THE LISTENING POST

● In recent years there has been a great deal of discussion in newspaper circles of the tremendous growth of columnists in the daily newspapers and the loss of interest in editorial pages which seem to have accompanied the swift growth of columnists. (At the beginning let me say in all humility that I am not talking about my own work; rather I am speaking of the Big Shots who appear in the metropolitan journals, achieving great fame and fortune in the process.)

● I have studied this problem quite a bit, and have reached a conclusion which satisfies me. Whether it is based on fact I do not know I only know that it appears more or less reasonable. I have decided that the reading public likes to know the identity of the man or woman who writes for newspapers and when this knowledge is not given the reading public does not respond with much enthusiasm.

● Editorial writing is always more or less anonymous. A big newspaper has a staff of editorial writers, and in a limited way some of these men may be known in the city where they work, or in the territory which the newspaper serves. However, it is almost a fixed custom among newspapers that the names of the editorial writers do not appear on what is called the mast-head of the newspaper. In this masthead will usually appear the name of the publisher, the president or the general manager, and now and then the name of the managing editor will be given. In many newspapers only the name of the publisher is used, and editorial writers on that newspaper may write some of the finest stuff ever written and no name will appear. Naturally the public will never warm up to a personality that has no name.

● Columnists, however, work the other way. The first thing to appear in the column, as a general rule, is the name of the writer, and it appears day after day. All efforts are made to publicize that name and make it known all over the country. If the columnist can get a place on the radio it is vastly better, as Winchell proves. Whether his column made his radio personality or whether it was the other way around I do not know. I only know that the name is a household word in the United States, and it really does not matter greatly whether his column is good, bad or indifferent, it is still Winchell, and the people of the nation rally to it.

● The Associated Press for many years was rigid in its rules of all writing being done anonymously. No matter how well a story was written, the Associated Press never allowed a by-line and never gave out the name of any writer. There was a time when a young fellow by the name of Kirk Simpson was assigned to write the story of the burial of the Unknown Soldier. Interest had been built up in this story, naturally, but the story might have been handled by another man in such a way that nobody would have thought of the writer. But the yarn got into Simpson so thoroughly that he really felt it. The setting appealed to him, and in simple words he told the story from day to day. He wrote seven stories--they were just the day's work to him--but he wrote so vividly, so clearly, so simply, that the stories went straight to the heart of America. The Associated Press was swamped with inquiries as to the identity of the writer, and had to

Reynolds Hits Aid Bill As Move To War

Statements Come As Surprise To Those Who Forecast Support

Washington.—The lease-lend bill encountered unexpected opposition in the Senate today from Senator Reynolds (D-N. C.), who asserted that it might lead to war and denounced it as a bill "for the preservation of the British empire, without any consideration for the preservation of the United States."

A little earlier, the Senate military committee, in secret session, heard General George C. Marshall, the Army chief of staff, express his views on the measure. He was reported to have said that it would expedite assistance to Great Britain and increase the capacity of American industry to produce war materials.

In addition, informed sources quoted Marshall as saying that the situation in the Far East was "serious," and that the Pacific fleet would be reinforced immediately with an unspecified number of up-to-date fighting planes. Committee members said he also assured them there was no intention to "strip" America of defense materials through the aid-to-Britain program.

Nye Makes Charge
Senator Nye (R-N. D.), carried on his fight against the lease-lend measure by telling reporters that if it is passed "the President will create incidents which will lead us into war within 30 days after the legislation is signed."

The announcement of Reynolds' position came as a surprise because a few days ago he voted to report the bill out of the foreign relations committee. Moreover, his stand was directly contrary to that of his North Carolina colleague, Senator Bailey.

Nazis Take Over Rolling Stock Of French Rails

Vichy, France.—Transportation authorities today asserted Germany had requisitioned $30,000,000 worth of the rolling stock of French railways, every third freight car in France. Of the remainder, only one quarter are in the uncoupled zone—60,000 cars to serve two-fifths of the nation.

See Light British Market For Farm Products From America

Washington.—Administration farm officials said today they saw little likelihood that Great Britain would require any appreciable quantity of American farm products in the near future.

This view was based upon an analysis of English needs, the present shipping situation, and the factors which caused Britain to restrict its imports of United States agricultural products after the war started.

When the war began, England cut down on purchases of American farm products to conserve foreign exchange for purchase here of airplanes, munitions and other tools of war.

Since that time, England has taken steps to expand domestic production sharply as well as to reduce requirements by imposing the rationing system.

In a report on the shipping situation the Bureau of Agricultural

I. C. Trains Delayed By Derailment

Illinois Central trains are being delayed considerably today on account of a freight derailment which occurred at Rives last night at 8:25. The derailment, which was caused by a broken journal on one of the cars, delayed all the trains last night but the north bound main line was cleared this morning about 10:30 and No. 2 arrived here about 11 o'clock. Railroad officials believe that the south track will be cleared sometime tonight, but it will be several days before all the cars can be removed. Trainmaster K. E. Dawson is in charge at Rives.

The derailed freight was Extra 8015 and was in charge of Conductor W. T. Straub and Engineer Ernest Morrison, enroute from Paducah to Memphis. It was made up of 68 cars, 52 of which were loaded. Twenty-seven cars were derailed crosswise the tracks, but no one was injured.

No. 4, passenger train, due to arrive in Fulton at 10:30 last night was stopped at Covington and backed up to Memphis. It was derailed by the N. C. to Jackson and arrived in Fulton this morning at 8:05.

Dressworkers Can Give Advice To Employers

New York.—Sixty thousand of the city's 85,000 organized dressworkers went to work today under a new contract enabling them to advise their employers how to run New York's largest industry efficiently.

Terms of the agreement, signed yesterday and effective three years, also call for industry and labor to co-operate in raising $3,000,000 to $4,500,000 for promotion and publicity to establish New York as the world's fashion center.

The pact, between the dress board of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union (A. F. L.) and four of five large employer associations, was hailed by Mayor F. H. LaGuardia as heralding "a new era" in labor relations.

"Baby Farm" Sift Is Pushed As Six Babies Are Found Ill

Boston.—An inspector's report of finding six infants ill in one room at a "baby farm" spurred a movement among Massachusetts officials today for stricter laws regarding such boarding places.

Miss Mary T. McCann, inspector in the State Division of Child Guardianship, said one of the babies, a 7-month-old girl, was taken to the City Hospital in such serious condition from pneumonia, whooping cough and chicken pox that doctors feared she would die.

Kept in Laundry
Miss McCann added in a report to State Public Welfare Commissioner Arthur G. Rotch that she found eight infants lying in wooden boxes in a damp laundry at another "baby farm."

"The woman (in charge of the house) kept no record of the names or addresses and could not remember who two of the babies were," said the inspector.

Parents Traced
"We traced parents of six of the babies through money orders with which they paid $6 a week board and we are still trying to find mothers of the other two."
Rotch said all baby boarding houses in the State would be inspected and their operators prosecuted if they were found to be operating without licenses or neglecting infants left in their care. Complaints have been issued against two women, he said.

Opinion Declares Sheriff Entitled To Dual Expense

Frankfort, Ky.—Reiterating that the law requires Sheriffs to transport prisoners on one trip, if they expect to have their expenses paid, Assistant Attorney General Guy H. Herdman said Thursday Boone County Sheriff F. M. Walton appeared to warrant an exception.

Sheriff Walton, defending his claim for expenses for two trips to the State reformatory in two days, wrote that no train or bus was available and that he had only a small automobile. He took two prisoners to the reformatory on each trip with an accompanying guard each time.

Herdman referred him, however, to an opinion given last January 16 that Campbell County Sheriff Louis J. Sickmeier was entitled to reimbursement for only one trip. Sickmeier, he said, should have taken his prisoners by train if necessary.

Thomas Gives Theatre Party For Red Devils

Members of the South Fulton Red Devils basketball team and their dates, Coach Jess Haynes and wife, and Superintendent Guy H. Cravens and wife will be the special guests of Manager Harold Thomas of the Malco theatres at a theatre party tonight. Manager Thomas is complimenting the Red Devils, their coach and superintendent, in recognition of the fact that last week they were crowned champions of the Obion County tournament.

Members of the squad are Harold House, McKinney, Yates, McConnell, Dyer, Wall, Brundige, Coffman and Woodruff.

Next week Mr. Thomas will have the Bulldogs and Coach Hershel Giles of Fulton High as his guests.

Nazis Blame British Censor For Cable Idea

Berlin.—The attachment by British censors of mail addressed to German radio stations was given here today as one reason for the Nazi plan to pay radio costs of American requests for program numbers.

It was explained that German suspected many letters from American listeners were getting no farther than the British censor. The cost of cabling requests to Berlin, German sources added, probably would make listeners drop the whole idea, so German stations were losing touch with foreign lands.

"Any radio station is much influenced in the construction of its program by what the listeners say, so when American mail fell off the suggestion of receiving collect radio messages was advanced."

They added that another advantage would be quick reaction, since a broadcaster depending on mail must wait anywhere from two to eight weeks to learn how angry or pleased American listeners are.

Bulldogs Enter Home Stretch Of Present Season

Tonight the Bulldogs tackle the Arlington five in another conference game on the Arlington floor, and then the home stretch looms up, with only two games left on the card, except for a third game with South Fulton to be played after the tournament season is over for both teams. This game will have no particular bearing on anything, except from a financial angle, for the Tennessee boys have already tucked away the city championship. The date for this final game is uncertain, but will be announced later.

After the Arlington game, the Bulldogs will have two more games of the current season. Tuesday night Sedalia brings the tallest team in this section to Science Hall. Sedalia has had a fine season, having lost only to Hardin and Clinton, and the Bulldogs will be distinctly the underdogs against the tall invaders. Without doubt the Sedalia team will dominate the ball for the most part. Friday night the season will close, with the Bulldogs playing against Hickman in the Hickman gym. The teams have met once before this season, the Bulldogs lugging out a one point victory, 17 to 18. Hickman has had an indifferent season, but will be primed for the tilt against the Bulldogs. Coach Giles is trying to tune his team up for this one game.

After the close of the season the district tournament opens in Clinton on March 4th, and Fulton will be pitted against Milburn in the first game. The Bulldogs dropped a weird game to Milburn a short time ago and will be trying to get revenge for this defeat. It is possible the Fulton team might go pretty far in the tournament, for the weaker side of the bracket opposes them. The one which has the best chance of putting the Bulldogs out, on form at least, is Western, which has had a fine season.

U. S. Officers Doubt Britain's Night Fighters Can Stop Nazis

Washington.—American Army officers expressed the opinion today that Great Britain's highly publicized night fighter planes have failed to solve the vital problem of beating off Nazi night raiders.

They pointed out that despite the use of increasing numbers of night fighters, equipped with new detection devices and piloted by men especially trained for night flying, the great majority of German planes shot down over Britain at night have been credited to anti-aircraft gunners.

British figures available in Washington showed that since the middle of September anti-aircraft batteries have accounted for from 70 to 75 per cent of German night raiders shot down.

This percentage, military experts pointed out, has remained constant despite the stepped-up use of night fighters. Both artillerymen and fliers

Jones Reports National Income Near 74 Billions

Average Employment For 1940 Placed At 46 Million Workers

Washington.—Jesse H. Jones, secretary of commerce, estimated today that the national income last year was $73,800,000,000 an increase of $4,400,000,000 over 1939.

He added, however, that income payments received by individuals in the form of wages, dividends and other forms were larger than the national income. They totaled $74,300,000,000. The difference was due to the fact that some of the income payments were made on borrowed money in connection with new projects for the defense program.

The national income was the highest since 1929 and 84 per cent above the depreciation loss in 1932. Summarizing other business developments of the year, Jones said in a statement that average employment last year was 46,000,000 persons, not counting persons drafted into the Army or working on relief projects. The figures were 4 per cent under 1929.

Net sales of retailers last year were estimated at $45,500,000,000 a gain of 8.3 per cent over the preceding year, and a sales average of $45 per person. The sales total was about $3,120,000,000 under 1929.

Credit figures at the commerce department indicated that a major factor in increased retail sales was the expansion of charge and installment accounts at the nation's stores.

Benes Predicts Democratic Reich After War's End

Liverpool.—Eduard Benes, pre-munich president of Czechoslovakia, declared today that post-war reconstruction will involve creation of "new federal units in different parts of Europe" and a "new democratic free Germany which would be in a position to take her place beside the civilized nations of Europe."

(Although this cannot be considered an official statement of British war aims, it is one of the first such outlines from an authoritative source.)
Benes spoke at Liverpool University.

"We are concerned above all with bringing about the defeat of Germany, then with re-establishing the freedom of Austria, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Norway and other occupied countries and with making good the damage in those countries," said Benes.

JAPANESE ARE PEEVED

During the past few days the British Empire has been quite busy with some dramatic and potent moves in the Far East. Australian soldiers by the thousands, along with tanks and artillery, bomber planes and fighters, have been arriving in British bases in Singapore and other areas, and the inference is plain that Britain is able to take care of her own in any quarter of the globe. The Home Empire may be facing a fight for life, but even so, at the same time British armies are grinding the Italian African Armies to pieces, British ships are sailing the Seven Seas, and now British armies are pouring into Far Eastern defense posts, and air squadrons are winging their way into those places. It is a dramatic gesture; it is something which may have far reaching effect.

The curious part of the entire matter is the shocked surprise which the Japanese now manifest. They view with extreme concern this concentration of British military might. They say that such acts constitute an unfriendly act, almost an act of war. Yet, by all previous signs and portents, the Japanese were preparing to move against those outposts of the British Empire. For weeks it has been an open secret that Japan planned this move, and now it appears Japan is disappointed that England should be so rude as to reinforce those threatened posts. In effect, the Japanese belief appears to be that England should allow those bases to fall before Japanese attack, and under no circumstances should any serious effect be made to protect and retain them. In other words, Japan believes that England should believe the half hearted Japanese explanation that she contemplates no war-like action against British and American interests in America, thus making conquest easy when Japan decides to strike.

It is a militant and heartening action the British have taken. They have notified Japan boldly that they intend to hold what they have in the Far East. They have proved by decisive action that they are not helpless against a Japanese threat. They have done more than this by this reinforcement of Far Eastern forces. They have made stronger the hand of the United States in that area. It has been the common belief that if Japan should strike in that part of the world, Britain would be helpless and would be forced to depend upon the help of the United States. Now it is definitely stated that the Royal Air Force has complete domination in the air. Modern bombers, along with plenty of fast fighter planes, now occupy the hangars in British bases, and Japan faces something that has not been faced before. In the war against China there has been no effective plane resistance, for China had few planes. Rest assured that the British air squadrons will give the Japanese fleet plenty of trouble.

With this condition prevailing, it appears likely that this nation will be able to detach a great deal of its naval strength for duty in the Atlantic if war does come. This is probably the hope of the British, for a decision in the present war may come in a few

LET HITLER SUCCOR STARVING FRANCE

The English traveler, Arthur Young, touring France in the months before the French Revolution, saw clearly what others failed to see—desperate want, men and women growing desperate, too, and ugly signs of a peasant revolt carried to the most bitter extremes.

Paul Ghall, wiring from Vichy, draws a parallel picture. France, he says, all her forty million people, can live no longer than the first of April. Grain is lacking. Meat, fats, sugar are to seek. As in that old French picture, only the rich are favored. And he announces, on the authority of the Minister of Agriculture, that the lives of all these people are "in the hands of the gods."

The gods of the German Valhalla, the gods of blood and iron? Who else has brought about a condition where wild dogs terrorize the countryside in one of the land's most fertile provinces? Who else has to answer for malnutrition, starvation, disease? Who has plundered and robbed, if not armies of occupation? Who has stripped the country of supplies and shipped them to the Fatherland, inquiring blandly what outside help, American help, was going to do about it?

A peasant's war burnt the castles of the nobility amid scenes of ferocity never since exceeded. The peasant's need armed the mob that stormed the Bastille and massacred the Swiss who guarded the ancient fortress. In the end the Third Estate, led sometimes by aristocrats, sent Louis and Marie Antoinette, "baker and baker's wife," to the guillotine.

Such things, we are told, cannot happen again. German repression is more heartless, more severe and crushing, than were the king's troops. There will be no Reign of Terror with German victims. Probably no. But the responsibility is not with the gods. It lies with the Nazi High Command.

If France, as Mr. Ghall predicts, dies of starvation as of April 1, you can lay it at the door of Adolf Hitler—Murderer!—Courier-Journal.

months. American naval aid may be desperately needed in the Atlantic by midsummer, and it is stirring news that the United States will place two modern battleships in commission by May 15. These two ships are being finished months ahead of schedule, and they may prove a deciding factor in turning the tide against the dictators.

DRASTIC RATIONING OF CLOTHES GOES INTO EFFECT IN PARIS

Paris.—Drastic clothes rationing restrictions on the German model went into effect in Paris today, but met a somewhat incredulous reception from the French, whose attitude toward regulation is well known.

Clothing cards cover such articles as stockings, dresses, overcoats and suits. Only one card is to be issued to a person for the year. It permits purchase of clothing totaling 150 points, and a woman's wool garment would take about 50 points.

Thirty-five of the leading French designers were exempt from the regulations, however, so Paris can still qualify as a fashion center. As a result, the wealthy woman can pay her 1,000 francs for as many high-culture models as she wants, but a woman in the middle class will be strictly rationed when it comes to purchasing a 100 or 200-franc frock.

ATTENDED "FATHERS' DAY"
AT S. F. LAST NIGHT

Approximately one hundred and twenty-five persons gathered at the cafeteria of South Fulton school last night to attend the annual "Fathers' Day" program, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher's Association. The affair was planned as a pot-luck supper and at 6:30 o'clock the guests arrived, each family bringing covered dishes.

Following the supper, the regular meeting of the P. T. A. was held with the president, Mrs. Leon Hutchins, presiding. A lengthy business session was held with the following reports being given—Mrs. Elbert Lowery, message from the state president, Hortense Gordon; Mrs. Will Cravens, secretary, reading of the minutes; Mrs. Carl Kimberlain, treasurer, financial report; Mrs. Lowery, membership chairman, announcing that the Association is now made up of eighty-eight members; Mrs. Cravens, W. P. A. Kitchen chairman, announcing that for October 178 school students exchanged food for lunches, 1,123 were fed free, and 1,170 paid lunches, and from October to the present time, 1,244 exchanged food for lunches, 7,093 free lunches and 9,513 paid lunches; Mrs. Hutchins, announcing the free-will offering box for state extension work.

A nominating committee, to name officers for the coming year, was elected with Superintendent Will Cravens, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Barnes, Mrs. Lawrence Bowen, Mrs. Elbert Lowery and Mrs. Joe Mack Reed. Superintendent Cravens then gave a talk to the mothers and fathers on the general activities of the school, discussing the W. P. A. kitchen and also the progress which has been made in athletics.

Since this was "Fathers' Night," the mothers were not included in the room count and the second grade won the cash award for having the greatest number of fathers present.

Mrs. Hutchins made an announcement of the study course which will be held next Thursday night for the parents and teachers on Association work. This course will be taught by Mrs. Roger Kirkland.

After that session, the following program in charge of Mrs. T. A. Parham, was presented:

Plan 6 selection, duet, "Busy Fingers" by Miss Charlene Sanford and Ivan Jones, Jr.

Vocal solos, "Broken Toy Parade" and "Hap, Hap, Happy Day" by Miss Angela Arnn, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Parham.

"Tom Thumb Wedding," presented by members of the second grade. "God Bless America," by all present, led by Miss Angela Arnn. Piano selection, "Soliloquy," by Miss Charlene Sanford and Ivan Jones.

W. AVERELL HARRIMAN TO GO TO ENGLAND AS DEFENSE EXPEDITER

Washington. — President Roosevelt announced today that W. Averell Harriman would go to England in 10 days or two weeks as a defense expediter.

Harriman, a financier, who now is with the materials division of the office of production management, will be sent over as soon as the program under the lease-lend bill is perfected.

Mr. Roosevelt, who had talked with Harriman shortly before, told a press conference he had invented the title of defense expediter for him.

Harriman, the chief executive asserted, will not be on the diplomatic list and his name will not be sent to the Senate in the form of a nomination that would have to be confirmed.

He indicated that the new appointee would handle such questions as contracts, British defense estimates and priorities.

PRESIDENT SIGNS BILL RAISING DEBT LIMIT

Washington — Legislation raising the federal debt limit to $45,000,000,000 and making future government securities fully taxable became law today with President Roosevelt's signature. It is effective March 1.

The former debt limit was $45,000,000,000 plus a $4,000,000,000 authority for defense borrowing.

HOUSING CONDITIONS AT THREE ARMY CAMPS TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington. — Chairman May (D-Ky.) said today the House military affairs committee intended to investigate housing conditions of at least three Army posts, naming Camp Shelby, Miss., Ft. Benning, Ga., and Camp Edwards, Conn.

"There has been testimony before the committee," said May, "that some construction was bad and that costs were excessive in comparison with estimates."

He added that officers in charge of construction had done the best they could "but we are going to find out."

May said that he believed conditions at Camp Shelby were satisfactory but that the committee wanted to inspect facilities to make sure.

The inquiry, a date for which was not set, would embrace construction and conditions generally, the chairman said.

THREE CROPS IN ONE!

A. Turner of Barren county reports a production of 2,423 pounds of tobacco on one acre. The land had been in alfalfa four years. He applied large amount of manure and 400 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate. The result was about three times the average tobacco yield.

Laid End to End They Add up to a Swell Idea

We mean these Four New Additions to the Buick SPECIAL Series that Give you Big-Car Thrill in less Curbside Space

THE way cars have been stretching out lately, it usually takes only a couple of cars to occupy the curb space of an extension-ladder fire truck.

Not so with the newest additions to the 1941 Buick line.

Here we've reversed the trend—just to prove that an honest-to-golly BIG car can be built without going overboard on bumper-to-bumper distance.

The four new models now adorning the Buick SPECIAL Series fit neatly into modest garages without putting a permanent crimp in the doors.

They slip into parking places smoothly as a rowboat nestles up to a dock—and the way they fit through traffic is a delight to wheel-weary drivers.

When it comes to action—well, they've got a 115-hp. FIREBALL eight under their bonnets that skims you down the road like a mallard heading home. You can add Compound Carburetion at small extra cost and have 125 horsepower that does things we hardly dare hint about in print.

But they're a handy six inches shorter, bumper to bumper, than other Buicks—a quartet of top-quality cars in a new and easily-handled size.

The price? It's lower too. So better take a look at the first really BIG car in this bumper-to-bumper size.
