Mexico, the southernmost state of the United States, has adopted a law that requires all vehicles to display a license plate with the state's name. The law, which went into effect Tuesday, June 15, has been met with mixed reactions by residents of the state.

Many Householders Affected by License Law

The law has caused some residents of the state to feel angry about the new requirement. They argue that the cost of the license plate is excessive and that it is unnecessary to display the state's name.

Some residents have expressed their support for the law, stating that it is important to display the state's name as a way of showing pride in Mexico.

PEPSI-COLA

The Fastest Selling 12-oz. Drink in America
Pepsi-Cola Is A National Drink—Bigger and Better

WE ARE PROUD TO EXTEND—

U-TOTE-EM

“HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS”
On the Opening of their Modern, New Store
in Fulton

PEPSI-COLA has more than doubled in sales in the past year ON ITS OWN MERITS. It is America's fastest selling 12-ounce soft drink, because of its distinct flavor, quality and character—it is sold to and accepted by the public on its own merits.

PEPSI-COLA should not be confused with any other drink, and has no connection with any other cola beverage or company.

PEPSI-COLA is the largest bottler of 12 ounce Cola drinks in the world, owning and operating plants in all States, Canada and other countries of the world.

PEPSI-COLA costs more to make, and is of finer quality than any other soft drink on the market—the consumer gets the best and most for his money, and the customer is always satisfied.

PEPSI-COLA is not a new drink by any means, for it was born 12 years ago. But it is bigger and better today, and is meeting with greater and greater nationwide approval as it is distributed to communities throughout the country.
