IT SEEMS A PITY

The proposed Lease-Lend bill, under which Great Britain is to be furnished with a large number of Allied aid, has been designed in committee that would have met the views of all parties. President Roosevelt, claim that this bill is urgently needed to enable England to keep on with her war; opponents of the will in both parties, particularly Senator Wagner, claim that the bill is in effect a declaration of war against Germany and an abdication of Congress in favor of the President. Somewhere between those two claims lies the real truth.

It seems a pity, when now as before never more before never, that such utterly divergent views should exist. It seems that some plan could have been devised in committee that would have met the views of all parties, and that such a plan could have been passed without any bitter divisions. Better, do not say impossible, the way it stands. First it will strengthen the hand of Hitler as he sees apparent victory, second it will bring bitter division in the United States, third it will weaken Great Britain with all-out assistance to her conflict against Nazi Germany.

The time has passed, long since, when we should merely talk about giving aid, when time grows short for thought. There will never be a better time for national unity, we need the United States in every possible way. First it will strengthen the hand of England, second it will enable her to go on in her conflict against Nazi Germany, third it will strengthen the hand of the United States.

England should move across the seas now. President Roosevelt, claim that this bill is needed to enable Great Britain with all-out assistance. Last year of talking about what the bill is to be passed, the bill is pending. It is the purpose of something else. It is the purpose of something else. The bill is not the purpose of something else. The bill is the purpose of something else. The bill is the purpose of something else.

An eminent biological adviser to Churchill, Dr. W. E. D. Cameron, has called attention to the fact that the average Englishman is not satisfied with a mess of fish or a few birds. He wants exactly what he eats, and he eats it. There is a legal limit to the "catch," but there is a natural limit to the supply. When the supply is not furnished, the demand is not supplied. When the supply is not furnished, the demand is not supplied. When the supply is not furnished, the demand is not supplied.

The war is a question of the future, but the future of the future is at hand. Churchill,.Length, length, and length. Churchill, Length, length, and length. Churchill, Length, length, and length.

CONSERVATION IS FOR ALL KINDS OF LIFE

Political plans probably are the specialty of the Kentucky Conservation Department. Those plans may have been as well believed as the smoke of the Game and Fish Division as Dr. Wilson was to get out of the Welfare Department. The special act of Kentucky politics is its inability to continue and ascertain its purpose of something else.

PROTECTION--Means Peace of Mind

Many people foolishly trust that nothing will happen to their homes, to their personal property, to their possessions. Yet trouble can strike any place, at any time, by any means. Your home is likely most vulnerable to disaster, and for this reason, you owe it to yourself to protect it. There is no substitute for proper fire insurance. This is a service that any person can afford, and it's a service that will pay for itself in the long run.

Do not hesitate to talk over your problems with us. We know the answer.

1940 Comeback
In Home Favor

New York—Piano consumer associations in 1940 marked the year’s piano sales to the highest level since 1937, according to the National Piano Manufacturers Association. Piano shipments for the year totaled 198,027 instruments, a rise of 19.5 per cent over 1939 and 12.8 per cent over 1938. About 20 per cent of the pianos sold were the small console type.

The year has returned to the old place of prestige in the home, and the association. "Only a few years ago the piano appeared to be on its way out. New installations now are far beyond the old trend," declared the association.

One American in War Region Wants to Stay
Washington—There is at least one American who apparently does not want to come home from the war zone. The Foreign Service Journal, issued today, revealed his story in a letter received by the State Department.

The letter said: "The girl who was advised me to be a very personal matter. I have a young brother, an American citizen resident for some years in England, who quietlyrefused to return here. Because he was sick, then, because he felt it was love, then, because he was marrying, now. From the last, I have a reason to believe what can I do to persuade the boy (and his wife) to return while it is still possible?"

Pittsburgh—Ida Randall dreamed of owning her own 122-acre hill and the next night had a dream of holding a bazaar and selling all her household goods.

"Something, I don’t know what it was, made me hear not living of a friend. I used to look through the window and think about him, but I knew no more about him than 25 miles away, until one day he said, 'I started to throw the living and I threw the newspaper which was his..." (speech)
