Fulton Co. Fair A Grand Success

Big Crowds in Attendance — Good Races—Exhibitions in Every Department Are Attractive.

Gay Crowds at Night Shows

Large crowds are in daily attendance at the eighteenth annual meeting of the Fulton County Fair.

The fair opened Tuesday, at which time all ladies were admitted free and the usual large opening day crowd was in attendance.

Children's day brought out another great crowd and the little ones had a joyous time.

The racing has been unusually good, some of the best horses ever seen on the local track being here. The balance of the week will see some fine horses in action.

The exhibits in Floral Hall are the best we have seen in several years. The west side is literally filled with needle and art work, preserves, canned fruits, cakes, etc. To attempt a description of these articles is impossible.

The exhibits in the agricultural department are extraordinarily attractive and reflect what a wonderful agricultural country surrounds Fulton. Among the fruit exhibit which attracted our attention was a hamper of Stark's delicious apples from the orchard of Herman Grymes. Mr. Grymes' orchard is located in the southern suburbs of South Fulton and is said to be one of the best in this vicinity. The crop this year is a record breaker for fine fruit.

An added feature to this year's displays is the Swift & Company's exhibit of Brookfield products in charge of J. F. Lucas, local plant superintendent, and W. P. Ayers, assistant manager. They are conducting an educational campaign and giving out valuable literature worth while.

Music Everywhere

To attempt a description of all the displays would require many columns, but the beautiful musical programs furnished by Rucker's on the automatic orchestra playing 28 records, deserve special comment. Visit their booth beneath the grandstand and see the marvelous musical devices and enjoy the programs.

Geo. Alley also has a display worth while and music lovers enjoy the programs from his booth.

Johnny Koehn and his Kentuckians are furnishing music for the fair from the grandstand, while the Rice Carnival Company furnish music out on the grounds for their various attractions. The merry-go-round has a music box of its own.

The fair management this year has provided the largest number of free acts ever attempted. The Harrisons are a thrill from start to finish and Nagle's Wonder Working Dogs is the greatest dog act in this country. Nothing is being left undone to entertain the crowds and everybody is having a jolly good time drinking lemonade, eating popcorn and seeing the sights of a big fair.

Among the displays deserving special mention out on the grounds are as follows:

The Kentucky Hardware & Implement Co., in charge of W. W. Batts, is exhibiting the Enterprise line of heaters and Ranges, also the 20th Century Marvel, Coleman Cookers, Oliver Implements and wagons, and the old noted field fence, Keystone line.

The Felts Hardware Company is displaying the International line of tractors and farm implements. A. N. Wood, P. W. Province and O. M. McDaniel, of the International Harvesting Company, are in charge, demonstrating the true merits of the machines. Estate heaters, Maytag washers and McCormick-Deering cream separators are also included in the displays, and beneath the grandstand, Felts Hardware Company is displaying Hanna's line of paints and varnish. The display is in charge of Salesman Carter.

The Fulton Hardware Company's display of John Deering cultivators, implements and wagons are attracting attention as well as the Majestic, Sunbeam and Allen Princess Ranges. Beneath the grandstand, the Fulton Hardware Company is displaying the celebrated Allen Parlor Furnace with old time fireside cheer. Frank Beadles, the clever manager, is in charge.

Large Cattle Show

Fulton and adjoining counties are proud of the cattle exhibition at the fair this year. It is one of the best and largest exhibits during the history of the fair and demonstrates the interest being taken in thoroughbred stock. Too much credit cannot be given County Agent H. A. McPherson and Secretary Joe D. Davis of the Fulton Chamber of Commerce for the work accomplished.

The following have entered dairy cattle for exhibit, and others will follow: Jones Reeves, Davie, T. B. Renfro, Perry Harrison, Harold Muzzall, James Anderson, Robert Watts, Elvis McMullin, Preston Ferrell, Palestine Club Bull, Waylon Burnett, Ed Browder, Jas. Floyd, Robert Thompson, Craig Roberts, C. A. Turner, Jr., Enoch Browder, Chas. A. Williams, Walton and Jamie Stallins, Tom Counce, Dyer Counce, Eugene Speight, Edwin Stein, Bob Whitlock, Buck Ward, Willys Ward, Bowers' Club Bull.

The following have entered their hogs and others will be added to the list: G. H. Shanklin & Son, J. W. Brundidge, S. G. Cole, of Oakview Farm, Newbern, Tennessee, C. Fox of Fox Hall Farm, Obion Tennessee, and Cecil Burnett.

Fulton county is represented with more than 34 entries in the cattle department. Everything is kept clean and everybody in attendance at the fair should take plenty of time to view the exhibits.

AND NOW WE COME TO THE CHICKEN HOUSE

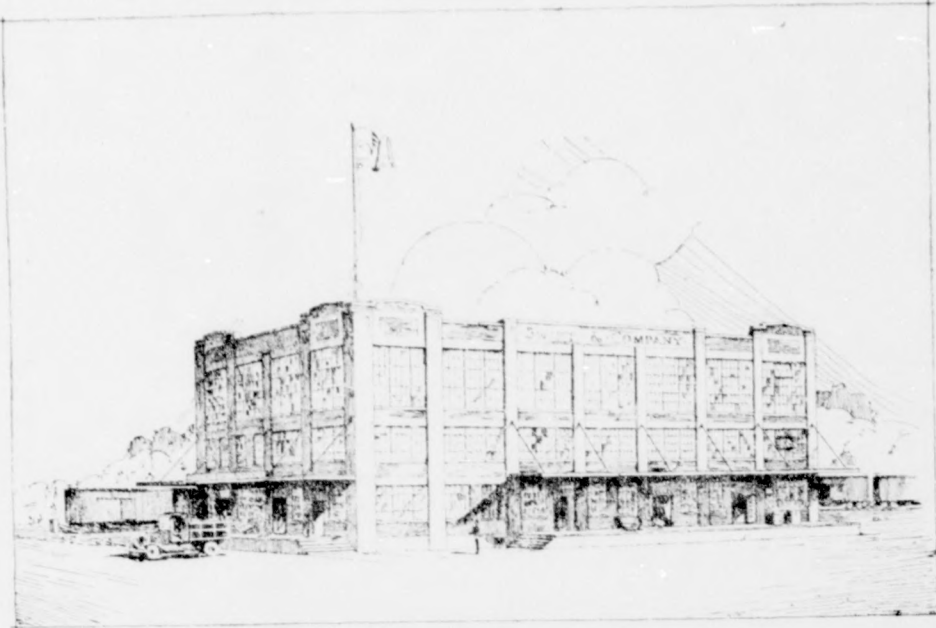

The poultry show this year surpasses any former shows, and proves beyond a doubt that hard work will accomplish wonders. Supt. Watkins is a tireless worker when it comes to putting on a chicken show and does not allow one day to go by without thinking or doing something for his show. Already he is planning for the 1930 show and promises to surpass the one this year. He will have to go some if he beats this year's efforts.

He has a very creditable show and although he is still cramped for room, he has the show in mighty good shape.

You can say he has played a game of "solitary," in getting up the show this year, for all the actual work of soliciting funds and members has been done by himself, and he really deserves more credit than he gets for his tireless efforts.

This year he has several new features. First, just as you enter the main door, on your left is a very creditable display of Swift & Company's Produce Plant will Open Sept. 18.

Swift & Company will make their first churning of butter in Fulton next Monday morning, and two or three days later they will begin the operation of the poultry and egg department. This marks the beginning of the operation of Fulton's newest industry and it should prove to be one of the largest in this whole section of country. A handsome new three story building is just now being completed on State Line Street. This building is modern in every respect, being constructed with reinforced concrete and brick. It is equipped with an electric elevator and the newest machinery for butter making has been installed. There are five large coolers that are refrigerated. These coolers have a capacity of seven cars of manufactured products. This plant has a capacity of three million pounds of butter per year, and two hundred thousand head of poultry. There is a provision for feeding twenty-five thousand head of poultry continuously. These fowls will be fed from seven to fourteen days at which time they will be dressed, cleaned and picked, ready for shipment, which will be made by parcel post and express as well as in carloads in refrigerator cars. Local firms handling this produce will be sold through the local manager; Cream received at this plant will be immediately made into butter, cooled, packed and shipped to the trade within a period of seven to ten days from its receipt.

There have been established more than seventy cream stations in Kentucky and Tennessee adjoining Fulton where cream will be bought and shipped to this plant. Jackson, Tennessee, has been designated as a concentrating point for this plant. Other points will be designated later. Poultry buying stations are to be open in several different towns within the territory. All of this tends to show something of the organization that it takes to operate a produce plant.

Buttermilk that is made from churning cream will be offered to the farmers for one and one-half cents per gallon. This is very fine feed for hogs and the farmers should be glad of an opportunity to buy it for this low price. It is also very good for poultry feed.

The produce department of Swift & Company is managed by W. F. Jackson with Mr. T. F. Canfield as his territory manager for this territory. These men are located at the head office in Chicago. The Fulton plant will be run by the following men: Thos. F. Burns, plant manager; W. P. Ayers, assistant manager; J. F. Lucas, plant superintendent; E. E. Bein, butcher maker; W. C. Waken, chief clerk; C. C. Howard, field man; J. C. Stowe, field man, with headquarters at Jackson, Tennessee; J. H. Drewery, chief engineer. In addition to these there will be a large force of employees, the number of which will be governed by the amount of produce received from time to time. On the 18th of September, this plant will be thrown open for business and everybody within a radius of fifty miles of Fulton should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing what a wonderful, up-to-date plant Swift & Company has erected in Fulton for the purpose of handling produce. Plans will be announced within a few days for the program for that day. Visitors will be invited from the offices of Swift & Company in Chicago and from offices of the Illinois Central System, as well as from the Extension Department of the College of Agriculture of Kentucky and Tennessee. Many prizes in cash will be announced along with the program for the biggest celebration that Fulton has ever had.

KNOX WHEELER SURRENDERS AT UNION CITY

Waives Preliminary Hearing When Arraigned in Squire's Court—Refuses to Talk

With police of several states, Federal authorities and insurance detectives conducting an intensive search for him, Knox Wheeler, son of a wealthy Union City, Tenn., planter, and alleged head of the West Tennessee auto theft ring, surrendered to Union City police at noon Monday.

At 10 o'clock Monday morning, Jailor I. S. Griffith received a telephone call saying that Wheeler was on his way to the jail. Two hours later, Wheeler surrendered.

He was arraigned before Squire J. F. Gregory on a charge of selling stolen property and waived preliminary hearing. He was held under a $1,000 bond to await grand jury action in September. His bond was made immediately by his father and brothers.

Wheeler told police that he had been in several northern states since leaving Union City more than a week ago, but further than that, refused to talk or answer any questions.

J. L. Buckingham Meets Sudden Death

J. L. Buckingham, aged 60, Illinois Central workman, who was employed at the coal chute north of town, was instantly killed Tuesday night at 11 o'clock when struck by an engine in charge of Engineer Townsend which was backing up to the coal chute to take on coal for a run to Paducah.

It seems that Mr. Buckingham was watching a fast passenger train which was passing and stepped over on the other main line. The engine, in charge of Engineer Townsend was backing up to the chute, and the engineer could not see. Buckingham failed to hear the approaching engine, due to the noise from the passing passenger train.

Mr. Buckingham lived in the Highlands and is survived by his widow and eight children, five sons and three daughters. Two brothers and two sisters also survive. He was a member of the Christian church and a good man.

4-H CLUB CALVES GET FREE FEED

To show their appreciation for the good work done by the members of the 4-H club boys and girls in fitting and showing their purebred dairy cattle the Browder Milling Company will furnish feed for their stock at the fair. This is done because Browder Brothers realize that it is good to encourage the young people, and in doing this the expense of showing will be lessened.

Browder Brothers are opening an up-to-date feed mill that will manufacture only the best feeds for all purposes. This concern buys all surplus grain from our farmers at the highest market price, and manufactures it into flour and feed. This is sold with their guarantee of satisfaction.

The new feed mill is something Fulton should be proud of, and it will fill a great need in our community.

South Fulton Schools.

On September 2nd, South Fulton School will begin the '29-30 Session. Everything seems to point to a successful year. A new building with two new classrooms and an auditorium, which provides for a gymnasium is now under construction.

FORMER FULTON CITIZEN KILLED AT BARDWELL

Fulton friends and relatives of W. S. McCloy, former Fulton citizen and hardware merchant, were shocked Friday night when a message was received from Bardwell, Ky., stating that he was dead, having been killed in a pistol duel with his son-in-law, Lucian Turk.

The fight is alleged to have been the result of alleged mistreatment of McCloy's daughter by Turk. Both men met in front of the McCloy Hardware Store in Bardwell at 8:30 Friday night and settled their differences in one of the most sensational gun fights Western Kentucky has ever seen.

McCloy was standing in front of his store when Turk is alleged to have approached. Witnesses claim that McCloy warned Turk to come no farther. Turk drew a pistol from his pocket, it is claimed, and fired several shots at McCloy, and the latter, wounded, managed to draw his pistol and returned fire. Both men emptied their pistols at each other. It is charged that Turk hit his dying foe on the head with the butt of his pistol. McCloy fell lifeless to the pavement.

Turk, who is said to have started at McCloy again, was stopped by bystanders. He then whispered, "He's got me, too," and sank to the pavement. He was rushed to the office of Dr. W. G. Payne and later to Riverside hospital in Paducah.

McCloy was one of the leading churchmen and business men of Bardwell. He was owner of the Bardwell Hardware Store and was superintendent of the Sunday school at the Bardwell Christian church.

Turk, 40, is said to be one of the wealthiest land owners in Carlisle county. He is retired. The Turks had been married for 10 years and are parents of two children. McCloy is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Turk, and two sons.

Buried in Fairview

Funeral services for Mr. McCloy were held Sunday afternoon at the Christian church in Bardwell of which he had been a member for many years.

The pastor, the Rev. C. C. McCaw, conducted the services assisted by Congressman Voris Gregory. Immediately after the services, the funeral cortege left by automobile for Fulton where burial was held in Fairview cemetery.

Mr. McCloy was a member of the Masonic lodge and Royal Arch, and superintendent of the Christian church Sunday school at Bardwell.

The large attendance at his funeral and the many beautiful floral offerings were evidences of the esteem in which he was held.

Surviving Mr. McCloy are his widow; one daughter, Mrs. L. C. Turk; and two sons, Murphy and Stuart, and one brother, Wallace McCloy, of McComb, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Stephens and family of Bardwell, Jack Murphy of Baton Rouge, La.; Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Dobbins, of Louisville; Mrs. H. T. Alexander, of Augusta, Ky., were among those who attended the burial of W. S. McCloy which was held here Sunday.

Turk's Condition Serious.

Tuesday's Paducah Sun-Democrat says:

"Lucian C. Turk, who was dangerously wounded in a gun battle at Bardwell, Friday night, in which he killed Walter S. McCloy, his father-in-law, was resting well at the Riverside hospital last night, hospital attaches said. Turk still is in a serious condition from two wounds in his stomach."

WHEN WE FOLLOW THE GYPSY TRAIL

By JOSEPHINE B. GIBSON
Director, Home Economics Dept., H. J. Heinz Company

With the coming of warm weather, our love of the outdoors makes us receptive to the friendly call of the road, and the urge to take to the open is irresistible. It only for a few hours.

On such expeditions a few simple camping utensils and a well-stocked emergency shelf enable one to arrange a delightful picnic meal on short notice. Foods may be prepared at home and carried in a small fireless cooker, or reheated over a campfire or small portable alcohol stove. A long-handled corn popper serves admirably as a broiler for bacon or steak, or to toast crackers or bread. Other useful utensils for campers are thermos bottles, coffee pot, can opener, corker, sharp knife, long-handled spoon and cake turner.

Here are several delicious out-of-door menus:

Menu No. 1

Broiled Bacon and Olives in Soft Rolls
(Broiled over campfire)
Frankfort sausages, skin removed, broiled over fire, serve in rolls and prepared mustard
Potato Chips Cole Slaw (Carry cabbage and dressing from home, and mix before using)
Apple Butter Cookies Dill Pickles
Deviled cheese and toasted crackers, broiled in corn popper

Deviled Cheese—Mash half-pot and rich American cheese. Mix with 1 tablespoon butter, two teaspoons 2-cup vinegar, dash of cayenne and 1 teaspoon each of sugar, prepared mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Prepare in advance and carry in 2½ oz. jar. Toast large soda crackers in corn popper and while hot spread with cheese mixture and serve.

Broiled Bacon and Olives—Roll a thin strip of bacon around a scented olive, fasten with toothpick and broil over campfire in corn popper or on end of long, slender stick. Serve in rolls.

Apple Butter Cookies—2 cups brown sugar; 1 cup butter or lard; 1 whole egg; 8-oz. 1 cup sour milk; 1 level teaspoon soda; 1 level teaspoon salt; apple butter. Cream sugar and butter, or lard. Add egg, well beaten. Add sour milk mixed with soda and salt. Add enough flour to make soft dough. Roll dough to ¼ inch thickness, shape with cookie cutter and cover with cookie of equal size. Press edges together and bake in moderate oven.

Menu No. 2
Baked Beans with Pork
(Heat can of beans in boiling water, open can and serve)
Boston Brown Bread and Butter Sandwiches
Sandwich Relish Sandwiches
Tomatoes Stuffed with Celery or Cabbage and Mayonnaise (Carried from home)

Sunday School Lesson

Lesson for September 1

THE RETURN OF THE SECOND GROUP OF EXILES TO JERUSALEM

GOLDEN TEXT—The hand of our God is upon all them for good that seek Him.

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 7:1-8:36.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Care on a Journey.

JUNIOR TOPIC—God's Care on a Journey.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Prayer Helps.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Prayer and Providence.

I. The Leader—Ezra (7:1-10).

1. Who he was (vv. 1-6).

(1) A priest (vv. 1-5). He was from the line which was to stand between God and the people, a descendant of Seraiah, the chief priest who had lineage back to Aaron. The leader of the first company was Zerubbabel, a sort of military governor. The great need now was for a religious leader, for the people had gone far from God.

(2) A ready scribe (v. 6).

He was a teacher of the law of God. A scribe's training began at thirteen years, but he did not enter upon his official duties till thirty years of age, giving him seventeen years of training.

2. His high ambition (vv. 7-10).

(1) He set his heart to seek the law of the Lord (v. 10). He definitely set out with the purpose to know God's word. No one who purposes in his heart to seek the law of the Lord can fail.

(2) He set his heart to obey the Lord (v. 10). He was not only concerned with knowing God's word, but obeying it. God's word cannot be known in its fullness by the intellect; it must be experienced.

(3) He set his heart to teach in Israel God's statutes and judgments (v. 10). He not only had a love for God's word, but a desire to implant it in the hearts of others.

II. Ezra's Commission (7:11-26).

ARTAXERXES, the king, gave him a copy of the decree, authorizing him to lead a company back to Jerusalem. This decree empowered him:

1. To collect funds (vv. 15, 16).

2. To levy tribute (vv. 21, 22).

3. To appoint magistrates and judges (v. 25).

4. To execute penalties (v. 26).

For this great favor Ezra lifted his heart to God in thanksgiving (v. 27, 28).

III. The Company Which Returned (8:1-20).

The company was comparatively small—only seventeen hundred and fifty-four males, but including women, children and servants there were perhaps 3,000 or seven thousand people.

IV. Ezra's Prayer and Fasting (8:21-23).

The first thing that Ezra did was to seek God's guidance. All Christians, as well as leaders of the people, should seek divine guidance and help in every new undertaking. No success can be realized without His help and blessing. The reason Ezra sought the Lord's help was that as far as possible he desired his mission to be free from human dependence. He did not minimize the dangers attending his journey, but since he had assured the king that the hand of the Lord would be upon all for good who sought Him, he was now ashamed to ask the king for a military escort to protect them from the marauding Arabs. His desire was to prove to the king the reality of God's help for God's honor among the heathen was at stake. This was a real test of faith, but God was faithful.

V. The Successful Journey (8:24-82).

God heard their prayer. The treasure entrusted to them was great. Perhaps the entire value of money and sacred utensils was about five million dollars. For a small caravan carrying such an amount of money to go through a country infested by robber bands was most perilous, but Ezra knew that God was able and would protect them. Observe:

1. Care and honesty (vv. 24-30).

The money was weighed unto them at the start and was to be weighed when turned over to the authorities at Jerusalem. The incentive to honesty and strict accounting of the trust was that they were holy men and were entrusted with that which was holy because it belonged to God. Most exacting care should be exercised in handling the Lord's money.

2. Their safe arrival (vv. 31, 32).

Some four and one-half months were required to make the journey. God brought them safely to their destination, thus proving that He is faithful to those who put their trust in Him.

God's Answer Not Always Yes

A little girl had been invited to a picnic party. Being a devout little girl, she prayed for fine weather and a happy time. But on the morning of the day the skies were gray and rain fell heavily. Instead of roaming in the fields she stood looking out on a dreary landscape. "You prayed for fine weather, didn't you?" said her mother, "and God hasn't answered your prayer, has He?" "Oh, yes, He has, mother," came the apt reply, "and He has said 'No.'"

A Lightning Change Artist

ONE of the most versatile and appetizing of all the foods that come in cans is apple butter. You can spread it over bread pudding after baking, cover with meringue and return to the oven to brown. You can fold it into tapioca cream pudding, chill the pudding and serve it in sherbet glasses, topped with whipped cream. You can split sponge cakes, put in a generous layer of apple butter between and on top, and serve with whipped cream. You can make individual shortcakes of hot baking powder biscuits, apple butter and whipped cream. Or you can fill baked pastry shells with apple butter, cover with meringue and brown in a hot oven. Served with waffles, apple butter is a welcome novelty. French toast and apple butter is another tasty combination. Fried mush, served with apple butter, has a fresh appeal.

Many Other Ways

For parties make it pretty. Spread it on thin slices of fresh bread from which the crusts have been removed. Roll carefully so that the bread will not break, and tie each roll with a narrow ribbon or fasten it together with a toothpick. Or cut thin slices of bread in fancy shapes, put a border of cream cheese around the edge with a pastry tube and a spoonful of canned apple butter in the center. Mixed with chopped nuts and used between thin slices of Graham bread, apple butter makes a delicious sandwich.

Apple butter is a lightning change artist. It can adapt itself to so many dishes that a can of it should always be kept on hand.

A GOOD FAIR IS OUR BEST EDUCATIONAL ASSET

Fulton is this week celebrating its eighteenth annual fair, and the people embracing the five counties of Fulton, Hickman, Graves, Weakley and Obion believe that this is the best educational project we can have. It is made a success largely through the cooperation of the club organization, the women and the 4-H club boys and girls. The forward thinking men of the whole section are giving their time and thought to the project, but the main results to be seen at the fair are from the efforts of the organizations. People are convinced today, as never before, that if farming is to be put on a paying basis that the educational work must be done with young people. There will be but a few months' time until these young folks will be the men and women of the day and then they will continue to use the up-to-date methods in their farming that they learned in the club work.

The many entries of purebred cattle, hogs and chickens that are on display at the fair are the result of the efforts of the club members. There has never been a greater interest in purebred livestock and chickens than there is today, and if this effort is carried on, we will see the greatest improvement imaginable in the farms of our community.

To properly raise live stock and chickens, the necessary amount of feed must be grown on the farm. This can only be done when the soil has been made rich and proper methods of cultivation used. Good soil cannot be built without growing clover, and clover can't be grown without the use of lime stone. The Illinois Central System is aiding the farmers this week by testing their soils at a booth at the fair. This is done free of charge to the farmers and this is a wonderful benefit to our community.

The fair association provides wonderful amusement in the way of races, free attractions and shows of different kinds, but the big thing that is accomplished in an educational way is the show of farm products and livestock of all kinds. We welcome all the visitors who will be here this week to attend the fair and sincerely hope that they will gather an inspiration from what they see that will cause them to endeavor to do better in the future.

THE FIRST DAY AT SCHOOL

In counting the great days of a man's life, do not forget that one on which he starts to school.

From tens of thousands of homes the babies are going forth, never to come back.

Somewhere between nine o'clock and noon a transformation has occurred. We send our babies to school, but boys and girls come home to us.

And the little lad's great adventure has begun. Elbert Hubbard once said, "Send your son to college and the boys will educate him."

Today the little one has measured himself, perhaps for the first time, alongside of others. He has entered into competition with them, matched wits, made his demands and taken what he could get. His insistent will has come into conflict with other wills as insistent as his own.

He will be getting his education pretty rapidly from now on. He will be learning how to get along with folk—an accomplishment more important than art, literature or music. He will be learning to submit to authority—the beginning of good citizenship. He will be learning something of the marvelous dimensions of the world in which he lives—the beginning of true humility and real scholarship.

Above all, he will begin to learn the essentials of democracy for there is no society in the world in which social and class lines are less conspicuous than among children. He will be popular because of his own worth, not because of the fact that he is the son of his father.

The first day at school is a great day in the nation's history. Tomorrow's president, senators, judges and plain citizens have gone into training. The hope of tomorrow is in the hands of the teachers today. America of tomorrow is in the making.

IT'S UP TO YOU

The record for 1929 is being rapidly closed. The next few months will cast up the final account. During the remainder of the year the peak period of merchandising expenditures will be reached throughout the United States. The conditions here in Fulton are much the same as they are elsewhere in fairly prosperous communities. In the big trading centers merchants are looking to the expansion in holiday buying to put a favorable aspect upon their annual inventories and to afford an auspicious opening for the New Year.

It will make a vital difference where you do your holiday shopping. The people of this community have it well within their power to make 1930 a successful year in Fulton to establish a new high-water mark in the volume of business transacted and to inaugurate a new era in the betterment of conditions. There will be enough money expended to accomplish these ends—provided that money is made to pass through local trade channels.

The dictates of patriotism should impel public-spirited citizens to join in the practical and effective means of community-boosting. The interest which we feel in the well-being of our friends and neighbors should prompt us to helpfulness in a natural, logical way. Good business judgment and common business experience emphasize the fact that an increase in local trade means an increase in community prosperity—a betterment for everybody whose interests are identified with the community. Economy and thrift, good sense and self-interest all combine their influences in motivating the employment of the means at hand for bringing Fulton to the threshold of 1930 with the greatest trade gain in her history.

Here is a sensible, practical and effective means of self-helpfulness and community building—better than any scheme of exploitation that could possibly be devised.

LABOR DAY

Labor Day was made for protest and demonstration, but in this land of peace and plenty, it has been generally translated into a farewell party for the summer. It marks the end of the time when those who can do so take life easily; when the business man dodges his desk, and store and workshop surrender some hours to the good cause of health and happiness. Now the engine of our national life will pick up speed again and turn to profit the intangible assets of the summer season.

The world slips back easily into old ways, and usually without much damage done. In primitive times the sun determined human habits, whether of work or play. Lately we have escaped somewhat from the hard discipline of the industrial age and have found that it does no harm to lighten our loads for the summer season and postpone the high pressure of business until cooler weather. It is as logical to do so as that men should work by day and sleep by night.

The increasing custom of vacation gives our working men and women a breathing spell and a chance to gather health and strength on seashore, mountain and river. Business pays tribute to His Majesty the Sun and gets it back with interest in the long and busy days of winter.

STILL WAITING

An elderly lady visiting New York asked a policeman what bus she should take to get to a certain place. He told her to take the "412" bus that passed her corner.

A few hours later the policeman returned to find the lady still standing on the corner. "What, haven't you got your bus yet?" he asked. "It's all right," she said. "This is the 22nd, so it will only be 189 busses from now."—Pittsburgh.

PAVTRY

FINDS NEW WAY
TO STORE EGGS

Small Amounts of Carbon Dioxide Will Be Big Aid.

Eggs can be better preserved if they are stored where there is a certain amount of carbon dioxide in the air, according to Paul F. Sharp of the New York State College of Agriculture, who has just published the results of some experiments on eggs in Science.

Eggs stored in ordinary air spoil rapidly after they lose the carbon dioxide which is a part of the egg. As soon as an egg is laid it starts to become more alkaline and this hastens decay. This alkaline tendency, however, can be easily and conveniently neutralized and controlled if the eggs are placed where the air contains small amounts of carbon dioxide.

This discovery has a practical result because carbon dioxide can be introduced into cold storage rooms in amounts which greatly retard the destructive changes in the eggs and yet the amount in the air will not be enough to prevent workmen from entering the storage rooms. Carbon dioxide can be used also in shipping containers and in refrigerator cars.

A convenient source of this gas can be used, such as the solid form of the gas form in cylinders. Professor Sharp says the only method of preserving eggs which approaches this one in cheapness and practicability is the oil dipping method in which eggs are dipped in a suitable oil which very nearly seals the pores. The carbon dioxide method is superior to the oil method, because the whites of the oil-dipped eggs become cloudy in storage. Those preserved by the carbon are not cloudy after the eggs are removed from the air which contains the carbon dioxide.

HICKMAN COUNTY HOME MAKERS MEET

One Hundred and Fifteen Homemakers and their families attended the annual meeting of the Hickman County Homemakers' Association, held at the Clinton high school, Wednesday, August 21.

Mrs. Richard Mobley, of Beclerton, presided, and Mrs. Vester Campbell, of Clinton, was secretary. The morning session was given over to reports by the club presidents as follows:

Mrs. Richard Mobley, Beclerton; Mrs. Vester Campbell, Clinton; Mrs. H. L. Weatherford, Croley; Mrs. W. M. Ward Shiloh; Miss Treva Lamkin, Spring Hill; Mrs. H. S. Alexander, Oakton.

The following county project leaders gave reports:

Mrs. H. S. Alexander, membership; Mrs. C. V. Heaslet, clothing; Mrs. Sid Cunningham, foods; Miss Erline Perry, junior. All of the reports contained work done the past year with goals set for the coming year.

The Constitution was changed to read Hickman County Homemakers' Association, instead of Carlisle-Hickman, as last year.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President, Mrs. Vester Campbell, Clinton; Vice-President, Mrs. Richard Mobley, Beclerton; Secretary, Miss Treva Lamkin, Spring Hill; Program Conductor, Mrs. Byron Moultrie, Croley; Food Leader, Mrs. Eula M. Craig, Croley; Clothing Leader, Mrs. C. V. Heaslet, Clinton; Home Improvement Leader, Mrs. Elbert Kaler, Clinton; Junior Leader, Mrs. W. R. Magruder, Clinton.

As the guests passed down the stairs they were handed well filled plates, the contents of which they ate out on the high school campus. A huge cake of ice, with flowers frozen in it served as a punch bowl, from which the lemonade was served. This punch bowl was frozen by the Kentucky Utilities Company.

The Home Demonstration Agent, Louise McGill, gave a brief report, setting the following goals for the coming year:

First: Have at least twelve Homemakers' Clubs with 300 members.

Second: Junior Clubs in at least 12 communities with 300 members.

Third: Establish Home Demonstration work on a firmer basis in the county.

Fourth: Complete the projects in "Keeping the Family Fit," and "Time Savers," with better results.

Fifth: Have better 4-H work with the girls.

She brought the need of more local leaders who would give unselfish service to the girls. She asked the support of all Homemakers. She also expressed her appreciation for the splendid spirit and cooperation of the people and the county, and said she felt that a big piece of work could be done this coming year.

"Making the Most of the Opportunities We Have and Looking for More Opportunities for Self Education and Development," was the theme of the talk by Miss Myrtle Weldon, State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents. She stressed the many opportunities for development that Homemakers' Club offered. She also mentioned qualities of a good leader, as enthusiasm, willingness to accept responsibility, tactfulness, tolerance, interest and spirit of service.

Miss Zelma Monroe, Assistant State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents, complimented the group upon their splendid work and set some goals for next year, including two community choruses, as the group sang so well together, and some delegates to Farm and Home Week in Lexington in January.

Little Beth Cromwell gave a reading, after which Miss Weldon conducted some contests and songs.

DUE CREDIT SHOULD BE GIVEN FULTON OFFICERS

Mayfield, Paducah, Union City and Memphis detectives and police are all claiming honors for recovering stolen automobiles and making arrests, but when the facts are brought to the surface as to who first started the wholesale recovery of stolen cars, Chief of Police Bailey Huddleston and his assistants of Fulton, heads the list with their shrewd and daring work.

The Paducah Sun-Democrat in a recent write-up says:

"Five men are in jail at Union City, Tenn., and twenty-five stolen automobiles have been recovered as the result of an investigation conducted by Joe M. Shellman, Paducah detective, connected with the King-Smith Adjusting Co., a local firm of insurance adjusters. Shellman is still in Union City and expects to locate at least twenty-five more stolen cars before he concludes his investigation."

"The Union City gang of automobile thieves is the third that Shellman has rounded up within the last two years. Apprehension of a gang near Barlow, Ky., brought about the recovery of forty cars and the arrest of another gang at Herin restored twenty-five others."

"Of the twenty-five cars found by Shellman in and near Union City, nineteen had been stolen from Memphis, three from Mayfield, two from Paducah and one from Dermott, Ark. The Paducah cars belonged to Previtt Lackey and Morton Riggs. Two of the Mayfield cars were the property of Illard Williams and Richard Stroud."

"Realizing that thieves operating in West Tennessee and West Kentucky must be disposing of stolen cars at some central point, Shellman began working about two months ago on a clue that led him to Union City. Last week he trapped Fred Hedge, an ex-convict, as he was about to dispose of a stolen car in a Union City garage. Hedge's arrest was but the beginning of a general round-up of thieves and the recovery of missing cars."

"Knox Wheeler, one of the alleged leaders of the gang, against whom a warrant has been issued, has not been apprehended. A nation-wide search is now on for Wheeler, who is said to have disposed of most of the cars after they had been brought to Union City. Other arrests are expected to be made within the next few days."

"Insurance companies have already settled losses involving most of the cars recovered which means that they will find it necessary to dispose of them. In other cases where recovery has been made within sixty days, cars will be restored to their owners."

"A story appearing in Tuesday's Memphis Commercial Appeal, telling of the uncovering of a gang of auto thieves at Union City, gave full credit to Memphis detectives. However, Memphis officers were not advised of the arrest of the men and recovery of the cars until Shellman called upon them for identification of some of the automobiles which belonged to Memphis people."

More Wheat Where Soil is Treated

While wheat yields generally were low this year, the Experiment Station of the University of Kentucky secured significant increases through the use of fertilizers on its various test fields.

At Mayfield, a yield of 29 bushels to the acre was secured from the use of a complete fertilizer on limed land, in a tobacco, wheat and clover rotation. The nitrogen was applied as top dressing in the spring. Where the land was untreated the yield was less than 8 bushels. The application of superphosphate alone on limed land, in the same rotation, increased the yield to 21 bushels.

Where the land was manured, in a corn, soybean, wheat and clover rotation, the use of limestone and superphosphate raised the yield from less than 8 bushels on untreated land to 18 bushels. A complete fertilizer used on manured land, in the same rotation, did not increase the yield over that of the field receiving only limestone and superphosphate.

At the Greenville experimental field, the use of limestone and superphosphate on manured land resulted in a wheat yield of 17 bushels, in a corn, soybean, wheat and clover rotation, compared with a yield of 4 bushels where nothing but manure was put on the land. Where superphosphate only was used on unlimed land the yield was 11 bushels.

House Hens Well For Winter Eggs

Fowls must be well housed, if they are to produce many winter eggs, says the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky. All hens and pullets should be in the laying house Nov. 1, as the cool nights will cause roup if they roost out of doors. A good poultry house is not necessarily an expensive one. It should afford light, ventilation without drafts, ample room and have a clean, dry floor. A dropping board under the roost poles will keep the floor clean and give more scratching space for the hens.

Many poultry houses can be remodeled at a small cost to embrace these essentials by following the suggestions given in Circular 107, which may be obtained from county agents or by writing to the College at Lexington.

The poultry house should be the home of the hen. Money invested in a suitable poultry house will pay good dividends, not only in increasing production but in reducing losses from disease. Many outbreaks of poultry diseases are due to unsanitary housing conditions. The poultry house in good condition before the cold winter nights are here.

A self-feeder in the poultry house is one of the most important pieces of equipment. If mash is fed, ample room should be permitted, so that the birds will not crowd around the feeder. Extra troughs are frequently of considerable value in stimulating mash consumption and assuring all birds getting an adequate supply. One nest should be supplied for each five hens. The water or milk receptacles should be placed on a bench 10 or 12 inches above the floor.

Among the County Agents.

J. E. Ramey, Bath county Master Farmer, is crushing 250 tons of limestone to use on his farm.

1700 people attended a picnic of Jersey breeders, from Graves and Calloway counties, held at the farm of M. D. Harrison, Graves county Master Farmer.

Many limestone spreaders have been sold in Harrison county, due to the fact that limed land grew excellent clover this year. J. W. Brandt reports 40 tons of hay cut from 10 acres of clover treated with limestone 2 years ago.

Boyd county reports a large acreage of soybeans. Several farmers have good crops on drained land that has never produced anything but swamp grass.

Several Floyd county farmers have good peach crops. Elmond Clark grew 2,000 bushels on six acres. Noah Akers also grew 2,000 bushels and Robert Elliott 3,000 bushels.

The Elks' Club of Henderson is planning to entertain Henderson county dairy farmers in an effort to further dairying in the county.

Following a retest of 106 cattle Logan county has been placed on the accredited list as tested for tuberculosis.

Joe Bray, Trimble county Master Farmer, has between 7,000 and 8,000 bushels of peaches. He sprayed eight times and disked the orchard 14 times.

MID-SOUTH FAIR AT MEMPHIS, SEPT. 28-OCT. 3

Memphis, Tenn., August 29.
—Cotton and dairying, the two big interests of the South, will be the headliners this year at the Mid-South Fair at Memphis, September 28-October 5.
In connection with the annual fair there will be held the Southern Dairy Show and the National Cotton Show.

The Cotton Show will be national in scope as well as in name. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Cotton Textile Institute of New York are cooperating with the Mid-South Fair in making it the greatest exposition of the cotton industry ever held in the South.

The U. S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics is building a special exhibit featuring every phase of the cotton industry, production, marketing, manufacturing and distribution. In cooperation with the government agencies, the Cotton Textile Institute is sending to Memphis an exhibit showing every type of cotton manufactured by the leading mills of the country.

Further emphasizing the beauty of cotton fabrics, the Institute will sponsor a Style Show with the latest features in fashionable attire carried out entirely in cotton. This style show will be a striking feature of the program in the Woman's Building each night of the fair.

The second National One-Stalk Cotton Show will be held during the fair. Cotton will play a prominent part in exhibits of 4-H club members and students of Vocational Agriculture and Home Economics, as well as in the county exhibits, which are always centers of interest.

rabbits, the new breed, chin-chillas, imported from Siberia into this country during the World war. They are a very pretty blue roan colored rabbit, the flesh of which is said to be white, and equal the breast meat of the turkey. The fur is used extensively in the manufacture of fur goods for "my lady fair," also in the manufacture of high grade felt hats for men.

Mrs. James, who is the owner of the Sunset Rabbit Ranch of Germantown, Tenn., has a number of children's cloaks of various colors, also a large cloak for a grown lady, all of which are made of rabbit skins tanned by herself, which are beautiful and well worth any one's time who stops to examine them.

Another feature is the free pigeon show staged by John Hass of Bettendorf, Iowa. Here we found twenty or twenty-five pairs of assorted fancy pigeons, some of which we did not know existed. They are all very pretty and attracted quite a lot of admirers, especially among the boys.

Another feature new to the show is the giving away of one hundred baby chicks every afternoon at four o'clock. The first lot given away is fifty, then two lots of twenty-five.
These chicks do not cost the recipient one penny, but will be delivered free next spring upon demand, but the different hatcheries who have donated them.

The show proper is cooped in the celebrated Keipper Sanitary cots, recently purchased by the fair association, and make a very pretty, uniform display.

We don't know just exactly how many birds are entered, and didn't want to bother the superintendent about it, for he was as busy as the proverbial cranberry merchant, but it looks to us, that it is a larger show than last year.

There are large classes of Barred Plymouth Rocks, the old standby. Also White Rocks and Partridge Rocks. In the Wyandottes there are White, Buff and Silver Laced in goodly numbers. Rhode Island Reds are also another big class, followed closely by Buff Orpingtons, White Leghorns, White Minorcas, Blue Andalusians and several other breeds not so many in number but real good stock.

There are also large displays in waterfowl, turkeys and bantams.

One feature this year is the 4-H club displays. They are strong, and some mighty good stock. One boy, Paul Fox, of Obion county, has forty-three barred rocks entered.

The show as a whole is a wonderful display and in actual cash value is worth at least $5,000.00.

Supt. Watkins is ably assisted by Joe Bowers, Assistant Superintendent Lard Stevenson, caretaker, and Mary Bowers, clerk, while the whole crew is bossed by Mrs. Watkins, who keeps a closer tab on the superintendent than she does on any of the others.

The two silver cups, one donated by Hon. Voris Gregory, and the other by Hon. Jere Cooper, are real beauties and well worth winning.

AROUND 800 FOWLS ENTERED

The following exhibitors entered their birds on the first day:

Mrs. D. J. Perry, C. A. Binford, Harold Browder, Carmel Woodruff, C. E. Murrell, William Duncan, Fletcher Williams, Lillian Leigh, Joe Bowers, Dorothy Elliott, Virginia

W. Pruett, A. L. Harper, Irene
Williams, Mrs. Z. R. Shanklin, Mrs. Henry Maddox, Mrs. Herbert Howell, Cecil Burnett.

A number of others entered birds since the above list was obtained.

Taking it as a whole, the 1929 fair will go down in history as one of the best in years.
The Association is to be congratulated on the splendid work of the heads of various departments in doing their utmost in making the fair a grand and brilliant success.

President J. W. Gordon, Secretary R. H. Wade, Treasurer W. P. Murrell and the board of directors are good business men and they know how to please the people who desire entertainment. A big carnival company is on the ground and both day and night a variety of amusement is to be had.

Don't miss the remaining days of the fair.

MARRIAGE SAFEGUARD IS THEME OF NEW FILM

At Orpheum Theatre

Arguing that the old-fashioned marriage, founded on love, respect and mutual forbearance has more safeguards for a woman than the so-called companionate or trial marriage for a limited period, John M. Stahl special production for Tiffany-Stahl showing "Marriage by Contract" the Monday and Tuesday at the Orpheum Theatre, will no doubt stir up many an argument.

Beginning with her first companionate marriage, as a girl of twenty, to a fine young man —resulting in a broken contract after three weeks because of her unreasonable anger at his too literal interpretation of the personal freedom clause in their contract—through her next three trial marriages to climax, Edward Clark, the the amazing and unexpected story's author, is said to have put forth some most interesting ideas. It is declared that even those advocates of more elasticity and freedom in marriage will have to admit that Clark's choice of episodes reveals serious flaws in the so-called modern union.

The featured players are Patsy Ruth Miller and Lawrence Gray and the cast also includes such notables as Robert Edison, Ruby Lafayette, Shirley Palmer, Ralph Emerson, John St. Polis, Claire Mc-Dowell, Duke Martin and Raymond Keane. James Flood directed.

o'clock at the home of his

were held Tuesday afternoon

vived by four daughters and
