed by all the important importing and exporting nations, March 23, there were last-minute changes in export figures and the import figure for one Nation. The reason was that Brazil suddenly raised its guaranteed purchases another 50,000 metric tons. This raised from 454,446,203 to 456,283,389 bushels the total volume of wheat guaranteed to move into world trade annually.

The United States' annual share of the exports will be 168,069,635 bushels. Canada is guaranteed annual exports totaling 203,069,635 bushels; Australia, 80 million bushels; France, 3,306,934 bus. and Uruguay, 1,837,185 bus.

The maximum price for the four years is $1.80. The minimum will be $1.50 the first year, $1.40 the second, $1.30 the third, and $1.20 the fourth. The agreement is for the period Aug. 1, 1949 through July 31, 1953. It is subject to ratification by the governments concerned.

ONE OF KENTUCKY'S TRADITIONS

Weaving

Wherever in Kentucky there is flax or drifting flocks of sheep, you will find the art of weaving, a fine sample of the hereditary crafts that bind the people to the land they love. Kentuckians cherish patterns like "Double Snowball," "Rattlesnake," "Pine Burr," "Beauty of Kaintuck" and "Polk and Dallas." Weaving is a Kentucky tradition.

Yes, and beer is a tradition in Kentucky, too!

Like the weavers loom that has woven so many useful garments, BEER BELONGS in Kentucky. Almost since the days of the early settlers, Kentuckians have enjoyed beer, the beverage of moderation.

standards are on the top-rung of are among the lowest in the Nation, and nearly half of what they are for comparable qualithe border in Tennessee.

Although a complete report of the conditions found in the local be made for sometime, it is certain that the school will receive an "E" for excellence and an "E" for effort on all matters pertaining to the general organi-

Purpose of Citizen's Health
CommitteeBy Bruce Underwood, M.D.
State Health Commissioner

The purpose of a Citizens Health Committee is to serve as a representative of the people in all public problems which are related to the work of the County Health Department. The Committee should serve to help the people reach the Health Department. The Committee should work only as an advisory group representing the people from a lay point of view. It should assist the county health officer in developing and maintaining the best possible County Health Department. It should work under the professional guidance of the county health officer and the County Board of Health.

In counties that do not have a county health officer or a County Health Department the only function of a Citizens Health Committee is to assist the people in securing a County Health Department if they want one. We believe every county in Kentucky should have a Citizens Health Committee through which we can reach them and through which they can reach us. We

Reeves Explains New Assessment Formula

The special session of the legislature recently ended provided the incentive and the tools to enable the taxpayers of every county in the Commonwealth to have the fair assessment of property that they have been discussing for over half a century. This statement was made today by Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves in discussing the forthcoming examinations being held to qualify applicants for the office of County Tax Commissioner.

The County Tax Commissioner, Reeves statement continued, whose official title was formerly County Assessor, is no longer a "step child" of county government. He is now a vital and important part of local government.

firmly believe the people of Kentucky will work with us to achieve the best possible program of public health for our commonwealth.

The cooperation of the organizations and the people of West Fulton county is requested in this endeavor to give the people a greater opportunity to develop the type of public health program they want.

The program, in the Rural Community, was led by Mrs. Luby Howell assisted by Mrs.

The local tax rate, financial well-being of the schools and amount of local government service depend on his ability and willingness to do a fair job of assessing property.

Beginning in 1950 the lowest salary that a County Tax Commissioner in any county will draw is $200 a month. This ranges up to the constitutional limit of $5,000 annually depending on the value of assessed property in the county. He is also provided with deputies when required.

The new law also requires the fiscal court in each county to provide the County Tax Commissioner with a suitable office, furniture and equipment. He is also

Write Patricia Latane to Solve Your Problems

Dear Patricia:

I am a girl 18 years old am in love with a boy 29 years old. He has been married and has two children. My parents don't know I am going with him and I am afraid to tell them. What must I do.

W.C.

Dear W. C.

You have caused your parents a lot of heartaches and sleepless nights. If I were you I would behave myself. Forget this man. You don't care anything for him.

Your parents will offer you a tip this summer. Accept this trip and when you do forget this man.

Dear Patricia:

I appreciate your advice as it was just like you told me. Now I have another question to ask. This girl I have met since I last wrote you, would she be honest with me.

K.W.

Dear K. W.

Yes, she is a good girl and would make you a good wife. She is a good honest person you have no worries.

Dear Patricia:

I lost a watch can you tell me where I can find it?

J.E.

My Dear J. E.

It has been sometime since you lost your watch. You will never find it as it is buried in a woods.

You lost this watch on a picnic last summer.

Dear Patricia:

Will I ever have a baby?

Dear M. W.

Yes, within the next 2 years.

Dear Patricia:

Does my husband go with other women? Would he? S. Mc Dear S. Mc.

Will a baby eat candy? Would a child take a bar of candy if you offered it to him? For goodness sake, you women make me sick asking such questions. If you are a woman you won't give him any reason for wanting to go with anyone else. So wake up. See how nice and kind you can be. He won't go with anyone else.

Roundhouse Round-Up

By Alice Coleman

What with these blamed robins hopping around the yard, and that southwind blowing, and the shanty windows open, and the geese hitting their aerial high iron toward Duluth, a guy gets that old familiar spring feeling. It's a mixture of wanderlust, a heightened appreciation of the pretty gals, boys and plain ordinary spring fever. Ho, hum, it's getting me too. Did you ever hear this joke?

Mr. Robin blinks his eyes as he looked in the nest, then he said accusingly, "How about that egg? It doesn't look like the others!"

Mrs. Robin: Fluttered and chirped innocently, "I only did it for a lark."

Mr. C. M. Oliver has returned to work after a 2 week vacation, which he enjoyed.

And remember—like all Swift Chicks, these special broiler chicks are:

Musky... They have been developed from strains which show the greatest vigor and fastest rate of growth.

Healthy... Breeding flocks have been carefully tested to eliminate all pullorum reactors. All Swift Chicks are U. S. Pullorum-Passed or better.

Hardy... They are produced from strains noted for high livability, hatched and cared for under hospital-clean conditions. Many flock owners have reported that every Swift Chick they purchased lived.

Drop in and see us for further information about these or any other breeds of Swift's Strain-Tested Chicks. And here's one more good reason for buying your chicks from Swift—we want to buy your top quality poultry.
