Committee Urges Lend
Bill Passage

Report Is Issued As Martin Declares He Opposes Measure

Washington — A 41-day majority of the House Foreign relations committee urged the House tonight to act on the lend-lease bill. Mr. Martin, chairman of the committee, and his Democratic colleagues sent the bill to the House for consideration, saying it must be passed without delay.

"Our national policy is to support the Allied nations, and for our own national security, we must support the Allied nations," the committee said in a report to the House. "We are entering a period in which we must take swift and necessary action to preserve our own country and the world."

The report was issued by the House Foreign relations committee, which is considering the lend-lease bill. The committee said it is not a part of the Democratic platform, but it is a part of the Democratic program for the defense of the United States.

"We are entering a period in which we must take swift and necessary action to preserve our own country and the world," the committee said in a report to the House. WILLIE CASTS LONGER SHADOW

When Wendell Willkie was so badly beaten in the recent Presidential election—although the defeat was not so complete as has been anticipated—many people reached the conclusion that he was a mere skyrocket and would soon be forgotten. He had come from nowhere one might say, to head the Republican ticket, and his defeat would drive him deeper into obscurity. Recent events do not bear out this conclusion.

For Mr. Willkie has refused to allow himself to be driven back into obscurity. Whether he wishes to continue as a great national figure or not, he has put into practice his Presidential campaign again or whether he simply has a deep and abiding interest in international matters, he has adopted a course which is certain to keep him in the public eye, and he will now be considered an American leader. He, like Mr. William Jennings Bryan, is more than a political opportunist and the man of the hour. He was pro-nationalist and the scourge of Fascists. His leanings were toward England and he was the bulwark of that nation. He might even be said that he was the dictator who helped to defend the free people. The heroic stand against Italy and the subsequent saving of the Italian republics in large measure attributable to the courage and leadership of Greece's soldier-statesman.

Willkie's rise to power was largely due to his ability to cut short his visit in Europe to return home and join the fight. It was this ability to cut short his visit in Europe that made him a great figure of years ago when the English looked upon the United States as a mere capital of the world. The colorful Roosevelt was a great figure in the United States, but he was not a man who had polled many millions of votes in a Presidential race. But Greece is united and it will continue the crusade led by Metaxas.

Metaxas' rise to power was largely due to his military ability. He had learned strategy at the feet of Germany's leader. His grasping on affairs without necessitating a resistance is the stuff of which history is made. The victory in Albania may be still further slow-downed due to the change in leadership. But Greece is united and it will continue the crusade led by Metaxas.

Now You Won't Have to Build a New Garage

Four New Additions to the Buick Special Line now give you Big-Car Pleasure in More Compact Size!

Buick Special
4-door Sedan, model 47,
$1,127. Wills idea worth extra!

IN search for impressive size, cars have been getting longer every year.

Bumper has retreated from bumper until there's hardly room left in the family garage for the heavy intercom and the good wife's gardening basket.

Does that mean you'll have to build a new garage to enjoy a big car's glory? Not now!

For there are four new Buicks on the market—additions to our 1941 Special series—that let you indulge your big-car tastes in spite of 1929-car-size garages.

They are big cars in ability—with a 115-horsepower Buick Fireball engine that can be stepped up to 125 "horses" by the addition of Compound Carburation.

They are big cars in their room—with plenty of big, pillow- and head-room in their spacious interiors.

But—they fit your garage, handle like baby carriages, park on small change—and all because we have trimmed down their bumper-to-bumper length!

So if you've been itching for a big car—but wondering where you'd find enough room for it—here's your big chance. Run right over to see these beauties now.

It's Buick's biggest news!
