STAGE SET FOR GALA FAIR AND HORSE SHOW

News-Prints

Next week rings down the curtain on Fulton's big promotions thus far scheduled for 1949, and will be by far the biggest and best . . . the West Kentucky-Tennessee Fair and the American Legion Horse Show. In April thousands came to see the Army Day parade, and on June 2 more thousands came to see the big Boy Scout doings.

Starting next Monday with the opening of the carnival, Fulton will again play host to thousands in a week filled with events.

It's a fine thing for Fulton to have these things, and we hope every year from now on that the Fair will remain an annual event and a couple of other good-sized undertakings will be scattered through the year to rightfully keep our whole trade area "Fulton-Minded."

You forty-thousand folks who live in the Fulton trade-area know you are always welcome here . . . and these things are put on for you so you will come in and visit with us more often. When you are in Fulton, we want you to feel "at home!"

It seems that about three-fourths of the Chamber of Commerce members, in placing the membership stickers on their firm windows, have failed to read the directions on the back. After the sticker is wet and placed against the window, the white paper backing is supposed to slide off, leaving a neat decal. Now that they are on, paper and all, it might be too late to wet the backing and slide it off, but you might try it.

Our old friend and columnist Patricia Latane tells us that she will probably be back in the NEWS starting next week, with her regular column. Patricia had to stop her column for awhile this year. She scratched her head so long and so hard at some of the knotty problems presented to her that one side went plumb bald. Now that her brand-new wig has arrived she says she is ready to start in again.

We know that a lot of you folks will be glad to hear from Patricia again; when she was writing for us before, she received more mail than the editor did.

You can always depend on the gang down at City Electric to be doing something different. Last Tuesday they called us down there to show us a little mousy-looking animal that someone had found out around the railroad yards. It had a very short, mouse-like tail but its mouth was about halfway under a queer-looking snout. If the thing was a little bigger it would have resembled an ant-eater.

At this writing its species is still not identified; the opinion is that it is some kind of sub-tropical rodent and probably fell off a railroad car.

If all mice around here had a snout as long as this one, they sure would have a hard time doing much gnawing.

We see that the Federal Communications Commission is going to put the brakes on the big badly-hooded nation-wide radio quiz shows . . . and it looks like its about time. Last week we read where some fellow won, among other things, $1000 worth of knitwear, but wanted the cash instead. The manufacturer offered to settle for $100, and Government wanted part of the rest for taxes. This week some couple in New York City won a dream home free for nothing, and offered to sell it back to the program sponsors for 50c. The house was nicely constructed on a city parking lot downtown. The parking lot charged them $50 a day rent as long as it stayed there, and they didn't have the money to take it apart, move it out somewhere and rebuild it. They found out that they won a headache.

Madrid Bend Vote Contested by White for 'Irregularities'

Harry L. White, defeated candidate in the recent ax commissioner's race in Fulton County, has filed a petition with the Fulton Circuit Court protesting the election of his opponent, Elmer Murchison.

Murchison defeated White by the close margin of 54 votes in the August 6 primaries. The totals were Murchison 1963, and White 1909.

In his petition, White alleges irregularities in the Madrid Bend precinct. Specifically, he points out that no booths were erected or maintained that the voters making them on tables in open view of the election officers and others; that the voters were solicited by election officers and others within 15 feet of the voting place, and that persons other than the voters marked the ballots; that at least four persons were permitted to vote who were disqualified from voting because of non-residence in Kentucky; and that a free, secret and impartial election was prevented by these irregularities.

Murchison was presented the summons last Saturday, and has 10 days in which to file his answer. He has engaged Flavious Martin as his attorney.

When a reply to the charges is made, White has five days in which to file a rebuttal, and then the Circuit Court will conduct a trial and the two will present their cases. The trial will probably be conducted by Judge Stahr, the News learned.

An inquiry into voting conditions at Madrid Bend by the News revealed that right or wrong, the same voting procedure was maintained there this election as in elections during the past several years. Voting is done in a large school room, with the voter receiving his ballot as he enters, and going to the other end of the room to make his selections.

BIBLE INSTITUTE IN 38 COUNTIES

The thirty-eight Baptist Churches of the West Kentucky Baptist Association, located in Hickman, Carlisle and Fulton Counties, have established and are maintaining the West Kentucky Baptist Bible Institute (Preacher's Bible School).

The basic purpose of this school is to prepare and equip preachers for a more complete ministry. However, the doors are open to others. Work may be done on both a high school and a college level. But the idea of providing an opportunity for preachers to study the Word of God is paramount.

The present organization is established with an office at the First Baptist Church of Clinton. Reverend O. C. Markham is in charge of the office as Executive Secretary and Treasurer of the school. The purchase of real estate as a permanent location for the school is anticipated.

The fall term opens Monday, September 12. Registration for classes will begin Monday evening at 7:30. Classes will be held at the First Baptist Church.

The Governing Board of Trustees is composed of Rev. Galen Hargrove, Milburn; Dennis M. Daniel, Clinton; T. H. Streeter, Hickman; Howard Hocker, Arlington; Walter Williams, Spring Hill; Rev. Leo Galey, Cunnigham; Fred Key, Fulton; Rev. Calvin Hudson, Bardwell; and Buenos Fleming, Cunnigham; with Rev. Curry O. Simpson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clinton, as president of the Institution.

WORK PROGRESSES ON GAS PIPELINE

More than one third of Texas Gas' new 800-mile, Texas-to-Ohio pipe line has been completed. As of July 31, a total of 291 miles of 26-inch pipe was in the ground, and during the month the seven contractors working on the line laid 108 miles of pipe.

Work began in July on the construction of multiple river crossings. All the special heavy pipe required for the latter crossings has been delivered to the sites, and work was scheduled to commence this month.

A check on the progress of the pipe laying in this area shows that about one-half of the section between Memphis and Slaughter, Ky., has been laid to date.

It is planned to have the entire line from Memphis to Mid-dleton, Ohio in operation by the first of the year.

REV. W. E. MISCHKE GOES TO PADUCAH

The resonant voice of Rev. Walter E. Mischke will be missed in church and civic circles in Fulton. The announcement that he had resigned to accept a pastorate in Paducah was keenly felt by the entire citizenry. Brother Mischke will leave on September 1 and will preach his last sermon on Sunday.

The Mischkes have endeared themselves to the people of Fulton, who were overjoyed when it was made known in the early Spring that he would be returned to the city for another year. The pastorate to which Rev. Mischke is being sent is the second largest in the Memphis Conference.

The Board of Stewards of the Methodist Church announced today that Rev. C. E. Hawkins of Ashland, Ky., would arrive on September first to fill the vacancy in the church.

Brother Mischke today announced services for Sunday as follows:

Usual services and talks.

A statement to the congregation: W. E. Mischke.

C of C Dines Tonight At Chestnut Glade

A large turnout is expected for the Chamber of Commerce dinner tonight (Friday) in Chestnut Glade, according to Secretary Marian Maxfield. Advance ticket sales in Fulton have been selling well.

The dinner will be at the Chestnut Glade school, and will be prepared by the ladies of the community home demonstration club.

A program after dinner has been arranged, with a feature speaker.

Miss Helen Hamra and Henry Hamra of Bristol, Okla., and Mrs. Bennie Hamra of Caruthersville, Mo., have returned to their homes after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. K. Homra and family.

The stage is ready. The characters are in full dress. The curtain is ready to rise on one of the most elaborate fairs to be staged and directed in Fulton County in many years. The grounds have been cleared and improved for midget races, a gala horse show, hill-billy shows, harness races, dairy and cattle shows and everything that goes to make the West-Kentucky-Tennessee Fair the most looked forward to event of the 1949 entertainment season.

Letters To The Editor

THE WHITE HOUSE

Washington

August 22, 1949

My dear Mrs. Westpheling:

The President has requested me to acknowledge your letter of August fifteenth. Needless to say, he more than appreciates the thoughtfulness which prompted the cordial invitation which it conveys to him to attend the West Kentucky-Tennessee Fair, but his schedule is such that it will not permit him to have this pleasure. He is very sorry indeed that he cannot send you an acceptance, but all of you certainly have the President's very best wishes for a successful Fair.

Very sincerely yours,
MATTHEW J. CONNELLY
Secretary to the President

GOOD SEATS STILL CAN BE PURCHASED

VETERANS POSTS TO ASSIST WITH NSLI DIVIDENDS

The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars will assist all local veterans in applying for their National Service Life Insurance dividends, James Warren and Harry Bloodworth, commanders of the respective local posts announced today.

"Our posts will have the necessary applications which veterans will have to make to the VA to get their NSLI dividends," the commanders said. "Every veteran who held his NSLI policy for 90 days or more will have a refund coming to him. The VA expects to pay out approximately $2,800,000,000 in these refunds. Payments per veteran are expected to average about $175 according to the VA. Applications should be filed as quickly as possible because it will take weeks and months for a veteran to get his refund check."

Actually, they explained, the posts will put on the biggest manhunt in history trying to locate veterans who are eligible for the NSLI refunds.

"The VA estimates that some 16,000,000 veterans are entitled to NSLI refunds," they said. "Actually today the VA has the home address of only six millions of eligible veterans. The American Legion and VFW will help it to locate 10,000,000 others."

EXAM RATING RELEASED

Rating on the recent examination for Fulton postmaster were received by entrants here last weekend, with the three top men, in order, being Jack Carter, Clifford Shields and Hendon Wright. Selection of a Postmaster will probably be made from these three, the News was advised.

The fair opens on Wednesday night August 31, with a horse show in full regalia, replete with entries of every type of show horses.

Horse enthusiasts desiring to enter horses in the show may contact General Chairman Bob White at Fulton.

Harness racing will be held every day from the beginning of the fair through Saturday. $1000 in prizes each day will be given the winners. On Thursday night the Renfro Valley Show will give two hours of the best hill-billy entertaining to be heard even in the hills of Kentucky.

Friday night and Saturday night Hilbun Graves with his complete entourage of entertainers — beautiful girls, skaters, dancers — will perform for fair audiences for two hours and more.

The show closes on Sunday afternoon with thrilling auto races of the midget variety. Racers will compete for $1000 in prizes. Highlighting Sunday afternoon's performances will be the appearance of the smallest racer in the business, riding the smallest racing car ever made.

Days will be designated for the various Governors to attend and a special day will be set aside to entertain Mid-South newspaper editors and publishers.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

More and Better Telephone Service for Kentucky

FAMILIAR SIGHTS in the cities, towns and rural sections of Kentucky are telephone folks building new facilities to make your telephone service bigger and better.

New buildings being erected . . . new central office facilities being installed . . . more poles, more cable going into use . . . more and more of what it takes to improve and enlarge the telephone network so vitally important to the growth and prosperity of the state.

Our postwar program of construction of new facilities is the largest in the history of the state. And it is producing abundant results—providing telephones for more and more people, improving service for all telephone users.

The demand for telephone service has been several times greater than before the war. So has our construction program to meet that demand! And all this expanding activity is focused on a single goal—to give the people of Kentucky the finest telephone service it is possible to provide.

MANY FARMERS USE PHOSPHATE

Many farmers are using limestone and rock phosphate in preparing seed beds for winter cover crops and the seeding of small grains according to Chas. E. Wright, chairman, Fulton County ACA.

Although many tons are being applied there are approximately only 25 percent of the farmers taking advantage of the conservation materials that are furnished by the ACA program, Mr. Wright said.

There are many other ways in which farm payments may be earned. The county committee feels that by using limestone and phosphate a reserve in soil fertility and a strong reserve of soil fertility has a security equal to or greater than, a reserve bank account.

The 1949 program ends December 31, 1949. Usually weather conditions prevent the farmers from doing many things planned in the fall of the year. The payments made by the ACA program are as follows in Fulton County: Limestone, $1.85 per ton; rock phosphate, $9.00 per ton. These two materials may be used under any crop. Payments for 18 percent, 19 percent and 20 percent Super Phosphate, 04 1-2 cents per pound of available P2O5, thus 20 percent phosphate earns .90c per hundred pounds. Payment for concentrated Superphosphate 45 percent, 46 percent and 47 percent, 3 1-2 cents per pound of available P2O5. This rate is equal to $1.64 per hundred pounds on 47 percent Super Phosphate. These phosphates must be applied to soil conserving crops and payment must be limited to the minimum assistance set up for each farm.

The county ACA office personnel will issue purchase orders to anyone who is eligible and will assist farmers in any way possible to make their good land better.

School-Bound Vets: Get Papers Okayed

Veterans planning to attend school this fall under the GI Bill were advised today to make sure their certificates of eligibility are in order.

Attention to this detail now, VA officials said, will prevent last-minute rushes and delays.

Here are the main points governing VA certificates of eligibility:

1. If the veteran was enrolled for the recent Spring or Summer terms and plans to continue in the same school and course this fall, his present certificate of eligibility is valid.
2. If he plans to continue in the same school but in a different course, he should see his school's registrar to learn whether the institution requires a supplemental certificate.
3. If he is now in school but intends to continue his GI Bill education in a different school this fall, he should apply at once for a supplemental certificate.
4. If he has no certificate of any kind, he should apply for one at his nearest VA office if he intends to enroll for the Fall term.
5. If he is not now in school but holds an unused certificate issued before Sept. 1, 1948, he should exchange it now for a new type certificate if he is planning to take a course this Fall.

BARNES DEPLORES C-J NEWS STORY

Deploing inaccuracies and misrepresentations in a news story on the state's public assistance program (appearing in the Louisville Courier-Journal under the by-line of Hugh Morris, Wednesday, August 17.) Vego E. Barnes, commissioner, Department of Economic Security which administers the program, said that such loose or flagrant handling of the facts breeds public distrust and might easily cause great distress among Kentucky's needy aged, needy blind, and dependent children.

Barnes, in a statement to the Courier Journal, called attention to the errors and misinterpretations in the reporter's account and the newspaper carried a front page corrective story in its Thursday morning, August 18 issue. Barnes pointed out, however, that unless every person who read the erroneous story is made fully aware of the facts, the damage to the program cannot be written-off.

"The department has never asked the press for special favor but in view of the seriousness of the charges made by the Frankfort reporter, and in light of the fact that the public assistance program in Kentucky and the nation may be hurt, I am asking the newspapers of the state to help us try to repair the damage," Barnes said.

Commissioner Barnes' statement follows: "Needy recipients of Public Assistance in Kentucky have not been deprived of $1,250,000 in benefits as was charged in the ial $2,800,000,000 GI Insurance dividend were reminded today that application blanks will not be available until August 29.

Some veterans, it was explained, have been calling or writing VA for the application blanks, apparently under the mistaken impression that August 29th was the deadline for application. "August 29," VA officials stressed, "is the first day applications will be available. There will be plenty of time to apply after that date."

front-page article. This was a direct misinterpretation of the fiscal policy of the Division of Public Assistance. The article charged that since the division failed to expend the full amount appropriated for the first year of the biennium, that the needy persons were deprived of the unexpended funds plus the amount of federal funds which would have been matched to the state funds."

Now EVERYBODY wants to wash the dishes

DISHWASHING is fun when a new automatic electric dishwasher takes over the work. Just scrape your dishes,* and tuck them into the dishwasher along with the glassware and knives and forks. Add soap, close the door, set the switch — and forget about them.

You'll come back to find your dishes squeaky clean and dry. Put in your finest china and glassware without worry, because nothing moves but the water. Remember, the hotter the water, the cleaner your dishes, glasses and silverware will be, and the less apt to have water spots.

Our average dishwasher family stacks breakfast and lunch dishes in the dishwasher, actually uses it only once or twice a day. If you've soiled lots of pots and pans, let them wash while you're eating dinner.

So it's off to the early show, or into the living room with the rest of the family when you've an automatic electric dishwasher. And, like your other electric appliances, it costs very little to operate.

*Good-bye To Messy Garbage

Installation of a garbage disposal unit frees you forever from odors, soggy paper sacks, and unsightly kitchen garbage cans. Scrape everything but cans and bottles into your disposal unit. The unit grinds up the refuse, and flushes it down the drain. It can be used safely on properly sized septic tank systems.

SEE THE ALL-ELECTRIC KITCHEN AT YOUR DEALER'S

The Dishwashing Center is only one of the three electric time-saving centers in the kitchen. Build your Preparation Center around the electric refrigerator. Surround your range, sink, and refrigerator with appropriate cabinets and work surfaces.

Complete your All-Electric kitchen by making an automatic electric range the heart of your Cooking Center. It isn't necessary to build your dream kitchen all at once. Build a "center" at a time as you can afford it.

Calling all outdoorsmen

By JIM MITCHELL

Everytime I run across a new set of figures on how much outdoorsmen spend I can't help but be amazed at the size of the business of fishing and hunting in dollars.

The newest figures available show that sportsmen who hunted and fished in 1948 spent $10,000,000 more than the combined expenditures for bowling, golf, skiing and motor boating. Statistics show that fishermen topped the list with $1,350,000,000; hunters dug down in their pockets to the tune of $750,000,000.

And $3,000,000 was spent in 1948 by sportsmen for tooters and squawkers for calling birds and animals into gun range.

The above figures are a lot of dollars; hunting and fishing is really big business.

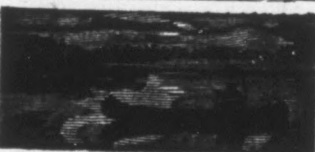

Funny thing, too, you seldom hear a sportsman complaining about what it costs him to enjoy the sport. Most outdoorsmen feel that it is a buck well spent any time he can go fishing or hunting.

I haven't seen any figures lately on what each pheasant or quail or duck or fish costs when an outdoorsmen figures his overall expenses against the annual bag. But it's plenty high.

Once a few years ago I decided to keep a record of what I spent for a year and then divided the expenditure into the number of fish and game animals I killed or caught. It would have been a lot cheaper to buy fancy steaks at the butcher shop for three meals a day, I discovered. But the enjoyment you get from being outdoors with gun or rod can't be measured in dollars as can steaks at the corner grocery.

Occasionally there is a bright spot in the outdoor picture, and this time it is the outlook for an improved waterfowl gunning season this fall.

Recently officials of Ducks Unlimited reported as follows: "The waterfowl breeding season is progressing favorably in all parts of the range. June rains alleviated the drought threat over most of the southern prairies (in Canada) removing the danger of any wholesale loss of broods through drying up of sloughs and potholes."

IN THE CURRENT ISSUE:

Channel catfish... fishing for trout with worms... "riding" a shark... mountain lion hunting with dogs... bass fishing... old days of the goose hunt—these and other features, plus a lively line-up of departments on fresh and salt water fishing, dogs, guns and ammunition, boats, new gadgets.

Tops in outdoors reading for 50 years.

4-H Safety Workers in All-Out Attempt to Reduce Accidents on Farms in 1949

MR. FARMER, has the 4-H Club member in your family checked your farm and home for accident and fire hazards lately? If not, you can expect him to do so any day now. 4-H'ers are making an all-out attempt to reduce the annual cost of accidents affecting farm folks—including motor vehicles, fire and property damage—which totals more than one billion dollars, or about $35.00 per person! They are also trying to cut down the number of accidental deaths, which kill 51 farm residents in the U. S. every day in the year.

Your 4-H'er doubtless will caution you to drive carefully on highways, and use proper signals when turning or stopping (top right). More than 7,300 rural people are killed annually in motor vehicle accidents. In fact, more fatal automobile accidents occur in rural areas than in any other location.

Falls rank second in farm accident causes. So watch your step when carrying a clothes basket, like the girl shown in right photo. Your 4-H safety worker probably will suggest you tack down throw rugs or put them on non-slip matting, and keep stairways uncluttered. Are your lightning rods properly grounded? The 4-H'ers shown at top left found the ground wires broken, and therefore worthless. Lightning, which is one of the greatest causes of farm fires, each year destroys 20 million dollars worth of farm property, kills 500 farm residents and injures 1,300 others.

National Farm Safety Week will be observed July 24-30. Rural boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm Safety program want to make you, your family and neighbors safety minded so that accidents mentioned above won't happen.

For achievements in safety work, the 4-H boy or girl may receive a prized sterling silver medal of honor as county winner. General Motors also provides an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress, Chicago, next November, for the state winner, and $300.00 college scholarships for each of the eight national champions. By practicing safety from this time on, you'll not only help your 4-H'er in his safety work, but help save a life—which may be your own.

The National 4-H Farm Safety program is conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

KID-KILLERS

Here's a word of warning to all Moms and Dads: Accidents are the greatest kid-killers in America!

According to the 1949 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts," accidents far out-rank any of the more generally feared childhood diseases as a cause of death among children 1-to-14 years old.

There were 10,731 accidental deaths in that age group in 1947—three times more than were claimed by pneumonia, the next most important cause of death. And accidents caused 42 times as many deaths as polio.

Mrs. Tula Brandon of Big Clifty, Ky., visited her sister-in-law Mrs. Octavia B. Wall and family last week.

RUPTURE

Expert Coming
To Union City and Mayfield
Again

GEO. L. HOWE
Well-known expert, of Indianapolis will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Davy Crockett Hotel, Union City, Friday, Sept. 2nd from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. and at the Hall Hotel, Mayfield, Thursday, Sept. 8th from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m.

Mr. Howe says the Howe method contracts the openings in remarkable short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture, and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Howe Rupture Shield has no leg strap; waterproof, sanitary, practically indestructible, and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Do not overlook this opportunity if you want gratifying results. Mailing address P.O. Box 5233 E. Michigan St. Station, Indianapolis, 1, Ind.

Drink—DON'T DRIVE!
Elbow bending often leads straight to traffic accidents, according to the 1949 edition of the National Safety Council's statistical yearbook, "Accident Facts."

One out of every six drivers involved in fatal motor vehicle accidents during 1948 had been drinking, accident reports showed. One out of every four adult pedestrians killed in last year's motor vehicle accidents had been drinking, too.

The yearbook also shows that one out of every eight drivers violating traffic laws was driving while under the influence of alcohol.

A packaged spaghetti dinner makes an easy and substantial main dish for a dog-day menu. Serve it with a variety of quickly cooked vegetables—summer squash, green peas or corn on the cob. Or start with a cup of jellied consommé or a wedge of melon as a first course. Then bring on the spaghetti dinner with a big green salad. End up with a fruit dessert, and you'll have a meal that is simplicity itself to prepare but is satisfying and appetizing. The packaged dinner contains uncooked spaghetti, a can of grated Parmesan-style cheese, and concentrated spaghetti sauce in an 8-ounce bottle. The rich sauce is seasoned with a chef's skill that makes the spaghetti menu something outstanding. It comes in either of two styles, with meat or without. And there is enough spaghetti in each package, with cheese and sauce to go with it, for two or three servings.

America's Women Make Plans for Better Communities

From Christian Science Monitor

Big clubs as well as small ones are busy with plans for what they hope will be prize-winning projects in the Build a Better Community Contest of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in which the Kroger Company of Cincinnati is offering $60,000 in prizes. And many of them believe some of the by-products of their efforts will be as important to the community as the specific improvements that are their goal. Among these by-products are increased cooperation and friendship. The Sorosis Club of Orlando, Fla., has divided its 700 members into teams of 25 each to work out its own plan of raising a portion of the $6,000 to be spent for a bookmobile to serve all of Orange County. Food sales, benefit parties, square dances and garden plant swaps are among their fund-raising activities.

Orlando and Winter Park both have good libraries, the club's report explains but the 30,000 residents outside have not. The bookmobile will be equipped with 2,500 books and the county commissioners have appropriated $10,000 for its maintenance after the club has purchased it.

But Orlando is getting something out of it, too. Says the report: "A major result of this enthusiasm and activity is the fact that the groups working together will become acquainted. (A large club sometimes loses the friendship factor). New talents will be discovered, new leaders will come to the front. Sorosis is working hard but with gaiety. It is great fun."

In Grand Lake, Colorado, which the report describes as a very old resort region, the woman's club plans a long-range hospitality program. Its purpose is to change the idea of summer cottage owners that the village "likes them only for what they spend here." Every club member now has her own list of cottages whom she will meet and to whom she will show special attention so that none will be missed in being made to feel at home.

This club also has a home beautification project for the town which is at an altitude of 8,369 feet. There has been an idea that few flowers and shrubs, such as lilacs, will grow at that altitude and the clubwomen are experimenting in growing flowers new to the region and also in transplanting mountain flowers indigenous to it.

Another Colorado town where friendliness is the No. 1 project is Gunnison. There the woman's club is issuing a newcomers' booklet including coupons from the town's merchants. New families will be welcomed to Gunnison by a committee of two women who will take the booklet along and present it to them.

There are many town beautification projects and the reports on some of them reveal how sorely the small and remote communities need just such improvement. The woman's club of Victor, Colorado, has asked each member to plant at least one tree.

"Our community is a mining one," the report explains, "and there are very few trees." The club also expects to start and help maintain a kindergarten until the school district has funds to take over.

Down in Tempe, Arizona, the women enlisted the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations. They sent out 53 questionnaires to the businessmen on Main street, asking if and when they would fix up their property. Back came 31 of them, all but four with promises to cooperate.

One of the most unusual projects in beautification is being undertaken by the Pierian Club and the Study Club of Greensboro, Alabama. The Pierian Club is planting a mile of the highway with dogwood trees—"bride of the forest" they are sometimes called—60 feet apart—as a memorial to men Hale County lost in World War II.

The Study Club is promoting the planting of more camellia trees to supplement the century-old ones for which Greensboro is already famous. The town of 2,000 population, which drew 5,000 visitors last year and 10,000 this season to see its flowers wants to add to the beauty it has to share.

In one small town in Georgia the clubwomen discovered many needs. They began by organizing a community council. Their list of projects includes building and equipping a school lunchroom, a summer recreation program including swimming pool and playground; bringing a new industry to town (they are working with the state Chamber of Commerce on this; getting a dentist, a doctor, and a music teacher who can play the piano in the school. The county has had no dentist for 23 years, the report stated.

In another town a teacher of speech for the high school was the goal of the woman's club. "We have a hard time finding a president who is not afraid of the sound of her own voice," they reported.

Old-fashioned spelling matches are to be sponsored in the high school of one Kansas town with the cooperation of the Parent Teacher Association. A teacher on the club's committee convinced the women that there was a crying need for better spellers in the school.

Among southern towns, there is a notable awareness of needs in the Negro sections and a purpose to help them. Providing a playground for Negro children, a reading room for Negro women, fixing the grounds of the Negro school, establishing a recreation center for the Negro youth are among projects listed.

One of the most ambitious undertakings in the country is probably that of the Byrn Mawr Junior Auxiliary of Chicago, which is working on smoke abatement there.

But maybe the success of this project would mean no more to Chicago than the accomplishment of the Brockton Woman's Club's plans would mean to the village of Brockton, Montana, a place of 150 population. The little club at Brockton is purchasing band instruments for the school on Fort Peck Indian Reservation; new equipment for the lunch room, where hot lunches are served and community gatherings are held, and new equipment for the fire department. The club has raised $100 for a 40-gallon outdoor chemical fire-fighting tank.

A perusal of the reports gives a picture of American democracy at work—citizens looking over the home town to see what's wrong with it and then joining hands and working together to make it a better place in which to live.

... MAY WE HAVE MORE OF THEM?

The words that Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) wrote in 1870 could well be applied to our business. Today more than ever before we solicit the suggestions of our customers, for we are aware that many mutual problems will arise or have arisen as the result of the five-day business week to be instituted September 1 by the Nation's railroads under procedures prescribed by the Railway Labor Act.

While the public has always been generous in its commendation of our railroad, we know that we are far from perfect. Somebody has told us that everybody makes mistakes and certainly a railroad is no exception.

A mistake that goes unreported may also go uncorrected—and it could even re-occur. This is why our invitation for suggestions and criticisms is just as earnest as our appreciation for any compliments.

Won't you give us the benefit of your opinions... and help us to improve? For that we are always striving.

Accept With Pleasure

In not too many more weeks the golf season, except for the avid enthusiasts who shovel the snow to play, will be over for most Fultonians. The golfing has been delightful in spite of the lack of a central congregating place . . . like a clubhouse for instance.

Bob White, although working furiously on the horse show, is making definite plans to get started on the fund drive to build the club house for next season, we hope.

When Bob calls on you to accept a committee appointment, do so as cheerfully as he is working to make the Country Club headquarters a reality.

Smart Merchandising

We have often wondered just how soon we would be writing this story. We KNEW we would someday write it . . . and that was back in 1944 . . . five years ago. It is a story of American merchandising ingenuity making good use of an opportunity.

In 1944 we were in far-off Italy, doing our bit to help the American Fifth Army in its tedious advance through the mountains bordering the Po river valley.

In Italy there were, we would say, 250,000 American soldiers five thousand miles from home, and the food and refreshments they were accustomed to. All of their food, cigarettes, meats, supplies, beer, and soft drinks were shipped these five thousand miles to them, because Italy could not provide a tasty American-style menu.

Wine, or fair of low quality (that's all the Germans left behind) available, but it didn't satisfy the American habit like Coca-Cola, consequently Coca-Cola was shipped over by the boatload, when there was room for it.

Within a few months, however, The Coca-Cola Company and the military apparently got together and began shipping bottling machines and syrup to Italy, and several big plants were set up with all the trimmings. Coca-Cola became fairly plentiful to U. S. troops and many of the Italian civilians, through their intermingling with our troops, got their first taste of this strange and highly-recommended American drink. Although wine drinkers with each meal, they apparently liked this new drink.

Coca-Cola was thus opened up to a brand-new market, with shipping, plant operation, priority sugar supply, distribution lines and acceptance all set up in jig time. The smart trick about it all was the fact that every American soldier was a booster for this drink to his native acquaintances.

"What a break!" . . . we thought at the time. "In what other manner could a company come into a strange country, pickup 250,000 salesmen, establish a big, modern plant, and be all set to continue on after the war was over."

The following year the war was over in Italy, and in another six months practically every American soldier had gone to the Pacific, or back to the States. With him went his American cigarettes, food, coffee, canned fruits and everything else, except Coca-Cola.

The bottling plants with their correctly-trained Italian help were there to stay.

We were not surprised, therefore, to read a story in Time Magazine this week that the Coca-Cola company is now a big business in wine-drinking Italy, and we have to hand it to 'em . . . they grabbed a new market of forty million people by following up a break. And that isn't all . . . as far as we know, they are still the exclusive American drink.

The global supply of our troops provided some terrific advertising for all kinds of American products, from good soaps, coffees, canned goods, cigarettes down to canned milk. We have often wondered just how many other companies capitalized on the opportunity.

A Spider In The Paper

Many years ago Mark Twain was editor of a small-town newspaper. A reader wrote in saying that he had found a spider in his paper, and wanted to know if that was an omen of good or bad luck. Mark Twain answered: "Finding a spider in your newspaper is neither good nor bad luck. The spider was merely looking over our paper to see which merchant was not advertising so he could go to the store, spin his web across the door and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward."

Tidbits of Kentucky Folk-Lore

A Glossary Of Passing Words

Every term when I teach my course in the history of the English language, it is necessary for me to explain the meaning of some of the very words that are used in our text, words that the author felt were self-revealing. Often these words are of things that have passed or are passing and are actually confusing to the students. Sometimes I have felt that there ought to be a dictionary of things we used to do or to use or to talk about, so the younger generation can at least feel that we are not talking in tongues. This paper will attempt a few these definitions.

FROW—a dull, awkward-looking knife-like instrument used formerly to split apart a block of wood, making it into boards or clapboards.

OX—a member of the bovine or cattle group of animals, formerly used as a work animal. A team of this kind are called OXEN, a word now rarely seen or heard. Motorized vehicles have about driven the ox team into the museums of pioneer life.

MULE—a long-eared hybrid between the horse and the donkey, formerly used as an animal of all work. Regardless of the docility and affection of its two ancestral lines, a mule was and is hard-headed, filled to the end of its long ears and to its hoofs with a strain of plain meanness. No mule, says a columnist of the Atlanta Constitution, ever died of overwork, it knows how to pretend to do its best while saving its energies for a happy old age. Not to have known a mule is to have missed one of the rare experiences of life on the farm. No other experience can teach one patience, long-suffering, and endurance like following a mule from early plowing days in spring until logs have to be dragged up for fuel in winter. Lazy, hard-headed, scheming, the mule is one of the things that have brought us where we are today; we should not forget his ornery hide in the rush of this newer day.

HOG-KILLING—a process by which hogs, live four-footed animals, are turned into sausage, lard, middlings, hams, shoulders, spare ribs, and such-like delicacies that you see chiefly now in meat shops. We must not forget that the chop you eat was once a part of a hog and that somebody had to do the dirty work necessary to bring it, in all its alluring taste and smell, to your own table. Hogs seem almost as far away as oxen to many of the people I know, people, too, who are at best only a few miles from whole fields of hogs.

LYE SOAP—a soft, gooey substance made from wood ashes, lye and waste fats. The making of this indispensable stuff was one of the signs of spring in earlier times. From two such disgustingly common things was evolved a mess that did not smell or look good, but it could dissolve tobacco gum and dirt quite as well as some of the modern chemicals that are sung about on the radio. It may not have been kind to the hands, but dishpan hands were not disgraceful in those days, anyway. It chased dirt quite as effectively as the plump lady on the Old Dutch Cleanser can.

BUGGY—a four-wheeled vehicle formerly used for pleasure and business. It was drawn by a HORSE, kinsman of the mule but much prettier and classier. Buggies were of various kinds and sizes, ranging from the family buggy to the delicate, elite vehicle in which Big Brother went courting. For further details, ask Grandpa; he knows.

LOOM—a rather elaborate machine made of wood and designed to produce cloth or carpets from warp and woof. A series of threads were arranged so that half of them would respond to a treadle, the other half to another. When these threads were crossed thus, a bobbin was inserted with the thread or carpet rags, a device was used to push this woof up close to the one that preceded it, and again the treadles crossed the threads. Knowing how to make a loom was really a bit of art; knowing 'how' to set it up, put in a carpet, and weave it to completion was another art now largely dead.

Walter S. McCloy, former Fulton citizen and hardware merchant, was killed last Friday at Bardwell in a pistol duel with his son-in-law, Lucian Turk. The fight is alleged to have been the result of mis-treatment of McCloy's daughter by Turk. Both men met in front of the McCloy hardware store in Bardwell last Friday to settle their differences in one of the most sensational gun fights Western Kentucky has ever seen. Turk, 40, a wealthy landowner of Carlisle County, was seriously wounded.

Kentucky On The March

The recent primary election focused the attention of disconcerting people to the ridiculously low salaries paid many public officials in Kentucky. Henderson picked two commissioners and a mayor-nomination means election—and these three men will be paid a good deal less than letter carriers, the mayor $187.00 a month, the commissioners $166.66. And they administer a business costing the taxpayers around $400,000 a year. A letter veteran carrier gets about $3200 a year or $266 a month, and he has much less business responsibilities.

And people who oppose better pay for important executives usually are the first you will hear questioning the honesty of underpaid officials.

Attempts have been made to get the constitution amended to increase the pay of high state officials to more than $5,000. Thus far such attempts have failed. I have a small business with a light turnover and twelve employees. The top hired man, who is competent to run the business when I am spending a month at a time on the farm, gets more than the governor of Kentucky and members of the court of appeals. A girl who works on the

When the constitution of Kentucky was adopted about 54 years ago, five thousand dollars went as far as four thousand goes now.

I'm as strongly opposed to squandering the people's money as anybody who reads this column. Personally, I think public spending has us headed for national bankruptcy. But I think salaries of high state officials and many municipal executives are something every citizen of the state ought to be ashamed of.

The stock argument against paying better salaries is that men are glad enough to get the jobs at current salaries. That's true, all right. But if the pay were better, able persons might seek the offices. A judge of the court of appeals seldom seeks a higher office. His pay is far less than he would earn as an active practitioner.

Mayors and city commissioners hold their offices as sidelines. They must earn money in other pursuits to live respectably. So it is inevitable in most cases that the business affairs of cities with the commission form of government must get sideline services from the officials they underpay.

Letters To The Editors

Nashville

August 22, 1949

Mrs. Johanna Westpheling,

P. O. Box 485,

Fulton, Kentucky

Dear Mrs. Westpheling:

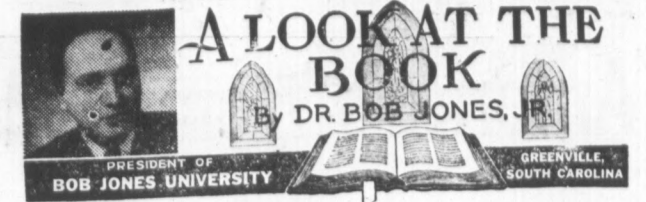

This acknowledges your very gracious letter of August 15th, and I deeply appreciate this invitation to be at the Fair.

I wish I could agree to come, but these dates amount to probably twenty five for each day in the year and it makes it impossible for one who has to meet the obligations of administering a state to respond when he wants to. I have to go to the National Legion Convention at Philadelphia and I find that I will not get back in time to make this appointment. As much as I would like to accept, I am going to have to beg you to let me off this time. I only wish I could write you a different letter.

Sincerely,

GORDON BROWNING

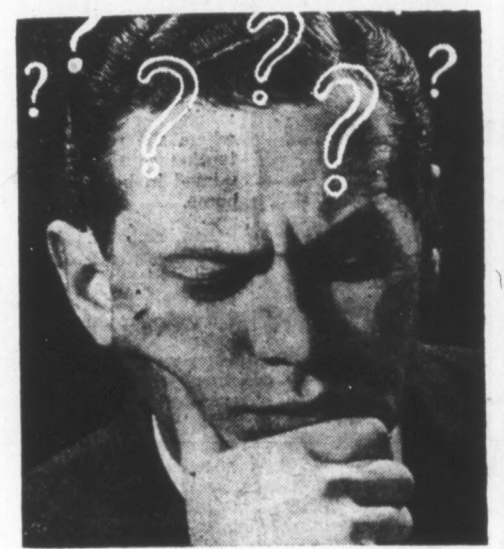

People have a way of saying, "I would read the Bible more except that I cannot understand it." Many Bible scholars will agree there are certain parts in the Book whose meaning they cannot quite understand. This is no reflection on the Bible, however, but rather upon the low spiritual understanding of man. I doubt if there are any two students of the Bible who will agree completely on the interpretation of every part of the Word, but the Bible is always clear and explicit and easily understood when it tells a man what he needs to know in order to be saved. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved."

"There is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved," says Peter, speaking of Christ. The Son of God Himself made the way of salvation perfectly plain when He said, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." In those words called the heart of the Gospel (John 3:16) the way of salvation is again plainly stated. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." It is not understanding the Bible that saves man. It is trusting Christ.

Some men have not read enough of the Bible to know whether they understand it or not, but this much is certain: when you have trusted Christ as your Saviour and love Him, you will find a love of the Bible and a desire to read it. The one who reads the Book with faith in the Christ whom the Book reveals, finds much that has been beyond his comprehension before clear and plain.

In his first letter to the Corinthian Church, Paul says, "The preaching of the cross is to them that perish foolishness." That is, the Gospel of the grace of God seems a foolish thing to those who have not experienced it. He continues, "but unto us which are saved it is the power of God." As a child of God, having experienced His grace, one understands the Word of God in a way in which the unsaved never can. The Book itself is explicit on this point: "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." The man who is born of the Spirit, who has had a personal experience with God will understand many things in the Word of God which were beyond his comprehension before he was saved. But anyone can interpret the plain meaning of Scripture where the Book points the way of salvation.

ONE OF KENTUCKY'S TRADITIONS

Preserving

The finest tribute paid to the Kentucky farmer is the care with which his wife cans corn and beans, peaches, squash and tomatoes, preserving them long after the snow blankets the fields and gardens in which they grew. Whatever the season, thanks to preserving, you'll find Kentucky tables set in traditional style.

Yes, and beer is a tradition in Kentucky, too! Like preserving, BEER BELONGS in Kentucky. Long before rubber rings and screw top jars made preserving easy, Kentuckians enjoyed beer, the beverage of moderation.

Automotive Industry Moves Ahead

Automotive production at record levels; more automotive jobs than ever before; motor vehicle travel sets new record! This is the story of progress just revealed in the automotive industry by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

DETROIT—In the first six months of 1949, the automotive industry produced nearly 3,000,000 new cars, trucks and buses—almost as many units as were turned out in the full year of 1946. A steady increase has been registered since the industry surmounted its war reconversion problems. A 55% gain in production was made in 1947 over 1946, and a 10% gain was registered in 1948 over the preceding year. The half year of 1949 is up 20% from the first six months of 1948.

Industry jobs jumped from 6,700,000 in 1941 to 9,020,000 in 1948. This means one out of every seven job holders in the nation earns his wages in the highway transportation industry. These jobs cover manufacturing, road building, sales and service, trucking and miscellaneous work.

Main street is dotted with more businesses keyed to highway transportation, and over 90% of them are small enterprises, employing less than 20 employees each. Business accounts for 56% of all car trips; social and recreational driving is 16% of the total; shopping 12% and other purposes 16%. Rural travel climbed from 169 billion miles in 1941 to 197 billion in 1948. Urban travel increased from 163 billion miles in 1941 to 203 billion in 1948.

Governmental agencies are collecting an all-time high in automotive dollars. Special taxes alone now exceed $3 billion annually, with motor trucks accounting for more than a third of the total. One of the largest tax items is the federal excise levy on new motor vehicles. First invoked as a "temporary emergency measure" in 1932, it has been increased twice since, instead of being repealed.

YOUNG DEMOS TO HOLD MEET IN CHATTANOOGA

The Young Democratic Clubs of America's National Convention of 1949 in Chattanooga, Tenn., has been scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 17 through 19. Roy G. Baker, president of the official youth organization, announced today.

National Young Democratic officers will immediately launch plans to make the 1949 Convention the largest and most successful ever staged, Baker said. An outstanding program of addresses by prominent figures in the Administration and Congress, and Democratic Governors will be arranged, and strategy for Young Democratic participation in the 1950 campaign will be drafted. National officers for 1949-51 will be elected as the climax of the Convention.

The previous Young Democratic biennial convention was held in Cleveland, O., November 13 through 15, 1947, at which time Baker was elected President of the national organization, Theodor K. Hansen of California, Vice President, Angela R. Parisi of New York, Secretary, and E. Hoover Taft, Jr., of North Carolina, Treasurer.

In anticipation of an overflow attendance, Baker urged all Young Democrats planning to be present at the 1949 Convention to make their hotel reservations now. Until further notice, requisitions for hotel accommodations should be mailed directly to the Young Democratic Clubs of America, 1200 18th street, N.W., Washington, D. C., as hotel accommodations will be handled by the Convention Headquarters rather than the Chattanooga hotels, Baker said.

In late September, Convention headquarters will be established in the Dome Building, Chattanooga.

Among the scenic attractions of the city which delegates will have the opportunity to visit are the famous Chickamauga Dam and other TVA installations nearby, and historic Lookout Mountain, where several battles of the Civil War were fought.

UK SPEAKER RAPS STATE SALARY LIMIT

One of the nation's leading educators in a speech last week at the University of Kentucky urged the abolishment of Kentucky's constitutional salary limitation for state officials.

The speaker, Dr. Henry H. Hill, former Kentuckian who now is president of George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, was addressing the 533 members of the University's summer graduating class and their guests.

"I can understand," he said, "why ignorant or jealous or narrow-minded citizens might refuse to vote to abolish the $5000 limit on the salaries of officials, but not why educated or well-informed people will do so."

"Do the skilled laborers of Kentucky whose wages now double and triple those of a decade ago actually want officials to have what is in effect a 50 per cent salary cut?" he asked. "Do the farmers who for a decade have had more money than ever before—money largely guaranteed by all of us through our government—do they really insist that a few hundred officials shall not share in such prosperity? Do they who pay any required salary for key men really think government or education can be much better when only those can be secured at half price are employed?"

"If so," he answered, "then we are hardly yet in midpassage in education in Kentucky. For the education of the future certainly will have to teach men and women enlightened selfishness, if unselfishness really be unobtainable. The kind of education of which I'm speaking extends beyond books. It involves social vision and action throughout life. It does approach that ideal for some people."

Salary Limit Raise Given Wide Approval

The proposal to raise the present constitutional limit on official salaries for state and local officials has drawn widespread support from divergent groups representing all shades of opinion and belief.

John Henry Cox, Madisonville, business man and former Farm Bureau official, heads the campaign for ratification of the amendment that is to be voted on by the people this fall. The amendment would substitute for the present $5,000 limitation on salaries the following scale:

Statewide officials, $12,000; Circuit judges, $8,400; county officials $7,200.

"Many thoughtful Kentuckians have long felt the need of raising the level of official salaries, and such a proposal now has been submitted to the people by their representatives in the General Assembly," said Cox. "The proposed amendment is worthy of every consideration."

"In the field of agriculture, public health, education, road building and many other fields the present salary limitation has had a crippling effect. The new amendment seeks to bring about more equity in such matters."

"The new amendment does not blow the lid off in the field of salaries. It merely authorizes the General Assembly to set new limits. My past experience as a member of that body, together with my personal knowledge of their conservative traits, indicates to me that the lawmakers will not throw to the winds the taxpayers' money."

The newly formed Committee to obtain ratification of the salary amendment, which met in Louisville a few days ago, included representatives of the following organizations:

Democratic State Central Executive Committee, Republican State Central Committee, Kentucky Medical Society, State Department of Health, Kentucky Farm Press, Kentucky Bar Association, Constitutional Review Commission, Committee for 1,000, Kentucky Education Association, Railroad Brotherhoods, American Federation of Labor, United Mine Workers of America, Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The Jitters Over Polio Won't Do Any Good

Polio panic is hitting millions of children and parents this year. Alton Blakeslee, famous writer for the Associated Press said in the Sunday Courier-Journal.

"This panic isn't new. But it may be getting worse. It comes from fear, and from ignorance or misunderstanding of what is known about infantile paralysis," he said.

"The fear and panic over polio can be worse than the disease itself," declares Dr. Hart E. van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Many parents break out with the polio jitters each summer. They torment themselves with worry. Their homes and children get upset.

"Often, children are forbidden to live or play normally. They may be cooped up in the house, with mother and child fraying each other's nerves. They may be forbidden to swim anywhere, or even to use their own wading pools. Camps, movies or a trip into town are banned by some parents. Frightened parents may impose these taboos even when there has been only one or a few cases of polio a few miles away.

"And the fact is that such steps do no good. The net result is emotional harm to the children, by giving them the idea that some unknown terror is abroad.

"No one wants polio. And no one wants to get hit by a car while crossing the street. The best you can do is to observe the traffic-safety rules. Even then, you might be hit. But that slim chance doesn't keep you glued to the corner, afraid to go across.

"Parents and their children would be far better off if they took the same reasonable attitude toward polio," Dr. van Riper said.

"Knowing the facts about polio is the best way to banish fear. Here are some fictions about polio, and the facts as cited by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director of the foundation:

Fiction: That polio is the worst of all childhood diseases.
Fact: Polio in any recognizable form is relatively rare. Rheumatic fever is the worst by far, both as a killer and crippler. Even in a bad polio year only one in every 6,000 Americans gets polio. And only one in every 15,000 is left slightly or badly paralyzed, or dies.

Fiction: That crowds are the most dangerous place for picking up polio.

Fact: Polio is a communicable disease, apparently spread by intimate personal contact, such as occurs at home. It apparently takes time and intimacy to contract it.

"Going through a polio ward is not dangerous at all, unless you sit on a patient's bed, handle his glass and eating utensils and spend time with him. Riding on a bus is not harmful, unless you hold hands, share sandwiches or the like."

"The home appears to be the most dangerous place. When one member gets it, there's a good chance that others will. For every person who develops polio, five to 10 may have the virus in their intestinal tracts. They may be carriers spreading it to others. Why they don't get sick themselves is one of the mysteries.

Fiction: You shouldn't swim during the polio season.

Fact: Swimming in polluted waters is foolish, for the virus may be present there, and you might get other disease bugs. But there's no evidence that anyone ever got polio from swimming at a clean pool or beach. Intimate contact between children playing together at the beach could be dangerous, if the children haven't all been regular playmates.

"Sudden chilling, overexertion and fatigue may set you up for the virus already in your system to go to work on the nerve cells.

There's no proof yet that fatigue is bad when you have the virus in your system. But there's ample evidence that fatigue when you have a little fever, nausea, headache or other sign of possible polio will increase your

NEW COMPRESSOR STATIONS GOING UP ON TEXAS GAS LINE

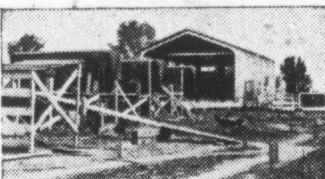

When new compressor stations on the Texas Gas pipe line are completed and landscaped they will look like this one on the Company's existing system.

Compressor stations, like the one above, are the heart of a natural gas pipe line system. Along the route of Texas Gas Transmission Corporation's new 800-mile pipe line which passes through here several stations are now being built. When completed, they will do the big job of pumping millions of cubic feet of gas daily through the Texas Gas system.

Operation of the new line will start with these stations. Next year additional installations will be built so that the movement of gas can be stepped up. Compressor stations are more than just clusters of buildings. They are part of the communities near which they are located.

A truck enroute to a Company compressor station site delivers a new 1,100 horsepower compressor.

And in a sense, they are small communities of their own, for each station will have its own generators for electric power and its own water supply. At most stations new homes for the station operators will be built. Operated by a full-time staff of nine to 12 men, each new station will contain the most modern gas handling equipment.

Compressor units will range up to 2,200 horsepower each. Cooling towers three stories high will process the millions of gallons of water needed for cooling gas and compressor engines.

It is these compressor stations and the engineering which goes into them that makes the difference between just a long line of pipe and a working natural gas pipe line system. When completed this winter, they will enable Texas Gas to do an even more useful job as a long-distance carrier of natural gas.
