FULTON YOUTH KILLED IN MEMPHIS CRASH

Charles Edward Allen, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Allen of Fulton, was fatally injured in an automobile accident at Memphis last Friday afternoon, as the car in which he was riding with a friend crashed into a tree on Parkway. He was taken to the Baptist hospital there and died Friday night of cerebral hemorrhage and internal injuries.

Young Allen and his friend were enroute to Fulton for the week end when the accident occurred. For the past three years he had been employed on the extra board of the Illinois Central System, running out of Memphis. Born March 22, 1916, he had lived in Fulton all his life, being a graduate of Fulton High School, and a member of the First Methodist church. He was a popular member of the younger set, and had many friends.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday afternoon from the First Methodist church by Rev. J. N. Wilford, with interment following at the cemetery here. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Allen, two brothers, Jack and Thomas, both of Fulton, two sisters, Miss Mary Lou Allen of this city and Mrs. E. W. Johnson of Lexington, Ky.; grandmother, Mrs. J. K. Allen of Memphis.

FIVE INJURED IN AUTO WRECK FRIDAY

Five residents of the Dukeson vicinity, nine miles east of Fulton, were injured in an automobile accident on the Dukeson-Pilot Oak road last Friday night. A car driven by James Williams crashed with another driven by Harold Hawks as they attempted to pass in a fog of dust.

Both machines went into the ditch after the collision. James Williams sustained a broken jawbone and numerous lacerations, being seriously injured, while Mr. Hawks received a neck injury. Miss Violet Grisson and Burdette Grisson, sustained minor injuries. All were brought to the Fulton hospital for treatment.

MATTHEWS TO REFEREE MATCHES IN UNION CITY

Bobby Matthews, well known boxer has been signed to referee both bouts on tonight's all star sports program at Red Young's Open Air Arena in Union City. Bobby, before retiring from the ring, ranked high among the country's middleweight fighters. He is well known in this section of the country and is capable of handling both boxing and wrestling matches.

The choicest pleasures of life lie within the ring of moderation.—Tupper.

GUESS WHO!

Councilman

T. T. BOAZ
T. T. Boaz, councilman-business man was, last week's Guess Who.

His great-uncle was Shadrack Boaz, the first sheriff of Fulton county.

Winners of last week's Guess Who
1. Mrs. J. W. Leath.
2. Mrs. Homer Wilson
3. Elizabeth Witty.
4. Thomas Hastings.
5. Mrs. John E. Bard.

THIS WEEK

This week's Guess Who is perhaps Fulton's most consistent fisherman. He has been in business here for a number of years. He has three brothers and two sisters, none of whom live in Fulton.

Remember—do not phone your guess until promptly after 10 a. m. Western Union Time, Saturday, and then phone 12, Fulton Theatre. Five winners will receive two passes each week. We'd like a few suggestions for "Guess Who" individuals to be described, so let's hear from you.

Vote On Bonds Set In Weakley County

The Weakley County Election Commissioners have issued a call for a special election to be held in the county Sept. 27, to determine the matter of issuing $400,000 to be known as Electric Plant Bonds.

This sum, if authorized, together with a grant of $200,000, totaling $600,000, is the estimated amount required for the Weakley County Municipal TVA setup.

Negotiations are in progress for the purchase of the Kentucky-Tennessee Light & Power Co. holdings in this county, now supplying electric energy to the five Weakley County municipalities.

SHERIFF ASKS GUARD FOR ACCUSED NEGRO

Sheriff J. S. Burcham has asked that National Guardsmen be used to guard James Stevens, 25, negro, who is charged with the murder of Willie B. Lunsford in July, at his trial here this week. Stevens engaged a taxi which Lunsford was driving on Monday, July 25. Lunsford was not seen again until his body was found, the next Wednesday, by Thelma Valentine and James Evans, under a hedge one mile south of Fulton, between the Union City highway and State Line road.

A week later, Stevens was found in Mt. Vernon, Illinois, with the taxi formerly driven by Lunsford. He confessed and was then taken to the Eddyville prison to await trial. Sheriff Burcham stated after Stevens' arrest at Mt. Vernon, Ill., that he feared mob violence and the negro has been held in an out-of-county jail. He has not yet received a reply to his request for National Guard protection. Sheriff Burcham said, but is certain of its being granted.

Stevens' trial has been set for Friday by Circuit Court Judge R. A. Elkins at Union City. W. E. Dukeson and D. G. Caldwell have been appointed attorneys to defend him.

CARTER AND MADDOX ATTEND MEETING

Catch Jack Carter of Fulton High School and "Cap" Maddox, official, attended a conference meeting of coaches and officials which was held at Princeton Saturday. J. O. Lewis, superintendent of Fulton city schools who was in a Memphis hospital was unable to attend.

M. C. Lewis, St. Louis official, talked before the group giving an interpretation of prevailing football rules.

JOE DAVIS WILL SPEAK AT U. C. ROTARY

Joe Davis popular business man of Fulton and a member of the local Rotary Club will be guest speaker of the Union City Rotary club in Union City, Friday at their regular luncheon meeting.

REVIVAL PLANNED FOR BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist Church of this city is planning a series of Revival Services beginning September 23 and closing October 5. The preaching will be done by the Pastor Woodrow Fuller. The music and personal work will be in charge of Mr. E. A. Patterson, Director of Church Activities in the First Baptist Church, Tulsa, Okla. The services will be held daily at 7 A. M. (Closing promptly at 7:45) and 7:45.

In preparation for the revival a number of cottage prayer meetings have been held Monday, Tuesday and Friday nights of next week. These prayer services are being sponsored by the W.M.U., Sunday School, Deacon Board, and Baptist Training Union. In view of the large crowd present last Wednesday it will be necessary to meet this coming Wednesday in the church auditorium. The attendance goal for the Wednesday prayer meeting is 150 people.

The prayer meetings for the various nights are as follows:

Monday night Prayer Meetings sponsored by Women's Masonary Union: Mrs. R. Q. Ross, A. E. Crawford, Mrs. George Winter, Jr., Miss Myra Seacore, Mrs. C. B. Beach and Mrs. R. B. Allen.

Tuesday Cottage Prayer Meetings, Sept. 20, 1938, sponsored by the Sunday School: Pastor R. S. Burgess; Mrs. Fred Cooper, R. E. Goldsby, J. C. Clapp, J. A. Hemphill, R. N. Davis, J. W. Clannie, J. W. Leath, Clyde Fields, Correll Lowmyer, George Winter, Dr. Art. Rudd, Mrs. Clay McCallum.

Prayer Meetings for Thursday, Sept. 22, sponsored by the Deacon Board of the church: Homes: L. V. Brady, W. E. Flippo, T. E. Humphries, Joe Gates, Ed Bondurant, Wiley Odell.

Friday, September 23, Baptist Training Union in charge: Homes: Mrs. E. O. Walker, Mrs. Emma Mann, Mrs. Ben Gibson, Leon Smith, Ann Lee Cochran, Edward Paul, Humphrey Home, Marvin Sanders, G. H. Duley.

Young Business Men Met Tuesday Night

The Young Business Men's Club met Tuesday night at the Rainbow Room with Bob Buford presiding as chairman. Mayor Paul DeMyer and Councilmen H. H. Buga, T. T. Pazz and Kellie Lowe were present as guests. Each spoke briefly before the membership.

Reports were made on the recent Horse Show sponsored under the auspices of the club, on Scout activities and plans, and on the creek program. Mayor DeMyer outlined a proposed planning for erection of dams and watergates above the city to hold the water in check in time of flood conditions. The plan was endorsed by the club, and it is hoped that it can be carried through with the aid of the federal government.

Aviation was another topic discussed before the club. It was pointed out that there are several young aviators in Fulton and interest is growing in this section. A plan for establishment of an aviation field near Fulton has been taken up with federal authorities, and if land can be obtained for the project the government will open an official airport, it was pointed out.

DAVE LOWE WITH WINSTEAD-JONES

Dave Lowe, who for the past past twenty years has been connected with the Winstead-Jones Funeral Home.

Mr. Lowe first went into business in the firm of Stubblefield and Lowe. After the death of Mr. Stubblefield, Mr. Lowe carried on the business alone for many years. Prior to joining the Winstead-Jones establishment, he sold supplies for an embalming company. He is a licensed embalmer and is glad to work again in Fulton.

The world's land speed record of 345.49 miles an hour was recently set by Capt. George E. T. Eyston.

FULTON EAGLES CLOSED SEASON

The Fulton Eagles closed the 1938 baseball season here Sunday afternoon in the final game of a series with the Paducah Indians, losing 20 to 6. Fulton won only one game out of four from Paducah.

PADUCAH 18, FULTON 7
Friday afternoon the Paducah Indians staged a ninth-inning rally of five runs to win over the Eagles 18-7.

Batteries—Paducah: Scott, Stegar, Woodfill and Dentler; Fulton: Nagle and Summers.

PADUCAH 9, FULTON 7
Friday night Paducah grabbed an early lead over Fulton which the Eagles were never able to overcome, and tagged another victory, 9-7. Home runs by Burnett, Sanders and Matthews turned the tide for the visitors.

FULTON 7, PADUCAH 6
The Fulton Eagles checked two late rallies here Saturday night and gained a 7-6 victory over Paducah, fighting to get into the first division. Pichel hurled effectively in the pinches to turn back the Indians' threats in the last innings.

PADUCAH 20, FULTON 6
Paducah had little difficulty in winning the final game from the Eagles, with a one-sided score of 20 to 6. It was desultory baseball that was a good sandlot exhibition.

The Shaughnessy playoffs to determine the champion teams of the Kitty League started Wednesday night in Mayfield, Hopkinsville beat the Mayfield Browns by a score of 10-9. The Browns used four pitchers but failed to stop the Hoppers, scoring in the first of the ninth. Mayfield also scored in the ninth but fell short. The Browns gathered thirteen hits, while the Hoppers collected sixteen. Batteries—Mayfield: Louie, Mentr, Bayside, Bruhn, and Tate, Goff; Hopkinsville: Selmon, Crane and Stewart.

The game between Jackson and Lexington was rained out. In this series the team taking three out of five will meet the winner of the other series and will play for the best four out of seven.

October Designated As Church Attendance Month

October has been selected as Church Attendance Month in Fulton, with the Fulton Ministerial Brotherhood sponsoring the campaign. The publicity committee which is composed of one pastor, one representative from each participating church and one representative from each of the local newspapers, will strive to acquaint the citizens of Fulton with the particulars of the campaign. Committee will be appointed in each of the churches to make statistical reports on attendance, to provide transportation for all who will go to church if a way is provided for them, and reception committees.

Those who have been named to serve of the publicity committee are: Rev. Woodrow Fuller, chairman; T. G. Goldsmith, Episcopal church; Lawson, Rupert, Methodist; W. C. Valentine, Baptist; Dudley Morris, First Christian; E. W. Stevenson, First Presbyterian; Gus Bard, Cumberland Presbyterian; Donald Hall, County News; and Hoyt Moore, Daily Leader. They will meet the first of next week, at a time announced by the chairman, Rev. Fuller.

Successful campaigns of this type have been conducted in other cities in the surrounding territory, and it is believed that Fulton will have one that will not only increase attendance in October, but will have lasting effect. Certain features of the campaign may be found desirable for further use by the various churches, such as providing transportation for those who are handicapped in getting to the church services. Every citizen in Fulton, especially officials and members of the churches, are urged to co-operate with the committee in making it a successful campaign.

Many Attend Fulton Singing Convention

The auditorium at the city hall building here was filled to capacity Sunday, when hundreds of people gathered to participate in the singing convention. Many prominent leaders and singers were present, including the Paducah Mixed quartet, Fawkins Junior quartet of Paducah, Polly Cloyes and Her Alvinettes of Water Valley, Mr. Eads and Mr. Carbran of Union City, Mr. French of Dukeson, Mr. and Mrs. Jackrell and Mr. Dunn of Harris, and a choir of 160 singers. L. L. Gardner, C. R. Crocker and Dr. R. T. Ridd of Fulton were leaders.

The Fulton-Hickman County Convention will be held at Harmony near Moscow, Sunday, October 9.

FULTON OPENS SEASON WITH LEXINGTON

By Jane Alley

On the brilliantly lighted field new vacated by the Kitty League, the Fulton Bulldogs will launch their fall football campaign against the Lexington Tennessee eleven at eight o'clock Friday night. The prospects for this season are unusually bright due to the fact that the boys are heavier than any who have represented Fulton High in the past few years. The present schedule appears to be difficult because the local team will compete with teams from schools having much larger enrollments. The Fulton High boys realize that they face tough opposition but have already shown the fighting spirit necessary to make football interesting.

The boys who reported for practice September 1 have caught the spirit of the season and are better fitted for an opening game than any team in the last few years. The lettermen remaining as a foundation for the 1933 team are Howard Armbruster, Fred Brady, Clyde Hill, Donald McGrite, Jarrell Stockdale, Charles Thomas, Charles White, and Clyde Williams. The line has proven to be the strongest section but the backfield is rapidly being developed. Among the newcomers who have shown up well on the practice field are Corbett, Carl Buckingham, Wilham, Humphreys, Jimmie Lewis, Ralph Stephenson, and Jack Tash. As yet no definite plans have been made for the starting line-up.

Bleachers will provide sufficient seating capacity for the many fans who are expected to attend the home games of the Bulldogs. An unusual plan concerning the season tickets has been arranged and the tickets will be placed on sale Friday morning.

Fulton fans are urged to help the Bulldogs keep up the spirit with which they are going to start the season. The best way in which to do this is to attend all the games on the Bulldogs' schedule.

U. C. C. C. PLANNED JOINT MEETING

A joint meeting of the Union City Chamber of Commerce and the Hickman, Ky., Lions Club will be held at Woodland Mills School next Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. it was decided this week by the Chamber of Commerce of Union City in accepting an invitation of ladies at Woodland Mills to hold their meeting there.

A program will be planned for the meeting to observe the recent completion of the paved Union City-Hickman Highway. A committee composed of C. F. Fowler, B. F. Howard and Harry Harper was appointed to make arrangements for the joint meeting.

EQUIPMENT INSTALLED FOR NEW CLASSES

New equipment has been installed at the Cayce School for typing and home economics classes, Principal A. J. Lowe stated early this week. The equipment includes new typewriters, sewing machines, cooking stoves, and other paraphernalia needed to conduct these classes.

Classwork at the Cayce school is making steady headway and this year promises to be the finest ever enjoyed by this institution.

CITY SCHOOLS OPENED HERE LAST MONDAY

Fulton city schools opened the 1938-39 term here Monday morning, with Principal Lawrence Holland filling in for Supt. J. O. Lewis, who underwent a recent operation. Students reported for class assignments, and in the afternoon were in their respective classrooms.

During the morning a general teachers meeting was held as were departmental meetings.

Enrollment in the various schools early in the week were as follows: High School, 162 girls, 90 boys; Carr Institute, 182 boys, 202 girls; Terry-Norman, 41 boys, 36 girls; Fulton colored school, 58 girls, 36 boys. Total enrollment in all the city schools 756, and this number is expected to be increased by about two or three per cent.

Class officers for the years 1938 to 1939 are:

Seniors—President, Jarrell Stockdale; V-Pres., Clyde Hill; Secretary, Betty Goldsmith; Cheer Leader, Ruth Knighton; Asst. Cheer Leader, Jane Edwards; Business Manager, James L. Batts.

Executive committee of Senior class: Donald McGrite, Martha Sue Massie, Glenn McAlister, Cavita Brown, Fred Brady, Jane Alley.

CIRCUIT COURT WILL OPEN NEXT MONDAY

Fulton County Circuit Court will open the regular September term at Hickman next Monday, with Judge J. C. Hickman presiding. The following week court moves over to Fulton, then back to Hickman for another week.

On the Hickman Commonwealth docket, 25 cases appear, with 17 of them felony charges. Thirteen cases appear on the ordinary docket, 18 on the appearance equity docket, 11 of which are divorces.

Fourteen cases are scheduled for the Fulton Commonwealth docket, 11 felony charges. One murder case, Henry Morgan, colored, charged with killing Frank Williams, colored, will be tried. On the Fulton appearance equity docket there are eight cases. On the Fulton appearance equity docket there are 19 cases, 12 of these are for divorce. The docket for this September term is some lighter than it was last year.

Between July 1st, 1937 and July 1st, 1938 there were 56 trials by jury, both civil and criminal. Court was in session 33 days during this time, and the cost of the Grand Jurors between July 1st, 1937 and July 1st 1938 was $590,000 for the Petit Jurors between July 1st, 1937 and July 1st 1938 was $1,386.00, a total for both Jurors was $1,976.00.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO MEET AT WATER VALLEY

Plans are being made by the Fulton Chamber of Commerce to hold a dinner meeting at Water Valley, Tuesday night, Sept. 20. Tickets for the occasions will be on sale this week end, and it is hoped that local business men will turn out for the event.

The community dinner meetings sponsored by the local Chamber of Commerce during the past summer have been most successful and it is planned to hold them again next year.

Hickman county, Ky., fiscal court purchased a lot for construction of new county warehouse building costs to be $9,385.

YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS

It is very well to say that youth should have its fling, but statistics show that the way of youth is tending too swiftly toward the path of the crime situation, but they tell a great deal, and they also show us that somewhere there must be a weakening in our social structure.

We are informed by authorities that more than 20 per cent of our crime is the work of persons who have not yet even reached the voting age, and the average age of criminals is steadily falling. This means that one-fifth of all murderers, robbers and those who have committed social offenses, are those of immature minds and bodies, and those who should just be reaching the threshold of a useful life. It is not a pleasant outlook, and not a pretty picture. Is there any suitable explanation and fitting remedy that we may employ in order to correct such conditions?

We have youth in crime because we fail to provide them with proper outlets and upbringing. The association of bad companions, broken homes, inadequate recreations and street life contribute to the cause of youth in crime. Therefore, the causes behind such a condition must be wiped out. It is noted that the influence of the church and Sunday school, the Boys and Girl Scouts, the Y.M.C.A.'s 4-H clubs and other social groups, have a great deal to do with the moral training of youth. Give them the training through the first two decades of their lives and they will generally go straight the rest of their days. We cannot progress or go forward toward law-obedience until we start anew upon a plane of understanding and education in the all-important field of building again what this country so sadly needs—a reverence and respect for the majority of our laws.

SOUTHERN SOIL

"Nature gave the South good soil. With less than a third of the Nation's area, the South contains more than one third of the Nation's good farming acreage. It has two-thirds of all the land in America receiving a 40-inch annual rainfall or better. It has nearly half of the land on which crops can grow for six months, or more, without danger of frost. This heritage has been sadly exploited. Sixty-one per cent of all the Nation's land badly damaged by erosion is in the South. An expanse of southern farm land as large as South Carolina has been gullied and washed away.

The above is the opening of the Soil section of the report on the "Economic Conditions of the South," which we mentioned lately. We give it because it ties in with our recent editorials on farming in this section, which raises too many peanuts on worn out and eroded soil, thus getting one of the lowest yields per acre in the state. Because of this and because of the nearness to markets, we advocated more truck crops, more livestock, more fruit for the farmers of this section, with soil improvement methods and erosion control. Only in this way can this section take its place in the front rank of agricultural sections of the state.

The report gives the following reasons for the present condition of the soil of the South:

"Much of the South's land originally was so fertile that it produced crops for many years no matter how carelessly it was farmed. For generations thousands of southern farmers plowed their furrows up and down the slopes, so that each furrow served as a ditch to hasten the run-off of silt-laden water, after every rain. Half of the South's farmers are tenants, many of whom have little interest in preserving soil they do not own. All of the South's chief crops are intertilled crops—the soil is plowed between the rows, so that it is left loose and bare of vegetation. The top-soil washes away much more swiftly than from land planted to cover crops. Even after harvest, southern land is seldom planted to cover crops which would protect it from the winter rains. This increases erosion tenfold. The cash crops on which the south depends take the fertility out of the soil."

We believe a good deal of this applies to this section and it should be pondered with care by everyone interested in making this section a more prosperous farm country.

GOOD FALL BUSINESS

The business indexes still tend upward. As the Analyst puts it, "So far as can be seen the recovery movement is continuing in a general satisfactory manner."

It is true that in many lines there has been little or no actual betterment as yet. But even there, sentiment has undergone substantial change, and leaders are looking to the immediate future with a great deal more equanimity than they did a few months back when all that could be seen on the economic horizon was storm clouds.

Steel recently passed 40 per cent of capacity for the first time since last November. Employment has been jumping in the automobile industry, due to preparation for next year's cars. Electric power is nearing its high for this year.

Retail sales have been down, as usual in the summer, but the decline has not been greater than seasonal in most states. Good fall business is anticipated.

FOOTBALL FACTS

23% of football players are inside the 20 yard line.

In 1929, 65% of injuries in football took place inside the 20 yard line, since which time by careful legislation and officiating, this has been reduced to 33%.

36% of injuries in football in 1929 were the result of the forward pass, and that has been cut in half.

In 1929 no insurance company would insure football players against injuries, now there are six companies writing this type of insurance.

There was a time when there was some danger of football being discontinued in some of our better institutions of learning because of the number of injuries. That scare has passed with the new style game, which is becoming less dangerous annually.

cow, he would have had to pay $4.37 for a pound of coffee. A pound of tea cost $10.21. A pound of bacon cost $1.45. A pound of first quality butter cost $1.81. A pair of leather shoes cost $34.85. A woolen sweater cost $41.80. A cheap cotton shirt cost $7.74. One yard of heavy woolen cloth cost $29.26. A single linen towel cost $1.83.

How did the worker buy these excessively priced commodities out of his pitifully small income? The answer is simple—he didn't. Things that are regarded as the common necessities of life by any workman in this country, are unobtainable luxuries to the Russian worker. The Soviet standard of living is unbelievably low. As responsible journalists have written, housing conditions, save for one or two government projects which can accommodate but a handful of the nation's vast population are extremely bad. Ordinary clothing is cheap and inadequate, and is made of substitutes for wool, linen and leather. Good food is unobtainable. The "luxuries" can be possessed only by Government officials, military officers and other members of the Soviet "aristocracy."

There's the difference between the average standard of living under capitalism and under communism or socialism. Take your pick.

Most "Troubles" Never Happen

YOUR VOICE, when it takes a trip by telephone, travels over a delicately balanced and highly complex electrical system. Hundreds of things could happen to break up your voice's path. Most of them never do.

These potential "troubles" rarely materialize because the men who direct and operate your telephone system have not been satisfied merely to repair damage after it has taken place. They have demanded that weak spots be sought out and corrected beforehand. All the nineteen thousand Southern Bell employees, in one way or another, join in this effort.

Subscribers' lines are checked periodically from the local test-boards. The intricate equipment in the central office is tested constantly, particularly the relays and contacts. Emergency power supplies are provided.

Underground cables are filled with gas to detect leaks in the cable sheath. Aerial cables are checked, open wire lines are patrolled, to stop the "breaks" before they occur.

Men and money are required to do this never-ending job of "preventive maintenance," but the work is in keeping with the Bell System's aim to give you a telephone service that is more and more free from errors, imperfections and delays.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

The federal government, says the United States News, is today the nation's largest single owner of homes and farms.

This is one of the fruits of the federal building and lending program. It all began in 1933. At that time, depression was at its peak, and private mortgage holders were foreclosing on properties by the thousands, because the mortgage holders could no longer make their payments. The government then came forward with its credit, and took over the mortgages, giving the holders bonds in their place. In most cases, the principal was scaled down before the deal was made.

This work was done principally by the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, which made loans to the extent of nearly $3,000,000,000. Afterwards, about $2,000,000,000 in loans in a similar basis were made by the Federal Credit Administration.

The government made it clear that in no instance were mortgages to regard the loans as gifts, or as obligations which could be paid at some vague future time. Interest rates were reduced to 5 per cent and the length of time in which payments could be made lengthened—usually to 15 years, on a monthly installment basis. In 1936, largely because of the series of great droughts which seriously impaired the incomes of Middle Western farmers, and the interest rate was reduced to 3½ per cent by act of Congress. At the same time, Congress made provision whereby borrowers, if necessary, could defer the time when they must start reducing their principal obligation.

To a large part of the borrowers, these remedies proved sufficient, and they have been able to make their installments as specified. But to another large part, even the easier terms were not enough. It is this fact which has put the government into the farm and home business on an unprecedented scale. And the situation has been growing worse, not better.

Between 1933 and 1936, inclusive, the government foreclosed on 60,198 properties whose original loan value was $290,000,000. By the end of 1937, the number of foreclosures reached 124,803, with an original loan value of $490,000,000. And by July, 1938, inclusive the total was 160,033 foreclosures, with an original loan value in excess of $657,000,000.

Thousands of other farm and home-owners are also behind in their loans and are in danger of foreclosure.

On the credit side of the ledger is the fact that three-quarters of the borrowers have managed to meet their contracts—and every one of them was in distress at the time the government loans were made. Also to be credited is the fact that the HOLC has never experienced a deficit, and has actually earned a modest profit.

There is the lending picture as it exists today. There is a strong Congressional drive in prospect for further reducing interest rates and perhaps extending the time of payment, especially on urban homes,

This is the second in a series of six outstanding diagram plays by leading college coaches from Grantland Rice's new Cities Service Football Guide.

WE have used the above play with success off the double wing formation. It fits in very well with a forward passing offense. The left defensive end who normally does the job of rushing the pass is blocked out by the No. 2 back. The No. 3 back takes a long pass and then flips it to the No. 4 back who has come around his own line of scrimmage. He is led by the right guard who takes the line backer and by the left guard who takes the wing back. The right end and the No. 1 back block the tackle in. The other line-men have line checking assignments as indicated.

which in the past have been less favored than farm properties. The HOLC, whose officials are apparently trying to keep their bureau operating on a business basis, oppose this, and insist that it would cause operating deficits, and would not materially lower the rate of foreclosure.

Which point of view will win, remains to be seen. In the meantime, the government has 160,000 home and farm properties on its hands—which make it the biggest real estate dealer in American history.

—Oo—
You can interpret the recent primary result almost any way you want to. If you are a New Dealer, you can find evidence of continuing support for the President. If you oppose this administration, you can find evidence to prove that the tide is running away from the New Deal, and that the conservatives have the edge.

Nearer to truth than either of views, is the observation that the primaries have broken practically nothing. Maury Maverick, one of the 100 per cent New Dealers lost in Texas, by a very close vote to a Democrat who is cool to some of the Administration policies. In Virginia primaries, more or less anti-New Deal Democrats won nominations. On the other hand, strong New Deal candidates swept the slate in West Virginia.

Generally regarded as most important was the bitter Kentucky primary, where Senator Majority Leader Barkley won renomination in a relatively close contest with Governor Chandler. Mr. Barkley was given an extremely warm endorsement by the President, which is generally regarded as having been unnecessary.

Summing up, the primaries indicate that the New Deal is managing to hold its territory—but by narrowing margins in many instances.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE TO MEET AT CAVE, SEPT 21-22

The Kentucky Municipal League will hold its ninth annual convention at Mammoth Cave on September 21, 22, 23. Twelve cities in the cave area will welcome officials to this world's wonder, soon to be one of the outstanding National Parks.

Though sheltering most of its mystery and beauty hundreds of feet below the surface, Mammoth Cave is meeting the traveling public of 1938 with exterior garments pretreated and entire countenance refurbished.

Once this cavernous area beckoned only as one of the seven wonders of the modern world where in all the tricks of limestone erosion had been played face up under a screen of protective earth. Today since the government has become interested in Mammoth Cave as a national park project, that screen of nearly 50,000 acres is seen in a new light—as a decorative blanket of trees, flowers and grass that shields and decorates the hidden secrets below.

NATIONS FACING WAR OWE U. S. 13 BILLIONS

Nations of Europe are dangerously near war, but they still owe the United States 13 billion dollars from the world war, which ended nearly 20 years ago. This nation's public debt is now more than 38 billion dollars. Payments of the foreign debts would erase the deficits piled up by the government in the last four years. But any serious talk of settlement of the old debts is unlikely during the present European crisis.

Meanwhile, European capital is again seeking safety in America. Just as it did in the world war. Gold shipments to this country, have boosted the already all-time high in gold stocks of this country to the present figure of 13 billion, 200 million dollars . . . or approximately 55% of the world's known monetary gold reserves.

Twenty nations borrowed $10,350,479,675 from the U. S. during and immediately after the world war. Only two nations, Cuba and Liberia, have entirely liquidated their debt. Great Britain owes the biggest war debt to this country, France is next, and then Italy.

UNCLE JIM SAYS

Winter grains are the farmer's second corn crop.

Small grains furnish soil protection and pasture in the winter and valuable grain next spring.

The plant food losses from soil erosion on sloping land are several times greater than those from crop removal.

Sows or gilts which do not nurse and develop their pigs satisfactorily should be eliminated from the herd.

One of the largest hay crops in history is being harvested and the best way to convert this roughage into cash is through livestock.

If hens could crow, they would have a right to do so over the prices being received for eggs at the recently opened Knoxville Auction.

A close check-up during or after a sudden heavy rain will reveal weak places in terraces, where a few minutes work will often prevent serious damage.

It's better business to store fertility in the ground until it can grow crops at a profit than it is to mine the earth of its plant food and sell it at a loss.

The combination of strip cropping and terraces is particularly effective in preventing soil losses. Terraces break the long slopes where run-off water gains speed and cutting power and strips of close-growing crops help to prevent sheet erosion in the terrace intervals.

SPARKS OF WISDOM

To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; He formed it, and that was sculpture; He colored it, and that was painting; He peopled it with living beings, and that was grand, divine, eternal drama—Charlotte Cushman.

A Message of Confidence

Day and night the signals* along the Illinois Central System send a message of confidence and cheer to those who man the trains.

These sentinels of safety stand guard unceasingly over millions of lives and billions of dollars in goods and property.

The service of the railroad—with its assurance of safety, its maintenance of speed and schedules—is in a large part the result of the trustworthy operation of these wayside signals and the intelligence and alertness of the men who read their meanings and translate them into action.

In all the operations of the railroad, safety comes first.

Samuels, associate conductor; Miss Alice Caldwell, secretary; Mrs. Kent Hamby, treasurer.

DEATHS

MAURICE CHARTRAND

Maurice (Babe) Chartrand, who pitched for the Fulton Eagles a while this season, died Saturday in a St. Louis hospital, following an operation as a result of an infection.

Chartrand's home was in St. Louis and he came to Fulton at the spring training camp and was retained for a while as a pitcher. From here he went to the Nebraska State League, under contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

FOSTER H. CALLIHAN, JR.

Foster H. Callihan, Jr., 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Callihan died Monday at their home in Lakeland, Fla. The Callihans formerly lived in Fulton, and had many friends in this community. Relatives here include Finis Houston, Mrs. M. W. Hawes, Mrs. Ward Bus-hart, Mrs. L. H. Howard, Norman and Bernard Houston.

MRS. MATTIE BROWN

Mrs. Mattie Brown, formerly resident of this vicinity died Sunday in a New Orleans hospital. Mrs. Brown was well known here, having moved to Hammond, La., to make her home several years ago. Death was caused from an injury and shock as a result of a fall.

MRS. EDNA WEBB SPEIGHT

Mrs. Edna Webb Speight, 69, passed away Thursday morning at 12:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Asa Phillips of Mt. Moriah.

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at 11 o'clock from Mt. Moriah Church by Rev. Tom Mayo of Dresden, Tenn., with burial following in the church cemetery. Winstead-Jones funeral directors in charge.

Mrs. Speight is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Asa Phillips, one son, Sol Webb, of Rutherford, Tenn., and one grandson James Parrish, of Paducah, Ky.

Mrs. Speight was born near Palmersville in 1869 and was married to Stanley Williams. Later she married Tom C. Speight in 1906 who is deceased. She was taken ill Friday evening.

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Hessian Fly—Free Dates

After a survey made by the Entomology department at the Experiment Station at Lexington it has been determined that it is not safe to sow wheat in Fulton and adjoining counties until October 12 to 14.

Corn Loan of 57 cents.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration announces it will lend 57c a bushel on any of the 1937 corn crop that farmers have on hand. In Kentucky this applies only to four counties: Union, Henderson, Fulton and Hickman. This corn will be left on the farm in cribs inspected and approved under provisions of the farm storage law. This law will be administered by the State Board of Agriculture through County Warehouse boards.

Farmers who are thinking of taking a loan on the 1938 corn should get a bulletin which shows the crib requirements before gathering time.

Cotton that the worms have eaten the leaves off of is a good place to sow crimson clover and Italian rye grass for early winter pasture. If these crops are sown now at the rate of 10 per cent of crimson clover and 12 to 15 pounds of rye grass and harrowed in, erosion will be largely controlled and much early winter pasture can be had.

Hybrid Corn Meeting

On Monday afternoon at 1:30 p. m., September 19th, a meeting will be held at the farm of C. W. Wright near Fulton to inspect 19 different varieties of hybrid corn and compare the yields of these different varieties.

There are a number of farmers in the county who have bought and planted hybrid corn this past year but here we have a chance to see which varieties are making the most best corn and that is one of main reasons for planting hybrid to see if it will yield more than the corn we are now using.

The corn will be husked and weighed so the farmers can see the size ears and the weight of the grain produced. Every one is invited to attend so that you will know which hybrid you will want to plant.

• AROUND TOWN

A visitor from Phoenix, Arizona was in Fulton recently and was impressed with the fine water supply we have here. He remarked that he had rather have Fulton's water well than an oil well, if it were only located in Arizona. Water comes dearly out that way, and good water is mighty hard to get.

Another guest in a Fulton home said our city is well located, with its railroads and highways, and should grow and prosper. He pointed out that Fulton business men should go out of their way to attract the tourist dollar, for in the course of a year, it would mean thousands of dollars left in the community. On the other hand, this visitor in our midst, seemed to be rather disgusted with traffic conditions here. He expressed himself when he declared Fulton was the worst town he'd been in, about irregular driving and parking. These remarks shed light upon conditions as they actually exist, and as an outsider sees them. We should make the most of them for they speak unmistakably of the city's good points, and its bad points.

After months of conservation and preparation for the trip, Roger Mulford, of the local Swift & Co. plant, and Paul Farlow, Illinois Central agricultural extension agent left Labor Day for a fishing trip near Lutsen, Minn. Mr. Gifford, manager at Swift's, got a card back from them this week, stating that they were having a wonderful time, and the fish were larger than expected. The build-up is great, and we may watch for some real fish tales when they return home. But if they expect us to believe them they'd better stuff their largest catch and bring it back for evidence.

After hearing about the move by the city council to get an old building torn down near the division office, one citizen was heard to remark that "they are going to put a neon sign around the old division office."

Joe Beadles allows as how the government will have to take over baseball, too, but all the players will have to be liberal Democrats if they want to play on the team.

Bob White has to have his joke. So, this week, finding an excuse, he called up Kellie Lowe, councilman, and started in on him strong about not doing so-and-so. The more Bob talked the hotter Kellie got—under the collar. And the joke was, that Kellie did not recognize Bob's voice. Words began to fly back and forth over the wire, and the operator must have wondered where all the sparks were coming from as they flew through the local exchange. Then Bob laughed, and the cat was out of the bag. For Kellie knew it was Bob.

The weeds, they grow high, the weeds, they grow thick. And all around town, mosquitoes and hay-fever are making people sick. Weeds not only mar the appearance of a community, but are a detriment to good health. A clean-up drive would be helpful.

Late tobacco crops have shown nice development and are rapidly maturing.

Announcement made of Federal grant of $85,950 for improvements at sanatorium, Lexington.

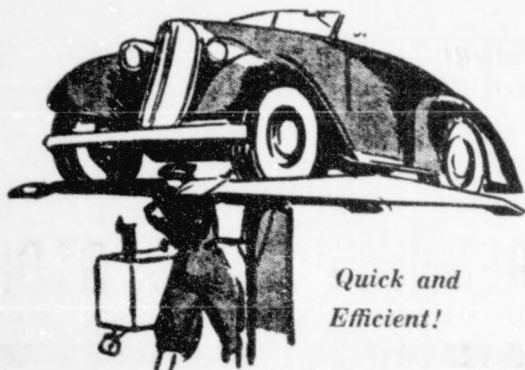

Work expected to start soon on new sewer system at Springfield, Ky., to cost $85,000.

Kentucky employment services report total placements past week of 388, an increase of 20.1 per cent over preceding week.

Louisville bank clearing were 9.6 per cent under year ago.

Poise and posture stand for health or disease. Indigestion, colds, tuberculosis, melancholia and many other diseases, according to latest authorities, may be traced to bad posture, both in sitting and standing. This leads to distortion of the spine.

Few people know how to sit. They sit on the end of their spinal column in a slouchy way instead of placing their weight on the fleshy part of their thighs. Sit, stand and walk erect to promote good health.

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world on Sunday, September 18.

This includes Christian Science Society, Fulton, Ky., which holds regular services Sunday at 11:00 A. M. and Testimonial Meeting Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. Reading Room at 211 Carr Street open Wednesday and Saturday from 2:00 to 4:00 P. M. The public is cordially invited to attend these services and to visit the Reading Room where The Bible and authorized Christian Science literature may be read, purchased or borrowed.

Among the citations is the following from the Bible: "Lo, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions" (Eccl. 7:29).

OBION COUNTY PLANS FOR OPENING OF FAIR

Plans are being pushed in Obion for the Obion County's annual free fair, which will be held at the fair grounds Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22-23-24. An additional fair building is now under construction; catalogs for the fair have been issued and the fair committee is making preparation for the efficient handling of entries when the gates are opened next week.

One of the features will be a Mule Day, sponsored by the Union City Young Business Men's Club. This event will include a horse show, turtle race, potato race and other attractions. Its purpose will be that of financing a 4-H rally in Obion in November.

Only actions give life strength; only moderation gives it charm.—Richter.

THE GREAT AMERICAN FRAUD

What must America do with its juvenile problem? For the past several years much has been done and more has been said about the youth of America. The usual cry goes up that young people are going to the dogs. Broad minds know that this is not true. But broad minds want to know how we can improve our youth.

Our schools are furnished with better teachers yearly. Teachers wonderfully trained for their jobs. The children of the nation are bundled up and sent to these teachers and yet some of those students yearly furnish fuel for juvenile courts. Thus is stated the great American fraud. That fraud being so-called education for the young people when in reality it is not. Many definitions have been advanced of education, but to me the only ample one is that education is that which best develops that trait in man which he is best suited to do. This our school do not attempt to do.

Today, although better than ten years ago, we insist that a student must study English, a certain number of years of it. While this boy (the future fuel for the juvenile courts) who would be a brilliant mechanic or craftsman of some type, finds English impossible to learn (or math or geography). He thus becomes discouraged because he is not thought as much of as another who is better equipped mentally to do that job—yet who would not make near the craftsman that our boy would. Thus "our boy" becomes to hate the rest of his class or society in general; mainly because that society does not recognize and laud that trait of his which he has. We must begin to recognize genius in its different forms and to encourage it in whatever form it is found so long as it is productive. Thus our schools must have a broader curricular with psychologists as teachers. We must praise the craftsman and the mechanic and all of the rest for it takes them all to make this world of ours go. Why not have good mechanics instead of a bad juvenile prisoners.

PROMOTING FIRE PREVENTION ADVERTISING

The National Board of Fire Underwriters has for some time carried on an advertising campaign in magazines of national circulation, designed to help the cause of fire control and fire prevention. Now it is readapting these advertisements so that they may be inserted by local agents as paid advertising in their home-town newspapers.

Each national advertisement is to be redrawn and made available in three-column, ten-inch mat form. Space is left at the bottom for the agent's name and address. The mats will be sent free to any agent or local insurance board on application to the Public Relations Bureau of the National Board, 84 John Street, New York City.

This marks a worthwhile innovation in the fight against fire. Advertisements of this kind, sponsored by local agents, will be an important factor in the selling of insurance coverage. And, more important, if used in thousands of local newspapers, they will bring to millions of people vividly illustrated facts that will awaken them to the menace of America's disgraceful fire loss—and how it may be reduced by systematic cooperative and individual effort.

In about a month Fire Prevention Week will be observed, and will run from October 9 to 15. During this time, every person in this country should have the dread word "fire" brought to his notice on every possible occasion—over the radio, in his newspaper, and through advertisements. An alert public consciousness and nothing else can prevent fire.

Though patience be a tired mare, yet she will plod.—Shakespeare.

THE FOLK MIND

I am eager to know the folk mind. This eagerness is partly scholarly and partly gossipy. I wish to know what and how the folk think so that I can judge people easily and justly. But even more than this desire to be just is the desire to know for the sake of knowing. So much has been written about folklore that is openly false that I would like to be able to show its falsity and set some one right. It is a fad in our time for people to pretend an interest in folk things, when in reality some of these same people are ashamed for any folk connections they may have. No high and mighty attitude toward the folk will ever accomplish anything except a widening of the gap between classes. A belief that only the best and the ignorant are of the folk is utterly false. All of us, at some time or other, probably many times a day, are dependent upon the traditional as opposed to the scholarly or the scientific. A pseudo-folklore is about as genuine as the charity manifested by people who go slumming in order to see how the other half lives.

A very good experiment to try would be to put down for a single day one's impulses and decisions that are obviously prompted by tradition and not by any book knowledge. Suppose that you cut your finger or get stung by a bee. Do you use the medicine that science recommends, or do you fall back instinctively on what the neighborhood used when you were younger? When some sudden trouble comes into your life, do you use the fine philosophy that you have built up, or do you resort to the traditional comforts? When night comes on, be sure to remember that nothing will bite you or snatch you away, that night is just as safe as day. But you probably are still consciously or unconsciously afraid of the dark and might be made a little more sympathetic with the folk if you would study folklore at night rather than in broad daylight.

The mob spirit has been always known. Most popular heroes have been able to control this spirit to their own advantage. Not to do this has often meant defeat or death. But the mob spirit in public affairs is no more powerful or more obvious than the folk spirit in milder or calmer ways. Older than our oldest fashions in dress, now long forgotten, are fashions in thought. Houses, clothing, transportation, even speech may change rapidly, but folk attitudes are so much older than any style of clothing or transportation that they seem almost instinctive. Who knows but that our folk attitudes are our most impressive inheritance from an age so far back that recorded history knows nothing about it.

Christianity has now been the religion of a large percentage of humanity for hundreds of years. But nearly every person you know, in spite of his church membership and his standing in his community, has folk beliefs that are older than Christianity. Our little superstitious observances go back, often, beyond civilization itself. Christianity has adapted some of these observances to its own use has reinterpreted them, but there are many more that still exist and influence nearly every life. We were folk, pagan folk, long before we became civilized or Christianized; hence we show our origin much as a pig shows its origin. It seems almost impossible to breed out of us our basic folk feelings.

World Wide Tobacco And Commerce News

Imports of American tobacco at the port of Bremen during July 1938 amounted to 542,300 pounds, a heavy increase over 170,720 in the preceding month, but 25 per cent under 722,370 in July 1937.

Official figures show that the revenues of the German Government from internal taxes in tobacco during June 1938 amounted to a gain of 6 per cent over June 1937.

The total production of cigars in the Dominican Republic during 1937 reached 31,927,160 units, of which 3,871,710 were consumed in the Republic, and 55,450 exported.

The Czechoslovak Tobacco Monopoly showed receipts of 169,000,000 crowns from the sale of cigars, cigarettes, and other tobacco products in July 1938, or 2 per cent under June 1938 receipts, and less than 1 per cent below those for July 1937.

The foreign trade of Jamaica during the first half of 1938 was much better than had been commonly realized and at the same time showed that the United States and Canada have gained as suppliers of goods to that market while imports from the United Kingdom were smaller than a year ago.

The summer fur sales recently held in London evidenced a feeling of more confidence in the future and resulted in an improved tone in the fur market.

American motion picture films accounted for more than half of the 165 feature-length films reviewed during the first half of the current year by the Film Censorship Bureau of Finland.

An electric power plant is to be constructed in Iceland by the municipality of Akureyri at an estimated cost of approximately $440,000.

The preliminary adjusted index figure of the value of U. S. retail sales of new passenger automobiles showed a contra-seasonal increase from June to July.

Sales of Polish canned cucumbers in the United States have met with difficulties due to the fact that several firms were consigning larger supplies to the market than could readily be absorbed, 1,311,057 pounds valued at $45,790 having been consigned to the United States during the first half of 1938.

Artificial tannin, invented some 10 years ago will soon be introduced to the domestic market of Japan in order to meet the demand caused by restriction of imports of natural tannin.

Exports of rubber goods from the United States in July were valued at $2,197,931, an increase of 2.1 per cent compared with June.

With the opening of the remodeled Calcutta Radio Station in August, more interest is being shown in radios than ever before in this section of India.

The business recession which began in Panama in the early spring of this year has continued its downward trend with the result that the volume of retail trade during August was the smallest recorded for any month of this year.

Announcement has just been made that a 250-mile gasoline pipe line which will connect the Atlantic Coast with inland consuming centers of France will be constructed in the near future. The project is estimated to cost about $4,125,000.

With a slackening in foreign demand, the Argentine cash market has weakened considerably during the past six months.

THE OBSOLETE RATE-MAKING RULE

The experience of the past fifteen months, as M. J. Cornley of the Association of American Railroads recently pointed out, has shown the imperative need for revision of the rate-making rule so as to permit the railroads greater latitude in pricing their product—transportation—to meet fluctuations in the costs of operation.

Under its present form, the rate-making rule of the Interstate Commerce Act, as constructed by the Commission, does not make it obligatory upon regulatory authorities to take operating costs into consideration as a prime factor in establishing the rate base. To quote Mr. Cornley, this rule "has been construed by a majority of the Commission as requiring it to substitute its judgment for that of railroad management as to what the basis of rates should be in order to yield needed revenue." Evidence of this is found in the Commission's decision a few months ago on the lines' petition for a 15 per cent general rate increase. No one denied that an increase of at least this much was necessary if the industry was to earn anything resembling a fair return on its necessary investment. Yet the increase was denied, and a totally inadequate increase averaging about 5.3 per cent was granted instead—for the simple reason that the rate-making rule, as interpreted, makes the interests of the railroads a secondary matter.

Furthermore, recent studies indicate that the supposition that transportation costs impose a heavy burden on the country is fallacious. In 1936, according to a survey made by the Association of American Railroads, total railway freight revenue amounted to but $20.14 per capita—about 7 cents a day. Had the full requested increase of 15 per cent been granted, the additional cost would have amounted to but 2.3 cents more per day. The actual increase granted amounted to slightly more than 1/4 cents per capita per day.

The rate-making rule is outdated. It is a danger to the country, which is vitally dependent upon a prosperous, progressive railroads for general prosperity and progress. The next congress can immensely aid the general welfare by amending it.

S. S. PRESIDENT LEAVES ST. LOUIS SEPT. 15 ON CRUISE

The Mississippi's largest and most luxurious excursion steamer, the S. S. President, will leave St. Louis September 19 for its long cruise to New Orleans, with stops for excursion outings at many cities enroute.

Once again pleasure-goers along the river will have an opportunity to dance on the huge ballroom deck of the big all-steel pleasure boat, to music furnished by an all-star troupe of rhythm makers, headed by the widely known "Hot Lips" Tommy Trigg. Trigg and his troupe were engaged for the Southern Cruise after a sensational and successful season at St. Louis, where the President operates during the summer months.

The coming of the President is both a rare and festive event, and its moonlight dance outings have become gala spring and fall occasions for pleasure-seekers all the way from St. Louis to New Orleans. The only all-steel, oilburning pleasure excursion boat on the inland waterways, the Streckfus steamer offers accommodations and appointments available in no other river excursion boat and, in many cases, comparing favorably with the facilities in ocean liners.

The steamer's ballroom, accommodating 2,000 dancers at a time, is the largest floating dance floor on the river. Two decks high, the ballroom is almost entirely surrounded by a mezzanine deck where refreshments are served and spectators may enjoy the carnival spirit of the dancing crowd below.

Its four gay powder rooms, "pink elephant" soda bar and refreshment and breeze-swept "garden" decks are popular attractions on the steamer. For those who take a cruise just to relax in cool comfort, and for dancers "sitting out" a number, the spacious lounges of the big steamer, equipped with restful chairs, gliders and lounges, are favorite spots. The top deck—the "rendezvous of romance"—is the favored place of those who like to bask in cool and unobstructed breezes, to feel the cool breath of "Old Man River" on their cheeks.

THIS & THAT

$15,000,000 is being spent for construction of North Beach Airport, which will be the finest sea and land terminal in the United States. Five thousand years from now, archaeologists will dig deeply into the grounds of the New York World's Fair 1939, unearth a metal cylinder 7 feet in length and discover within it a "cross-section" of today.

Five million dollars worth of gems and precious stones in fine settings equal to a maharaja's ransom, are to be on display at the New York World's Fair 1939.

The early ancestry of the Good Neighbor Policy may be traced back to the administration of President Monroe, who proclaimed his lasting "doctrine." The enduring friendship between the Americas is symbolized by a marble building in Washington. Men, women and children from the Republics of the South cherish this building, with its tropical atmosphere as part of their own partnership in all America.

We wouldn't recommend James A. Farley to the youth or even the veterans of the country as a perfect example. But he has one charm that adds to his over-lengthening chain of friendships through the years! Jim Farley never gets mad. Try it yourself.

If you turn back the pages of history to the times of the Colonies, you will find that the Washingtons, Adamsses and Jeffersons were among the rich one per cent in their times, and the poor were poorer than they are today. Now the National Resources Committee finds that one-third of the population has an average income of $471; that another third has $1,076 and an upper class has $3,000.

Ever since Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin in 1793, cotton has been King of the South, the very life blood of this section of the country. Consequently the size and price of each crop constitute a topic of conversation in these States second only to the weather.

Labor Day was a field day for Communism in Mexico City. It was a gathering of radicals from several Latin-American Republics under the banner of a workers' convention. Old Trotsky must have chuckled in his hide-out in the man.

Mexican Capital, as he recognized phrases from his teachings. The Russian pattern ran through the proceedings—a pattern of deceit and repudiation exactly of the type with which the United States was tricked in its bargaining in resuming diplomatic relations with Russia. A new issue confronts us. It is: How much latitude should we give officials and leaders of national affairs who are disrupting our social and economic machinery?

The eternal verities for progress and success in life—particularly the adage that "man lives by the sweat of his brow"—holds as true today as ever, in spite of the theories of recent years. McGuffey readers sustained such fundamental tried and proved wisdom as "hard work, enthusiasm and the ability to get along with others are essential to progress and success."

Bread frozen at 30 degrees below zero remained in its original fresh condition for four days, became nearly stale at eight- to ten days, and freshened again after 60 or seventy days, regaining the qualities of unfrozen bread eight hours out of the oven, scientists state.

Louis XIV showed lack of foresight when he contemptuously refused LaSalle's offer to the French crown of the whole American country west of the Mississippi.

Comes a story of a German woodworker who wears two artificial legs and an artificial arm of his own manufacture. A self-made chucked in his hide-out in the man.

A recent society wedding which cost only a few thousand dollars was described as a quiet one. The silence, as you might say, was deafening.
