Received a note from R. M. Kirkland this past weekend from way out west in Kansas. The former Fulton jeweler says that he is "all set up and open for business now... it looks pretty good out here, the climate is quite different, but we like it... it is always cool at night. Things are humming, and it (Plainville) looks like a good town for business."

If you ever get out that far, Kirkland's new business is called "The Watch Shop," and we know he'd always welcome visitors from old Kentucky.

Ward Johnson came across Barney Finch, another ex-Fultonian, on his recent Colorado trip, and tells us that Barney spent hours asking him about folks and doings around Fulton. Barney is at Salda, Colo.

Red Welcomes Red

Thomas Monroe Garrison, weight 7 pounds, was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. E. (Red) Garrison at their home in Hickman last Thursday.

The youngest brings the Garrison family to four—two boys and two girls.

His hair? Red, of course!

The News editors are much indebted to Mrs. F. M. Newton from down in Greenville, Tex. for sending us a copy of "The Fultonian" dated September 5, 1890.

In next week's issue we will have had time to go through the paper and give you some glimpses of life and persons in Fulton fifty-nine years ago. We know it will make interesting reading!

Since we have started our column "Turning back the Clock" on the editorial page, many readers have commented to us, and we shall welcome additional material for this column in the way of old Fulton papers and publications from our readers.

They will be handled (with care, and returned, if desired.

The Dade Park Jockey club, with general offices located in Owensboro, is making plans for its annual summer racing meet scheduled for its Western Kentucky racing establishment located between Henderson, Ky., and Evansville, Ind., on U. Gordon W. Morrow, a well known figure in the horse racing industry, has been named racing secretary for the coming meeting, according to an announcement by James C. Ellis, president of the Dade Park Jockey Club.

Kentucky Doctor Group Sells Medical Insurance

The first surgical-medical insurance policies have been sold by a corporation set up by the Kentucky State Medical Association. According to Dr. P. J. Trinca, president of the Fulton-Hickman Counties Medical Society, more than 50 per cent of the doctors belonging to that group have signified their intention to participate in the KPM plan.

Blue Cross, which offers hospital insurance, is selling the K.P.M. policies, receiving only the actual operating cost for the service. Blue Cross will enroll subscribers, collect premiums, and process claims. K.P.M. will pay the claims.

Dr. Trinca said that a representative of Blue Cross was in the city several weeks ago making plans for the sale of such policies in this county and probably would be sold in the near future.

Announcement that the company had started operation was made by Raymond F. Dixon, its assistant secretary and treasurer and State deputy health commissioner.

Dixon said Spalding Southall, State director of insurance, had approved incorporation of the firm, Kentucky Physicians Mutual, Inc.

Sale of 500 of its policies was required by the Division of insurance before the incorporation was approved. The policies were quickly sold in Louisville, Dixon reported.

The insurance now is available to groups of five or more in 13 counties where more than half the physicians have joined in the plan. Dixon said. Sale in other counties will begin shortly, he added.

Doctors already are participating in these counties: Jefferson, Daviess, Franklin, Harlan, Hopkins, McCracken, Mercer, Fulton, Hickman, Scott, Madison, McCreary, and Pulaski.

The medical association first applied for incorporation papers for the insurance organization under the name of Kentucky Physicians Service Plan.

Dixon said a reorganization was necessary, however, because the director of insurance said that under the first plan only the service-contract type of insurance could be written. This is an inclusive policy which would pay all costs involved.

Changes were necessary because the house of delegates of the medical association had specified that the cash-indemnity form of insurance be offered. This allows fixed payments for

MR. PITCHFORD RELEASES FIGURES ON FINANCIAL STATUS OF KY. FARMERS

While Kentucky farmers have spent millions of dollars for improvements, soil conservation, the purchase of new equipment since the war's end, farm debt has made no significant increase; and savings in cash, bank deposits and United States Savings Bonds are at record levels, according to Russell H. Pitchford, vice president and cashier Fulton Bank, who represents the Kentucky Bankers Association as a county banker.

"Kentucky farm families are going through these final months of adjustment from a war to a peacetime economy with very little disturbance," Mr. Pitchford said. "They are maintaining a sound financial position; and while they are using more credit for improvements and new equipment, their obligations are being paid off in relatively short time, and they are adding to their already substantial financial reserves."

Reporting on the results of a fifth national survey of bank lending made by the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association, Mr. Pitchford said that "total farm debt held by the banks of the state at the beginning of 1949 was only about $80,000,000, compared with $69,000,000 on January 1, 1949. In addition to this amount, there are $533,000.00 in Commodity Credit Corporation loans held by the banks cooperating with the government's farm price support program."

In 1949, the last full year of operation, the 35 Kentucky banks serving agricultural communities loaned $83,424,000 to 102,049 farmers. This represents a total of 42.8 per cent of the farmers in the state. Of the total amount,

Johnson Jailed on Assault Charges

Myatt (Mike) Johnson, candidate for sheriff in tomorrow's election, was taken into custody last Saturday at Hickman on a charge of assault and battery, where he waived preliminary trial and was bound over to the grand jury. He was released under $500 bond.

Johnson was charged with an attack on a minister at Hickman, during a political rally in which both were in the audience.

R. H. (Bob) White president of the Woodlawn Land Company will preside with Mr. Gossom.

Officials of both organizations will present proposed financial plans for building a clubhouse. Grounds on which the country club is located are owned by the Woodlawn Land Company and leased by the Fulton Country Club from that organization.

TRAINMEN DISMISSED AFTER WRECK REINSTATED

It was announced today that W. O. Greer, brakeman, and J. J. Faulkner, flagman, both of Fulton, dismissed from the Illinois Central Railroad service after a Rives, Tenn., train wreck in which three persons were killed, have been reinstated.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Austin, Fulton, have returned from a vacation spent in New Orleans. Mr. Austin is employed by the I. C. system here.

If the weather is as hot on Saturday, as campaigning has been this past week, the probability of one of the largest primary election votes in the history of Fulton County is predicted today by seasoned observers as voters prepare to ballot for county and city offices and for representative from Fulton and Hickman Counties.

A record turnout of possibly 4,000 or more was considered not unlikely as interest quickened to fever pitch today as time began running out for the candidates who are seeking the democratic nomination for the office of county judge, county court clerk, sheriff, jailer, tax commissioner, etc., and for the city council.

Crowds of voters are expected to throng the polls all day Saturday from opening at 9 a.m. until they close at 4 in the afternoon.

For the past week all races have shown an accelerated pace.

ROTARIANS STUDY SCHOOL SITUATION

"Kentucky is listed as one State in the Nation that needs Federal aid for its schools" Rotarians learned at their Tuesday luncheon.

A committee headed by Leon Browder has been assigned by President Clyde Williams Jr. to make a thorough survey of local school conditions. First report was made this week.

In his survey, Mr. Browder pointed out that: The Fulton City Schools have lost 7 teachers to neighboring schools because of insufficient local salaries. Five have been replaced, mostly by young graduates just beginning practical experience.

Local salaries are as low as $131 per month, and the superintendent draws only $280 per month for the year.

One local teacher resigned at $194 to accept a $340 per month teaching job; another at $268, for $400; another, at $187.90, for $249; another, at $155 for $249.

Since Fulton, a fourth-class city, must use the County assessment figures, a considerable discrepancy works against schools taxes raised, it was pointed out. The city assessment for property within the city limits is $3,129,900; whereas the county assessment rolls for the whole school district, including the city, show only $2,952,325. An increase of the county figure to a more equitable level was pointed out as Fulton's chief means of producing more income for school operation. This same condition exists at Cayce, Hickman and Western, and needs to be revised to a higher and more fairly distributed level, it was pointed out.

The study of conditions will be continued by Rotarians in an effort to seek a solution and to organize public sentiment, especially that of the parent-teachers, to corrective action.

MOBILE UNIT TO X-RAY TWO DAYS

One of the largest mobile X-ray units in the country will be here August 5 and 8 to conduct a free clinic between the hours of 9 and 12 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m. each day.

The big trailer will be located between Maynard's Service Station and all persons 15 years of age or older may come in for a free X-ray. Clothes need not be removed and only 10 seconds are required for each X-ray. Reports on these X-rays are confidential.

The visit here is being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of which Mrs. Clyde Hill, Jr., is president.

Members of the Junior Woman's Club who will serve as clerks during the two-day clinic are: Mesdames Guy Fry, Eugene Hoodenpyle, Fred Homra, Morgan Omar, Charles Cannon, Clyde Hill, Charles Looney, J. C. Olive, Eugene Waggoner, Edward Benedict and Miss Virginia Brady.

Mrs. R. K. Howell of Atlanta, Ga., is the guest of her mother, Mrs. George Crafton on Cedar street.

with that of State representative taking the decided lead. In the race are Harvey Pewitt, the incumbent and Harry Lee Waterfield, of Clinton defeated for governor in 1947. Mr. Waterfield has based his campaign on the necessity for sending a man from this section back to the General Assembly, in the hopes that a higher office, such as governor may come to this section. Meanwhile Mr. Pewitt has sought his re-election without political ambitions, and in the primary interest of returning to the State Legislature to complete the road program which was begun during his term of office and which has been long dormant during the term of office of his predecessor.

The race has been a spirited one. Even the most experienced election prognosticators are not predicting the outcome.

Interest has not lagged in any of the races, although the various campaigns for the offices of the City Council have been of a silent nature. Considerable electioneering has been done by the campaign office of the progressive veterans ticket seeking posts on the City Council.

Go to the polls tomorrow, (Saturday). Vote as you please, but please vote.

SOIL DISTRICT OPERATING NOW

Organization of the Fulton County Soil Conservation District has been completed, according to Chas. Wright, chairman of the Board of Supervisors. The district office is located over the City National bank, in Fulton.

Technical assistance is available for the development of farm conservation plans upon request from landowners to district supervisors.

G. C. Richardson, soil conservation service, has been assigned to the district for farm conservation planning. Richardson has had wide experience in the field of agriculture. He was reared on a farm, graduated from the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, worked as county agent for fourteen years, and has been with the Soil Conservation Service six years.

R. V. Leighty, soil scientist, has also been assigned to the district. Leighty's job is to make Land Capability Maps for individual farms, showing soil types, slope, and erosion conditions.

Thirty requests have been received by the supervisors for assistance in development of conservation plans, according to Mr. Wright. The plans will include practices such as contour farming, pasture seeding and improvement, water disposal, terracing, drainage, pond construction, and use of land to the best advantage.

There is . . . nothing that keeps the heart young like sympathy, like giving oneself with enthusiasm to some worthy thing or cause.—Anonymous.

One Vote . . . One Winner

Tomorrow (Saturday) the good men and women who have waged strenuous campaigns in their attempts to seek the office of their choice will know the results of their campaigning. Perhaps they will not know the final results, since Kentucky law makes ballot counting a week's work almost, but they will know something of a trend.

With the city offices also to be filled in this election, there are less than twenty city and county offices being sought by nearly fifty people. It is a certainty then, that nearly 30 people will be sorely disappointed when the final tally is recorded. It is human nature to feel a pang of bitterness when one realizes that the clamor of victory is not beating in their hearts. Yet, is it not a greater attribute to accept the final score with humility and the inner satisfaction that the battle was hard and the decision fair?

That's the sportsmanlike thing to do!

During this campaign we have talked long and encouragingly with nearly all of the candidates. We feel it somehow a duty to impart our meagre knowledge of this game of politics to those who do not fully realize its changing ways. Our encouragement has been taken as personal support in some instances, much to our regret if it indicated to any one candidate our preference of one against the other.

We have made out position clear on only one race in this election. In the others we have only the highest hopes that a certain victory will come to each of them.

To the would-be sheriffs, the county court clerks, the county judges, the tax commissioners, the city councilmen, the jailers, the constables, the magistrates and all others we wish the very best luck tomorrow, which we hope will be "Their Day."

Each voter has only one vote to cast for a favorite candidate. For just tomorrow we wish we had twenty, so we could vote for all of you.

Good luck!

A Crooked Stick

The best way to prove a stick is crooked is to lay a straight one down beside it.
And the best way to prove something is black, is to lay something white down beside it.

That should be evident, but you'd be surprised at the number of people who will argue that a stick is not crooked, even when faced with a comparison. And of course, many obstinate ones will argue black is white.

In any argument concerning religion or politics, the other fellow always seems to be one of these.

Only a fool, it has been said, will argue either question.—The Parisian.

Aid To Recovery

Fire insurance is a mainstay of the economy. In thousands upon thousands of cases, it has meant the difference between solvency and ruin.

A recent issue of Forbes Magazine tells a typical story of how fire insurance serves the nation. Two years ago a New Jersey furniture company had a $1,000,000 fire which almost totally destroyed the plant. For a time there was doubt if the 100-year old company could survive the blow. However, some time before the firm had been sold a Use and Occupancy insurance policy. This coverage guaranteed that a high percentage of the profits normally earned by the company would keep coming in, and, in addition, it paid the salaries of key personnel.

With this income to count on, the company moved to temporary quarters and started to rebuild. It sent its salesmen out, and used newspaper and radio ads to let people know it was still in business and was going to stay there. This year, a concern which appeared to be doomed in 1947, will gross around $3,000,000 and give employment to a small army of people.

It is literally true that there is no risk too great or too small for fire insurance to cover. It will take care of a loss of a few dollars. And, at the other extreme, it will handle in stride a great disaster, such as the Texas City explosion. A fire insurance policy isn't exciting reading—but it represents an essential protection which has done much to make the development of the nation possible.

Tidbits of Kentucky Folk-Lore

"He Looks Like"

Maybe I have grown accustomed to conditions as they now exist and fail to see some things that may be obvious to others. That is a way we mortals have. But it has become rather difficult to tell what profession or trade a man follows merely by looking at him. It used to be otherwise. The doctor had the bedside manner, even when he was, like my father, catching a string of fish in Beechy Fork. The lawyer just looked his part and could hardly open his mouth without addressing an imaginary jury or judge. The minister was a minister all over, not merely, as Emerson might say, Man Preaching. And so on they went, each profession being somewhat easily distinguished from all others.

Since I am and have been all my grown-up life a college professor, I should not let this chance pass to picture briefly the old-time professor. He looked like a professor, every inch of him. There was an abstract air about him that might mean philosophy, or mathematics, or the classics, or any other branch of learning. If you had punctured his skin, you probably would have got, instead of blood, the essence of the Hundred Years War or the Theory of Limits or a bit of the Socratic Method. And he was expected to be just like that. No one supposed that any ordinary professor could doff his professorial pose long enough to be a man. When I was a student in Indiana University, there used to be a whole series of stories about one of my professors, who, having married after he was already approaching middle age, was rather comic in the role of father. The neighbors used to tell how very proper he was when he held his first-born on his knee. The precious youngster just must not be exposed to any danger of infection; consequently the proud father donned a long linen duster, like those formerly worn by the circuit rider, before he dared take touch his son. Rather oddly, that same professor used to laugh in his classes about the typical absent-minded professor who needed an attendant around to keep his mind occasionally on earthly things.

Times must have changed considerably, but some people still feel that the professor must be an impractical creature, hardly morally responsible for his acts. Just today I fear that a workman at a neighboring house doubted his senses when he saw me crawling around on the roof of my house trying to find one of those elusive leaks that all houses develop sooner or later. He knew that I worked "up at school," but it was quite plain that he could not believe that I actually heard classes and sat at a desk. You see, I do not have a Van Dyke beard; I do not even smoke a pipe; I mend my own roof; I cut my own grass; I crawl under my old-fashioned house and thaw out water pipes when they freeze up. Horrors! With all that book learning going to waste, what can you expect but degeneracy in this time?

Once, years ago, I waited for a train, not at coventry, as Tennyson, when he heard the immortal story of Godiva, but at a hot and small county seat town. Court was in session and was so warm, in weather and otherwise, that the court had been moved out on the courthouse steps and porch. A lawyer was belaboring the jury as they sweated and could be heard a good half mile away. I just supposed that some all-important case was up and that this must be the climax. It was a distinct let-down to learn that somebody's cow had broken into somebody else's garden and had a midnight feast among the vegetables. The rhetorical rumbles of that lawyer would have been worthy of a trial of Benedict Arnold or Adolph Hitler.

Now, as I walk down the street, I rarely see a lawyer who looks like one, at least, one of the old school. Any young lawyer might easily be mistaken for a realtor or a banker or a merchant. Of course, he may loosen up some of his oratory when he faces the good men and true of the jury; but in private life he is just a man, even as you and I.

Kentucky On The March

A bring-em-back-alive big game hunter with a crew of pigmies toting his supplies on their heads came to a crocodile-infested river in a Congo jungle. Wading or swimming was ruled out. The crocs would have gobbled the men in no time at all. It had to be rafts or a swinging footbridge. The pigmies preferred a bridge.

These little men, waist high to a six-foot white man, knew their job, because they had built foot bridges before. Equipped with a few knives and hatchets, they went to work. They cut vines and tough green bark which served as good substitutes for rope. To get an anchorage on the opposite shore they built a high wooden tower, all without nails or bolts. From this tower one of the little black men swung tarzan style to leaning trees on the other side of the stream. Then the whole crew was assembled to cut vines, plait bark and weave the floppy but substantial foot bridge.

There was no let-up. The men were busy from early morning till twilight. They stopped just long enough for lunch. To the amazement of the hunter and his two or three white associates, the tiny natives of "darkest" Africa finished the bridge in two days.

This was all in a documentary movie taken by the hunter, Commander A. Gatti, and I wish all readers of this column could see it. The pigmies were paid, of course, but I am sure Gatti, whom I knew personally, didn't spoil them with fabulous wages. The pigmies knew how to build a swinging bridge and seemed to take pride in doing the job as quickly as possible. All of us tall ones might well take a lesson from the pigmies—to know out jobs and to go ahead and do them.

In a recent issue of this newspaper I wrote that one good way to get out of the recession was to do a better job of selling goods of all kinds to keep money in circulation and the wheels of industry turning. But far more important than good salesmanship is a return to normal production per man-day.

Last year a manufacturing concern employing about 100,000 reported manpower production 32 per cent below pre-war normal. The average for Kentucky may not be that low, but it is down far too much.

Fortunately, this is changing. The recession has made a good many people realize that in order to keep their jobs they are going to have to produce more. If production per man hour is stepped up, it will be one of the best ways of reversing the present economic picture. There is only one way out of this recession—we must work our way out of it.

Guard Against Polio

A health bulletin recently issued repeats the precautions that are listed as helps towards the prevention and the spread of polio. There is so little known as to the cause and spread of the dreaded disease that precautionary actions are rather general, but have been approved as helpful by doctors making a study of the history of polio.

Infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis) is caused by an invisible virus. The way the virus enters the body has not yet been discovered.

Many observers, however, have noted that fatigue brought on by excessive physical exertion, and followed by chilling has preceded the onset of the illness. Physical condition of the subject has nothing to do with susceptibility to the disease. The strong, as well as the weak, have contracted it.

The disease is believed to be spread by direct or indirect contact with infectious secretions.

It is thought that unrecognizable cases and health carriers are important factors in its spread. For this reason, it is important that you avoid crowds, especially when an epidemic is prevalent. Immediate isolation of cases has been one factor in the control of the spread of the disease. All cases found by doctors must be reported immediately to the county health office, which in turn reports to the state office. All cases from this area are sent to the Isolation Hospital in Memphis.

The following suggestions for parents during the polio season are offered to carry out for the ultimate protection of their children against contracting the disease:

1. Keep children away from crowds.
2. Allow them to play outside where they may get plenty of fresh air.
3. Have regular rest periods for children.
4. Wash hands before eating and after having been to the lavatory.
5. Prevent children from getting chilled.
6. If your child appears to be ill, don't neglect calling your private physician immediately.
7. Most important, fight fear.

Approximately 80 percent of the population is thought to have had polio at one time or another. Cases then that are crippled by the disease are only a small fraction of the actual number of cases.

Vote for Dee L. McNeill, County Judge...

FOR THESE REASONS:

1. I Possess The Necessary Qualifications.
(a) Graduate of University of Kentucky. (b) Experienced in County and City Administration. (c) Have been a successful practicing attorney for many years in this section.
2. My announcement has caused the present administration to spread more gravel, build more private passways, build more bridges, rebuild and grade more roads since I announced than has been done in the past 7½ years.
3. There has been a constant plea during those 7½ years for road work but the excuse has been the County was broke. Where did the road money appear from so suddenly after my announcement? You should not be misled and when you vote use your own judgment and vote your sentiments.
4. Your County Judge must necessarily cooperate with the State Highway Department in order to get State and Federal aid and if I am elected

I will use every means to see that Fulton County gets its share of such aid.

5. I will use the Road Tax and Gasoline Tax money annually on the roads and it will not be kept until just before election and then be wasted.
6. If elected, I will be glad to talk to any citizen about any question involving County affairs, I will make no promises that I know will not be carried out but definite action will be taken on all matters that benefit the County.
7. I will hold a regular court once a month in the City of Fulton for the convenience and benefit of the people in the East end of the County.
8. I will endeavor to render fair and impartial decisions in all matters that are tried in my court.
9. No Judge has ever succeeded himself for a Third Term and this is no time to break a long and cherished custom of the Voters of Fulton County.

certain medical services. Dixon explained the insurance for surgical, obstetrical, and medical care is designed to "lighten the shock of catastrophic illness and operations."

Cost of surgery and obstetrical insurance is $1 a month for a single person and $2 for a family. All forms of surgery are covered. If any operation has been omitted from the schedule of benefits, the policy provides that a fee for it shall be established by a committee of doctors, Dixon said.

Some of the fees already listed are: appendectomy and Caesarean section, $100; gastrectomy or hysterectomy, $150; Pregnancy and childbirth, $50, and tonsillectomy, $25. For anesthesia, $15 is allowed. In emergency accidents, costs of X-rays will be borne, up to $15.

Protection against part of the cost of medical services is provided in a rider to the insurance policy. This costs 25 cents a month for single persons and 50 cents for families.

Hospitalized medical patients will receive $3 a day for payment of their doctors' bills. Payments begin on the third day of hospitalization and continue no longer than a month.

Dixon reported that 38 states have similar plans sponsored by their medical associations to combat proposals for tax-paid Government health insurance. New ones have just been set up in South Carolina and Tennessee.

The physicians realize the people need some form of prepaid medical insurance, Dixon said, and feel that "voluntary plans are the American way rather than compulsory health insurance."

Dixon said Americans are joining the voluntary plan at the rate of 10,000 a day.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

Often times sportsmen are inclined to consider only the game killed by hounds as the entire take from our wildlife supply. It would be wonderful if this were true for, certainly, it would mean an abundant crop of birds and animals for the annual gunning harvest.

Unfortunately, however, the comparison to what Mother Nature harvests with floods, cold and heat, famine and the other harsh acts that sometimes lack an explanation.

Egg morality, loss through predators, deaths from lack of cover and other similar things reap great chunks from the wildlife population. Then, too, there is the tragic loss of wildlife through death on the nation's highways. And it is this annual loss that prompted Henry P. Davis of the Remington Arms Co. to coin the slogan: "Let's Give Wildlife a Brake!"

Frankly I couldn't even guess as to how many animals and birds are killed each year in traffic mishaps. But unquestionably it runs into many millions.

Last year highway department employees in Pennsylvania actually counted over 99,000 animals and birds killed by automobiles and trucks. On a recent drive near my home I counted 32 birds and animals dead on the concrete slab in less than a hundred miles of highway.

It would be foolish to suggest that a driver of an automobile endanger his life in protecting game, but certainly it would not be amiss to ask for the cooperation of all drivers in keeping a sharp lookout for wildlife.

And it is between now and the end of the heavy tourist season that the highway wildlife losses will be the heaviest, so let's all give wildlife a "break!"

Mr. Pitchford (Continued from page one)

85,695 farmers borrowed from the banks to finance production in an aggregate amount of $58,816,000. Of these loans, only $38,253,000 remained outstanding at the beginning of 1949. During the year, there were 16,354 farmers, representing only 6.9 per cent of the farmers in the state, who made farm real estate loans in an aggregate amount of $58,816,000. The prosperity of the farmers is shown by the fact that of these long term debts, only $42,206,000 were outstanding at the beginning of this year. The total bank-held farm debt on January 1, 1949, was $80,459,000.

"The farm mortgage debt in Kentucky remains only about one-half of what it was in a comparable period after World War I," Mr. Pitchford pointed out. Mr. Pitchford stated that farm borrowings are usually a reliable indicator of the economic condition of agriculture and that on of the brightest aspects of the present situation is the fact that average loan per borrower during 1948 for production purposes was only $688, and the average loan made on farm real estate was only $1,505.

"Cash reserves held by Kentucky farmers, which are being consistently increased, are estimated to be sufficient to retire all farm debt," Mr. Pitchford said. "However, the farmers are wisely holding the reserves as a safeguard against emergencies and to enable them to buy new equipment and make farm improvements. The big demand for new equipment to replace that worn out during war years appears to have been satisfied. There is a statewide trend among farmers to improve livestock and crops and to practice modern conservation methods and land management. This trend insures a steady improvement in the condition of agriculture for many years in the future."

Mississippi Plantation Life: The Writings Of Mattie Dear

Glad to get a letter from Mrs. Hunt. She wrote me some good sayings. I believe she is a good Christian white woman. When I come up there and go to see her, she gives me such good advice. The Lord has blessed me with a wonderful crop. I feel at a loss by not going to church Sunday.

I have not heard from my long time brother since he left me in '48. Monday after the first Sunday in Nov. This world is a mean world to live in also too fast. Look like everything is running on fast time.

Every paper you pick up and read, so many people has got killed in different ways. But yet that don't stop the others from being in a hurry. But by and by the reaper will overtake them.

I would like to know how is Rev. Rucker. Also Mrs. Irene W. Smith and I would like to know whether is Sister Emma Newsome yet taking this paper. My cousin, Rosa Dotson and Sister Lottie Smith, they is sure sweet to me. Mrs. Mary D. Martin, Mr. James Robinson, also the manager of the Haggard Drug Store. I hope they will be successful in anything that they are trying to do.

We has a market man down here. When I go back to the market and say Mr. Bailey, he say O.K. Mattie, so the Lord is sending us plenty of rain, but Mattie is pleased.

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY

At this time I wish to make this statement to the Citizens of this County. First, I wish to thank you for the support you have given me for the time I have been your County Judge.

I wish to say I have tried to take care of the office in a way that would help the people most. I have not been able to do everything I wanted to do, because of the high cost of labor and material, but we as a Fiscal Court have made a lot of improvements, I believe in good roads and we are trying to build and maintain them as best we can with the money we have, we have now several pieces of road machinery, which we did not have when I took office.

I will not be able to see every voter before the election, because I have duties here in the office I must take care of.

I am sure the people of Fulton County know me and my record and on the 6th day of August you will go to the polls to vote and select your County Judge for the next four years, and I am sure you will be sincere in your choice and you will select the one you think will be best to lead your County Government in maintaining a high standard of service.

I wish to thank you for the courtesy you have given me in this campaign and if you re-elect me as your County Judge I will do my best to serve you in a business way.

Thanking you one and all for your support.

WAGE AMENDMENTS FAVORED BY KFB

Two amendments to the Minimum Wage and Hour Act are strongly favored by the Kentucky Farm Bureau, said J. E. Stanford, its executive secretary, in telegrams to Senators Chapman and Withers last week.

The two amendments are: (1) Tying a reasonable minimum wage to the cost-of-living index; (2) Retaining the existing exemptions for agricultural workers within the area of production. Both Senators were urged to give their active support to these amendments.

Tying minimum wages to the cost-of-living index would be putting labor on a basis comparable to the parity concept for agriculture, commented Stanford. The parity concept causes the price of farm goods to go up and down as the price of other goods rise and fall, Stanford explained.

Some labor organizations have been insisting that agricultural workers should be placed under the Minimum Wage and Hour Act. "Any one who understands the variables of farm production and the processing of farm products can readily see that any such plan would be totally impractical," Stanford declared. "The present Minimum Wage

KENTUCKY FARMERS BEST IN AMERICA

Kentucky's farmers went against the national trend by increasing their cash receipts from farm marketings in the first five months of this year.

The Agriculture Department reported Tuesday the five-month total for Kentucky was $197,920,000 as compared with $186,645,000 a year ago.

The story was different in Tennessee where decreases were noted.

Tennessee's five-month total receipts were $150,882,000, down about $11,000,000.

Kentucky's revenue gain was in crops, not livestock products. Tennessee showed lower figures in both columns.

They stacked up this way:

Kentucky livestock and products brought in $87,023,000, about $6,000,000 less than in the corresponding period a year ago. Cash receipts from crops alone totaled $110,897,000, up almost $17,500,000.

Tennessee livestock sales reached $85,264,000 down about $6,000,000, and crops brought $65,618,000, down about $5,000,000.

For the month of May alone, the total marketings were: Kentucky, $26,793,000, down about $2,500,000; Tennessee, $28,011,000, down almost $1,500,000.

FIELD MEETING AUGUST 16

An all day field meeting will be held Tuesday August 16 at the Mayfield (Graves County) Soil Experiment field, which is located on U.S. Highway 45, one mile south of Mayfield.

The tour of experimental plots will begin at 10 a.m. and lunch will be served by the Graves County Homemakers. Fulton County farmers should be especially interested in white clover plots comparing local produced seed with Certified Organ grown Ladino seed.

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:

Since I announced as candidate for the office of Tax Commissioner, I have tried to contact every voter in the county but there are a few that I have failed to see; therefore, I am taking this means of soliciting your vote and influence. As your Tax Commissioner for the past eight years, I have tried to make a fair, equitable, and legal assessment on each piece of property. To do this I have spent considerable time visiting the taxpayers and personally inspecting property.

Even though the law requires taxpayers to come to the office and list their property, I find that by going to the taxpayers there can be a better understanding of property values between the taxpayers and myself. I promise to continue this practice during the next four years if you re-elect me as your Tax Commissioner.

This year a special session of the Kentucky Legislature enacted some new tax laws. I have made a thorough study of these new laws and I believe that from my experience and knowledge of the past and present laws I can make a better and more efficient Tax Commissioner.

I shall always be grateful to the voters for their past support and I have tried to merit this wonderful confidence in my work. If you see fit to re-elect me, I pledge myself to give the same fair, equitable, and legal assessments in the future as in the past

Respectfully submitted,

DISTRICT P-TA TO GIVE SCHOLARSHIP

Applications for the First District Parent-Teachers Association Scholarship to Murray State College are now being accepted, Mrs. Randolph Gore of Lone Oak, Ky., president of the P.T.A. said today.

The scholarship in the amount of $100 will be awarded to a senior at Murray State who agrees to teach in the elementary schools of a First District for at least one year upon graduation.

To be considered for the scholarship, applicants must write to J. Matt Sparkman, dean of students at Murray State before September 26, giving full information as to their qualifications.

Applicants will be judged on a basis of professional interest, scholastic endeavor and personal worthiness.

A committee composed of Dr. Ralph Woods, president of Murray State, J. O. Lewis, superintendent of Mayfield city schools; Miss Rubie Smith, professor of elementary education, Murray State; and Mr. Sparkman has been appointed by Mrs. Gore to select the applicant to receive the scholarship. Mrs. Gore will also serve on the committee.

The scholarship, which will be awarded annually, was established at the spring meeting of the First District P.T.A. in Murray.

If the success of a fishing season can be measured by the number of participants, 1949 unquestionably will be the most successful fishing year ever. Every stream and lake I have visited, with the exception of a few of off-the-way bodies of water in Canada, literally has been crowded with anglers. But not once have I heard a complaint from the fishermen about the crowds.

On the opening day of the trout season in a state I normally visit each summer, I counted 112 fly fishermen in stretch of water no longer than a quarter of a mile. In previous years this particular stretch of stream had been an excellent trout producer and it was not uncommon on opening day to see a dozen or so fishermen—but this year there were 112.

I opened the bass season in another state on a lake of some two miles in length and a half mile or so across. I didn't count all the boats and shore fishermen, but I'll wager there were at least four times as many fishermen as last season on the initial day of the season.

On the trout stream and bass lake, the fishermen were taking fish—not as large as normally but fish that would mighty good sizzling in the old frying pan.

These "crowded" conditions are worrying some of the fish experts. And probably rightly so, for it is almost an impossible task keeping waters productive under such tremendous pressure.

I don't believe, however, that it is anything to worry about. First, the fellow who goes fishing, finds the stream or lake crowded and doesn't like it can hang up his rod and quit the sport. He can take up golf or horseshoe pitching.

But the fellow who truly loves the sport of fishing will accept the crowded conditions as a challenge—a challenge to try to outwit the finny gamesters that are having more than twice the number of artificial lures or live bait tossed their way. A fisherman will have far more to brag about with one nice fish taken under these adverse conditions than a boat load of lunkers hauled from a virgin lake filled with fish.

Actually, it boils down to the sport of fishing vs. fishing for meat. And, unquestionably, fishing for meat is a thing of the past, but fishing for sport is becoming more tempting all the time. For a change, the odds are stacked in favor of the fish—and that's good, I think!

VOTE FOR

County Court Clerk

If elected I will appoint a paid deputy and eliminate the extra license fee in Fulton.

NO BACKERS— NO OBLIGATIONS

I'm Running On My Record And Qualifications

I am making my race for Fulton County Sheriff independently of any other candidate for any other office. I am not now, and will not be put on any slate.

I have no campaign manager and if I had one I would not permit him to make any deal with any other candidate.

Nor have I any sponsor "willing to back my candidacy regardless of cost." I do not want to be elected under obligations to any one.

If I am elected it will be by the free expression of the people at the polls, without any undue influence from me.

I have been a resident of this county for many years and in police work for nearly 15 years. I have had sufficient experience in administrative work to give you the fine combination of tax collector and sheriff.

My entry into the sheriff's race was at the insistence of my many friends in Fulton County who want to see the office of sheriff efficiently and honorably operated.

Don't forget these qualifications when you cast your vote Saturday, August 6, (Tomorrow).

Check My Record As a Peace Officer

From a Local Newspaper, February 18, 1949

"One department not making its way, financially, is the police department. But this deficit is to be construed as commendable. Law and order has been kept at such a maximum that fines are at a minimum. Chief McDade and his efficient corps of officers are among the best to be found in any community."

ON AUGUST 6, VOTE FOR

G. J. (Gip) MCDADE

For Sheriff of Fulton County

FULTON COUNTY NEEDS

I. W. "Irby" HAMMOND

FULTON COUNTY

HAMMOND FOR SHERIFF

Successful Farmer

Irby Hammond is the kind of Kentucky farmer who helps to lead the Nation in bountiful crops produced. He is hard-working, sincere, conscientious and a fair dealer, who will take these qualifications to YOUR sheriff's office.

Honest Business Man

In his farming interests Irby Hammond has made a good living. He knows the value of the dollar, the importance of tax collections, the necessity of hiring competent office help and the other demands, business-wise, of the sheriff's office.

No Factions----No Deals

There has never been a rumor, or a sign of a rumor during his entire campaign when Irby Hammond was linked with any organized political dictators. He announced for the honorable office at the insistence of GOOD, SOLID, CITIZENS, who know that the sheriff's office NEEDS IRBY HAMMOND. Running independently, he certainly has not made any deals with any favor-seeking members of political factions.

THANKS FULTON VOTERS

Before you cast your vote, please let me take this opportunity to thank you sincerely for the wonderful support you have shown me during my campaign. I have taken the time off from my farm duties to see each of you personally, and yet I know that there are those whom I failed to see. If I did not see you, it was not an intention of the heart, but a physical impossibility.

Won't you please consider this a personal solicitation for your vote and remember me at the polls tomorrow?

Sincerely and gratefully,

I. W. (Irby) Hammond

Complete Police Protection

Irby Hammond promises you ONE THING. He will not make it necessary for the people of the Highlands, Riceville or other unincorporated suburbs to lock their front doors as soon as the sun goes down, because the sheriff's office has failed to give police protection. He intends to run the office as the people would have it run, and not as the politicians want it.

Hammond Only Will Run The Office of Sheriff

Regardless of the promises being made by other candidates Mr. Hammond can say without any fear of contradiction that he alone will run the sheriff's office. Since he is making no promises, no deals, no trades, then he does not have to be bothered with "paying" off the folks to now he is indebted. He is only indebted to the voters, whom he hopes will put him in office.

Hammond Is a Veteran

Irby Hammond is a veteran. Honorably discharged from the Armed Services after World War I, he is asking the support of his buddies in arms.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 7.

The Golden Text is: "O Lord thou hast searched me, and known me . . . Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall

I flee from thy presence." (Ps. 139:1,7)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness." (Ps. 143:10)

... I Don't Want to Build an Empire

I WANT TO WORK FOR THE THINGS WE NEED

No Political Ambitions

To you the people who have known me nearly all of my life there is no need to say that I do not aspire to any great political ambitions. I did not accept the nomination to the office of State Representative two years ago because I wanted to build a "machine" to get elected to any higher office. I took the job because I wanted to do the things for the two counties I represented without any other views except to get the good roads, good State contacts and other things that a State Legislature can offer.

No Personal Gain

I have been engaged in farming nearly all of my life and have worked in the interests of better agricultural methods with men and women who know the importance of diligent state representation. I have been successful and earned a good living at my chosen profession and do not seek the office of State Representative for any personal gain.

Your Interests—My Interests

Because I know the section I represent so well I know your interests and the things you wish accomplished... these are my sole interests, too. My term of office will be uncluttered with high level politics... but will be full of high interest for the things that we both need.

Next Two Years Important

During my past term of office the road program in the two counties has shown remarkable results. Within the next two years if I am elected I hope to see accomplished the major needs of the road program. I will work with the administration in power to this end. I AM NOT IN THIS RACE TO FIGHT THE ADMINISTRATION... IN DISUNITY THERE IS CERTAINLY NO ACCOMPLISHMENT.

Bill S. Wilson, Second Street Fulton, a graduate of Fulton High School, having met all the requirements, has been accepted for admission to the fall 1949 class of the Georgia Institute of Technology, the largest engineering institution in the South and the third largest in the United States and Canada.

Because of the strict entrance requirements of Georgia Tech, only a few of the many who apply are accepted. Therefore, it is an honor to be numbered among these few.
