THE LISTENING POST

● I am a fellow who knows as little of the rules of writing as a man can and yet keep on writing. I make no pretense whatever of knowing anything about grammar, syntax, and other things of that nature. In a general way, and I say this with trembling, I know a little about punctuation, although many times I wonder when I should use a comma or a semi-colon, and the colon itself is more or less of a mystery to me. I have found that when I write a letter and say "Dear Sir," that the colon should follow that and also when I quote something directly the colon should be used. I use punctuation more or less by the sound method. I look at a phrase and something tells me that I should use a certain mark, and thus I use it. But I never guarantee my use of words, spelling or punctuation. I have merely worked out my own system and there are times when I violate even my own rules.

● Now and then some friend calls attention to the fact that I have split an infinitive, used the wrong tense or used the singular when I should have used the plural. Such things never bother me in the least, for I have said many times that I write by ear only. I do not know the notes, and am just a country boy having a lot of fun playing with words. I really do not recognize an infinitive, split or whole, and lots of times I wonder about adverbs. I recognize verbs, but adverbs are merely something I heard about a long time ago. Particles come in the same category, and I could meet a flock of them on the street and never know them.

● However, after long years of practice in writing and stringing words together, I have reached certain conclusions. I decided long ago that short sentences always had more punch and vividness than did longer ones. The balanced sentence, made up of several phrases, cut up by commas and semi-colons and dashes, perhaps has more beauty and is useful at times, but it is noticeable that writers of force and pungency use the short sentence mostly. I think a short sentence is on the order of the uppercut in pugilism. The uppercut never travels far. It comes right out of the elbow, with the entire body moving into it, and when it strikes it has the devastating force of a cannon ball. Whereas, the swinging blow, or long sentence, traveling far, never has that spine tingling impact at the finish.

● One finds the long sentence in legal matters. Whether this is necessary or not I do not know. I merely know that in reading legal advertising, or briefs prepared by lawyers, I find sentences so long that many times I have to stop, take a deep breath and go back to the beginning to discover the subject of the sentence. If I can keep the subject in mind I can usually get the meaning, but when the subject is lost it is a baffling matter.

● Not long ago the city council of the city of Cincinnati found it necessary to pass a certain law. I do not know what the ordinance was, for I have never read it, but the interesting part of the matter is that in this ordinance there appears one sentence which contains twenty thousand words. Some of these days I am going to try to get hold of that particular ordinance, for I really want to see a sentence with twenty thousand words. I am amazed that any man could ever write a sentence of that

Bloom Makes Surprise Proposal

Tenth Of Total 1941 Appropriations Is Peak Agreed Upon

Washington — The administration leadership tonight suggested and the House quickly adopted a sharp limitation on the extent to which, under the lease-lend bill, President Roosevelt may transfer to other nations American military and naval equipment already on hand or appropriated for.

The limit fixed was one tenth of total appropriations for defense for the fiscal year 1941. The exact figure was left subject to some dispute but all agreed that the appropriation total lay between $12,000,000,000 and $13,000,000,000. Hence the transfer limitation is from $1,200,000,000 to $1,300,000,000, to be determined exactly later.

Thus, as the bill stood at the close of the day, the value of any present equipment provided for in the vast appropriation heretofore made will be computed before it can be sent to England. And no more than about $1,300,000,000 worth of it may be so transferred.

The amendment proposed by the leadership did not stipulate how the valuation was to be arrived at.

All Factions Surprised
Its proposal came, nevertheless, as a stunning surprise to all factions in the chamber. Throughout a long day of haggling over amendments, minor and major, the leaders had obdurately opposed any further concessions to critics of the bill. In fact, before the day's session began, they announced that no more concessions would be made.

They had successfully beaten off Republican proposals that the President be forbidden to transfer any part of the Navy to other countries without congressional consent, that no New Deal labor laws were to be suspended under the measure and that Soviet Russia be specifically excluded from the nations which might be helped.

Then, just at the close of the day, Rep. Taber of New York, ranking Republican member of the appropriations committee, arose with an amendment to restrict to $500,000,000 (cost value) any transfer of defense items on hand or for which money had been appropriated.

APPEALS COURT RULES EXCEEDED ITS POWERS
Frankfort, Ky. — The state Court of Appeals ruled today that the Kentucky Railroad Commission was without authority to modify "an existing passenger service as distinguished from an abandonment of such service."

U. S. And Mexico Soon Will Sign "Good Neighbor" Pact
Washington. — The United States and Mexico, it was learned authoritatively today, expect to sign a comprehensive "good neighbor" agreement in the very near future, setting all major economic and financial questions now outstanding. The pact, it was understood, will provide for disposition of "every problem between the two nations." A number of the points involved have been pending for several years and involve millions of dollars. The formulas for the agreement were worked out by Undersecretary of State Welles and Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, the Mexican ambassador. They were said to have concentrated on a lump settlement, rather than a piece-meal disposal of numerous claims and counter-claims arising from the oil expropriation, land appropriation, and other controversial questions. Final arrangements for the pact probably will follow the return of the Mexican ambassador here Fri-

Scout Area Changed To "Four Rivers"

At the Twenty-Second Annual Scout Dinner, held recently in the Irvin Cobb Hotel, Paducah, President Roy Shelbourne announced that the name of the Chief Paducah Area Council of Scouts has been changed to Four Rivers Council and is now composed of several new towns, including Paducah, Bardwell, Clinton, Hickman, Fulton, Union City, Mayfield, Murray, Benton, Gilbertville and Cayce. This Area Council is composed of 57 Troops, 10 club Packs and 385 Senior Scouts.

President Shelbourne also announced new officers for 1941 as follows: president, Roy Shelbourne; vice-presidents, Luther Carson H. L. Smith, Stanley Petter; associate vice-presidents, Bertie Pigue, Fenner Heathcott, W. J. Watkins and Garmen Graham; Area Scout Commissioner, Van Bowling; National Scout Representative, Luther Carson; treasurer, Sam Sioan. Paul Sudlow is the new Assistant to the Field Executive, Roy Manchester. A new local Troop, sponsored by the Baptist church with Edgar Jones as its Scout Master, is progressing nicely and a new colored Troop is also being organized. Charles Gregory has been elected Club Master and will soon organize cub Packs here.

Court Upholds Death Sentence Of Farmer-Slayer

Frankfort, Ky. — A death sentence given Grover Chism, 48, a farm laborer, upon conviction of shooting and killing Schuyler McClure, 68, Hardin County storekeeper, over an $8.00 check, was upheld by the Court of Appeals today.

The opinion stated the check Chism had given the store was forged and that Chism later after drinking liquor went to the store and killed McClure.

Three Men Are Arrested Here Last Night

L. V. Wise, J. C. Bounds and Elmo Martin were arrested here last night by local officers on request of Sheriff Scott of Tipton county, Tenn., on a charge of highway robbery.

They are charged with robbing Charles Veatch, who claims that two of the men held him and the other took his money from his pocket in a Mason, Tenn., tourist cabin. The three arrested men deny this charge, stating that they won the money from Veatch in a poker game.

They were taken back to the Tipton county jail by sheriff Scott last night to stand trial.

day, after conferences with his foreign office in Mexico City. One of the major questions scheduled to be settled arose in 1938 from the Mexican government's expropriation of American, British and Dutch owned oil properties, valued by the oil companies at from $400,000,000 to $440,000,000, but appraised at only $35,400,000 by Mexican courts. State Department officials declined to disclose what payment had been proposed for the oil properties. New York financial interests estimated that American owned companies had properties in Mexico worth $200,000,000. Other extensive American claims resulted from the Mexican government's large scale expropriation of American owned land and property under its agrarian program, and a number of general claims resulting from alleged seizure of property dating back 70 years.

Newspaper Sales Receipts Are Up; Advertising Revenue Lower

Washington. — Revenue of newspapers from subscriptions and sales reached a new high of $306,192,294 in 1939, the Census Bureau reported today. But while receipts from these sources were reaching a level $18,685,000 higher than in 1937 and $30,411,163 above 1929, advertising revenue was falling off.

The 1939 advertising total was $539,494,841 compared with $574,180,206 in 1937 and $797,338,231 in 1929.

Total value of products and receipts of the 7,310 newspaper establishments covered by the 1939 report was $845,887,135, or $16,001,529 less than the $861,888,664 reported by 6,980 establishments in 1937. Newspapers doing less than $5,000 worth of business a year were not covered by the report, since they account for a relatively small portion of the total.

Church Members To Be Visited By Board

March was designated as Church Loyalty Month by the Official Board of the Christian Church in their meeting Thursday night at the parsonage. The members of the Board pledged themselves to visit in the homes of every Church member to explain the Loyalty Campaign to them, and to secure their enlistment. As an expression of loyalty to the Church, every member will be asked to observe three Communion Services during the month of March.

Upon recommendation of the music committee the Board will provide additional Choir robes, and will subscribe for "The Volunteer Choir," a monthly music publication.

The Building Committee reported that the Nursery has been repaired, and the Board voted to purchase suitable toys and decorations. Group Three of the Woman's Council will have charge of the nursery during the year. The church hour, and the parsonage are invited to leave their small children in the Nursery upon their arrival for the morning service.

Superintendent enrollment cards will be furnished in order to facilitate the organizing and grading of the Sunday school. The last Sunday in September, has been set aside as promotion day.

Bulldogs Drop Ragged Game To Milburn Five

Showing a lamentable lack of team play, and playing a ragged game generally, the Bulldogs dropped a badly played game to the Milburn five last night in Milburn, the final score being 21 to 16. Only during the last half did the Bulldogs show any semblance of team play, and it was too late to catch up, as the first half ended 10 to 5 against them.

This was Milburn's first victory this season, having dropped games to practically every team in this section. Milburn held the lead during the entire game and Fulton trailed during most of the game by about 5 points, although at one time, they came within 2 points of tying the score. Bogle of Milburn was high point man with 8 points. Fulton meets Milburn in the first round of the tournament at Clinton.

Lineup:
Fulton (16) Pos. Milburn (21)
McColum F. Mix, 6
Hannah, 4 F. Hendrickson, 3
Spence, 3 C. Bogle, 8
Moore, 4 G. Aton, 4
McClellan, 2 G. Reddick
Substitutions: Fulton — McAllister, 3, Milburn — Pearson, Referee, Howell.

Pups win 19-15
After trailing 11-3 at the half, the Pups came back strong in the third quarter to tie the score and then forged ahead to win 19-15 over the Milburn second stringers. Browder played a good floor game and shared high scoring honors with Reed, each having six points.

Lineup:
Fulton (19) Pos. Milburn (15)
Reed, 6 F. Parker
Hark, 2 F. Pearson, 6
Davis, 1 G. Jackson, 3
Hassell, 2 G. Thacker, 3
Mecham, 1 G. Aton, 3
Substitution: Fulton — Tyler, 2, Tish, Williams, Browder, 6, Holmway; Milburn — None. Referee, Howell.

Fire Engine Wrecks Auto Enroute To Fire

A car driven by D. Grissom, who resides between Water Valley and Wingo, was badly damaged yesterday about noon when it was struck by the local fire truck, while on the way to answer a call on Vine street. The truck was also damaged considerably.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Walnut and Norman and Grissom, going north on Norman, failed to observe the stop sign. Damage on the fire truck amounted to $141.35 and damages to this amount were paid by Mr. Grissom.

175 Operator's Licenses Are Reported Revoked In January

Frankfort, Ky. — After announcing that the Department of Revenue suspended and revoked 175 automobile operators' licenses during January, Commissioner of Revenue H. Clyde Reeves said that the department was making every effort to co-operate with the Governor in making effective his recent proclamation of February as "Safety Month." Revocations and suspensions are proceeding, he said, at the rate of almost two for each such revocation or suspension for the previous year.

Reeves pointed out, however, that "the department must first rely upon local courts to supply it with information upon which a revocation or suspension can be based." Most courts, he said, are furnishing the department of revenue with information. Notices of convictions for violating various traffic laws are coming in now at the rate of 2,500 a month. L. G. Triplett, supervisor of the operator's license section said that an interesting development which

Nazi Insurance Reorganized For Duration

Reich Guarantees Insured, Insurer; War Losses Are Low

Berlin. — German insurance has been reorganized "for the duration" on a totalitarian basis. All insurance companies are in the same boat, meeting losses sometimes collectively, sometimes individually up to the limit of their resources, but always with the knowledge that the reich—the federal government—will not let either the insurer or the insured go under financially because of the war.

The life insurance companies came through the first year of the war with flying colors, much to their own surprise. They had expected to draw heavily on their reserves. The loss of German life was, however, unexpectedly low. The companies decided at the outbreak of the conflict to accept full responsibility even for war losses.

Only in the case of new policies was a war risk premium added. The German losses in Poland and Western Europe were so low, however, that no reserves had to be touched. Death benefits were paid from current income and from the war risk premiums of the new policy holders.

German life insurance companies say the amount of insurance in force at the end of 1939, after four months of war, was thirty-three billion marks as compared with thirty billions at the end of 1938. The insurance in force brought the companies about one-and-a-half billions of marks in premiums. During 1914-18, these companies say, insurance amounts sank so rapidly that by the end of 1915 only about thirty per cent of the insurance in force in 1914 was effective. The war ministry has guaranteed payment of all extra war risk premiums, so soldiers are not scared away from taking out new insurance. On the other hand, the cost of straight life insurance is even cheaper for the soldier than in peace times, because he need not pay that portion of the premium which goes into an endowment fund. Many German policies are a combination of life insurance and annuity payments.

BATTLESHIP STILL FACTOR

It has been freely predicted by many so called experts that the present war would mark the end of the heavy naval vessel; that superdreadnoughts would fail utterly against air attacks. During the past ten years there has been a considerable agitation in this country to abandon this type of capital ship and concentrate on lighter ships, with a corresponding increase in air squadrons.

The war has been under way for seventeen months, and many bitter lessons have been learned. The vast striking power of the German panzer divisions taught a terrible lesson to British and French armies. Indeed, it may be said that motorized armies have really written new lessons for land troops. At sea the submarine has again proved a potent weapon, and the bomber has made it more difficult for naval craft. Terrible losses have been inflicted on ships by bombers, but thus far nothing has occurred which indicates the battleship has ceased to be a decisive factor. Indeed, before the final chapter is written it may be that the capital ships will furnish the decisive power for a British victory.

In the past seventeen months the British have lost only one battleship. The Royal Oak was sunk by a German submarine which managed to penetrate the defenses of Scapa Flow, great British base, and sunk the battleship as she lay at anchor in a place where she was presumed to be safe from attack. German bombers have flown over the various British naval bases many times and have waged heavy attacks on naval units without putting a capital ship out of action. The case of the aircraft carrier Illustrious is a fair example. The Illustrious is a mighty target. She is not very fast and does not carry heavy armament. The ship was bombed repeatedly on the open sea and in a base, and admittedly suffered heavy damage. Yet port was safely reached under her own power. The vessel was under the concentrated attack of great numbers of Nazi bombers for many hours—yet she was not sunk or destroyed.

Best evidence that the bomber is not a decisive factor against capital ships is a clipping from a well known German newspaper, which was recently reprinted in the British Press Service. The German newspaper is printed in Dresden and it said quite plainly:

"The result of experience up to date confirms the view that the battleship is unconquered and unconquerable. It has found new defenses against its new opponent, the air force. In the open sea it will continue to be as successful as it has been in the past."

The capital ship is in reality a floating fort. It carries an immense armament, it carries planes, it carries aircraft guns, and its striking power is as great as a tremendous army. It can literally destroy an inferior naval force, and its only opponent with hope for success is another battleship with equal armament and fire power. Of these ships Germany has none. England had about sixteen capital ships at the beginning of the war, and while no official statement has been made, it is likely that five more ships have been put in commission within recent months. One of these new ships—

AMERICAN BALKANS

The best effort of Nelson Rockefeller and his new department for coordination of Latin American affairs will be required in the period just ahead, when the U. S. will need complete freedom from domestic and hemispheric difficulties in order to go all-out for defense and aid to Britain.

These difficulties already exist, and are bound to increase. That was true during the World War, when American troops chased Villa into Mexico and others occupied Vera Cruz. Certain elements exist in every country, willing and anxious to take advantage of a period of international chaos to seize political and economic control for their own purposes. These elements in Latin America are being encouraged and abetted more today by axis agents than ever they were by the Central Power in the last war.

Potential trouble spots are as numerous in Latin America as are the nations. Cuba's promptly-quashed revolutionary flare-up on Tuesday is the most recent indication of what Washington must expect in many southern lands. Recent reports point to the likelihood of a totalitarian uprising in Argentina, most progressive of the Latin American nations, in the next few months. The germ for a revolt is known to be growing in Paraguay. Uruguay has never succeeded fully in cleaning house following the Nazi scare of last year. Mexico is an unknown but volcanic quantity. Panama is suspiciously friendly to German "economic representatives." Cuba is a powder keg.

Should Britain collapse under the impending Nazi invasion attempt, the troubled waters of Latin America will become a boiling cauldron. Harmless as the tempestuous Latin principalities appear to America's national interests, no matter how undemocratic their present government, they will become actively dangerous should their independent anarchy become autarchy, dependent upon and directed by Berlin.

The present situation is an exhortation to the U. S.—an invitation to redouble our efforts to bolster Britain as a barrier to Nazi penetration into any part of America, a command to remove all existing obstacles to perfect cooperation between Washington and all friendly elements in the southern nations.—Sun-Democrat and no one knew it was in commission—recently brought the British ambassador to this country. Naval experts of this country examined the King George and said it was the most powerful ship afloat today.

The future is black for the British today, and the British Isles may collapse before many months. The one striking fact to remember is that seapower has always won in great wars, and Britain still has the seapower.

length. I wonder how he managed to keep the subject and predicate in his mind while he was reeling off that many words and particularly do I wonder about the punctuation of such an involved sentence. As a printer I wonder how I would manage to set in type such a mammoth sentence. Setting it would be matter of days, and how could a printer keep the sentence and its subject in mind over night?

• I imagine that this twenty thousand word sentence is just about the champion of all long sentences. At least, it will do until a longer one comes along.

East Fulton—at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. Walter Willingham at her home on Third street.

Unedus will meet Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the church with Mrs. Enoch Milner, Mrs. Herbert Goulder, Mrs. Orian Winstead and Mrs. Finis Houston, hostesses.

The Wesleyan Service Guild will have its meeting Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the church, beginning with a pot-luck supper. Mrs. Lawrence Shelton will be hostess.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN OPEN MEETING FRIDAY

The Art Department sponsored the regular monthly open meeting of the Fulton Woman's Club which was held at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, February 7, in the club home. Decorations of the spacious room were potted plants in lovely arrangements which made a very pleasing effect.

Hostesses were Mesdames Fred Worth, Walter Voelpel, and Jake Huddleston and serving as pages were Misses Mary Milner and Mary Martin. Mrs. W. W. Morris presided at the register.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mansfield Martin, during which time the minutes were read by Mrs. Robert Graham in the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Aaron Butts.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Abe Jolley in the absence of Mrs. Charles Gregory. Mrs. Jake Huddleston then gave a report on Cancer Control, saying that there will not be a drive for the control of cancer in Fulton this year but it is hoped that each individual will want to give a personal contribution to this worthy cause. Mrs. Huddleston also stated that Mrs. Joe Page, chairman of Cancer Control for the district, reports that there will be a hospital bed for indigent cancer patients of this district in Riverside Hospital of Paducah. The librarian's report was given by Mrs. Walter Willingham in the absence of the librarian, Mrs. Wilmon Boyd.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Walter Voelpel, program leader for the afternoon. Mrs. Voelpel presented Misses Donna Jean DeMyer and Martha Nell Houston in a two-play march, "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar. Mrs. Voelpel then presented the Rev. Louis Bratcher who spoke on "Brazil." Rev. Bratcher has spent much time in Brazil and speaks of this South American country as a land of romance and mysticism, of youth and vigor. He says there is a great necessity for understanding the countries to the south of us so that we may deal with the problems at hand with a more brotherly attitude, rather than a "Yankee imperialistic" attitude.

At the end of the talk, Mrs. Voelpel presented Rev. Bratcher with a gift on behalf of the Art Department.

The meeting was then turned over to the hostesses who served dainty refreshments in the Valentine motif.

Visitors for the afternoon were Mrs. Carl Hastings, Mrs. Sadie Shore, of Rives, Tenn., Misses DeMyer and Houston, Rev. and Mrs. Bratcher and Mrs. Ed Bondurant.

BURTONS MOVE TO LANSING TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Burton and children left today for Lansing, Mich., to make their home. They were accompanied by Mr. Burton's father, Jim Burton, who will spend the winter with them. Mr. Burton, who has been employed at Lansing for some time, came here yesterday to accompany his family.

Their many Fulton friends regret their departure.

MRS. BURTON HONORED AT LOVELY PARTY

Mrs. Herbert Burton, who left today for Lansing, Mich., to make her home, was complimented yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Pearl Binkley entertained with a delightful party in her honor at her home East of town. The guest list included members of the McFadden Homemakers club, of which Mrs. Burton was a member, and each guest brought a lovely handkerchief for the honoree.

The afternoon was spent informally and a "Travel" contest was held with Mrs. Ernest Brady being the prize winner.

Late in the afternoon, the guests were invited into the dining room where delicious refreshments were served from the attractively decorated table. The table held as a centerpiece, a large punch bowl in which burning apples floated, and was flanked by lighted candles.

Ten guests enjoyed Mrs. Binkley's hospitality.

FULTONIANS SEEN AT BASKETBALL GAME

Among the Fulton fans who attended the Fulton-Milburn basketball game at Milburn last night were: Betty Sue Houston, Maurine Ketcham, Elizabeth Payne, June Dixon, Will Lee, Milton Crawford, Buddy Steele, Glenn Crawford, Hershel Hawkins, Wallace McCollum, Don Sensing, Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Moore, Clarence Ford, Martha Moore, Helen King, Jimmy Lowe, James Campbell, Robert Vancil.

IMAGINE KICKING $68,000 AROUND

New York. — A well dressed woman, shopping in a Ninth avenue market, dropped a paper-wrapped package from her shopping basket and a clerk, thinking it was waste paper, kicked it under a counter.

WATCH REPAIRING AND ELGIN WATCHES, BULOVA, HAMILTON, ANDREWS JEWELRY CO.

About to leave the store, the woman noticed the package was missing and screamed.

The manager, Edward Culhane, and the clerk hastily recovered the bundle and gave it to the customer. She told them it contained $68,000.

Culhane received a $10 reward. The clerk got nothing.

FILES COPY OF NOTE HE HOPES WILL BRING HIM $196,000 RETURN

Chicago. — A photographic copy of a note which George Remus of Cincinnati hopes to collect $196,000 from the estate of Edward J. O'Hare was placed in evidence today at a probate court hearing.

Remus claimed that the note was executed in 1923, when he said, O'Hare agreed to pay him $203,200 for a stock of liquor then stored in St. Louis.

A balance of $196,000 was still due, Remus contended, when O'Hare, a race track magnate, was slain here on Nov. 8, 1939. Remus subsequently filed a claim for that amount against O'Hare's estate, estimated at $500,000.

The next hearing was set for Feb. 20 when the defendant, the Northern Trust Company, executor, will have an opportunity to state its side of the case.

THEY MAY AGREE ON DAMAGE WHEN SHE GIVES HER DECISION

Frankfort, Ky. — Best traffic cop story of the week, as told by City Policeman Richard Glass:

A light delivery truck, a passenger car driven by a woman, and a police car approached a crossing on East Main street here.

The truck halted as the stop light flashed red. The passenger car rammed it.

"Can you folks get together on the damage?" inquired the policeman as the truck driver, muttering to himself, jumped out to inspect the damage.

"You're dern tootin' we can!" he replied. "That woman's my wife."

Plans Made To Obtain T. V. A. Power

Congressman Beverly M. Vincent of Kentucky announced in Washington Friday that the War Department and the Solvay Process Company, Hopewell, Va., has signed a contract for construction of an $11,000,000 anhydrous ammonia plant at Henderson, Ky., and that electric power arrangements for the plant have been made with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Vincent also announced that the Soil Conservation Service would open an office at Henderson "in the near future" to purchase land for the ammonia plant to be built by the War Department, the Associated Press reported.

Safety Factor Considered
The necessity for large land purchases, Vincent said, arose from a desire to build the plant in small widely-separated units as a safety move in the event of fires or explosion. (Anhydrous ammonia is used in the manufacture of explosives.)

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

In an effort to solve drainage problems, Trigg county farmers will make four demonstrations in subsiding, one demonstration of a combination of open ditches and tile drainage, and three demonstrations in the value of deep-rooting sweet clover.

J. Wash Ledford of Harlan county grew 55 bushels of corn to the acre on 20 acres that was a swamp until 1938. The land was drained in 1939 and treated with limestone and phosphate in the spring of 1940.

C. W. Homan, who owns a farm on the Beech Fork river in Washington county, has started a drainage project in which 47,000 feet of tile will be needed in 130 acres. Ten-inch tile is being used in the mains.

Members of the Green River Strawberry Growers' Association at their annual meeting voted unanimously in favor of the Kentucky State grading law. Plans were made to expand the acreage and to invite growers in neighboring counties to join the association.

Red clover hay yields in Hopkins county were increased from 2,424 pounds to the acre where the soil was untreated to 3,878 pounds where limestone and phosphate were applied. Lespedeza hay yields were more than doubled where the soil was treated.

In the past five years approximately 12,000 acres in Lyon county have been limed. This is about one-fifth of the crop land. Also the equivalent of 3,850,000 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate has been used.

SAYS BETTER TIMES

AHEAD FOR FARMERS

Better times are ahead for farmers, as a result of the defense program and the rise in employment, Oris V. Wells, United States Department of Agriculture economist, said at the Farm and Home Convention at Lexington.

Consumers are expected to have available 15 percent more money this year than they had in 1940, he said, and this will mean better demand for all kinds of food. He thought income would rise further in 1942, and that "farmers can look forward to a considerably better price and demand situation during the next few years than has recently prevailed."

Better times, however, will apply only to farmers who produce for domestic consumption, as "the outlook for agricultural exports for the duration of the current war is dark," the economist said. Long-time trend in exports is downward, and he warned that producers of export commodities face a problem in regaining or retaining their export market if and when the war is ended.

Farmers were advised to participate in the agricultural conservation program. "The conservation program, together with the accompanying marketing quota, surplus removal, and commodity loan programs...offer farmers a chance to work together in adjusting supplies to the market situation, a chance to supplement their incomes from marketing and government payments, and a chance to conserve both soil resources and human effort," he concluded.

Greeks Deny U. S. Plane Offer Is Rejected

Washington, —Decision of the Greek Government on a proffered American gift of thirty fighting planes was awaited today after the Greek legation denied that the offer had been rejected.

Navy Secretary Knox said yesterday that Greece had turned down a proposed free transfer of thirty planes from the U. S. Aircraft carrier Wasp.

But George S. Repasts, Greek Minister-Counselor, declared there had been "a misunderstanding."

"The planes were offered," he said, "and we wired our Government. We are still awaiting instructions from Athens."

What the Greeks apparently wanted, Knox said, was thirty new planes they were trying to obtain from stocks ordered by Great Britain. The Chinese Government, he said, recently arranged to secure 100 planes ordered by Britain.

"Mixed" Train Again Barred By Injunction

Frankfort, Ky., —The Illinois Central Railroad is again prohibited, at least temporarily, from substituting a mixed "passenger-freight" train between Henderson and Hopkinsville, Ky., for regular passenger service.

After the Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that the Kentucky Railroad Commission could not prevent the road from modifying existing service and dissolving a restraining order against the railroad, the commission late Thursday night obtained a second temporary injunction.

SCOUT NEWS

The meeting of Troop 43 of Boy Scouts was held last night with due ceremony. The Troop wishes to express its appreciation for the presence of Mr. Louis Weeks, Mr. Foad Homra and Mr. Cates. Mr. Weeks talked on the obedience to the Scout Oath and Law. He also distributed pamphlets on scout pledges. Mr. Homra discussed his hopes for a group of working troops in Fulton.

After these talks the roll was called and twenty-one boys were present. The Wolf Patrol, which won the contest, will attend one of the local theatres after next Wednesday night's meeting.

Then a very rough and exciting game of "steel the bacon" was played. When this was finished the meeting was dismissed with the Scoutmaster's Benediction, led by Paul Gholson.

Sunday night at 8 o'clock 11 Scouts will attend the First Baptist church and participate in the service. Troop 43 will have charge of the candle ceremony. In observance of National Boy Scout week, Scout Jack Austin will attend the Rotary club Tuesday at noon. Scout Edward Crutchfield will attend the Y. M. C. meeting Tuesday night, and Scout John Mac Travis will attend the Lions club meeting Friday at noon. All Scouts of Fulton wish to thank all of the people for their help in various projects during the last year.

Why take a chance?
We Guarantee
"No-Pack" in the Price!

DELIVERED!

A stylish, roomy, 115-hp. Buick Special 4-door Sedan with Buick Fireball engine for only:

$1,156.00

GUARANTEED!

Every buyer gets an ironclad guarantee that there is no "pack" or hidden charge of any kind in the price he pays.

WHETHER you've been fooled by new-car "price packing" or not, you probably know that sometimes the price of a car contains a hidden charge or "pack."

This extra item allows the dealer more leeway in arriving at a trade-in allowance on your present car.

You think you're getting a better allowance. Actually you're not getting a good "deal" at all—because you're paying a top-heavy price for the new car.

We want you to know right now that we don't do business that way. And just to make it clear, we put it in black and white.

First with every new Buick we sell — give the buyer an itemized invoice listing every charge and telling what each item covers.

Secondly, we give you a written "No-Pack" Guarantee — positive assurance that there are no "padded" or unfair charges in the price you pay.

Wouldn't you rather receive a guarantee like that than take a chance on being fooled by "price packing"?

And wouldn't you like to try the thrifty and abundant power of the new Buick Fireball straight-eight engine?

Then why not drop in and learn more about the '41 Buick — and about our fair and square price policy!
