M. E. Conference Opens at Jackson on November 13

To Elect Delegates

Chairman of the M. E. Conference, C. A. Means, opened the conference Monday afternoon by inviting Bishop R. B. Dallas, president of the conference, to present the conference resolutions. Bishop Dallas, reading the resolutions, said that the resolutions were the result of careful consideration and that they were passed by the conference.

Turk Indicted by Grand Jury for McClay's Death

The accident occurred when Mr. McKean was riding his bicycle in the street. The automobile was driven by Mr. Turk, who was also charged with the accident. The victim was taken to the hospital, where he died from his injuries.

Still Wrangling

The conference then adjourned until Monday afternoon, when the trial will be held.

NOVEMBER

There were several things noticed at the St. Louis Show that made such impression on us as they did not five years ago. The greatest change was the number of cattle which were large and of good quality. In the old days, we saw more small cattle, but now we see more large cattle. The breeders are beginning to take more interest in their cattle, and they are doing things to improve them. The best of the breeders are beginning to realize the importance of good management and they are doing all they can to get it.

FOOD LIKE YOU GET AT HOME

This is truly a home-like restaurant because it has endeavored to break down the prejudice based on the theory that restaurants could not serve food like you get at home.

Many patrons will testify that there is no difference between our meals and the meals they get at home. That's the reason they come here as frequently to eat.

Years of catering to the appetites of particular people make it possible for us to serve appetizing meals.

The next time you want to eat away from home, bring your family here.

Time to Take Stock

Once a year business establishments take stock, weigh, measure against liabilities, turn back the old pages and put pen to new. Each one will, perhaps, business strikes balance and starts again, never again from the old beginning, but fresh from the old year's doings.

Once a year the industrial resulting success or misfortune is indicated, the stock, stock of happiness and the wealth won which is founded.

Each measures with the hand of uncertainty, the elements of these two great pillars of life, health of body and mind, and measure, friendship, the will to do, and willingness.

Inventory is important to the executor, the accountant, the physician, the most heart-felt exertion is. Printing is a mind, a new one, a new science or a follow behind is on the mistakes of the past.

To "know thyself" continues to be the first rule of happiness and growth, the same.

Honest self-examination and the giving of oneself, is the most unimportant exercise in life. Printing is a mind, a new one, a new science or a follow behind is on the mistakes of the past.

Some day the chain will snap and the worst that can happen is that the whole world will be engaged in an effort to make a living.

Knowledge of this is the true merit of Cooper-Clad Super-Heaters.

KENTUCKY AND HER ORIGINS

An address by Dr. H. Mauzy, Consultant Historian, to the Annual Meeting of the Historical Society of Kentucky, in Louisville, Ky.

Kentucky, on account of its location near the center of the continent, once was the crossroads of many a traveler and adventurer. The Kentucky Trace, Little Miami Trace, and the Wilderness Trail of Kentucky, in all, divided Kentucky into four sections, each possessing its own unique characteristics and features.

Kentucky is known for its rich history, from the Native American tribes to the pioneers who settled the area. The state Historical Society, or the Warrior's Path, is an excellent place to explore the history of Kentucky.

The Cumberland Gap, once a barrier to westward expansion, is now a historical landmark and a symbol of the state's importance in American history.

The state is home to the Kentucky Transportation Museum, which houses a collection of vehicles and artifacts from the state's past.

The state is also home to several historic sites, including the Old Fort, which was once a military post and now serves as a museum.

The state's history is also celebrated through its festivals and events, such as the Kentucky Derby, which is not only a horse race but also a celebration of Kentucky's history.

In conclusion, Kentucky's history is rich and diverse, and the state is a great place to explore and learn about the past.
URKYES OFTEN SELL WELL LATER IN YEAR

The December farm prices of Kentucky turkeys have been as high or higher than the December price in 15 of the last 17 years as recorded by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture.

This fact may be considered a major selling point in favor of raising poultry. Turkeys probably should be sold at both weights and prices should be in both weight and value by holding for December.

A report issued recently by Dr. H. B. M. Young, California agricultural economist indicates that approximately 60 percent of the market turkeys are raised in the United States but not shown about the year.

The Kentucky State Horticultural Society has also been commended on giving this offering will be taken to be marketed as early as possible. The Junior Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian Church of Fulton is having a sale of fresh poultry to raise money for foreign missions.
