MC CREARY TAKES OFFICE DEC. 12.

Frankfort. Expects a Great Throng to Attend Inauguration Ceremonies.

Frankfort, Nov. 11.—Now that the election is over the talk here is all of inauguration plans and the appointments to places under the new administration. Gov. McCreary will be inaugurated as governor on December 12, and it is expected that the largest crowd Frankfort ever entertained will be here that day to see the man who was governor in 1875 again take the oath of office.

There is much talk now of probable appointments under the new administration. Charles Morris, law clerk in the attorney general's office, the only Democrat who remained during the recent Republican administration, will continue in the attorney general's office, but will have a much better position. He will be second assistant attorney general. There is a tip that Col. H. Watson Lindsey, chief of police of Louisville, will be adjutant general, but that tip does not come as straight as might be. James Tandy Ellis, of Lexington, is another tip for adjutant general.

It is too soon after the election to be predicting who will get various positions, but during the next few weeks that will be the main topic of conversation in Frankfort. The state officers, except governor, will go into office on the first day of January, which is the first Monday. The law fixes this as the date for state officials to take the oath, and the present officials caught the short term, as they went in on January 6, almost the latest date that could be. The first Monday might be the 7th or the 1st, and in this instance it is the 1st, so that the incoming administration will have the longest terms that the law will permit, showing how lucky the Democrats are this year.

MURRAY H. S. DEFEAT PADUCAH.

Visitors Play a Splendid Game
But Were Never Dangerous
Opponents.

In one of the fastest games of foot-ball ever seen on the local gridiron, the Murray High School eleven defeated the team from Paducah by a score of 12 to 0. A high wind prevented the use of the forward pass or the on-side kick to any extent, and both teams resorted largely to a running attack. Murray's first touchdown came from a long end run by Rowlett, and the second from a punt recovered by Meloan. Murray's goal line was threatened seriously but once, in the last quarter, but the locals defense was too strong for the visitors and Clayton punted the ball out of danger from his five yard line. Capt. Clayton of Murray played a brilliant game both on offense and defense. His line plunging was a feature of the game. Rowlett was the most elusive runner on the field, and Whitnell plunged through the visitors defense for some long gains. Houston showed excellent generalship at quarter-back, and his handling of punts was good. Robertson held down the left wing of the line in great style, his fierce tackles adding greatly to the local boys' defense. Meloan proved himself a very dangerous man on recovering punts and stopping a runner in a broken field. Murray's guards and tackles played an aggressive game, and at center Melugin show his usual steady, consistent form. Saunders broke through the opponents interference repeatedly, and several times threw the runner for a loss.

Sesser, Illinois.

October 30th, 1911.

Dear Friends, I will write to you as I promised. I arrived in Sesser the next morning after I left Murray. I am well pleased with the prospects here. I have secured a lot and am building a house; have it about half completed and hope to move into it in about two weeks. I am staying with my grandfather until I can get moved. I am working on concrete walks for twenty-five cents per hour.

Our town is growing fast. It is only about five years old, and has a population of about twenty-five hundred; one coal mine, with prospects of another in a short time and prospects of another railroad. Property is increasing in value. We have four good churches, one fine school house and other business in proportion. We are enjoying good health. Good wishes to all.

STORM SWEEPS WHOLE COUNTRY.

Cold Wave Follows and Great Damage to Property Results From Wind.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Nearly a score of deaths, several million dollars property loss and much suffering and inconvenience resulted from the violent change of temperature, the preceding storms and the succeeding cold and snow that beset the central portion of the country Saturday and Sunday.

After an unusually warm November day Saturday cyclone storms did much damage in Wisconsin and Illinois and killed a dozen persons, besides injuring more than a score, several fatally.

A cold wave almost immediately rolled over the wreckage of the tornadoes and extended in a few hours to the gulf coast and the Atlantic seaboard. Rain turned to sleet, snapping telegraph and telephone wires, and snow followed. The temperature dropped in places more than sixty degrees in eighteen hours.

The summary of the storms which swept the Northwest, Kentucky, Indiana and the South Saturday and Sunday follows:—
Janesville, Wis., and vicinity.—Eight persons dead, two dying, dozen injured and $1,000,000 damage.

Chicago.—Two men frozen to death; seven fishermen missing on lake Michigan; many persons hurt on icy pavements; shipping damaged.

Central Illinois.—Three or more persons dead and score injured at Easton, Virginia, Peoria and other places; $1,000,000 property damage.

Iowa.—One man frozen at Ottumwa; much suffering from cold North Dakota.—One man frozen at Grand Forks.

Omaha.—One man dead in cold. Indiana.—Whole State swept by blizzard; $1,000,000 damage by wind.

Ohio.—Much damage and suffering caused by cold wind and snow.

Michigan.—Storm damage at several places by wind and sleet.

Kentucky.—Widespread damage by wind.

Alabama.—One man killed by wind near Montgomery.

Gulf Coast.—Unusually severe weather; much suffering.

A terrific wind visited Calloway at about 11 o'clock Saturday night reached its greatest fury. Rain, accompanied by vivid lightning, followed and by midnight the cold wave struck. Sunday was very cold and Sunday night the thermometer registered 15 degrees above zero. Coming on the heels of several days of warm weather made the cold severe.

Is the World Growing Better

Nothing goes to prove that it is. The way thousands are trying to help others is proof. Among them is Mrs. W. W. Gould, of Pittsfield, N. H. Finding good health by taking Electric Bitters, she now advises other sufferers everywhere, to take them. "For years I suffered with stomach and kidney trouble," she writes. "Every medicine I used failed till I took Electric Bitters. But this great remedy helped me wonderfully. They helped my woman. They are the best tonic and finest liver and kidney remedy that's made. Try them. You'll see. 50c at Dole & Stubblefield."

MURRAY LOST TO PADUCAH.

Browning's Sensational Run
Proves Only Score-Getter
In Big Game.

The sensational end run of Captain Ward Browning, after he and his teammates had reached the enemy's ten-yard line, won the game for the local Alpha Delta Alpha eleven from the fast team of Murray Friday afternoon at League park. Following this Browning kicked goal. The game ended 6 to 0.

In the first quarter the local boys played all around the Calloway county representatives, working their forward passes at random. It was to the failure of the Murray eleven to keep their eyes open in this quarter which possibly cost them the game. A. D. A. took the ball and went by the Murray line with all ease until they discovered the fact that the Paducah boys could work the forward pass so perfectly. In the latter part of the quarter, after these passes had brought the A. D. A. eleven to within ten yards of Murray's goal, Captain Browning received the ball and went around left end for a touchdown. He kicked goal a second later.

After the first quarter it was impossible for either team to get the ball far from the middle of the field. Like fiends the two teams fought, man to man, and though the Paducah team to a man, they had a hard struggle, such as was proved by their defeat.

It was one of the prettiest battles ever fought at League park, and though the crowd was not large, enough were out to appreciate the real spirit of the occasion, which was an enjoyable one for local fans.—Paducah News-Democrat.

The Murray team was composed of boys of the town and with the little practice had made a remarkable showing against the Paducah team. Clyde Downs sustained a fractured jaw in the game when he collided with "Toddy" Forrest in making a tackle. Both players were forced to quit the game.

CHAS. V. FARMER RECOMMENDED.

Former Chairmen of Fulton
County Speak in High Terms of His Work at Fulton.

As evidence that Charley V. Farmer, who will prize tobacco this year in Murray for the association in the Diuguid brick just west of the railroad, is in every way competent to prize tobacco to the satisfaction of every grower we publish following a letter from to former chairmen and a former inspector regarding the work he did at Fulton. Mr Farmer is a son of the late Rev. Brooks Farmer, is a native Calloway boy and is deserving of the patronage of all the people:

"We take pleasure in recommending Mr. C. V. Farmer, who was engaged at Fulton, Ky., for three years as prizer for the association, and do not hesitate to say that the work he did here for the association was as good as that done by any other prizer within our knowledge. We consider him as competent to handle tobacco as any man of our knowledge and consider it a pleasure to recommend his application to any body of association men in any county in the entire district. His grades as a prizer for each of the three years he was here were first, and in every instance his work was satisfactory to the people and to every association official.

Yours truly,
GEO. B. WINSTON, Chm.
D. C. REAMES, Chm.
W. H. PEWITT, Inspector.

Stanley Wall, son of Dr. J. T. Wall, east of town, and Miss Gracie Clayton, daughter of Dan Clayton, who also lives east of the city, were united in marriage last week. ## PARIS WOMAN IS TO HEAD DAUGHTERS OF CONFEDERACY.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 13.—On the second ballot, in a contest marked by great display of spirit, Mrs. Alexander B. White, of Tennessee, was Saturday elected president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, defeating Mrs. Livingstone Rose Schuyler, of New York, after Mrs. James B. Gantt, of Missouri, had withdrawn from the race.

It required 935 votes to elect. On the first ballot Mrs. White received 808, Mrs. Schuyler 602 and Mrs. Gantt 459. Just as the convention was ready to proceed with the second ballot Mrs. Gantt arose and in a speech of thanks requested that her name be withdrawn. The second ballot resulted: Mrs. White, 1,077; Mrs. Schuyler, 742.

The vote was by states, and was cast by the state chairmen. The returns as announced by the secretary provoked tremendous applause from the various factions.

Opposition to the election of Mrs. Schuyler was based largely upon the fact that she resided in New York and not in one of the Confederate states. But immediately on announcement of the final vote, and in the midst of a remarkable demonstration, Mrs. Schuyler got the attention of the presiding officer and asked permission to escort the new president general to the platform. It was given.

BANKERS IN LEWIS QUIZ

LEADING BUSINESS MEN ALSO TO BE QUESTIONED.

Inspector Alleges Financials Did Not Subscribe to Stock Until Urged.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—R. M. Fulton, former postoffice inspector in charge of the St. Louis office, who was in control of the investigation of the enterprises of E. G. Lewis, which resulted in a fraud order being issued against them by the postoffice department in 1905, resumed the stand before the congressional committee at Hotel Jefferson. Fulton was examined at length by Third Assistant Postmaster General Brit, and is now being cross-examined by E. C. Madden, counsel for Lewis. The hearing is on the claim of Lewis that the fraud order was the result of a conspiracy against him by the postoffice officials, and he seeks to recover $2,000,000 damages for injury to his business.

The committee has summoned for examination several leading business men of the city, who are expected to testify as to their connection with the People's United States bank and as to their knowledge of its purposes and possibilities. Among these are: D. L. Calhoun, president of the Ely & Walker Dry Goods company; Walker Hill, president of the Mechanics' American National bank; H. P. Hilliard, president of the Central National bank; W. H. Lee, president of the Merchants' National bank; John Lewis, cashier of the National Bank of Commerce; and C. F. Hilberry, general agent for the New York Central lines.

In the testimony of J. L. Stice, he testified that these bankers, far from being anxious to invest in the bank stock as represented by Lewis in his advertisements, were urged to subscribe to the stock.

Not Called Nonnegotiable. He also declared that Hilliard had given Lewis a nonnegotiable note in payment for certain stock, which Lewis had immediately cashed.

Hilliard will be questioned as to this transaction. The examination of Fulton by Madden was marked by several caustic verbal hits between them, showing the depth of the bitter feeling existing between the two, and which involved several members of the committee. Madden was endeavoring to show that Fulton had held up without warrant Lewis' publications and his private mail, and Fulton complained that Madden was putting words in his mouth which he had not said. His rebuke of the counsel was so pointed that Judge Alexander commanded he be not so pert in his replies, and Chairman Ashbrook warned him that he was getting "fresh." Fulton apologized for his outburst and said he had no desire to appear impudent, but that a witness was entitled to protection from uncalled for imputations by counsel.

Madden's examination was devoted to an attempt to show that the investigation of the Lewis enterprises was inaugurated at the instance of local postoffice officials before any orders had been received from Washington.

GOMPERS SCORES OTIS

President of the American Federation of Labor Uses Strong Language in His Annual Report.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—That the McNamara brothers are the innocent objects of the "diabolical revenge" of Gen. Harrison Otis is the assertion made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in his annual report which was submitted at the meeting of the federation here today. Mr. Gompers discussed the Los Angeles dynamiting case at considerable length and did not spare strong language in denouncing the actions of those who are seeking to convict the McNamaras of guilt in connection with the destruction of the Los Angeles Times building.

In concluding his voluminous report, President Gompers says: "Despite all opposition of the most relentless kind, the American labor movement grows and thrives; its beneficent influence for the common uplift of body and of all our people extends to all fields of useful activity and is becoming more generally recognized. The power which labor holds within its grasp is understood by our opponents as well as by the laborers themselves. The fact is that labor's opponents as well as labor, many of whom are still with us, are afraid to trust the people's foreigner for the fact (and some never learn) that the entire history of the human race has been, as particularly exemplified by the people of our country, that power vested in a free people is safer, more progressive and humanizing than power vested in a few in an autocrat. With power in the hands of labor and of the people generally comes a quickening sense of responsibility. And their errors are liable to occur. They bring experience and wisdom to bear on the problems of the day, and their power is a force in the world."

"The vote was a victory in recent county, Ohio, in the election by the decisive majority of $17 votes. The county was voted dry in 1905 by a majority of 200."

FATE AND THE FLETCHERS

Intervention That Made It Certain Hour for Senator's Death Had Not Struck.

Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida sought his berth one night on a sleeping car on the way south from Washington. Pulling back the curtain of a lower nine, he saw that his bed was already occupied.

"Hi, there!" called the senator, shaking the sleeper by the shoulder. The sleeper awoke and protested angrily.

"My name's Fletcher," explained the statesman, and this is my berth." "You've got nothing on me," answered the other. "My name's Fletcher. The senator elaborated: "My full name is Duncan U. Fletcher, and this is my berth."

"So's mine," agreed the intruder. "Ah, I see," said the senator, politely. "There must have been a mistake in reserving the same berth for two men of the same name. I'll go into the next sleeping car."

The stranger by this time was fully awake, and proceeded to apologize, and to offer to give up the berth. This the senator would not do, but went into the car ahead and found a place to sleep.

An hour later the train was wrecked. The car in which the stranger occupied the lower nine fell through a trestle, and that Fletcher was killed. The senator's car was not damaged at all—Popular Magazine.

"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "but there ain't a big lot of men in this settlement. We couldn't possibly get 12 of 'em together without startin' a fatal argument about somethin' that had nothin' whatever to do with the case."

Longevity Personified. Senator Benjamin F. Tillman relates an amusing anecdote about a colored man named Jeff, who has been with a neighboring South Carolina family since before the war.

"One day," said Mr. Tillman, "his mistress was rather surprised when old Jeff asked to have a few days off to go, as he put it, 'up to de old state of Boston,' to see his aunt."

"Why, Jeff," said the lady, "your aunt must be pretty old, isn't she?" "Yes'm," he replied; "yes'm; mah aunt must be pretty ole now—she's 'bout ah hundred an' five years ole now."

"One hundred and five years!" exclaimed his mistress, "what on earth is she doing up there in Boston?" "Deed, it's dunno—what she's doin', ma'am," rejoined old Jeff, in all seriousness, "she's up dere livin' wid her grain mother!"

Insulted. A strapping German with big beads of perspiration streaming down his face was darting in and out of the aisles of a Philadelphia department store.

His excited actions attracted the attention of all waiters, and they hardly knew what to make of it. A bustling young man of the clothing department walked up to him and asked: "Are you looking for something in men's clothing?"

"No!" he roared; "not men's clothing; vimen's clothing. I can't find my wife's!"—Lippincott's.

We Get a Slap

The big coffee trust, made up of Brazilian growers and American importers, has been trying various tactics to boost the price of coffee and get more money from the people.

Always the man who is trying to dig extra money out of the public pocket, on a combination, hates the man who blocks the game.

Now comes a plaintive bleat from the "exasperated" ones.

The Journal of Commerce lately said: "A stirring circular has just been issued to the coffee trade." The article further says:

"The coffee world is discussing what is to be the future of coffee as a result of the campaign of miseducation carried on by the cereal coffee people. We have before us a letter from one of the largest roasters in the South asking what can be done to counteract the work of the enemies of coffee."

"The matter should have been taken up by the Brazilian Gov't when they were completing their beautiful valorization scheme."

Then the article proceeds to denounce Postum and works into a fine frenzy, because we have published facts regarding the effect of coffee on some people.

The harrowing tale goes on. "Where a few years ago every body drank coffee, several cups a day, now we find in every walk of life people who imagine they can not drink it. (The underscoring is ours.) Turf blacksmiths, carpenters, laborers and athletes have discontinued or cut down the use of coffee, as there is not a person who reads this and will not be able to find the same conditions existing among his own circle of acquaintances. Is it not well for the Brazilians to sit up and take notice?"

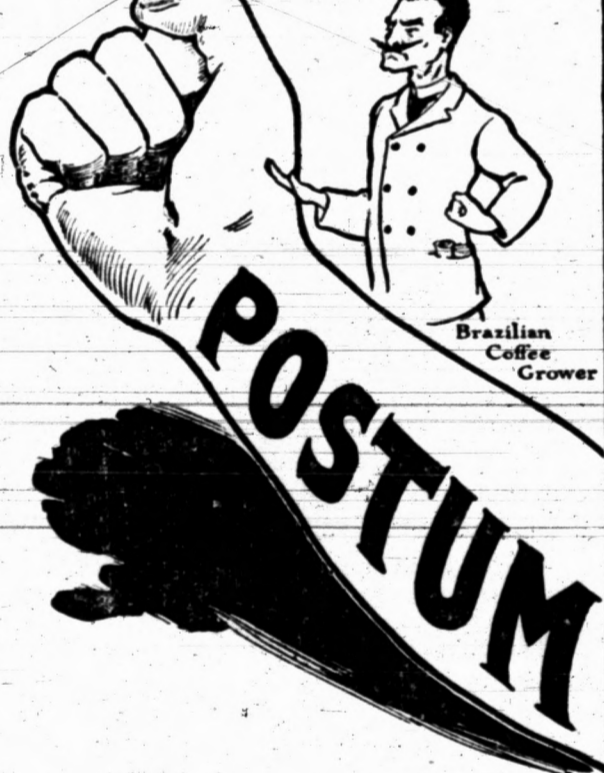

Isn't it curious these "burly" strong men should pick out coffee to "imagine" about? Why not "imagine" that regular doses of whiskey are harmful, or daily slugs of morphine?

If "imagination" makes the caffeine in coffee clog the liver, depress the heart, and steadily tear down the nervous system, bringing on one or more of the distressing types of diseases which follow broken-down nervous systems, many people don't know it.

But it remained for the man who has coffee, morphine or whiskey to sell, to have the supreme nerve to say: "You only imagine your disorders. Keep on buying from me."

Some persons seem to have excess vitality enough to use coffee, tobacco and whiskey for years and apparently be none the worse, but the number is small, and when a selfish man or woman finds an article sets harmful to their exercise some degree of intelligence by dropping it.

We quote again from the article. "These figures are paralyzing but forget being taken from a doctor's statistics, recognized as the most reliable."

This is one of the highest compliments ever paid to the level-headed, common sense of Americans who cut off about two hundred million pounds of coffee when they found by actual experiment (in the majority of cases) that the subtle drug caffeine, in coffee, worked discomfort and varying forms of disease.

Some people haven't the character to stop when they know it is killing them, but it is easy to shift from coffee to Postum, for, when made according to directions, it comes to table a cup of beverage, real brown color, which turns to rich golden brown when cream is added, and the taste is very like the milder grades of Old Galt Java.

Postum is a veritable food-drink and highly nourishing, containing all the parts of wheat carefully prepared to which is added about ten per cent of New Orleans molasses, and that is absolutely all that Postum is made of.

Thousands of visitors to the pure food factories see the ingredients and how prepared. Every nook and corner is open for every visitor to carefully inspect. Crowds come daily and seem to enjoy it.

SAYS $422,000 WAS HIDDEN

NEW YORK DISTRICT ATTORNEY INVESTIGATING STORY TOLD BY MRS. BATTEN.

BANKS WERE WRECKED

David Rothschild, Her Former Husband, Died in Prison in New York State in 1904—Place of Treasure Revealed.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—District Attorney Whitman of New York began an investigation Saturday, according to dispatches from that city, of a story told by Mrs. Eugene Batten of the Buckingham hotel, St. Louis, regarding the location of $422,000, said to have been hidden by her former husband, David Rothschild, just before the Federal bank and the Globe Securities were wreck in 1904.

Mrs. Batten was too ill Saturday morning to see a reporter or to make a statement.

Her version of the matter, as received by District Attorney Whitman, is that her husband made two deposits, one of $237,000 and the other of $185,000 in safe deposit vaults, one in New York and the other in Jersey City.

The money represented was brought home by Rothschild before the institutions in which he was interested failed and was wrapped in two bundles, old newspapers being used for that purpose, she said. He is then said to have taken one package to a New York safe deposit vault and left it in the name of D. Levy. The other he is said to have carried to Jersey City and placed in a box rented under the name of L. Levy.

Rothschild died in prison in 1904 and the night before he died he is said to have told his wife where the money was hidden. A protracted illness following the death of her husband, is given as a reason why Mrs. Batten did not look for the money.

Two years after the death of Rothschild his widow married Eugene Batten and recently came to St. Louis.

When Rothschild was convicted for wrecking the institutions in which he was interested, he was supposed to have hidden $275,000, but now the amount is said to be $422,000. While in prison many efforts were made to get him to tell where the money was hidden, but he always refused.

It is said that Rothschild hoped to get a pardon and for that reason did not tell anyone where the money was hidden, expecting to keep it secret and recover the money himself as soon as he was liberated. He often told his wife, according to her statement, that she need not worry about the future, as he had provided for her.

Rothschild went to New York from Cincinnati about 20 years ago, and for many years was a familiar figure at resorts where gambling for high stakes was an amusement. He embarked in the banking business and various promoting schemes.

SOCIALIST VOTE AMAZES

Third Party Shows Increase of Nearly Thirty Thousand Over Figures of 1902.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—A surprising demonstration of the growth of Socialism was given in St. Louis Friday, when 16,000 voters were cast for William M. Brandt, Socialist nominee for city council, who carried eight of the 28 wards in the city. In three wards—the Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh—he received more votes than the Democratic and Republican nominees combined.

William E. Caulfield, Republican, was elected to the council by 3,379 majority. Col. Nicholas M. Bell, Democrat, was third. He received 1,341 votes less than the Socialist nominee.

In the returns, despite the fact that it was only a special election, the Socialists made gains on the vote of April, 1911. At the election less than a year ago the Socialists polled 11,724 votes, and this election increased that vote more than 4,000 over the total of the party in April, 1911. In the majority election in 1909, when Frank L. Robinson was the Socialist candidate for mayor against Kreismann, he received only 2,388 votes, while Kreismann received 61,864 and Woerner 50,262.

Richeson to Plead Monday. Boston, Nov. 13.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson will be arraigned in the superior court Monday morning to plead to an indictment charging him with perjury in the case of Miss Avis Linnell. William A. Morse, of wide reputation as a criminal lawyer, will be in charge of Richeson's defense. The trial will be one of the most startling that has taken place in New England for years, said Morse.

Missouri Sinner Sentenced. Joplin, Mo., Nov. 13.—A jury in the Jasper county circuit court convicted William Schmubach of Joplin of the murder of William G. Smith, a police high, and sentenced him to 30 years in the penitentiary. Schmubach killed Smith Nov. 15, 1904.

TERRITORY CEDED BY FRANCE TO GERMANY

France, as compensation for German recognition of her protectorate in Morocco, ceded to Germany about 250,000 square kilometers in northern French Congo, touching the German Kamerun. The territory ceded is inhabited by about 1,000,000 negroes, and has a commerce value of $2,400,000 annually. The new German frontier starts at Monda Bay and extends to the Mohna river, thence to Kandoko and thence through the Kongo, finally attaining Lake Tchad by way of the Ubanga and Logone rivers.

MANCHUS TRY TO SAVE THRONE

NEW IMPERIAL EDICT PROMISES EQUAL RIGHTS TO ALL IN EMPIRE.

CAPITAL IS IN A PANIC

Police Are Deprived of Ball Cartridges as Guard Against Slaughter—Kai Is Off for Conference—Minister Will Use Influence.

Peking, Nov. 13.—The throne issued another imperial edict Saturday in an attempt to stem the revolution and save the Manchu dynasty. The edict proclaims equal rights and treatment for all Chinese both Manchu and native. The most acute tension prevails in the capital as the rebel army slowly advanced.

Chinese police were deprived of ball cartridges as a guarantee to the Manchus. This action was taken to allay the fears of those who predict the massacre the minute the rebel army arrives at the capital's gates.

Dr. Wu Tingfang, twice Chinese minister to the United States and the foremost statesman of the day, probably will be the first president of the United States of China if the radical element of the party wins the day. Developments in the national situation indicate that the radical element of the party is putting the conservatives to rout.

Dr. Wu, who has already accepted the provisional post of minister of foreign affairs in the reformed cabinet, is ready to ally himself with the radicals.

Yuan Shi Kai is reported to be on his way to this city to urge the abdication of the imperial family. It is now said that Yuan Shi Kai has become convinced that China can only be saved from dissolution by the expulsion of the Manchus dynasty.

It is believed that he will be able to convince Prince Chun, the regent, and others of the Manchu ruling princes, that they must leave China and become political exiles along with the infant emperor and the dowager empress.

In this event the nation will eventually become a republic.

Miners Save Dynamite in Fire. Joplin, Mo., Nov. 13.—Fleeing to get out of town, which was threatened with being wiped out by an explosion of 15,000 pounds of dynamite, 400 residents of Oronogo, Mo., six miles north, returned several hours later to find that twenty miners employed in the Yellow Dog mine, at the risk of their own lives, had removed explosives from a burning mill. The mill, valued at $200,000, was destroyed by fire.

Snow Buries Canadian Wheat. Winnipeg, Manitoba, Nov. 13.—Between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 bushels of wheat lie buried and worthless under a foot of frozen snow on the prairie of western Canada, according to the estimates of local grain men.

Investigating Alleged Liner Trusts. New York, Nov. 13.—A federal grand jury, under direction of the department of justice, is holding secret sessions here to investigate the so-called trans-Atlantic Steamship trust, its leaders.

A NEW POISON SUSPECT

MRS. VERMILYA BELIEVED TO HAVE HAD ACCOMPLICE.

Arsenic Found in Stomachs of the Woman's Son and First Husband.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Louise Vermilya, believed by the police to be the arch poisoner of the century had an accomplice.

Another arrest in this mysterious poisoning case, the trail of which now leads to ten graves, is expected soon. The suspected person has been under police guard following a report by coroner Hoffman's chemists that they had found sufficient arsenic in the viscera of Richard T. Smith and Frank Brinkamp to kill them. Smith lived with Mrs. Vermilya as her husband, and Brinkamp was her son by a first marriage. The bodies of the two men were exhumed when suspicious of the coroner were aroused by the death of Policeman Arthur Bissette, a boarder in Mrs. Vermilya's home.

Death Scene Exposed. Following the announcement of the discovery that both Smith and Brinkamp had died from poisoning, the police obtained an additional statement from Mrs. Hazel West Rhea, divorced wife of Brinkamp. She told of Brinkamp's death scene, as follows:

"Mrs. Vermilya handed her son a glass of water, but he pushed it aside saying, 'No, there is something wrong with that. I am going the same way as my stepfather, and that Boyesen will soon chuck me in a rough box and haul me away in his wagon.'"

"Two days later C. E. Boyesen, an undertaker, whose name has been linked with that of Mrs. Vermilya in numerous ways since suspicion first fell upon her, officiated at Brinkamp's funeral. Boyesen was the undertaker also at the funerals of Bissette, Smith, Jayson Ruppert and one or more of the other supposed victims of Mrs. Vermilya.

There are still seven other deaths in Mrs. Vermilya's household to be investigated by the police.

While his balloon was 3,000 feet high, Heller cut loose the parachute. The sudden jerk broke the brass bar to which he was holding. Heller clung to the broken bar until he was 100 feet to the ground. He then lost his grip and fell.

Marshall, Bridegroom, Slain. Wapello, Ia., Nov. 13.—Oscar Ford, city marshal, committed suicide because of ill health, by shooting. He had been married only two months.

CARNEGIE GIVES 25 MILLIONS

NEW YORK CORPORATION WAS FORMED FOR PURPOSE OF HANDLING THE MONEY.

GIFTS TOTAL $217,000,000

Steel Magnate's Benefactions Now Exceed Those of John D. Rockefeller by Forty-Two Million Dollars.

New York, Nov. 13.—In turning over $25,000,000 to the Carnegie corporation, Andrew Carnegie has established himself firmly as the premier of present day philanthropists. Inclusive of his latest gift, which will be used to advance the cause of education in the United States, his benefactions are approximately $42,000,000 more than those of John D. Rockefeller. The gifts now total approximately $217,000,000. Coincident with the announcement of the establishment of the fund was the establishment of the organization of the Carnegie corporation, authorized under a charter granted by the New York legislature last June.

The gift was in the form of 5 per cent first mortgage bonds of the United States Steel corporation, the value of the bonds being taken at par. The bonds closed yesterday at 102 1/2, so that closing the gift was worth about $55,250 more than the face value of the bonds. The income of which the incorporators will have the disposition in $1,250,000 a year.

The incorporators are: Carnegie, Elmer Root, William N. Frew, Henry S. Pritchett, Robert S. Woodward, Chas. L. Taylor, James Bertram and Robert Franks. Franks is president of the board of trustees of the Carnegie Institute of Pittsburgh; Woodward is president of the Carnegie Institution in Washington; Taylor is president of the Carnegie hero fund; Franks is president of the Home Trust company. Pritchett is president of the Carnegie foundation and Bertram is Carnegie's secretary.

Purpose Is Defined. The purpose of the corporation as embodied in the act legalizing its existence is "receiving and maintaining a fund or funds and applying the income thereof to promote advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding among the people of the United States" by aiding technical schools, institutions of higher learning, libraries, scientific research, hero funds, useful publications and by such means as shall be found appropriate.

The bill for the incorporation of the fund was introduced by Senator Frawley March 21, 1911. It provided the corporation be empowered to hold real and personal property without limitation, and empowered the trustees to expend income in such a manner as in their judgment would best promote the object of the corporation. It was signed by Gov. Dix, June 10.

The incorporators met for the first time Friday. Carnegie was elected president, Senator Root vice-president, Franks treasurer and Bertram secretary of the corporation.

It is intended the business of founding and aiding libraries and education at institutions, which has been carried on by Carnegie as an individual, will be carried on by the corporation.

One of Largest Single Gifts. The Carnegie corporation has nothing to do with the previously organized institutions bearing the name of Carnegie, which as its trustees feel the purposes of the corporation will be subserved by aiding one or another of these institutions.

In amount, the gift ranks among the largest donations made at one time, even in the present age of giving. John D. Rockefeller gave $22,000,000 at one time to his general education board Feb. 7, 1907, and the total of his gifts to that fund is said to be about $53,000,000. Carnegie is credited with giving $55,000,000 for libraries.

Altogether, rough estimates of his gifts for the cause of education, peace, research and for hero funds and other philanthropic purposes made before the present $25,000,000 gift totaled between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000.

Charges Theft of Love. Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Mamie S. Cooksey sued Mrs. Gertrude R. Millman for $20,000, alleging the alienation of the affections of her husband, Charles R. Cooksey. Mrs. Millman is said to have received $15,000 insurance after her husband's death and is said to be worth $75,000.

CURED SIX YEARS.

No Fear of Further Kidney Trouble. Mrs. Josiah Clinker, State St., Tama, Iowa, says: "My first symptom of kidney trouble was intense pain in my back. This grew worse until I ached in every part of my body. I rested poorly and was so stiff in the morning I found it hard to dress. I became tired easily, lost flesh and was in a bad way. I was well pleased with the quick relief Doan's Kidney Pills gave me. They drove the pain away and restored my kidneys to a normal condition. I have been free from kidney trouble for six years."

Came Easy. Representative James T. Lloyd of Missouri was discussing the president's belief that the extra session of congress would not try to revise the whole tariff law. "He had about as much to go on," said Lloyd, "as the man who approached a banker with a request to lend him money on a note. He wanted five hundred dollars."

"Can you get an indorser?" asked the banker. "Sure," replied the prospective borrower, mentioning the indorser's name.

"But has he got any money?" "Lots of it," answered the other. "He wins it at poker."—The Sunday Magazine.

PO-MO-NA LOGICAL CURE FOR TUBERCULOSIS

Starts at the bottom and builds up the system. PO-MO-NA is a purely vegetable compound that relieves the hacking cough and painful effects of a diseased throat or lung and at the same time exerts an uplifting effect upon the system. Working upon the idea that a healthy body will not permit of a tuberculosis organ, PO-MO-NA was compounded and the wonderful results that it has perfected in people who despaired of ever enjoying perfect health is most encouraging. Below you will find what Mrs. W. M. Murray says:

Tennessee City, Tenn., Aug. 7, 1911. Home Medicine Company, Nashville, Tenn. Gentlemen:—I received your dozen bottles of PO-MO-NA and have taken three bottles and sold one to a lady and she thinks she is benefited so much by using it. I know it has been much help to me as I am gaining health and strength every day, and I will continue to use it until I think I am well as I believe it will do all it says it will and I am glad I have been lucky enough to find such a good medicine. Yours truly, Mrs. W. M. Murray.

This is only one of the many hundreds we have received. On sale by all druggists.

MRS. SELBY AND PRIZE BABY. "I have always used Cuticura Soap and no other for my baby and he has never had a sore of any kind. He does not even chafe as most babies do. I feel sure that it is all owing to Cuticura Soap, for he is fine and healthy, and when five months old, won a prize in a baby contest. It makes my heart ache to go into so many homes and see a sweet-faced baby with the whole top of its head a solid mass of scurf, caused by poor soap. I always recommend Cuticura, and nine times out of ten the next time I see the mother she says: 'Oh! I am so glad you told me of Cuticura.'"

(Signed) Mrs. G. A. Selby, Redondo Beach, California, Jan. 15, 1911. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere, a sample of each, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to "Cuticura," Dept. 20 L, Boston.

PRESIDENT TAFT'S ADDRESS

EXCERPTS FROM LINCOLN MEMORIAL ADDRESS.

TRIBUTE TO COUNTRY'S SAVIOR

The President Pays High Tribute to Lincoln in Dedication of Memorial at Unveiling of Statue.

Frankfort. The address of President Taft incident to the unveiling of the statue of Abraham Lincoln here, was a beautiful tribute to the Great Emancipator. The president said: "We are met to dedicate in this, the capital of Kentucky, a monument to her son, Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln's parents were lovely people from Virginia, and their course was like that of many others from the Old Dominion into Kentucky, and thence across the river to Indiana and Illinois. Though Lincoln lived here but eight years of his life, he gave Kentucky well, and it is most fitting that it should have a memorial of him. "The dissections with which this state was torn during the civil war, the separations between father and son and brother and brother, the division of families, were but typical of the agony of spirit through which Lincoln passed after he took the helm of state and guided the fate of our distracted country."

"Those who were closest to Lincoln have said that he was a many-sided man, and that he gave different impressions of himself to different people; that there were things unexplained about him, a continual sadness and gloom that pervaded all his waking hours, and they describe him in tones of mysticism, as if to make him greater by removing the lines of his character. "I don't think it is too much to say that Lincoln had the most judicial temperament of any man in history. He considered the arguments of his opponents with all the fairness of John Stuart Mill, and though not like that mild philosopher removed from the turmoil of life, but in the very center of the fray he nevertheless served that calm, judicial consideration of the views of every one that became important, and in his disagreement with them he left nothing more than the application of an apt story or a clear Euclid-like demonstration of error without sting. With his love of truth the supreme trait of his intellect, accompanied by a conscience that insisted on the right as he knew it, with a great heart full of tenderness, we have the combination that made Lincoln one of the two greatest Americans. "He hated slavery because he had reasoned out its injustice, and its demoralizing effect upon the country and the community in which it was a legal institution. He did not hate the slaveholders, and there is not the slightest evidence he ever had a feeling of bitterness toward them as a class. He knew how the institution had grown, how it had become a part of society, how closely imbedded it was in the economy of the south, and from the time when he entered Congress until he died his mind was bent on problems for the solution of the difficulty by which the cancer could be excised and no injustice done to those whose constitutional rights had become intertwined with the hated system and interdependent upon it. "It is noted by Mr. Gilder that in his plans for a settlement of the controversy, as the war drew to its close, there was still in his mind and in his desire compensation for the confiscated property in the slaves, an idea which he failed to carry to its conclusion because of the unanimous opposition of his cabinet and of public opinion at the north. I venture to say that there is no instance in history where the leader of a great cause in a great war, maligned, insulted, tried in every way by his enemies, preserved throughout the attitude of conciliation, of good will, of charity and almost of love toward his active opponents in arms."

"While not one of the seceding states, Kentucky was a slave state, and half her population were in arms against the government. She is a southern state. She has the flavor, the history, the traditions, of the south, and here, where Lincoln had his birth, the memorial to him finds its reason in his wonderful charity toward those who, as he thought, in their blindness, were seeking to destroy the best government that man ever had. Certain it is that the spirit that actuated those who came into control of the policy of the government after his death, was different from what Lincoln's would have been. They had the stern, moral, Puritan conviction that secession was treason, and that it must not be condoned without at least a period of self-purification and repentance. The expression of his successor that he proposed to make treason odious was a true indication of the attitude of the statesmen whose influence was prevailing in Congress at that day. It is clear that had Lincoln lived his great authority and influence would have softened the asperities of reconstruction, and would have produced a reconciliation of the sections at an earlier date than has been realized, but even though he did not live, even though the mad and misguided assassins butler abstracted and injured most deeply the cause he thought he was promoting, the greatness of Lincoln's soul and his character and the influence that his words and his deeds and his attitude still work upon those who have come after him make his life and his attitude toward the south and his love of those whom he had hardly time before his death to regard as anything but enemies in arms, full of a precious inheritance for them."

"The south knows, as the north knows now, that there is no soul that unites them in perfect amity like that of Abraham Lincoln. The south knows, as the north knows, that every administration that removes another cause of misunderstanding between the sections, or that brings them closer together in any way, is acting under the inspiration of him who could love his entire country with undiminished ardor when nearly one-half was seeking to destroy its integrity. Here, then, at a place that knew battle, that knew family dissension, that knew blood conflict, that represented in the sharpest and cruellest way the division of the sections, here, now that perfect peace and amity and harmony prevail, let this memorial be dedicated as typical of the love which he, in whose memory it is reared, maintained for all Americans, with a kindly, fatherly patience that has no counterpart since Bethlehem."

Nearing Completion. Eighty-five per cent of the twenty-eight-mile road which has been in process of construction during the past six months from Shelby, Ky., to Elkhorn is now completed, and it is hoped by spring that the entire line will be finished," said J. L. Richmond, civil engineer and contractor. "The road when finished will cost approximately $700,000 a mile."

Engineer Richmond is a member of the Skeene & Richmond Construction Co. of St. Louis. His firm has the contract for the erection of the concrete bridges along the line of the new coal road, which is being constructed jointly by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Co. and the Consolidated Coal Co. The coal road will connect with the C. & O. at Shelby, Ky., and it extends from that point to Elkhorn, Ky. When completed the coal road from the rich Eastern Kentucky fields will be shipped by the B. & O. and C. & O. to Kenova, W. Va., where it will be transported to the lake ports.

"There are thirty-eight bridges, some of which have already been constructed, while others are yet to be built, on the twenty-eight miles of the new coal road," said Engineer Richmond. "These bridges are all to be of reinforced concrete construction with hollow piers. Four miles of track have been laid and the grading for the entire line is now well-nigh completed. It is understood the coal company has certain trackage agreements with the Chesapeake & Ohio for the hauling of the product of the mines to the lake ports. W. Va., en route to the lake ports. The Consolidated Coal Co. is one of the richest corporations of its kind in the country. It now controls and operates many mines in Eastern Kentucky and will open many shafts along the new line, which is now in process of building, just as soon as it has been completed."

Boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years can carry newspapers on routes for hire without securing permits from local authorities, declared Judge James P. Greer of the criminal court of Louisville. He said that he did not think the legislators contemplated putting a ban on such work by boys when it enacted what is known as the child labor law. He said the law was to prevent the employment of children in factories, where the work is hazardous and liable to make them break down their health.

Frankfort. The court of appeals, in deciding a case from Henderson, holds that where a city council gives an ordinance its first passage and then fails to get enough votes to give it the second passage, the council may, in a reasonable time, reconsider the vote by which the ordinance failed to pass the second time. The validity of the ordinance is not affected by the failure to pass at its second reading. The court here says two months is a reasonable time in which to reconsider such matter by the council.

JUST BEFORE THE TROUBLE

How Could the Listener Know What His Friend Was Trying to Say?

If any man ever admired his wife, that man was Howler. And when the Pitoboules asked Mrs. Howler to get up and sing, "There is a Garden in My Face," the husband glowed with pride.

"No matter that she had a face like a hippopotamus and a voice like an elephant, he sat beaming as she sang, and could not refrain from bending over to his neighbor and whispering: "Don't you think my wife's got a fine voice?"

"What?" said his neighbor, who was a little deaf.

"Don't you think my wife has got a fine voice?" roared Howler.

"Don't you think my wife's got a fine voice?" returned the neighbor, shaking his head. "Can't hear a word you say. That awful woman over there is making such a frightful row singing."

"What?" said his neighbor, who was a little deaf.
