Washington. — The House, with but a small fraction of its members present, adjourned through an evening session on the informed bill tonight, while administers of the House continued the consideration of House Resolution 331, which declared the availability of new allowances designated to increase support for the bill.
In a modification of the overall period of time in which war supplies could be deferred to Furlough, the House deliberated on the final bind the day before the vote on the borrowing resolution but before the vote on the resolution to raise the borrowing ceiling. The resolution was unanimously passed by the House, with the amendment carried over until the next session.
Dearing today, friends and visitors were unanimous in their regret that the House had not been able to dispose of the bill in the same time they had been

Joint Meeting Of Towns Held With Clinton Representatives from Fulton and Clinton met late last night with the Clinton Chamber of Commerce to hear a report of the results of a trip made by Clinton men to Washington last week to discuss the possibility of securing plans for carrying on the campaign to secure a different project for this territory.
Henry Lee Waterfield, Clinton chamber president, reported on the trip to Washington and said that it

'THE TRAIL: FLIGHT

One day, as the tempest of war against Britain is gathering and when the all-out attack is expected at any time, one fragile fig leaf seems the only thing left to substantiate the effort to do some-ething for his own nation. His thoughts are on a series of humiliations; there is no time when he can take his heart and leave it for his helpless nation. He is not in a position to do anything for his own nation. His days are numbered. He is not in a position to do anything for his own nation. His days are numbered.

PROTECTION
Means Peace of Mind

Many people foolishly trust to lock that nothing will happen to their homes, to their personal property, to their automobiles. Yet trouble can strike anywhere more severely than you think. The best protection against unseen trouble is adequate, intelligent insurance coverage. That sort of protection gives you peace of mind.

Don't hesitate to talk over your problems with us. We know the answer.
