THE LISTENING POST

Considerable interest has been aroused by recent announcement that the Fulton Board of Education planned to erect a new building during the coming year. Three years ago similar efforts failed when appropriations were used before the local application was acted upon, but this time it is believed that federal aid will be available. Three years ago efforts were being made to build through the PWA, and this time the efforts are being made through the WPA. Local people have been given the definite assurance that the WPA will be able to handle the project, and that the necessary money, figured through the man-hour method, will be available for use this year. Members of the board, too, have visited places where WPA buildings are being erected and pronounce the work good. It is hoped, if plans materialize, to begin razing the old buildings in June and finish the project inside of one year. The total cost to the school district will be about one half, the other half being paid through the WPA. It is estimated that the new building will cost about $100,000, and thus the local cost will be $50,000. It is also stated that it will be necessary to increase the tax rate by 20 cents per hundred to take care of the necessary costs. This would make the rate $1.45 per hundred.

I have not seen the preliminary plans, but understand that these contemplate razing both the old Carr Institute building and the more modern Science Hall, the two buildings to be replaced by a modern building which will contain a more modern gymnasium. The present Science Hall is not an old building and the gymnasium is quite a good one, but it is said that the board hopes to be able to construct an athletic field on the present campus by a rearrangement of the present buildings, thus giving more room for the athletic field. Whether these plans are being made I do not know, but I do know that the plans embrace a new and modern gymnasium in the new building. I feel certain also that by rearranging and doing away with one of the present buildings there might be sufficient acreage on which to build an athletic field, and I am certain that this is needed.

There will naturally be some objection to the plan, although I do not think there will be a great deal. In considering the project it should be borne in mind that the old Carr Institute building must be replaced or completely rebuilt. At present the building is being kept in service by a special permit from state authorities, and this permit expires in July, 1942. After that date something must be done. If efforts should be made to rebuild the old structure the cost would run into many thousands of dollars and would not bring the old buildings into the state restrictions. The cost might be twenty thousand or more, and would still leave us with an old, unsatisfactory building.

There is no certainty whatever that the federal appropriations will be continued after this year. War conditions are already affecting every line of business, and it is quite possible that this year is the last one in which we can receive federal aid on a building. The job might well cost us double in two years from now. These are the facts to consider when the question is thought of, and I ask that all taxpayers think of these next week when petitions are circulated asking for sentiment. To me it seems an actual economy to build this year while federal funds are available.

I will be in Fulton Friday and Saturday, February 28 and March 1, at the Fall & Fall Insurance office to issue 1941 tags.

Rev. Knox Lambert Is Speaker For S. S. Dinner

Martin Pastor Thrills Members Of Woodrow Fuller Bible Class

Rev. Knox Lambert, pastor of the Central Baptist Church of Martin, was the speaker last night at the annual banquet of the Woodrow Fuller Bible Class of the First Baptist Church held at the Rainbow Room. About 80 persons were present and a splendid program was enjoyed with L. P. Carney, class president, being the capable pleasing toastmaster. This class has had a most remarkable growth in recent months and is now nearing the 80 mark in regular members, with 78 being in attendance at the last meeting. Pledges were made last night to see that 80 or more would be present at the next meeting.

Rev. Lambert spoke briefly last night, but every word was freighted with earnestness and solemnity. Declaring that the world faced some of the darkest days in all history, he said that it was his sincere belief that this nation had been planned by the Almighty to be the greatest Christian nation in the world and expressed the belief that this nation would in due time become the light of the present warring world. "It is the destiny of this nation," the Martin minister declared. "It is according to plan and the day will come when men such as these members of this great Sunday School can render striking service to mankind."

A splendid musical program was also one of the features of the banquet, with Mrs. Tilman Adams, Mrs. J. B. Manley, Mrs. Malcolm Smith and Miss Mignon Wright taking part in the various numbers. Toastmaster Carney also called on many of the members and visitors for brief talks, and it was apparent that there is a deep and justifiable pride in the wonderful growth of this class, which is taught by Pastor Autrey.

E. E. Mount and W. E. Filippo both expressed the belief that before the year is ended a new and commodious annex will be added to the church, with adequate room for this class, and others which are also growing at a rapid rate. While plans are in the preliminary stage, there is deep interest and church workers believe that the annex can and will be built within the next few months. One plan which has been studied calls for an addition at the rear of the church, with an "L" arrangement which would be possible under present conditions. Other plans are also being studied and it is hoped to arrive at a definite decision before many weeks.

Others who spoke briefly were Guy Duley, Russell Johnson, William Scott, Mrs. Malcolm Smith, Pastor Autrey and Clifton Hamlett.

No Censorship Of Press, Radio Contemplated, Mellett Asserts

Washington. — Louis Mellett, director of the office of government reports, declared today that no press or radio censorship is contemplated by the administration.

Testifying before the House expenditures committee on a bill to authorize a $1,500,000 fund for his office, Mellett said:

"This does not mean, in case there should be war, that there would not be a military censorship in certain respects, as there always has been and I presume always will be.

"Censorship in the sense that I believe is feared, of the kind we see abroad—actual censorship of newspapers or other publications—is not contemplated."

The same thing, he added, applies to the radio.

Representative Bogg (D-La.), asked about "self-imposed censorship by publishers or a group of publishers."

Bulldogs Play Final Game Of Season In Hickman

Fulton High School Bulldogs will close the 1940-41 basketball regular season tonight, when they face the Hickman Wildcats on the Hickman floor. The game is rated as a tossup, and the breaks will probably decide the winner. On a previous meeting the Bulldogs nosed out the Cats 18 to 17 on the home floor, but Hickman was badly crippled in that game and is now in far better condition than for some time. Illness has hurt the Hickman team in many games, but it is said that practically the entire team is fit for this final game. The Bulldogs have improved somewhat since the first Hickman game, and Coach Giles is hopeful of winning, although making no predictions.

Following this final game of the regular season Coach Giles will begin drilling his charges for the district tournament which opens Tuesday night in Clinton. For the first time in several seasons the Bulldogs have a real chance to make considerable progress in the district. The only teams barring them from winning through to the finals from the lower bracket are the ones which have been beaten by the local team, with one exception. Western is in the same bracket and Fulton has not played that team. The first game which the Bulldogs face will be with Milburn, which has won and lost from the Bulldogs in two games. Arlington, Bardwell and Western are the other teams in the local bracket and the Bulldogs have won over those teams, except Western.

Terry-Norman Students Know Their Operas—"Nutcracker Suite" Is The Favorite

In this mad world of jazz, swing and jitterbugs classical music is practically ignored, but at Terry-Norman, grade school located at lower end of Walnut street, the students are being taught to appreciate opera and the finer type of music.

A new method of teaching students to appreciate this type of music has been inaugurated there and all the pupils appear interested in the various operas. Twice a week a "Music Appreciation" hour is held and at this time, all the students gather in one room to listen to such operas as "Carmen," "Aida" and "Nutcracker Suite."

Mrs. Jessie Lee Fleming has charge of this program and is ably assisted by Miss Ruby Boyd Alexander and Mrs. Robert W. Burrow. At the beginning of the hour, the children take a vote as to which opera they will listen to and then the various songs from the opera are then played and the children identify them. It arouses a great deal of interest and all the boys and girls from the second through the sixth grade are included. Besides identifying the various pieces, the students discuss the type of instrument which is heard in each record and they are well versed in the story of the opera, as well as the author.

On the day this reporter visited the "Music Appreciation" hour, "The Nutcracker Suite" proved to be the most popular and as each number was played, the pupils enthusiastically identified it. "The Sugar Plum Fairy," "Dance of the Sugar Plum Fairy," "Dance of the Flutes," "Chinese Dance" and others were instantly recognized.

"Music Appreciation" hour, was first introduced at Terry-Norman this year and it is proving one of the most popular periods of study with the children. The East Fulton P. T. A. has purchased a record player, which is attached to the radio, for use during this hour. It has been proved both entertaining and instructive to the boys and girls, and has done a great deal toward teaching them to appreciate good music. Most of these youngsters could probably put the older members of their families to shame in their knowledge of music and ability to recognize the woodwinds, brasses, and strings.

Every other Friday the children listen to a program from New York conducted by Walter Damrosch and an interesting study has been made of the symphony.

P. T. A. Aids School
The Parent-Teachers Association, under the guidance of Mrs. Doran Colley, president, has been a valuable aid at Terry-Norman this year. The proceeds of the annual Halloween party went to provide a recreation room for the children of the school. This room is equipped with a day bed, tables and chairs and has educational games for the pupils to engage in. It is a decided asset to the school and the P. T. A. is to be congratulated on providing it.

Terry-Norman Progressive

Although the smallest of Fulton's three schools, having an enrollment of only 84 students, Terry-Norman is known to local citizens as one of the most progressive little schools anywhere. For many years, East Fultoners have been receiving their training prior to entering Junior High at this school.

"The Dutchman" To Be 81 Years Of Age Tomorrow

Herman August Eulen, more generally known in Fulton as "Dutchman", will be 81 years old tomorrow. Mr. Eulen left Oldenburg, Germany, when he was a young man and worked for some time as a bookbinder in Chicago and other cities. He located in Fulton almost fifty years ago and has long been a familiar figure here.

Thinking of his own birthday and of others who are as old or older than he, Mr. Eulen set down the birth dates of several of the old citizens of this community. Will Williams, whose birthday is January 1, is 95 years old; H. Bennett will be 89 years old in April; I. R. Nolen, on May 14, will be 90 years of age; Joe Cooke is 81; John Coffman will celebrate his 82nd birthday on March 1, and C. C. Williams will be 80 years of age next October.

Lucas Funeral Here Tomorrow Morning At 10:30

The body of Mrs. E. M. Lucas, who died Wednesday night, February 26, in St. Louis, will arrive in Fulton early tomorrow morning and will be taken to the Hornbeak Funeral Home where funeral services will be held at 10:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Loyd O. Hartman, pastor of the First Methodist church, will have charge and burial will be held in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Lucas, formerly of Fulton, is survived by her husband, who is now ill of pneumonia in a St. Louis hospital, two children, John and Juanita, and one sister, Mrs. C. C. Charlton of Houston, Texas. Three children preceded her in death.

She was a sister of the late Walter Willingham and the late Mrs. D. T. Creedle of Fulton.

Pitcher Signs With Local Club

Lloyd Young of Belmont, N. C., has signed a contract with the Fulton baseball association for the coming year. Young was recommended by Carol Peterson, Tiger outfielder.

A player contract agreement between Fulton and Muskegon, Mich., has been received by the Fulton Baseball Association and will be signed and returned today. Also Jack Zeller, Detroit manager, said that the Muskegon club will arrive in Fulton on April 6th to begin spring training.

Jack Tighe, manager of the Michigan club and Bruce Connatser, scout for the Tigers, will be here at that time and will help Fulton select their players.

INFANT DIES

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Williams, Fulton, Route 3, died yesterday at their home. Burial will be this afternoon at Antioch cemetery in Obion County. Hornbeak Funeral home will be in charge.

Fulton Soldier Tells Of Activities Of Ft. Knox Troops

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kramer, Theodore Kramer gives an interesting report of recent activities of the First Armored Division which is now in training at Fort Knox. His letter is as follows:

"The entire First Armored Division put on a blitzkrieg demonstration which lasted for the entire day. Thousands of men and thousands of vehicles put on the greatest display of fast striking power than one could ever hope to see. I wish all of you could have been here—it would have made your hearts palpitate. Hundreds of tanks and countless combat cars, scout cars, trucks, motorcycles and planes were employed. We made two charges of several miles each at high speed straight across country with not a single man walking. Cavalry, artillery, infantry and even the "medics" and engineers took part. We charged through woods, across gullies and ravines, and up and down steep hills at a mad and dizzy pace. Our vehicles "rode down" trees and plunged across gullies—I never saw such power and drive, and would not have believed it possible. Pictures were made by sound cameras and you may see this in the news reels before long. I rode all day in a big two and a half ton GMC truck and we rode down trees four or five inches in diameter, and jolted over ditches as if they were not there. When I got in I was a sight—hair and eyes and clothing completely dust covered. I soon got under the showers, believe me."

Bulldogs Were Guests At Show

Wednesday night, February 26, Coach Herschel Giles, the Bulldogs and their dates were guests of Harold Thomas, manager of the Malco Theatres, at a theatre party. The group enjoyed "They Knew What They Wanted" at the Fulton Theatre.

Boys attending were Coach Giles, Jack Moore, Laine Spence, Shelby Davis, Joe McAllister, Hugh Mac McClellan, Joe Treas, Robert Hart, Eugene Hannah, Joe Browder Williams, Billy Reed and Tolbert Dallas, the manager.

"Supreme Court" Is Planned To Adjust All Disputes In Labor

Washington. — A plan for a new labor board to serve as a "supreme court" for strikes and disputes in defense industries which cannot be settled by the established machinery of Federal mediation was reported today by high officials.

One well-informed official, who declined to be quoted by name, said an executive order for the creation of a board was in the final stage of drafting and might be hastened by the threat of a widespread strike in the Bethlehem steel mills, loaded with defense orders.

Could Not Compel

The plan as authoritatively outlined would set up an eleven-man board—three to represent the public, four for labor and four for employers—to do a job of fact-finding and fact-publishing. In labor disputes cases where the ordinary processes of the United States Conciliation Service were not sufficient to bring about a settlement, the board of appointed members would intervene only in cases certified to it by Secretary of Labor Perkins, whose jurisdiction embraces the conciliation service.

Johnson Tells Ward He'll Aid TVA Program

Would Sponsor Law To Make Power Available To Cities

Frankfort, Ky. —After a conference with Gov. Keen Johnson, State Rep. Henry Ward of Paducah said today that he had been assured the state administration would co-operate in drafting legislation to enable Kentucky municipalities to contract with the Tennessee Valley Authority for electric power.

Representative Ward said Governor Johnson told him that the State Public Service Commission staff had been instructed to obtain all the information relative to the matter, including copies of similar acts in other States. This information, Ward said, would be used as basis in preparing the Kentucky legislation for the 1942 session.

Ward quoted Governor Johnson as saying the state has an obligation to study the problem and seek the proper solution.

Conferences Planned
Ward said John Kirtley, state public commission chairman, told him that after the information had been gathered the commission planned to ask for conferences with officials of the TVA, of Kentucky cities and with other interested persons.

Ward was sponsor at the 1940 legislative session of an act to give Kentucky cities the right to contract for TVA power. It was defeated in the House.

"There is considerable difference in the situation existing now and that of last year when my proposed legislation was before the General Assembly," Ward said. "At that time the Kentucky Court of Appeals had not ruled that Kentucky municipalities lacked authority to enter into contracts with the TVA, and we had no proof that our fear that the court would so rule would be borne out."

Negro Is Bound Over To Grand Jury

Frank Harris, 17-year-old negro, arrested in Martin, Tenn., Wednesday for stealing an overcoat and hat from the car of Dr. R. V. Putnam, was given a hearing yesterday before Magistrate Homer Roberts. He was bound over to await the action of the grand jury. Being unable to make the $300 bond, he was taken to the county jail at Hickman.

It was learned that Harris was really Wesley Taylor of Union City, who was a trusty at the Union City jail.

FULTON PLANS BIG THINGS

It is quite apparent that the coming year will see some big things accomplished in Fulton or see those things fail. And, as a matter of fact, it seems possible that all the aims may be realized. Some of our most energetic citizens are taking a look at things and getting a clear vision of tasks which need doing.

First, of course, must be the new school building. Already the board of education is well advanced on this project, so far as preliminary plans are concerned, and with proper support from our citizens there seem little doubt that the summer of 1942 may see the city's school properly housed and provided for. Plans call for a modern building, with a new gymnasium, and with proper facilities for all modern school work. Present buildings were erected when a lot of things that are now taken for granted in school work were not even thought of. One feature of the new building provides for the high school band and those who have kept up with the marvelous work done by Director Yewell Harrison know that his band deserves the best in equipment and accommodations. The band has been worth a lot to the school and to the town and will mean more as years pass along. The Leader hopes that the new building will pass from paper plans to steel and brick and concrete with out undue delay.

Another project which is also important is a final disposition of the Fulton County Fair Grounds. The Young Men's Business Club, aided by other civic organizations, is pushing plans to acquire title to this property and transform it into a permanent community center. Work has been carried on for some time, and this year it may be that final plans will be carried through, and the fair grounds will really become a permanent civic possession and can be developed along that line. It is true that considerable money must be raised for this purpose, but Fulton has a way of meeting all legitimate demands and this newspaper hopes and believes that the virile Young Men's Club will be able to accomplish this laudable purpose.

The older organization, the Chamber of Commerce, is also showing signs of new life, under the directing hand of Bob White, the newly elected chairman. Mr. White stated the other day that this year was going to be the year that something is done to the creek situation in Fulton. That appears to be his Number One aim, and he is already making his preliminary plans for this work. The creek has long been one of the community problems, and Mr. White thinks that the problem can be solved. With his characteristic energy and driving force it is likely that he will be able to really do something. By the way, Mr. White is also serving as building chairman for the proposed new school building, and this gives some idea of his tremendous energy.

With all these forces at work within our community it appears more than probable that Fulton is headed for better days and bigger things. We have always had a magnificent town, made of forward looking men and women, and we have done some remarkable things in past years. Perhaps we have been sleeping a little during the past few years, but now it seems certain that we are awakening, and with the awakening is coming a tremendous surge of determination to make a better community.

A LEGEND LOSES LUSTER

J. B. Priestley, the British author, is right when he tells radio listeners in England that the idea of the Nazis' power, "which their propaganda has encouraged, has done them more good so far than all their dive-bombers and armored divisions."

The legend of invincibility which Hitler fostered now as the Kaiser fostered it in 1914 has not as yet been broken as it was broken, with immense moral effect on both sides, in the first battle of the Marne. The Nazi war machine rolled over the Marne last June with little trouble.

Yet the legend, after nine months, is getting a little shopworn. It gained nothing from Hitler's failure to seize England by last August 15 according to an invasion timetable of which no secret was made. It gained nothing from his inability to follow up the nine days of almost continuous mass air raiding last September when as some observers believe the British were almost to the point where they could no longer take it.

Then and there, as one reporter has put it, "Hitler's weapon of terror buckled and broke."

The legend of invincibility suffers, furthermore, from Hitler's partner. The full extent of the Duce's catastrophe in Albania, Greece and Africa has been eloquently described in the first two of Leland Stowe's extraordinary series of articles in The Times. Yet it must be remembered that Mussolini once wore a legend of invincibility that frightened even the presumably intuitive Hitler.

The Nazis wanted to take Austria when their putschists murdered Chancellor Dollfuss in July, 1934. Mussolini lined up his minions menacingly at the Brenner Pass. The Nazis backed down. Hitler must know now that he need only have cried, "Boo!" across the Brenner Pass and have Austria when he first reached out for it. The whole thing became a comment on the legend of the infallibility of Hitler's judgment.—Louisville Times.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

Large-scale exhibits for the second Northern Kentucky Nut Show already are being planned by Boone county farmers.

After 9 miles of terracing last year, Barren county farmers have laid out 25 miles for 1941.

"Everyone grow double the usual home garden on the same amount of land" has been adopted as a Simpson county slogan.

Cooperative grading and marketing of hybrid corn is being considered in Henderson county.

Losses of young lambs have been cut in half in Hancock county by proper feeding methods.

Tool Makers Told To Give Equality To British Orders

Washington.—British orders for aluminum and machine tools were given equal standing with those for the United States Army and Navy Thursday by E. R. Stettinius, Jr., defense director of priorities.

Stettinius wrote aluminum producers and machine tool builders that it was "the intent" of the Office of Production Management that its recent order placing the items under a mandatory priority system accord British requests the same status as those for the Army and Navy.

This applied, he said, not only to direct British purchases but also to orders to be used indirectly in filling British defense requirements.

MOORET WARMS UP EFFORT TO SOW DISSENSION IN U. S.

New York.—Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt said Thursday that advance agents of the "forces which have already trampled the continent of Europe and degraded free men to serfdom are seeking to create dissension in this country to impair national unity."

In an address for delivery before the National Conference of Christians and Jews at Town Hall, Mc-

Nutt asserted "In our battle against infection from the virus of hatred and ill will, we must recognize that unity is essential, but uniformity is fatal."

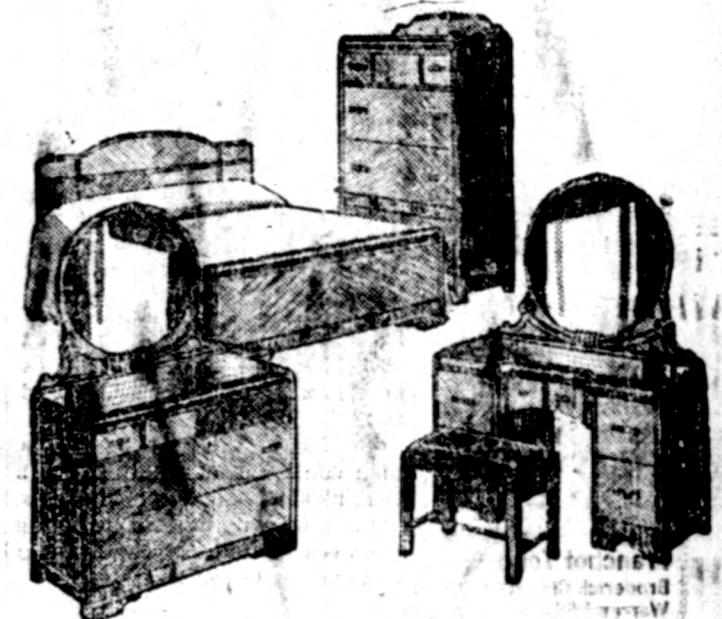

"Nazism seeks racial and political uniformity, while Communism seeks economic and material uniformity. Uniformity must be enforced by concentration camps, secret police and fear. Unity is pre-

The Ruckels contend, the papers in the suit disclosed, that the body was removed to the funeral home without the parents' consent, and that the body was "mutilated."

They seek $1,000 compensatory damages, and $2,000 punitive damages, naming Samuel M. Robertson and his son, James, as operators of the funeral home.

BRITISH TO OFFER GREATEST FARMING DRIVE IN HISTORY

London. —Thousands of tractors, plows, drills and harvesters are pouring into Great Britain in preparation for the greatest food drive in British history.

During the next four months at least another 2,000,000 acres of Britain will be plowed up. At the same time special efforts are being made to secure recruits for the Women's Land Army.

Between now and the end of March more than 4,000 tractors will be imported while the domestic production is expected to exceed that number.

At the beginning of the war Britain was using 40,000 tractors, but an additional 25,000 was soon put into service.

Special gangs have been recruited for land improvement and reclamation work.

JUDGE SILENCES
MUSICAL CAR HORN

Sacramento, Calif. — Swing music from an automobile horn was silenced today by a traffic citation for "unnecessary use of the horn." John Allen Parker, 21, drove around town with his new-fangled automobile horn and a sheet of music to go with it, blaring out a swing tune. But, when Parker hit a few sour notes, Patrolman W. H. Elster objected, citing the motorist into the Fresno police court.

Girl Injured In Wreck Enters 3rd Month In Coma

Philadelphia.—The almost imperceptible fluttering of an eyelid was all that marked Miss Ruth Stevenson's battle for life today as the 23-year-old victim of an automobile accident entered the third month of her strange coma.

Temple University physicians believe the 33-day coma resulting from an injury constitutes a record.

The attractive young brunette has lain unconscious at the hospital since last Christmas Eve.

Surgeons, who have operated on her brain twice when her condition became serious, explained her deep unconsciousness is not to be compared to sleeping sickness. In the latter case, patients have been known to remain unconscious for much longer periods.

OFFICIALS SAY STATE DOESN'T WISH TO HOLD UP SALE OF BOCK

Franklin, Ky.—If anybody wants to drink bock beer now, there's no disposition on the part of the state to make them wait.

That was the way C. M. C. Porter, state malt beverage administrator, explained today his recent suggestion to brewers and distributors that March 15 would be time enough to start its sale.

"That was simply a suggestion," he said, "because a good many in the industry wanted to get together on a date and thought March 15 would be about right."

Porter said that meanwhile some retailers already had received supplies of bock and were selling it, because once put on tap and iced, it would not be as good if kept long.

O'NEAL ASKS CONGRESS TO INCREASE LOANS

Washington.—Organized farm leaders asked Congress today to increase government loans on major crops.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told the Senate agriculture committee that Congress "is putting a floor under the income of both labor and industry" by spending billions of dollars for defense, and predicted that the "farmer is going to be the forgotten man in the period ahead" unless he is helped.

Italy And Germany Suspend Their System Of Barter Trade Balances

Rome.—Italy and Germany Wednesday signed a trade agreement suspending the system of commercial exchanges for the duration of the war so far as military supplies are concerned.

The agreement, arrived at in weeks of negotiations, provided that during hostilities "all commerce of a military character between the two countries shall be conducted without consideration for trade balances or the condition of compensated accounts."

This provision is part of a general accord valid for 1941 which considerably increased the volume of Italian-German trade, and Fascists interpreted this as evidence that the war had not diminished the productive capacity of the Axis.

Arrangements were made, it was said, for Italy and Germany to furnish one another "a large part of the raw materials needed for the war economy and other products essential for the prosecution of the war."
