MURRAY, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1911.

SOCIALISTS GAIN IN MANY STATES.

Elect Mayors in Several Cities and Display Pronounced Strength.

Socialist gains marked elections Tuesday and gave that party power in districts where heretofore it had been unable to muster a counting vote.

In Schenectady, N. Y., the Socialists elected a Mayor, all city officials except one and a majority of the County Board. In addition, the Assembly district in which Schenectady is located returned a Socialist Assemblyman.

Ohio was another winning ground for the Socialists. The returns secured in some of the cities, in eight of which they elected Mayors, gives them a total of thousands in advance of any previous showing and puts them close in order, numerically, with the two old parties. In Ohio, as well, where actual Socialist candidates were not elected, progressives of more or less radical views were returned by the Republicans.

Besides Schenectady, Cleveland, Columbus and Dayton were the most favorable cities for the Socialist party. In the Second Kansas congressional district, where a successor to the late Congressman Mitchell was elected, the Socialists made extensive gains.

In several other states, among them New Mexico, where Socialists had a full ticket in the field, further gains were predicted.

J. Y. Brandon, one of the south part of the county's best known and highly respected citizens died last Sunday at his home after a short illness. He was about 56 years of age and his death is the cause of much sadness in the community where he lived. He was an active citizen and always championed those things which had for their object the better of the county. The burial took place Monday at South Pleasant Grove.

Saved Child From Death

"After our child had suffered from severe bronchial trouble for a year," wrote G. T. Richardson of Richardson's Mill, Ala., "we feared it had consumption. It had a bad cough all the time. We tried many remedies without avail, and doctor's medicine seemed as useless. Finally we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and are pleased to say that one bottle effected a complete cure, and our child is again strong and healthy." For coughs, colds, hoarseness, lagrippe, asthma, croup and sore throats, it is the most infallible remedy that is made. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Dale & Stubblefield.

A Submissive Bow.

Mr. Editor:—Just a few more days and according to the law of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, the greatest church in the world, we will have to make our bow, step down and turn the Kirksey circuit over to another. We cannot find words to express our love and appreciation for this noble people; we have stood by and for each other as pastor and people for four years. We are able to thank God for giving us wisdom and strength to lead this blessed people so long and as we believe to have begotten them to a lively hope and put them upon sure principles. We rejoice to know that we have been able to be on hand to attend to all funerals and burials, to sympathize with the sick and suffering except one or two for these four years, and to hold all our meetings in a Bible way in the daylight, so no one has had opportunity for to do mischief and to be brought before the courts. Our work this conference year has been a great success, we have over forty conversions, over sixty additions to the church with twenty-four infants baptized, and a number of family alters erected, salary paid out and an invitation for us to stay on indefinitely. Good-bye, God bless everybody.

A. D. MADDOX, P. C.

Is the World Growing Better

Many things go to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers, everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed. I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully. They'll help any woman. They are the best tonic and blood purifier and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at Dale & Stubblefield.

M'CREARY SWEEPS THE STATE BY OLD TIME PARTY MAJORITY.

Calloway Democratic By a Decreased Majority, Falling to Less Than 500.

The Louisville Herald of Wednesday contained the following account of Tuesday's state election:

James B. McCreary, the Democratic nominee, has been elected governor of Kentucky by a majority that will in all probability reach, if it does not exceed, 30,000, and has carried the entire Democratic state ticket with him. He swept the state from one end to the other and the only spot in Kentucky that remains to the Republican party is the Eleventh district, and even this stronghold was shaken almost out of its foundations.

Nine, possibly ten, of the eleven Congressional districts have been carried by the Democrats. The legislature is also Democratic by an overwhelming majority thus insuring the election of Oliver M. James to the United States Senate. It was a landslide for the Democrats and counties that could heretofore be depended upon to return substantial Republican majorities have been swept into the Democratic camp.

The election of McCreary is the biggest Democratic victory in more than twenty years. He carried every county but one in the First district, every county but one in the Second district, swept the Third district by a big majority, polled almost the full Democratic strength in the Fourth district, carried the Fifth district by approximately 5,000 majority, gained a record breaking majority in the Sixth and Seventh districts, carried the Eighth district by upwards of 3,000, captured the Ninth by more than 1,000, secured almost an even break in the Tenth and held O'Rear's majority in the Eleventh to less than 18,000.

The big victory was a surprise even to the Democrats. Mr. McCreary himself was surprised, for in none of his speeches did he predict his election by a majority exceeding 20,000. The Republican leaders are dazed and are unable to explain just how it happened, while the Democrats are in high glee and say now that McCreary's majority will reach 40,000.

One of the big surprises of the election is the poor showing made by Judge O'Rear in the tobacco district and in the prohibition counties where he was thought to be unusually strong. It developed that he was lamentably weak. This was especially true of the First and Second districts, where the Republicans hoped to decrease the normal Democratic majorities materially. The so-called disaffection among the Democrats in Western Kentucky evidently did not amount to much for nearly every county returned increased Democratic majorities.

It's a Democratic year. The stalwarts, with their faces set resolutely toward the pie counter of 1912, marched to victory in the Kentucky State election Tuesday. That tells the story. There were other factors; money was lavishly spent where it would do the most good and an organization that knew where it would do the most good was perfected down to the precinct. But the shadow of the national election was over Kentucky and obscured in the minds of the disinterested populace the issues, which the candidacy of Judge Ed C. O'Rear raised, while those interests peculiarly affected by the reforms he proposed, contributed of their substance and influence to the fight against him.

In the contest Judge O'Rear was deprived of all the equipment ordinarily considered essential in waging a successful political campaign. It was necessary to smash a machine in his own party to carry the convention in favor of progressive policies, and his organization was met with an uncompromising coolness in quarters where co-operation would be needed in getting out the vote. He had no money, and the floating vote went to swell the tide of Democracy.

No one, perhaps, appreciated the overwhelming odds against him, more than did Judge O'Rear himself. He had nothing with which to attract votes, but the potency of his appeal to Kentuckians to clean the politics of their State and put it in the front rank of progressive commonwealths. Early in the campaign while yet the people were under the spell of his brilliant achievement in the State convention, it looked as if no force could prevent his election, and he struck out upon his solitary campaign, speaking morning, afternoon and night, carrying the fight into every section of the commonwealth in the hope of arousing the people in favor of his cause.

As true politicians on the other side, after discounting his appeal as far as possible with platform declarations, pitched their campaign on a national plane, and took advantage of the split in the Republican ranks, while they deluged the State with money. Where money could not be used and party spirit could not be inflamed, there were promises of State jobs, and of postoffices and internal revenue positions if the boys would stand by the party this fall and set the pace for 1912. It is safe to say that every Democrat in Kentucky, who breathed the intention to bolt, was held in line by a promise to him or to a friend.

In eastern Kentucky apathy seized the Republican voters; through the Blue Grass Democracy rampant had its day, how effectual the special train of Bryan and Champ Clark was in the Gibraltar is revealed by the old time majority it rolled up for the party; and if anybody thought McGrath's machine would lie down on the State ticket in Louisville, the majority McCreary received and the customary activities in the Eighth, Ninth and Tenth wards will disabuse his mind of this illusion. There was not a sign of hope in a single return received from the first precinct that reported early last night.

Every report that reached Republican headquarters during the day and last night mentioned lavish expenditures of money by the Democratic workers. The Gibraltar First came up to Democratic expectations with fully 10,000 majority. The Eleventh fell under the Republican expectations of 20,000 majority. The tobacco counties, both burley and Black Patch, failed to support Judge O'Rear to the surprise of his enemies as well as his friends. The temperance vote evidently fell back inside party lines, and cut no figure in the result. The General Assembly probably will be on joint ballot 107 Democrats, 22 Republicans and 9 doubtful. The Senate will be 32 Democrats, 4 Republicans and 2 in doubt. The House will be 75 Democrats, 18 Republicans and 7 are in doubt.

The State Railroad Commission when reorganized, will be Democratic. Lawrence Finn, Democrat, is the member from the First district. W. P. Blair, succeeds L. F. Tarlton, whom he defeated Tuesday, and Green Garrett, Democrat, succeeds A. T. Siler, Republican.

THE CALLOWAY ELECTION

The result in Calloway county is very gratifying to every voter who does not believe that Newt Chrisman has a right to dictate the policies of this county. The majority of nearly 1,300 votes of four years ago was reduced to about 500 this year. We publish elsewhere in this issue the official vote as cast, which shows McCreary's majority over all opposition to be only 552 in the county. We do not know what amount of money was used to bring about this result but we have been told that the cost exceeds $7,000 "besides the whiskey." Two years from today the independent citizens of the county will elect a county ticket, this statement based upon the condition that Newt Chrisman calls a primary next year for the selection of candidates to make the race.

Jennings is proud of the vote cast for him, and will continue to fight the fight of the people. The fact that he failed to carry the county is understood by every person, but his defeat carries with it the absolute elimination from Calloway politics all traitors, and leaves him in possession of the fact that he made a clean fight, that he fought single-handed and alone, that he never spent a dollar nor used a single drink of "booze" and that he today stands higher in the estimation of the people than the political buzzards who fought him with money and lies. He rejoices with the people who are honest and believes in honest methods and again renews his allegiance to the people and declares that he will never submit to the yoke of ring and gag rule and that no man is his boss.

Owing to the late hour when we secured the official returns we are unable to print same this week. However, the majorities show that McCreary received a total majority over all other candidates for governor of 552; Glenn's majority over Jennings was 575; Chunn's over both Meloan and Bell was 581; Meloan's total vote was 1,045 and Bell's 392. Sam Robertson for surveyor received 235 and Harold Schroeder 137. The years for the court house were 1,254 and the nays were 724. We expect to publish the total official vote next week.

WALTER KING KILLS RHODES.

Well Known Men of the East Side Fight, Resulting in the Death of One.

Walter King and John Rhodes, who live on the east side of the county near the mouth of Blood river, engaged in a fight late last Saturday afternoon near the home of Ed Thompson and as a result of the difficulty Rhodes died a few hours later. It seems there was a grudge existing between the men and Saturday morning when Rhodes left home he was drinking and made the statement to his wife that he or King one would die that day. Rhodes came upon King at the spring on Thompson's place and renewed the trouble and with his knife attacked King. King endeavored to avoid the trouble but Rhodes forced him to defend himself and he drew a knife also and cut Rhodes several times. Rhodes pushed King down and as he raised up reached and secured a club with which he struck Rhodes over the head some two or three times, crushing his skull and from the effects of which he died a few hours later.

King was arrested and placed under bond and Thursday of this week was given a preliminary trial before Judge Patterson and was released, proving that he acted in self defense.

Rhodes was a large man and came to this county from Trigg several years ago. He was a tenant on Bruce Holland's farm and was generally considered a dangerous man. He was shot several years ago while living in Trigg and at the time was thought to have been killed.

Crit Farmer last week sold his farm a few miles west of town to Hansom Sale and later purchased his old place back from John Davidson. Mr. Farmer recently sustained the loss of his home by fire but had completed the erection of a new home, and we understand will also build some new houses at the place he purchased.

Mrs. Martha E. Brandon, one of the county's oldest and most highly esteemed christian women who lived near Hico, died last Sunday morning at about 9:30 o'clock after a ten day's illness of stomach and bowel trouble. She was about 79 years of age, and while she had lived a long and useful life her death brings genuine grief to all those who knew her. She was a devout christian woman and wielded a wide influence in the community in which she lived. She is survived by three children, Mrs. H. Churchill, of this place; Mrs. J. M. Miller, west of town, and Plenty Brandon, of Nashville, Tenn. The burial took place Monday in the Gardner grave yard.

Association Members, Listen.

The Ledger is in possession of some startling facts regarding some things which were done at a recent meeting of the county committee of the tobacco association, and we desire the true, blue association members to understand that we are for the association and when rottenness and crookedness creeps in and we detect it it shall be exposed. We say this because we want to see the association maintained regardless of men who might profit by its existence. It was not organized for one man's benefit and it shall not be ridden to death that any man might live.

A sensation was caused in political circles in Texas by the report, which came from Houston, that former Congressman T. H. Ball has withdrawn from the race for United States senator. PASSING OF JUSTICE HARLAN

In His Death the Supreme Court Loses a Deed and Independent Thinker.

Washington, D. C., in the passing of John Marshall Harlan a big, powerful, majestic appearing judicial figure is removed from the supreme court bench. In his 33 years on the supreme court bench Justice Harlan was known almost from the beginning of his service as a "dissenter."

There was no planity in the make-up of him and when he gave his opinion he did it with a vivacity of manner and pungency of phrase which startled the dignified tribunal of the supreme court. Yet, he was not aggressive for the sake of aggressive.

Personally he was a lovable character and was better known to the people of the country than any of his colleagues, better known in the sense that the people had a distinct personal impression of the man. He was held in high esteem and his character commanded respect.

Justice Harlan was an old-fashioned country gentleman. He was also a sincerely religious man and he lived his religion because it was part of his daily life, his guide and his reliance. It made him a just and fearless man. It is hardly probable that he was ever concerned to inquire in the modern way into sufficiency of evidence supporting his creed.

He had the capacity and the confidence in his own power of judgment to make up his mind without external aid or suggestion, and that was his practice. Time and again in important cases he was a sturdy, untimely minority of one.

Justice Harlan was born June 1, 1833, in Boyle county, Ky. As a youth he was educated at Center College, Kentucky, and studied law at Transylvania university. He practiced law in Frankfort, Ky., and while settled there married Miss Malvina F. Shanklin of Evansville, Ind.

In 1858 he was made county judge and in 1860 he was the Whig candidate for congress in the Ashland district. At the outbreak of the Civil war he led the Tenth Kentucky Union regiment into the fray and fought during the entire rebellion. For his gallantry he was made a colonel in the army. From 1863 to 1867 he was attorney general of Kentucky. In 1871, and again in 1875, he was the Republican nominee for governor. In 1872 he was mentioned in the national convention as a candidate for the vice-presidency. In 1877 he was put on the circuit court judges at the tobacco hearing. In December of that year, elevated Mr. Harlan to the United States Supreme court as an associate justice.

Since 1889 he has been professor of constitutional law at the Washington university in the District of Columbia. In 1893 he served as one of the American members of the Behring Sea Tribunal, which met at Paris.

NOVEL STREET RAILWAY LINE
Queer Road in Philippines Operated by Bulls, a Wooden Road and Mixed Profanity.

San Francisco, Cal.—There is a street railway in the Philippines which is operated by bulls. The little railroad runs from the village of Daet to the coast. The cars are of the small street railway type, formerly used in one of the American western cities, and the bulls make the four-mile trip up hill from the fort to Daet in 25 minutes.

The bulls are attached to each car and they are driven by a little native perched on the front end of the roof. He uses nothing but a queer mixture of English and Filipino profanity, and a wooden goad about four feet long, with which he prods the animals into action from time to time, descending from his perch and running alongside, when necessary.

Bingham, Me.—Harold High, twenty-six years old, a guide, was shot and killed by Doctor Jenkins, a New York physician, who mistook him for a deer.

FIREMEN CANNOT ASSIGN SALARY

COURT OF APPEALS SO DECIDES IN JEFFERSON COUNTY CASE.

FIREMAN IS PUBLIC OFFICIAL

Court Holds That It Is Against Public Policy For Public Officials To Assign Uneared Salary.

Frankfort.—No assignment of salary before it is earned can be made by a fireman at a city of the first class under a decision of the court of appeals. The court holds that a fireman is a public official. The decision was handed down in the case of Adolph Schmitt, auditor of the city of Louisville, against Mayor Joel P. Campbell, William Weisinger and Joseph Binder, the case being appealed from the Jefferson circuit court.

The firemen assigned their salaries for July, 1911, to Simons & Co., but later in July served notice on the auditor, Schmitt, that the assignment was void. Simons & Co. gave bond, however, and the auditor gave them the warrants for the pay according to the assignment. The firemen brought suit to compel the auditor to issue their warrants for their July salaries, and the circuit court decided in their favor. The court of appeals upholds that judgment and directs the auditor to issue warrants to the firemen.

Decision Affecting Ordinances.
Frankfort.—The court of appeals, in deciding a case from Henderson, holds that where a city council gives an ordinance its first passage and then fails to get enough votes to give it the second passage, the council may, in a reasonable time, reconsider the vote by which the ordinance failed to pass the second time. The validity of the ordinance is not affected by the failure to pass it the second time.

A Self-Protector.
The dapper little traveling man glanced at the menu card, and then looked up at the pretty waitress. "Nice day, little one," he began. "Yes, it is," she answered, "and so was yesterday, and my name is Nina, and I know I'm a little peach, and have pretty brown eyes, and I've been here quite awhile, and I like the place, and don't think I'm too nice a girl to be working in a hotel; if I did, I'd quit my job, and I don't know if there is a show or dance in town to-night, and if there is I shall not go with you, and I'm a respectable girl, and my brother is a cook in this hotel, and he weighs 200 pounds, and last week he wiped out the dining room floor with a fresh 450-pound traveling man who tried to make a date with me. Now, what'll you have?" The dapper little traveling man said he was not hungry and a cup of coffee and some hot cakes would do. Then there he those who say women need protectors. Such a tongue is sufficient.

Confidence of Full Protection.
Confidence that the dissolution of the American Tobacco Company will be carried out with full protection for the interest of the tobacco growers and independent dealers is expressed by Atty-Gen. James Breathitt, in a reply which he has written to the independent tobacco men of Louisville, who had asked the governor why he had not directed the attorney-general to represent Kentucky tobacco growers in the dissolution of the trust. Before leaving for Louisville, Gov. Willson requested Atty-Gen. Breathitt to look into the case, and after ascertaining the facts, take such action as he should deem necessary and advisable.

Former Slaves Will Attend.
When the statue of Abraham Lincoln is unveiled at the Kentucky capitol, November 8, at which President Taft will be the principal figure, 20 former slaves of the Speed family, set free by Lincoln proclamation, will attend the unveiling. The statue will be unveiled by Miss Alice Speed, daughter of William Speed, of Louisville, and granddaughter of J. B. Speed, donor of the statue. Rev. W. M. Savage, of Louisville, will deliver the invocation.

Editor Henry Watterson will deliver an address. After the statue is unveiled President Taft will speak. Gov. Willson will make a brief address, accepting the statue.

The Judge Will Settle It.
Differences between the wet and dry factions of the Democratic party in Bowling Green and Warren county were aired in the court of appeals when arguments were made in the case of W. L. Inis against Sam Hines, both of whom are seeking to have their names put on the ballot as the Democratic nominee for representative from Bowling Green. Inis is the dry and Hines the wet candidate.

Government Legislation.
A petition in circulation in Frankfort asking Edward Hamilton, representative from that county, to introduce in the next legislature a bill authorizing cities of the third class to vote on the adoption of the commission form of government. The petition received numerous signatures, and it is expected that a great many more will be added.

The cities which would be affected by the proposed bill are Frankfort, Henderson, Bowling Green and Owensboro.

THE COURT OF APPEALS

Final disposition of the suit to prevent the merger of the L. & N. and Frankfort & Cincinnati railroads will be made by the court of appeals in January. After that the case likely will go to the supreme court of the United States.

An agreement of attorneys was filed here recently allowing until December 5 for the filing of an answer to the petition for a rehearing entered by the railroads.

The right to operate a ferry across the river from Calhoun to Ramsey was decided by the court of appeals in the case of J. S. Willis against Margaret Calhoun, from McLean county. The court ruled that the ferry rights belonged to Margaret Calhoun and Irene Gates.

The higher court affirmed judgment of the Jefferson circuit court in the case of the American Tobacco Co. against Harry B. Bland, Bland had his right hand badly mangled while operating a box nailing machine in the plant of the defendant. The hand had to be amputated, and on the trial of a suit for damages the jury awarded Bland $1,999.

Wonder Working Tuber.
All eyes were caught in looking at Columbus Allsop and his marvelous petrified Irish potato. It comes from a crop of nine potatoes that grew on Columbus's farm. He was called to Tickville and floated up on his raft with it. The trip was perilous, as it is up stream nearly all the way. Upon his arrival there he was met by the fiddling band who had gone on ahead. At once he set in to wielding the powerful influence of the potato and cured three cases of rheumatism in a few seconds. One of the patients had been confined to one bed for thirty-four years, but after Columbus had shook the potato twice over the man's head the victim arose and chopped four loads of wood before dinner. If Columbus had arrived an hour earlier the man believes he would have cut six loads. While the potato will work like a greased rabbit's foot on anything from a screech owl to an ordinary human being, it does not cure charm snakes. The Doc. Hillgruber has rented the potato for next Sunday and will start a protracted meeting with it.

What is a Dressed Turkey.
The question whether a dressed turkey is a turkey within the meaning of the statute which makes it a felony to steal a turkey of greater value than two dollars, has been presented to Gov. Willson in the application for a pardon of Wilbur Edwards. Edwards was convicted in Davies county of stealing a turkey. He was indicted under the chicken stealing statute which makes the crime a felony. His attorney contends that a dressed turkey is not a turkey within the meaning of the statute and, therefore, Edwards should have been convicted only of a misdemeanor. Edwards was employed in an Owensboro home when he stole the turkey from the pantry, and there was no housebreaking charged. He has served in the penitentiary since last January, and now asks the governor to grant him a pardon. The governor is considering the case.

Confidence of Full Protection.
Confidence that the dissolution of the American Tobacco Company will be carried out with full protection for the interest of the tobacco growers and independent dealers is expressed by Atty-Gen. James Breathitt, in a reply which he has written to the independent tobacco men of Louisville, who had asked the governor why he had not directed the attorney-general to represent Kentucky tobacco growers in the dissolution of the trust. Before leaving for Louisville, Gov. Willson requested Atty-Gen. Breathitt to look into the case, and after ascertaining the facts, take such action as he should deem necessary and advisable.

Former Slaves Will Attend.
When the statue of Abraham Lincoln is unveiled at the Kentucky capitol, November 8, at which President Taft will be the principal figure, 20 former slaves of the Speed family, set free by Lincoln proclamation, will attend the unveiling. The statue will be unveiled by Miss Alice Speed, daughter of William Speed, of Louisville, and granddaughter of J. B. Speed, donor of the statue. Rev. W. M. Savage, of Louisville, will deliver the invocation.

SHE SUFFERED FIVE YEARS

Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Erie, Pa.—"I suffered for five years from female troubles and at last was almost helpless. I went to three doctors and they did me no good, so my sister advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken only two bottles I could see a big change, so I took six bottles and I am now strong and well again. I don't know how to express my thanks for the good it has done me and I hope all suffering women will give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It was worth its weight in gold."—Mrs. J. P. ENDLICH, R. F. D. No. 7, Erie, Pa.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaint, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

THE MURRAY LEDGER,

O. J. JENNINGS, EDITOR.

Entered at the postoffice at Murray, Kentucky, for transmission through the mails as second class matter.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9, 1911.

The Turkish government is now calling upon the United States to stop the atrocities of the invading Italian troops. Turkey has for years permitted the Christian Armenians to be slaughtered in untold thousands and it comes with poor grace to call for aid from the United States to stop a character of barbarism she has been practicing for years. The world should be satisfied if Italy finally wiped the Turkish empire from the face of the earth.

HEALTH SOCIETY BARS KISSES

Consumption, Smallpox and Other Contagious Diseases Sure to Spread in This Manner.

"Kiss not," the motto of the World's Health organization, of which Mrs. Imogene Reckitt of Cincinnati is president, was recently repeated that the object of the movement is to lessen the spread of consumption and measles that the "kiss" not judges should be taken and kept by every school teacher in the country.

"Teachers and pupils both will benefit by it," declares Mrs. Reckitt. "A sweet-faced kindergarten teacher kissed her pupils good-by, saying, 'I will take a good rest this summer. In the fall I will give you more kisses; they're mine now.' She died of consumption in the middle of August. Were the children exposed to consumption? Had the disease been diphtheria or smallpox would they have been exposed to it?"

"Since you cannot quarantine against consumption, nor vaccinate against consumption, how will we control it?"

"It takes whole families to the grave. We get it into our system through our noses and mouths. As far as possible we safeguard our noses by avoiding dust. We have no way of protecting our mouths. Quarantine them, if I may be allowed to use the word in this way. Teach the little ones to quarantine their mouths. With a land teeming with consumption we should always love our relatives and friends. Teachers and others will always love the little folks, but should love them too well to kiss them."

"Our health officer says 'Kiss only your enemies.'"

"We have a very pretty club button bearing our motto, 'Kiss Not,' in red letters on a white background. A prominent physician said, 'If one of those buttons could be put upon the bib of every new-born baby and worn till the child is eighty years old there would be more old people than there are today.'"

PERIOD OF FEATHER GROWING

There is Considerable Variation in the Time Required for Individual Fowls to Complete Molting.

It is variously asserted that the time required for the growth of a body feather on a healthy fowl is approximately 45 days, while the time needed for regrowing the tail is somewhat longer. This refers to plucked feathers. The usual molting period of a hen cannot, however, be accurately calculated from this estimate. In the experiment under consideration, the average time of complete molting in the six flocks, containing the end of the molting season, 215 hens, was 57 days. The average time required to complete the molt of the three starved flocks was 59.4 days; of the three fed flocks, 52.4 days.

All this would indicate that the molting continues much longer than is usually supposed, and that there is considerable variation in the time of beginning the molt between different individuals and between flocks of different ages, also a wide variation in the length of time it requires individuals to complete the molt. One is further impressed with the fact that, so far as this experiment is concerned, the method of feeding did not materially alter the normal conditions of molting, except with the one-year-old fowls.

Old Firearms in Historic House.

Much excitement preceded the other morning when the historic old residence owned by C. E. Burd was destroyed by fire. Within the walls of the structure were hidden a small arsenal of firearms, rifles and pistols, all loaded and when the heat of the building reached them, a regular Fourth of July bombardment began.

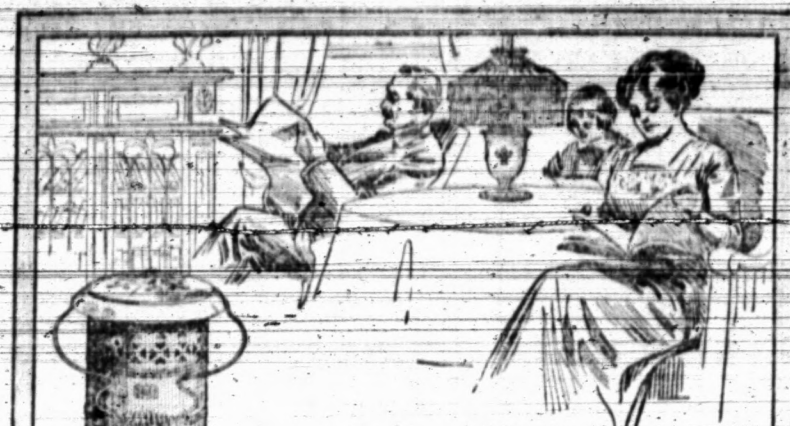

The house was one of the old landmarks of the town, having been built before the Civil war. Dr. Offett, a southern soldier, had recently written to the owner of the property that the Confederates had stored arms and ammunition in the walls of the old structure during the war, but Mr. Burd was unable to get at the rolls owing to the fact that the building had been remodeled and strong-walls had been built around the old ones.

The much prized relics, consisting of ante bellum firearms of the crudest make, were hidden in the walls of the old structure in order to get them at the end of the struggle. Enterprise Co. New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Birds Killed by Golf Balls.

Not long ago one of the players in a golf tournament at Melrose while making an approach shot killed a seagull and another player on coming on from his drive found that he had annihilated a weasel. Such incidents are not uncommon.

A player on the Kirkdale links driving from the tee struck with his ball a bird at about forty yards. The ball traveled on with scarcely abated speed. The bird fell to the ground and when picked up was found not only to be dead, that was expected, but neatly decapitated. Countrywide Monthly.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth When Properly Combined.

Resorein is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Piocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well known ingredient for restoring hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

We have a remedy which is chiefly composed of these ingredients, in combination with other extremely valuable medical agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall 93 Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has perfected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular better than anything we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Murray only at our store.—The Rexall Store. AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to The Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not purge, gripe nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets 50 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. Dale & Stubblefield.

If you have bone pain, swollen joints, aching back or shoulder blades, blood thin or pale skin—even if bed-ridden with the worst rheumatism, give H. B. B. a trial. We guarantee a perfect lasting cure. H. B. B. is a liquid, made up of pure botanical ingredients and sold by druggists at $1.00 per large bottle, with directions for home cure.

THANKSGIVING DISHES.

We like to have as much of the preparation for the feast day done before hand as possible. The turkey may be stuffed the day before and is greatly improved by standing, as it is better flavored with the seasoning.

The cranberry sauce may be made and molded the day before, and of course the mince meat has been prepared and the pumpkin pie may be made, so that on Thanksgiving there are less things to prepare and the time may be better used enjoying one's friends.

The dishes to be prepared should be carefully gone over as to cost, an elaborate dinner for one's friends that means pinching for a month to recuperate is not worth the expense of time, labor and money.

Celery may be washed and wrapped in a damp cloth and kept nicely for several days.

Cranberry trappes is a delicious way of serving the winter berry.

A salad which is both attractive and good to eat and one which may be prepared the day before is: Lettuce with Sherry's dressing.

Wash head lettuce and wrap in a towel, place in a cool place. When ready to serve pour over the following dressing, which will keep for two weeks or longer if kept in the ice box: Take two tablespoonsful of chopped green pepper, one tablespoonful of chopped red pepper, a tablespoonful of vinegar, a tablespoonful of powdered sugar, a tablespoonful of salt, and three-fourths of a cup of the best olive oil. Shake in a pint mason jar for five minutes and let stand at least an hour before using.

The dinner may begin with a soup, a cocktail or with a canape, although none are necessary with a turkey dinner.

MORE ABOUT BEANS.

There is no soup that goes to the spot and is more nourishing than a hot bean soup on a cold night. Even a tablespoonful of baked beans should never be wasted, as they add flavor and food value to any dish. In many homes of luxurious liver, the bean soup is always served once a week in cold weather.

The following are a few good ones: Economical Soup—Brown a tablespoonful of flour in as much butter. Add a quart of water and a cup of cold baked beans. Boil fifteen minutes, season with salt, pepper and a few drops of onion juice or a dash of mace. Serve hot.

A slice of lemon in the bottom of the soup dish, when serving bean soup, is liked by many.

Puree of Bean Soup—Soak half a pound of beans eighteen hours. Cook until mushy; add a quarter of a can of tomatoes, one onion fried brown in a bit of salt pork; salt, pepper and a grating of nutmeg. Cook together fifteen minutes, strain and reheat before serving.

Bean Soup—Soak the beans overnight, and in the morning pour off the water, replacing it with fresh water. Parboil until the skins slip off easily. Throw them into cool water and rub well. The skins will rise to the top and can be removed. Boil the beans until perfectly soft, allowing one quart of water to one pint of beans. Mash the beans and add flour, a tablespoonful, and the same amount of butter cooked together; add salt, pepper and mace. The beans through a sieve. Serve small pieces of toasted bread with the soup.

If one finds baked beans hard to digest, try rubbing oil the skins before baking them.

Fortunate Experience of Lady Who Obtained Relief From Serious Trouble by Taking a Woman's Tonic.

Wildomar, Cal.—Says Mrs. F. S. Miller, of this place: "I had a miscarriage, which was followed by inflammation, and I suffered with intense pain for more than a week.

Most Fickle Man.
When Col. William M. Howard, now a member of the tariff board, was electioneering for congress one autumn in bygone days he struck a backwoods county in Georgia, and got very busy talking softly to the voters.

He was much concerned about a man named John, who was now for him; then against him, and always changeable.

"What's the matter with John?" the colonel asked one of his constituents. "Aw, you can't tell nothing 'bout John, colonel," was the assurance. "He is the most fickle man you ever see. Why, he has had religion—so many times, and been baptized in the creek down here so often that the bullfrogs know him every time he's 'mersed."

"Yes," replied the senator proudly. "I think it is rather neat. My wife invented it."—Saturday Evening Post.

Sometimes a man who flatters gets even with a girl who flirts.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH YOUR BABY?

The young mother and many an old one, too, is often puzzled to know the cause of her child's ill nature. The loudness of its crying does not necessarily indicate the seriousness of its trouble. It may have nothing more the matter with it than a headache or a feeling of general dullness. It cannot, of course, describe its feelings, but as a preliminary measure, you are safe in trying a mild laxative.

Five times out of ten, you will find it is all the child needs, for its restlessness and nervousness are perhaps due to obstruction of the bowels, and once that has been remedied the headache, the sluggishness and the many other evidences of constipation and indigestion will quickly disappear.

Don't give the little one salts, cathartic pills or nasty waters, for these will act as purgatives, and they are too strong for a child. In the families of Mrs. M. S. Adams, Auburn, Ky., and Mrs. L. M. Boyce, Tip Top, Ky., the only laxative given is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been found to answer most perfectly all the purposes of a laxative, and its very mildness and freedom from griping recommend it especially for the use of children, women, and old folks generally—people who need a gentle bowel stimulant. Thousands of Americans have been benefited by its use. It is more than a quarter of a century old, and its reputation is world-wide.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 201 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Immunity of Nature.
They were on a trip to Switzerland and had that day braved all dangers and ascended one of the highest peaks in the Alps.

He was very fat, and as he stood panting and mopping his brow at the top of the mountain, he turned to his wife and said, with pathos in his voice: "See, dear, how small one is in the immensity of nature!"

CAN'T BE SEPARATED

Some Murray People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both.

Backache and kidney ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them. And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache.

If the kidneys are well and strong, the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make a strong, healthy kidneys.

and whenever I lifted, sharp twinges darted through my loins. My back ached at night and in the morning when I arose, I was very lame. I tired easily and occasionally suffered from nervous spells and headaches. The kidney secretions were unnatural and greatly annoyed me. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Dale & Stubbins' Drug Store and began their use. In a short time I felt better and I was soon cured. I think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills."

FOR THE DOMESTIC HUSBAND

Attractive Patterns Are Obtainable For the Man Who Will Do His Own Sewing.

Our new line of patterns for men will be found extremely useful for the sensible and thrifty young man who prefers to do his own sewing. For instance, No. 9832 is an easily made evening suit. They seven yards—say seven and a half—of nice, black cloth, lay it out on the floor and pin the pattern to it with the bias fold on the crease of the garment. All perforations are allowed, and the seams may be run up by hand. Trim with braid and a few buttons. This model may be carried out in pongee or tan linen if preferred.

Pattern 7836 is for a man's kitchen apron. This useful garment should be made of art ticking and bound with red braid. Cut according to the pattern and place the triple notch on the stripe of the ticking. There is only one pocket pattern, but twenty-four pieces of the material are to be cut by this, as a man requires a great many pockets. All seams allowed. Attach the pockets on any part of the apron until all are used up, catch them into place, and finish the tops with a buttonhole bar. Attach tapes at the triple perforations to tie the thing on. It is advisable to wear the apron behind, as when worn in front it is apt to be in the way.

A knitted Tuxedo dinner coat is one of the latest and most fetching of the season's novelties. Choose a chinilla worsted of good quality. Cast on one hundred and ten stitches, puri three, narrow two, slip, widen, bind. Repeat backward until it is finished. Crochet a pink border in shell pattern, and finish with a gilt cord and tassels.—Judge.

DRIVING OUT PLANT SPIDERS

Water is Best Remedy for Window Garden Despoilers, for it Drowns Moisture.

In overheated, dry-atmosphere living rooms the red spider is sure to do more or less damage to the plants unless something is done to keep it in check. None of the emulsions, tobacco extracts or other applications advised for use in fighting plant enemies is of any use here.

The best thing to use—the only thing that will be of benefit—is water—just plain, undiluted water.

What the red spider dreads more than anything else is moisture. He will not stay where the air is kept moist if he can get away, and if he cannot get away he is unable to do much harm.

Here is where the sprayer comes into play. See that your plants are thoroughly wet, all over, at least three times a week—once a day is better.

Be sure that the moisture gets to the under side of the leaves, where the spider likes to hide away. Most persons are not aware of the presence of the tiny but terribly destructive creature, because it is unnoticeable unless one takes special pains to seek him out.

But if they find that leaves on their plants are turning yellow and falling off, they will have good reason to suspect that the red spider is at the bottom of the trouble.

Time to Paint a Ship.

The latest thing in ship painting is to apply no paint at all—not until they have been at sea for some months at any rate. The constant repainting of armored ships and ships with steel hulls involves an enormous cost, and since it has been found that a vessel is allowed to go unpainted for several years, the steel scales, which usually come loose under the paint and afford an opportunity for rust to attack the surface, wear off. The British government is experimenting with unpainted craft.

The training ship Exmouth was the first one tried. It was given two months at sea with no paint and then given four coats in dry dock. At the end of five years there was scarcely a trace of wear except at the water line, and the bottom was in perfect condition. The idea was suggested by A. C. Holzappel, who had made a study of the Exmouth, and now the steel ships are all put out to sea before being painted.

Oxen in Lumber Camps.

After nearly fifty years' retirement from active service the ox has again come into recognition as a motive power in the lumbering industry of northern Minnesota, northern Wisconsin and among the frontier settlers of these states. The reason is the high price of feed for horses.

There is little or no expense for the "keep" of oxen as compared with that of horses. It is estimated that there are now in northern Wisconsin and Minnesota 2,000 yoke of oxen used in hauling logs which have replaced high-priced horses. This is nearly double the number employed a year ago. So satisfactory are these animals proving in the cultivation of land from which the timber has been cut that it is likely their use will become general and remain so for many years.

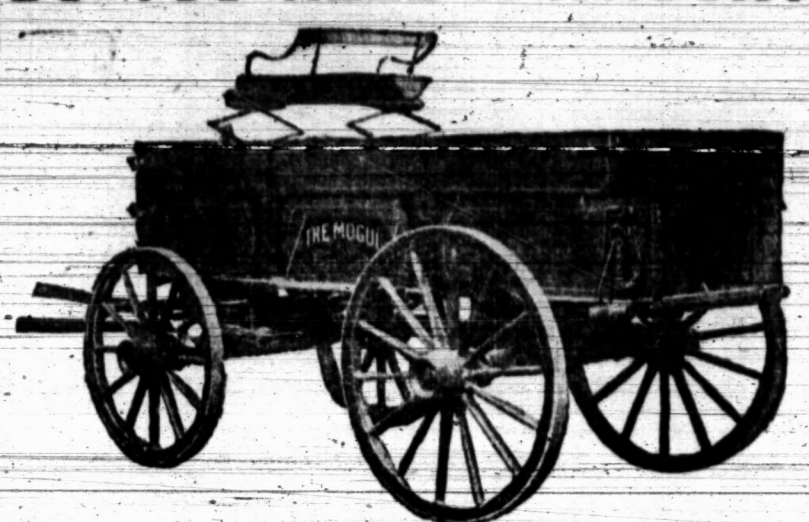

Evident Misunderstanding.

"How is the city man?" "Fine!" replied the suburbanite. "I don't think she was ever better in her whole life!"

"What are you talking about, anyway?" I said the frown of your neighbor.

"Sure, I heard you. Flora—she's my wife!"—Yankton Statesman.
