THE LISTENING POST

1. I had experienced the other day which was most unique. It was when I was driving my car. Suddenly, the engine started to rev up and I was taken by surprise. The car seemed to turn back the years, and I found myself reliving old memories. It was an incredible feeling, and I am still experiencing it today.

2. When I was a prisoner in the local prison, I was sentenced to serve five years. I had a good friend who was in the same situation, and we were both desperate to get out. We plotted and supplias, including erec...

3. Jerry Mass Chapter No. 119, established in 1898, Fulton, Kentucky, Tuesday. It was a momentous occasion, and the community was abuzz with excitement.

4. It was a cloudy, colder day. The weather conditions were less than ideal, but it was still quite a day which was most unique. It was a day when we were able to share our knowledge with others.

5. I think about outside of books and inside. For the river has always been a pivotal point in my life. I can remember the days when I was young and I would spend hours reading about the Mississippi River in my text book, but I never knew I would see the river itself. I am afraid that I have not shared my knowledge with others.

6. Wednesdays are cloudy, colder in eastern part of the country. The days are often less than ideal, but it is a time when we can reflect on the past and look forward to the future.

7. And as though separating appetites, followed by light rain or drizzle followed by a fair afternoon or night.

Camp Blanding Divides Men Along The Line Of Appetite

Camp Blanding, Fla. — In the days before the war, a description of the breakfast at Camp Blanding was likely to read like this: "Central Kitchen, Blanding, Fla. — First meal of the day is served at 6 a.m. By 7 a.m., all are thru with their morning meal. The second meal is served at noon and the evening meal at 5 p.m."

But since the outbreak of hostilities, the central kitchen has been replaced by a system of smaller, more efficient units. The result is a greater variety of food and a more efficient use of resources.

Nazi Greed Is Blamed In Report For Food Shortages In Europe

Washington, February 23, 1941. — Germany, the world's leading food importer, is under attack for its greed and its failure to share food in the world. The report states that Germany is not only not sharing food but is actually hoarding it for its own benefit. The report also states that Germany is using its military and economic power to ensure that its food supplies are protected.

Washington, February 23, 1941. — Germany was not only hoarding food but was also using its military and economic power to manipulate the world market. The report states that Germany is using its military and economic power to ensure that its food supplies are protected. The report also states that Germany is using its military and economic power to manipulate the world market.

Nazi Secret Police Director Urges More German Children

Berlin, G. — A German "victory of the strengths" against some "small and minor" means must be followed by "a victory of the people" over those means. The Nazi secret police director, Dr. Martin Bormann, has said that the German people must be more aggressive and must not be afraid to use force to achieve their goals.

The magazine, "Fury of the Reich," has reported that Dr. Martin Bormann has said that the German people must be more aggressive and must not be afraid to use force to achieve their goals. The magazine has also reported that Dr. Martin Bormann has said that the German people must be more aggressive and must not be afraid to use force to achieve their goals.

EXTREME AND ABSURD

(From The Kansas City Times)

The extravagant statements of Senators Dewey and Nye during the Senate opposition to the British bill recently this opposition —from both Democrats and Republicans—has been criticized to the level of extreme and even ludicrous contention. It is calculated to kill the treaty making power of the President and the congressional authority above the Constitution—or reassert any constitutional authority now be made in opposition to it by any authority as has not been made by our President in the past.

Laden Nye holds that under the bill the Executive could "give away all or any part of the Navy and dispose of every scrap of defense material in the country." In another words, Mr. Nye is saying that the total value of our Navy and our entire defense is $13,000,000,000.

For the value of the fixture figure in the bill as a limit on the existing defense material disposed of or condemned, it is very far from true.

For centuries past, who has possession of a valuable weapon, as good guns? To treat such a possession as a good thing is to lose all your defense material.

JUST LIKE RENT

You may have been paying rent for many years. You know that money spent in this way is gone for all time—you will never see any part of it again.

There is a better way—the Building & Loan way. By this plan you can build a home according to your own desires, and you can pay for it as easily as you can be paying rent.
MRS. CALDWELL
HOSTESS TO HOMEMAKERS

Mrs. C. B. Caldwell was hostess to the Homemakers club Feb. 21 at her home for an all-day session. After the program was given, Mrs. Roy Bard, called the meeting to order at 10:30 o'clock, and adjourned after a short prayer.

The president, Mrs. Warren Caldwell, gave an interesting talk on food preservation, and Mrs. J. C. Hancock, who was named a leader of the evening session, was on bedding for cleanliness and will be given by the Home Demonstration club. Mrs. Van Buren, who was on the program, stressed the importance of cleanliness in homes.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. M. Caldwel1, who gave an interesting report of the work of the Methodist Children's Home. During the business period, two new members were received, Mrs. Harry Murphy, and Mrs. Fred Brown. The program consisted of a talk on the life of a wife and the problems that she faces. Mrs. W. E. White, who was on the program, stressed the importance of keeping a home that is clean and happy.

E. M. Deakins, in presiding, called the meeting to order, and adjourned after a short prayer. Mrs. D. H. White, who was on the program, made a most interesting talk on the care of children in the home. The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. W. E. ROB STRANGER, one of the leaders of the strike, said the company had agreed to a new 30-day contract, which would be voted on by the workers.

The company had also promised to improve working conditions and to pay higher wages.

The agreement was reached after long negotiations between the company and the union, and was seen as a significant victory for the workers.
